DEPENDS ON PUBLIC OPINION

The Degree of Success of a School System, says Beverly Superintendent, Depends on the Public.

"The Educational Policy of the Community" was the subject of a very interesting and instructive talk by Supt. of Schools A. L. Safford of Beverly, Monday evening. The talk was given under the auspices of the Municipal club of Beverly Farms, at a meeting held at Marshall's hall. It was the second such meeting held under similar circumstances within the past month, to which the general public was invited.

Although the bad weather prevented many from getting out, nevertheless a good sized audience greeted Supt. Safford and heard his talk with much interest. Mr. Safford spoke in part as follows:

"Dr. Chancellor, Superintendent of Schools, Washington, D. C., says in his book entitled, 'Our Schools.' 'The hope for good schools does not rest in boards of education, but in the educational policy of the general public.' The degree of success of a school system depends in the long run and without escape upon that intangible but irresistable force in our social and political life called public opinion.

"Many features of educational policy are determined by the public statutes of the Commonwealth or by the city char-

VITAL STATISTICS, MANCHESTER

Deaths, Births and Marriages for 1907

We are printing in this issue the vital statistics of the town of Manchester for the year 1907. There were 32 deaths recorded during the year, 58 births and 22 marriages. The death rate is, as usual, very low for a town with the population of Manchester. The most noticeable increase is in the birth rate. In 1906 there were 36 births; the past year there were 58, an increase of over 60 per cent.

Are in the nerves—all feeling is. Headache, toothache, neuralgia, sciatica, rheumatic pains, backache, etc.—they're all there, but in different parts. It's nerve irritation. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve nerve irritation, and pain subsides. They do not derange the stomach, or leave disagreeable after-effects. Your druggist can tell you that many use them, and would not be without them.

"I take Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for headache, neuralgia, stomach ache and pains of any nature. The best medicine."

H. G. Nichols, proprietor of the Old Corner store, has been housed at his home in Peabody, the past week.

Mrs. John H. Baker is receiving the sympathies of her friends over the loss of her father at Weymouth, N. S., the past week.

Officer Leary and family have been entertaintng the past week Jos. Leary and Mrs. Mary O'Neil of Salem, and Mrs. John Kennelly of Cambridge.

Mrs. Eugene Leman and son Walter of Medford, have been visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Hoffman, corner School and North streets, the past week.

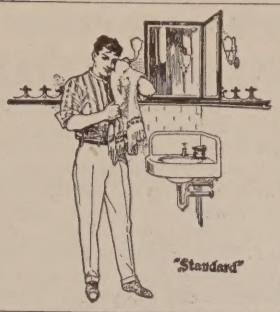

Mrs. T. W. Long is giving her reception and ball, in connection with her dancing classes, on Friday evening, Jan. 17, from 8 to 12. The last lesson in the course will be next Tuesday.

Joseph Averey, who moved to Randolph, Mass., last fall after a residence of about 40 years in Manchester, was in town Wednesday for a brief visit. He says he would give anything could he return to Manchester again to live.

Mrs. George E. Scott, who came on from New York last week to spend part of the holidays, is returning the coming week. Mr. Scott has been at Quissett, on the South Shore, but is returning to New York the coming week also.

A large sword blade is on exhibition in Cheever's window with some hand painted sketches upon it, such as Gloucester harbor, Thatcher's island, etc. The hilt is of one piece of wood carved with a chain hanging from the handle. It was made by J. H. Bridges of Gloucester, and is a very fine piece of work.

I. M. Marshall gave a very interesting talk Wednesday evening before the members of Conomo Tride of Red Men on a trip which he took some eight years ago to the Pacific coast. Mr. Marshall talked, informally, for over an hour, telling of the points of interest and the features of his trip, extending over four weeks, covering some 9000 miles in all. Following his talk he showed some pictures taken on the trip, depicting the rough Rocky mountain railroad, Indian scenes, etc., and he also had several mementoes which were of much intertest. A collation was served at the close of the meeting. The officers of the tribe will be raised to their respective stumps at the next meeting,—Jan. 15, by Deputy George Rowe of Gloucester, and staff. An entertaintment will be given after the work is performed, which will be given under the direction of Harry S. Tappan.

Our 7th and Best Department Managers' Sale January 7th to 11th Inclusive.

The Most Tremendous Price Cutting Event in the History of the Webber Store.

Will be inaugurated on Tuesday, January 7th, when the Department Managers of the store will assume full control for 5 days. They will write their own advertisements and fix prices on seasonable merchandise in their struggle to make the BIGGEST RECORD for Dry Goods Selling ever held in Essex County. The Managers declare with emphasis that never within their recollection have prices been cut so tremendously as they will be in this, our 7th Dep't. Managers' Sale.

As usual a percentage of the total cash receipts will go to our employees during this sale.

For full particulars see the Salem Evening News of Monday, January 6th. If you do not receive this regularly a postal to our Mail Order Dept. will bring you a copy.

All roads will lead to the Webber Store next week. Be sure to be one of the many thousands to travel thereon.

MANCHESTER

The expected almost happened at the local railroad station last Saturday afternoon when Arthur Crocker, who drives for the American Exp. Co., crossed the tracks as the 1.30 train was leaving the station and ran in front of another. As he crossed from one track to the other he tripped and fell flat on the track. The emergency brakes were applied on the approaching train which was stopped just in the nick of time while the crowd in the station looked on breathlessly. It was a narrow escape and one which will doubtless prove a lesson for Mr. Crocker.

A number of the college boys enjoyed a very pleasant evening at the home of Frank W. Fleming, Dartmouth, '10, Monday. After a sumptuous repast all indulged heartily in games which consisted of "tiddley winks," "hide the thimble," etc. The party consisted of Harry Floyd, Dartmouth, '09, Bert Floyd, Cornell, '10, Charles Lodge, M A. C., '10, Bert Sinnicks, M. I. T., '10, Willard Rust and Walter J. Fleming.

Miss Tina McKenzie of the Gordon Nurses' school, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Andrews, Pleasant street.

Walter E. Allen, gardener and caretaker of the Mrs. W. Scott Fitz estate, intends to resign his position to take effect April 1, when he will return to his former home in Leominister, with his family, and will engage in the florist business. Mr. Allen was formerly engaged in raising cucumbers for the Boston market, having two large greenhouses on his estate, which comprises some 15 acres of fertile land. It is said that Mrs. Fitz may sell her greenhouse and property on School street, near the Essex County club.

Frazier Andrews, while cutting wood near his home one day last week, had the misfortune to cut his foot just below the ankle. Though he managed to reach his home he suffered much from the loss of blood. He is now able to be out again, however.

The body of Mrs. John Milton Knight was brought here from Newburyport for burial Tuesday. Mrs. Knight was the wife of Dr. J. M. Knight, a cousin of Mrs. Sarah Brown and of the late Miss Charlotte E. Brown and Mrs. Albion Gilman of this town, and was quite well known here. She passed away last Saturday at her Newburyport home.

Edward Cheever, who was home over the holidays with his parents Mr. and Mrs. John H. Cheever, returned to his work at Rumford Falls, Me., Monday.

Society Notes

Secretary of War Wm. H. Taft, spoken of as the most likely presidential candidate, was a guest during his brief visit to Boston this week of his cousin, Mrs. Samuel Carr, and family, Commonwealth ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Head were guests over Christmas of their daughter, Mrs. Philip Stockton, in Boston. A pleasant feature of the holiday season was the christening of little Mary Stockton by the Rev. Sherrard Billings. The sponsors were Mrs. William A. Russell, an aunt of the little one, and Lawrence Stockton, an uncle. The christening dress was an heirloom and was worn by Mrs. Head, the child's grandmother, at her baptism, as well as by Mrs. Stockton, the baby's mother, on a similar occasion. It is said that Mr. and Mrs. Head, who are spending the winter at their Manchester estate, are planning to leave early in the spring—April—and will spend the summer season at their beautiful large country estate at Lake Champlain. Mr. and Mrs. Stockton, whose house at Manchester will not be ready for them until well along in the summer, may also spend a couple of months at Lake Champlain.

Though we are not authorized to so state, we have heard, as announced some weeks ago in these columns, that Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Kahn of New York and Morristown, N. J., are planning to spend part of the coming season on the North Shore, and Mr. Leiter, the wheat king of Chicago, will also spend part of the summer here, occupying the same house which the Kahns will have, after the former have departed. It is not unlikely that the Kahns will have the Head house which they occupied part of two seasons recently.

Another well known North Shore summer resident has recently been removed by death. Dr. F. Gordon Morrill, for the past thirty years a summer resident at Magnolia, passed away on Friday, Jan. 27, at Assouan, Egypt, in the 65th year of his age, news of his death being received in a cable message to his son, Dr. Gordon N. Morrill of Boston. Dr. Morrill was one of the pioneer summer residents of Magnolia, being one of the original Magnolia Shore Associates. He was also a member of the Magnolia Improvement association, and was always very much interested in the development of Magnolia as a summer resort. Being one of the first to spend his summers here he has always been closely identified with the place. He purchased what was known as the Master Moore farm and developed it into attractive real estate. His summer home, "Pine Knoll," is one of the most attractive pieces of property at Magnolia. On account of Mrs. Morrill's health they have wintered in Egypt during the past eight years. This year they delayed their departure for Egypt until the middle of November because the doctor's own health was not as good as usual. They were accompanied on the last end of their journey to Egypt by Samuel Morrill, an attache of the American legation at Berlin. The body will be brought home for burial.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner M. Lane and family went to Baltimore to spend the holidays with Mrs. Lane's parents Prof. and Mrs. Basil Gildersleeve.

Capt. H. G. O. Colby of the West Manchester summer colony, who is now in charge of the New England recruiting station, Hanover street, Boston, is awaiting orders which will muster him out of service with the rank of rear admiral. He will be retired on Jan. 28, when he reaches his 62d year.

The beautiful summer home of Rev. Roland Cotton Smith at Ipswich was ransacked from cellar to attic, one night last week by burglars.

Sunday Masses: 9.00 and 10.30 a. m. Sunday School at 2.30 o'clock Rosary, Instructions and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament Sunday evenings at 7.30. Advanced Class Friday evenings at 7.30 o'clock. Week-day Mass at the Chapel at 7.30 a. m.

At the Congregational church, tomorrow morning at 10.45, there will be a celebration of the Lord's Supper. At 7 p. m., praise and preaching service. Subject: "Living in the Suburbs of the Kingdom of God."

The Union services of the Congregational and Baptist churches during the week of prayer, next week will be observed as in former years. The services open in the Baptist church, Monday, Jan. 6, and continue there for three nights, and on Thursday and Friday evenings following will be held in the Congregational church closing with a union meeting in the Congregational church Sunday, Jan. 12, at 7 p. m. Further services will depend on the interest manifested during the week of prayer.

"The Anchor of the Soul" will be the subject of Rev. E Hersey Brewster's sermon at the Baptist church tomorrow morning. In the evening he will preach on "The Wages of Sin." The morning service will be followed by Communion, and the reception of new members.

The Ever Ready circle of King's Daughters will hold its annual business meeting with Mrs. Rita Mitchell next Monday evening. A large attendance is desired.

Tomorrow morning at the 10.30 Mass, at the Sacred Heart church, Rev. Fr. Powers will present his annual financial report.

The Watch Night service at the Baptist church Tuesday evening, from 8 to 12.01, was largely attended. From 8 to 9 F. C. Gilbert of Boston, a Hebrew christian, gave a very clear and eloquent talk on the Sunday School, and the need of taking up the teachings of the Old as well as the New Testament, if one must realize that the former is the treasure house and that Christ is the key to same. The second hour was in charge of the Home and Foreign missions, and was led by Miss Lucy Baker. Miss Emma Prest rendered a solo, "Tell it to me." There were also readings by Misses Nellie Leonard, Ethel Stanley and Annie Younger. From 10 to 11 the meeting was in charge of the young people's society, led by E. S. Bradley, and from 11 to 12.01 the pastor led a consecration and conference meeting.

The Ever Ready circle of King's Daughters, held their last meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Isabelle Stedstone, Pine street, Monday evening. A very pleasant surprise of the evening was the stripping of a Christmas tree, which had many packages of surprise for each member. Refreshments of ice cream, candies, etc., were served and music and games were indulged in, all having a delightful time, and uniting in wishing the hostess a Happy New Year.

JOINT INSTALLATION.

terest than the joint installation of the newly-elected and appointed officers of the three orders at the Manchester Town hall last evening.

The meeting was called for 6.30, but it was a little past that when Com. E. P. Stanley called the gathering to order. The Post had marched to the hall under escort of the S. of V.

J. Horace Burnham of O. H. P. Sargent post, 152, Essex, installed the officers of the post, assisted by E. L. Rowe of Post 45, Gloucester, as officer-of-the-day. The officers are: Enoch Crombie, commander; Gilman Goldsmith, s. v. c.; A. S. Jewett, j. v. c.; H. T. Bingham, chaplain; J. W. Widger, surg.; J. G. Haskell, q. m.; C. H. Stone, o. d.; G. A. Jones, o. g.; J. H. Rivers, adj.; A. S. Jewett, pat. ins.; E. P. Stanley, serg. maj.; J. T. Stanley, q. m. serg.

Mrs. L. Steward Wadsworth was the installing officer of Allen Relief Corps, 119, and Mrs. Mary Lucas acted as conductor. The officers installed were: Mrs. Julia Reed, president; Mrs. Lucinda Baker, s. v. p.; Mrs. Jane Austin, j. v. p., Mrs. Hannah Tappan, treas.; Mrs. Martin, chap.; Mrs. Mary Lane, cond.; Mrs. Anna Woodbury, guard; Mrs. Jennie P. Dennis, secy.; Mrs. Seddie Follett, pat. inst.; Mrs. Clara Jones, press cor.; Mrs. Flora Hersey, mus.; Mrs. Alice Preston, asst. cond.; Mrs. Etta Norie, asst. g.; Mrs. Mary Lucas, Mrs. Lottie Hildreth, Mrs. Emma Howe and Mrs. Fannie Babcock, color bearers.

After the work was completed Mrs. Reed in behalf the corps presented Mrs. Wadsworth with a beautiful vase of flowers which Mrs. Wadsworth accepted with brief remarks, and she in behalf of the corps presented a past president's badge to Mrs. Lane. Mr. Burnham, the installing officer of the post then presented Com. Crombie, in beha f of the corps, a gavel.

The corps, joined by the post and camp, indorsed the candidacy of Mrs. Wadsworth for the next Dept. President of the W. R. C., by a unanimous rising vote.

The officers of Col. H. P. Woodbury camp, 149, were installed by the Div. Com. of Mass., James Wentworth. Div. Pat. Inst. Cooke acted as serg.-of-the guard. These were installed: Fred. K Swett, com.; Curtis B. Stanley, s. v. c.; A. U. McCormack, j. v. c.; E. W. Baker, treas.; L. W. Floyd, J. L. Prest and W. R. Bell, camp council; S. L. Wheaton, secy. Owing to the lateness of the hour the staff officers were not installed last evening.

Past Com. W. R. Bell was presented by the Div. Com., in behalf of the camp, with a past commander's badge. At this time also Mrs. Lane of the corps presented Mrs. Lucas, for her services as conductor, with a beautiful piece of china,—a cheese dish.

The gathering then sat down to a turkey supper, with all the fixings, ice cream, cake, etc. B. L. Bullock was caterer. The evening closed by all joining in a good "sing."

Manchester Club Election.

The Manchester club elected these officers last evening: James Hoare, president; Geo. A. Kitfield, vice president; Arthur E. Olson, secy.; Oscar B. Wing, treasurer and collector; Frank G. Cheever, auditor; F. C. Rand, E. H. Wilcox, M B. Gilman, G. A. Kitfield and James Hoare, ex. com.; F. C. Rand, E. H. Wilcox and G. A. Kitfield, literature com. The club voted last night to have a minstrel show this winter, and left the matter in the hands of a committee composed of A. C. Needham, F. K. Swett, H. B. Hinchliffe, F. C. Rand and E. H. Wilcox. It was also voted to have the club rooms open to ladies informally, on the afternoons of the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month.

Horticultural Society

At the annual election of the North Shore Horticultural society held in Lee's hall, Manchester, last evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: William Till, president; A. E. Parsons, vice-president; John Baker, treasurer; James Salter, secretary; Herbert Shaw, fin. secretary; James B. Dow, Joseph Clark, P. R. Sanborn, Dr. W. H. Tyler and James McGregor, executive committee; R. A. Mitchell, librarian. Two candidates were elected to membership.

President-elect Till on assuming the chair announced the appointment of the following committees: Alexander Shaw, James Scott and A. E. Parsons, committee on essays and discussions; M. C. Horton, Charles Craven and William Irwin, entertainment committee.

The officers of Magnolia lodge, I. O. O. F., will be installed next Thursday evening.

Special Town Meeting.

A special town meeting is called for Monday evening, Jan. 13, to see what action the town will take in regard to separating the boards of selectmen and assessors. The wording of the article in the warrant is as follows:

"To see if the town will accept the provisions of Sec. 339, Chapter 11, R. L. of Mass., whereby the Selectmen and Overseer's of the Poor shall be elected as follows: If the number fixed by the town is three, it shall at the annual meeting, elect one for the term of one year, one for the the term of two years and one for the term of three years, and at each annual meeting thereafter, shall elect one for the term of three years."

The new law relative to the election of assessors went into effect Jan. 1, and says that the assessors shall be elected one each year for a period of three years. Now in Manchester the board of selectmen and the board of assessors are one and the same. The selectmen are elected at present once in each year. The purpose of the special meeting is to see whether the selectmen shall continue to be elected each year, or whether they shall be elected one each every three years. Virtually it is to see if the two boards are to be separated.

NEW Year's!

AND Leap year!

AND resolutions galore.

ARE you keeping your resolutions?—New Year's resolutions, of course.

MANCHESTER citizens who are disposed to criticise the schools of the town would do well to read what Supt. of Schools Safford of Beverly has to say on "The Educational Policy of the Community." His address before the Municipal Club at Beverly Farms Monday night is given on another page. He says that "the degree of success of a school system depends in the long run and without escape upon that intangible but irresistible force in our social and political life called public opinion." Public opinion!

WHAT we had to say last week about the opportunity for and the need of a first-class family hotel in Manchester, to take the place of the Masconomo House, which has long since passed the stage where it can even be called "second class," has evidently attracted more than local attention, for aside from the general comment we have heard on the subject, we are in receipt of two communications this week bearing on the matter. The tone of each would indicate that the members of our summer colony favor such a move. Both of the communications are printed on this page.

It will be noticed that one of the writers would have the Board of Trade take up a matter of this kind. It is obvious from this suggestion and from others he makes that he is not thoroughly acquainted with Manchester. It is true that a good live Board of Trade might take up a matter of this kind and might be able to do something that would interest capital in a project like this.

But Manchester has no visible Board of Trade! There was one some years ago, but it has faded away. Why not get together and reorganize a Board of Trade? Even if this matter of a hotel for Manchester were not taken up at once there are other matters which a board of this kind could attend to.

As we go to press we are in receipt of another communication somewhat along the lines of the other two printed on this page. It will be published next week.

Editor of the North Shore Breeze:

Through the courtesy of Mr. A. E. McCleary, whom I met at Magnolia last summer, while he was connected with your paper, I have received a marked copy of your paper containing the editorial upon the opportunity for a summer hotel at Manchester-by-the Sea.

I am very much interested in this article as it is in line with a conversation we had last summer. While I own a summer estate at Narragansett Pier where we spend about eight months of the year my family and myself like to spend at least a month each summer at some other resort. After spending a season at several places including Lenox, Saratoga, Bar Harbor and the White Mountains, we decided to spend two months of the past season at Manchester, as I am a devotee of golf and had heard so much praise and enthusiasm in behalf of the links of the Essex County club.

Perhaps you can imagine my amazement when I learned that to secure high-class hotel accommodations for a family party and necessary servants was out of the question at Manchester, and our two months on the North Shore was narrowed down to two weeks at Magnolia, and that fraught with many uncomfortable circumstances.

Since then I have talked with many of my acquaintances in this city, at Narragansett and other places who were cognizant of these peculiar circumstances, and the consensus of opinion is that a veritable bonanza has gone begging in Manchester for some public spirited individual or corporation to develop. Such an enterprise would be the crowning glory of Manchester if operated properly and with that peculiar conversatism which I note characterizes everything in and about Manchester.

Indeed, I am surprised that your Board of Trade, with its watchful eye, alert to the best interests and well being of the town, should let the Masconomo House property fall into decadence without raising a mighty protest of righteous indignation, or interest other capital in a new hotel on a new site, for I believe there must be other good locations in Manchester for a hotel that will exactly dovetail with the demands.

—E. L. H.

Philadelphia, Dec. 31, 1907.

Editor of the North Shore Breeze:

Ever since my visit to the North Shore some three years ago I have been a constant and interested reader of your paper. Your editorial in last week's issue in regard to the desirability of a first class summer hotel at Manchester seems to me very much to the point. Not only would the opening of such a hotel as you speak of in your columns be desirable and an advantage in every way to Manchester, but in my opinion, it is an absolute need.

If made thoroughly up-to-date in every respect, conducted along modern lines and kept free from all objectionable features, as could very easily be done, it would not only prove a decided financial success to its owners, but should add greatly to the social prestige of the North Shore, already known as the garden spot of the New England coast. There are scores of families who would be only too glad to avail themselves of the opportuniry such a hotel would offer to spend the summer at Manchester, many who in seasons past have been unable to secure cottages here for the summer, or who prefer to pass the summer at a hotel where everything is provided and where they would not have the responsibility of looking after a household.

I sincerely hope a summer hotel catering to an exclusive patronage will be erected in Manchester in the near future. It should greatly benefit the town itself, it would add to the social life of the North Shore and there is no reason why it should not prove a bonanza to its owner. "NORTH SHORE."

MANCHESTER

George Hildreth is the first to announce his candidacy for office at the coming town meeting, in March. He is a candidate for water commissioner, against N. P. Weldrum whose term expires this year. Mr. Hildreth run for this office two years ago, against J. T. Stanley, and lacked only 35 votes of being elected. He is in the fight to stay.

Some 25 members of the Degree of Honor called at the home of John F. Silva, Forest street, Thursday evening, and tendered him a surprise party, which proved a surprise, indeed, as Mr. Silva was taken completely unawares. A very pleasant evening resulted, during which Mr. Silva was presented with a purse of gold. Mr. Silva has not yet sufficiently recovered from his accident of last fall, when he fell under the train in the local station and had some of his toes crushed, so that he can work.

Fr. Shahan court, 220, M. C. O. F., have elected the following officers: William McEachern, chief ranger; Austin Morley, vice ranger; James Sheehan, rec. secy.; Miss Theresa O'Neil, fin. secy.; Henry Bohaker, treas.; Laura Saulnier, sen. cond.; Thomas Winne, jun. con.; John F. Silva, outside sentinel; John H. Baker, inside sent.; Wm. McEachern, delegate. The installation will be on Monday, Jan. 20, and Deputy James Riley of Gloucester will be the installing officer.

Miss Ethel L. Mitchell has returned to her work at Simmons college, Boston, after spending a very pleasant vacation with Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Lane.

The sale and entertainment held at the Chapel Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Social circle was well attended and the sales tables were well patronized. A very interesting program was presented consisting of musical and reading selections. Miss Annie Lane rendered two selections on the piano. Other numbers included: reading, "The Village Oracle," Miss Peirson, of Salem; vocal solo, "Dreaming of Long Ago," Mrs. F. G. Cheever; reading, "At the Boaer Counter," Miss Lambert, of Beverly; recitation, "The Charcoal Man," Miss Peirson; solo, Mrs. Cheever; dialog, "The Little Hatchet Story," Miss Sutton and Miss Peirson.

Sacred Heart Church Entertainment.

The entertainment given in the Town hall, Manchester, Thursday evening, under the direction of Rev. Fr. Wm. F. Powers, and the Christmas tree for the children of the Sunday School proved a most delightful occasion for the big crowd who attended. The hall was crowded, every available seat being taken.

A feature not previously announced, was the new style of stage lights introduced, or, perhaps, an old style, for a row of lanterns found in the basement of the town hall was strung along the stage to light up the scenery. This was brought about as a substitute for electric lights which went out in the midst of the entertainment and were not turned on again.

The crowning feature of the evening was the Teddy Bear act, in which Harry S. Tappan and Lagory Wade were the principals. They kept the audience, especially the younger portion of it, in a continuous roar of laughter during their act. The sketch was original, and well carried off by the young men.

The rest of the program consisted of musical selections, monologs, and sketches, the program being as follows:

Piano solo
Harry Butterworth
Duet, "School Days"
Willie and Louisa Walsh
Trombone solo
Lagory Wade
Solo, "Neath the Old Acorn Tree, Sweet Estelle"
Jerome Crowley
Monolog
Mr. Walsh
Solo, "Good Night, Beloved, Good Night"
Miss Theresa Walsh
Baritone Solo, "Some Day, when Dreams come true"
Mr. Crowley
Comic sketch,
Mr. Shea
Teddy Bear act
H. S. Tappan and L. Wade

Long's orchestra played during the evening when "the lights went out," and as accompanist for Mr. Wade, and also during the Teddy Bear act. The Teddy Bears assisted Fr. Powers in distributing candies, oranges, etc., to the children at the close of the entertainment. During the evening Master Joseph Green stepped upon the stage and in behalf of the Sunday School presented Fr. Powers with a beautiful basket of flowers. During the evening also Fr. Powers asked the teachers to step toward the stage and he presented each with a remembrance.

Another Hotel Destroyed.

The Colonial Arms, the largest summer hotel on the North Shore, was burned to the ground Wednesday evening, with practically all its furnishings. The loss is estimated at $225,000, with $110,000 insurance. This is the second of the large North Shore hotels to be burned since the close of last season, the New Magnolia being destroyed early in October. The Colonial Arms was one of the finest hotels along the Atlantic coast. It was built only three years ago, and was considered a success. Geo. O. Stacy of Gloucester owned the place, and he leased it to H. W. Priest & Co., A. J. Sherrard of Aiken, N. C., manager, for five years at $15,000 a year.

The hotel was unoccupied and the source of the fire is a mystery.

The blaze lighted up the heavens and the reflection could be seen for miles. From Manchester it looked as though there was another big fire at Magnolia. A number went from Manchester to see the fire.

Following is the percentage of attendance at the G. A. Priest and Primary schools for week just ending: Grade I, 91.79; I and II, 80.30; II, 90.60; III, 96.09; IV, 91.64; Advanced IV, 84.41; V, 95.43; VI, 89.75; VII, 91.89; VIII, 91.54; IX, 93.84.

Miss Katherine Macauley of Dorchester was the guest of Miss Helen Lycett on Thursday.

Bartlett Smith of Boston was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Chane the past week.

A very interesting dance was held at the Magnolia hall by the Magnolia Orchestra last Tuesday evening.

Master Edward Dean returned to his home in Somerville this week, after a year's visit with his aunt, Mrs. Frank Edmonds.

William Smith of Boston, who was head-waiter at the Oceanside, was in town Monday. He left Tuesday for Georgia, for the winter.

Miss Frances Stearns and her architect, Mr. Kelly of Boston, were in town Tuesday.

Dr. Dakin of Boston spent the past week in town. Mr. Dakin will spend the winter in Arkansas. He will leave next Tuesday.

Fred Lycett was made a member of the Mystic Shrine of Boston, Tuesday.

"The Lord's Supper" will be observed at the village church tomorrow at noon. Sunday School will accordingly begin at 12.30. The People's Forum is to be conducted by the Village church on Sunday evenings through January and February. Tomorrow evening Capt. Stark of the Salvation Army is to be the lecturer. He will describe fully the work to which he has given his life. Every one should hear him.

The "Tour Around the World" is to start at the Village church next Friday evening. It will be conducted largely by the children. Many strange sights will be seen and many interesting stories will be heard before we get home in the spring. Coupon tickets for the journey can be obtained of any of the children or they will sell you one coupon at the door which will take you to Seattle for five cents. Children under sixteen travel free.

Henry Abrahams, corresponding secretary of the Boston Central Labor union, has been secured by the People's Forum for Sunday evening, January 10. His subject will be "The Church and the Working Man." He will have things to say which every church member needs to hear. The Carpenters' union, Local No. 924, has been invited by Mr. Libby to be present.

City Engineer Webber had the line between Gloucester and Manchester surveyed last week to determine which place should tax the Stanwood garage. It was decided that the building was in Manchester.

Mrs. John B. Knowlton is in Gloucester visiting friends.

The Blynman Hotel at Magnolia to be used again next Season?

A rumor has come to our ears to the effect that the Blynman Hotel at Magnolia is to be used as a hotel again the coming season, and that Charles H. Mowry, for the past three years a successful manager of the New Magnolia hotel, is to be the manager.

We have been unable to verify the rumor, but think the report worthy to print.

There is no question but that the loss of the New Magnolia will be greatly felt, as there are a great many families, and guests from all parts of the country that come here each year and stop at that hostelry. Mr. Mowry has built up quite a patronage. Last year the Blynman hotel property was sold by Mr. Knowlton to Mr. Coolidge of Brookline, and it was not used at all. It is not unlikely that Mr. Coolidge and others interested in the property would be willing to let the place for the coming season to responsible parties.

If this is so it is something over which Manchester, Magnolia and the whole shore ought to be pleased.

The MacDonald family of Boston spent the past week at their cottage on the point.

The Gloucester Electric Light company have the past week installed new forty-candle power lights on the street. These will be a great improvement over the old ones.

Miss Helen Lycett, Miss Clara Butler and Gilbert Crispin attended the Leap Year dance given by the Smart Set in Gloucester Wednesday evening.

A number of young people from the village visited the scene of the burning Colonial Arms on Wednesday evening.

Members of the North Shore Horticultural society are already looking forward with much anticipation to the annual banquet of the society to be held in the Town hall on Wednesday evening, Jan. 29. An energetic committee is now at work making arrangements for the event, with the aim of making it one of the most successful in the history of the society. A turkey supper will form the principal part of the repast. This will not be furnished by an out-of-town caterer. The supper will be at 6.30 and will be followed by a pleasing entertainment, of which short informal talks by guests of t e society and members will be a feature. There will also be a singer and a reader. A dance will bring the evening to an end. Long's orchestra, five pieces, will furnish the music. Tickets for the whole will be one dollar, and as the number is limited strictly to 200, the table capacity of the hall, it would be well, perhaps, for a member to speak for their tickets as soon as possible.

"To be given away at Manchester, a large barn, roof damaged by fire. C. B. Mosher, 29 Chester street, Danvers." The foregoing advertisement appeared in the Salem Evening News of last Saturday. The barn referred to is that recently ravaged by fire on the Kimball estate. Mr. Mosher was working on the barn at the time, putting tar paper on the roof. The fire was started by tar he was melting boiling over on a stove in the barn.

Augustus B. Martin, one of the oldest and wealthiest morocco manufacturers of Lynn, and president and treasurer of the Bay State Dredging Co., Boston, died at his home in Lynn, Dec. 21. Mr. Martin was known to some extent in Manchester, having occupied for one or two seasons the Roberts cottage, corner Harbor and Bridge streets, West Manchester.

The Springfield Republican of Sunday, Dec. 22, contained a lengthy article by Prof. W. S. C. Russell, formerly principal of the Story High school, on the "Isles of the Labrador," which contained an interesting description of his recent trip to that country.

Miss Louise McIntire of Orange, N. J., until recently teacher at the G. A. Priest school, has been spending a few days of her vacation with Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Knight.

William McMillan of Lincoln is spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Levi Harvie.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Adams of Essex and Miss Elvada Adams spent the first of the week with Mr. and Mrs. D. Elmer Butler.

There was a little excitement on School street Tuesday afternoon, when one of Roberts & Hoare's horses fell into a cesspool in the yard, at Mrs. Price's, opposite the Baptist church. Some work is being done there by the firm. The horse backed onto the covering of a cesspool, when all of a sudden planks gave way and into the opening fell the horse. He was finally pulled out, little the worse for his experience.

One of the most attractive calendars we have seen this year is that of A. C. Needham which has for its setting a beautiful lithograph picture of the old frigate Constitution, from a painting owned by Mr. Needham. One of these adorns the mantel at the Manchester club.

Tony Pine, a former Manchester young man, who has been connected with several large concerns in Boston in various capacities, has opened a sample shoe store in Salem, in the same building with the Salem Evening News.

By the absence of Supt. Kimball's red lights on the new Norwood avenue extension, between Vine and Lincoln streets, New Year's night, this section did not look so much like a drug store in the distance. The iron railings being completed the genial "super" deemed it unnecessary to string the ropes and hang the danger lights, and although the work on the extension is not yet completed, the absence of ropes and lights was accepted by the public, as an assurance of safe passing and an informal opening of the street.

Frank P. Haskell.

Frank P. Haskell passed away at West Gloucester Monday, of pleuro-pneumonia, at the age of 72 years, 2 months.

Mr. Haskell was a native of West Gloucester, but he spent a portion of his younger days in Manchester, where he has always kept up an acquaintance. After the war he moved to Central Falls, R. I., where he lived some twenty years. Three years ago his wife died and he moved back to West Gloucester.

Deceased was a G. A. R. man, having served through the war in Co. A 45th Regiment. He went through many of the noted battles and had many close calls himself. He was an Odd Fellow, being a member of Good Samaritan lodge of Pawtucket, and he was also a member of the Rebekahs. His remains were taken to Central Falls Thursday for burial.

He leaves no children, though he had several relatives in Manchester, among them being Mrs. S. A. Sinnicks, Geo. D. Haskell, Mrs. Theodore C. Rowe and Mrs. J. W. Carter.

Legislation for Motorists.

It is understood that among recommendations which the Safe Roads Automobile association will make for new legislation this year will be one to provide for an imprisonment penalty, at the discretion of the court, in cases of flagrant violation of the automobile law requiring every automobile to display a number plate.

At present the only punishment for this offence is the imposition of a fine of $25 for the first offense, $50 for the second offence and $100 for the third or subsequent offence committed during each calendar year.

It is held by members of the Safe Roads Automobile association that the failure to display a number plate if the intent of such failure is to conceal the identity of the motor vehicle, should be punished as severely as the substitution of a false number.

Salem Oratorio Society Concert.

On Thursday, Jan. 9, at the New Empire theatre, Salem's time honored choral society, Emil Mollenhauer, conductor, will open its 40th season with Sir Arthur Sullivan's most beautiful cantata, "The Golden Legend," assisted by the Boston Festival orchestra, and fine solo talent. Mrs. Grace B. Williams of Taunton has a soprano voice of wonderful purity and sweetness, surpassed by none on the concert stage, which has made her a great favorite in Salem. Miss Florence A. Nickerson of Malden, contralto, gave great satisfaction in "The Messiah," in Newburyport recently. Frank Ormsby is one of New York's best tenors, and his voice was heard in Lynn in "Arminius" a few weeks ago and roused great enthusiasm. Alfred T. Denghansen of Boston, the baritone, is a new comer to Salem but his work at a recent recital in Boston provoked most favorable comment from the Boston musical critics.

The society's talented accompanist, George B. Stevens of Gloucester will be at the piano.

There will undoubtedly be a large audience to welcome the Oratorio society in its initial performance in the new theatre, under the more favorable conditions of comfortable seatings and surroundings, which Cadet hall in spite of its fine acoustic properties, did not possess.

After this concert, the society will take up Flotows' beautiful opera "Martha" and present it Tuesday, April 21, availing itself of the enlarged orchestra and give soloists gathered for the annual spring tour of the Boston Festival orchestra.

Tickets for the "Golden Legend" concert are now on sale at the Empire Theatre and may be engaged by mail or 'phone.

ter. For example, the laws provide that the schools shall be governed by a commission or committee. I understand you have recently been considering whether that system might not be established advantageously in place of a mayor and city council for the management of the general affairs of the city. Without presuming to discuss that question, I think I may say very positively that government by a commission or committee of not more than nine, better five, is the most effective and generally desirable scheme of management for public schools.

"Another policy which is determined by the city charter is the method of providing funds for the schools for support and for buildings and other equipment. In Great Britain, the school boards are entirely independent of the town councils and have not only the direction of the schools, but also full power to determine the expenditures and to levy local school taxes. It is open to serious question whether the American system of giving to city councils the function of levying taxes and making appropriations for schools is the wisest one. St. Louis, Boston, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Minneapolis, Omaha, Lincoln, and New York are instances among American cities that are exceptions to the rule. Their school boards have been given the power of taxation and they are thus established as completely independent of the city councils."

Mr. Safford alluded to the provisions of the Beverly Charter, relating to the erection of schoolhouses and sketched the history of the controversy between the School Committee and the City Council, relating to the matter. He said in part: "If the City Council are to select the architect and build the schoolhouses, they should give the School Committee the opportunity of stating fully and somewhat in detail the needs of the schools. But who shall build the schoolhouses is of small consequence compared with the question of the kind of schoolhouse that the public will 'stand for.' In this respect, public opinion in Beverly has made great advance in the past fifteen years. Taken as a whole, Beverly has many things to be proud of in her schoolhouses, but also she has many things to aspire to in the way of future improvements especially in the matter of laying out the school grounds."

Medical inspection in schools was discussed and the present status of the matter in Beverly explained. He said, "After all it is for the public to decide whether it wants medical inspection or not."

In regard to teachers, he said, "The most important factor in every school is the character, personality, and teaching efficiency of the teacher. More school systems have been ruined by a lax policy in the appointment of teachers than by all other causes combined. The committee needs the support of the public in order to resist the importunities of the incompetent and maintain its present high standards by appointing only those teachers that can do the most and best for the education of Beverly children."

In regard to finances, he referred to the last annual report for details and said that the public opinion of Beverly had given the schools splendid financial support during the past fifteen years and had thereby expressed their belief in education and had endorsed the management by the school committee. In return the school committee had been frank and conscientious and had obtained large returns considering the amount expended. So much could never be done at so little relative expense.

And Improvements

Extensive additions and alterations are being made on the Herbert M. Sears' house, Pride's Crossing, from plans of Wheelwright & Haven, Boston. Large wings on the east, north and west sides are being added. These, together with an almost complete alteration inside, will give Mr. Sears one of the most extensive establishments on the North Shore. Connolly Bros. are the contractors for the work.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Mr. Business Man

1907 been a little disappointing to you? Going at things in 1908 full of fear and timidity? If you do, you won't get much; we generally get just what we look for in this world. This hard times scare, this money tight talk is about like the story told of the man that met The Plague entering Bagdad. When asked his mission he said he was entering the city to kill 3000 persons; on meeting him later coming out, the man said to The Plague: "Well, you more than accomplished your purpose, you de-populated the city." "Not so," said The Plague, "I killed my 3000 and fear killed the balance." That's about what all this hard times talk amounts to. Look cheerful, be cheerful, make your surroundings look prosperous, vamp up the office, appearance counts for lots; 'twill give your callers the good impression, they'll speak of you as prosperous, and the public like to deal with the successful business man.

'Twon't cost much.

THOUGHTS HERE AND THERE

BY D. F. LAMSON.

Truth may be crushed under mountains of ignorance, prejudice and selfishness; but truth has an inconvenient way of rising again, in the strife that freedom wages wrong; is sometimes for a time the victor, but the triumph of injustice and error is short; evil is bound finally to suffer defeat, the stars in their courses will fight against it.

The crescent promise of a poet's fancy may be one thing, and the prosaic, every-day working of a common mind another thing; there are all sorts and conditions of men, high and low, obtuse and gifted, cultured and ignorant, ranging all the way from the poet laureate himself to his Northern Farmer and old Philip; but one touch of nature makes the whole world kin; how foolish the artificial distinctions which so often divide, alienate and embitter, distinctions often as important as those betwixt tweedle-dum and tweedle-dee, and which must appear to higher intelligences much as the grades of animalcules in a drop of water appear to us.

Things seem to move in constantly recurring cycles; as in the times of the Judges it was rebellion, punishment, repentance, restoration, so now it is inflation, contraction, depression, and so round to prosperity again. The pendulum forever swings from one extreme to the other of the arc, it is never at rest.

A colored church once voted to inquire into the "whereabouts" and "whatabouts" of certain of its members. It would do most of us no harm to ask ourselves occasionally where we are and what we are doing; it might bring us up sometimes with a sharp turn, but it might save us from the precipice.

Some one has called man a "bundle of habits," so given we are to doing things by routine, as we have been accustomed to do them; hence the value of good habits, for bad habits are as likely to propagate themselves as good ones, as thistles are as sure to yield a harvest as corn; manners, too, are not a matter of indifference, they come very near being "minor morals."

Motoring, we are told, is being held responsible in England for a general coarsening of face, temper and manners; can a difference of longitude avert similar results among us? We shall see what we shall see. The past is generally voted slow; but there are some things that are better than speed, and among them are humanity and refinement; it matters more how we get through the world than how quickly we get through it.

At the pace that is now set by our ocean greyhounds, doctors will have to stop advising nervous people to take a sea voyage; the crack boats with their constant record breaking will come to be avoided by many; one great advantage of an ocean trip has been that it took one away for a week or so from the city's rush and distractions; but what if the city with all its rush and distractions is taken aboard at New York or Liverpool?

A little thing is often all that is needed to unlock the cells of memory, and make the past live again in all its reality and distinctness—a little shoe, a lock of hair, a yellow letter, some long-forgotten keepsake—and faces that have long been absent beam upon us from out the unknown, and voices that have long been silent sound once more in our ears.

Happy they whose past is stored with memories that are a source of delight and not of sadness, of fond recollection and not of useless regret. Alas for those who must drug and drown memory, lest it make life unbearable with its sting.

Some decry all belief, as if it were something that belonged to the childhood of the individual or the race; but strange as it may seem, the greatest believer is the unbeliever, the man whose creed is, "I believe in all unbelief," paradoxical as it may sound, there is nothing so credulous as skepticism; for a man to be a thorough-paced skeptic must believe things that are vastly more improbable than the objects of faith, such as that out of nothing something comes and that this universal frame is without a mind.

OFFICERS INSTALLED.

Magnolia Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Manchester, has big gathering of Members.

The newly elected and appointed officers of Magnolia lodge, 149, I. O. O. F., Manchester, were installed into office Thursday evening by Dep. Anthony C. Rogers and suite of Ocean lodge, Gloucester. A large gathering of members attended the installation and enjoyed the collation served afterward, and the social hour.

The officers are: Wm. W. Hoare, noble grand; Howard M. Stanley, vice grand; F. C. Rand, secretary; Henry T. Bingham, fin. secy; Edward A. Lane, treasurer; T. C. Rowe, warden; Edward Crowell, conductor; Arthur E. Olson, r. s. n. g.; F. A. Rowe, l. s. n. g.; Horace Standley, r. s. v. g.; Lewis Andrews, l. s. v. g.; Lorenzo Baker, r. s. s.; S. A. Sinnicks, l. s. s.; James Hoare, i. g.; A. E. Hersey, o. g.; Albert Cunningham, chaplain; C. E. Williams, acting past grand.

The deputy and staff performed their work most efficiently and were afterward highly complimented on their work. Short informal speeches were made after the installation by the deputy, members of the staff and members of the lodge.

An interesting fact in regard to the installing of the officers was that Henry T. Bingham was inducted into office as financial secretary of the lodge for the 27th consecutive year. The reports of the officers showed Magnolia lodge to be one of the strongest, both financially and in point of membership of any in the town.

A collation of which Manchester's famed dish, cock stew, formed the principal part, crackers, coffee, fancy crackers, doughnuts, cheese, frozen pudding and ice cream was served and the rest of the evening spent socially. Fred K. Swett presided at the piano.

The second degree will be worked on the evening of January 23, when a delegation will be present from the lodge in Salem.

Weak Heart

Upon the heart action depends not only health, but life. If weak, the circulation is sluggish, and the supply of nourishment diminished. It also fails to carry off impurities. Disease follows from decay and stagnation. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure stimulates the heart action by strengthening the heart nerves and muscles.

"I had frequent sinking spells, sometimes as many as three in a day, during which my heart would seem to stop beating, necessitating the calling of a physician to resuscitate me. Before finishing the first bottle of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure the sinking spells had ceased, and I took altogether five bottles for a complete cure."

MANCHESTER

The Collector of Taxes has a notice on page 6 of this issue.

Special town meeting next Monday evening at 7.30.

The next meeting of the Haphazard club will be held with Dr. and Mrs. Glendenning, Monday evening, Jan. 13.

The next meeting of the Wednesday Evening club will probably be held on Jan. 22. It is likely that a lecturer will be the attraction of the evening.

Only three more weeks before the fiscal year of the town closes. Already town meeting talk is prevalent. A lively meeting is anticipated this year.

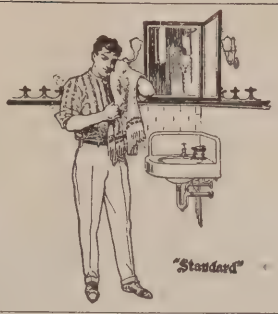

A business change announced this week is the dissolution of the co-partnership heretofore existing between Claude D. Temple and John Scott, painters and paperhangers. Mr. Scott will continue the business in his own name.

Several candidates will be initiated at the meeting of Wm. Jeffery colony, Pilgrim Fathers, next Monday evening, when some of the leading high officials are expected to be present. A delegation will attend from Beverly Farms.

Martin Eyberse, gardener at the S. Parker Bremer estate, is receiving the congratulations of his friends over his marriage on New Year's eve at Little Falls, N. J., to Miss Anna, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Dulmer. Mr. and Mrs. Eyberse will make their home in the tenement over Mr. and Mrs. David Fenton, corner Beach and Summer streets.

"Ladies' afternoon" will be observed at the Manchester club next Tuesday afternoon, when the club rooms will be thrown open for the use of the ladies. A feature of the occasion will be the lack of formality. It is intended to make this a feature of the club, the desire being to extend to the ladies the same privileges on that afternoon as are usually at the disposal of the members of the club,—such as reading room, piano, writing room, card tables, pool and billiard tables.

Frank L. Decker, a former Manchester young man, for a number of years manager of Ropes' Drug store, Beverly, and more recently at the Salem store of that concern, has come to Manchester this week and has taken an active part in the management of the F. G. Cheever Co. store, in Central square. The company is very fortunate in securing the co-operation of such a competent man, and with Mr. Decker and Mr. Morris, who has been with the concern for a number of years, the prescription department of this store ought to be one of perfection. Mr. Decker will at once inaugurate special sales and will promote the interests of the company along the lines of first class city stores.

Personal Attention Given to all Work. Estimates cheerfully given.

A good sized delegation of Manchester folk attended the opening concert of the Salem Oratorio society in the Empire Theatre, Salem, Thursday evening. Sullivan's "The Golden Legend" was given, with Emil Mollenhauer as conductor. Prof. A. L. Saben and Miss Florence Kauffman sang in the chorus. Others who attended from here were Mrs. G. W. Blaisdell, Mrs. G. S. Sinnicks, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lodge, Mrs. J. W. Campbell, A. W. Mead and Mr. Winslow.

In accordance with a vote taken at town meeting last winter Supt. Kimball has had ten attractive new sign boards placed at street corners in various parts of the town the past week. The arm which holds the sign board is held in position partially by another arm of fancy scroll design. The signs resemble very much those to be found along the Metropolitan Park highway. The iron work on the signs was by Horace Standley, and the sign boards by J. P. Lations.

The Week of Prayer services have been held during the week and withal, have been very successful. The first three nights they were held at the Baptist church, and Thursday and last evening they were held in the Congregational chapel. Tomorrow evening there will be a union service in the Congregational church with preaching by Rev. Mr. Brewster. Much interest has been manifest and it has increased through the week. It is probable that the services will be continued during next week. Thursday evening and last night there were solos by Rev. A. T. Brooks of Grace Baptist church, New York city, and he will sing again tomorrow evening.

By one of those untimely errors, unaccountable, and hard to tell how it happened, the notice we printed last week of the death of Mrs. John Milton Brown of Newburyport was made to read "Mrs. John Milton Knight."

A chimney fire at the residence of Amory Eliot, Sea street, Monday afternoon about 5 o'clock, called out the hose wagon, but before it arrived the fire was practically out. The contents of a hand chemical was turned into the fireplace and the gases soon smothered the flames, the damage being slight. An alarm from box 52, at the engine house, was sounded, after a telephone message from the Eliot house.

WHISPERINGS.

The advantage of electric lights over kerosene lamps was emphasized a few days ago when one of our good friends on Brook street, Manchester, had a small sized conflagration as the result of lighting a match. Fortunately, however, the blaze was confined to the exterior of a pink flannelette nightgown which he had on. He arose early—about 5.30—as by usual custom, and proceeded to light the lamp. A spark from the n at h fell on his nightgown and set fire to the "fuzz." In less time than it takes to write it he was a mass of flames. He rolled on the floor trying to put out the fire, in which he was successful. But it turned out that the fire was a small part of this man's troubles. He was congratulating himself on having put out the blaze, but the next instant he glanced on the bed and to his consternation found his wife had fainted. He proved good for this emergency also, and everything passed along smoothly after that.

We have heard this week of another husband in another part of the town who had troubles to contend with the other night. He was awakened about 2 a. m. by musical noises in the parlor down stairs. He sat up in bed, fully convinced himself that he was awake, and then quietly awoke his wife. The two then decided that somebody was manipulating the piano, though no particular tune was being played. Having heard of the various kinds of pranks of up-to-date burglars, and not knowing what next to expect, they proceeded to investigate. Cautiously a candle was lighted and the two tremblingly crept down the stairs. The noises ceased for an instant, and then the broken chords again reached their ears. A little more boldly they crept and peeked into the parlor. But they could see nothing; yet the piano was being played. Was it a ghost? Almost white with fear they pushed the door open. Instead of being greeted by a biff! from the burglar's sand-bag, they heard a soft me-ow! me-ow! as Miss Pussy walked across the keys toward them. It is needless to say the piano is not left open now, after the household retires for the night.

The Whisperer was one of the dozen or more on-lookers Thursday when the first of the ten or more new sign boards was being placed in position,—this being the one in Central square. Supt. Kimball was superintending the job. The man doing the work put the sign wrong side up,—that is, the scroll arm pointed toward the ground instead of upward. This was corrected, but the next time it was screwed to the post one arm was fastened on one side of the ladder rung and the other arm on the other side, thus chaining the ladder to the post, as it were. As a way out of the difficulty the superintendent suggested that the rung be sawed in order to remove the ladder.

Society Notes

Arthur M. Jones of Magnolia and Boston sailed from New York on the Cedric, Jan. 4, to spend the winter in Egypt with Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Lythgoe of New York.

Charles S. Hanks, of West Manchester and Brookline, who has been in Europe making a special study of transportation methods, has been obliged to abandon his work because of illness. He has returned to his Brookline home, being a passenger on the incoming Canopic, yesterday week. Mr. Hanks has been in Italy, where he had a conference with the King on transportation methods in that country. He also had engagements with the President of France and the Emporor of Germany, but was unable to keep them because of his hurried return.

Capt. John E. Pillsbury, who has been designated by Pres. Roosevelt as the head of the bureau of navigation, is well known among the summer colony at Magnolia, having spent several seasons at the Oceanside.

By the provisions of the will of the late E. V. R. Thayer of Boston, T. Dennie Boardman of Manchester and Boston, is a beneficiary to the extent of $5000.

C. H. Tweed and Miss Katherine Tweed were on from New York and spent Sunday at their cottage in Beverly Farms. Harrison Tweed was down from Cambridge also for the week-end.

Others of the summer cottagers noticed at the Farms last Saturday were Miss Eleanora Sears, Col. Franklin Haven, Mr. and Mrs. Otis H. Luke and Miss Alice Thorndike.

Miss Adele G. Thayer gave a dinner Thursday night at her Commonwealth ave., Boston, home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Goss (Hortense Webster) of Providence.

Among the new cottages to be used for the first time the coming season is that of the Francis I. Amorys at Beverly Cove. This is now well along toward completion, and will make one of the finest summer homes in that section of the shore.

Business Men's Association.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Business Men's association will be held on Monday evening, Jan. 13, at the Board of Trade rooms, Beverly. The annual banquet of the association will be held early in February.

About a Former Manchester Citizen.

The Watchman of Jan. 2, contained the following concerning a well-known citizen of Manchester from 1884 to 1907:

"On Jan. 1, 1858, Mr. D. F. Lamson, while still a student at Newton, began preaching for the Baptist church in Littleton, and was ordained the July following. Since that time he has served beside the church in Litttleton, the churches in Ashland, Northboro, the Dewey Street church, Worcester, and at Manchester, Mass., and worked two years as missionary of the Baptist churches in Hartford, Conn. For the past ten years he has been engaged largely in teaching, first in the south, and more recently in connection with the Boston Evangelical Institute, Revere, and the Gordon Training school. During the half century now completed he has been detained from the pulpit by illness not more than 12 Sundays, and has preached over 5000 sermons, besides giving many lectures and addresses, and written largely for the press, publishing one volume, a Memorial History of Manchester, Mass., 1645-1895. Mr. Lamson's home is in Newton, Mass."

Mr. Lamson has retired from the pulpit, confining himself to educational and literary work.

MANCHESTER COVE

Miss Ethel Griggs of Roxbury has been visiting her cousin, Miss Vera Kitfield.

Henry Menken has returned from a two weeks' vacation spent in New York and vicinity.

Miss Frances MacDonald of Brookline spent a few days this week with Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kitfield.

Ernest Goodspeed of Salem spent Sunday with Harry Menken. Mr. Menken has completed his engagement at the McMillan estate.

The young people of the Cove district had a merry time last Saturday afternoon when they were entertained at "Crowhurst," the beautiful residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Whitehouse with a Christmas tree and a general good time. The party was from 4.30 until 7. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and other good things were served and games were played. The Christmas tree was beautifully lighted with electric lights. Each child was presented with several gifts. The young people were taken home in Mr. Whitehouses automobile, every one having enjoyed themselves to the fullest.

MONDAY evening the voters of Manchester will be called upon to decide the question whether the Board of Selectmen will be elected for a period of three years, or whether they will be elected annually as now. This is brought about through the new law which says that the Board of Assessors shall be elected to serve three years. As the Board of Assessors and the Selectmen are one in Manchester it must be decided whether the two boards shall be kept one, or separated.

In our opinion the two boards should be separated. While we think the law relating to the Board of Assessors is a good one, we think the Town of Manchester is not yet ready to elect selectmen to serve for three years. In a town like Manchester, with a valuation of twelve millions, the position of assessor is an important one, and one that only the very best men that can be found, should be asked to serve. Especially if this recommendation of Governor Guild on corporation taxes goes through, will it be essential for the town to have its best men to serve in this office as assessors.

The assessors have only one function to perform,—that of assessing. The selectmen have varied duties. There might be varied reasons, therefore, why the citizens might wish to have a new board of selectmen. There is no reason, of course, why the same men should not serve as selectmen and assessors. For instance, if the present board of selectmen is satisfactory to the town, they might be re-elected selectmen for the coming year, and they might also be elected assessors, one for three years, one for two and one for one year.

IN his inaugural last week Governor Guild made a suggestion which, if carried out, would cause Manchester to suffer a great loss. He recommends that the corporation tax be retained by the state instead of being returned to the cities and towns where the owners reside.

Under the present conditions the state collects taxes from corporations, railroads and industrial enterprises, and retains an amount representing the shares of stocks held by persons living outside the state. In the case of railroads this portion amounts to about one-third of the taxes collected. The remainder of the corporation tax, two-thirds, is distributed among the cities and towns in sums based upon the number and value of the shares of stock held by residents. These amounts are disbursed by the state twice a year, and the total distribution is about $4,500,000.

The legislature each year apportions a direct tax among the cities and towns, to meet the appropriations, and the revenue from this is about $4,000,000. Gov. Guild recommended to the legislature that the law be changed so that all of the corporation taxes be retained by the state and that no direct state tax be levied. He pointed out that the income from the corporation tax would be about equal to the amount raised by the direct tax.

Under the proposed change, towns like Manchester, containing a large number of wealthy residents, would lose more than their share of the recent state tax, while the cities and small towns especially would correspondingly benefit.

Last year Manchester received $48,151.69 as its share of the corporation tax, while its portion of the state tax was only $15,360, so that the proposed plan would mean a loss of $32,791.69 to the town.

It is to be sincerely hoped that no such measure as this will go through, as a loss of this kind would mean on the face of it that the Manchester tax rate would jump from $9 or $10, as it is now, to $14 or $15.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2, 1908.

Editor of the North Shore Breeze:

I was very much interested in your editorial last week on the need of a summer hotel in Manchester and I congratulate you upon the course you have taken. I want to tell you that I heartily approve of a high-class hotel, along the lines you have advocated, as a most potential factor in the development of the social life of Manchester. While the enterprise would not effect me directly it would indirectly be a great benefit and I believe that I can say this for every summer resident on the North Shore. Keep up the discussion and success should follow the good work. But that which I wish to say most is this: Before leaving Manchester in October I heard something to the effect that a syndicate headed by a prominent Hebrew physician was investigating the Masconomo hotel property in view of opening negotiations for its purchase and subsequent conversion into a sanitarium for the cure of a drink habit—a "Keeley Cure," or, in the parlance of your brother journalists of Park row, this city, a "dope bleach." I placed little credence in the story when I heard it, but your statement that the property is on the market lends color to the rumor and there may possibly be some facts to it after all. I hope, however, that it is only idle rumor. If such a project is "in the air," I trust you will discourage it with the same force and vigor you are advocating a summer hotel. The class of people that make Manchester what it is do not want anything of this kind even if it caters exclusively to the inebriates of the wealthier class. Give us the fog horn on Baker's Island to a condition of affairs like this. Let the Board of Trade enter a vigorous protest also and defeat the accomplishment of this undertaking by an aggressive canvas and campaign for the materialization of the former project.

(Signed) "KNICKERBOCKER."

Advantages of Life Insurance.

One of the effects of the present financial crisis has been to cause a tremendous increase in the amount of loans made by the life companies to policy holders on the security of their policies, and not so much to the wage-earning and salaried classes of policy holders as to business men, large and small, many of whom are finding their life insurance policy the only asset they can convert into real hard cash. They have deposits in banks, strong institutions whose solvency nobody dreams of questioning, but which, nevertheless, are paying the checks of depositors only in small part in cash and the balance in clearing house checks, while the life insurance companies are meeting all obligations to their policyholders in cash. Business men and policyholders generally are also having driven home to them the fact that while the stocks and bonds in which they may have invested are now worth only eighty per cent. of the cost price or perhaps seventy per cent. or even less, the cash value of a life insurance policy is unaffected by the condition of the money market, but is always worth, not fifty or sixty or seventy per cent. of the cash value specified in the policy, but the full amount. The financial stability of life insurance companies is thus being given the most striking demonstration it has ever had in the history of the business. The superiority of life insurance as a business man's investment, even though taken out purely for purposes of protection, is being demonstrated just as strikingly. Business men will not easily forget the lessons they have learnt through the experience of the past few weeks and the alert life insurance agent will not neglect the opportunity of turning them to his own advantage. Where are all the millions that have been withdrawn from banks and trust companies during the past few weeks by timid depositors? Hoarded away awaiting safe investment. It will be the fault of life insurance men themselves if a considerable proportion of the amount now being hoarded is not invested in life insurance. For no other investment just now appears before the public to better advantage.

Only live fish swim up stream. Which way are you swimming? Buy your life insurance, and buy it now from the leading company. There are twelve life insurance companies represented in the town of Manchester. During the last five years The John Hancock Life Insurance company of Boston, Mass., has written more business in Manchester than the other eleven companies combined. There's a reason! For information concerning that reason see the undersigned.

"The Tour around the World," being given at the church, dropped the travellers last night at Seattle, where they will await the steamer for Alaska, Feb. 14.

The Bible class of the Village church have voted to begin their discussions at 10.15 sharp, lengthening the time to three-quarters of an hour. "The Plagues in Egypt" will be discussed tomorrow.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Magnolia met with Mrs. Henry Brown Thursday afternoon. Eighteen members were present. This is the record so far this year. The society will meet at Mrs. D. C. Ballou's next Thursday.

Preparations are now under way for moving the Sundial cottage from its present location, to a new site across the street. Mrs. McMillan last fall bought a strip of the McClure property, adjoining her own, and on which the Sundial cottage is located. D. C. Ballou & Co. are building the new cellar and foundations for the cottage in its new location.

"The Church and the Working Man" will be the subject of an address by Henry Abrahams, secretary of the Boston Central Labor union, at the People's Forum being held at the Village church Sunday evenings. Mr. Abrahams will speak tomorrow night, on which occasion it is hoped the working men especially will make a strong endeavor to be out. Carpenters' union, local 924, of Manchester, has accepted the invitation of the church to be present on that occasion.

Fire at Magnolia.

The Magnolia fire department was called out last Sunday afternoon for a fire in the stable of D. C. Ballou & Co., on Magnolia avenue, which was subdued only through the quick work of the firemen. The alarm was sounded from box 85 by one of the men in the barn, who discovered the fire. When Standard Engine arrived the building was considerably enveloped in flames. Two lines of hose were quickly laid and streams of water were poured into the hay. Inside half an hour the flames had been extinguished.

The origin of the fire is unknown though it is thought a spark from the funnel in the rear was wafted into the window of the barn, in which there was a broken square of glass. It is fortunate the blaze was discovered when it was for there were nearly two tons of hay stored in the premises, and had the fire gained a little headway, aided by the strong wind, more serious results would have followed.

The loss was about $225, $125 of which was on the hay and $100 on the the building and other contents. The hay is not insured, but the building is.

A son was born Thursday, Jan. 2, to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carroll, Summer street.

Henry Israel, county secretary of the Phi Alpha Pi, spoke to the boys of Arbella chapter in the chapel last evening on "The Shadows of Sing Sing."

The grand ball completing the course in Mrs. Long's dancing classes will be held in Town hall, Friday evening, Jan. 17. Children from 7 until 8.30, adults after 8.30 o'clock.

Arthur U. McCormack left Thursday with his little daughter, and Miss D'Entremont, the sister of his late wife, for E. Pubnico, N. S. He may leave his daughter there for the winter.

George E. Scott was in town the first of the week for a brief visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Scott, Norwood ave. He returned to New York Wednesday accompanied by Mrs. Scott, who had been here for a week's visit.

The Bay State Dredging company have completed their work here and the dredger and barges left the harbor Tuesday morning. The river channel has been dredged from the railroad bridge to Point of Rocks, opposite the Manchester Yacht club, the work being done at the expense of the state.

The gasolene tank supplying the Town hall with gas, which has not happened to have been put to practical use for over a year, has been filled the psat week and the lights in the hall tested. This was brought about by the fact that last week on the occasion of the Sacred Heart church concert the electric lights were out of condition and most of the evening the only light on the stage was that provided by half a dozen lanterns. Though the tank was half full of gasolene, eighteen barrels having been placed there last winter, the lights would not work, the gas having slowly escaped in the long interval it was not in use.

Had to Use Water, Said Kimball, Draining Glass.

It was at a meeting of the Massachusetts Highway Association, and Superintendent of Streets George Kimball of Manchester was explaining the use of calcium chloride as road dressing. More than 100 automobilists and roadway enthusiasts were gathered about the tables, on which stood glasses holding a bountiful supply of—water.

"We found," Mr. Kimball declared, with a sweep of his arm, "we found that—(pausing and swallowing a glass of water)—we were obliged to use water."

The roar of laughter that followed unbalanced the gravity of the sedate gathering for the rest of the meeting.—"Wheat and Chaff" column, Boston Herald.

JOHN CONNORS, TAPPAN ST., MANCHESTER (Near B. & M. Station)

Gypsy and Brown-tail Moth Work.

Supt. Kirkland, who has charge of the gypsy and brown-tail moth work, says it will cost as much this year to fight the pest as it did last year. He will ask the legislature for $300,000 to do the regular work, and perhaps $10,000 extra with which to continue the parasite investigation.

Manchester is called upon to spend some $430 more than last year. Last year $4302.18 was the sum called for, and this year the sum stipulated to be spent, by the order of the state superintendent, is $4732.48. The state year, in this department, begins with the present year on Dec. 1, so that this amount is to be spent between Nov. 30, 1907, and Nov. 30, 1908.

The legislature will be asked to change the law in relation to the state's right to enter private property, as the law now in operation gives the state no authority, even for scout duty before the owner has had a certain amount of time in which to clean the property. The past year the property owners were given until Dec. 1 in which to attend to the moth pest. Up to that time they could keep the state and town employees off their premises, this having been determined in court, but after Dec. 1 the employees had a right to enter private land and to charge the owners for any work they did to suppress the moth pest.

Six-Cent Fares Again.

The long-talked-of increase in fares for riding on street railways is to be put into effect first on the Blue Hill Street Railway, which extends from Mattapan square, Boston, through the edge of Milton to Canton and Stoughton. One penny is added to the present five-cent rate, beginning on last Sunday. The length of ride for a single fare will be the same as heretofore; the fare will be six cents instead of five.

Whether other companies will now follow the lead of this one, remains to be seen. Many of them have been discussing the need; and for the last year or two, if not for an even longer period, there has been a rather general adoption, outside of the Boston system, of some device or other for bringing in more money. The probability is that the six-cent unit will become fairly general outside of Boston.

MORTGAGE BURNED

Impressive Exescises at Beverly Farms Last Night as Friends' Bible Class turns Pastor's House over to the Church.

A crowning event in the history of the Friends' Bible class and a red letter event, too, in the history of the Beverly Farms Baptist church, were the exercises at the church last evening in connection with the burning of the mortgage and presentation of the deeds of the pastor's house on High street, by the class to the church.

The gathering was called for 7.45 and James B. Dow, teacher of the class for a number of years, presided. After singing by the choir, and prayer by Willis A. Pride, Mrs. Duncan Smith presented the secretary's report and treasurer's report was presented by Mrs. Sarah Crowell.

The reports told how the class had been organized on Oct. 21, 1895, largely through the efforts of the late Mrs. Sarah Whitman. Among the work it had done was the installing of heating apparatus in the church at a cost of $532.00, shingling the church, $200; painting the church, $150; payment of note in bank, $75; payment toward bell, $50; payment toward salary of janitor, $84; painting side roofs of church, $14; a total of $1105. The report then went on to show how the class determined to build a pastor's house, and toward this end they had bought the land from the heirs of John Larcom, had paid $800 cash, and hired $200 more. The class had expressed in many ways interest in the church and the last effort of importance was in 1903, when the house at 17 High street was started. The house cost about $4234.98, which had been fully paid and the class now has on hand a balance of $236.82.

Following these reports the donation committee made their report, and there was singing by the gathering.

Then came the impressive, though simple ceremony of burning the mortgage. A vessel on the table contained a burning candle, and to this Mrs. George Batchelder, the assistant treasurer, touched the piece of paper, which burned slowly. Silence ruled supreme until the last flicker has passed away and all that remained of the mortgage was a little pile of ashes.

The presentation of the deeds by Mrs. Wm. C. Webster followed. Mrs. Webster is president of the class, and it is to her that much of the success of the class especially during the past few years, is due. Briefly and unostentatiously Mrs. Webster handed the deeds to Rev. C. S. Pond, the pastor, with these words: "I have the pleasure of presenting in behalf of the Friends' Bible class the deed and keys of the parsonage on High street for the Beverly Farms Baptist church. Long may you enjoy and prosper with it."

Mr. Pond accepted the deed and keys with a few remarks and he also accepted the insurance papers which were presented by Elmer Standley, representing the trustees.

James B. Dow then made a few informal remarks, telling about the originl of the class, how its real start was made about the time of the founding of the Neighbors' library in 1882, of the great interest Mrs. Whitman always had in the class, and of her desire that it should do such work as this, and he brought the recollections of those present down to this special work and the organization of the class in 1895. In the movement Mrs. Whitman was the principal figure. He expressed the hope that the class would be perpetuated and that some other suitable work be started, urging the younger people to take up the work where the older ones had left off.

After singing by the gathering there was a social hour, ice cream, cake, etc., being served. This part of the exercises was in the chapel.

The exercises were largely attended and will long be remembered by the members of the church and all who were interested in the work done by the class.

Francis Dunn.

Francis Dunn died at his home, 95 Hull street, last Monday morning at the age of 65 years, Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Baptist church, Rev. C. S. Pond officiating, assisted by Rev. E. Hersey Brewster.

Mr. Dunn was born in the house where he has always lived and where he passed away. He was well known throughout this section, where he has sold the produce from his farm for a number of years. He leaves a widow and one son, also a brother, Levi A. Dunn of Manchester.

A number of grandchildren, the children of his late daughter, reside in Haverhill.

BEVERLY FARMS

The Beverly Farms Firemen's Home Benefit association held their annual election of officers Wednesday evening. The following will serve for the coming year: E. R. Hodgkins, president; Reuben Grush, vice pres.; Wm. R. Brooks, secy.; Lewis Williams, fin. secy.; Elmer Standley, treas.; E. R. Hodgkins, W. R. Brooks, R. Grush, James E. Cole and Alfred Williams, executive committee.

Next Monday evening, Jan. 13, at the Beverly Farms church chapel the Lyceum Course presents the University Male Quartet of Boston, assisted by a talented reader. This will be the second appearance of this quartet at the Farms and those who were fortunate enough to hear them are loud in praise of their excellent work. As the price of admission is only 25 cents one should not miss this opportunity of attending this entertainment.

Mrs. William R. Brooks is substituting as teacher in Grade IV at the Farms school.

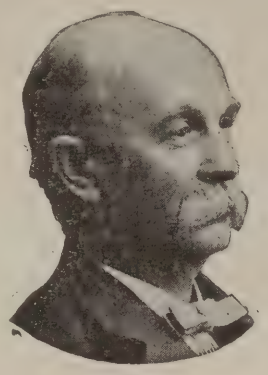

Jeremiah Linehan entertained the members of the fire department Thursday evening with a graphophone concert at the West street engine house.

The young people of the place are looking forward to next Tuesday evening, Jan. 14, when the C. and C. Club will give their second social and dance in Marshall's hall. Long's orchestra will furnish the music.

Miss Marion Dickey, book-keeper at James B. Dow & Co.'s coal office, has been housed a part of the past week, with the fashionable ailment, la grippe.

Miss Marguerite Mitchell of Pawtucket, R. I., arrived today for a visit with Postmaster and Mrs. Elmer Standley.

An official of the Park Commission visited the skating pond Thursday afternoon and calling the boys together gave them quite a talking to, warning against smoking there, thus endangering the surrounding property. Of course there happened not to be present any of the boys who smoked(?); but nevertheless it is hoped some good will come from it.

Mr. and Mrs. David Copeland of Danville, Vt., have spent the past week visiting relatives at the Farms.

After bearing with a trouble of some long standing Joseph F. Fogg decided to take steps for a permanent cure and Tuesday he went to the Beverly hospitul where a successful operation was performed. Mr. Fogg is now getting along very nicely and is quite comfortable.

One walking along West Beach since the storm of last Tuesday evening would be led to think that some fruit steamer had thrown overboard a part of its cargo for the shore was completely littered with fruit of all kinds, which, other than being damaged by water, seemed to be in good condition.

John J. McNeil left the first of this week for Bar Harbor, Me., where he will spend a part of the next month with his aunt.

Beginning Jan. 1 the new rate of payment, $2.25 a day, for street department employees went into effect.

Oliver Wendell Holmes council, K. of C., had their installation last Wednesday evening, the work being performed by Dist. Depy. Lawrence W. Ford. A collation was afterward served and an hour spent socially. A number of out-of-town visitors were present.

The whist party held Monday evening under the auspices of Preston Post and Associates was a successful affair, both socially and financially. The first ladies' prize, a jewel case, was won by Mrs. Howard E. Morgan. Mrs. A. M. Marshall won second prize, a small jewel case. The ladies' booby prize went to Mrs. Elmer Standley. Harry Howell won the first gents' prize, a pipe holder; C. L. Day, second, a tobacco jar; and Willis Marshall, booby.

Howard A. Doane was drawn a traverse juror for the superior court, to be held at Lawrence, Jan. 20, at the initial meeting of the aldermen Monday.

Assessor Theodore A. Holmes was reelected to the board of assessors by the new board of aldermen, Monday, his nomination being placed by Alderman Hodgkins.

There is talk among the local pool players of starting a tournament at the pool room shortly.

Mayor Dow Wants to Further Reduce Tax Rate.

Mayor S. Harvey Dow was inaugurated Mayor of Beverly for his second term Monday. Following are the salient points of his inaugural address:

Declares in favor of economical government with a view of a further reduction in tax rate.

Says Beverly can have a $12 rate and recommends working toward a $10 rate.

Recommends the extension of the present sewer system.

Says that steps should be taken to secure the remaining shore lands for park purposes.

Says it is the duty of all department officers to understand perfectly that they should confine their efforts to making the money assigned to them go as far as possible, whether the amount assigned is as large as they asked for or not.

Recommends that efforts be made for the establishment of a District Court in Beverly.

Believes the time is ripe to take steps toward securing a site for Public Library.

Asks co-operation of the city council in efforts to keep down the expense account and the tax rate.

Rev.. E. W. Snow, pastor of the Washington St. Congregational church, Beverly, preached his farewell sermon last Sunday. He will assume his duties as pastor at Winsted, Ct., next week.

Vol. VI. No. 3 MANCHESTER, MASS., SATURDAY, JANUARY 18, 1908. 24 Pages Three Cents.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING

Manchester Selectmen will be Elected Annually and not for a term of Three Years. Important Question was decided Monday Evening.

The Board of Selectmen in Manchester will continue to be elected annually instead of for a term of three years.

This was decided at a special meeting called for last Monday evening, the purpose of which was to see if the selectmen should be elected at the coming March meeting, one for a term of three years, one for a term of two years and one for a term of one year, and thereafter one annually for a term of three years.

This is the manner in which the Board of Assessors is to be elected in the future, in accordance with the new law. But the selectmen will be chosen as they have been for the past seventy years or more,—annually. While the two boards are separate, this does not mean, however, that the same members could not be elected to both boards.

The meeting was called to order at 7.40 by Town Clerk A. S. Jewett, who read the warrant. Raymond C. Allen was elected moderator.

Art. 2. "To see if the town will accept the provisions of Sec. 339, Chapter 11, R. L. of Mass., whereby the Selectmen and Overseers of the Poor shall be elected as follows: If the number fixed by the town is three, it shall at the annual meeting, elect one for the term of one year, one for the term of two years and one for the term of three years, and at each annual meeting thereafter, shall elect one for the term of three years."

THE CHURCH AND THE WORKING MAN

Subject of Talk by Henry Abrahams, Corresponding Secretary of Boston Central Labor Union, at Magnolia, Last Sunday Evening.

Henry Abrahams, corresponding secretary of the Boston Central Labor union, spoke at the Village church, Magnolia, last Sunday evening on "The Church and the Working Man," it being one of a series of talks being arranged by the pastor, Rev. F. J. Libby, in what he terms the "People's Forum."

Mr. Abrahams spoke for almost an hour on the trade unions and the work they are accomplishing for the working man, and he expressed the hope that some day we would see a five-hour day, five work days a week and five dollars a day. In the audience was a number of union workmen, members of the carpenters' local, which had been invited to attend in a body. Mr. Abrahams said in part:

"If I understand the church right, it is working for a higher, a better, a grander ideal; so is the trade union. First we were slaves, then serfs and now citizens. Had any one told those ancient Greeks that their descendants would be the rulers of eighteen millions of people, that those slaves would become serfs and then citizens, that they would be at the head of a great government, they would not have believed it. Nevertheless it has come true. We are citizens.

"The trade unions want something more. We want a shorter work day. We want an eight-hour day. Personally I want a five-hour day. I believe the day is coming when five hours will constitute a day's work, five dollars be the minimum wage and five days a week. Not tomorrow, not the next day, but I believe it is coming. I believe in a shorter work day because I want the men to enjoy better health, they will have a sufficient number of hours to work. I believe in a shorter work day because I want men to see their wives

OFFICERS INSTALLED.

Chiefs of Conomo Tribe of Red Men Raised to Stumps. Smoke the Pipe of Peace.

The raising of the chiefs of Conomo tribe, 113, I. O. R. M., Manchester, to their respective stumps, Wednesday evening, proved a red letter event in the history of the order.

Besides the installation there was a feast of corn and venison to interest the braves, and a concert was given after the supper, the evening closing by the chieftains gathering around the council fire and smoking the pipe of peace.

Past Great Sachem of Massachusetts, Preston W. Friend of Gloucester, was among those present. Ex-Mayor Geo. E. MacDonald of Gloucester, was also present and both enlivened the occasion by remarks.

Following is the role of chiefs:

Levi Harvie	sachem
Frederick Dougherty	senior sagamore
Henry A. Moulton	junior sagamore
Edward F. Preston	keeper of records
Leonard Andrews	keeper of wampum

Epilepsy, Fits

Every part of the body has its nerves. It's the channel through which energy—nerve force is transmitted. If too much nerve force goes to a part, it is irritated, causing pain, congestion, spasms, fits, epilepsy, etc. If not enough it is enfeebled, and if none at all paralysis results. Dr. Miles' Nervine soothes the nerves, assists the nerve cells to generate nerve force, and in this way restores nervous energy.

"My eighteen-year-old daughter had fits for five years, as often as two and three a week. She began to take Dr. Miles' Nervine, and she has not had an attack for two months."

MANCHESTER

The Republican Town committee will meet Monday evening for organization.

Charles O. Howe has announced his candidacy for re-election to the Park Commissioners, three years.

J. A. Lodge, the BREEZE editor, was recently elected a member of the Massachusetts Press Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Aveney have returned to Manchester this week and are living at the Stone Mill, Elm street. Mr. and Mrs. Aveney moved to Randolph last spring to live with their son, Henry.

The January meeting of the Wednesday evening club will be held in the Chapel next week on Wednesday evening. The Astrel'a trio—violin, flute and harp, and Mr. Clark, a monologist, will be the attractions.

The Second Degree will be exemplified at the meeting of Magnolia lodge, I. O. O. F., next Thursday evening. It is expected that delegations will be present from Essex lodge, Salem, and Ocean lodge, Gloucester.

The Kindergarten children visited the blacksmith shop of Horace Standley, Wednesday, under the direction of their teacher, Miss Babcock, and the little tots manifested much interest in what they saw, too.

Manchester is to use the "water wagon" quite generously the coming year from appearances. The noon freight yesterday brought back four that had been sent to Boston for painting, relettering, and general fixing up.

Miss Kauffman and a number of pupils at the High school are in Boston this afternoon attending a lecture by a Harvard professor at Roger's hall, M. I. T., on The Storming of the Bastille. Miss Kauffman has attended the other two lectures on the subject,—on Tuesday and Thursday of the past week.

B. L. Allen has an interesting window display this week in the form of his prescription books and original prescriptions from the day the store was started in 1856 to the present time,—some 95,510 in all. The first prescription was written by the late Dr. G. A. Priest and was filled by the late Andrew Lee almost 52 years ago. The cost was 10 cents.

Grade III in the Primary school seems to be an unlucky one for teachers as far as health is concerned. Miss Henry, the regular teacher, had to give up her work temporarilly a week or two ago and Mrs. F. G. Cheever, who was substituting for her had to give up her work yesterday week, because of an attack of grip, and now Miss Breen of Charlestown is substituting in this grade.

Supt. Kimball is confined to the house with a bad cold, which, it is hoped, will not develop seriously.

Born, Wednesday, Jan. 15, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Furniss (Miss Amelia Gates), Forest st.

The Overseers of the Poor paid their annual visit to the Almshouse Thursday, making the usual inventory prior to the close of the financial year of the town. Matron Mrs. Page served dinner to the board.

A grand musicale is announced as the next attraction in the series being given under the direction of William W. Hoare and Frank G. Cheever. The Leon Van Vliet concert company will be the attraction and Friday evening, Jan. 31, the date. The company is composed of Mr. Van Vliet, 'celloist, Bertha Wells Cohoon, reader, Alice F. Madison, pianist, and Flavel R. Jordan, jr., baritone. Mr. Jordan was the soloist in the last concert. Tickets are now on sale at Cheever's store and are at the same price as before,—35 cents for reserved seats, 25 cents admission.

A party of local Pilgrims went to Beverly Frams last evening to attend an initiation at John West colony. They made the trip in P. H. Boyle's barge.

Mrs. Elizabeth Young is very low at her home on Washington street and this morning she was not expected to live through the day. Mrs. Young was 93 years old last May.

Mrs. Charles Hunkins of Merrimac has been spending the week with her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Bell. Mr. Hunkins arrived yesterday for a brief visit, also.

"Cheerfulness" was the subject of the lecture in the lecture course at Gloucester which the teachers and many others from here attended yesterday afternoon.

The Manchester club began rehearsals for their minstrel show last evening at the club rooms. H. B. Hinchliffe is the director. The show will be given sometime the latter part of February.

Wednesday evening, Feb. 26, has been decided upon as the date of the cantata, based upon Longfellow's "The Building of the Ship," to be given in the Town hall by the Story High school pupils.

Benjamin Crombie met with a serious accident yesterday while at work. The tongue of cart he was unloading caught him under the chin, tore the flesh so that several stitches had to be taken. It also paralized the organs of his neck so that he could speak only with difficulty last evening.

A new office has recently been created by the State Board of Charity,—that of Almshouse visitor. The purpose is to have some person in each city and town interested in the inmates of the town and city almshouses, who will make regular visits to those places and who will make a semi-annual report on the conditions and care of inmates. On recommendation of the local Overseers of the Poor Mrs. Grace Porter, daughter of the late William Haskell, former keeper of the almshouse, has been appointed visitor for the local almshouse.

The reception and ball given in the Town hall last evening, marking the close of the dancing course given by Mrs. T. W. Long, was a very pretty affair, and was largely attended. The junior class held the floor from 7 to 8.30, and the older ones after 8.30. Mrs. Long was presented with a beautiful bouquet of pink roses during the evening by the senior class. The matronesses were Mrs. F. J. Merrill, Mrs. D. T. Beaton, Mrs. A. W. Mead, Mrs. G. S. Sinnicks and Mrs. G. W. Blaisdell. Miss Ruth Blaisdell was at the piano while the younger children danced.

Chief of Police Peabody has received the appointment as agent for the Mass. Society Prevention of Cruellty to Animals for the Town of Manchester. He received his certificate of appointment from the society this morning.

Following is the percentage of attendance at the G. A. Priest and Primary schools for week just ending: Grade I, 88.66; I and II, 97.80; II, 93.40; III, 96.57; IV, 87.98; Advanced IV, 91.48; V, 92.99; VI, 88.11; VII, 94.86; VIII, 95.23; IX, 90.81.

Plans are now well perfected for the annual banquet of the North Shore Horticultural society. The event is to take place in the Town hall on Wednesday evening, Jan. 29. The banquet will be at 6.30, and will be followed by an entertainment, which will be of somewhat informal nature. There will be remarks by members of the society and various guests, and singing by the gathering, led by F. K. Swett. A dance will bring the evening to a close. The tickets are going fast and it would be well for members to attend to the purchase of tickets the coming week as the balance of the 200 will be sold to the public a day or two before the banquet.

Hooper—Jewett.

Alfred Cheever Hooper of this town and Harrie Tent Jewett were united in marriage at the parsonage at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening by the Rev. L. H. Ruge, pastor of the Congregational church. The wedding was a very quiet affair. Mr. and Mrs. Hooper are keeping house at cottage No. 6, Windemere park, Manchester.

In accordance with their usual custom at this time of year, Ford & Wass, the well known Gloucester shoe firm, are running a big cash sale for the coming week only. We would advise an early call at the store in Post office square, Gloucester.

At the store of Day & Hoyt Co., the Salem clothing dealers, is now being shown a fine list of money saving values, in the men's and young men's clothing, as well as in all branches of the gent's furnishing line. They have an interesting adv. in today's BREEZE.

State Highway Law.

Representative Todd of Rowley presented to the legislature on Wednesday the petition of Col. William D. Sohier of Beverly to amend the present state highway law to allow the state commission to make repairs for state highways and to receive from the town in which the highway is located the amount expended, provided it does not exceed $50 a mile in any one year.

Sad Death of North Shore Society Matron.

The news of the sad death of Mrs. Herbert M. Sears in New York yesterday morning, caused by her jumping from the 13th story of the St. Regis hotel, came as a severe shock to her many friends, especially summer residents of the North Shore, where Mrs. Sears has always taken an active part in the season's activities.

Mrs. Sears had been at the hotel a week, having gone to New York from her home in Boston, for medical treatment. Her nervous disorder had previously taken the form of melancholia, and it is thought that while in a fit of temporary aberation, she decided to make the fatal leap.

Mrs. Sears was a daughter of Francis Bartlett, also a summer cottager at Pride's Crossing. The Sears' estate is at Mingo Beach, and was formerly the Martin Bremer place. This winter extensive alterations and additions are being made to the house and the grounds are being beautified. Mrs. Sears has always held a prominent position in all society functions on the North Shore, and she has entertained extensively. Last year the family was abroad until the late summer.

Mrs. Sears leaves, besides a husband, two daughters, Lillian about sixteen, and Phyllis, about fourteen years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Florence of Newton are to have the Baptist parsonage the coming summer months, leasing it from February 1. They will occupy it about April 1. Mr. Florence is electrician at the R. C. Hooper estate.

Miss Ada V. Hall, who is to be married in Wakefield on Feb. 1 to H. C. Pratt of Reading, and who will sail for the Philippines shortly after, is one of the Beverly Farms teachers boarding at Mrs. J. W. Campbell's. Mr. Pratt is a draughtsman in the government service.

Joseph Perry of Essex was before the court in Gloucester Friday of last week on complaint of State agent Clark for cruelty to animals in failing to provide proper food and shelter for a horse and several swine. Chief Peabody of this town accompanied the state officer on his visit.

A joint meeting of the Knights of Columbus councils of Manchester, Beverly Farms and Beverly was held with the latter at Beverly last Sunday, when the first degree was worked on a large class, seven of which are members of the local council. The second degree will be exemplified at Beverly tomorrow and the third next Wednesday, Jan. 22.

An event of interest to many, inadvertently omitted from last week's issue, was the installation of officers of Liberty Rebekah lodge, 79, D. of R., on Friday evening. D. D. G. M. Mrs. Florence Lent and suite of Marblehead performed the work in a most creditable manner, the officers installed being: Mrs. F. P. Knight, noble grand; Miss Alice J. Haraden, vice grand; Mrs. A. E. Hersey, rec. secy; Miss Clara H. Sargent, fin. secy.; Mrs. Emma E. Stanley, treasurer; Miss Ethel McDiarmid, conductor; Mrs. Hollis L. Roberts, warden; Mrs. J. W. Lee, inside guardian; George P. Dr. and Mrs. Charles Thorndike Parker, who have spent the fall and winter at their Wenham estate, "Cote Shabie," left last week for Bermuda, where they will spend the balance of the winter.

Mrs. Francis R. Spaulding, who is spending the winter, with her family at West Manchester, is receiving the sympathy of her friends over the death of her father, G. F. Evans, vice president and general manager of the Maine Central railroad, who died yesterday week in Vanceboro, Me.

One of the Boston Sunday papers referred to T. Jefferson Coolidge, one of Manchester's best known citizens, as the "Cotton King of Northern New England," and said Mr. Coolidge is the latest formidable acquisition to the Wm. H. Taft forces in New England. He is quoted as saying: "I am a Taft man in every respect, and what little influence I have will be directed in favor of the nomination of Secretary Taft for President."

Mrs. Gordon Prince's friends are sympathizing deeply with her for the long strain of anxiety she has had over the condition of her son, Gordon Prince. He did not rally from the operation for appendicitis as was hoped, but has had several serious drawbacks. He is still confined to a wheel chair, but is very brave and plucky through it all. Mr. Prince was operated upon before Mrs. Prince left Beverly Farms for her town home in the late fall.

The officers of the Safe Roads association for the ensuing year are: Wm. D. Sohier, president; Geo. McC. Sargent, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Sohier is also a member of the executive committee. Among the directors are the following: Geo. E. Cabot, Philip Dexter, William Endicott, jr., Henry L. Higginson, Amory A. Lawrence, M. B. Mason, Francis Peobody, jr., H. E. Russell, R. M. Saltonstall, C. D. Sias, W. D. Sohier and Wm. A. Tucker.

Business Men's Association.

The Beverly Business Men's Association held its annual meeting Monday evening at the Board of Trade rooms, Beverly, when the following officers were elected: Austin Whitcomb, president; Albert Vittum and John H. Girdler, vice presidents; Roland P. Woodbury, treas.; Benj. A. Patch, secy. James B Dow of the Farms, and F. K. Hooper of Manchester were elected on the board of directors. The association is made up of business men of Beverly, Beverly Farms and Manchester, the prime object of which is to protect members from various kinds of program and circular advertising.

Mrs. C. E. Bullard of Peterboro, N. H., has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Lodge, Church street, the past week. Mr. Bullard was here also for a few days.

Two candidates were initiated into Wm. Jeffrey colony, Pilgrim Fathers, Monday evening, on which occasion delegations were present from the colonies in Beverly Farms and Lynn, and Supreme Governor Edwin O. Foster of Salem was present. A supper was served after the exemplification, and a general social hour was enjoyed.

The officers of Local 797, Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers, for the term ensuing are: Lewis Andrews, president; Granville Crombie, vice pres.; C. W. Sawyer, rec. secy.; Wm. C. Blair, fin. secy.; James R. Hamilton, treas.; James A. Murray, conductor; George Steward, warden; Chas. O. Howe, trustee 18 months. The officers were installed by past president Chas. W. Fritz.

The newly installed officers of Masconomo council, 220, K. of C., are: James Kinsella, grand knight; J. J. Gorman, dep. grand knight; Cornelius Kelliher, rec. secy.; Patrick Mulvey, fin. secy.; Austin Morley, treasurer; Patrick Rudden, warden; Charles Francis, advocate; John Coughlin, lecturer; P. J. Cleary, inside guard; James Washbrook, outside guard; Patrick H. Boyle, Daniel Sheehan and Louis White, trustees.

A pleasant gathering of young people was held last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Baker, Brook street, when a surprise party was given Mrs. Baker's brother, Alex. Ray, in honor of his birthday. Mr. Ray was requested to enter the parlor where a friend was supposed to be in waiting, but to his surprise as he entered he found himself surrounded by many friends. Although taken by complete surprise, Mr. Ray soon composed himself and made a most congenial host. Games were played and music was enjoyed, after which a collation was served.

Joseph Blatchford of Salem who died suddenly Sunday as he was telephoning to Undertaker F. E. Smith of the death of his wife, was known in Manchester, especially to the older residents, having been employed in the tan yard of the late John Knight. Mr. Blatchford served during the civil war in the navy. He was a native of Gloucester, where a brother survives him. Another brother lives in Rockport. Mr. Blatchford was a currier by trade, and was prominently connected with the Salvation Army. Through the efforts of the late Capt. Charles Fitz he was appointed on the Gloucester police force. He was 68 years of age.

Mrs. Mary E. Hill had a fall in her room Wednesday morning and received several bruises, though no bones were broken. Mrs. Hill is the oldest person in town, lacking about two months of being 94 years of age.

Arthur Jackson, the young son of W. B. Jackson, caretaker at the Charles Head estate, had a close call last Saturday morning, as the result of the actions of a spirited horse. The young lad, who had never driven the horse before, had taken the reins to drive up the hill from the main highway to the Head stable, when the horse, undoubtedly wondering why his usual driver, Mr. Jackson, was not behind him, started a run on his own accord, landing among the boulders near the stable and overturning the light wagon to which he was hitched. He cleared the shafts and demolished the front part of the wagon. Young Jackson had presence of mind enough to jump before the wagon was overturned, thus saving himself injury.

Mr. and Mrs M. J. Callahan left Manchester Wednesday afternoon, and sailed from New York, Thursday, Jan. 16, on the Cunarder "Carmania," for the Mediterranean, to visit the Holy Land, Egypt and southern Europe, returning about the middle of April. The Manchester House will be closed during their absence. Mr. and Mrs. Callahan are going on one of the McGrane tours, one of which they took last year, going to Europe, England and Ireland. The first stop is at Madeira, then Gibraltar, Spain, Genoa, Alexandria, Cairo, the Pyramids, the Nile, Suez Canal, Port Said, Jaffa, Jerusalem and other parts of the Holy Land, whence they come on their return, back to Naples and Rome. This part of the trip will occupy about 65 days, and part of the party leave here. Mr. and Mrs. Callahan, however, are taking the full trip, 93 days, and will go from Rome to Florence, thence through the Alps to Paris, returning by way of London and Liverpool.

The above statement was made last Sunday by Rev. Fr. Powers and it will, no doubt, be of interest to the general public, as many have contributed to the building of the new church, one of the most handsome edifices on the North Shore.

It is believed that the church will be completed, with the exception of permanent altars and furniture, in the beginning of the coming May. The old altar will again be moved to the new church to remain there until the completion of the new main altar, which will cost about $1500, and which will be constructed of plaster and concrete. If this year's house-to-house collection is successful, the building of the altar will be begun in September.

One of the first exercises in the new church will be a mission by the Redemptionist Fathers.

A series of whist parties, for the benefit of the church, began last Tuesday night in Carpenters' hall. They will be held every night until Lent.

Next Sunday at both Masses the pastor will read and explain the new marriage laws of the church, which are to become effective Easter Sunday of this year.

THE hotels

ON the North Shore

ARE not opening next week.

THE report that summer has arrived is false.

ON the other hand the Old Farmers' Almanac advises us to "about this time expect snow or rain, then cold Northerly winds"

BEVERLY has the lowest tax rate of any city in the state, according to the annual report of Secretary Olin. It is the only city in the state having a rate under $15,—the rate being $14.40. The highest rate in the state is at Charlemont, $26, and the lowest at Gosnold, $3.61.

THE mild weather will have a telling effect on Manchester roads, says Supt. Kimball. The would-be economist speaks congratulatory of the fact that the town has not had to spend any money this winter, thus far, on shovelling snow. Supt. Kimball says, however, that the absence of snow will cost the town much more in the way of repairs on the streets than shovelling snow would have cost under the worst conditions. Nothing deteriorates the road as quickty as freezing and thawing, day after day.

TOWN meeting talk will be rife in Manchester from now until the first of March. Candidates for the various offices are beginning to appear, though few have yet come out openly. Names are being mentioned for the Board of Assessors, and others are being named for the Board of Selectmen There seems to be a general feeling, too, that at least one of the members of the present Board of Selectmen should be put on both boards, and not a few seem willing that the present board should be returned as selectmen, and also on the Board of Assessors.

SEVERAL weeks ago we commented editorially on the feasibility of imposing some sort of tax on automobiles, the same to be graded according to the size and cost of the car. Last week at the annual meeting of the Safe Roads association, composed for the most part of North Shore people, this was one of the new measures proposed. It is suggested that the license tax of the car be graded according to the size and cost of the car, this tax to be imposed primarily on account of the damage the car causes to the highway, and as the amount of damage done is in proportion to the size of the car.

EDITOR John E. Beck of the Chelsea Gazette will now divide his attention and time between the editorial chair in the Gazette sanctum and the mayor's chair at the Chelsea City hall, while it is not at all unlikely that Mayor Thomas F. Porter of Lynn will wholly discontinue furnishing the press with the products of his versatile pen. And thus do the eastern Massachusetts newspaper men and writers, one by one, not forgetting ex-Editor Stephen O'Meara of the Boston Police commission, Editor John N. Cole, who by the way will probably be our next Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, Editor Vittum of Beverly, Senator Leavitt of the Dorchester Beacon, and many other young journalists we could name, find themselves "fitting in" important positions in the service of the town, the municipality, the state and the nation. In this respect the editorial profession in Massachusetts is, as it is in France, becoming a factor for good government that the legal fraternity may well watch for pointers.

IT is a fact worthy of note that in the total of 247,128 feet of road built in Essex County by the State Highway Commission in previous years, and of the 19,004 feet built last year, as shown by the statement just sent to the county commissioners, Manchester has not received one foot of road from the state. On the other hand every other city and town in the county has been benefited. The total amount spent on these roads in previous years in building and in repairs since, is $625,492.04. Last year $61,931.01 was spent for building, and $8,210.59 for repairs. On all sides of us the state has done considerable in road building. Beverly has been benefited in previous years to the extent of $33,787.29, Hamilton $10,506.39, Wenham $13,067.24, Essex $9,054.76, and Gloucester $41,808.92. For repairs Beverly has received $9228.65, Hamilton $1561.69, Wenham $1227.35, Essex $310.94, and Gloucester $5,-477.01. Manchester, meanwhile, gets the go-by! And yet, Manchester contributes more toward the running expenses of the state and county than any other town of its size in the state.

Advertising Suggestions

Many merchants consider the price they pay for advertising an expense like the sign over their door; but when they make their advertising space talk business by interesting the people in the stock they carry, then the price they pay for their advertising becomes an investment, and by doubling the space they double the investment.

Insurance Suggestions.

The John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co., Boston, Massachusetts. An old line, level premium company incorporated in 1862 under Massachusetts laws, life, endowment, term and forms.

Every prudent man protects his property by insurance from the remotely possible loss by fire. How much more is it his duty to guard his family against the loss entailed by the absolute certainty of his own death.

Nothing can take the place of life insurance. The man who says he prefers to save the money which life insurance costs, forgets that while he is saving, his wife and children are without protection in case of his death.

Let him insure his life, and he immediately arrives at the position to which, by any other plan, he can only look forward after years of labor and saving.

Don't wait to insure because you don't feel able to take out a policy for a large amount. Your "more convenient season" may never come. There may come a day when by reason of failing health you are no longer insurable. Death may forever rob you of your opportunity. Besides, every year of delay increases the cost and decreases your opportunity to get life insurance on the most advantageous terms.

Take out a policy now.

We offer you a contract that embodies all the advantages found in any life insurance policy that is written:—

A policy that affords positive protection; that constitutes a safe and profitable investment; that may be used as collateral; that becomes automatically nonforfeitable after three years premiums have been paid; on which the gnaranteed cash and paid-up values established by the law are plainly endorsed; that contains an extended insurance provision; that allows the holder 31 days' grace in payment of premiums without notice to Co.; that gives five options of settlement, including various forms of whole life and limited annuities; that pledges the company to loan on satisfactory assignment, upon the attained cash value; that is entitled to dividends of the surplus, annually; under which the policyholder assumes no liability beyond the voluntary payment of the premiums on his policy.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING

Mr. Jewett read the Revised Laws in regard to elections.

C. C. Dodge inquired if any provision was made whereby we might return to the present method in case it was voted tonight to elect the selectmen for three years.

Samuel Knight said he didn't think the town wanted to make a change in the manner of choosing selectmen at present. The selectmen had been elected this way for 70 years and he didn't see why we should change now.

M. E. Gorman moved that the board of selectmen be elected for a term of one year as heretofore. The moderator said the motion hardly carried the point.

A. S. Jewett then offered the following motion: "I move that the town accept the provision of Section 339, Chapter 11, R. L. of Mass., and that the Selectmen and Overseers of the Poor shall be the same persons; that they shall be elected one to serve for the term of one year, one for the term of two years and one for the term of three years, and that at each annual meeting thereafter one person shall be elected for the term of three years."

G. S. Sinnicks said he was not in favor of electing the selectmen for three years, though he was in favor of having the assessors for three years and the selectmen for one year as now. They may be the same men if necessary. He would like to have the mover of the motion show reasons for his motion.

Mr. Jewett said he had made the motion so as to bring the matter before the meeting. He then read the act relative to the election of assessors, and on which the article in the warrant was based.

W. C. Rust: "I don't see any good reason why we should choose selectmen for three years. As far as I can see it is best as it is now. We can keep control of our selectmen now; if they don't do what we want we can get rid of them."

Samuel Knight explained that Mr. Jewett had put the motion in that form because it was more in keeping with the wording of the article, than it would be to make the motion read negatively. He really intended that the motion should be killed, and all the voters had to do to choose the selectmen as now was to kill the motion.

F. A. Foster voiced the same sentiment,—kill the motion.

Austin Morley said he saw no reason why we should change. Elect the selectmen for one year as now. Take care of the assessors afterward.

The motion was put and lost by an overwhelming majority.

Art. 3—Any other business. Chairman Swett said the moth appropriation was expended and slightly overrun, but that the moth tax had been sent out, some $800 in all, and about $500 had come in. He thought it feasible to transfer this amount to the moth department so that the work might be carried on. He made a motion to that effect.

The Moderator said he felt it his duty to rule the motion out of order. Due notice had not been given the voters that such a matter was coming up and under such circumstances he felt it out of order to introduce a matter of this kind.

Mr. Swett explained that the amount appropriated for the use of the moth department, in accordance with the order from the state superintendent, had been spent. But some seven or eight hundred dollars of the amount had been spent on private estates, for which the owners of said estates were charged. In most other places this amount is credited back to the department.

S. Knight supported the moderator in ruling the motion out of order.

Mr. Swett said the selectmen were now placed in a peculiar position. They had already approved bills to the amount of about $200 expecting this money to be transferred. He asked for the expression of the meeting as to whether the moth work should be continued as outlined by the state board for the next month and a half.

A vote was taken and counted, 48 voting in favor and 21 against.

E. P. Stanley said the treasurer had in hand tonight $16,000. We have a $10,000 note to pay, and interest to the amount of $375. That leaves less than $6000 to pay the bills of the next month and a half. The water, highway and school departments would want money and he didn't see where it was coming from.

N. P. Meldrum would like to know why the selectmen can't call a special meeting and borrow enough money to carry the town through the rest of the year.

Mr. Swett said he hoped the people wouldn't think the town was in a hopeless condition, financially. He explained that some $15,000 in corporation taxes, wrongly credited to some other place, would be forthcoming soon, and the taxes had not come in as well as might be expected, due, no doubt, to the financial stringency. The town had plenty money but it was not available.

S. Knight said that he didn't understand this moth work, anyway. The state goes on one man's property and cleans it off and the next door neighbor has to clear his property himself. He didn't believe in doing things that way. He wouldn't transfer this money.

Mr. Swett then read the letter from Supt. Kirkland outlining the work for the coming year, and telling how much the town was expected to spend beginning Dec. 1, 1907.

The meeting adjourned at 8.18.

Geo. E. Vivian and D. G. G. of F. Samuel Tarr.

Following the "raising up" remarks were in order and a number of the visiting chiefs were called upon for "long talks." The brothers were then invited to the banquet hall where a feast of corn and venison was in waiting. A concert program arranged by Harry S. Tappan, consumed the balance of the evening. The program was as follows:

Baritone Solo, "Sweet Estelle"
JEROME CROWLEY
Reading, "Keenan's Charge at Chancellorsville"
P. H. BOYLE
Solo, "Big Chief Battle Axe"
H. S. TAPPAN
Solo, "Some Day When Dreams Come True"
MR. CROWLEY
Solo, "Masconomo"
H. S. TAPPAN

The selections by Mr. Crowley were well rendered, as were those also by Mr. Tappan and the reading by Mr. Boyle. Samuel Rowe was the accompanist. The selection "Masconomo," sang by Mr. Tappan was composed by Mr. Tappan and Lagory Wade, and has a decided Red Man jingle to it. The words of the piece follow:

Way back when Red Men owned this land,
One dark and stormy day,
There stood a great big Injun brave
Looking out o'er the bay.
His name was Masconomo.
He ruled the hunting ground,
He gave to them a big glad hand
When the Palefaces first came round.

CHORUS.

For Masconomo was a heap big chief,
Because they fed him on Buffalo beef;
He loved to scalp and he loved to kill,
When he did his war dance on Thunderbolt hill,
For Masconomo was a heap big chief.

One night they had a big war dance
Out side of his Teepee door,
They howled and made the tom-toms ring,
They danced 'till they were sore.
Out came old Masconomo;
He said "This dance must cease;
"You shall not use the tom-a-hawk
"But we'll hit up the pipe of peace."

CHORUS.

"The proposition to discontinue a portion of Magnolia avenue and build a new road up through the woods by the Homans Ice Pond in order to oblige the Boston & Maine railroad, meets with the deserved condemnation of the public at large." The Cape Ann News is wrong in the above. The "proposition to discontinue a portion of Magnolia avenue" is not to oblige B. & M., nor does it deserve condemnation. It deserves our approbation, on the other hand, for the only reason why such a change is proposed is to get rid of the dangerous grade crossing at this point. The place has always been dangerous, and many narrow escapes from accident have occurred there. Now that the double track is in the chance of accident increases accordingly. The railroad is to furnish $10,000 toward the expense of making an over head passage over the tracks.

The Magnolia Fire association held a meeting Thursday night. Officers were elected as follows: O. P. Story, president; Wm. Symonds, vice pres.; Frank Abbott, clerk and treasurer. Standing committee: John Phelan, Lafayette Hunt, O. P. Story, Daniel Chane and Edw. Ballou.

A large crowd of people attended the hose coupling contest held at City hall, Gloucester, Wednesday evening.

Mr. Roberts of Boston was the guest of Charles Brown on Tuesday.

A dance will be held at Magnolia hall next Wednesday.

Mrs. D. C. Ballou and daughter Elinor spent the first of the week with Mrs. Ballou's mother, Mrs. Manuel Silver, in Gloucester.

Mrs. Henry Brown spent Tuesday in Manchester, guest of her sister, Mrs. Nellie Smith.

Mrs. Daniel Chane and Miss Anna Chane spent Wednesday in Gloucester.

Mrs. William S. Douglas and Mrs. Clarence Wilkinson spent Thursday in Salem, visiting friends.

Rev. E. H. Brewster Preaches at Union Meeting.

The Week of Prayer union services in Manchester came to a close last Sunday evening with a service at the Congregational church. The sermon was by Rev. E. Hersey Brewster, pastor of the Baptist church, who preached on the text "God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3: 16)

"That verse is the gospel," said the preacher. "I would not attempt to tear it asunder, pick it to pieces, for it is the gospel. 'Whosoever believeth!' But we don't believe. There are two words in that verse that form the secret of the gospel,—'love' and 'belief': God's heart beating toward man.

"I sometimes feel that we are so familiar with the gospel that we hear it preached with comparative indifference; we do not hear it with wonderment."

Mr. Brewster pointed to the difference between intellectual conviction and belief; between faith and emotional interest. "The crowds were interested in Jesus and followed him from place to place; but the same crowd crucified him. If you want to fill a theatre put up a sign and say you are going to play "The Christian." That's emotional interest.

"True faith in Jesus must be preceded by true repentance. To believe is to receive, to obey, to surrender."

Winthrop Club Elects.

The annual business meeting of the Winthrop club, Manchester, was held Monday evening, when the following officers were elected: Fred Mosher, president; Ernest Douchene, vice pres.; James Sheehan, secy.; Arthur E. Olson, treasurer.

The Business Phonograph.

The stenographer of the future must be one who is not only nimble with her fingers, but who is accustomed to the phonograph. Dictation from a business man to his stenographer is getting to be a thing of the past with a great many business houses, and the business man talks to an ordinary phonograph, dictating his letters or whatever he has to say at his own leisure, and all the stenographer has to do is to fit the phonograph tubes to her ears when she comes to work, or returns from lunch, and take the dictation for letters, etc., from that. So much is this method being employed now that this sort of training is being introduced in the business colleges and commercial schools. The system has just been introduced in the Plymouth Business school in Gloucester.

THE CHURCH AND WORKING MAN

and families.

"I have no prejudice against a man because he is rich. I realize that all rich men are not bad and all poor men not angels. Human nature is alike. What is a fair day's pay for a fair day's work? I believe that every married man should live in a house containing a bath-room. I believe that his children should be well cared for. I believe he should have all the necessities of life. I believe he should have books upon the shelves, he should have pictures upon the wall. In order to have those thi. gs, he must have wages enough to buy those pictures and to have a home such as I speak of.

"I am a trade unionist because I know that the trade union has secured a higher wage and shorter work day, because it has secured better conditions for the work of laboring men. I find that the church at the present has not taken the active part that we believe that it should. The church has not advocated the shorter work day; neither would it oppose child labor.

"Why do we love the trade union?" The speaker answered the question by saying not merely because it gives a higher wage, but because of the benefits derived in time of sickness or death, or when out of work. The union comes to the aid of its members in dozens of ways. "I don't care what position in life a member finds himself in, the trade union is back of him and he knows it."

He gave instances of what the trade unions are doing in the way of shortening hours, and increasing wages, in bettering the sanitary conditions of shops and factories, and of the benefits to the community, as well as to the workers. He spoke also of the amendment to the constitution now being urged which says that no married women, widows or girls will be allowed to work.

"The good book tells us that long, long ago Cain said, 'Am I my brother's keeper?' Well, let us ask ourselves the question tonight. If we desire the welfare of the union at least we have got to be our brother's keeper. His welfare is ours. If we don't work for our brother's welfare, we will totter and all go down together. It has been said that the church was not interested in the welfare of the workman, that clergymen were so interested in dogma that they forgot they were upon this earth. I heartily think that is not true.

"I believe that the church is awakening to the necessity of doing something in order that we may in the near future appreciate the fact that the church has always preached the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. Men who do not believe in that should not be a member of the trade union. I believe the interest of the church and interest of the workmen are such that they must work together to build up the trade union. Eight hours a day, one day in seven, better wages, better homes and better fathers for their children."

Miss Winnie Williams, principal of the Farms school, was obliged to give up her work the first part of this week through illness. She will probably be absent about three weeks.

Upon the walls of the Chapel at the Baptist church may be seen the portraits of Deacon Joseph K. Preston and his wife, Mrs. Mary M. Preston. For many years Mr. Preston was a deacon and his wife was a charter member. The portraits were presented recently by their sons and daughters.

Preston Relief Corps are planning for a public installation to take place in Marshall's hall next Tuesday evening. The Post and Associates are among those invited. A special entertainment program is being arranged.

Murdock McDonald, of Hart street is convalescent after a severe attack of pneumonia and pleurisy. He has been confined to his home for a long time.

Real Estate

An important transfer of real estate took place at Beverly Farms the past week when Connolly Bros. purchased from Franklin Haven and heirs the land abutting the Boston & Maine freight yard on one side and Oak street on the other. This is the property upon which J. B. Dow & Co. are at present conducting their coal business. This land is about an acre in area, there being about 300 feet of frontage on Oak street, 100 feet on Depot square, and 250 feet along the railroad. There is now a spur track located upon the property for the unloading of material and there is an opportunity to construct another.

Look Out for this Man.

Postmasters along the North Shore have received the following letter from from Boston, and are asked to notify merchants of the contents of same:

"Money order blank forms No. 10,015 to 10,200 inclusive, with money order stamp was stolen today from station 34, Boston.

"The thief will fill these orders out and pass them on merchants. Please notify the principal merchants in your town to immediately hold and arrest anyone who presents any of these orders in payments for goods."

The young man is further described as being about 24 years old and of trim looking appearance.

THE BREEZE

is the leading paper of the North Shore. One of its strongest points is that its clientele is a purchasing class; therefore it's not so much the quantity of the circulation as the quality. It goes to the summer visitors in summer and follows them to their permanent residence in winter because it is wanted and paid for. That's why it's recognized as the best for advertising.

New York Pastor Preached at Manchester on Money,—Giving.

Rev. Arthur T. Brooks, pastor of Grace Baptist church, New York city, preached at the Baptist church, Manchester, last Sunday morning, taking for his text: "How is it that I hear of thee? give an account of thy stewardship; for thou mayest be no longer steward." (Luke 16: 2). His subject was "Christian Stewardship."

In his preliminary remarks, Rev. Mr. Brooks said that there was a time when ministers stood in the pulpit and asked for money; they felt like beggars. They were beggers no longer, however, but stewards,—stewards of God. "If your pastor is a steward to you, you should be to others."

"There is a great need of preaching along the line of Christian stewardship," he said, continuing, "for it says in the Bible for us to preach the gospel to every creature. Read the Patriarchs, the Kings, the Prophets, in fact, all the parables of Jesus, and you will find a great number of sermons all about money. They all revolve around money and giving, and so, if we are to hear those words: 'Well done good and faithful servant,' we are to be stewards,—Christian stewards.

"If we are to worship God we must give. Giving is worship, for it is abominable for a man who professes to be a Christian to come to church and worship God in prayer or song or speech and neglect to give a 'tenth' of his money. Money is life. If God gave his life for us why is it not right for us to give our life, our money, to Him?

"And again, great men leave legacies to churches, to institutions, and to schools, which is all right; yet how much good could have been done with that money had it not been stored away until the giver had passed beyond, but had it been used for the maintenance and uplift of some poor, needy soul who was hungering for Christ. Then, there is the great work upon the home and foreign mission fields; here there are great possibilities.

"At home if you give a tenth of your income or more, you could live and pay your debts on the day they are due, you could pay your pastor $1500 a year or more, you could give to the poor, you could extend the word of God to every creature and many souls could be saved.

"It puts us to shame when we see how little we are doing for the foreign mission work. Our work in this great field is small compared to other denominations. Oh! how much good could be done if we were to give what is rightfully God's! Remember that the night cometh when no man can work. As you start in the new year see to it that you are giving to God that which is his, so that the work of God may be carried on in this place and so that it may be extended throughout the kingdom of God to the fartherest parts of the earth."

Another Try For District Court.

Beverly is to make another try before the legislature this year for legislation to establish a district court for the city of Beverly and the towns of Wenham, Hamilton and Manchester.

This will make the third time the matter has been brought to the legislature and after a hard fight last year was referred to the next general court. The bill was taken from the files this week and was referred to the committee on judiciary.

In the fight for the bill last year Manchester was in favor of the plan, Wenham did not oppose it very strenuously, in Hamilton many of the residents were in favor of it, and one of the town officials opposed the bill.

A hearing will probably be granted by the committee at an early date.

Mrs. Rose Williams has returned from a week's visit among friends at Topsfield.

Miss Jennie Twitchell of Ipswich was renewing acquaintances here the first of the week, and was a guest of Miss Abbie Williams.

F. Leslie Woodbury, in charge of the provision department at D. W. Hardy & Son's, and Mrs. Peter Ward, are among the grip victims the past week.

Mrs. Etta C. Poland and two children of Greenfield arrived Tuesday and have been spending the balance of the week visiting Farms relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Hannable and children left last Tuesday for Kittery, Me., where they will remain for a while with Mrs. Hannable's parents.

Alexander Shaw, superintendent of "Rockmarge," the W. H. Moore estate at Pride's, left for New York city today, where he will spend the greater part of next week. Mr. Shaw while away will spend a portion of his time with his brother who has a similar position upon a large estate on Long Island.

There is to be an old time minstrel show by the "Bingville Minstrels" under the auspices of the Centerville Male Quartet in the new Centerville chapel next Wednesday evening, Jan. 22. The program contains many interesting features. James E. Shea, late of the Dockstader minstrels, will appear. The net proceeds will be devoted to the church benefit fund.

Mrs. Rose Sweeney after nine years of continuous service as treasurer of the local order of Foresters last Wednesday evening turned over the duties of the office to Miss Nellie Donovan. Mrs. Sweeney is an expert bookkeeper and many times, during the inspection of the office by the high officials of the order, she has been complimented for her excellency and faithfulness. Some six years ago she was presented with a gold watch by her fellow members and last Wednesday evening she was given a handsome bouquet as an added expession of appreciation.

WEDNESDAY EVENING CLUB

Interesting Program carried out the past week at the January Meeting.

The January meeting of the Wednesday Evening club, Manchester, was held in the Chapel the past week, on Wednesday evening, on which occasion an excellent musical treat was given by the Astrella Trio of Boston,—violin, flute and harp. Herbert A. Clark of Boston gave several readings both of a serious and comic nature.

As an opening selection the trio played "Boys in Blue," followed by selections from "Martha." Mr. Clark gave a reading, "The Volunteer Organist," which was well presented. This was followed by another selection by the trio, "Hearts and Flowers." Mr. Clark recited "The Old Mud Cabin," which depicted a scene during the eviction of the Scots. The trio rendered another selection, "Dreaming," followed by Schubert's "Serenade." Mr. Clark gave a specialty act in which he introduced a banjo and harmonica duet, in relating a few southern stories.

The concluding numbers by the trio were "Rusticana," "Somewhere," and "American Eagle March."

Mrs. Elizabeth Young Passes Away at Age of Almost 94.

Mrs. Elizabeth Young, the oldest resident of Manchester, but one, passed away at her home on Washington street, Manchester, last Saturday forenoon, at the age of 93 years, 8 months. Her death was caused by a general breaking up incidental to old age.

Mrs. Young was a native of Ireland, but she came to this country at the age of 40 and came direct to Manchester, where she has made her home since. She was twice married, her first husband being Isaac Baker, and her second William Young, both now dead. She was the mother of six children, but three of whom survive her, Mrs. Charles E. Lee and Mrs. Edmund Joseph of Beverly and William Young of Manchester. She leaves eighteen grand-children and six great-grand-children.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at Crowell Memoral chapel, Rev. E. Hersey Brewster officiating.

REUNION AND ROLL-CALL

Annual Supper of the Congregational Church, Manchester, held Thursday Night.

The annual supper, roll-call and social reunion of the Orthodox Congregational church, Manchester, was held in the Chapel Thursday evening and was attended by some 130 members and friends. One hundred and one responded to their names at the roll-call.

Letters were read from Rev. George L. Gleason of Topsfield, a former pastor of the church, and from Deacon and Mrs. Jos. A. Torrey. Prof. N. B. Sargent of Haverhill, a former teacher here, was among those present from out-of-town.

A turkey supper was served at 6.30 and this was followed at 7.45, after a brief social period, by the roll-call. The roll-call was preceeded by singing, "Bless be the Tie that Binds," by the gathering, and was interspersed by solos by Mrs. R. C. Allen, who sang "Dry Those Tears," by Mrs. F. G. Cheever, who sang A. C. Needham's "Dreaming of Long Ago," and by A. L. Saben, who sang "The Hills of God."

In response to his name William J. Johnson made a few remarks, saying that he had lived in Manchester the past 65 years and had seen the church in its glory. He lamented the fact that all his old friends were falling by the wayside one by one. Now Delucena L. Bingham and he are the oldest male persons in town.

Deacon F. A. P. Killam was one of those called upon for remarks. He related the Bible story of Pharoah and Joseph, how Pharoah, had he not lived to the age of 135, would not have seen his son Joseph in his old age. Like Pharoah he takes pleasure in his posterity. He had served the town for over 60 years and he hadn't yet arrived at the point where he was ready to be pushed off the stage. He had worked hard from early morn to late at night,—there was no eight-hour workday when he was an apprentice. He takes great pleasure in seeing his great-grandchildren and expressed the hope that there were more like him.

George F. Allen, for almost thirty years clerk of the church, made a few remarks also. He said an old man is nothing unless he is reminiscent. He recalled the first time the church had a reunion and roll-call, it being brought about some 23 years ago largely through the efforts of Deacon Daniel Leach. Mr. Allen said he hadn't missed one of these meetings yet.

Prof. N. B. Sargent said, when called upon, that he didn't feel like speaking but if the audience would indulge he would sing a light song, which he was inspired to write as the result of a self denying young colored woman he had in his school at Boxford some few years ago. It was entitled "There's no other Mother in the wide, wide world, got a little Pick-a-ninny like mine."

Oliver T. Roberts gave a humorous talk, finally drifting to reminiscences, in which he recalled some of the old pillars of the church in his memory.

The supper was furnished this year by the committee, instead of a caterer, though the food was prepared for the most part at B. S. Bullock's. The expenses were met by subscription. An efficient committee of which Deacon E. A. Lane was chairman, had charge of the affair. The other members of the committee were: Mrs. Lane, Miss H. P. Allen, Mrs. Susan B. Knight, Miss Amy B. Haskell, Miss Beth Jewett, R. L. Cheever and John Wiles.

The following young people helped in serving: Misses Alice Knight, Fannie

Pain and Misery

Is simply nerve disturbance. Derangements in any part of the body irritate the nerves centered there. The greater the disturbance the more severe the pain. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills stop pain and misery because they relieve this irritation. Many women find great relief from periodical suffering by taking Anti-Pain Pills on first indication of distress or pain.

"Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are the best headache remedy on earth. Mother and I have used this remedy for the past seven years."

Miss Mary Stanley is quite seriously ill at her home on Summer street.

The young folk have been enjoying the skating on the channel the past week.

Mrs. T. W. Long is giving another short course of six lessons in dancing beginning next Monday evening.

Miss Ethel Stanley has returned from a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Roderick Macdonald in Chelsea.

The "no school" whistle sounded at 8 yesterday morning owing to the severe snow storm,—the first of any importance this winter.

Mrs. Frank P. Knight left Monday for Attica, N. Y., where she went to join Mr. Knight for a fortnight's visit. Mr. Knight is much improved in health since leaving Manchester.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Mead entertained the girls' club of Grade IX, at their home on Ashland avenue, Monday evening. Mrs. Ketchum, the sewing teacher, was present also and sewed with the girls during the first part of the evening, in preparation for the sale to be held later, and as a surprise to the young misses the boys were invited in, and the balance of the evening was spent in playing games and singing school songs. Refreshments were served.

Tickets are selling well for the musicale to be given in the Town hall next Friday evening, Jan. 31,—the third concert under the direction of Wm. W. Hoare and F. G. Cheever. The Leon Van Vliet Concert company, which is to furnish the entertainment, is one of the finest combinations of the kind in the state. Mr. Van Vliet is a 'cellist of well known standing in Boston musical circles. Mr. Jordan the baritone has been heard in Manchester before. Miss Madison, pianist, and Miss Cohoon, reader, are artists in their line. Tickets may be procured at Cheever's Drug store.

The officers of Seaside lodge, 33, Degree of Honor were installed Wednesday evening by Deputy Amanda Wilkins and suite of Naumkeag lodge, Salem. The staff included twenty members and the work was performed excellently. A large number of guests were present on invitation of the members. The officers installed were: Mrs. Ida F. Mason, past chief of honor; Mrs. Sarah A. Loomis, chief of honor; Miss Emma Perry, lady of honor; Miss Charlotte E. Mason, chief of ceremonies; Mrs. Virginia Perry, usher; Mrs. Mamie Parsons, recorder; C. T. Loomis, financier; Mrs. Nettie Silva, treasurer; Miss Alice Silva, inside watch; John F. Silva, outside watch. Speechmaking was indulged in after the business of the evening and a bounteous collation was served.

Miss Fannie Golthwaite returned from Indianapolis Wednesday.

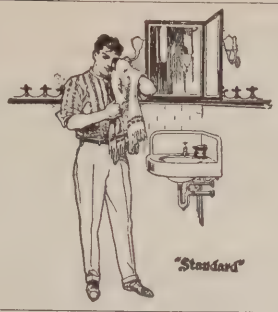

Charles and Priscilla Fritz spent Sunday at Milton guests of Miss Fannie Walsh.

Miss Annie Shaw of Lynn and Miss Mary Shiel of Dorchester spent the week-end, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Harvie.

Mrs. Clement Harris returns to Brooklyn, N. Y., tomorrow after a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ezekiel Lethbridge, Summer street.

The special committee on water supply have petitioned the legislature for the privilege of taking water from Round Pond, which is located near Gravel Pond. It will probably be brought out in the report of the committee that Gravel Pond will not prove an adequate source for increased water supply and that Round Pond might be a still further source in years to come. A hearing on the matter will be given before the legislative committee on rules at the State House next Thursday forenoon.

Miss Graves, the Embroidery Teacher, will be with us Wednesday

MANCHESTER

Mrs. Fred Sanborn of Dorchester was a guest the first of the week of Mrs. J. A. Lodge, Church st.

Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Glendenning entertained the Haphazard club Monday evening at their home on Church street.

Mrs. Aaron B. Palmer and daughter, Myra, of Somerville, were guests over Sunday of Mrs. Anna Woodbury, Bridge street. Mr. Palmer was a former teacher here

Mrs. A. E. Parsons and son, Master Philip Parsons, sailed Monday on the "Ivernia," from Boston, for a few weeks' visit with her relatives in London. Mr. Parsons is the gardener at "Glass Head," the E. S. Grew estate, West Manchester.

Captain and Mrs. William C. Whelden of Dennisport, Cape Cod, have been in town the past week renewing acquaintances, guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Floyd. Mr. Whelden is the same old genial Captain as he was when in charge of the "Velthra," S. Parker Bremer's yacht. He has been running one of the large ocean tugs of the Consolidated Coal company until the past month and he says whenever he made a trip this way, especially to Salem, he always made a detour so as to bring him in sight of dear old Manchester, where he has spent so many pleasant years.

Friday evening, Feb. 21, has been decided upon as the date of the Manchester club minstrels.

Jos. A. Bradley attended the lecture and concert Sunday afternoon at the Salem Y. M. C. A., of which he is a member. The lecture was given by E. H. Chandler of Boston, the subject being "The Meaning of Ought and Ought Not."

Chief Urquhart of the Arlington police force issued orders to the patrolmen that spitting will be prohibited upon all sidewalks in the town. It is also proposed to put a stop to spitting in halls, stations and other public buildings. Chief Urquhart was formerly the head of the police in Manchester.

Spoke Complimentary of School.

In his lecture on "The Bright Side of Life," delivered in the teachers' course at Bradford hall, Gloucester, yesterday week, Dr. A. Z. Conrad paid the following compliment to the local schools:

"Gloucester and Manchester seem to excel in the quality of students sent to colleges. Recently I conferred with a well-known head of a business college and in answer to a question the instructor stated that the best material came from Gloucester and the surrounding locality, forging far ahead of students in other parts of Massachusetts. This speaks well for the ability and efforts of the educators."

MANCHESTER

Fred W. Gilson was taken to the Danver's hospital Wednesday by Chief Peabody.

Born, Saturday, Jan. 18, ason, David, to Mr. and Mrs. James Kinsella, West Manchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cressey and daughter Ruth of Beverly were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Dole, Sunday.

"Ladies afternoon" will be observed at the Manchester club next Tuesday afternoon. These affairs are to continue on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

Miss Elsie, daughter of Everett S. Andrews of Somerville, formerly of Manchester, has been critically ill with appendicitis in the Somerville hospital for the past seven weeks, but is now convalescent and is expected to be at home in two weeks more.

Joseph Devine, past commander of C. H. Bond camp, S. of V., Saugus, was in town Tuesday evening and attended the meeting of Col. H. P. Woodbury camp, 149. Mr. Devine is a candidate for the position of Junior Vice Division Commander at the coming convention to be held in Boston, February 11 and 12.

Republican Town Committee.

The Republican Town committee, Manchester, organized Monday evening with the choice of Jeffrey T. Stanley as chairman; Wm. W. Hoare as secretary, and W. R. Bell, treasurer. This is the same as last year.

Business Men's Banquet.

Plans are practically completed for the banquet of the Beverly Business Men's Association of which the majority of the Farms and Manchester merchants are members, to be held in G. A. R. hall, Beverly, Feb. 3. Former Mayor Thomas Thompson of New Bedford, a clever and entertaining after dinner speaker will come to Beverly to address the association members and the other guests who have been invited are Lucius Tuttle, president of the Boston and Maine railroad, and the Hon. Benjamin N. Johnson of Lynn. An entertainment will follow the speechmaking.

Letters remaining unclaimed at Manchester Mass., P. O. for week ending Jan. 18. Ottonio Butrer, John Bennett, Miss Helen Bourn, William Doherty, Charles De Marsh, Chas Gunnelli 4, Suzanne and Charlotte Gunnelli, Suzanne Gunnelli, Mrs Clara Hutchinson, Miss Hays, Miss Nellie O Harrigan, Rev William B Locke, Miss Alice Merrill, Miss Mary O'Hara, N W Parker, Geo J Rhein, Paul Rittier, Mrs Aumul Miller, Mrs Mattis Sampson, Dr Jedson Young.

Knight, Mabel Lodge, Mabel Maslen, Agnes Sjorlund, Ethel Jones and Alice Hoare, Samuel Knight, 2d, and Henry Merrill.

There was an abundance of food and part of what was left over was distributed among the sick and "shut ins," and the poor in the church.

In connection with the reunion of the Congregational church, the following hymn, sung at the reopening of the church, April, 1845, might interest some. The hymn was composed by Rev. Oliver A. Taylor, pastor at that time.

The Heaven of Heavens, Great God, in vain
Expands, thy glory to contain;
And in its sapphire blaze
The Archangel, with his starry wings,
Stands veiled and trembling while he sings,
Unequal to thy praise.

And will the Almighty condescend,
In temples made with hands, to attend
Devotion's feeble flame?
The pledge is given! Thy words declare
That humble souls shall find Thee there
Who meet in Jesus' name.

The thunders of thy voice are o'er;
Thou com'st in robes of fire no more;
All is serene and still;
And yet, around the altar bowed,
We feel thy glory like a cloud,
Encircling Zion's hill!

The house behold! Great One in Three,
That we have here prepared for Thee;
And in thy boundless love
Upon its walls inscribe thy name,
Upon its altar light the flame
That glows in hearts above.

Here often have we met and prayed,
And seen thy wondrous power displayed,
And sung of sins forgiven;
O, make it still a "dreadful place,"
Thy house of holiness and grace,
And still the gate of Heaven.

And when the trumpet's mighty swell
Shall rise the dead through earth and hell,
And judgment roll along!
Let thousands rise, to join the strains
That echo o'er the starry plains, "Jesus forever lives and reigns!"
Who here began the song.

MANCHESTER

The third degree, which was to have been exemplified at the Beverly council, K. of C., Wednesday evening, has been postponed to next Wednesday evening, owing to the death the past week of Deputy Ford's father. A number from Manchester are taking the degree.

Clarence W. Meniac of Port Medway, N. S., arrived here Thursday and is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Clatenburg.

The first real snow storm of the winter started Thursday night and continuing yesterday developed into a regular blizzard, clearing off during last night. The train schedule was only slightly interferred with, however. This morning, though the roads are bare in places, sleighs and pungs are out. Supt. Kimball had his men at work before daylight and the sidewalks were cleared of snow, in the central portion of the town, early.

A BILL has been introduced in the Legislature providing that on payment of $20,000 the town of Swampscott be admitted to the metropolitan water district. This may be of interest to Manchester citizens in-as-much as an important water problem is about to be taken up in a special town meeting here. $20,000 will go a very short way, however, toward giving Manchester an additional water supply.

THE county commissioners have made up their estimates for the year 1908 and will ask for $494,086.07 as against $424,-700.00 last year, an increase of about $70,000. The increase is largely due to the increase of the county debt and interest account because of building the new registry of deeds building, these items increasing $37,000. Manchester's county tax the coming year will no doubt be much in excess of that of last year.

A COPY of a pocket manuel, "Forest Trees of Massachusetts: How you may know them," planned and published by the State Forester, F. W. Rane, has just come to our desk. Mr. Rane has had this handbook prepared in order to have a practical working description of the commercial trees at the command of Massachusetts citizens.

Daniel A. Clarke, a Harvard instructor and a man of recognized experience and ability in forest botany, was selected to prepare the manuscript. No attempt is made, as in most botanical and forestry books, at giving the bewildering technical names and phrases. This treatise points out clearly how one can tell the commercially valuable trees of Massachusetts in a plain and untechnical manner. Mr. Rane says he hopes this handbook will be a source of inspiration toward assisting people, generally, in knowing our trees. The handbook is offered by the state, free of charge, and may be obtained by addressing F. W. Rane, State Forester, Boston.

IT is to be regretted that some people are so uninterested in town government and in the choice of officials to serve in important offices that they allow themselves to be governed in the selection of such officials by personal enmities and purely selfish interests. At this season of the year, especially, as town meeting approaches, is this condition brought to our attention.

In a small town like Manchester it is sometimes very difficult to get the best men in the town to run for town office. One of the reasons, if not the principal reason, why the business men of the town are loathe to accept any of the important offices with which the voters would like to honor them, is this attitude taken by many in the past, and the fear that they, too, will be treated in like manner, thus suffering a loss of business.

We believe our town officials as a rule act in all matters affecting the town with their best judgment and when they decide to do a certain thing they arrive at such decision only after honest conviction that they are right.

It is very difficult to please all, however While the act might have pleased the majority of the citizens, it might have affected someone adversely. It is this "someone" to whom we are referring. We have known of people, some of them summer residents, refusing to trade with certain merchants because of the latter's attitude on certain matters. How can we expect our business men to serve the town if they are to be subject to this sort of treatment? We know of a certain town official, now serving on an important board, who has lost hundreds of dollars from one customer that turned his trade elsewhere simply because this official acted in a certain matter against the customer. Yet, this customer was governed by personal interests and did not take into consideration the fact that this official was conserving the best interests of the town by his decision.

We call attention to this condition hoping we may in some measure defend the town officials against this unjust personal enmity and selfish interests. These same people forget that they are injuring themselves by taking such an attitude, for the tendency is to keep our best men out of office, thus opening a place for men less competent in handling the affairs of the town. And a town like Manchester, with a valuation of twelve million dollars, can ill afford to have any but the best men serve her.

Advertising Suggestions

The advertiser who does not change the matter in his advertisement accomodates the newspaper printer, but the advertiser who makes his space talk periodically pleases the newspaper better because he usually buys more space and makes it a profitable proposition.

Horticultural Society Banquet.

Next Wednesday evening the annual banquet, entertainment and dance of the North Shore Horticultural society will be held in the Manchester Town hall. Indications point to the affair being the best of the kind in the history of the society. The supper will be at 6.30 and will be served promptly at that hour. An excellent repast is in store. Following the supper the hall will be cleared and the entertainment will be given. This will consists of cornet solos by George Adams, leader of the Magnolia band, vocal solos by Henry Chequer, readings by Miss Tanner of Gloucester, addresses by Revs. W. F. Powers, L. H. Ruge and E. H. Brewster, besides informal speechmaking by visitors. Singing of popular songs by the gathering will be another feature of the program.

A dance and social time will conclude the evening's pleasure. Long's orchestra will furnish the music for this.

Tickets are selling well for the affair, though the committee still have some left, which they are offering to the public. Tickets, $1.00 each, may be obtained from any of the committee,—W. E. Allen, Dr. Tyler, John Baker, J. D. Morrison and R. A. Mitchell.

BEVERLY FARMS

Miss Josie Mountain of Gloucester is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Publicover.

Rev. C. S. Pond will preach at the Baptist church, tomorrow morning on "Prayer," and in the evening on "Elijah."

The members of the Beverly Farms fire department and lady friends are busily engaged preparing for the coming fair at City hall in aid of the Firemen's Relief association. Those who wish to aid in the good work may do so, and the donations of any articles would be thankfully received on or before Monday, Jan. 27, and may be left at Publicover Bros ' office.

Mrs. Andrew Standley, Otis N. Davis and Harold Bennett celebrated their respective birthdays on Thursday of this week. In Mrs. Standley's case especially was the day a pleasant one, for she was surprised by a number of friends who called to express their congratulations and offer their good wishes. She also received calls from a number of out-of-town relatives.

The following awards have been made at the St. Margaret's church Sunday school in oral examinations in Christian Doctrine for proficiency in catechism during the past year: Mary E. Murray, gold medal; Margaret Harrigan, gold rosary beads; Frances Hickey, Catherine Murray, Margaret Gilmartin, Marie Linehan, Mary Shaw, Gertrude Sullivan, John McTiernan, James Gilmartin, Forbes Shaw, Thomas Rourke, James Bresnaham and Michael Cadigan, premiums.

The embroidery class will meet with Mrs. J. M. Publicover, 16 High street, next Monday evening.

WHISPERINGS

The Beverly Farms' man who was called upon this week to perform a duty that necessitated his wearing a tall silk hat vowed that he wouldn't be seen by his acquaintances here for any amount of money, and he got over the difficulty by wearing his regular street hat to and upon the train. He, however, took along a big bag which covered from the gaze of his friends the detested "tile."

MAGNOLIA

A story appeared in the Boston papers the past week to the effect that relatives in Boston of Thomas Hogan of South Boston, who has not been heard from since last June, when he went to Magnolia to work as a porter, believe he was lost in the fire at the New Magnolia hotel Oct. 5 last. It has been the belief of the police and residents of Magnolia that no one was in the hotel at the time of the fire, but Hogan's sister and niece think he must have perished in the flames. He was expected to return home at the end of the season, and his continued non-appearance has caused them to appeal to the police for help. Hogan was 50 years old, unmarried, tall and light complexioned. He lived with his sister, Mrs. William O'Donovan, at 125 West Sixth street, South Boston. His sister is still paying his insurance premiums regularly.

Miss Alice G. Wonson of West Gloucester is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Harry Foster.

The Ladies' Aid society met with Mrs. Frank Story on Thursday afternoon. It will meet with Miss Addie Stanley next week.

Mr. Heard of Boston was in town on Thursday.

Mr. Brown of the N. E. T. & T. Co., who for the past two weeks has been engaged at the local office, concluded his duties at the end of the week.

The representatives of the "Huyler" chocolate company were in town this week looking over a store in the Colonnade which they will occupy next season.

Farmer Walker and Claude Kilpatrick of St. Louis were in town this week.

Miss Christine McClennon of Manchester was the guest of Mrs. Delia Barter this week.

The Misses Ruhe and Mollie Brown of Gloucester were the guests of their sister, Mrs. Fred Dunbar this week.

Al. Lynch of Peabody was the guest of Joseph Murphy on Wednesday.

Edw. Grigg has returned to his home in England, sailing on the S. S. Ivernia from Boston Tuesday. Several friends were on the Cunard pier to say good-bye and wish him bon voyage.

Mrs. Joseph R. Crispin and Mrs. Thomas P. Abbott attended the song recital at Symphony hall last Saturday.

A very successful dancing party was held on Wednesday evening at Magnolia hall. A number of young people from Manchester and Gloucester attended.

Harold Ericson was in town this week renewing acquaintances.

MANCHESTER COVE

Harry Menken is spending a few weeks with his uncle in New York city.

Misses Ethel Parrot and Agnes Thurston of Gloucester, spent Sunday guests of Miss Vera Kitfield.

Miss Florence Holt spent Sunday with her aunt, Mrs. Edward Hooper.

Sparks from a passing locomotive were responsible for a small forest fire near the Magnolia station Sunday. The fire was put out by the station employees.

E. S. Bradley lead the meeting at the Cove Thursday evening.

Society Notes

Miss Barbara Higginson of Pride's is sailing for Europe on the 18th of February for several months on the continent.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Cunningham and James Means were down to their respective estates at Manchester last Saturday.

The Misses Loring, who have been at their cottage at Pride's all winter, are leaving the coming week for the South, where they will remain the balance of the winter.

Mrs. Eben D. Jordan has been in Philadelphia visiting friends. A week ago last night Mr. and Mrs. Harrison K. Caner gave a dinner in her honor at their home on Walnut street.

Mrs. F. Gordon Morrill returned on the Republic which arrived in New York yesterday week. She brought with her the body of her husband, Dr. F. Gordon Morrill, whose death occurred in Egypt just before Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, who have been devoting their time since leaving Pride's last fall, between their Washington home and Mr. Moore's shooting box at Leesburg, Va., are sailing the coming week for Europe. They will be abroad a month or so. Mrs. E. C. Swift is dividing her time between New York and Washington, where she has been with her daughter, Mrs. Moore.

The sad death of Mrs. Herbert M. Sears in New York yesterday week throws a number of prominent North Shore families in mourning. Mrs. Sears was a daughter of Francis Bartlett of Pride's. Mr. Sears is a twin brother of Philip S. Sears, who married a daughter of F. L. Higginson. Frederick R. Sears, a half brother, married Miss Coolidge, a daughter of Hon. T. Jefferson Coolidge, and a sister of Mrs. Manlius Sargent. Miss Eleanora Sears is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Sears. Others who will be affected are Mrs. Bryce J. Allan, a first cousin, and Mrs. Guy Norman, who is Mrs. Allan's sister.

Another North Shore family to be cast into mourning are the Philip Stocktons, of Manchester. Mr. Stockton's grandmother, Mrs. Philip Stockton, died in Boston last week at the age of 92 years.

Planted Rose Bushes at Manchester Last Saturday.

James B. Dow, the well known greenhouse man of Beverly Farms, says he has never known of such a mild winter since he has been in business, and that covers a period of twenty years or more. Last Saturday Mr. Dow planted rose bushes at the E. C. Fitch estate, West Manchester, and also transplanted a number of trees, there being no frost in the ground. On the 4th of January he planted rose bushes at Mrs. R. L. Ward's, the Pump Cottage, Beverly Farms.

The opening of the 16th annual horse show of the New Riding club attracted a large contingent of the Boston society folk last Saturday afternoon, and a number of the North Shore young people were prominent in the ring as the various classes appeared. In class 1, pony hacks, Miss Alice Thorndike's calico gelding Jack Rabbit took first. R. M. Saltonstall's Lady Jane Grey took first in the class for hacks up to 190 pounds, and his Betty captured the blue ribbon in the class for ponies or horses under 15 hands. In class 6, jumpers, 15 hands or over, Samuel P. Mandell's First Mate took the blue; R. C. Robbins' Torchlight, second; Miss Emma Mandell's Fritters, third; and Miss Margaret Thomas' The Sachem, fourth. Neal Rice's Leading Lady took second in the class for ladies' park hacks.

Forrester H. Pierce of New York has been spending a part of the past week with his family on West street.

Mrs. R. J. McNeil has opened her boarding house at Pride's, the house having undergone many improvements since it closed last fall.

Albert W. Dix met with an unfortuuate accident Tuesday as he was "cranking" an automobile. The crank "backed fire" and broke Mr. Dix' wrist. He was cared for at the Beverly hospital.

Those who attended the whist party in G. A. R. hall last evening under the auspices of the Hook & Ladder Co. had a very enjoyable time. The object of the party was to secure funds to assist in furnishing their table at the coming fair in City hall.

Resolutions Passed by Church on Good Work of Bible Class.

At a recent meeting of the Beverly Farms Baptist church the following resolution was unanimously passed:

"WHEREAS: The Friends' Bible class, a duly organized class in the Bible school of the church, Mrs. Anna Webster, president; Mrs. Lydia E. Williams, vice president; Mrs. Emily Smith, secretary, Mrs. Sarah Crowell, treasurer; Mrs. Emily Hadley, chairman of the executive committee; Mrs. Sarah Whitman, founder, and James B. Dow, teacher, has caused to be purchased a lot of land, now numbered 17 High street, and erected thereon a dwelling house for the occupancy of the minister of the society, and

WHEREAS: The said organized class has caused the said house to be transferred to the possession of this society, without debt or mortgage, for the sum of one dollar, a mere legal consideration;

BE IT RESOLVED: That this society extend to the aforesaid Bible class a vote of thanks for this gratuitous gift and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the aforesaid Bible class and that they be recorded on the records of this church."

The class has received many compliments as the result of its excellent work in bringing about the burning of the mortgage and turning the parsonage over to the church several weeks ago. The officers of the class and the executive committee, of which Mrs. George H. Hadley is chairman, have worked zealously toward that end and the above resolutions from the church will no doubt be greatly appreciated. The class will meet next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lydia E. Williams at which time the election of officers for the ensuing year will take place and future work will be planned.

Stephen Eldredge.

Stephen Eldredge, Pride's Crossing's "good old man," passed away last Monday afternoon, at his late home, 574 Hale street, Pride's Crossing, at the age of 80 years, 2 months.

Mr. Eldredge was born in what is now Pride's Crossing in December of 1827 and he has always made his home there. He was one of the best known residents in this part of the city. His early life was spent like many others in the older days in following the sea, but he later took up carpentering for a trade. In 1889 he was offered the position of flag man at the B. & M. crossing near his home, which position he held for a number of years.

When Beverly first became a city he was selected as the first representative to the upper branch of the city government, and upon the death of his brother a few years ago he was elected to fill the vacancy thus caused, as vice president of the West Beach Corporation. He was an Odd Fellow, being a member of Magnolia lodge, 149, of Manchester.

Mr. Eldredge was a man of sterling character, faithful and honest and was one of the "old school." He always gave his best efforts toward any cause in which he was interested. His sound judgment and good advice was mueh sought by many of his fellow citizens. He was frank in expressing his opinion, especially upon all public matters, in which up to a few years ago he always took an active part.

Mr. Eldredge is the last, but one, of a large family. The only surviving member of the family is Mrs. Elizabeth Tappan, who makes her home in Manchester with Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Dunn. Mr. Eldredge made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pierce.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. E. Hersey Brewster, pastor of the Baptist church, Manchester, officiating. The Odd Fellows conducted their service at the cemetery in Beverly, where the body was interred, a delegation from the Manchester lodge being present. There were many floral tributes.

William H. Ford.

William H. Ford, a former well known resident of Pride's Crossing, passed away last Monday afternoon at his home, 28 Barr street, Salem, at the age of 87 years. Funeral services were held at St. James church, Salem, Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The pall bearers were Dr. J. J. Riordan, Gregory P. Connolly, Daniel M. Linehan, John Quigley, Thomas D. Connolly and Thomas F. Delaney.

For thirty years Mr. Ford was superintendent of the late Martin Brimmer estate, Pride's Crossing, now owned by Herbert M. Sears, and during his long term of faithful service he was one of the leading citizens in this section. He came here from Newton in the spring of 1876, and he lived to see many changes in the North Shore.

A record of long life of integrity and honesty is left to his widow, seven children and eight grandchildren. His children are Charles B. Ford, William E. Ford, Dr. J. Francis Ford of Roslindale, A. Jeannette Ford, Mrs. J. E. Daley and Mrs. W. J. Daley.

Connolly Bros. are building a bungalow on Argilla Road, Ipswich, for Arthur A. Shurtleff, from plans by the owner, who is a Boston architect.

Municipal Club Election.

The annual business meeting of the Municipal club was held in Marshall's hall last Monday evening when the following officers were elected: James B. Dow, president; A. P. Loring, jr., and Thomas J. McDonnell, vice presidents; Wilbur J. Pierce, secretary; Andrew Standley, treasurer; James B. Dow, Wilbur J. Pierce, Stephen J. Connolly, Frank I. Lamasney, Willard B. Publicover, J. Albert Mayberry and Eli R. Hodgkins, executive committee.

The reports of the officers and executive committee were read and accepted. It was the sense of the members that the policy of the club broaden out during the present year, now that the stage of organization and investigation has practically passed. The next meeting will be held in about three weeks.

"In the Valley of the Mohawk."

A crowded house greeted the young people of St. Margaret's Sunday school, Beverly Farms, last Monday evening, in the presentation by some of its members of a musical drama, "In the Valley of the Mohawk," in the assembly hall, in the basement of the church. The room was decorated with potted plants, flags and bunting and presented quite an attractive appearance.

The plot dealt with the time when the illustrious Jesuit and martyr Fr. Joques, labored to convert the Indians to Christianity. The capture of this missionary by the Iroquois, the rescue by the Dutch of Fort Orange and his subsequent return to his beloved Algonquins are vividly portrayed.

In the cast were Misses Nora Murray, Agnes Murray, Abbie Williams, Prue Connolly, Margaret McCarthy, Grace Quirk, Margaret Murray, Eliza Denno, Katherine McDonnell, Mary Neville, Katherine Murray, Mary Kelleher and Joseph Donovan, Richard Graves, James Butler, George Murray, Joseph Rourke, and Fred Williams.

Randolph M. Bainbridge of Wollaston, a well and popularly known young man, and who has many friends here, has recently been appointed by the mayor of Quincy to the position of Commissioner of Public Works of that city, with a salary of $2400. Mr. Bainbridge has been connected with the well known concern, Whitman & Howard, civil engineers, of Boston and has practically had charge as engineer of the laying out and superintending of land improvements the past few years upon the H. C. Frick, W. H. Moore, W. S. and J. T. Spaulding, F. I. Amory and other estates along the North Shore.

Miss Barbara Daniels has been entertaining part of the past week Miss Mildred Caldwell of East Lexington.

Mrs. Arthur G. Lowry and two children of Lancaster, N. H., have spent the week at the Farms visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Riordan of Pride's have as their guests Mrs. E. A. Reed and daughter of Brooklyn, N. Y.

A public garage to be built in Beverly Farms, near the center, by one of our well known business men, is said to be a probability of the near future. Work on the same will be started soon.

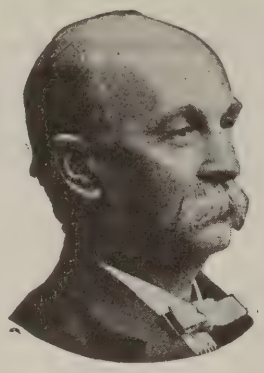

Miss R. L. Bruorton, one of the teachers at the Farms school, lost her pocket book one day this week, which contained beside some money, a Boston-Reading ticket book, on the B. & M. line.

The John Caswells have closed their place at Pride's and are at present registered at the Touraine, Boston. They will leave shortly, however, for the south. It is said they intend to lease their estate here the coming season.

George H. Burchsted and E. Fred Day, and Benjamin F. Hawkins and William S. Pike will represent the Farms fire department at the hose-laying contest in City hall Wednesday evening, in connection with the Firemen's Relief Association fair.

The concluding lesson in the classes in gymnastics and physical culture being given by the Misses Connolly will be given tonight, much to the regret of all the members. Next Saturday evening an exhibition lesson of the pupils will be given in the Manchester Town hall.

The postoffice department through Asst. Supt. J. M. White of Boston is calling for proposals for a lease of premises for the Manchester postoffice for a term of five or ten years, which proposals will be received until Feb 1. The lease must include heat, light, water and complete postoffice outfit, boxes, etc. This is a mere matter of form and does not suggest that they are looking for any other than the present quarters in Pulsifer's block, of course.

WHISPERINGS.

Last Tuesday evening a party of fifteen men from the Farms went to Salem to spend the evening. Now the friend's house they were to visit is over North Salem way, some fifteen or twenty minutes walk from the depot and as two of the party knew exactly how to get there they readily decided to walk it; so with these two leading the rest followed. The leaders thought this a good chance to play a joke and consequently get even with some of the party for old scores, so when they came near their destination they branched off down an opposite street. The rest, of course, not being wise to the move, followed with all faith and confidence. Through the highways and byways of North Salem they perambulated; even Weston would have been amply satisfied with the walk. Down one street, up another they went until some 45 or 50 minutes at least had been consumed the perspiration commenced to trickle down their backs.

Now and then could be heard remarks from different ones that would not look right in print, but still they kept on, being encouraged, perhaps, by an occasional remark from one of the two "pilots." It is said that the plan of the two leaders was to lead the party to the cemetery, but this plan was frustrated by one of the party trailing in the rear asking a small boy of their whereabouts, thus letting the cat out of the bag. The destination was finally reached, but it was a pretty tired and provoked lot of men, who are now only praying that they may soon have their chance to square accounts with those two leaders who professed to know Salem so well.

Mrs. Joseph G. Davis is reported to be quite ill at her home, 32 Hart st.

Born, Tuesday, Jan. 21, a daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. Victor Burden, nee Elsie Preston.

Steps have already been taken toward installing an arc light on Vine street, which at the present time has no lights whatever.

A drama, with tableaux, is being prepared, touching upon the times of Capt. John Smith and Pocahontas. The affair will be given by local talent and the date will be announced later.

James Zampell, the well-known Italian store-keeper at the Farms, and his family, have moved into their new eight room cottage which has just been completed and is located off of Greenwood ave.

The Ward 6 Republican committee met last Tuesday evening for organization and elected William R. Brooks, chairman; George H. Bennett, secretary. Sub-committees were elected to serve on finance and naturalization. The other members of the committee are Albert Standley, James B. Dow and Howard E. Morgan.

Last Tuesday evening was an interesting one for Preston Relief Corps the event being a public installation of officers and to which the Post, Associates, their wives and friends were invited guests, the whole making a gathering that taxed the capacity of Marshall's hall. The work was done by Mrs. B. F. Cook of Gloucester assisted by Mrs. S. E. Richardson. Remarks were made by the installing officers followed by Rev. C. S. Pond, Commander C. H. Day, Charles H. Trowt, Stephen J. Connolly, Eben Day, Theodore A. Holmes and others. A collation was served and the remaining hour spent in a social way.

After considerable delay and some hearings on the matter of poles, the parochial residence of St. Margaret's church, now is equipped with a telephone.

Lewis Hardy of the firm, D. W. Hardy & Son is ma ing arrangements to take a vacation from his business for a period of several weeks to be spent at Rutland, Mass., for his health.

The beautiful weather of the past week has been very much enjoyed by many of the Farms residents at Gravelly Pond, the upper end of which has been frozen with a fine smooth sheet of ice. Skating and ice boating by moonlight has been an added pleasure.

Miss Elsie Preston, the popular teacher at the Farms' school, one day recently on her way home through Haskell street, lost her watch, made especially valuable to her on account of it being a gift. The watch has since been found and returned to its owner by Cornelius Murray.

There is now in comtemplation the establishing of a new coal yard at the Farms, or rather, the changing of the present yard near the Boston & Maine station to a new location, the change being brought about by the fact that the proprety on which the present yard is located has changed hands. Engineers have been at work on the matter the past week and have already made plans. It is understood that the new location may be upon property between the West street and Dexter's crossings.

BY D. F. LAMSON.

With all of good Izaak Walton's humor, gayety, love of nature, of trees and flowers and a fresh morning in May, of the songs of thrush and leverock, of chansons, of pretty milkmaids, and of good cheer, there was a more sedate side to his nature; "all his serious thoughts had rest in heaven." If he loved to picture the beauties of woods and fields, of primrose banks and osier hedges, of steepy mountains and meadows green and the sweet brook's watery stream, he loved much more to portray the excellences of noble character and winning grace.

We are to remember that Walton was born in 1593, ten years before the death of Queen Elizabeth, and so was rightful heir to the literary spirit of that brilliant period in English literature. He early acquired a competence with which he retired from business life and was free to pursue his favorite occupations, reading, studying, writing and angling. His first wife was a descendant of the great Archbishop Cranmer; his second was a sister of the saintly Bishop Kerr. Walton had befriended George Morley when ejected from his living, and after his friend had been made Bishop of Winchester Kerr found him in the Bishop's house, a loved and reverend member of the family. Walton had thus every opportunity and incentive to cultivate his natural gifts, and to live the life of a scholar and a refined courteous gentleman. It was in such congenial atmosphere that some of the "Lives" were produced. As finally completed, they included the Lives of Dr. John Doune, Sir Henry Wotton, Richard Hooker, George Herbert and Dr. Robert Sanderson. The work was published in 1670, in one volume, and has often been reprinted. It is interesting to know that it was one of Dr. Johnson's "most favorite books." Of these characters some are little known at the

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY BANQUET.

Annual Affair the Occasion of a Delightful Evening's Entertainment. Banquet followed by Speech-making, Musical numbers and Dance.

The ninth annual banquet of the North Shore Horticultural society was held Wednesday evening in the Manchester Town hall, and was attended by over 200 persons,—members of the society, their guests and friends The banquet was followed by an entertainment and dance.

The annual banquet of the society is an event always looked forward to with much interest, for it is the social event of the winter season on the North Shore. The society did itself justice on this occasion, and everyone united in pronouncing the program carried out this year the best yet given by the society.

A little after 6.30 President Till called the gathering to order, and after the blessing was pronounced by Rev. E. H. Brewster, the company proceeded to discuss the following menu:

Escalloped Oysters
Roast Turkey, Cranberry Sauce
Mashed Potatoes
Boiled Onions Squash
Celery
Banana Fritters, Wine Sauce
Harlequin Ice Cream Frozen Pudding
Assorted Cakes
Coffee
Fruit

The tables run lengthwise down the hall, and there was a smaller table at the right of the main entrance. Vases of beautiful flowers,—carnations, begonias, narcissus, eupatorium, etc.,—decorated the tables, and a bouquet of Roman hyacinth, asparagus, violets, etc., was at every plate. The chandeliers and lights around the hall were festooned with mountain laurel, and the stage was massed with palms, primulas, cyclamen, swainsonia, and other blooms, the whole making a delightful setting, and quite appropriate for an occasion of this kind. The orchestra rendered a choice program during the banquet hour.

The supper over President Till arose and extended a short address of welcome, and he announced that the flowers which decorated the tables would be distributed among the sick and shut-ins. Following was the program rendered.

As the first speaker of the evening President Till introduced "Manchester's grand old man," Librarian D. L. Bingham, who was present as guest of honor. Mr. Bingham is in the 95th year. He said that he was carried back many years to the time when as a boy he was engaged in agriculture. His father owned many acres of farm and pasture land. In the time he worked he learned considerable of agriculture and little horticulture. But both are much different now than then. Agriculture now is a great industry.

"At that time," he said, "we raised plenty of the common vegetables and fruit. We were not troubled then with insect pests. Manchester was filled with beautiful singing birds. The English sparrow has since driven away many of these."

Mr. Bingham said further that he was of the opinion that the fact ladies wore so many feathers in their hats was further responsible for the decrease in the number of birds. One man on Cape

Sleeplessness

Sleeplessness is a result of exhausted nerve force. You must have sleep—it is nature's rebuilding period. It is the period in which she stores up strength and vigor. You will sleep well and awaken fresh, if you take Dr. Miles' Nervine. It brings sleep by soothing the tired nerves. Its invigorating effect is felt throughout the entire system.

"I used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for extreme nervousness, brought on by over-exhaustion. It soothed and strengthened my nerves. It enabled me to get restful sleep which I was unable to get before taking the Nervine. For nervous troubles I know of nothing that can equal it." MRS. E. EBENSPERGER.

MANCHESTER

Mrs. George Knight has been visiting her sister in Lynn the past few days.

It is now "Colonel" Floyd. One of the Boston papers in speaking of his running for Senior Vice Division Commander of the Mass. S. of V. calls him "Colonel Floyd."

W. S. Patterson was in town yesterday for a brief visit. He came down over the road in Mr. Bartlett's auto, bringing the car here to be operated upon at the paint shop of J. P. Lations.

The tickets for the Manchester club minstrels will be placed on sale next week. Every seat in the hall will be reserved, at 50 and 35 cents. The date of the show is Friday evening, Feb. 21.

A wood-chopper employed by Ayer Bros. cut a bad gash in his foot yesterday morning while at work off Forest street. He was attended by Dr. Glendenning, three stitches being necessary to close the wound.

It is expected that the special committee on water supply will have their report ready for the printer the middle of the coming week, and that the special town meeting will be called the middle of this month, probably for the 17th.

The financial year of the town closed yesterday, and the selectmen were kept busy at the meeting Thursday evening approving bills. A notice appears in this issue calling for articles for the town warrant to be in the hands of the selectmen on or before 7 p. m. of Saturday, Feb. 15.

An interesting exhibit of antiques in the window of the B. L. Allen drug store, Central square, includes the first mortar and pestle ever used in Manchester. It was used for powdering herbs, etc., and compounding medicine by Dr. Farah, some 75 or 80 years ago. There is also a pair of old hand scales and cup weights used by doctors years ago. The motar is dug out of a solid piece of wood,—said to be lignum vitæ.

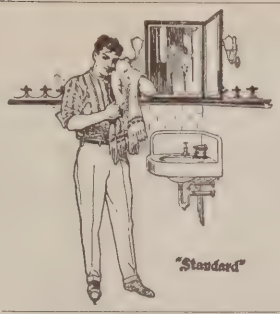

The "barn yard dance" is a thing of the past for the Manchester Town hall, if we are rightly informed, for Janitor Haskell has issued an edict against it. He says if they want to dance the "Barn yard," the barn yard is the proper place for it, and not the Town hall. One reason why he has arrived at this conclusion is the probability that after it is danced once or twice more the plaster on the ceiling of the offices in the lower part of the hall will join in the spirit of the occasion and waltz itself from the said ceiling to the floor. The ceiling already shows the result of the dance. We might suggest that the town vote to build a new town hall. This one isn't according to modern ideas.

Mrs. Long's class in dancing will meet next week on Thursday evening.

A delegation of some 25 K. of C. members went to Beverly Wednesday to witness the exemplification of the third degree at the Beverly council. Nine of the candidates in the large class were from the local lodge.

Melvin Ingalls, 15, and Harold Burke, 17, the two Gloucester lads who broke into the crossing house at the Sea street crossing a week ago Thursday night, stealing a revolver and two razors, were before the court at Gloucester Monday. The Burke boy pleaded guilty and seemed to treat the matter rather lightly, not realizing the seriousness of the situation. The court found probable cause and bound him over to the May term of the superior court in the sum of $400. The Ingalls boy had his case continued until Thursday morning, on account of being a juvenile. Thursday the case was continued until today. The house they broke into is that at which Luke Morgan is tender.

Reading, In Arcady, Stevens
MRS. COHOON
Solo, (a) Lethe Boott—Sargent
(b) Alla Stella Conjedcnte
MR. JORDAN
(With 'Cello Accompaniment.)

Every number on the program, which was about an hour and a half in length, was very finely rendered. The 'cello selections by Mr. Van Vliet and the readings by Mrs. Cahoon are worthy of special mention. Mrs. Cohoon was one of the best readers that has been heard in the hall for some time. The concert as a whole was of a very high standard.

MANCHESTER

Mrs. Peter Powers of Gloucester has been a guest the past week of Mrs. William Coughlin, Norwood avenue.

The Ever Ready circle of King's Daughters will meet Monday evening, Feb. 3, with Mrs. G. A. Knoerr.

J. S. Reed has suffered the past fortnight with a painful abscess on his face. He was treated by a Salem specialist and a slight operation was performed. Thursday he went to the Eye and Ear Infirmary, Boston, for treatment, and found that an abscess at the entrance to the tear passage of his right eye was the cause of his trouble.

The Manchester Outing club held a meeting Monday evening, at which time Miss Mabel Lodge was elected vice-president, Miss Ethel Standley, resigned. The club is planning on some sort of entertainment to be given soon. A special meeting of the club is to be held next Monday evening in the parlor of the Chapel, at 7 o'clock.

February started in in good old winter fashion his morning, with a northeast snow storm, which is raging with blizzard velocity at ten o'clock. Thursday and Friday of this week were the coldest of the winter. Friday morning the thermometer dropped to 7 below zero in some places.

THE NEW WAISTS FOR SPRING ARE HERE

Wm. G. Webber Co
SALEM, MASS.

FOR CORRECT STYLE USE A McCALL PATTERN

THE NEW 1908 WAISTS

Its easier to see than to think! so, almost before you'd begin to think about lingerie waists for spring we are showing quite a number of styles that you will at once admire and not only admire but you'll buy. Styles for every taste are here—the "frilly" ones if you wish and if you are tired of the lace and embroidery—the tiny tucked effects will appeal to you if you'd rather have lace and insertion many of the handsomest garments are trimmed with the best and most lasting sorts. Enough said—just take a look at them in our waist section that is better than yards of description.

THE STORE THAT HAS THE NEW THINGS FIRST

MANCHESTER

The members of the Timble club attended the matinee at the Tremont theatre, Boston, Wednesday, and saw "The Man of the Hour."

Miss Grace Henry who has been unable to attend to her school duties since the Christmas holidays, has taken up her work as teacher of grade III again the past week.

A number of people went to Salem Wednesday evening to the first of a series of three subscription recitals given under the direction of Mr. Luscomb, the music teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Swamberg entertained a party of friends from Boston last Saturday in honor of Mr. Swamberg's birthday, the occasion proving a most enjoyable one, despite the fact part of the guests took the wrong train from Boston and headed for Manchester, N. H. Mr. Swamberg is the gardener at Mrs. S. P. Blake's and occupies the cottage on the estate.

The next lecture in the Teachers' course at Gloucester will be on Friday afternoon, Feb. 14, at 3.30. Prof. Edward Howard Griggs will be the lecturer and his subject will be "Macbeth: The Tragedy of Ambition." This lecture will be at City hall and a few special tickets are offered to the public. Anyone desiring a ticket may obtain the same from Prin. A. W. Mead of the Priest school, at 25 cents each.

Manchester Foresters Have Installation and Big Class Initiation.

A red letter event in the history of Fr. Shahan court, 220, M. C. O. F., Manchester, took place last Sunday afternoon when the officers of the court were installed and a class of some thirty candidates were initiated. Almost 200 guests from out-of-town,— Beverly, Beverly Farms, Salem, Boston, Peabody and Gloucester,—were present.

Deputy High Chief Ranger James Reilly of Gloucester installed the following officers: William McEachern, chief ranger; Austin Morley, vice chief ranger; James Sheehan, recording secretary; Miss Theresa O'Neil, financial secretary; Henry Bohaker, treasurer; Laura Saulnier, senior conductor; Thomas Wynne, junior conductor; John Baker, outsider sentinel; John Silva, inside sentinel; William McEachern, representative.

The degree team from George Washington court, Lynn, did the degree work in a most exemplary manner.

Following the work a collation was served and a social hour spent. Odd Fellow's hall was used for the meeting.

MANCHESTER

Joseph Clarke acted as one of the judges at the Mass. Horticultural society exhibition in Boston last Saturday.

Miss Anna Maslen was the victim of a surprise party Tuesday evening, when some score of her friends at the High school called at her home on Lincoln street. It was her 16th birthday. A delightful evening was passed in singing, playing games, etc., and during the evening Miss Maslen was presented with a pretty signet ring. Dainty refreshments were served.

Quite in contrast with the past month was January of 1893,—fifteen years ago. The Manchester Cricket for that date records that "the present cold spell is one of the severest on record. The river is frozen solid to Glass Head. Dea. John Prince who has the records for many years says that the winter of 1873 was the hardest, the thermometer going to 28 below zero in January. Mr. and Mrs. George Leach walked down to Ram island on the ice. Feb. 8, '61, was 23 below."

John D. Morrison is announcing his candidacy for tree warden this week,—making the third in the field for this position thus far, R. A. Mitchell having announced his candidacy several weeks ago and the present incumbent, Wm. Young, being a candidate for re-election. Mr. Morrison's work along this line is well known. He has been until recently, manager on the North Shore for J. L. Frost & Co., of Arlington, and at the present time he is district superintendent for the state in moth work.

Business Men's Banquet.

The committee having charge of the banquet of the Business Men's Association, to be held next Monday evening, Feb. 3rd, have been obliged, on account of the demand for tickets, to secure Beverly City hall for the occasion.

Frederic Hudson in his "History of Journalism" referring to the Boston Evening Transcript in its youthful days, early in the 1800's, says: "It was small, always clean, and was a general favorite in the family circle." In the last two qualities the Transcript remains the same. In the former much difference may be noted; it has grown from a tiny four page sheet to a daily journal of from 16 to 52 pages in size. Its reputation as a clean newspaper of true worth continues to grow as well.

Society Notes

Mrs. Hall Curtis and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Heaton, are at St. Augustine, Fla., for their annual visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Bradley and their daughters sailed for Europe the past week. They will return in time to spend the summer season at their Pride's estate.

Robert C. Hooper and daughter, Miss Helen Hooper, are sailing the coming week from New York for Europe. They will be away several months, visiting London, Paris and Southern Europe, returning to their West Manchester estate in early June.

It is reported that Mr. and Mrs. Harrison K. Caner and children are to sail the coming spring to spend the summer and fall on the continent, one of the purposes being to again have their boys attend school in France. If they decide to go they will probably rent their beautiful place at Manchester for the summer. They are now at their Philadelphia home.

The North Shore Horticultural society has selected as its advisory committee on shows for the coming season, Mrs. Charles Head, Mrs. Philip Dexter, Mrs. Lester Leland, Miss Helen Hooper and Mrs. William Hooper. The society will hold two exhibitions, as last year,—the Rose and Strawberry show in July 1 and 2, and the Summer show on August 26 and 27.

BOSTON, Jan. 24, 1908.

Editor of the North Shore Breeze:

Dear Sir—I have noticed of late in your paper letters in regard to a first-class hotel at Manchester-by-the-Sea, and they have interested me for I have head the wish expressed so often for just such a house at Manchester. "Knickerbocker's" letter was excellent and to the point. There is no question that a really first-class hotel at Manchester would be out of place. It would be open practically the year round if its proprietor should so desire. But to gain such a position with a first-class public the drainage of the hotel must be absolutely up-to-date, the plumbing, as well, and both of the very best. The house must be airy, light and commodious, and adapted to the various needs of a first-class patronage. Of course, it goes without saying that table and service must also be of the best and that summer visitors must be assured that the hotel may be depended upon to give what it promises under such circumstances, as a hotel of the type named above would never lack for patronage.

Manchester has a particularly fine and desirable bathing beach, also good yachting facilities, some of the most perfect country and wood drives or walks in the world, excellent golf links and perfect facilities for tennis and other out-door pursuits, while in winter—Manchester also responds as well to winter out-door life. As to climate, Manchester-by-the-Sea can hold its own with the best in that line and many of its days in winter are quite in contrast with those of the South of France.

A hotel like that of Poland Springs, Woodstock Inn, Stockbridge, Lenox, or others on these lines, and carried on by just such care, oversight, thought and attention could never lack for guests, and of the very best, most permanent and paying kind, too.

I have been questioned several times if one could be accommodated at Manchester in a hotel on the scale of those named above, or, if there were not a possibility of such an one being built? Only a short time ago a prominent man, of our country, in passing through Manchester and recognizing its delightful possibilities for summer and winter national enjoyments and pleasures out of doors, begged to know why Manchester lacked a modern up-to-date hotel like those one could find or should find in such a beautiful enviroument.

Manchester is nearer to many persons than Poland Springs, Lexon, Wookstock Inn or other such delightful comfortable resorts, and yet some one will suggest a sanitarium, when a bright, cheerful element is what Manchester should have if the right sort of growth for Manchester is desired. But there is no use in having a hotel at Manchester unless it be absolutely first-class and the best of its kind.

THE reorganizntion of the Board of Trade was hinted at in this column a few weeks ago as a most fitting means of bringing about matters pertaining to the best interests of Manchester. Since that time there has been more or less talk along this line, suggested to a certain extent, no doubt, by what we had to say on the matter.

The good such an organization could accomplish,—whether it be called Board of Trade, Improvement society, or what not,—is more apparent as the town year draws to a close and town meeting approaches. Some organization composed of representative citizens of the town, could accomplish much for the town, and might possibly be a means of cutting down some of the heavy appropriations could the matters be discussed before hand and the "whys" and "wherefores" considered before they come before the town and are pushed through without hardly a word being said by anyone.

In looking over our Exchanges, especially at this time of year, we are reading constantly of the doings of Village Improvement societies, and Good Government associations, Boards of Trade, and kindred organizations. In Brookline the Village Improvement Society is a potent factor in town affairs, expenditures, appropriations, etc. In Beverly, too, there is an Improvement Society. Last week they held their annual meeting and matters pertaining to the city,—schools, parks, expenditures of various kinds, were freely discussed, by business man, working man, city official, summer resident,—the discussion was open to all

Now Manchester has no such organization. In 1906-07 almost $300,000 was spent,—money that had been appropriated at town meeting, a greater part of it with no other discussion than the recommendation of the Finance Committee, which, in turn, had recommended such appropriations after a number of meetings squeezed into the last two or three weeks of the year.

We are glad to know that steps have been taken the past week toward calling a meeting of men who would be interested in such a matter, with the view of either reorganizing the old Board of Trade or of organizing a new society, one of the principal objects of which would be to take up matters to be brought forward at town meeting, to discuss such matters that they might be more intelligently placed before the town. It is so late now that it is very doubtful if anything definite will be done for the coming town meeting, but we are pleased to know the movement has been started and we hope it will not be dropped.

We have no doubt tbat the members of our summer colony would only too gladly cohere with the townspeople in a matter of this kind.

WE call attention to the communication on another page from one of our summer residents on the matter of a new hotel at Manchester, which has been agitated in the BREEZE for several weeks. The writer refers to the hotels at Poland Springs, Stockbridge, Lenox, etc., and to the fact that these hotels are open the year rounds, pratically, and suggests that an up-to-date hotel on the North Shore conducted along the lines of the hotels referred to could keep open the year around. We heartily second this opinion. There is no question but what a strictly first-class hotel on the North Shore could be kept open practically the year round. Hardly a week-end passes now but we see members of our summer colony down to their estates, and many of them entertain small house parties almost every week-end throughout the winter. Why do they do it?

Why do many of our summer visitors delight to come to the shore in midwinter and walk around from place to place? Isn't it because they enjoy the North Shore? Manchester is nearer Boston that Poland Springs, Stockbridge or Lenox, and why shouldn't it therefore be just as popular place for winter visitors as these places?

But let us have a summer hotel first! There certainly is an opportunity for a strictly first-class hotel. If it is a success in summer, perhaps its patronage would demand its proprietor to keep a partially open house all winter. It would be a grand thing for the town and it is to be hoped that our business men would look into a matter of this kind and that something would be done to have a hotel built which would meet the requirements.

THE following notice to mariners has been sent out by the department. "Salem Harbor approach—Baker's Island light station fog signal.— The fog signal at the light station on Baker's island, southern side of the main ship channel entrance to Salem harbor, has been changed from a bell to a siren, operated by compressed air, which during thick foggy weather will give blasts of three seconds duration, separated by silent intervals of 27 seconds."

Siren whistle! Where have we heard that name before? Seems to us that must be the bewitching sound that disturbs our peaceful slumbers o' nights.

Advertising Suggestions

It isn't the man who spends the most money for advertising, or who has the largest advertising space, that necessarily gets the best results. A small space filled with the right kind of "stuff" may accomplish more than a large space filled with poorly printed matter. A small page, too, like the BREEZE, is always a valuable feature for advertising. Look at the small magazine page, and the way the page is sometimes cut up into small advs! And think of the millions spent for such advertising!

Why not have your Printing done at the office of THE BREEZE PRINT?

We begin a new Season

WE thank our friends and patrons for the splendid business accorded us the past six months—our business year. Our stocks are in fine condition and our department managers therefore in a position to take advantage of every good market condition to secure merchandise at favorable prices.

WATCH FOR OUR FEBRUARY SALES

as they will be decidedly out of the ordinary. It will be a month of bargains. All heavy weight merchandise will be offered at a sacrifice and our cash purchases of special lots will be sold at a small profit. We will do this to insure "a busy store" during this usually dull month.

Mrs. Anna Woodbury left Thursday for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Mead, at Wellesley Farms.

The next meeting of the North Shore Horti. society will be held Friday evening, Feb. 7, at which time James Farquhar of Boston will speak on "The Hybridization and raising of new varieties of plants."

Frank L. Decker of the Frank G. Cheever Co. has leased one of the tenements in the Mulvey house on Norwood avenue, and will move his family here from Beverly as soon as the house is completed,—some month or six weeks hence.

Master Gordon Northup met with an accident last Saturday which came near ending disastrously for him. He was playing with a miniature cannon when the powder exploded prematurely, burning his face, hair and hands. Fortunately he escaped without serious injuries.

Friends of Miss Lois Brewster, who resigned her position as teacher at the High school last December, will be interested to know that she has resigned her position in Everett and has accepted a position as visitor for the State Board of Insanity. She will have charge of some 125 patients, and will enter upon her work shortly, with headquarters at Boston.

Address by Warren F. Spaulding on New View of the Bad Boy.

At the Village church, Magnolia, last Sunday evening, Warren F. Spaulding, secretary of the Mass. Prison association, gave an interesting address on "The New View of the Bad Boy."

Mr. Spaulding began by a reference to the old view of the juvenile offender, which was that he was a criminal (as much so as the adult law breaker) and all the legal processes in dealing with him must be the same for a child as for an adult. His act was a "crime." He must be "arraigned," "convicted," "punished," as a "criminal." The story constituted a criminal record, which could never be effaced. His relations to society could never be the same as those of a child who had not broken a law, no matter how petty the offence may have been.

The new law is embodied in new legislation. The boy's misdeed is not ignored, but it is not a "crime," to be merely punished. It constitutes "delinquency," which is a condition to be changed. The question for consideration is not merely what the boy did, but what he is. The powers of the court are substantially the same as under the old law, but the purpose is reclamation rather than mere punishment.

The important thing, said the speaker, is to prevent juvenile crime by proper treatment of children before they break the laws and come to the courts. Playgrounds, boys' clubs, the transformation of bad gangs into good ones, the personal interest of good men and women in the neglected and the wayward, the improvement of bad homes—all these and kindred efforts must be the reliance of the community for the reduction of juvenile crime.

In time, if proper attention is given to preventive measures, if every bad boy comes under the influence of a good man or woman; if those who are going astray, as well as those who have gone astray, are looked after, the bad boy will become less numerous. It may not be agreeable work, but it is duty, and the results are pleasant to remember.

Mr. Spaulding illustrated the various points in his address by incidents drawn from a long experience and a very close contact with the work.

HORTICULTURAL SOC'Y BANQUET

Cod had an order for 80,000 wings to be used in this way, he said. Mr. Bingham expressed his pleasure in being able to attend the gathering. He closed his remarks by reciting Longfellow's "Psalm of Life."

Rev. Fr. Wm. F. Powers was the second speaker. He gave a very interesting talk, filled with much good humor as well as deep sentiment. He spoke as follows:

"In rising to address a gathering like that which now meets my eyes, a speaker may assure himself of a comparatively peaceful resception, no matter what queer things he is going to say; for if it be true that people who live in glass houses not only should not, but actually do not, throw stones, I may safely make remarks here that would excite an ordinary audience to riot. And why? Because the object of those remarks are gardeners, and gardeners, especially at this time of year, live very much in glass houses, and therefore do not throw stones. Hence, I am necessarily immune when I delare that all gardeners are "trimmers." Let me qualify this statement by the assertion that the only gardener along the North Shore who, to my knowledge, is not ever and always a "trimmer," is the man who failed, last spring, to trim my rose-bushes according to promise.

"Moreover, gardeners all, though you may not be tainted with what was a few weeks since called "Fitzgeraldism," you are a race of unblushing "grafters;" for any man calling himself a gardner, who has not done any grafting in arboriculture, has yet to learn his trade.

"Abe Ruef and ex-mayor Schmitz are known as the Californian grafters; but the most notorious Californian grafter of them all is Luther Burbank, who, according to late advises, has grafted a Virginia Creeper on a Scarlet Runner, and has thus changed the pace of each vine. I saw, by the way, the other day in a newspaper (I can't recollect now whether it was the Cricket or the BREEZE) that Burbank had planted a weeping willow beside the laughing waters, the consequence of which act was that the whole landscape went into hysterics.

"However, know you little or know you much of grafting, you are fortunate in your new president, for though you all can till the soil, not one of you can soil the Till. I suppose, though, now that he has acquired this dignity, that he will be up-to-date and change his name from Till to Cash Register.

"As I see no stones coming my way I'll venture to say, furthermore, that very few men stoop as low as do the gardeners; but I am reconciled to this fact by the reflection that, were you not to stoop, your delicate infant growths might never reach maturity. And that reminds me of the man who would hire a gardener. Two applicants for the position presented themselves. Both wore overalls and both had patches on their overalls. The man hired the gardener whose overalls were patched on the knees. And so it is that your real gardener is very often a man of prayer, if one may judge from his position while he is at work; but, ladies and gentlemen, behind and beyond all that, honest work is always a prayer if he who does it sees in it the evolution of good, the beautiful and the true.

"Hence, to my mind, Edward Markham's poem, 'The Man with the Hoe,' has not a clear ring. For though the man who weeds and who cultivates has his eyes on the ground; he sees there immeasurably more than is discerned by the brute beast; aye, with his eyes on the ground, he brings order out of chaos, he draws light from darkness,—in short his is a creative energy.

"Again, to every man on this footstool there is given some special aptitude, which needs but the initiative and the purpose to make his life a benefaction to his fellows. It is my conviction that there is, for all of us, such a thing as vocation. And blessed is the man whose vocation it is to nurture the silent life of the garden. There, in the chosen sanctuary of his labor, and looking up confidingly to his appreciative self, are sweetness and place and harmony; and if his vocation has, as it should, become warp and woof of his being, how that sweetness and that place and that harmony instill themselves into his soul, making him superior to the ugliness and strife and discord of ordinary existence!

"Let work tell you that there is no royal road to success in your calling, that every step means labor, and, it may be, self-denial, that the past years have been but the promise of the time that is still yours, and that if life is activity, activity is work.

"Let duty tell you that you are responsible for the vocation that God has bestowed on you, that you are not driftwood washed up on the shores of the world, but Argosies in search of the golden fleece of success, success in your homes, in your citizenship; for fidelity to duty is the surest criterion of the most generous measure of success in life."

Among the guests of the evening were a number of Bostonians,—members of the Boston Gardners and Florists club,—who had come in the afternoon and had visited various estates along the shore. In the number were: J. W. Duncan, of the Boston Park system; Julius Huerlin, John Farquhar, J. P. A. Guerineau, Frank Murray, P. J. VanBaarda, Duncan Finlayson, Peter Miller, Daniel Illiffe, Alex. Dewar and Mr. Butterworth.

Mr. Farquhar made a few remarks, speaking of the advance of horticulture, of the scale it is now being carried on, how the whole of Europe is looking to this country as a market for plants, and for new things. He paid tribute to Joseph Clarke, for many years in charge of the H. L. Higginson estate at West Manchester, and said Mr. Clarke was known all over the country.

Mr. Duncan was also called upon, and he spoke of the beautiful country along this section, how everything seems to thrive, and closed by offering a toast to the ladies.

Rev. L. H. Ruge made a few remarks, closing by telling a story of the wonderful growth of a cucumber vine in the west.

Rev. E. H. Brewster gave one of his characteristic speeches. He read from a clipping found in an old copy of a Taunton paper printed in the early 60's, in which his grandfather's speech made before an argicultural society was reported. Continuing he spoke of the cultivation of the beautiful as carried on today and its effect on the well-being of people. Such a thing was not advanced by our Puritan forefathers, he said. Horticulture today is not a tool of luxury, but an industry of science. He spoke of the great temperance movement in the south, how the colored man is today closing the doors of the saloon, that has kept the white man enslaved for years.

A feature of the program this year was the singing by the company. Printed slips were passed around with the words to some of the popular songs, and the audience entered into the spirit of the occasion. Fred K. Swett led in the singing. Mrs. F. G. Cheever, Mrs. E. H. Wilcox and Mrs. Thomas Baker sang several selections, and the readings by Miss Tanner of Gloucester were well received.

The concert was over about 9.45 and the rest of the evening until midnight was spent in dancing. John D. Morrison was floor director. Long's orchestra furnished the music for this and during the banquet.

The supper this year was not furnished by a caterer, but was in charge of the committee, though most of the food was prepared at Bullock's. A bevy of young misses waited on table and gave excellent service. They were: Misses Alice Lations, Abbie Floyd, Ethel Standley, Annie Younger, Ethel Jones, Alice Hoare, Alice Tappan, Minnie Olsen, Lillian Nunn, Maude Smith, Princie Dodge, Effie Stidstone and May Rogers. Misses Alice Clark and Agnes Carter assisted at the door.

The affair was a pronounced success and much credit is due the committee which was composed of Dr. W. H. Tyler, chairman; W. E. Allen, secretary; John Baker, John D. Morrison and R. A. Mitchell.

present day; Dr. Doune was Dean of St. Paul's, a man of devout and contemplative mind, and a poet of no mean order of the mystical school; of his preaching the high praise is given, of "carrying some to heaven in holy raptures, and enticing others by a sacred art and courtship to amend their lives, here picturing a vice so as to make it ugly to those that practised it; and a virtue so as to make it beloved by those who loved it not; and all this with a most particular grace, and an unexpressible addition of comeliness." Sir Henry Wotton was a scion of a family distinguished for generations in letters, in public service, and in all worthy living; he was himself a great scholar, a skilfull and honest diplomat, and withal a humble and sincere christian; rejoicing as he neared the end of a life in which he had not always floated on a calm sea, but had met with cross winds and storms, that God had prevented him from "making shipwreck of faith and a good conscience, and that now I see that I draw near my harbor of death, that harbor that will secure me from all the future storms and waves of this restless world; and I praise God that I am willing to leave it, and expect a better; that world wherein dwelleth righteous ness; and I long for it." Richard Hooker was the author of the "Ecclesiastical Polity," a most grave and reverend divine, a profound scholar preferring the quiet of a country parsonage to the scenes of the Court and the honors of a bishopric; a most humble man, meek and patient, leaving behind him not only the reputation of learning and intellectual greatness but the aroma of a godly life. Of George Herbert, the youthful poet of the "Temple," and the saintly parish priest, cut off by early death, born to affluence and a family name, but setting higher value upon the privilege of ministering to the poor and lowly, of fine musical taste, playing his viol and singing his way to heaven, wearing life out in constant vigils and devotion, the frail body at last yielding to the pressure of the keen and earnest spirit, it is enough to say that no finer or more beautiful soul ever adorned the history of the venerable Church of which he was so devoted and loyal a son. Dr. Robert Sanderson, the least known perhaps of the group, deserves a place in the beadroll for his learning, piety and services, a valiant disputant and doughty champion of the Church, an able and judicious administrator, a man of vast learning, dying in the eighty-fifth year of his age, "a pattern of meekness and primitive innocence."

The style of Walton abounds in archaisms, is at times dignified and stately, and at times easy and flowing, and carries the reader on with an ever-increasing sense of the author's virility and grace. Of the "Lives" those of Sir Henry Wotton and Herbert have a special charm; the latter especially is a classic, and has often been reprinted with editions of the "Temple:" it is one of the most gracious and graceful pieces of biography in the English language, a rarely beautiful story of a rarely beaut ful life, a story and life that breathe of the lily of the valley and the hills of frankincense.

Walton was a most pronounced churchman and royalist; he treats all nonconformity with scant respect; he could see no good in Puritanism, though it numbered in its ranks such men as Milton, Cromwell and Hampden, John Cotton, John Harvard and Thomas Hooker, and many another whose names are now "writ large" among the world's true heroes aud helpers. Herbert, with all his churchliness, was of broader calibre and wider outlook, as witness his famous lines which narrowly escaped the ban of the Censor,

"Religion stands a tip-toe in our land,
Ready to pass to the American strand."

Walton lived to the great age of ninety years, and to the last day of his life possessed "all that should accompany old age, as honor, love, obedience, troops of friends." He was laid to rest among the virtuous and wise in Winchester Cathedral. Upon the marble slab in the pavement above his grave is this inscription:

Here resteth the body of
Mr. Isaac Walton
Who dyed the 15th of December
1683
Alas hees gone before
Gone to return noe more:
Our panting breasts aspire
After their aged Sire
Whose well-spent life did last
Full ninety years and past
But now he hath begun
That which will nere be done
Crowned with eternall blisse
We wish our Souls with his.

At the weekly meeting of Col. H. P. Woodbury camp, 149, S. of. V., Manchester, Tuesday evening, Lyman W. Floyd received the unanimous endorsement of the camp as candidate for Senior Vice Division Commander and his name will be presented before the convention to be held in Boston, Feb. 11 and 12. Mr. Floyd is a charter member of the local camp, a past commander of the same and from its inscription has been an active member. He has also been affiliated with the order in honorable positions, both state and national. A special aid on the staff of Commander-in-chief Edwin M. Amies, as representative of the Mass. Division at national encampments, Boston, Gettysburg, Peoria and Dayton, he is credited with having performed such appreciative service as to commend his candidacy to the favorable consideration of the convention.

Demonstration Lesson by Miss Connolly's Class This Evening.

This evening, at 8 o'clock, in the Manchester Town hall, there will be a demonstration by the members of Miss May D. Connolly's Beverly Farms' class in physical training. Miss Connolly has issued about 350 tickets for the affair, to her Beverly Farms and Manchester friends. Besides the exercises by her Beverly Farms pupils there will also be an exhibition of indian clubs and fencing by Miss Marguerite Higgins and Miss Gertrude Connolly, Sargent School, '09, Cambridge, dainty steps by Misses Genevieve O'Connor and Katherine Green, of Miss Connolly's Roxbury class, 2d year, and classic dancing by Miss Anna Connolly.

The program for the evening follows:

Night Telephone Rates.

The New England Telephone & Telegraph Company and the Southern Massachusetts Telephone Company have announced that on and after February 1st, 1908, the night rate for their toll service will apply between the hours of 10 P. M. and 4 A. M. instead of between 6 P. M. and 6 A. M.

An official of the company says—"This change is necessary on account of the practice which has grown up of deferring calls which would ordinarily be made through the day, until after 6 P. M. when the night rate goes into effect. The result of this practice has been to crowd a very large number of calls into a short space of time immediately after 6 P. M. The effect of this congestion of traffic is to place such a strain on the plant and operating force that necessarily a large number of calls are lost or delayed."

Hearing on Matter of Court House.

A hearing was given at the State House Thursday before the committee on judiciary on the matter of a district court at Beverly to include besides Beverly the towns of Wenham, Hamilton and Manchester. The day previous the Manchester selectmen had a meeting and voted to favor the plan, and Selectman Swett represented the town at the hearing.

Mr. Swett stated that the business interests of Beverly and Manchester were identical in many respects, inasmuch as our business men do their banking in Beverly, and are members of the Business Men's Association. Beverly capital is interested in Manchester real estate and visa versa, and he stated that he was instructed to place Manchester on record as favoring a district court at Beverly.

To aid in securing legislation along this line an association was organized, with Mayor Dow of Beverly, president. Rep. W. R. Brooks and Thomas D. Connolly of the Farms, and Selectman Swett and G. E. Willmonton of Manchester were elected on the executive committee. Chief Peabody was elected on the finance committee.

Friend's Bible Class Elect Officers.

The members of the Friends' Bible class met last Tuesday evening for reorganization at the home of Mrs. Lydia Williams, Hart street, and the following officers were elected:

Mrs. William C. Webster, president; Mrs. Lydia E. Williams, vice-president; Mrs. Daniel W. Hardy, secretary; Mrs. George Batchelder, treasurer; Mrs. Duncan T. Smith (chairman), Mrs. Mary Bennett, Mrs. John Burchsted, Mrs. Daniel W. Hardy, Mrs. Edwin May and Mrs. William P. Day, executive committee.

After transacting the general business it was voted to adjourn to Feb. 25 when the class will meet with Mrs. Elizabeth Hull, Hart street, to make out a plan to work on in connection with a special object for the interest of the Farms Baptist church.

Business Note.

An important business change at Beverly Farms, announced in today's BREEZE for the first time, is that in connection with the purchase by Walter P. Brewer, of the Walker Bros. & Co. provision market, Central square. Mr. Brewer has bought Walker Bros. & Co.'s North Shore business including their good will and trade, and will open the store for business on or about the 20th of April. Mr. Brewer has had some 25 years experience on the North Shore, the past eight years of which has been in the capacity of manager of Wyatt's Market, Beverly Farms. His announcement will be found in this issue.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I beg to announce to the residents of the North Shore that I have purchased from Walker Bros. & Co. the provision business conducted by them at Beverly Farms for the past twenty years, including their good will and trade. Having had twenty-five years experience on the North Shore, eight years as manager of Wyatt's Market, I thoroughly understand the selection of choice meats, fruits, vegetables, etc., carried by first-class markets. The business will be conducted under the name of Brewer's Market, which will be opened on or about April 20, 1908. I solicit your patronage.

WALTER P. BREWER.

Beverly Farms, Mass., Feb. 10, 1908.

We, the undersigned, certify that we have sold the good will and trade of our North Shore business to Walter P. Brewer.

(Signed) Walker Bros. & Co.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 1, 1908.

Joyce-Whelton.

The marriage of Albert C. Joyce of Salem and Ipswich to Miss Theresa C. Whelton, also of Salem, was solemnized Wednesday evening, and Mr. Joyce's Farms friends are offering their hearty congratulations. Mr. Joyce was a resident of the Farms at one time.

BEVERLY FARMS

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Wales of Keene, N. H., have spent the past week visiting relatives at the Farms.

Mrs. Charles E. Harvey and two children returned to their home in Lewiston, Me., Thursday after a pleasant visit of a week with Farms friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Hardy have been entertaining the past week Miss Sarah Bradley, who expects to prolong her visit for a month or six weeks.

The bill to establish a district court at Beverly was presented by Rep. W. K. Brooks, and a hearing was given Thursday, a number of Farms business men appearing in favor.

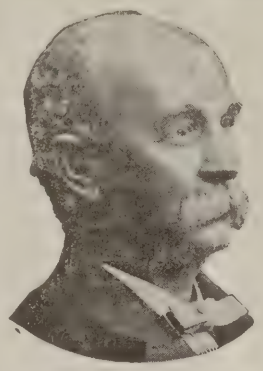

Mr. and Mrs. James E. McDonnell have been entertaining the past week Mr. McDonnell's mother and sister who came on from Clinton the early part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Gerrish attended a reunion and banquet at the Revere House, Boston, Wednesday, of former residents of Kittery, Me., who now make their home in this section.

Rumor has it that soon there is to be built a new business block at the Farms, the location of same to be near the present business center, to have stores on the street floor, offices in the 2nd story and the third or top to be an assembly hall.

The following committee had charge of the Engine company, No. 3, booth at the fair in City hall the past week: Mrs. J. M. Publicover, Mrs. T. G Gauld, Mrs. W. E Elliott, Capt. D. T. Smith, Lieut. J. M. Publicover and Howard P. Williams. The committee wish to extend thanks to all who so generously contributed to their table.

Miss Ada V. Hall, formerly teacher of the 4th grade at the Farms school paid a farewell visit to the school Friday of last week, to say good-bye to the scholars who plainly showed their sorrow in their loss and presented Miss Hall with numerous tokens of their esteem. Miss Hall's marriage to Mr. Pratt takes place today, and the young people leave shortly on their trip to the other side of the globe,— the Philippines.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pierce has spent a portion of this week visiting relatives of Mrs. Pierce's at Greenfield.

The Firemen's fair at Beverly City hall this week has been a strong attraction every evening for many of the Farms' people.

Harold Stanley of Manchester has concluded his services at John Daniels' provision store and his successor is John Leahy.

Mrs. Clarence Strong Pond entertained the members of the Sewing circle Thursday evening at the parsonage on High street.

Samuel Chapman moved his family this week to North Easton, where Mr. Chapman goes to accept a position upon the new Oak Ames estate.

A large delegation from the local council, K. of C., attended the exemplification of the third degree of the Knights of Columbus at Beverly, Wednesday evening.

Charles E. Buxton, known to his many friends here as "Buck," the popular meat cutter at the Preble-Thissell Co. market, concluded his duties there tonight to accept a similar position elsewhere.

Alexander Dow, who may now lay claim to being the oldest Farms' resident, has been confined to his home for the past two weeks,—something unusual for Mr. Dow, as he has enjoyed excellent health, despite his 80 or more years.

The members of Miss May D. and Gertrude Connolly's classes in gymnastics and physical culture have made plans for a minstrel and drama which they will present to the public sometime in the near future. A social and dance will follow the entertainment.

The legislative committee on Charitable institutions visited the Deaf Mute school at Beverly last Tuesday afternoon and were met by the board of directors of the institution of which Charles H. Trowt and Thomas D. Connolly, two of the Farms' well-known business men, are members.

At the hose-laying contest at City hall Wednesday evening, given under the auspices of the Firemen's Relief association, in which the world's record was smashed by the Woburn team which did the trick in 11 2-5 seconds, the Beverly Farms department was represented by two teams,—Benj. Hawkins and W. S. Pike, jr., on one team, and the George Burchsted and E. Fred Day on the other. While the Farms' boys did not land a prize, their work was indeed creditable, especially so, as there were 16 teams in the contest, some of which might be considered professionals.

BUSINESS MEN'S BANQUET

Manchester, Beverly Farms and Beverly Merchants gather around Festive Board.

The second annual banquet of the Business Men's association, composed of Beverly and Manchester business men, was held Monday evening at Beverly City hall, and a most enjoyable occasion it proved. An excellent repast was served by the Dirigo Catering Co. of Beverly, after which speech-making was in order.

The speakers of the evening were the Hon. Thomas Thomson, the former "stone cutter mason" mayor of New Bedford, and Hon. Benjamin N. Johnson of Lynn. Mayor Dow of Beverly also spoke. The first named speaker in discussing the conditions of today made references to President Roosevelt which aroused the greatest enthusiasm and he was given a reception seldom accorded a speaker when at the close of his talk the gathering, with one accord, jumped to their feet, and led by Col. Stopford, gave him three rousing cheers and a tiger.

Among those who sat at the head table were F. K. Hooper of Manchester, a member of the committee in charge; James B. Dow, of Beverly Farms, and Selectman Swett of Manchester, who was a guest of the association. Others present included:

Manchester—O. T. Roberts, John W. Carter, E. A. Lane, G. L. Knight, L. W. Floyd, Frank H. Dennis, A. C. Hooper, J. A. Lodge, R. C. Allen, L. A. Dunn, E. S. Bradley, Wm. Hoare, J. W. Campbell, E. S. Knight, D. T. Beaton, G. E. Willmonton and F. L. Decker.

Beverly Farms—F. I. Lamasney, Howard A. Doane, T. J. McDonnell, T. D. Connolly, D. W. Hardy, W. B. Publicover, J. J. Nugent, J. D. Hooper, F. W. Varney, Elmer Standley and J M. Publicover.

DEMONSTRATION BY PHYSICAL TRAINING CLASS.

The demonstration lesson given in the Manchester Town hall last Saturday evening by Miss Connolly's class in physical training, Beverly Farms, was an attraction well worth seeing. It might be suggested, in fact, that it proved a surprise, for the nature of the class was unknown to many.

Miss Connolly is to be congratulated on the success of her class, and the course of training through which she has guided the half hundred or more young people has done much good. About thirty of the class took part in the exhibition lesson, the floor space not permitting more to take part.

A space was set off in the center of the hall, and three rows of seats were arranged along the two sides of the hall, and half a dozen or more on the end, while there were seats also upon the stage. Promptly at 8 o'clock Miss Connelly marched from the anti-room with her class and they marched in single file around the room, later forming in squads, etc., and giving an exhibition of the so-called Swedish exercises. Fancy steps was the second number, and wands and class fencing completed this part of the program. Two pretty little misses from Miss Connolly's second year class at Roxbury,—Genevieve O'Connor and Katherine Green,—then gave an exhibition of some fancy steps, and when they had completed they were each presented with a beautiful bouquet of roses.

Dumb-bell exercises, in which bean bags were substituted for dumb-bells, and relay races by the class were the next attractions and this was followed by classic dancing by Miss Anna Connolly. Misses Marguerite Higgins and Gertrude Connolly, Sargent School, '09, gave an exhibition of indian club swinging and fencing. The concluding numbers by the class were classic dancing (the caprice movement) and dodge ball.

Miss Connolly has been able to conduct her class at the Farms largely through the assistance of a summer resident.

Notice to Subscribers.

A recent ruling of the Postal authorities at Washington forbids a publisher to mail his paper at second-class rates to a subscriber one year or more in arrears. The publisher may, however, continue to mail the paper, but at newspaper rates, which practically means one cent a copy, i. e., one cent for four ounces or less, for each single package.

That the readers of the BREEZE receiving the paper by mail may be informed the order is printed here and is as follows:

"A reasonable time will be allowed publisher to secure renewals of subscriptions, but unless subscriptions are expressly renewed after the terms for which they are paid, within the following period, weeklies within one year,—they shall not be counted in the legitimate lists of subscribers, and copies mailed on account thereof shall not be accepted for mailing at the second-class postage rate of 1 cent a pound, but may be mailed at the transient second-class postage rate of 1 cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof, prepaid by stamps affixed."

To those of our readers who may have allowed their subscriptions to lapse a year or more this special notice is addressed. A publisher may have every confidence in his delinquent subscribers, and under former conditions, would probably continue them on his subscription list, but such a course is now impossible, as no publisher can afford to do business with backward subscribers, handicapped by the ruling above mentioned.

P. S. Watch for Announcement in Monday's Salem Evening News, February 10, for one of the Greatest Merchandise Events of the year 1908.

MANCHESTER

Mrs. C. D. Temple was taken to the hospital at Boston Wednesday for treatment.

The Haphazard club will meet Monday evening, Feb. 10, with Mrs. Frank G. Cheever.

Herman C. Swett, who almost lost the use of one of his eyes last week when a nail he struck with a hammer was deflected and hit him in the white of the eye, was able to return to his work yesterday.

Thomas Cameron and Mrs. Elias Burgess are receiving the sympathy of their friends in the death of their mother, Mrs. Mary Jane Cameron, in Haverhill, on Monday of this week. Mrs. Cameron died in the hospital as the result of injuries received in falling down stairs at her home.

Melvin Ingalls, the Gloucester lad who was complicated in the break at the Sea street crossing house a fortnight ago, was committed to the Mass. reformatory at Concord, Monday. The case was held over again last Saturday until the naval authorities were communicated with, it being thought they might want to take Ingalls back as a deserter from the navy. The authorities, however, don't want him until he reaches his 17th birthday.

High School Cantata.

Tickets are now on sale for the cantata, "The Building of the Ship," to be presented at the Town hall, Manchester, on Wednesday evening, Feb. 26, by the Story High school. The words of the cantata are from the poem of Henry W. Longfellow and the music is by Henry Lahee. The students of the High school will be assisted by the following soloists: Edward E. Bullock, tenor; Mrs. H. Y. Follett, soprano; Miss Edith Poole, contralto; H. Y. Follett, bass. The music teacher, George E. Wales will be instructor, and Miss Hazel Wyman, pianist. Admission is 25 cents, and reserved seats 35 cents. Tickets are on sale at Cheever's Drug store, and admission tickets may also be obtained from the High school students.

For Printing Town Report.

The contract for printing the anuual Town Report, of Manchester, has been awarded to the NORTH SHORE BREEZE, and the work is now well underway. This makes the fourth year the report has been handled by the BREEZE. For the next few weeks it is fair to assume that Town Auditor Cheever will be the busiest of the town officials, preparing "copy" for the printer and reading proofs.

Society Notes

Mrs. Frank Morison, who went abroad last fall soon after leaving Beverly Farms, arrived in New York on the St. Louis last week.

Mrs. Leonard Ahl and son, Leonard D. Ahl, Mrs. Hall Curtis and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Heaton are registered at the Breakers, Palm Beach, Fla.

Mrs E. C. Swift is sailing for Europe about the 20th of this month to be away the balance of the winter. She will come on to her Pride's residence the coming week.

Chas. E. Mason, second son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Mason of the Manchester colony, has bought a town house 25 Exeter street. Mr. Mason it will be remembered, married Miss Elizabeth Andrew, nearly three years ago, and their summer home is at Hingham.

The will of Mrs. Elizabeth S. Folsom, who died in Brookline Dec. 31st, has been allowed by the Norfolk probate court. The estate consists of $150,000, personal property and the bequests include the Exeter Cottage hospital, $10,000; town of Exeter $2000; First Parish church of Exeter, $2000. The executors are Edwin G. McInness and Elsie B. F. Mactaggart, both of Manchester.

We have been unable to confirm the report to the effect that Mrs Russell Sage, widow of Russell Sage, who was reputed to be one of the richest men in the United States at the time of his death, was to be numbered among the North Shore cottagers the coming season. It is said that representatives of Mrs. Sage have been on the shore recently and that a house occupied by one of the Washington contingent was selected as the one to be occupied by Mrs. Sage part of next summer. The family mentioned in this connection is now in Europe and they may remain abroad part of the coming season, in which event it might seem feasible to think that their cottage at Beverly Farms may be for lease part of the summer.

VALENTINES

We have a very large variety ranging in price from 1 cent to 50 cents. Don't forget the date, February 14.

H. G. NICHOLS

Successor to Geo. F. Allen

CENTRAL SQUARE, - MANCHESTER

Miss Adele G. Thayer is giving a musicale at her home on Commonwealth avenue, Boston, next Wednesday,—the 12th.

Boylston A. Beal, who sailed for Europe shortly after leaving Manchester in the fall, returned on the Saxonia last week. His family is still abroad.

Her health completely restored Mrs. A. Henry Higginson is now back from Colorado and is with Mr. Higginson at his Lincoln estate, having joined Mr. Higginson at Leesburg, Va., last week. Mr. Higginson has had his famous hounds at Leesburg and he will enter them in the Boston Dog show which begins Feb. 19.

Despite the protests of a few dissatisfied professionals, the national association will in all probability uphold the selection of the Myopia Country club course for the national open tournament to be held in August. After the last time the event was held at Myopia some of the players declared they would not play there again.

Robert C. Hooper, with his daughter Miss Helen Hooper, and her intimate school friend, Miss Gertrude Hunnewell, sailed on the Arabic from New York Thursday for the eastern cruise, which includes in its itinerary Egypt and the Holy Land, Constantinople and Athens as well as Italy and the Riviera Mr. Hooper and the two young people will be absent until June, when, after a visit in France and England they will sail for home on the Mauretania. Mr. Hooper and his daughter will come at once upon arriving, to their summer home in West Manchester.

TOWN Meeting

Is now only three weeks off,

AND the political bee is beginning to get busy;

THOUGH there does not appear to be much activity along the line; few candidates have yet lined up.

IT is generally conceded that the present Board of Selectmen will be returned. And there is no reason why they should not be. They have performed their duty with credit to themselves and to the town.

As to the Board of Assessors the consensus of opinion seems to be that the present incumbents, who are announcing their candidacy this week, should be elected to this office. Chairman Swett is a candidate for the three-year term, Edward S. Knight for the two-year term and Walter R. Bell for the one-year term. This board will probably be elected.

A FEW other names have been mentioned as being possible candidates, both for Selectmen and Assessors, but none of these, it appears to us, do the voters of the town stand ready to substitute for the efficient board we now have. One man, we understand, is seeking a position on the Board of Selectmen with no other object in view, it would appear, than to boost from office one of the officials appointed by that board. The voters who want to support such a move as this are few and far between. A man who works on any such motives as this usually turns out to be a pretty poor tool.

A "fresh air school" unique among educational institutions in this country, was opened in Providence, R. I., last week. The school is conducted indoors, in that it is inside a building, but great swinging windows on three sides of each room, extending the length and width of each, and an extensive system of ventilation, afford an atmosphere of cold, pure air, free from germs, and easily adaptable to the conditions necessary to comfortable and hygienic study by each student. The school is built in the shape of an H, so that three sides of each room is exposed to the light.

Although absolutely new in this country, the "fresh air school" is not an experiment, as it has demonstrated its usefulness in European countries to the extent that in many cities in England and on the continent they are considered a necessary part of the school system.

WHISPERINGS.

The fence along the Norwood avenue side of the G. A. Priest school yard, Manchester, looks as if a miniature earthquake had struck it, or as if one of those fissures we have been reading about the past few days had opened up along the line of the fence. The zig-zag line of the posts and iron rails is caused, no doubt, by the boys jumping and vaulting over the fence.

* * * *

The man who opened up the wrong end of the "pill box" on two occasions the other night, when two candidates were being voted upon at one of the Manchester societies, and showed the "black ball" end of the ballot box to the presiding officer instead of the white ball partition, must have been seeing things "wrong end to."

* * * *

And the man who came into the BREEZE office yesterday morning inquiring for the Boston American Express office must have been reading that "yellow journal" for which Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilson writes.

Have your printing done at The Breeze Print, Manchester.

Society Notes

The Misses Katherine P. and Louise Loring closed their cottage at Pride's Tuesday and have gone to Aiken, S. C., to spend the balance of the winter.

Dr. Henry F. Sears and family closed their house, near Chapman's corner, Beverly Cove, Thursday, and will spend the next two months at Jeckel's Island, off the Georgia coast.

Eben D. Jordon sailed on the Saxonia on her last outward trip and will spend the next few months in a tour of England, France, Switzerland, and Southern Europe. He will return the last of June and will come at once to his West Manchester estate.

Advertising Suggestions

When a man has a superior article at a reasonable price and gives proper publicity the beaten paths from his door may well radiate in all directions; but without publicity the grass will grow green on his door step.

RESOLUTIONS.

In his remarks made at the fourth annual banquet of the Gloucester letter carriers held at the Belmont hotel, Gloucester, last week, Postmaster Brown referred to the addition of the Magnolia station. The sales for the past six months at Magnolia, he said, were $3465.73. The money order business shows a large increase. At Magnolia for the past six months 760 orders were issued, fees $56.44, and the amount $8963.15. As to registry matter, Magnolio sent out 779 domestic letters, 125 foreign letters, 96 domestic parcels, 10 foreign parcels, 77 free matter; while 666 pieces of registered matter were received and delivered.

A Brilliant Success.

The Vaudeville for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid society Wednesday evening was a brilliant success. Mrs. H C. Foster and Miss Alice Story were its projectors and they were aided by a sparkling array of local talent. Every performer was recalled by the enthusiastic audience and obliged to do his "stunt" a second time. The program was as follows:

Music, Mrs. Chane and James Chane
Pansy Faces, Mrs. Fred Dunbar, aided by Mrs. Frank Abbott, Misses Helen Lycett, Georgia Dunbar, Edna Symonds and Ruth Scott.
Character Song, "Harrigan," Frank Abbott
Character Song, "Red Wing," with Tableau, Miss Anna Chane

MANCHESTER

The Manchester band held its first meeting of the winter Sunday. It will probably begin regular practice soon.

Ralph C. Critchett, instructor at the N. E. Conservatory of Music, was a guest Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis L. Roberts.

A number of young people went to Salem yesterday afternoon to witness a performance of "Macbeth" at the Empire theatre.

The attractive menu cards used at the Business Men's banquet, Beverly, Monday evening, were a product of the BREEZE office.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Dyer and family were called to South Weymouth Thursday afternoon by the death of Mrs. Dyer's brother-in-law, George E. Scott. Mr. Scott was formerly instructor in gymnastics in a Y. M. C. A., Philadelphia.

Union Defender's Day,—Lincoln's Birthday, will be observed in Manchester next Wednesday evening, Feb. 12, with special patriotic exercises in G. A. R. hall, under the direction of the local relief corps. The members of the camp and post are invited.

The Literary society of the Story High school elected the following officers Thursday: Miss Edith Northup, president; Willard Rust, vice president; Miss Abbie Floyd, secretary; Byron Hobbs, treasurer; Edward Wheaton, Agnes Sjorlund, John Gray and Cheever Hersey, executive committee.

One of the Boston papers on Wednesday contained an item on Chief of Police Urquhart of Arlington, formerly of Manchester, how the chief went to serve a warrant on a man for non support and found upon entering the house that there had been an explosion in the kitchen which had completely wrecked the place. With great haste he summoned help for the injured woman and child.

Norman Olson met with quite a serious accident last Monday afternoon. While delivering hay at the Howe barn, Smith's Point, he accidently fell from the team and it is supposed he became dazed for as he was driving home he again fell from his seat and this time was severely hurt He was found lying in the road by Wm. Follett in an unconscious condition and was brought home. He was attended by Dr. Glendenning, and a specialist was called from Salem. He is now well along toward recovery.

Letters remaining unclaimed at Manchester, Mass., P. O., for week ending Feb. 1. Toney Bass, Clara Cainer, J Delvine, Hugh E Johnston 2, C M Lane, Rev C A Little, Manchester School of Embroidery Editress, Alphonse King.

Mrs. May (Carroll) Boomer of Marblehead has been spending the week in town.

At a regular meeting of Post 67, G. A. R., held on Jan. 31 the candidacy of L. W. Floyd as senior vice division commander S. of V. was unanimously indorsed.

Mr. and Mrs. John Knight, who have been with Mrs. Knight's mother, Mrs. Abigail Gentlee, for an extended visit, have been spending the week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Webster F. Putnam, in Danvers.

Two palefaces will be adopted in Conomo tribe, Red Men, at the next meeting, Feb. 19. After the meeting the past week the chiefs had a feast in the forest, of which one of Manchester's justly famous cock stews was the principal item. Frank Crombie was the "chef."

If Manchester people think the past cold snap, with the mercury playing around the zero mark, has been severe, what would they say if it were 30 below? Miss Jessie Hoare, who is visiting at Houghton, Mich., writes home that it was from 20 to 30 degrees below zero there the first of the week.

Piled Up on Rocks.

The sloop Messenger, which went ashore on Sol's Point, Misery island, yesterday week in the storm, was released during Friday night, with the high tide, and Saturday was cast upon West Beach and badly smashed. The boat was owned by some fishermen.

A Commendable Move.

To give its employes an opportunity to have gardens of their own, the United Shoe Machinery Company at Beverly, has set apart three acres of its land at Beverly. Garden lots, 40 by 60 feet will be plotted off and will be allotted to employes who desire to cultivate them. Walks will be laid out between the gardens and each man who has a lot will take care of half of the walk.

Making Circuit of Country.

Starl Cronley of Toledo, Ohio, passed through Manchester and Beverly Farms Tuesday on his way from Gloucester, stopping at Beverly Farms and taking dinner at Mrs. Hennessey's boarding house, Hale street. Mr. Cronley is making a circuit of the country and is to do it in two years and eight months, in accordance with the terms of a wager. He left Toledo last October and up to the present time he has walked about 1830 miles. He wore a heavy reefer, leggins, and carried a rifle swung over his shoulder.

Miss Alveda Adams of Salem spent Sunday the guest of her sister Mrs. D. Elmer Butler.

Manchester paid to the county in 1907 as dog tax $317, and was rebated in this same connection $245.10.

Senator Shaw presided at the after-dinner entertainment, connected with the annual banquet of the Essex County legislators, in Boston, Tuesday night.

Harry T. Swett went to the Madam Des Brisay private hospital, 38 Newbury street, Boston, Wednesday and was operated upon yesterday by Dr. C. A. Porter for appendicitis.

Frank W. Fleming arrived home from Dartmouth college Wednesday for a short vacation. He has been troubled much with rheumatism since his recent illness.

Edmunds & Crocker of the Manchester Ice Co., completed harvesting their ice Tuesday, one of the ponds being cut on Saturday, one on Monday and the last on Tuesday. The ice averaged about 11 inches. If the cold snap continues they may be able to complete filling their houses, three out of the four rooms now being filled.

Nothing can speak better for the preserving qualities of platinum prints and sepias in photographic work than the test the pictures displayed in the show case attached to the outside of the Old Corner Store have been subjected to. The pictures were placed in the case last July by E. G. Merrill, the Salem photographer, as an advertising attraction, and they have not been disturbed since. Though the mounts have faded to a certain extend, and the pictures as a whole show the result of long exposure, the prints have stood the test extremely well and look as well today as they did six months ago. Perhaps it is not as much the platinum and the sepia, as the way these are manipulated at Merrill's studio before they are displayed. This Salem studio has had a big success with this sort of photography,—their specialty being children's photography. *

Prof. Hart on the South.

The industrial and racial situation in the South was never more interesting and important than at the present day. Prof. Albert Bushnell Hart's series of articles on the South, therefore, in the Boston Evening Transcript, the first of which appeared Saturday, February 1st, will be a valuable addition to the literature now before the public on the subject. Those interested who want to follow the series, which will appear consecutively on Wednesdays and Saturdays following in six installments, may have them mailed at the regular supscription price, eighteen cents for the six issues.

Mr. Pierce of the Pierce Nursery has leased of Mrs. Williams an eight-acre lot of land, to enlarge his business.

The Girls' club has arranged for the annual "parents' night" for next Tuesday evening. Mrs. Bishop has been invited to be present and will speak on "Altruism in Daily Life."

Miss Williams, principal of the Farms' School, returned to her duties last Monday after a three weeks' absence due to illness. On Tuesday Miss O'Brien and Miss Bruorton were obliged to turn over their work to substitutes owing to illness.

Night officer Bray goes on duty two hours earlier than usual, or at 6 p. m. instead of 8 p. m. This was brought about from the fact that Day Officer Williams completes his day's work at 6 p. m., and the central portion of the Farms was not covered during the two hours intervening until 8 o'clock, the busiest hours of the evening.

William F. Eddy has been appointed by Mayor Dow to serve as special police officer without pay at Neighbor's hall, Beverly Farms.

Among those who won prizes at the recent Firemen's Fair in City hall were: Councilman Loring, 19-lb. ham; E. Fred Day, sofa pillow; Duncan T. Smith, morris chair; Benj. Hawkins, jr., 50-ride Boston book and Edwin F. Campbell, doilies.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blanchard (Mabel Garrel) celebrated their wooden wedding anniversary at their home on Hart street, Tuesday evening. Guests were present from Beverly, North Beverly and Manchester. The evening passed very pleasantly. Refreshments were served on wooden dishes.

New Hotel to be Built at Magnolia?

A report comes to us from a reliable sourse that a new mammoth hotel structure is planned to take the place of the New Magnolia hotel at Magnolia, which was totally destroyed by fire on October 5 last. It is understood that the new hotel will far exceed in size the burned structure; in fact, it is the purpose of the promoters to cover the entire lot at Magnolia with a concrete structure, which will be as near fire-proof as money, skill and science can make it, and it is estimated that the cost will be in the vicinity of $600,000.

Manchester's former Chief of Police Urquhart of Arlington figured prominently in the capture of two of the bold highway men who descended upon the city of Woburn Thursday night and left a trail of holdups and attempted murders behind them. One of the Arlington police captured the two men on an electric car.

George E. B. Stroplé of Rockport has been making several of his cyclonic "whirls" to town the past week. You may rest assured of one thing, and that is, when Stroplé strikes town some "poor mother, wife or family" is well protected before he leaves, for he usually writes up a life insurance policy before he gets away.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I beg to announce to the residents of the North Shore that I have purchased from Walker Bros. & Co. the provision business conducted by them at Beverly Farms for the past twenty years, including their good will and trade. Having had twenty-five years experience on the North Shore, eight years as manager of Wyatt's Market, I thoroughly understand the selection of choice meats, fruits, vegetables, etc., carried by first-class markets. The business will be conducted under the name of Brewer's Market, which will be opened on or about April 20, 1908. I solicit your patronage.

WALTER P. BREWER.

A large thermometer, and one which was considered authority on the weather in this vicinity during the cold snap of the past week, has been hung outside the Farms station, a gift of J. B. Moulton.

A number of Beverly Farms republicans are looking forward with much interest to the annual banquet in City hall next Wednesday evening of the Beverly Republican club. Lieut. Gov. Draper and Cong. Gardner will be the principal speakers.

Edwin F. Campbell and Benj. Hawkins, jr., took civil service examinations the past week to qualify for membership in the local fire department. Both gentlemen are now on the anxious seat, awaiting to hear the result of the test through which they were put.

Last Saturday's severe storm did considerable damage to many of the bathhouses at West Beach and the fishing sloop "Messenger" that had drifted on Sol's Point, Misery Island, the day previous came ashore, and has found a lasting mooring on the beach at the entrance to the pier a total wreck, buried deep in the sands. This, added to the extreme high seas, was an inducement for many to brave the storm and make a sight-seeing trip to the beach.

Pratt—Hall.

The marriage at Wakefield last Saturday, Feb. 1, of Harry C. Pratt and Miss Ada Venus Hall is of interest to Manchester and Beverly Farms people inasmuch as Miss Hall had taught for several years at the Beverly Farms school, and lived during that time in Manchester. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride by Rev. Austin Rice of the Wakefield Congregational church. The couple were unattended and only the immediate families were present. After a wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Pratt left for San Francisco whence they will sail on Feb. 20 for Cavite, Philippine Islands. Mr. Pratt is a draughtsman in the navy department and goes to the Philippines in that connection.

The many friends and former neighbors of Charles E. Ober will be interested to learn that he was admitted, on February 1, as a member of the banking firm of Blodget, Merritt & Co., 60 State street, Boston, and 30 Nassau street, New York. Mr. Ober was born and always lived at the Farms until recently when he moved to Beverly. He has long been connected with the firm of which he is now a member.

Beverly Farms was startled by what is supposed to be a miniature earthquake Wednesday morning, though some think it was nothing but the result of the frost. A small fissure in the earth, about one-half an inch wide was discovered, starting at the foundations of the Robert Robertson Co.'s plumbing shop, opposite the railroad station, and running across the street to the building occupied by Michael Murphy, the harness maker, and then continuing across the yard to Charles H. Day's house,—about 100 feet in all. No damage was done to the houses, apparently.

Mr. and Mrs. Mattis Hansen have been spending a part of the past week at Exeter, N. H., guests of Mr. Hansen's relatives.

Lewis Hardy left Tuesday for Rutland, Mass., where he goes to take a treatment at the State sanitorium. He will be away a couple of months.

Albert Haskell, formerly night operator at the local telephone exchange, has resigned to accept a position with an automobile supply concern in Boston.

The ice at Gravelly Pond is from 10 to 12 inches thick and of excellent quality. Addison Davis, the local ice dealer, expects to begin cutting the first of next week.

Mrs. L. S. B. Wyatt is announcing in another column that Wyatt's Market will open for the season on or about March 16 under the management of C. E. Buxton. Mr. Buxton has recently been with the Preble-Thissell Co., having concluded his service there last week.

The Ladies' Sewing circle, as by usual custom of getting together at different times to work upon articles which are sold at their fair held in the summer, met at such a gathering at the Chapel Thursday afternoon, and at 6 o'clock sat down to an enticing supper, with turkey as the leading viand. Mr. Williams, the janitor of the church, as far as we have learned was the only guest. All the rest of the men folk were "froze out."

UP-TO-DATE BURGLAR

Drinks Wine and Smokes Cigars, then Jumps Wall 20 feet to the Ground.

Manchester had a burglar scare Thursday night, but as far as can be ascertained the would-be burglar escaped with nothing more than the contents of a bottle of wine, a gill or two of whiskey, and after he had smoked four good cigars.

The scene of the excitement was the summer cottage of the Walter J. Mitchells at Manchester Cove. Owing to the good work of the caretaker, Joseph Katen, and the prompt actions of Chief of Police Peabody the burglar was interrupted in his work before he had proceeded far.

Before 3 o'clock Mr. Katen noticed tracks leading up to the house which attracted his suspicions, especially so as he could not find where the tracks led away from the house again. He later telephoned to the police and Chief Peabody took the 5.15 train for Magnolia and was soon at the house. Meanwhile the chauffeur, Fred Southergreen, with a rifle, William Roberts. the coachman, with a revolver, and a young man living at the Cove had surrounded the house. The Chief and Mr. Katen entered the basement while the others kept guard without.

They passed from the basement to the first floor and the first thing to attract their attention was the fact that a small closet near the front door of the house, was locked, but there was no key either on the outside or inside, and they passed on through the house and up stairs to the attic.

In the attic traces of his presence were found in the butt ends of two cigars, an almost empty bottle of wine and a bottle of whiskey, the contents of which had also been investigated by the visitor.

They were looking around for further evidence of a visit when they heard shots on the outside and it was later found that the burglar had broken the shutter off the window in the little closet down stairs and had escaped. He was seen by one of the three men watching and the others were quickly notified with the result that the fellow was persued by all.

He jumped over a wall, some twenty feet to the ground on the back side of the house and escaped to the highway down over the hill, but not until four shots from the weapons carried by the coachman and chauffeur had been sent in his direction. The fellow left his cap behind,—the only thing with which to identify him. He wore no overcoat, and was a man of medium build.

Later in the evening a man was seen on University lane, with bare head, and from the description, the police think it was the same man.

Yesterday morning in following up the tracks of the burglar a pin and a pair of gloves that he had dropped in running were found, but it is known that he did not take away anything of value.

LINCOLN'S DAY

Observed in Manchester by Exercises in G. A. R. Hall.

Lincoln's Birthday was recognized in Manchester this week by exercises at all the schools on Wednesday and by exercises in G. A. R. hall Thursday evening, in charge of Allen Relief corps. The latter was a semi-public affair and the little hall was crowded, the program presented being of an especially interesting nature.

Mrs. J. S. Reed, president of the corps, presided, and on her right and left, respectively, were Commanders Enoch Crombie of the post, and Fred K. Swett of the camp. Mrs. Seddie Follett, patriotic instructor of the corps, had charge of the exercises. The first number was singing by all, "The Battle Cry of Freedom."

WEST BEACH CORPORATION.

Some Facts of Interest Connected with West Beach, One of the Most Popular Spots Along the North Shore.

In view of the fact that the annual meeting of the West Beach corporation —the Beverly Farms' town meeting—is to be held at Beverly Farms next Monday evening, and inasmuch as West Beach is probably used to a greater extend and by more people in the summer months than any other beach along the North Shore, the following facts in regard to the property and the corporation which owns it might be of interest to a big proportion of BREEZE readers.

The West Beach corporation property is located at Beverly Farms, and the West Beach corporation was incorporated by an act of the Massachusetts Legislature in the year 1852, it being a grant from John West to the people living within that portion of Beverly known as the West Farms, which portion embraces all of that part of Beverly east of a straight line at Pride's Crossing running through the estates of Miss K. P. Loring and Judge W. H. Moore to the sea.

The West Beach corporation was created so that there might be a place for boating, bathing, the gathering of drift stuff, etc., by the inhabitants residing within the district.

In the natural order of events and especially within the last few years there has come a material change in almost everything connected with the property, as formerly the property was simply certain upland, beach and flats, used as a general rule by fishermen and farmers and with but few buildings; today, owing to the increase of population a considerable portion of the upland and some portions of the beach are utilized for buildings, they being practically all bath houses, many and varied in size and style; to such an extent has the property become a boating and bathing resort that it has become congested and it will be necessary in the near future to provide better facilities, especially with the idea of utilizing the property in such a man-

Prolong Life

In hundreds of instances Dr. Miles' Heart Cure has prolonged life many years, after all hope had been abandoned. It is a heart tonic. By its strengthening influence upon the heart nerves and muscles, the heart action is increased.

"My heart was weak and at times I thought I would die. I lost consciousness one morning, and did not recover for hours. My wife gave me whiskey and applied mustard. A friend advised Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I took two or three bottles and it keeps the old heart going right along. Have never had one of those spells since. I should have been dead years ago had I not found relief in this valuable remedy."

The assessors will be in session with the Registrars of Voters on Wednesday evening, Feb. 19, from 7 to 8 o'clock, for the purpose of assessing all persons qualified to be assessed and not assessed on May 1.

The hearing at the selectmen's office Thursday afternoon on the widening and relocation of a part of Pine street was very harmonious. About fifteen were present. Plans were presented for widening the street to thirty feet.

Percy A. Wheaton has bought from Mrs. A. E. Marshall her cottage on School street and about 9000 feet of land, and will remove here from Salem as soon as convenient. Jos. Vasconcellos now occupies the house.

The officers of the Grand Lodge will pay a visit to Magnolia lodge, 149, I. O. O. F., next Thursday night, on which occasion it is hoped that every member of the lodge will endeavor to be present. A collation will be served. Degree Master F. J. Merrill and staff worked the third degree on one candidate Thursday evening.

Tickets for the Manchester club minstrels went like the proverbial hot cakes when they were placed on sale last Monday evening. Long before 7.30, the hour set for the tickets to go on sale at the Town hall, a crowd was in line and the first fifteen in line bought practically the whole center of the house. Over 300 tickets were sold the first night and now only a small number remain. The show will be given in the Town hall next Friday evening.

Miss Susan E. Crowell.

Miss Susan Elizabeth Crowell died suddenly on Thursday, Feb. 13, at the Hotel Belvoir, Boston, where she was spending the winter.

Miss Crowell was a native of Manchester, being a daughter of the late Captain Samuel and Susan Crowell. She was born July 22, 1832, and spent the early years of her life in Manchester. Before the war she and her sister were governesses in a Virginian family. They returned to Manchester after the war and remained for a few years, when they went with their brother to California. Their brother was very successful in Colorado Springs.

Emily Crowell died a few years ago and her death was followed closely by that of her brother, Benjamin F. Crowell.

It was after the latter's death that Miss Crowell proposed to build a Memorial chapel in Manchester. At a special Town meeting held Sept. 22, 1902, the town voted to accept the gift of a memorial chapel from Susan E. Crowell, to be known as the "Benjamin F. Crowell Memorial Chapel." The gift was as a testimonial from Miss Crowell to her brother.

For the past three or four years Miss Crowell has resided in Boston, but she has spent much of her time either at Manchester or Magnolia in the summer season.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon in the Crowell Memorial chapel, at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in the family lot in Manchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex S. Porter, jr., were down to their Manchester cottage Saturday.

Miss Clara Winthrop and Miss Mary Curtis were down to the Winthrop cottage at West Manchester last Saturday for the day.

Reginald Boardman was down the shore Sunday for the day and enjoyed the bracing zero weather by a long walk,—about fifteen miles—along the North Shore.

Mrs. Gordon Abbott gave a St. Valentine's children's party at her town house, Beacon street, Boston, yesterday from 4 to 6, for the little friends of her son.

W. B. Walker returned Monday evening from a brief visit to Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Walker are still at their West Manchester residence, though their son's house in Boston is open, and he is spending most of his time there.

Mrs. M. D. Spaulding and two sons, John T. and William S. Spaulding are sailing for Europe the later part of this month, and they are planning to tour by auto for two or more months. Last year, it will be remembered, they took over their yacht Isis and spent much of their time cruising in Southern Europe.

It is reported that Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Russell, who have had a cottage on Coolidge's Point for the past two summers, are to occupy the S. V. R. Crosby cottage at West Manchester the coming season. Mr. and Mrs. Crosby and children are sailing the latter part of this month and will spend the greater part of the summer abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Fitch and daughter, Miss Helen Fitch, sailed last week for a couple of months or more touring abroad, most of which time they will spend in Algiers. Mr. and Mrs. Fitch's daughter, Mrs. Frank Northend of England, who has been in Switzerland, will join her parents and sister, and will tour with them. The Fitches will return in the spring and will spend the summer at their Manchester estate as usual.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Republican Club Banquet.

Congressman Gardner and Lieut. Gov. Draper were speakers at the annual banquet of the Beverly Republican club, Beverly City hall, Wednesday evening on which occasion Cong. Gardner delivered an effective speech which was cheered to the echo, the sentiment of which was favorable to Secretary Taft as the next President. He also favored pledged delegates to the convention, his choice for this district being, apparently, ex-Rep. Vittum of Beverly and Chas. M. Hoyt of Haverhill.

A reception had been tendered at the club in the early evening after which a line of march was formed to City hall for the banquet. Hon. Samuel Cole was the toast-master at the after-dinner speech-making. Mayor Dow welcomed the guests. He was followed by the lieutenant governor who represented the Governor of Mass Col. Bigney of Attleboro, a candidate for delegate-at-large to the convention, was another speaker.

Franklin K. Hooper of Manchester attended the banquet. The following from Beverly Farms were also present: Councilman A. P. Loring, jr., Charles H. Trowt, Representative Brooks, Postmaster Elmer Standley, Howard A. Doane, John S. Wallace, J. M. Publicover, Frank I. Preston, Wilbur J. Pierce, Alexander Carr, Herman McDonald and Howard E. Morgan.

Manchester Outing Club.

Owing to a lack of interest, except on the part of the younger members of the C. E., in the movement as outlined under the above name some time ago, and deeming the responsibilities too large as outlined to place upon the members constituting the club, it was decided to disband in favor of the C. E. which will take up the feature of summer outings in connection with their other work.

The money in the treasury of the "Manchester Outing Club" has been voted over to the treasury of the C. E.

At any time that enough interest can be aroused among the older members of our young people the movement will be again considered. In the meantime the C. E. will endeavor to arrange some outing parties this summer to interest the young people of Manchester and we cordially ask the co-operation of all concerned or who may be in any way interested.

SAMUEL L. WHEATON, Postmaster.

Against Increase Express Rates.

A meeting of the directors of the Business Men's association was held Wednesday evening at Beverly and a committee was appointed to oppose the increase of express rates by the different companies and the action of the Boston Merchants' in this direction was indorsed by the directors. F. A. E. Hamilton of Beverly and Franklin K. Hooper of Manchester are members of the committee who will appear and act against the advance rates.

A committee was also appointed to whom will be referred all applications for aid, benefits, etc., such as the merchants are constantly being called upon to support, and this committee will investigate such causes and see if they are worthy of support.

Celebrated His 76th Birthday.

Surrounded by his children, grandchildren and great-grand-children Captain Thomas Hannabell, formerly of Beverly Farms, now of 28 Beckman street, Beverly, celebrated his 76th birthday Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Curtis Stanley, on School street, Manchester. With him, and enjoying the felicitations poured upon him, was his wife, one year his junior, who was Miss Ayers of Manchester before her marriage.

Capt. and Mrs. Hannabell are parents of ten children, nine of whom grew to maturity and are now living, most of them rearing large families. There are 38 grand-children and 23 great-grand-children. Among those who were with him on Wednesday were his two great-grand-children, Doris and Dorothy, twin 13-month-old daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith of Manchester.

The couple, though nearing the four-score year mark, are still bright and active, though Mrs. Hannabell is still showing the results of a slight shock she suffered last summer. For a great many years they lived in Beverly Farms, the old estate being sold some years ago to George Lee of Brookline. Many friends and relatives called Wednesday to extend congratulations. The Captain was remembered wilh two beautiful birthday cakes.

Mrs. Leah Rainville.

Mrs. Leah Rainville, widow of the late Thomas Rainville, passed away early last Sunday morning at her home on School street, Manchester, after a long illness,—an illness which had caused much suffering, but which she had borne with Christian fortitude throughout.

Funeral services were held at her late home on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. D. F. Lamson officiating, assisted by Rev. E. Hersey Brewster. Burial was in the family lot at Rosedale cemetery.

Mrs. Rainville was born April 20, 1845, at Roxton Road, Canada. She came to Salem in young woman-hood, where she married Thomas Rainville. She came to Manchester 20 years ago. She was a member of the Baptist church here, being transferred by letter from the Salem church.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Axel Magnuson, with whom she lived, and by two sons, Horace Benjamin, who is a trained nurse connected with the U. S. Army at Des Moines, and Charles Wesley Rainville of Salem. She was the last of a large family.

The esteem in which Mrs. Rainville was held by her mnny friends in Manchester was attested by the beautiful floral tributes at the funeral Tuesday. Among the floral pieces were a wreath form the B. Y. P. U. and a bouquet from the Ever Ready Circle of King's Daughters.

ALL nomination papers for town office must be filed by Monday, Feb. 24, at 7 p. m.

THE sentiment is becoming stronger every day that the present board of selectmen are capable of filling the office again, and their good record for the past two years justifies their election for another year.

THE annual Town Meeting in Manchester is now only two weeks off, and from appearances it would seem that there will not be much in the line of a contest for any of the town offices, with the exception, perhaps, of Water Commissioner, Tree Warden, and Town Treasurer. The entrance of Albert Cunningham as a candidate for the latter adds interest to this office. Mr. Cunningham polled a large vote last year.

THE fact that no candidates have yet entered the field for the office of selectmen, except Geo. L. Allen, is sufficient assurance that the citizens are satisfied with the present board. M. E. Gorman has taken out papers for assessor, though he is undecided for which of the three terms he will run. He is the only new candidate outside the present board.

THE MITCHELL BURGLAR NOW LOCKED IN MANCHESTER POLICE STATION

The young man who is thought to have broken into the W. J Mitchell cottage at Manchester Cove is now safely locked in a cell at the Manchester police station. He was brought there this morning a little before ten o'clock by Keeper Paige of the almshouse.

It seems that after leaving the Mitchell house Thursday night he went to the beach and slept in a lobster shanty owned by Mr. Sargent. He was there Thursday and Friday nights, and about 8 this morning he was discovered by Mr. Sargent on the beach, curled up against a big tree stump that had drifted ashore, and a boat, covered by a coat and with a double barrel gun he had taken from the shanty. He also wore Mr. Sargent's cap.

Mr. Paige of the almshouse drove to the beach and brought the fellow to the police station.

It is very evident that the only reason the young fellow had not made his escape is because he had sprained his left foot so that it had swelled terribly. Dr. Blaisdell was called in and cared for him. When found he was benumbed with the cold.

The young man is about 23 years old. He gives his name as Joe MacDonald, and his home as Baltimore.

Yesterday's developments in the burglary at the Mitchell house, Manchester Cove, would indicate that there were two instead of one burglar, as thought at first. This was emphasized by the fact that two old suits of clothes were found in the house, which had been left in exchange for two good suits belonging to Mr. Mitchell, probably. Other tracks have been found about the house which would seem to indicate that there were two instead of one in the break.

AT the annual session of the Massachusetts Department, G. A. R., in Boston this week resolutions were adopted favoring a change in the date of the annual Memorial Day, with the idea of having it fall annually on the Sabbath day, about the same time of the year as at present, and many good arguments in favor of the change were advanced. It was pointed out that at present the real purposes of the day were lost sight of and in a measure defeated, owing to the fact that the holiday comes on a week day, or even if falling on a Sunday is observed the following day. The originators of the annual memorial day intended that it should be observed as a day sacred to the Grand Army of the republic, but as years have come and gone, it has developed into a holiday with all the essentials of such a period attached. It seems that out of the entire course of a year, one day at least could be set aside for the exclusive reverence of the heroic dead, and paying tribute to the living heroes of the wars of our country. It seems that the only way in which such a strictly devotional observance of the day can be accomplished is to have it set for say the last Sunday in May, and then the base ball, cricket, golf, aquatic sports and other diversions would not interfere with the observance of the day, as interpreted by its name and as it was intended by those who had labored to have the day set aside for patriotic consideration and tribute of loving honor and memory to the dead and living heroes.

Advertising Suggestions

The chief end of advertising is this: Education of the buyer to discriminate. An indiscriminate buyer is but little benefit to anyone, but if you can get the public to discriminate in favor of your goods your success is assured.

Another Candidate for Water Commissioner?

Friends of James Hoare are trying to prevail upon him to run this year for Water Commissioner, and yesterday a committee waited upon him, but he would not give a final answer. It is not unlikely that papers will be taken out for him the coming week.

CARD OF THANKS

The undersigned desires to express their grateful thanks for the many expressions of kindness during the long illness and in the death of their bereaved mother, and also for the many beautiful floral tributes.

Mrs. Fred J. Merrill has been visiting in Newton the past week.

Rev. E. H. Brewster delivered an address in Rockland on Lincoln, Wednesday.

Robert Robertson Co. has the contract for plumbing at the W. D. Denegre house. A Boston concern is installing the heat.

Mrs. L. H. Ruge underwent a successful operation at the parsonage Wednesday, the oparation being performed by Dr. G. H. Washburn, assisted by Dr. Glendenning. We are pleased to say every encouragement is given of a complete and rapid restoration of health.

Chief Peabody received the sad news last night of the sudden death of his brother, John L. Peabody, at Middleton. Mr. Peabody went to the store last night to get his evening paper and dropped dead in the store. Heart failure was the cause. Mr. Peabody was formerly a member of the auto squad here. The Chief went to Middleton this morning.

Advertising is an Art

Why not let us help you

to improve your business by inserting a well-arranged, well-worded advertisement in the NORTH SHORE BREEZE? It is part of our business to help you

Do it successfully.

Why not make a trial with these conditions? Cost of space is a less important matter than what to say in the space, yet we give you advice free of charge.

Your success is ours. Try us.

We want to cultivate the small advertiser. We will meet you more than half way. What do you say to that?

THE BREEZE

is the leading paper of the North Shore. One of its strongest points is that its clientele is a purchasing class; therefore it's not so much the quantity of the circulation as the quality. It goes to the summer visitors in summer and follows them to their permanent residence in winter because it is wanted and paid for. That's why it's recognized as the best for advertising.

Then, too, there is hardly a family in anchester, Beverly Farms Prides or Magnolia that does not take the BREEZE regularly every Saturday.

Ring 137 Manchester and our representative will call and talk it over with you.

MAGNOLIA

Harry Lycett is home from Boston enjoying a short vacation.

The Ladies' Aid society will meet with Mrs. Frank Abbott next week.

Hugh McDonald of New York is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Chane.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cutter and son of Lexington is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Hunt.

Edward Foster is having extensive improvements made to his cottage on Summer street.

W. A. Homans has been busily engaged cutting his ice the past week. The ice was about 11 inches thick.

The Jun or Christian Endeavor society will have charge of the meeting at the Village church next Friday evening. Mise Ruth Scott will be the leader. The meeting will be patriotic in character and all "patriots" are asked to lend a hand to make it successful.

Rev. Will Arthur Dietrick of Peabody will preach at the Village church tomorrow in exchange with the pastor, both morning and evening. Mr. Dietrick came to Magnolia from Cleveland, O., and is a bright wide-awake young westerner. The services are at 11 in the morning and at 7.30 in the evening. The Bible class will be omitted.

Very tasteful hand-painted invitations to the journey through Alaska were generally received throughout Magnolia last week. This journey took place at the Village church last evening. Mrs. Harry C. Foster was the conductor and she gave a very interesting lecture, which was fully illustrated. She was assisted by several of the young people of the church.

As a result of a quiet investigation by Inspector Sullivan of the Gloucester police, the owner of goods recently found in the rear of Wheeler's barn at West Gloucester, has been located, and the articles were returned Wednesday to the North Shore Grill. It is understood that the proprietor Miss Stearns does not care to prosecute the matter, so it is probable that no further action will be taken.

The people connected with the little Chapel at Freshwater Cove are taking more interest than usual in their work this winter. The prospect of a new Chapel which is held out to them by the trustees of the Sawyer fund, has given them a different object to work for. Every Sunday afternoon at three a preaching service is held, which is in charge of Rev. F. J. Libby of the Magnolia church, and this is followed by a Sunday school class. On Tuesday afternoons the Ladies' Aid society meets at the home of one of its members and a social afternoon is concluded with refreshments served by the hostess.

Will Convene at Manchester.

The annual meeting of the Baptist young people of the Salem Association will be held at the Baptist church, Manchester, on Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22. The convention will enjoy two sessions, the first beginning at 2 p. m., the second at 7 p. m. "The Deepening of the Spiritual Life" will be considered in the afternoon, and the "Young People's Forward Movement" in the evening. Rev. J. M. Moore of Boston, will speak in connection with the latter topic on "A New Crusade." There will be other helpful addresses. Supper will be served for those who remain for the evening session at a small sum. There will be an election of officers, appointment of committees, etc.

Col. Bigney Entertained Publishers.

Colonel Sidney O. Bigney, of Attleboro, on Monday, entertained the members of the Massachusetts Press association and their ladies at Attleboro, and proved a most delightful host, the day being one of the pleasantest ever spent by the association members. About 100 were present. The party gathered at the South station, where they boarded a special car attached to the 10.40 a. m. Attleboro express. The special car was provided by the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., and the members of the association greatly appreciated the courtesy.

Then the party journeyed to the large jewelry plant of S. O. Bigney & Co., where for some time Colonel Bigney and his assistants devoted their time in explaining the various branches of jewelry manufacture to those present. After everyone had satisfied himself in seeing the work of manufacture, Colonel Bigney led all into the store room, where he presented each person with a gift of his own manufacture, the selection being made from nearly 100 different articles, including watch chains, fobs, neck chains, chatelaines, bracelets, etc. This delightful little surprise was pleasantly received by all and greatly appreciated, after which Colonel Bigney invited the entire assemblage to lunch at his beautiful home, but a short distance away. The entire house was thrown open to the guests from top to bottom, and during the stay there the monthly meeting of the association was held in the spacious billiard room on the top floor.

I. M. Marshall and Miss Dora Marshall of Manchester were members of the party.

The colonel is a candidate for delegate-at-large to the national Republican convention this year. He has been a member of the Republican state central committee, and has been to Washington several times in connection with tariff and other industrial and political problems.

The object of the meeting was stated by Commander Enoch Crombie of the post. "We meet to commemorate the birth and life, and honor the memory of one of the greatest men our country ever knew," he said. "We boys of '61 do not need any one to tell us what Lincoln was to this country in her time of need. We were there and know how ably and well he served us. We do not need to set apart the day as a holiday, to be used for our pleasure, we believe we can better honor his memory by meeting as we do this evening and calling to mind the events of his life. Neither in this country, nor elsewhere in the world will the memory of Lincoln ever die. It was his mission to preserve what George Washington had created. As time passes, the memory of this great American becomes dearer and dearer to the masses of his countrymen of all sections and creeds. Let us strive to serve our country, and to do our duty, as faithfully as he did."

Miss May Whiting, teacher at the High school, presented an excellent paper on "Lincoln's Life from Birth to the Black Hawk War" and she was followed by Mrs. F. G. Cheever, who sang the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the gathering joining in the chorus.

Other phases in Lincoln's life were taken up as follows: "The Black Hawk War to His Election as President," Mrs. R. A. Mitchell; "Secession Movement to the Call for Troops," L. W. Floyd; "Events from '61 to '65," Alfred S. Jewett, patriotic instructor of the post; and "Various Phases of Lincoln's Character," by Rev. E. Hersey Brewster.

Mrs. R. C. Allen sang the "Recessional," and Miss Olive Cook sang "Every Man is a Volunteer." There was also singing by the post, "We are the Boys," with solo part by Adj. James H. Rivers. Patrick H. Boyle read Amelio Castellar's "Abraham Lincoln." Mrs. Cook also read a selection "Lincoln's Day."

Rev. Mr. Brewster made a bright speech on "Some Phases of Lincoln's Life" in which he outlined as predominent the fact that after all our environment has its limitations; the power of example; that Lincoln was a man of vision, his vision being the freedom of the slaves; that he was a pure man in politics and that he was the man of the hour.

"Lincoln's environment was almost opposed to all that naturally lead to higher things," said Mr. Brewster, "and there must have been some remarkable impulses in his life to make him what he was. He not only conquered his environment, but he rose above it. The power of his mother's example gripped him. Lincoln said truly that 'All I am and hope to be comes from my angel mother.' The example was not only personal but perpetual. He had the vision to free the slaves and he never lost it. No man can have success in life unless he has a vision.

"Lincoln was a pure man in politics, though we are are led to believe today that to find a pure man in politics is like hunting the proverbial needle in the haystack. There was nothing of the 'outstretched' hand about him, he was not a cog in any political machine. A perusal of his life will show that he was pure. It is impossible to succeed in politics on the long run unless one be pure in that sense of the word."

Refreshments consisting of coffee, cake and assorted crackers, were served by the ladies at the conclusion of the entertainment.

Mrs. Follett wishes through the BREEZE to thank all who assisted in making the program a success.

It Makes Lots of Difference Who Does the Rubbing.

On the Less Expensive Lines of Dining Chairs

The matter of FINISH generally is an open question. Often is the case that the chairs have the design and possibly the construction, but the finish is left to be "Rubbed" by the Railroad. That's about the sort of finish box seat dining chairs that sell at two dollars generally have.

Well, you ought to see the new BOX SEAT DINER that we've adopted for spring to be sold for $2.00. 'Tis a beauty, all white oak, banister back, French legs, hand-caned seat, and "Rubbed" at the Factory, so that the finish equals that of our much better chairs. We have seen the same chair advertised in some of the "Boston Bargain" Sales lately as a $3.00 "value" that they are selling at $2.14.

Remember our price, 'tis only $2.00, and that all the time with no special story except that we always undersell.

ner, that there may be plenty of breathing and playing space for the younger portion of the people in this part of the city where the inhabitants may rest or play. As a matter of fact the children practically live there in the summer season.

The change in boating and bathing demanded some few years ago that a suitable pier be constructed, which was done and has proven a great suceess and in themselves the pier and bathing facilities have greatly enhanced the value and rental of property at Beverly Farms and Pride's Crossing.

The corporation has had built many bath-houses, mostly in the large rectangle at the easterly end of the property. Under the by-laws the directors have allowed certain members of the corporation to construct upon a portion of the property bath-houses which shall be removed when the corporation may be able to provide a suitable building or buildings of its own.

A certain portion has been leased from time to time to different persons for a good land rental, the conditions being that a sea wall was constructed, the land filled and an agreement entered into with the aforesaid persons that they shall vacate said property at the will of the directors.

The present board of directors inherited a law suit brought by the Preston estate for a certain portion of the property and which has been in litigation for a number of years. This suit has been tried before an auditor, then a jury and at last was brought before the superior court, a final decree being made the latter part of last May, as a result of which the corporation retains privileges which otherwise would have been lost. It has cost the corporation much money and the board of directors much time and labor.

Thus far no persons except the members of the corporation have taken much interest in the corporation or its affairs; in fact, only the members of the corporation know its history, and it might be added in fairness that nearly all the members are numbered in the regular inhabitant or native population. They have borne all of the burdens, many of them having given unsparingly their time, endeavors and aid, while on the other hand everyone who comes here even for a short period in the summer derives all the benefits and privileges which the corporation can give and of which, certainly, advantage is taken.

The proportionate part of real estate within the corporation limits owned by the resident population is very small when compared with the real estate and personal property owned by the summer residents and only one conclusion can be drawn as to what portion of the community derives the greater benefit.

The following statements might also be made:

The corporation has a Board of Directors consisting of seven members who are elected annually.

The act of incorporation does not allow borrowing of money.

For money borrowed in the past the indorsements of members of the corporation on notes have been obtained.

The running expenses may be classed as follows: The caring for interest and sinking funds on pier note; the caring for notes issued from time to time in anticipation of rental and subscriptions; the cleaning of beach, care of pier and bath-houses and patrol on beach who acts also as caretaker of property; the cost of the Preston law suit, so called; the filling of upland and when possible any general improvements; maintainance of the public highway from Lee's gate to the railroad crossing; clerical work.

The income may be classed as follows: Subscriptions to pier fund; rentals from land; subscriptions to beach cleaning fund; rental from bath-houses; from storage of floats.

In view of the above facts it would seem that co-operation and aid should be cheerfully extended by our summer residents toward making West Beach as beautiful and attractive as any other portion of Beverly Farms.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I beg to announce to the residents of the North Shore that I have purchased from Walker Bros & Co. the provision business conducted by them at Beverly Farms for the past twenty years, including their good will and trade. Having had twenty-five years experience on the North Shore, eight years as manager of Wyatt's Market, I thoroughly understand the selection of choice meats, fruits, vegetables, etc., carried by first-class markets. The business will be conducted under the name of Brewer's Market, which will be opened on or about April 20, 1908. I solicit your patronage.

WALTER P. BREWER.

Beverly Farms, Mass., Feb. 10, 1908.

We, the undersigned, certify that we have sold the good will and trade of our North Shore business to Walter P. Brewer.

Samuel P. White of Beverly has been appointed administrator of the estate of the late Francis Dunn.

Capt. Duncan T. Smith has under construction at Hardy and Day's carpenter shop a good sized power boat.

The Bible School library committee of the Baptist church are arranging for a lecture on Abraham Lincoln on the evening of Feb. 24.

"The Fishers of Men" will be the subject of Rev. C. S. Pond's sermon at the Baptist church tomorrow morning. In the evening he will preach on "The Triumph of Life over Hindrance."

James Zampell, the Italian store-keeper, has vacated the store on Hart street, which he has occupied for several years, and he will conduct his business hereafter in a building he has secured near his residence on Greenwood avenue.

The next meeting of the Municipal club will be held in Marshall's hall, Friday evening, Feb. 28. It is the present plan of the executive committee to invite an out-of-town speaker to talk upon some question of public interest and invite the public to be present.

Capt. J. Frank Blaney has made plans for the coming season for the enlargement of his fishing business, having purchased a new weir of a somewhat different design than the one located off Chubb's Island. Capt. Blaney also has other new traps which he proposes to set and in order to facilitate the business he intends to bring his 15-ton fishing schooner to an anchorage off West Beach.

The boys of the Beverly Farms Baptist church have organized a boys club,—or at least, the boys of Mrs. C. F. Preston's, Miss M. E. Hull's and H. A. Doane's classes,—the object of which is to promote friendship and to help each other. Reading is to be one of the branches or work taken up. The directors are Rev. C. S. Pond, W. A. Pride and H. A. Doane. The officers are: Reuel Davis, president; Rex Hull, vice president; Foster Cohoon, secretary; George Day, treasurer.

Rev. Fr. Charles Logue of Freeport, L. I., was a guest of Farms' friends a portion of this week.

On Tuesday Addison Davis started harvesting his ice crop at Gravel Pond. The ice is of excellent quality, about twelve inches thick.

Miss Jane Watson has charge of special dancing features of the Knights of Columbus entertainment which is to presented in Boston soon.

At the bazaar of the Beverly council, K. of C., just closed, a pin cushion was won by Mrs. John Daniels, and F. I. Lamasney won a center piece.

The Valentine party given in Marshall's hall last evening by the C. and C. club was well attended and a very pleasant time resulted. Long's orchestra of Manchester, always popular here, furnished the music.

Commander C. H. Day, Eben Day and Andrew Standley represented the local post at the encampment in Boston the first of the week, and Pres. Mrs. Daniel W. Preston, Mrs. Thomas Gauld and Mrs. W. B. Publicover were delegates to the W. R. C. convention.

The Farms fire department answered two alarms last Sunday afternoon, one for a chimney fire at Mrs. L. T. B. Wyatt's, West street, and while there a telephone message came from "Princemere," the country home of F. H. Prince at East Wenham. It seems that a water tank some 40 feet in the air was the cause of the trouble. The pipes had become frozen and in thawing them the fire in some way was started. As this was not in Beverly the local company was obliged to secure permission from the chief in Beverly, which was granted, and a quick run to the scene of the fire resulted. Half an hour's work in zero weather ended the conflagration.

The cobbler who has occupied the little shop on West street will not come to the Farms again next season and the place is to let.

Mrs. Alexander Campbell who has been at the Beverly hospital for the past three weeks is getting along nicely and expects to be able to come home soon.

F. P. Gaudreau has hung an attractive new glass sign, in gold letters, to the affect that he carries a choice line of cigars, cigarettes, tobaccos and pipes, for sale.

Adelbert M. Marshall, who has had charge of the blacksmith shop of Mattis Hansen during the absence of the latter the past two months, has resumed his former position with Connolly Bros., the past week.

Andrew Standley went to the Beverly hospital Wednesday to undergo an operation, in order to secure complete recovery from a trouble that has of late affected him. The operation was successful and at this writing Mr. Standley is resting very comfortable.

The new residence of Patrick O'Hearn, corner Webster street and Greenwood avenue, is about completed and is a valued addition to the residences of permanent residents in this place. The lower suite is to be occupied by A. G. Campion, electrician at the Frick estate, and the upper suite by Station Agent Allen, who will probably occupy it the latter part of the coming week.

CLUB MINSTRELS

Crowded House Greeted Manchester Club Minstrels Last Night.

Seldom has the Manchester Town hall contained such a crowd as was out last night to witness the Manchester Club minstrels. Every available seat was occupied and dozens of persons were turned away. In fact every seat in the hall had been sold six days before the

ADDITIONAL WATER SUPPLY

Important Question to come before Manchester Voters for Action at Special Town Meeting Next Monday Evening.

The much-mooted question of additional water supply for Manchester will come before the town for action next Monday evening, Feb. 24, at which time the special committee appointed at the last annual meeting will be ready to report.

In fact, the printed report of the committee has already been read, no doubt, by a majority of the voters, as it was distributed around town on Monday. The special article in the warrant on which the voters will be called upon to act is as follows:

"To hear and act upon the report of the committee appointed at the annual meeting of 1907, and their consulting engineer, said committee having been appointed to 'At once petition the Legislature for permission to use the waters of Gravelly Pond and to report at an adjourned meeting their findings;' and also to 'Investigate any available sources of additional supply and to report to the town their findings at a future town meeting;' and to see if the town will ratify and approve the doings of said committee in presenting a petition and bill to the present Legislature, asking for permission to use the waters of Round Pond in addition to those of Gravelly Pond."

Next to the installation of the original water plant in Manchester this question of additional supply is probably the most important question that ever came before the town, as it involves an expenditure of $160,000 or over, besides an annual fixed charge for a number of years, at least, of very nearly $15,000 more.

The special committee appointed at the last annual meeting to take up this matter is composed of Raymond C. Allen, chairman; Frank P. Knight, secretary; N. P. Meldrum, Frederick J. Merrill, Jeffrey T. Stanley, Dr. G. W. Blaisdell, D. T. Beaton, C. L. Crafts and Prof. C. L. Norton, and they have made a very plain and concise report of their findings, though the salient feature of their report, of course, is embodied in the words of their consulting engineer, Desmond Fitzgerald, eminently and widely known as authority on matters of water supply.

A perusal of Mr. Fitzgerald's report will at once convince one of the thorough manner in which he has investigated the subject and that his conclusions are well founded. He enters briefly into the present supply and the capacity of the present works and speaks more at length on the quality of the present supply.

He does not decry the present supply, but rather speaks regretfully of the fact that more of the water is not available to meet the future needs. "One of the great advantages of the Manchester water," he says, "is its low temperature and freedom from color, tastes and organisms, very high recommendations. If a considerable quantity of similar water can be found in close proximity to the present supply, it would be an excellent source for the town to adopt, even though temporary in character due to its

BY D. F. LAMSON.

All things are evidently not going to the bad, even if somethings are; there is a vast force for good at work, such as our fathers never dreamed of; many things that we deplore are of the surface, of the nature of eddies, back-water, sidelong and eccentric movements, while a great current is sweeping onward deep down below.

The event to which the poet tells us the whole creation moves seems sometimes far off indeed to our near-sighted vision, but we are drawing nearer to it, if imperceptibly yet surely; and we may expect as the goal is neared there will be an accelerated movement and increasing momentum.

Some persons are a bundle of contradictions; you must strike a balance and make an average to get any fair estimate of their character; they may be very picturesque, but they are not in many respects so admirable or so useful as persons of a less conglomerate makeup. Roxbury pudding-stone has its use for museums, but it is not good building material.

It is encouraging to be told that in the trade, the old standard authors hold their

MANCHESTER

Washington's Birthday today!

Special town meeting next Monday evening, at 7.30.

Samuel Knight & Sons had a barge of coal arrive Thursday.

The initiatory degree will be worked on one candidate at the next meeting of Magnolia lodge, I. O. O. F.

Mrs. A. V. LeLascheur and daughter Ruth of Boston have been the guests of the former's sister Mrs. J. Stedman, Lincoln street.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen and family are spending the holiday in town, and Mrs. Allen will remain over next week, visiting friends here.

Lee Marshall came home from Dartmouth College yesterday for the holiday and for a few days' rest, having successfully passed his mid-year examinations.

Mrs. George S. Sinnicks returned from Boston Thursday, where she had been the first of the week in connection with the big fair under the auspices of the Eastern Star.

Edward P. Lane came home from New York last night and Miss Annie Lane from Smith College to spend the holiday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lane, Vine street.

Constable L. O. Lations has posted the Town Warrant on the westerly side of the Town hall. Please take notice! The warrant is the longest in the history of the town,—72 articles,—and it takes 10 typewritten pages to do the trick.

N. P. Meldrum, a member of the supreme board of auditors of the United Order of Pilgrim Fathers, was in Lawrence last Tuesday auditing the books and accounts of the Supreme Secretary and Supreme Treasurer of the U. O. P. F.

There is an article in the town warrant calling for an appropriation to dredge a channel from the main channel to the pier at Beach street park. And another article of interest to many, no doubt, is that calling for an appropriation to build a public bathhouse at Singing beach. Both of these articles should go through.

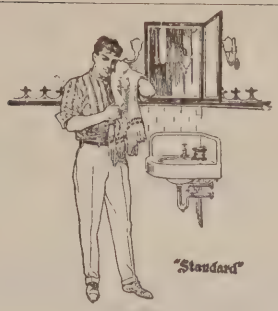

The grand officers of the I. O. O. F. paid a visit to Magnolia lodge, I. O. O. F., Thursday night on which occasion a large gathering of the members were out, and a supper was served after the meeting. The grand officers present were: Rev. W. F. Dusseault, grand chaplain; William Hastings, grand master; Alfredda R. Herfam, grand marshall, and Wm. M. Webber, grand instructor. Each made a bright speech on the good of the order and complimented Magnolia lodge on its good condition, both in point of membership and general standing.

A son was born yesterday morning to Mr. and Mrs. John Wiles, School st.

Arthur U. McCormack returned Thursday night from a six weeks' visit to E. Pubnico, N. S. His little daughter did not return with him, but she will return within a few weeks, accompanied by her aunt.

Monday evening there was a small chimney fire at the Ayer estate on Summer street, in the workshop, but the fire was extinguished through the prompt work of the Ayer Bros. and neighbors, without calling the department.

The appropriation committee have been putting in some strenuous work the past week and as a result their labors are practically completed. The committee organized with Franklin K. Hooper as chairman, and D. T. Beaton as secretary. A. C. Needham and F. Knight have declined to allow their names to be used for re-appointment another year. Town Auditor Cheever is doing the clerical work of the committee, and the report will be distributed Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

Personal Attention Given to all Work. Estimates cheerfully given.

Mrs. Sarah Carter of Philadelphia, who is on to Beverly visiting relatives, was in town Monday renewing acquaintances. Mr. Carter was a former chief of police here.

John J. Furguson, while doing some mill work at Dodge's mill last Saturday, had the misfortune to cut his wrist quite badly by having it come in contact with a buzz-saw. Mr. Furguson is building a launch for his own use the coming summer.

Frank A. Baker returned the first of the week from Jacksonville, Fla., where he has been employed most of the winter at his trade as painter. Contrary to the usual condition at this season of the year, Mr. Baker reports, work is very dull there this winter.

The pupils of the Story High school will give the cantata, "The Building of the Ship," in the Town hall next Wednesday evening, Feb. 26, at 8 o'clock. They will be assisted by a quartet and an accompanist from Boston who will also be heard in solos, duets, etc., in a miscellanenous program, before the rendering of the cantata. As the soloists come very highly recommended, and the pupils of the school have been doing excellent work in the chorus parts, the whole concert promises to be one of unusual merit.

Last Sunday a lady who can ill afford to stand such a loss, lost between the Sacred Heart church and her home a pocket-book containing $22 in bills which amount she had saved from her husband's earnings to pay a doctor's bill. ADDITIONAL WATER SUPPLY proximity to a possibly increasing population. It would probably cost comparatively little and would enable the town to tide over for many years the question of an additional supply involving large expenditures, and advance the question of change to a period when the burden could be more easily borne."

But before proceeding further he touches upon the matter of population and shows that if the present increase keeps on it is reasonable to suppose that within ten years more the present total population of 3400 will be increased to 5000 people, including the summer colony. And if the population increases as above the consumption will increase accordingly.

With this in mind he says: "Looking at the matter broadly it seems evident that in considering an additional supply of water, we should demand a source capable of yielding at least 500,000 gallons daily throughout the year, and that if possible we should incline towards that which shows promise of a capacity for increase in the future to 1,000,000 gallons daily. With an average daily consumption of 500,000 gallons the supply should be also capable of yielding for short periods at least 1,500,000 gallons daily."

Then having thus arrived at a conclusion as to the amount of water which Manchester needs, he passes on to an examination of those sources which are available and discusses their several merits.

The cost of developing the Saw Mill Brook source he believes is "prohibitory." He says further, "I am led to the conclusion that the development of this system should only be resorted to in the case of there being no better prospect in view, and even then it would be wise to provide some additional storage above ground. The town should, if possible, secure some source of supply where the question of quantity can be placed beyond a reasonable doubt." He still further disposes of this source by saying that the water contains iron in objectionable quantity, necessitating some form of purification, probably aeration and filtration, which would be a source of continuous trouble and expense, even when carried out and maintained under the best possible scientific supervision.

On the other hand—"The quality of the water at Gravel Pond is beyond question for a surface supply. It is colorless, clear, soft and free from objectionable taste. The reason for the exceptional quality of Gravel Pond water is that there is no swampy water draining into it, and that the watershed is so small that the water is improved by being held a long time in storage exposed to the sun's rays."

Mr. Fitzgerald places the measure of efficiency of Gravel Pond at 135,000 gallons daily, and says this is inadequate as a source of supply, but adds that "The pond, however, has so many excellent characteristics, and is so favorably situated, that it would be of great value if it could be reinforced from some outside source." As an "outside source" he suggests Round Pond. While this latter water is not as good as that of Gravel Pond, it may be used in such a way as not to harm the latter water.

"Taking everything into consideration," he says, "I believe Gravel Pond to be by far the best source of supply for Manchester to adopt. With the two supplies of water, one of ground water at Saw Mill Brook, and the additional supply at Gravel Pond, the town of Manchester will be in a peculiarly favorable position to supply its inhabitants with water of excellent quality. If in the future, for any reason, it becomes wise to abandon the Saw Mill Brook supply, the whole supply of the town may be taken from Gravel Pond."

In concluding his report Mr. Fitzgerald says that "from a general experience in water works construction, I am satisfied that the Gravel Pond supply will prove the cheapest in the end and that the development of this supply will be within a reasonable expenditure for the town at this time."

The committee in talking up the preparation of plans for the development of the supply on the lines suggested by the engineer, went to work along the following lines, the installation of a high service being assumed: (1.) A force main from Gravel pond to the present force main at Vine and School streets, and a connection with a new standpipe on Moses hill; (2) a pumping station with necessary pumps, boilers and engines at Gravel pond and dams at Gravel and Round ponds; (3) a standpipe on Moses hill; and (4) a new equipment of engines at the present pumping station, designed to pump to the new standpipe.

They estimate the cost of the pipe line as follows:

Gravel Pond to Pleasant Street	$39,000
Pleasant Street to Vine Street	14,000
Force main to Standpipe	3,000
Total,	$56,000

Then there is the plant at Gravel ponds, dams, etc., and the pumps at the pumping station would have to be replaced, and then there is the new standpipe. The estimate for all this (exclusive of land damage) is given as follows:

Pipe lines	$56,000
Dams	3,000
Gravel Pond plant	45,000
New plant, Manchester	14,000
Standpipe	27,500
Total,	$145,500

"This amount, it will be noted, is for the construction of a plant capable of handling, with the greatest economy, not only the additional supply needed at the present moment, but the almost certain growth in the near future.

"Assuming that the new plant cost $160,000 and that bonds bearing 4 per cent. per annum were issued, payable, as are the present ones, $6000 per year, the addition to the fixed charges would be as follows:—

Gravel Pond maintenance	$1,800
Retiring bonds	6,000
Interest, on bonds	6,400
Total,	$14,200
Less saving in coal by new pumps	500
	$13,700

As a result of the investigations made under their direction the committee present their findings as follows:

1. That there is a real and increasing need for an additional supply of water in the town of Manchester.

2. That in the judgment of their engineer and the State Board of Health, after thorough and careful investigation, the best and most practicable source of additional supply, of the quantity and quality necessary, is found in the use of the waters of Gravel Pond, reinforced in the future by the waters of Round Pond, treated by filtration.

3. That any development of this source should be made in anticipation of the installation of high service, and that the town should secure the land for the new standpipe.

4. That the cost of a complete additional plant, with high service standpipe and new pumps at Manchester, should not exceed $160,000, including land damage; and that the additional yearly fixed charge, resulting from the operation of the new pumping plant four months in the year, and the retiring of $6000 in bonds per year, would be $13,700.

5. That if high service is omitted and the present pumps continued for a time in the Manchester station, the cost of construction of pipe line and works at Gravel Pond, as described, should not exceed $115,500, including land damage; and the yearly fixed charge under the same conditions, as in the last case, would be $11,920.

Manchester Burglar Held for Grand Jury.

Joe. MacDonald, the young man brought to the Manchester police station last Saturday morning, and who confessed that he was the man looked for in connection with the break at the Walter Mitchell house a week ago Thursday afternoon, was before the court in Salem Monday and pleaded guilty to the charge against him, and was held over for the May sitting of the grand jury in $500 bonds. He is now in Salem jail.

MacDonald's arrest and subsequent confession last Saturday fornoon was recorded in last Saturday's BREEZE. In addition to the account given then it is known that Thursday night after MacDonald had escaped, his ankle pained him so badly that he could not get away. He went up University lane and later in the night he broke into the stable on the J. F. Rabardy estate, Ocean street. He was in that vicinity all day Friday and Friday night he slept in Lewis Sargent's lobster shanty. That night, too, he got a boat off, and early Saturday morning he started in the boat with the intention of rowing to Gloucester. He found he was very much up against it, however, and his journey was very short. He landed on the other side of Crow island. It was here that Mr. Sargent found him, having been attracted by the boat on the beach. The fellow had Mr. Sargent's double-barrel gun and wore his cap, also.

He says that he and another fellow name "Jocco" were together in a bar room in Boston and as they were both hard up they decided to do something. They jumped the freight Tuesday night and landed in Manchester about midnight. They got off the freight, but as they saw Officer Stoops near the station they thought it best to keep with the freight. They went on to Gloucester and spent Wednesday and Wednesday night there. Thursday they came to Magnolia and broke into the Mitchell house Thursday morning.

MacDonald was shot in the right arm and he also received the contents of a charge of No. 8 bird shot in the legs and back, three shots being removed by Dr. Tyler at the station Saturday.

He had with him when searched at the station a gold watch, pair of fancy scissors, pair nippers, cake soap, writing paper, matches, cigars, and he wore a black jacket, two fancy vests and a pair of pants belonging to Mr. Mitchell.

The Haphazard club will meet Monday evening, Feb. 24, with Miss Lila Goldsmith.

Nathaniel Morgan has been confined to his home, off Bennett street, for the past fortnight with a bad cold.

John Brennan, caretaker of the E. D. Jordan estate, West Manchester, left this week for several weeks' visit with his brother who lives in New York city.

Frank P. Knight arrived home from an extended visit in New York state on Tuesday night and is with his family on Church street again. Mr. Knight is greatly improved in health.

John Baker is today celebrating the "golden anniversary" of his birth informally at his home, "Fairview," by entertaining a family gathering, as he usually does on his birthday.

D. T. Beaton has been awarded the contract for the heating and metal work on the new residence to be built at Beverly Farms for Mrs. A. O. Marshall. Publicover Bros. are the contractors.

Two palefaces were adopted into Conomo tribe, 113, I. O. R. M., Wednesday evening, on which occasion a large attendance of the members were out. A feast of corn and venison was served in the forest after the meeting had closed.

The case of the young Burke lad, of Gloucester, held over for the grand jury, in connection with the break at the Sea street crossing house, came up this week and the grand jury placed the young man in charge of Inspector Sullivan with the understanding that if the inspector found the young man going astray again Burke would be sentenced at the next term of the grand jury; otherwise he would be let off at that time.

CANDIDATES.

HAVE been bobbing up

ON all sides the past week;

AND it now looks as if the old pot would boil in good shape in the remaining week before town meeting.

BUT remember, gentlemen, you can't all be elected. And, we regret to say, the best man doesn't always win. All nomination papers must be filed on or before 5 p. m., of Monday, Feb. 24.

REMEMBER, too, that the election of town officers is not the only thing to be thought of. Just glance over the long list of articles in the warrant this year,—72 articles—calling for an expenditure of thousands of dollars. The list is on page 15 of this issue.

BECAUSE Article 21 of the town warrant has to do with a dead subject, there is no reason why there should not be a lively discussion on the matter. If we need a new receiving tomb at the cemetery, why let's have one; there's no knowing how soon we'll have to make use of it, personally. The article really should have been numbered "23."

BUT then, Article 23 is rightly numbered! It has to do with street lights. Further along in the warrant there is an article to this effect: "To see what action the town will take regarding the option it has of purchasing the Manchester Electric Co., said option expiring Sept. 18, 1908." Why not take advantage of this option, purchase the plant, and have up-to-date lights? Seriously speaking, however, it would seem that the town is not in a position to take advantage of this option this year, especially if the additional water project goes through, and it would seem a feasible plan to have a committee appointed to wait on the company to have time limit extended if possible.

AN article will appear in the town warrant this year calling for a name to designate the Beach Street park, so-called. Town Treasurer Stanley some time ago suggested Marine Park as a most suitable name. But we would like to suggest something which appears to us to be more appropriate. A year or two ago a move was made at a gathering of the Elder Brethren to have a large boulder placed in a public place in town and dedicated to the memory of the old Indian Chief Masconomo. The park off Beach street was suggested as a most suitable place to put such a boulder. Now why wouldn't this be a good place to put the boulder and have the park named Masconomo Park?

THE Garretson hospital, recently opened in Philadelphia, will be the first in the United States to have an endowed bed for the use of victims of automobile accidents. This information might be of interest to North Shore motorists who happen that way.

New Candidates for Town Office.

Many new candidates for town office have come forward the past week. For selectmen T. B. Stone and J. H. Kitfield have taken out papers, making three men in the field now (G. L. Allen being the third), beside the present board.

Mr. Kitfield has also taken out papers for assessor. He is trying for the one year term, and is accordingly running against W. R. Bell. M. E. Gorman is running for the two year term, against E. S. Knight and F. K. Swett is in the field alone for the three year term.

George E. Willmonton has taken out papers for town clerk and his friends seem to think he will get a good vote. Mr. Willmonton is studying law and has had more or less experience in the kind of work one holding a position, such as clerk of the town, would be called upon to practice. Mr. Jewett the present clerk is a candidate for re-election.

F. A. Rowe is another new candidate this week. Mr. Rowe is running for park commissioner. C. O. Howe, the present incumbent, and J. S. Reed also have out papers for this position.

For Water Commissioner.

One of the most interesting fights of the year is that for water commissioner. N. P. Meldrum, clerk of the board, is a candidate for another term (three years) and George E. Hildreth is in the field against him. Much pressure has been brought to bear also on James Hoare. Last week we stated that Mr. Hoare would probably run, but he has taken the position through it all that he would not enter a three-cornered fight. We are informed as we go to press, however, that Mr. Hoare's papers may be filed next Monday.

CLUB MINSTRELS

show.

It was the club's first appearance in minstrelsy and the event was crowned with success, as everything went off smoothly from start to finish, and everybody seemed to enjoy the show.

There were twenty five in the circle, the personnel being: George A. Kitfield, interlocutor; H. B. Hinchliffe, A. C. Needham, F. J. Merrill, E. H. Wilcox, H. S. Tappan and George Dean, ends and tambos; L. A. Winslow, G. A. Knoerr, F. K. Swett, A. L. Saben, W. R. Bell, E. L. Edmunds, Lorenzo Baker, E. J. Semons, Joseph Lipman, James Hoare, P. H. Boyle, J. A. Lodge, W. W. Hoare, F. H. Rand, F. G. Cheever, Chas. E. Williams, Fred M. Johnson, Maynard B. Gilman, D. T. Beaton and C. R. Fish.

The curtain rose a minute past eight and the six end men marched from the anti-rooms on either side of the hall up the steps to the front of the stage. The opening chorus over, the fun began. There were ten soloists, the circle joining with the soloist in singing the chorus to all but three.

The "Bingville Band" made a great hit when it marched in toward the close of the closing selection. The "band" was composed of the six end men, and Maynard Gilman, standard bearer, the "Grand Old Flag" he carried being almost large enough to see from the back of the hall.

Part 2 opened with a club room scene, a number of members being on the stage, some engaged in playing pool, others in playing cards, and still others reading, and smoking. A visitor is brought in to see the rooms, and this visitor, in the personage of W. R. Bell delivers a stump speech.

Mr. Tappan's Topical Song, in which he was called back for "more," three times, and his Club Song made great hits. The "rubs" were not of the offensive kind and the fun was enjoyed by all.

The work of the soloists was good, and a number were called upon for encores. Mr. Needham's "Take Me Back to Tennessee" was a catchy piece composed and arranged by Mr. Needham.

All the ends and the chorus, except the interlocutor and four soloists were "blacked up," and the latter five were in evening dress.

The closing number of the evening was a comical sketch "Joe Simpson's Double." The two Dutchman's parts and two black face parts were very aptly taken by H. S. Tappan and G. A. Knoerr, and F. C. Rand and A. E. Olson, respectively. The part of policeman, or "town constable" was taken by J. A. Lodge.

A Few of the Jokes

M. Awful hard times this winter Mr. Kitfield.

K. Yes, Mr. Merrill, times are very hard.

M. Yes sir, lots of people been a sufferin' for food and fuel. Some of 'em you'd think had a plenty, too. I went up the lane the other night and met Lyman Floyd carrying off the gate to my stable. I was surprised.

K. What did you say to him?

M. Nothing.

K. Why not?

M. I was afraid he would take offence.

H. I was sorry to learn that Forster Allen had sold out.

K. Yes, Mr. Allen is a very fine old gentleman.

H. His successor is a very mean man.

K. Why, I understood he was a clever young business man, and never have I heard a thing about his being mean.

H. Yes, indeed, why those young ladies work a whole week for a Nichol.

K. Mr. Merrill you looked quite swell when I met you the other evening. Where were you going?

M. What, Tuesday evening?

K. Yes, I think so.

M. Well, say, that was a great night, you ought to have been there.

K. Where?

M. Surprise party at Eddie Baker's. Great time, lots of fun. Say we made him a present, too.

K. A present, what did you give him?

M. Why, we gave him a night-gown made of Asbestos.

W. Say, Mr. Kitfield, did you notice that peculiar window display down at Cheever's Drug store the other day?

K. No, I didn't notice it, tell us about it.

W. Well, as I was passing by there the other day I saw sitting in the window Mr. Rand and Lewis Killam, with lots of signs all over the window and all around them. So I stepped in and asked Frank what he was advertising and he laughed and said: Why that's simple enough, I am advertising my new Hair Restorer. Rand represents before using, and Lewis after using.

N. Mr. Kitfield.

K. What is it?

N. Did you know that Mr. Saben had just been through a serious illness?

K. Why no, what was the matter?

N. Why he's been sick ever since last October with a very bad attack of hen fever, of the most malignant form. He

ANNOUNCEMENT

I beg to announce to the residents of the North Shore that I have purchased from Walker Bros & Co. the provision business conducted by them at Beverly Farms for the past twenty years, including their good will and trade. Having had twenty-five years experience on the North Shore, eight years as manager of Wyatt's Market, I thoroughly understand the selection of choice meats, fruits, vegetables, etc., carried by first-class markets. The business will be conducted under the name of Brewer's Market, which will be opened on or about April 20, 1908. I solicit your patronage.

WALTER P. BREWER.

Beverly Farms, Mass., Feb. 10, 1908.

We, the undersigned, certify that we have sold the good will and trade of our North Shore business to Walter P. Brewer.

(Signed) Walker Bros. & Co.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 1, 1908.

was out of his head, too.

K. Is that so?

N. Yes, he used to be scared to go home nights; 'fraid his hens were layin' for him.

K. Well, were they?

N. Well, I don't know what the record is today, but up to yesterday he got his ninth egg.

D. Say, George Haskell is a mighty handy man round this building.

K. Yes, George is a good man for this job.

D. Yes, he saves the town lots of money on little jobs around the building. He tunes the piano now.

K. Are you sure about that?

D. Oh, yes! I saw him tuning it the other day with a monkey wrench and a screw driver.

K. Well, I thought it must be tuned that way judging from the tune of it.

Here are a few verses from the Topical Song:

Fred Merrill likes these shows for fair,
It's the only time he has any hair,
Now the flies can't stand on his head and dance a jig;
Cause the bald spot is covered with a big coon wig.

Callahan has gone to Egypt to see the Sphinx,
Its the greatest thing in the world he thinks,
And now you can hear Mr. Choate Rust cry
The lid is on and the town is dry.

One night while rehearsing for this show,
A boy named Billy Hoare—you know
Stepped up to Wilcox and he said,
I can't be a coon cause my hair is red.

Bert Hinchliffe runs a butcher store
With a lot of sawdust on the floor;
In the summer Fred Martin hangs the meat on the hooks,
In the winter time he keeps the books.

Loomis had a fire not long ago
The department had a chance its skill to show,
The chemical did its duty no doubt
Jim Hoare hollered (toot! toot!) "all out."

Ed Stanley built a motor boat
He said she's the fastest thing afloat,
You should see the water churn
When Dr. Tyler's in the stern

Following are two verses from the Club Song. words by H. S. Tappan and music by D. L. Wade.

But in the list of members
There are some I quite forgot,
The singers must be looked to
For they're Johnnies on the spot,
There's Hinchliffe like a nightingale
And Rand and Peabody
And Swett, the only man in town
Can reach that low down C.
Well that's the club, yes that's the club
The club that's got the goods,
The club that made all other clubs
Go way back to the woods.
Now every night they sing with glee
Most of them way off the key,
So we'll go down, down, way down.
Down to the club.
One Tuesday afternoon last week,
George Woodbury almost died,
The building seemed to all cave in
And shook from side to side,
He heard a noise while at his work
That almost made him swoon,
It was the rustle of a skirt,
On "Ladies' Afternoon"
Well, that's the club, yes, that's the club
On "Ladies' Afternoon"
The members all vamoose, you know,
There is no chance to spoon,
On Tuesday's now the ladies treat,
On Friday nights the members eat,
So we'll go down, down, way down
Down to the club.

A parody on Mr. Hinchliffe's solo ran somewhat as follows:

When I was on the police force
I had a call one day
To catch a regular burglar man,
In a house not far away;
The man who looks out for the place
Then whispered low to me:
"He's hiding in that closet there,
"Open the door and see."
But I said,—"No, No, No, Oh no!"
"Positively No!"
When "I say No, No, No, Oh no!"
Then I means that word for sho;
The burglar in that closet, son,
May have a double-barrel gun,
So No, No, No, Oh no,
Imphatically No!

The program was as follows:

Opening Chorus	Entire Company
"Take Me Back to Tennessee"	A. C. Needham
"When the Blue Birds Nest Again Sweet Nellie Gray"	G. A. Knoerr
"When the Hammer on the Anvil Rings"	George Dean
"The Belfry Bell"	Fred K. Swett
Topical Song	H. S. Tappan
"Lemon Coon"	F. J. Merrill
"Creole Love Song"	A. L. Saben
"I'm Afraid to Come Home in the Dark"	E. H. Wilcox
"Dreaming"	L. A. Winslow
"No, No, Positively No!"	H. B. Hinchliffe
Closing Chorus	Entire Company

During the evening Long's orchestra played the following selections:

"Eagle Head March"
Composed and arranged by Donald L. Wade
Overture "School Days" Gus Edwards
"Kentucky Wedding March" A. W. Turner
"Four Aces" F. L. Losey

According to the program the show was given under the management of the following:

GET THE BEST.

WEDNESDAY EVENING CLUB.

Young Lady Entertainers from Boston Furnish Pleasing Program.

Despite the storm Wednesday evening a goodly number of the members of the Wednesday Evening club were out for the March meeting of the club, and all who attended were well pleased with the program furnished by four young lady entertainers from Boston. The program was of a musical and literary nature, and was presented by the Hambro sisters and Miss Marion L. Priestley, 'cellist. Miss Priestley is the youngest 'cellist sent out by the entertainment bureaus.

The program was first class in every respect and everyone seemed highly satisfied that they had braved the inclement weather and came out. The program was as follows:

PIANO SOLO, "Fantasie," Liszt
MISS SARA HAMBRO
SONG, "Melba Waltzes," Arditi
MISS ADELINE HAMBRO
READING, "Her First Visit to the City"
MISS ROSE HAMBRO
'CELLO SOLO, "Musette," Offenbach
MISS MARION L. PRIESTLEY
(MISS ROSE E. PRIESTLEY, accompanist)
VOCAL DUET, "See the Pale Moon," Campanini
MISSES SARA AND ADELINE HAMBRO
PIANO DUET, "Pique Dame," Rossini
MISSES SARA AND ADELINE HAMBRO
'CELLO, Berceuse from "Jocelyn," Godara
MISS PRIESTLEY
CHARACTER SONG, "Everybody is Pickin' on Me."
(ENCORE) "Much Obliged to You"

An inglorious feature of the evening was the disturbance by the young people. It is to be regretted that the young people of Manchester have no more respect for law and common decency than to go to a public meeting and make a nuisance of themselves. It is a disgrace for the town that a citizen should be forced to stand up in a meeting and ask the young people to please be quiet enough so that others might hear what is being said.

Advertising is an Art

Why not let us help you

to improve your business by inserting a well-arranged, well-worded advertisement in the NORTH SHORE BREEZE? It is part of our business to help you

Do it successfully.

Why not make a trial with these conditions? Cost of space is a less important matter than what to say in the space, yet we give you advice free of charge.

Your success is ours. Try us.

We want to cultivate the small advertiser. We will meet you more than half way. What do you say to that?

THE BREEZE

is the leading paper of the North Shore. One of its strongest points is that its clientele is a purchasing class; therefore it's not so much the quantity of the circulation as the quality. It goes to the summer visitors in summer and follows them to their permanent residence in winter because it is wanted and paid for. That's why it's recognized as the best for advertising.

Then, too, there is hardly a family in Manchester, Beverly Farms, Prides or Magnolia that does not take the BREEZE regularly every Saturday.

Ring 137 Manchester and our representative will call and talk it over with you.

own, and are not distanced by their quick-selling modern rivals; that the works of Bacon, Shakespeare, Milton, Dickens, are in steady demand; that among the largest issues of the press next to the Bible, to which Pilgrim's Progress and Spurgeon's sermons are a close second, are D. L. Moody's works equalling 2,500,000 copies a year. The world has not all gone daft yet.

One is not to be charged with lack of patriotism if he has little sympathy with war spirit that sometimes crops out among us, and that is sometimes fostered by some of our public men who ought to know better.

Aside altogether from all christian and humanitarian sentiment, all our interests are in the line of peace. Peace at any price may be an unworthy principle, war may sometimes be unavoidable; but there is nothing in sight at present which justifies the bellicose vaporings of a certain class of politicians and newspaper writers among us.

The more conscience and moral sanity and hopefulness we can have in our business and political world, and the less of selfishness and buncombe, the better. It is easy to write Jeremiads and to fall into the slough of Despond, but there is reason to hope that the great mass of the American people are at heart in favor of fairness, honesty and right; the great trouble is, matters get so much into the hands of demagogues, shysters and men who have an axe to grind, that the people are seldom heard from.

Let some great national and moral question stir the nation to its depths, and we shall see a force set in motion as of mountains upheaving, a force with which politicians and place-hunters and all who vampire-like draw the blood of the body politic will have to reckon.

Emerson said, "Your goodness must have some edge to it, else it is none," is not very much of the goodness that is extolled and practised at the present day of a soft, flabby, jelly-fish nature and contour, that has no firmness and no distinct outline. Must not real goodness be a "terror to evil doers" as well a "praise to them that do well," must it not hurt those who come into wilful and refractory contact with it, in other words, must it not have some edge to it?

It is often said that many things show that the world is on the eve of great changes, religious, moral, economic and political; that in the words of Bishop Coxe, written more than half a century ago,

> "We are living, we are dwelling,
> In a grand and awful time," but who is prophet enough to cast the horoscope of the future, or tell what the outcome of movements now going on around us is likely to be? One thing we may be sure of, that the past will not be repeated, and there is no reason to believe that those who confidently draw up a program for the Almighty will be any more successful than those who have ventured upon similar attempts in the past.

But while we cannot map out one day's events in advance, we may be prepared for whatever the morrow may have for us by doing diligently and faithfully the work of today; there is a large and wise sense in which we may let the morrow take thought for the things of itself.

No one will ever take the unique place that Washington holds in the hearts of his country men, not even Lincoln who was much more a man of the people and a more lovable man than the Father of his country; and it would be well if the life and character and services of the great and patriotic Virginian and American were made more and more a study in our schools and homes. Nations owe a debt to their truly great men, like Washington and Lincoln, which they can repay not by building monuments or waving flags or firing cannon, but by perpetuating their principles and re-embodying their spirits.

THE END IN SIGHT

Our Annual Mark-Down Sale will soon be a thing of the past. We can't say just when 'twill end, but it won't be long before it's all over. In the meantime, consolidating broken lots has made bigger bargains than ever.

WEST BEACH CORPORATION

Annual Meeting Held at Beverly Farms Monday Night.

The annual meeting of the West Beach corporation was held Monday evening at Marshall's hsll, Beverly Farms. The meeting was very spirited and was one of the largest meetings the corporation has held for a number of years. A feature of the meeting was the changes made in the Board of Directors.

In the absence of the president, James B. Dow, Councilman John C. McCarthy presided. The following officers were elected: James B. Dow, president; Daniel Linehan, vice president; Charles H. Hull, clerk; Elmer Standley, treasurer; Andrew Standley, W. R. Brooks, F. P. Williams, J. M. Publicover and John H. Linehan, directors. The latter two succeed Theodore A. Holmes and S. J. Connolly as directors and Mr. Hull succeeds H. E. Morgan. who has served as clerk for a number of years, but who was not a candidate for re-election this year.

The new board of directors enter upon their duties with the determination of making West Beach a most attractive spot, and ask the hearty support of the summer residents toward this end, for the corporation is supported largely by subscriptions from that quarter.

The board of directors in their annual report say in part:

"It is with regret that we have to announce the recent death of Vice President Stephen Eldridge, who was the oldest member of the corporation and John H. Woodbury, a former corporation president. Both men in former years took an active part in West Beach corporation affairs, they were prominent citizens holding positions of public trust and their passing away is indeed a public loss.

"An important happening of the past year was the coming to an end of the long contested law suit with the Preston heirs involving the ownership to the westerly portion of the property. This suit commenced Jan. 20, 1898, and the final decree was rendered the latter part of last May, covering a period of about nine years. While the corporation is much the same as of recent years with the exception that the bath houses which were located upon the property disputed in the Preston lawsuit so called, some minor changes and improvements in the bath houses have been undertaken, the pier has been repaired by renewing many of the old piles which were worn and worm eaten; nothing otherwise in the shape of improvements has been done owing to the fact that it was necessary to settle in a financial way the expense incurred in the Preston law suit.

"Though the result was somewhat disappointing as the main questions at issue were decided in favor of the Peston heirs, still the corporation retains rights and privileges there that are certainly valuable, which in all probablity would not be so had we not fully protected the corporation's rights to the full extent. As a matter of fact the finding of the court was based upon the deed and agreement of 1856 as the same was declared valid.

"While this suit was handed down to us as a sort of heritage from a previous board, and has cost the corporation a great amount of money and the directors no end of labor, still the matter had to be settled and we have seen no other way to do so, except to carry the affair to its final end. We have fought a good fight and have no regrets for our efforts to protect in every way the corporation's rights.

"The condition of the property, it is true, has been criticized by many, especially by those who are not members of the corporation and a general feeling that more should be done has caused a great holding back of those who, did they realize even in a small way the benefits derived, could do much toward aiding in improving the property so that it would be of vastly greater benefit to the community besides giving equitable service to our members.

"Various plans have been suggested in former years but always decided against by the corporation, the principle reason advanced being that nothing should be done along the lines suggested, until the Preston law suit was settled.

"The financial condition at this date shows the following summary:

Bank book shows balance of	$ 330.80
Less unreturned checks	296.55
Actual bal. in Bev. Nat. bank	$ 34.25
Cash on hand with treasurer	56.36
Total	$ 90.61
Total amount received during year	3,926.35
Total amount expended per voucher on file	3,835.74
Balance	$ 90.61

"The income during the year past may be divided up as received from the following sources:

Amount for pier and beach cleaning	$ 460.05
Sale of old float, etc.	45.00
Keeping small boat on floats	20.00
Corporation bath houses	735.00
Private bath houses	369.82
Storage of floats, etc.	75.00
Telephone privilege	5.00
Membership	6.00
Total	$1,715.87

"There is, however, an uncollected list of bills due the corporation to the amount of $402.34, the most part of which will undoubtedly be received.

"We have so far as we know paid all debts outstanding and the present liabilities can be summed up as follows:

Balance of pier note	$1.000.00
Note issued in June, 1907, acct. Preston law suit	1,000.00
Note issued in Oct., 1907, acct. Preston law suit in full settlement	1,300.00
Total liabilities	$3,300.00

"Our assets in bath houses and pier alone we consider to be about $5,000.

"As to recommendations for the future it would seem that the only wise course to pursue is to conduct the affairs of the corporation upon as economical plan as is consistent so that the net income received for the next period may be devoted towards the paying off of our notes. After this has been done it can be readily seen that the corporation will not alone be self supporting but should show a balance that will enable it to have a good working capital for any contemplated improvements.

JAMES B. DOW,
STEPHEN J. CONNOLLY,
FRED WILLIAMS,
Board of directors of the West Beach Corporation.
HOWARD E. MORGAN, clerk.

Song Recital.

The song recital to be given next Monday evening in Ames Memorial hall, Salem Y. M. C. A. building, under the auspices of the Salem Oratorio society, promises to be an event of rare interest to music lovers in this community. The recital will be by Alfred F Denghausen, baritone, of Boston, who sang recently in the "Golden Legend" concert given by the society. All seats are reserved, at 50 cents each, and may be obtained at Emilio's music store, Salem, or at the hall that evening.

Mrs. George N. Gale of Ridgeway, Col., and Mrs. W. Nelson Gale of Brookline were guests a portion of the past week of the latter's sister, Mrs. H. B. Hinchliffe.

Masconomo Council, K. of C., held a very enjoyable "smoke talk" at Odd Fellows hall Monday evening, on which occasion Dist. Deputy L. A. Ford, and a number of grand knights from Beverly, Salem and Peabody were present. A degree was exemplified, after which short speeches were in order. As a further entertaining feature P. H. Boyle gave a reading, "Bells of Shannon;" H. S. Tappan sang "Just Because he couldn't sing Love Me and the World is Mine," and Lagory Wade played a trombone solo, "Seems as though I've Always Loved You" As encores Mr. Tappan sang "Big Chief Battle-axe," and Mr. Wade played "Sweet-Heart Nell." As a repast a cock stew was the principal feature, Frank Crombie being the "chef."

Increase In Express Rates.

Despite the fact that the American Express Co. have advanced their minimum rates on small bundles from 15 cents to 25 cents, and also on 100 pound rates, Smith's Express Co., of Manchester who handle a big proportion of the express business between Magnolia, Manchester, Beverly Farms and Boston, have not made an advance, and are carrying bundles at the same rate,—namely, a minimum rate of 15 cents.

Baird-North Co. Auction.

An item of interest to many Manchester and Beverly Farms readers of the BREEZE is the announcement on page 17 of this issue that Baird-North Co., the well known Salem jewelry concern, is to sell out the balance of their stock, consisting of gold, gold-filled and sterling silver jewelry, rings, watches, toilet articles, cut glass, bric-a-brac, etc., at public auction beginning Wednesday, Feb. 19, at 7.30 p. m., and continuing daily at 2 and 7.30 p. m. until the stock is sold. When this concern removed their business to Providence last fall it was the intention to keep their Salem store open, but the recent death of Mr. Hussey, a member of the firm, brought about a change in this arrangement, and the firm is closing their store here entirely. North Shore people know well what an excellent line of goods these people carry and many will, no doubt, take advantage at the low prices to be obtained at an auction sale.

BEVERLY FARMS

William F. Eddy went to the Beverly hospital for treatment Wednesday.

Miss Helen Craig of Salem is in charge of the Farms telephone exchange during the absence of Miss Mabel Sawyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard McKay of Middletown, Conn., arrived at the Farms Wednesday evening and are the guests of relatives.

Andrew Demstadt left the early part of the week for his former home in Nova Scotia, where he will spend the balance of the winter.

Edwin F. Campbell and Benj. Hawkins, jr., took their physical examinations at Salem Thursday, made necessary by the civil service law, to become members the local fire department.

Work has been started at the city ledge in the rear of the crushing plant off Hale street under the direction of Foreman Wm. Elliott, drilling and getting ready to start up the crusher.

Mrs. Peter Ward is planning to sail from Boston on March 4 for England, where she expects to spend the next three or four months visiting relatives and renewing acquaintances at her former home.

Last Monday Gregory P. Connolly and John A. Morrison left New York city, via the Sunset Route for a trip south, along the coast and the Gulf of Mexico to New Orleans, whence they will return by rail, through Florida.

Farms' people have made no end of mistakes the past week, all because Robert Dow of Trenton, N. J., has been in town. Mr. Dow is a twin brother of our well known townsman, James B. Dow, and the two are as much a like as the proverbial two peas in a pod. Mr. Dow was called here by the death of his father the first of the week.

Thomas J. McDonnell, the plumber, whose shop was formerly located in Neighbor's hall block, is now occupying his new shop and store on Vine street.

F. Leslie Woodbury has been appointed by the probate court as executor of the estate of his late father, John H. Woodbury.

Mrs. Charles Ford of Pride's is reported to be getting along splendidly at the Beverly hospital, where she went a week ago for an operation.

Ground was broken the early part of the week upon one of the lots on the north side of Vine street for the new residence of Mrs. Abbie Marshall. Publicover Bros. are the contractors for the carpenter work and D. Linehan & Son will build the foundations.

The whole community has been anxiously inquiring all this week for the condition of Andrew Standley, who recently went through an operation at the Beverly hospital. At this writing the BREEZE is informed of his very comfortable condition and bright prospects for a continued improvement.

The announcement has been made of the coming marriage of Miss Alice McGrath of Boston and John E. Cahill of Beverly Farms, both of whom are popularly known here. Miss McGarth has occupied a position for a number of years in the household of W. B. Thomas at Pride's and Mr. Cahill is one of the Farms' well known young men.

Hall Settles

What in the world is there that is just exactly as smart in a hall as a Settle? What can give such tone, such an air of refinement, such character to even the simplest, the plainest of entrances?

Nothing.

Now, you know we have a decided failing toward filling our store with these out-of-the-ordinary things and never has our store been so full of these delightfully artistic and unusual home beautifiers as now. HALL SETTLES—we devote a whole corner to them. A unique corner it makes, too; the representatives of the different periods are as oddly contrasted as would be the characters in a congress of nations.

If you have a place in your hall that would just hold one of these individuals, you'd find a lot to interest you in this collection. Interesting prices, too.

Eben L. Roberts and son Edward who have spent the greater part of this week visiting at the Farms, left yesterday for their home in North Adams.

Preston Post and Associates are planning for a social evening to take place soon in G. A. R. hall, in return for the recent entertainment and good time given them by the W. R. C.

One of the mechanics at work at the H. M. Sears house,—a lather—fell from a staging Wednesday on the inside of the house, and was quite severely injured. He was taken to the Beverly hospital.

Miss Mabel Sawyer, the popular telephone operator in charge of the local exchange, was obliged to give up her work this week and return to her home in Waltham where she is reported to be quite ill with pneumonia.

Letters received this week by friends of Wesley McDermitt, who formerly lived here, would indicate that he is making progress to restoration of good health at Rutland. Mr. McDermitt plans to go west later, probably to Colorado, where he will settle.

The annual fair of Bass River lodge, I. O. O. F., commences on March 2, in City hall, and there are at least 35 members of the order in the Farms who are interested in its success. Mrs. Thomas Pierce and Mrs. Fred Williams have charge of the Farms table.

WATER SUPPLY

Special Town Meeting at Manchester on Additional Supply for the Town.

No definite action was taken on the matter of an additional water supply for Manchester at the special town meeting Monday evening other than to accept the report of the committee and ratify and affirm their action in introducing a bill before the legislature for the use of the water of Round Pond in addition to that of Gravel Pond as an additional source.

In fact, no legal action could be taken toward making an appropriation until the bill is passed upon by the legislature.

The motion, offered by Oliver T. Roberts, was as follows: That the report of the Committee on Additional Water Supply be accepted; that the action of said committee in introducing a bill now before the present Legislature for the use of the waters of Round Pond as an additional source of water supply for the Town of Manchester, supplementing those of Gravelly Pond already granted, be ratified and confirmed; and that said committee be continued and instructed to report at a future town meeting.

The rest of the evening was spent in an explanation of the plans of the committee, the feasibility of Gravel Pond as an additional supply, by the engineer, Desmond Fitzgerald, who answered all the questions in a decidedly clear and concise manner.

The meeting was called to order at 7.50 by Town Clerk A. S. Jewett, who JUSTICE O. W. HOLMES' SUMMER HOME, BEVERLY FARMS.

The accompanying picture shows the cottage at Beverly Farms which Justice Oliver Wendall Holmes of the U. S. Supreme court has purchased the past week from the Marshall heirs. It is the same cottage which Justice Holmes and his father, Oliver Wendall Holmes, before him, have occupied for the past twenty years. Charmingly situated a little back from the road and nestling cosily among the trees, it is one of the most attractive residences along the shore. Of simple design and unpretentious in style, it harmonizes with the surroundings and makes an ideal retreat for one who, like its owner, seeks rest and quiet after a winter spent in the arduous duties of the supreme bench. (See page 13.)

NO-LICENSE AND LAW ENFORCEMENT

Manchester Pastor Makes Statement on Subject Prior to Town Meeting.

Rev. E. Hersey Brewster made the following statement last Sunday evening at the Baptist church, Manchester, on no-license and law enforcement:

"It is altogether fitting that the churches of the community should declare their position in regard to the question of license. The churches have a real interest in the matter. They represent the efforts of the community to keep out what is evil and to bring in what is good. The town is under obligation to listen to the churches on this question.

"The town is greatly indebted to the churches. Apart from the spiritual idea, the churches are a great practical benefit to the people. Real estate values are effected by the presence of live and active religious societies. Men of respectable character and legitimate ambitions would not care to reside in a town where there were no churches. Capital would refuse to invest; commerce would pass

Mr. Standley had not enjoyed the best of health for some months. He was seriously ill last year, for some weeks, and it was feared for a time that he would not recover. A little over a week before his death he went to the Beverly hospital for an operation. For a time he

Town meeting Monday at 9 a. m.

The polls for election of officers open at 12 and will close not later than 5.30.

In Rockport, we notice, the same men are running for selectmen and assessors.

There are about 600 voters in town and it is hoped that the largest vote ever recorded at a town election will turn out.

This is the first time there has been five issues of the BREEZE in February, and if we are rightly informed it will be the last for some 50 years or more.

And tomorrow will be the first time that March 1 has come on Sunday for 48 years, we are informed by a subscriber who was born on Sunday, March 1, 1860.

Town Treasurer Stanley received a check Thursday for $15,937.84, the balance of the bank and corporation tax, which was discovered by the assessors last fall in looking over the bank and corporation tax books, that amount having been placed to the credit of some other place than Manchester.

Finding lack of support Robert A. Mitchell withdrew from the field as candidate for tree warden and superintendent of moth suppression in favor of John D. Morrison. Mr. Morrison is making a good fight for the position and hopes to win at the polls Monday. Wm. Young is the other candidate.

John Baker was one of those to celebrate a "birthday" last Saturday, the day marking the half century mile stone for Mr. Baker, who celebrates in some form or other every year. This year the celebration of his birthday started Friday night, when, on returning home from the minstrel show he found at his front door a beautiful morris chair, a gift from his mother and his brother Lorenzo Another gift which Mr. Baker prizes highly is a genealogy of the Baker family, which it has taken Miss Lucy Baker ten years to prepare. The family tree is traced back to Cornelius Baker, a blacksmith, who lived in Salem as early as 1658. And on his great-grandmother's side, the tree goes back to John Annable, mentioned in Ipswich in 1639, and who was born in England in 1606. Mr. Baker also has some Allen blood in him. His grandmother was a Burnham, being a descendant of Thomas Burnham who settled in the Massachusetts colony in the 1600's. On his mother's side the family tree reaches back to Normandy, Nathaniel Merrill being born in 1610. Mr. Baker will prize this book very highly. He celebrated his birthday last Saturday by entertaining a family gathering at his home, "Fairview." His mother, Nancy A. Baker, 74 years old, was among those present.

Miss Nellie Russell of Somerville is visiting Miss Mabel Lodge.

Robert Allen of Mt. Hermon school, is in town over Sunday visiting his brother, Walter Allen, School st.

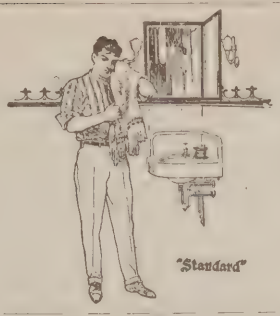

H. G. Nichols of the Old Corner Store has something in his adv. today which will interest the ladies,—something "free."

Miss Lydia Lee of Chicago, a student of Simons College, Boston, is a guest of Miss Mabel Morgan, School street, over the week-end,

The whist party given in the Town hall Thursday evening in aid of the new Sacred Heart church was a well attended affair. Dancing was enjoyed the latter part of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Robertson were over from Wenham last Friday to attend the Manchester club minstrels and remained over the holiday and Sunday, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Gould, School st.

The invitation dancing party given in the Town hall last evening was attended by a large number of young people. The hall was prettily decorated with colored streamers, and presented quite an attractive appearane.

MANCHESTER, Mass., Feb. 29, 1908.
To the voters of the Town of Manchester.

Gentlemen: I wish to make you this brief statement before Town meeting.

In placing my name before the voters of Manchester as a candidate for the office of Treasurer and Collector of Taxes, I desire as a matter of citizenship to secure the office. The accounts should be kept in an up-to-date manner and the office conducted on a strictly business basis, both matters which would receive my attention.

I fully believe a practice of economy in expenditure of money should be exercised in all departments of the Town.

Trusting to receive your support, I am,

Yours very respectfully,
ALBERT CUNNINGHAM.

They Have Begun to Arrive, First Car This Morning.

This One of Sideboards.

And so good are these boards for the price we shall ask, that we beg you'll not suspect exaggeration as you read what's to follow.

First As for QUALITY: They are all quarter-sawed oak, of the very first selecting, with great big flakes that are peculiar to the quartering, and finished in varnish, with a surface like glass.

The cabinet work on the inside is done with great care, all the drawer sides, for instance, being dove-tailed front and back.

The mirrors are imported, genuine French plates, and the trimmings on the drawers are all solid brass. For an example to judge the values, here is one with a full swell front, with the accustomed lined silver drawer and a re-inforced bottom to the linen drawer. It stands on French legs, it has a pattern plate mirror, neatly grooved columns support the top shelf standing on claw feet on the top of the base. Design very simple but of remarkable good taste.

Mrs. Meyer has been entertaining Hon. Violet Vivian, one of the ladies in waiting to the Queen of England.

Well Known Summer Resident Passes Away.

Charles H. Dalton, a well known summer resident of Beverly Farms, and identified with many public and private interests, died Sunday at his home, 33 Commonwealth avenue, Boston. He had not been ill, therefore his death was unexpected. He was at his business offices in the stock exchange building, State street, on Friday last, and on Saturday was out driving. Retiring that night in apparently his usual health, he quietly slept his life away.

Mr. Dalton, who was in his eighty-second year, was born in Chelmsford on Sept. 25, 1826, and was the son of the late Dr. John Call Dalton of Lowell and later of Boston. Mr. Dalton's mother was Julia Ann Spaulding of Chelmsford.

A close friend of the late Gov. John A. Andrew, Mr. Dalton in civil war days undertook important missions to Washington, where he went in behalf of Gov. Andrew on private confidential business regarding Massachusetts and its relation to the Government. In this work he achieved great success.

For many years Mr. Dalton has spent his summers at Beverly Farms and was known to almost the entire North Shore summer colony. He it was who gave the name of West Beach hill to that section of the Farms where he spent his summers. It previously had been known more familiarly as Dalton Hill. Mr. Dalton is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Mary McGregor, and by a brother, Henry R. Dalton of Boston.

Brookline's Water Supply.

Inasmuch as Manchester folk are much interested at the present time in an additional water supply the following clipping from last Sunday's Boston Herald on Brookline's water supply is quite apropos:

"Non-residents who drink Brookline water in summer wonder how it is kept so cold. They cannot understand why it should be so refreshing at times when water in other cities and towns is warm. The secret of Brookline's water is that it never sees daylight until it runs out of the faucet.

"In 1873 the town voted $400,000 for water works. The water now distributed through Brookline for household uses has the advantage of being taken from subterranean sources of remarkable purity, at a temperature of about 50 degrees.

"Algae forms in water, however pure, thus taken from the ground, if the water be left in storage reservoirs exposed to light. Brookline first introduced to its high service system a covered receiving tank upon a hill, with the result that algae did not form there. A covered reservoir of large dimensions was then built for general use, and the effect upon the water has been all that was promised, for now every household gets water as pure and almost as cool as when taken from the underground gravel deposits six miles away on the shores of the Charles river.

"Brookline's water is not actually taken form the Charles river, but from about 170 driven wells situated on the banks of the upper reaches of the stream. These tap the springs which supply the river, so in this sense the water comes from the river. From the wells, the water is pumped direct to the covered reservoir on Fishers's Hill."

Mrs. Levi Harvie entertained a number of young people at her home Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Trites of Melrose spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Height.

Warren K. Emerson of Danvers, and Edward and Carleton Knight of Boston were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Needham over the 22d.

Mrs. Harriet Albert, who is rooming at Mrs. Lations, Union street, suffered a shock Wednesday of last week, and is quite ill at the present time.

The town reports and also the report of the finance committee were distributed about town on Wednesday and the citizens have no doubt reviewed both by this time.

It is evident that there is an abundance of eels in Central Pond. A local fisherman took 85 pounds from the pond one day this week, one of the fish weighing 17 pounds.

A fire was narrowly averted at the home of T. A. Robbins, Bridge street, Sunday, when some papers on a floor that had recently been treated to a coat of japalac caught fire.

In the superior court Wednesday the Frank R. Neal automobile case came up and Mr. Neal was fined $50 for violation of the spe d law. It will be recalled that Mr. Neal figured in the accident at Craft's hill in early September.

Mr. and Mrs. William Follett, Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Crombie and Nathaniel Morgan attended the 21st annual reunion of the Rantoul L. G. veteran association at G. A. R. hall, Beverly, on Washington's Birthday. This is the annual gathering of the few r ma ning members of Co. G, 23d Mass., who saw service in North Carolina and Virginia during the civil war. Mr. Morgan and Mr. Crombie always make it a point to attend the meetings.

WHISPERINGS

The first business of Town meeting was of a rather peculiar order, and possibly out of order, or a trifle previous, John Linehan's horse being the first one to start the argument by appropriating several pages of the Town Warrant posted on the Town hall building. Some of the articles swallowed, we are informed, the equine will find much difficulty in keeping down. According to the latest returns from Pride's Crossing the equine politician has raised nothing, so our appprіation committee need not become unduly alarmed over the incident. Editor NORTH SHORE BREEZE:

I notice in the list of aspirants for town office the name of George E. Willmonton, for the office of Town Clerk, and it inspires me say a few words for his candidacy. The citizens of this town know as well as the writer that Mr. Willmonton has ability and legal knowledge to successfully carry this office to a high standard of approbation, and we are also aware that the present incumbent is equally efficient, but the fact remains, namely: that new blood and young energy instilled into the office of Town Clerk will give to Manchester in the future a detailed transaction of all business performed at our town meetings, something that we have never received in the past, and also the satisfaction that this office has kept up with the progressive spirit of our town. Now all things being equal, why not elect a young man, who can fulfil the requirements and also obtain the knowledge which will make him valuable to Manchester in years to come.

Cantata by Story High School Pupils.

The cantata, "The Building of the Ship," by the pupils of the Story High school, Manchester, assisted by a quartet of singers from Boston, was given in the town hall Wednesday evening and was quite well attended. Considering the number of pupils to select from the singing was well rendered and the performance on a whole was of a very good character.

The soloists were Mrs. H. Y. Follett, soprano; Miss Edith Poole, contralto; Edward E. Bullock, tenor, and H. Y. Follett, baritone. George E. Wales, director of music at the Manchester schools, was the conductor, and Miss Hazel Wyman presided at the piano.

Following is the program presented:

REPT. Wm. R. Brooks of Beverly Farms and Rept. Wallis of Beverly put up a good fight for the new district court at Beverly, but despite their efforts the bill was voted down 79 to 41 at Tuesday's session of the House. This came after a motion had been made to substitute the bill for the report of the committee on leave to withdraw.

THE Financial Committee, of Manchester, has certainly slashed things right and left this year, so to speak. While they recommend a total appropriation of some $160,000, this amount is about $17,000 under that appropriated last year, and much under that called for this year. The committee is trying to economize, evidently. Economy is a good thing to practice, but in some cases not the wisest.

THE papers have had more or less to say of late about Senator James F. Shaw, and his probable election as president of the senate, were he returned to the State House at the election next fall. We are pleased to learn that, though Senator Shaw has served his logical term as Manchester's representative in the Senate, his Gloucester friends are so much pleased with the manner he has represented the district that it is doubtful if he would find opposition in that quarter next fall did he choose to run for a third year, especially if he stands such a good chance of being the next president of the senate. In that capacity Senator Shaw should certainly be in a position to give this district the very best service.

THE Annual meeting of the Town of Manchester which begins on Monday is one of unusual importance; and in view of the large expenditures involved, and especially the important question of the extension of its water system, this importance begins at once in the choice and election of its town officers. A large attendance is expected and desired, called out especially to determine who are to direct the affairs of its Water Commission and the important duties pertaining to that office. There is a strong feeling in the town that it is important to begin right, and to that end to secure officials who are best fitted to adopt and carry out the proposed work of extending and increasing the water supply which is, or soon will be inadequate to the ever increasing demand. Whether these officials are to be the present board or whether a change is to be desired or obtained, the votes on Monday will determine.

No other candidates have appeared for any of the town offices than those mentioned in these columns last week, with the exception of James Hoare, whose paper for water commissioner was filed Monday. There are three aspirants for the board of selectmen beside the present board, and there are two applicants each for the one and two year terms of the board of assessors. But F. K. Swett is the only candidate for the three year term. From what we have been able to see and hear the past week, we should judge that the present board of selectmen —F. K. Swett, E. S. Knight and W. R. Bell—will be re-elected, and that they will also be elected assessors for the various terms for which they are candidates. In view of the recommendations of the appropriation committee it would seem that it is the cheapest thing for the town to have the same men serve on both boards, and thus save the expense of having two offices, two sets of desks, etc., for the present year at least.

As long as the present board is running for both offices it would be much cheaper in that way to have the same men serve in both. It is feasible at any rate to have the same chairman for both boards, as it is best to keep the office open as it has been the past year.

IN a community like the North Shore it ought not to be necessary for us to state that the columns of this paper, are no open to the publication of news matte aimed at a person as a vent to spite, or intended to be derogatory to one's repute. When, in our judgment, we are justified in presenting our views on a person or cause, editorially, we are not afraid to do so; but we take that responsibility ourselves. When on the other hand somebody else wants us to word our news matter in such a way that the real facts are distorted and something derogatory of a person is printed instead, there is where we draw the line.

And when a business man is so narrow-minded that he "discontinues" his advertisement simply because we will not lower ourselves, and the standard of the paper to gratify his desires, we have to sit down and wonder what's coming next. 42 cents a week! Why didn't we sell ourselves for that? We are pleased to state, to save any missapprehension, that Manchester does not harbor this particular man.

Advertising Suggestions

The man who does not believe in newspaper advertising is the one most anxious to have the newspaper correct any slight mistake or inaccuracy that may appear about him. This is not "knocking" anybody in particular this time but everybody in general most all the time.

read the warrant. Raymond C. Allen was chosen moderator. Mr. Allen said that Mr. FitzGerald had intended to be at the meeting, and he would probably arrive on the 8.06 train. He said that the committee and citizens had placed a bill before the legislature asking for Round Pond in addition to Gravel Pond as a source of additional supply and about the only thing the meeting could do was to ratify their action, though the citizens might talk over the matter of water supply and ask any questions and make suggestions.

O. T. Roberts then offered the motion given above. This was carried by a unanimous vote.

In the lull, while waiting for Mr. FitzGerald to arrive, H. T. Bingham broke the quietness by asking about the map, showing the location of the ponds, pinned to the desk on the stage. "Can't tell whether that's the West Indies or the Philippine Islands," said he.

S. Knight asked if "Aunt Molly's" was shown on the map and F. K. Hooper inquired of the moderator if "Ike" Knowlton had consented to our using the water.

When Mr. FitzGerald arrived he was granted the privilege of the floor on motion of F. J. Merrill.

W. C. Rust asked why preference was given to Moses hill instead of Wyman's hill as a site for the new standpipe. He had always understood Wyman's hill was higher by 20 feet.

Mr. FitzGerald thanked the voters for the honor granted him in an extention of courtesy of the floor. He gave as his reasons why Moses hill was recommended that it was nearer, more direct and cheaper. "In going from the present to high pressure," he said, "you are making a great stride; you are greatly benefiting your property. The present system of distribution is founded upon a much lower grade of service, and in the change to a higher grade you are going to bring greater pressure on all plumbing. I should advise not going higher than is absolutely necessary, because every foot counts.

"There is no doubt but what you improve property and make Manchester a safer and more desirable town to live in. In expenditures by a municipality the thing we want to avoid is waste. That is the root to a great deal of trouble. This thing should be done in the truest and best manner. We have tried to give Manchester the very best addition to its present supply. You live in a town that is growing and if you wait too long you will loose rather than save by any expenditure you do not make now.

"It is very unfortunate that the plans and specifications are not ready now so that you could take advantage of the present low prices, as you know pig iron is now at very low ebb.

"You are very fortunate in having a supply so near the town. It is not by any means unfavorably situated. Most of the towns have gone through exactly the same experience as you. The system is outgrown even before you anticipate what it is going to be. The great point is to anticipate it in time, because a sufficient supply of good water is the greatest boon a town can have."

Samuel Knight said that it was good water and an abundant supply of it that the town was after. He had read the report of the committee and engineer very carefully, and he assumed that others had done so, also. Yet, there was a feeling in the minds of many, he thought, that we ought to go to Beaver Dam swamp; that this would last 10 or 15 years and that the cost would not be half of the Gravel Pond project.

Mr. Fitzgerald replied to this that there was plenty of water at Beaver Dam but it is another question how to develop it and use it. It isn't a good water, he said, and it would cost an enormous sum to make it right for domestic use. In the first place there must be a storage reservoir. Unfortunately this brook (Saw Mill) runs through several swamps and these are the best places for reservoirs. These swamps take up a large amount of organic matter and a large quantity of algae form in the summer, so that the only way to get a good reservoir is to dig out the mud, and that is very expensive. The result is you have a more expensive system than we recommend and the water is not nearly as good.

In reply to further questions Mr. Fitz Gerald said that the water of Gravel Pond is absolutely good,—white as spring water. Round Pond water is slightly colored, but as this would be taken into Gravel Pond only in small quantities each day it will have become bleached before it is distributed. But the time will come when the water from Round Pond will be taken in such quantity that it will have to be filtered.

M. E. Gorman asked questions which brought out statements from Mr. Fitz Gerald that Chebacco lake and Gravel pond are some 500 or 600 feet apart and that a bank of gravel separates the two through which the water does not penetrate.

Questions by Mr. Morley seemed to indicate that he was strongly in favor of the Gravel Pond project to all others.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. FitzGerald for his kindness in coming to the meeting and for the information he had given the meeting.

The meeting was dissolved at 9.25.

MAGNOLIA

The Ladies' Aid society will meet with Mrs. Edgar Story next Thursday.

The members of the Senior C. E. society held a "half pound party" at the parsonage Thursday evening.

Mrs. Foster has increased the usefulness of the Sunday school by the addition of a Home department of twelve.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Abbott of Dorchester were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Crispin over the holiday.

The Bible class is deep in the mysteries of miracles at present. The study of the "Hebrew Prophets" will be commenced soon.

On Friday evening, Feb. 21, the most successful dancing party of the season was held at the club house by six young ladies. Guests were present from Gloucester, Dorchester, Wellesley and Salem.

A repetition of the successful "Railroad Restaurant" held last winter under the management of Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. Edgar Story is being talked of. It is generally hoped that report speaks truth.

Deacon W. R. Boyd is the delegate elected to accompany the pastor Rev. F. J. Libby in representing the Magnolia church at the New England Congregational congress to be held in Worcester, March 3 and 4.

March 8th is to be Foreign Missions Day in Magnolia. Giles G. Brown of Ceylon is to spend the day here and will make the day a memorable one. He will speak both morning and evening and in the Sunday school.

J. Frank Chase of the Watch and Ward society is to speak in the People's Forum tomorrow evening on "Vice and Advice." No one can afford to miss hearing him. The People's Forum is to be especially strong during March.

"Tom" Abbott's many friends will be glad to learn that he has a position with the Walter M. Hatch Co., dealers in oriental and domestic rugs, at 43 and 45 Summer street, Boston, at a much better salary than he received previously. He guarantees a cordial welcome and square dealing to all who call.

A very pretty chafing dish party was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Abbott of Dorchester, at the home of Miss Ethel May on Saturday evening, Feb. 22. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Howe of Chelsea, A. C. Knowlton of Peabody, Miss Mamie Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. John May, jr., Edward Wilkinson, Miss A. F. Story and Gilbert Crispin. The menu consisted of lobster a la newburg, welsh rarebit, chicken a la metropoil, shrimp wiggle, olives, pickles, nabiscos cake, candy, tea, hot chocolate and a Washington punch.

BEVERLY FARMS

Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Osgood of Milford, N. H., are visiting relatives here.

Miss Margaret Scanlon and Miss Grace Bean of Lawrence were guests of Mrs. John Bresnahan over Sunday.

Another attractive sign has been hung in the window of Gaudreau's barber shop, advertising "Barbers supplies and Toilet Articles." *

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Dow are planning to take a trip to Washington and other places of interest next week, to be away a fortnight.

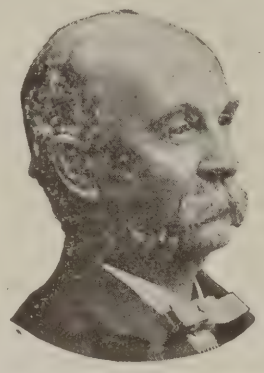

Mrs. E F. Powers is going to Cohasset to spend a week's vacation, it being her former home. Her many friends at the Farms will greatly miss her as she is very popular since she made her home here.

Officer Webster K. Bray, who has for a number of years done night duty at the Farms, has been transferred to that section in the vicinity of the U. S. Machinery Co., last night completed his duties here.

Under Sect. 2, Art. 2., of the by-laws of West Beach corporation, which gives power to fill any vacancies which may occur in the officers, the board of directors will meet soon to fill the position made vacant by the death of the late Andrew Standley.

Rev. Michael Earls, S. J., Boston college, will lecture at St. Margaret's church, Monday evening, March 16, on "Soggarth Aroon in Poetry." There will also be songs and readings by talent from the Boston college High school. Tickets are 35 cents.

What surely would have resulted in a serious fire, entailing the loss of one of the Farms business blocks, even if it had stopped there, was prevented early Friday morning by the discovery, by Night Officer Stone who was making his last round of inspection of the business section in Central square, just before the time of his going off duty at 5 o'clock. It seems that in the rear part of the shoe store of the late Andrew Standley there is a small box filled with saw dust, in which someone dropped a lighted match or possibly a cigar just before closing time Thursday night, resulting in a slow but increasing smouldering of the contents of the box. Officer Stone thought he detected smoke when he reached the store for the last time and on investigation he found the place filled with thick smoke. The alarm was quickly given and the Farms department, located across the street was quickly on hand, made an entrance and soon quenched the insipient flame. Besides the shoe store there is located in the same block the provision store of Walter P. Brewer, formerly the Walker Bros. market, which is not open at the present time. Also four families live up stairs in the block.

And Improvements

An important real estate transaction, the final papers in which were passed this week, is that by which Justice Oliver Wendall Holmes of the United States Supreme court becomes owner of the Marshall cottage at Beverly Farms which he and his father, the late Oliver Wendall Holmes before him, have occupied for the past 20 year. Besides the cottage and stable there is about 1¼ acres of land.

The cottage was built about 25 years ago by the four sons of the late Timothy I. Marshall (the late A. O. Marshall of Beverly Farms and John W. Marshall of Manchester, being two of the sons), on the site of the old Marshall homestead, which had been there for 100 years before then. The late Oliver Wendall Holmes was one of the first to occupy the place as a summer home and he found inspiration for much of his late writings while passing the summer at this place. He lived there several years until the death of his daughter, Mrs. Turner Sargent, and his son, Justice Holmes, has lived there since. It was only within a month or so that the Marshall heirs have consented to sell the place, which has been one of the land marks of the North Shore for the past 125 years.

The cottage is located on Hale street, near the summer home of S. Reed Anthony, and also that of the Otis H. Lukes, which adjoins it on the rear. The cottage affords an excellent view of the bay.

[We were informed just before going to press that Justice Holmes has bought only two-thirds interest in the above estate,—that of John W. Marshall of Manchester and Joseph Marshall of Reading. The other third, will be retained by the heirs of the late A. O. Marshall of Beverly Farms.—Ed.]

Publicover Bros. have the contract for the building of a large addition to the Hooper cottage, so-called, owned by Charle H. Tweed. The work has been started and it is understood the house is to be ready for occupancy by late spring. The work includes, beside the addition, improvements to and alterations on the old house.

John G. Haskell et al, convey to Walter D. Denegre, land (4.353 acres) on Highland avenue, Manchester; also 3.268 acre of land in Manchester.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I beg to announce to the residents of the North Shore that I have purchased from Walker Bros. & Co. the provision business conducted by them at Beverly Farms for the past twenty years, including their good will and trade. Having had twenty-five years experience on the North Shore, eight years as manager of Wyatt's Market, I thoroughly understand the selection of choice meats, fruits, vegetables, etc., carried by first-class markets. The business will be conducted under the name of Brewer's Market, which will be opened on or about April 20, 1908. I solicit your patronage.

WALTER P. BREWER.

Beverly Farms, Mass., Feb. 10, 1908.

We, the undersigned, certify that we have sold the good will and trade of our North Shore business to Walter P. Brewer.

Manchester Man Elected President of Association.

The annual meeting of the Baptist young people of the Salem Association was held at the Baptist church in Manchester on Washington's Birthday, and at the election of officers a Manchester man, Edward S. Bradley, was chosen president of the association for the ensuing year, to succeed Rev. E. Hersey Brewster. The other officers elected were: P. E. Williams, Salem, 1st. vice president; Theoron Phelps, East Gloucester, 2d vice president; Miss Annie M. Allis, Salem, secretary; Perley Dodge, Wenham, treasurer; George E. Perkins, Wenham, Rev. E. H. Brewster, Manchester, and W. A. Pride, Beverly Farms, board of directors.

At the afternoon session Miss Stella Archer Simson of the Life Line league, Boston, spoke of her mission work in the city, and Miss Norma Waterbury of Montserrat also spoke. The evening speaker was Rev. John M. Moore, of Boston, secretary of the Young People's Forward Movement. Mr. Moore's subject was "The New Crusade." He out-lined the "Forward Movement," as being a "movement," not a society; and that it is devoted wholly to missionary education and inspiration.

"The object of the Forward League," Mr. Moore explained, "is the enlistment, enrolment and cultivation of the large number of Baptist young people who may not become missionaries, either at home or abroad, but who shall be as definitely committed to the evangelization of the world as are the missionaries themselves; and who shall supplement the work of Home and Foreign Missionaries by securing for them an intelligent and generous co-operation in the churches."

Delegations attended the meeting from Salem, Beverly, Beverly Farms, Hamilton, Wenham and Gloucester. The local union furnished supper in the vestry of the church at 6 o'clock. The evening session was quite largely attended.

"Gift of Tongues."

Rev. L. H. Ruge preached a very strong and helpful sermon at the Congregational church, Manchester, last Sunday morning on "Gift of Tongues," with text from Acts 2: 4—"And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance." Among the thoughts expressed were the following:

"Here is the reason men do not go to church: 'Having ears they hear not.' They do not understand the language of the sanctuary."

"Go, listen to the best music; never mind your taste, that will come. Go, see the best art; never mind your judgment, that will come. Go search for the glory that is above the world and at last you will reach it. Jesus still speaks."

"The truth has a harsh sound in our ears, yet it is the voice of the infinite one; His revelations of God are as idle words because we haven't the ears to hear."

"You will be a long time in his presence before you can get an idea of what Jesus is saying. Only a life of communion and devotion to Him can make us understand Him. Can we catch the deeper meaning of the message which he brings to the world?"

Sea Weed as Fertilizer.

The United States agricultural department is investigating sea weed and some of its findings are of much interest to the people of the North Shore. It has found that sea weed is an excellent fertilizer particularly for potatoes, clover and other crops requiring potash. It attributes the fine quality of some crops raised on sea shore farms to the use of sea weed as a fertilizer. The department is also investigating sea moss as a food.

NO-LICENSE

by on the other side; all that is best and bright in social life would shun our borders. All this is self-evident. The town therefore is in debt to the churches.

"Frankly, how can that debt be discharged? By making the work of the churches just as easy as possible. By this I mean that forces antagonistic to the churches should be put under check. If there is anything that opposes the evangel which the churches proclaim, that thing should be removed. Nothing so obstructs and nullifies the work of the churches as the saloon. For that reason the town should see to it that no-license is granted for the sale of liqours.

"There are two reasons why men will vote for license at the town meeting. First, because they want it. I have little to say to this class, except to express the conviction that on sober second thought many of these so-called license advocates would vote 'No.'

"There are few men so selfish as to wish to imperil the morals of hundreds of young people simply in order that their taste for liquor may be gratified. These are few fathers who want their children to look through the swinging doors of a bar room on their way to and from school almost every day of the year. That seems to be the inevitable lot of city children, God pity them, but it need not be the lot of children in the villages of Massachussetts.

"Another reason why men will vote for license is because the no-license law has not been enforced. I wish to speak very earnestly to this class. You should vote for no-license, first, from principle. If you believe the saloon is an evil you should never join hands at the polls with those of the opposite belief. Would you like to be photograped standing alongside the liquor dealer holding up a ballot marked the same as his in the space devoted to the question 'Yes' or 'No?'

"Second, you should vote 'No' because a no-license law is the only possible basis upon which efforts making toward a clean town can rest. If there were no such law, however zealous you might be for the suppression of the saloon, your zeal would not only go for nothing, but you would be laughed at for your pains.

"Third, you should vote no because the larger the no-license vote the greater heed will the officials elected pay to your demand that the law be enforced.

"It is held by many that a no-license law cannot be enforced in our town. First, because it is complicated; second, because it is unpopular. Neither of these reasons are sound. In fact, they are no reasons at all. If the law is complicated, who made it so? It would be perfectly simple if impartially administered. Any machine no matter how fine work it turns out becomes complicated when allowed to clog with dust, or to fall to pieces through disuse.

"As to its being an unpopular law there is no evidence that it is. Indeed, if we were to judge from the facts in the case we would be constrained to take the opposite view. It is the old cry of 'wolf.' It is not always those who make the greatest noise who feel deepest, and because there are some who seek to justify a slack enforcement of the law on the ground of its unpopularity, the sober thinking people of the community should not be thus beguilded. That law is popular here tonight. It is popular at the voting booths. It is popular in many of our homes. There is not a mother in town with whom it is not popular.

"The no-license law should be enforced because it is a just and wise law. Its framers intended that through its adoption the people could get relief from the presence of an unsavory nuisance. If the officers receiving the majority of votes at the next town election should be restrained from entering upon their several offices by a revolutionary element we should be greatly scandalized, and whether we had voted for them or not we should all feel under equal obligation to put down the revolutionary uprising, and to see that these men lawfully elected were inducted into office. The same principal applies when considering the enforement of the no-license law.

"This law can be enforced. There are men whose special duty it is to see that this law as well as others is enforced. The machinery of government is quite sufficient. Our recouses are very ample.

"Finally, the no-license law must be enforced if we wish to maintain our prestige as a law abiding community. As in the conscience of God it is decreed that he who offends in one point of the law is guilty of all, so though we maintain the enforcement of all other laws and neglect this one, our fame for integrity and civic righteousness is hopelessly tarnished. It takes only one rock to wreck a ship, one crime to jail a criminal, and it takes only one transgression of the carefully devised and intelligently approved laws of our community to become a seed plot of anarchy and confusion.

"You will not misunderstand my motive in making this personal statement. It is at least a sober statement, however else it may fail in purpose. And I am of the profound conviction that there are very many who will regard what has been said with sympathy."

ANDREW STANDLEY

seemed to be gaining, but a relapse set in and he passed away a little before noon Saturday.

Mr. Standley was born in Wenham 67 years ago. After his school days he followed the trade of shoemaker for a time, and during the war he served in the Third Heavy artillery, where he made a splendid record as a soldier. After the war he returned to Wenham and manufactured shoes, later coming to Beverly Farms, and about 25 years ago he opened a retail shoe store, which he successfully conducted up to the time of his death.

He married Miss Susan A. May, who survives him. There are also three children, Mrs. Marshall T. Larcom of Beverly Farms, Horace Standley, a well known Manchester business man, and Postmaster Elmer Standley of the Farms.

Mr. Standley was a man who was always interested in the affairs of the community in which he lived.

He was a quiet appearing man, but one whose opinion on matters was always sought. He was a man whom everybody regarded as their friend, and his loss will be felt in many ways.

A charter member of Post 188, G. A. R., Mr. Standley had always maintained a deep interest in the organization. He was also a member of Bass River lodge of Odd Fellows, treasurer of the Municipal club, a director of the West Beach corporation, and a member of the Home Benefit association of the local fire department. For some time he was a member of the City Board of Health and was at the time of his death on the Board of Cemetery commissioners.

Funeral services were held at the Farms Monday afternoon. Business was entirely suspended during the hour of the services. The services were held from his late home on West street, and the manner in which his many friends and business associates turned out attested in no small degree the esteem in which he was held.

Rev. Clarence Strong Pond of the Baptist church officiated and there were representatives present from the various organizations of which Mr. Standley was a member. Mayor Dow was also among those present. The maney floral tributes were beautiful and included standing wreaths from the G. A. R., G. A R. Associates, the Muuicipal club, West Beach corporation and friends.

The Odd Fellows and Grand Army services were conducted. The pall bearers were Eben Day, Benjamin F. Osborne, Henry Wyatt, Theodore A. Holmes, Ezra Williams, Charles H. Trowt and James B. Dow representing the Grand Army and associates, the Odd Fellows and the Municipal club. Interment was in the Farms cemetery.

A reunion of the Ober family was held on Washington's Birthday at the home of Mrs. Charles F. Preston, Hale street.

Resolutions of respect and condolence have been adopted by Preston Post, 188, and Associates, the Municipal club and the West Beach corporation directors, over the death of Andrew Standley, who was one of the Farms' most beloved citizens.

Thomas McKenzie, a young man who formerly lived here, was noticed at Topsfield this week, where he is connected with the Kickapoo Indian Medicine company, who are there for the winter, giving variety shows and selling their medicines. Mr. McKenzie is one of the principal characters.

Members of the committee on fire department of which Councilman Charles H. Hull is one, His Honor Mayor Dow, the board of fire engineers, of which Asst. Eng. Hodgkins is a member, and invited guests, made the annual inspection on Washington's Birthday of the West Street engine house and found everything in first-class condition. The party was met by Ald. Hodgkins and the members of the company in uniform. The stay here was of about an hour's duration during which time Drivers Pike, Woodbury and Morgan gave an exhibition of some quick hitches.

The Municipal club held another open meeting last evening in Marshall's hall to which the public were invited. The club had as a guest John M. Murney of Beverly, chairman of the Board of Assessors, who delivered an interesting and instructive talk upon "Taxation"—This club is a public benefactor in a way inasmuch as it is presenting to the people of the Farms a series of talks or addresses upon subjects of public interest.

RESOLUTIONS

MUNICIPAL CLUB

Beverly Farms, Mass.

WHEREAS: Our esteemed fellow member, Andrew Standley, has been called by Him from our midst, we bow in meek submission to His will, yet we shall ever mourn the loss of a kind friend and a good citizen and patriot. Be it

RESOLVED: That in the death of Andrew Standley our community suffers the loss of one who in his every act and deed exemplified the true spirit of a kind neighbor and friend, one who was ever interested first of all in the welfare of our city; ever studious for the well-being of the individual; loving his neighbors, rejoicing with them in their happiness and comfort and even with deep sympathy in their sorrows and trials, his every act giving color to his teachings and opinions; warm of utterance and earnest in interest he worked out in the most useful way the things so closely related to a practical life, and above all a great pride in American citizenship. Be it further

RESOLVED: That we regard the loss as a personal one and would that our sense of loss might temper the grief of the loved ones from whom he has parted and by sharing their sorrow might lighten them, we shall ever cherish with tender sensibility the loving memory of our friend's simple and generous nature. Be it further

RESOLVED: That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our records inserted in the Beverly Evening Times and NORTH SHORE BREEZE and forwarded to the family of the deceased.

At a meeting of the Directors of West Beach Corporation held February 24, 1908, the following Resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, Again the messenger of Death has entered the official ranks of our Corporation and taken from us a loved and esteemed Director, Mr. Andrew Standley, who has always been faithful to its best interests;

BE IT RESOLVED: That his genial presence will be greatly missed and his cheerful words so often listened to, with interest are among the records of the past but his work and influence will live in the memory of us all. He was never forgetful of the tie of Comradeship, an honorable citizen and his life is worthy of emulation by every one.

RESOLVED: That our tenderest sympathy be extended to the bereaved family and a copy be spread upon our records:—"Men die, but their deeds live after them."

PRESTON POST 188,

G. A. R.

BEVERLY FARMS, Feb. 26, 1908.

WHEREAS: The Great Commander in his wisdom has called from the scenes of his earthly labors Sergeant Major Andrew Standley, whose social virtues, no less than his faithful services, had endeared him to every comrade of this Post, whose honors he bore worthily, a man of sterling worth and modest and unassuming character; therefore

RESOLVED: That Preston Post, G. A. R. hereby express and record their deep sense of loss because of this vacancy in our ranks.

In our deceased comrade we knew a man who showed his love for his country, one who in his country's service was ever faithful, a man who showed his patriotism in days of peace by being a worthy citizen, a faithful friend, and in private business and public office proved himself eminently capable and strictly honest; and most of all to us, a man who exemplified the meaning of the words, "A Comrade of the Grand Army of the Republic." His Fraternity expressed itself in an abounding genialty, his charity was manifest in unnumbered acts of kindly helpfulness to comrades.

To us, as individuals, Comrade Standley was a friend and brother; to the Post a wise counsellor and leader, and an officer to be trusted and loved

RESOLVED: That we extend to the sorrowing family the sympathy of Comrades. The grief they bear is our sorrow. The badge of mourning we wear and the sombre drapings of our Headquarters are feeble attempts to give expression to our sadness.

RESOLVED: That these resolutions be put upon our records and a copy be sent to the family of our deceased Comrade.

ASSOCIATES,

PRESTON POST, 188, G. A. R.

Beverly Farms, Mass.

At a meeting of the Associates connected with Preston Post 188, G A. R, Thursday evening, Feb. 27, the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS: The Great Commander has mustered into His service beyond, our Comrade Andrew Standley and placed upon the roll of the great army the name of our valiant friend and patriot, we abide cheerfully by His will, yet with grief that our comrade has gone, a true soldier has departed with deep love and reverence for his country and her institutions, a self-sacrificing man, quick to the call of duty when as a boy in '61 he gave all that his young manhood could give that his country might live and that posterity might inherit the life that is worth the living;

BE IT RESOLVED: That in the death of Comrade Standley the Post and Associates have lost one who was first of all an American citizen, and patriot, steadfast of purpose, realizing fully his duties to his country, with a great appreciation of that country's blessings, a comrade in arms; cheery in spirit he brought to the afflicted and wounded that tenderness, consolotion and love which made the passing easy and death, at most a hollow victory; as a comrade by the campfire he was the life of our gatherings, joyous and happy, yet, always with the thought for the real and serious things, which in a departmental way brought success.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That our community has lost one who had the public welfare ever at heart; obedient to every call of citizenship and with determination of conduct leading toward the public good, a public servant of the real working and honest type; a true friend and thoughtful neighbor, he was loved for his many kindly ways and for that advise and thoughtfulness to those whom he as a neighbor loved so well; for the comfort and charity to the needy, and not least of all for that ripe delight in the happiness of others. Never in the community was one more honored and without exception one so sadly missed. The patriots call has come; he has well performed his duty, sadly we turn from his bier consoled that memory will recall to us that comrade who loved his neighbors, his country and his country's flag so well.

"Is true freedom but to break
Fetters for our own dear sake,
And, with leathern hearts, forget
That we owe mankind a debt?
No! true freedom is to share
All the chains our brothers wear,
And with heart aud hand, to be
Earnest to make others free."

RESOLVED: That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family; that they also be published in the Beverly Times and NORTH SHORE BREEZE.

S. John Connolly left Wednesday for a business trip to New York and Long Island.

Work has been started, by Publicover Bros., on the new residence for Mrs. Abbie Marshall, Vine street.

John Grey and family have moved into the Little cottage, on Haskell street, formerly occupied by Mr. Lewis.

Michael T. Murphy and Winthrop F. Low are planning to leave today for a vacation trip to New York city and Washington.

Master Guy Leman of Medford has spent a portion of his school vacation visiting his aunt, Mrs. Wilbur J. Pierce, West street.

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Felix Naylor upon the arrival of another boy in their home on Hart street the first of this week.

The many friends of Miss Mabel Sawyer are very much pleased to learn of her continued improvement and hope for her early return to her duties as chief operator at the local telephone exchange. Miss Sawyer has been very ill with pneumonia at her home in Malden.

Preston W. R. C. have a committee at work making plans toward giving several events in the entertainment line for the good of the order, the first of which will be an excellent supper served in G. A. R. hall from 5 to 6.30 on the evening of March 17, to which the public is invited. A small charge will be made.

Mrs. Long's dancing classes came to a very pleasant close Tuesday evening when a reception was given in Marshall's hall. The younger class had the floor from 6 to 8 after which the older members held forth, and general dancing followed. The gathering was increased by the presence of a large number of friends of the class members.

F. E. Coie and family have moved from the Harlow cottage to that owned by Miss Ellen Haskell, on Hart street.

The many friends of Mrs. Alfred Williams sympathize with her in the loss of her sister, Mrs. John Dryson, who passed away in Swampscott the early part of the week.

Station Agent W. L. Allen and family, and A. G. Campion have taken up their residence in the new house just built for Patrick O'Hearn, corner Webster street and Greenwood ave.

The West street engine house fire companies will have two teams in the hose laying contest at Rockport, Feb. 28. Messrs. Burchstead and Day will make up one team and Messrs. Pike and Cole the other.

Rumors have been rampant the past week as to the starting of several new enterprises at the Farms with the coming of spring in some of the vacant stores, including a barber shop, an electrician, a restaurant, tailor shop and millinery store.

We are asked to correct a statement appearing in the BREEZE of two weeks ago to the effect that George W. O'Dea, the Pride's painter, had purchased a camp on an island in Maine. This is not so. The report probably came from the fact that Mr. O'Dea, who has been doing considerable work in Maine, was completing work on the summer residence of Francis J. Batchelder, at Prospect, Me.

ANNUAL TOWN MEETING AT MANCHESTER

FRANK A. ROWE
New Member of Park Commissioners, 3 years.

Economy was the keynote of the annual town meeting in Manchester on Monday and Tuesday of the past week. Curtailments were in order all along the line. Though a total of $169,553.76 was appropriated, all sums were voted with an eye toward economy.

The election Monday afternoon had many surprises. First of all former Chairman Swett of the Board of Selectmen, who was looked to as an easy winner, lost the election by seven votes. While many expected George L. Allen would win out, few thought Mr. Swett would be the losing man.

It is very evident, now that the election is over, that Mr. Swett lost, not through any concerted movement to throw him down, but through the over confidence of the voters that he, of all others, would be elected. No man has filled the office of selectman in recent years, with more general satisfaction than Mr. Swett, and his loss will, no doubt, be felt in many ways.

Edward S. Knight (now chairman) and Walter R. Bell were returned on the board of selectmen, and also on the new board of assessors, Mr. Knight for the two year term, and Mr. Bell for the one year term. Mr. Swett was elected for the three year term, and has since been elected chairman of the board.

The election of James Hoare as water commissioner for three years over N. P. Meldrum, by nine votes, was another surprise. Many conceded the election to Mr. Meldrum from the fact that Mr. Hoare did not enter the field until the last week, and because Mr. Hoare was the third candidate. Mr. Hildreth received 94 votes.

Frank A. Rowe was an easy winner in the contest for park commissioner for three years. He received 181 votes to 121 for C. O. Howe, the retiring commissioner, and 134 for J. S. Reed.

The license vote was strongly "against," the vote standing 260 "No," to 182 "Yes." Last year it was 163 "Yes," and 224 "No."

The total vote cast was 470, one of the largest, if not the largest, ever recorded at a Manchester town election. In 1906, 465 votes were cast. Last year the vote was 409.

The meeting was not what might be called a lively one, though the discussion waxed warm when the school department and highway department appropriations were under consideration.

Much credit is due the moderator, Raymond C. Allen, for the manner in which he handled the business of the meeting. Very few meetings with so many articles, calling for so many appropriations, have been put through in such a short time. When the meeting closed Tuesday evening every article in the warrant had been acted upon, except a few which were held over to the adjourned meeting.

All the credit, however, should not go to the moderator, but the appropriation committee are to be praised for the very efficient and complete report presented by them, which aided materially in expediting the business of the meeting.

WHAT WAS SAID AND DONE AT MANCHESTER TOWN MEETING

Town Meeting was called to order Monday morning at 9 o'clock by Town Clerk A. S. Jewett, and after the reading of the warrant, R. C. Allen was elected Moderator, 36 ballots being cast.

In accepting the office Mr. Allen thanked the voters. "This marks a rather important year in the administration of affairs in Manchester," he said. "Expenses have been increasing every year for the past 14 or 15 years. This year the town will have to spend considerable money, and in view of the present stringency of the financial condition, it is important that we be careful. There are two things that appeal to me: first, everybody that has anything to say, say it; ask questions, perhaps it will lead to others asking questions; second, vote. It is a revelation to me to sit in this chair and see the large number of citizens that vote neither one way nor another."

The following tellers were appointed; W. W. Hoare, T. C. Rowe, R. J. Baker and W. R. Bennett, by the selectmen; Edward Crowell and G. A. Knoerr, by the Moderator.

F. K. Hooper moved that all unexpended balances of last year be turned back into the town treasury. Voted.

Art. 3. Mr. Swett moved that the polls be opened at 12 noon and close at 5.30 p. m. Voted.

Art. 2. Acceptance of reports.

F. K. Hooper in presenting the report of the Finance Committee said the committee had tried from the start to be conservative in their recommendations, and to that end they recommended a reduction all along the line wherever it can be had, one reason for which is the inevitable fact that the valuation of the town will be much less next spring than the past year, on personal property, because of the business depression and the consequent depreciation of bonds, stocks, etc.

Mr. Hooper said that he wished seven-eighths, rather than one-fortieth of the voters were present. The report of the committee, he said, was a little larger than usual, but the committee had tried to go into things a little more fully. There is no question, he said, but what the bank and corporation tax will be less next year, even if the valuation of the town remains the same. In making up the report the heads of departments were called in and in every case they were asked if they couldn't cut down expenses in some way.

"Last year," said Mr. Hooper, "you appropriated money for state and county taxes, but you paid $3000 more than you appropriated. So this year the county tax will be some $3000 more, probably, making $6000 more than we appropriated last year. In view of these facts the committee have recommended a curtailment in some departments. In one department it was raised. The committee, however, do not feel that what they have done is necessarily final."

The reports of the various town officers, committees, boards, etc., were acted upon.

Water report. Samuel Knight asked about the "uncollectable" water bills, which the board asked to have abated. Why should they be abated? Aren't they collectable? The fact that a man sells his property is no reason why he should not pay his back water bills.

N. P. Meldrum. I think I know as much about the efforts to collect these bills as anyone. It is impossible to collect some of them. I don't know any way to collect unless we sue the parties.

F. K. Hooper moved an indefinite postponement of the recommendation for abatement. Carried.

Art. 70. F. K. Hooper moved an assignment of a portion of this article to 7.30 in the evening. Carried.

Police report. W. C. Rust asked to have read the directions given the police regarding the enforcement of the laws.

Chairman Swett of the selectmen read the instructions as entered on the secretary's book, dated May 27, 1907, in which the board voted to instruct the chief of police to enforce all laws of the State of Massachusetts in an impartial manner.

Mr. Rust. That's all well enough as far as it goes. There are laws about the enforcement of the liquor law, too.

F. K. Hooper thought the police had carried out their instructions very well indeed. He really thought they had done first-rate work the past year. Mr. Hooper called for an explanation from the chief regarding the recommendation as to the giving over to the police department the use of the room over the station.

Chief Peabody said that the room was needed by the department for several reasons. If people are there sick, it makes it very uncomfortable to have noise overhead. The doctors had said there ought to be some place in the center of the town to take people injured, or sick, and it was suggested the station, or rooms over head would make a good place. People very often called at the station to see the police on business and it was very embarrasing on such occasions to have drunks, or others locked up, within hearing distance, and sometimes swearing.

S. Knight thought $75 (the rent now received) did not grow on every bush. If the drunks swear, chloroform them.

Dr. Tyler moved the report of the chief be accepted, but the recommendations be held over until 8 o'clock in the evening.

Park commissioners' report. A. Cunningham asked if the life boat at Singing Beach was in really good condition, as the report stated.

C. O. Howe said it was.

The discussion of the morning came when the school committee's report was taken up. W. C. Rust started this. "The more money we appropriate" said Mr. Rust, "the less good we seem to get out of the schools. What is the reason so many of the scholars go out of town to school, to Gloucester, principally?"

RAYMOND C. ALLEN, Moderator

E. A. Lane said that the High school stood as high as any in the state. One reason, he thought, why the young people went to Gloucester to school was because the school there is much larger, has military training as an attraction for the boys, and other aversions not found at home.

Samuel Knight, G. S. Sinnicks, F. K. Hooper, H. T. Bingham, John Baker, Dr. Tyler, F. J. Merrill, D. L. Bingham and A. S. Jewett were the other speakers.

S. Knight. It seems to me this is a very pertinent question. I wish the parents who have children go out of town would give some explanation.

G. S. Sinnicks said this was a very delicate question for him to talk upon. His reason for having his boy go to Gloucester was not because he wanted to send him, but because the boy was doing better work, he is getting better results than he was here.

F. K. Hooper, had always believed Manchester should be liberal with its schools. But it is time to cut down somewhere,—cut down rather that increase.

C. R. Fish would like to ask the appropriation committee one question: Did they advise a cut down and expect to provide schools like Gloucester.

Dr. Tyler said he thought it a pretty wise move to cut down the salary of the superintendent to $1000.

E. A. Lane said that whatever the town voted and recommended, he would try as one of the committee to carry out. He thought the schools were on a very much better footing now than when the present superintendent came here.

G. S. Sinnicks. One of the strong points was that we should have a superintendent all the time and that he could take care of a class at the High school. If we needed him three years ago every day in the week and paid him for every day in the week, why not now?

F. J. Merrill, said he had sent his boy to Gloucester because he could do better work there. There is more school spirit, more enthusiasm, it makes a boy broaden out and he enjoys his work. Mr. Fish has done a great deal for our schools. If there was need of constant supervision three years ago, there is now.

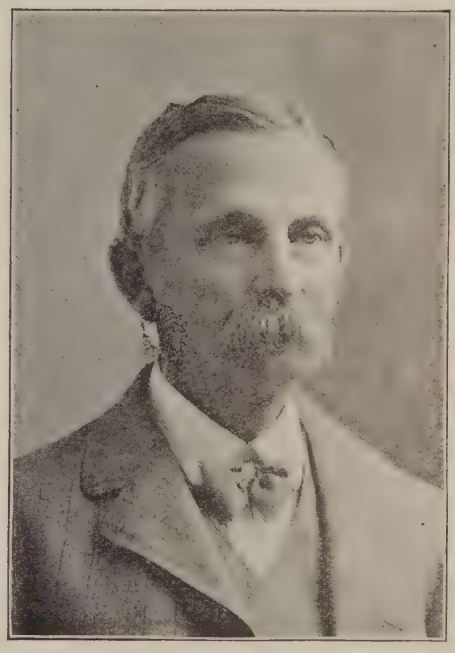

A. S. Jewett. In listening to what has been said it is a question whether by reducing the appropriation we would improve our schools. The boys go out of town because they like it better, they can do better work; they have what we call esprit de corps—that mingling with larger numbers. We gave R. M. Morse $10,000 for his time on the Beach bank case, yet it is safe to say he did not spend many solid weeks of work on that case. We had to pay him for the 30 or 40 years of experience and knowledge behind it all. In your superintendent you have all these past years of accumulated knowledge; you have what you call an expert. What we need is that healthy stimulus in our community. I call it healthy stimulus to have men of experience, men of culture and education about us.

D. L. Bingham spoke of the way the pupils of the High school are using the library for help on their work. He had noticed it more the past few years than ever before. The principal of the Gloucester school, he said, was an exceptional man. After a boy is in contact with him for a while he cannot help but have that manly appearance we hear about here. You know one of the most important works of the teacher is to direct and lead the young.

E. A. Lane. When the gentleman came here he was employed for $1500. He had been here a year and wanted more pay. We gave him a slight increase. The next year he wanted more or take on more work. We decided to let him take on Amesbury. We concluded we could not find a man for any less money capable of superintending our schools.

This closed the discussion and the report was accepted.

Report of Trustees of Public Library. D. L. Bingham spoke of the increase of circulation the past year and of the number of books for consultation. All the fiction is passed upon by a committee of the American Library association, he said,—an excellent feature.

Alfred S. Jewett
Re-elected Town Clerk

Report of Superintendent for Suppression of Gypsy and Brown-tail Moths. F. K. Hooper said he though this work was increasing and we don't seem to be progressing very fast. Is it necessary to spend all this money ordered by the state? He would like to have the matter more fully explained by the selectmen.

F. K. Swett said the selectmen would have something to say when the article in the warrant came up.

Treasurer's report. W. C. Rust spoke of the long list of uncollected taxes, meter bills, etc.

The 1906 tax, $24.79, and the 1907 tax, $24.00,—a total of $48.79 against James Beaton, was abated on motion of F. K. Swett. Mr. Beaton has had considerable illness the past three years.

A little before noon a recess was taken to prepare for opening the polls at 12 o'clock.

Monday Evening Session.

Art. 70, assigned to this hour, was the first matter of business in the evening, after the result of the election was announced, and the selectmen and assessors were sworn in.

On motions by F. K. Hooper the following appropriations were made: State tax, $15,500; county tax, $19,500; town miscellaneous, $1000; retiring water bonds, $6000; water bonds interest, $2160; retiring park bonds, $10,000; interest on park bonds, $175; interest on money hired in anticipation of taxes, $2000; Memorial Library building, maintenance, $800; town hall and common, $2000; legal expenses, $1000; contingent expenses, $1000.

W. C. Rust offered a motion that the selectmen be instructed to enforce the liquor law. Voted. Though few voted either way.

Art. 3. The following officers were appointed by nomination from the floor:

Measures of lumber—Thomas Baker, O. T. Roberts and C. C. Dodge.

Measures of wood and bark—W. W. Hoare, G. L. Knight and Frank P. Clark.

Pound keeper—C. O. Howe. G. E. Willmonton was elected, but declined to serve.

Fence viewers—F. J. Merrill, James Hoare and I. M. Marshall.

Field drivers—Edward A. Lane, Chester L. Crafts, William Kelley, Richard J. Baker, John L. Prest and Frank P. Bullock.

Pound Keeper C. O. Howe: By vote last year the selectmen were authorized to build a pound. It was built, but they failed to put a padlock on. Now, I suggest that they put a padlock on and give me the key.

Art 4. Jury list. Accepted.

Art. 34. Memorial Day observance. E. P. Stanley stated that there were $15 or $16 left over from last year. This year the post would have to pay $146 for a band, against $75 last year. It is up to the voters to say whether they shall give us $200 or more. The additional cost of band is due to union prices, that being the least they can receive.

W. F. Spry: I would like to correct the last speaker. I think he is mistaken as to price. The band they have engaged is costing them just twice as much as they would have to pay the Manchester band.

W. C. Rust moved $200 be appropriated. Carried.

The recommendation in the report of police, pertaining to the use of the rooms over the station, assigned to this hour, was called. On motion of W. C. Rust the recommendation was passed over.

Art. 50. To see if the town will accept a deed and dedication of certain woodlands along the Essex New Road as a public park, in addition to similar acceptances heretofore voted by the town.

R. C. Lincoln said that when that article was put into the warrant it was the intention to deed a piece of land given by Julius F. Rabardy, but it turned out since that the land is not in the town of Manchester, but in Essex. So far as this article is concerned he would ask that it be passed over, but he would offer the following resolution:

RESOLVED: That whereas our townsman, Mr. Julius F. Rabardy has given to the trustees of the Essex Woods Fund certain land in the town of Essex, bordering upon the beautiful woods-road between Manchester and Essex and adjoining the lands in Manchester heretofore accepted by our town as a public woods-park, said land to be held by them in trust as a part of this reservation,

Now therefore, the town of Manchester desires to express and record its appreciation of the public spirit and generosity which prompted this gift made by Mr. Rabardy in the hope that others may feel a like interest in promoting the public benefit.

On motion of Samuel Knight the resolutions were adopted.

Art. 5. Appropriation committee. John Baker moved that the town appoint an appropriation committee for three years, said committee to be appointed by the chair. The moderator appointed D. T. Beaton, F. P. Knight and John Baker, the three members whose terms expire this year. Mr. Knight declined to serve and F. J. Merrill was appointed in his place.

On motion of John Baker a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Knight for the able and impartial manner in which he had served on the committee.

Art. 6. Highways. The recommendation of the approp. committee for this was $15,000. Mr. Hooper moved that the town appropriate $15,000 for the maintenance and improvement of highways, bridges, sidewalks, etc., including the salary of superintendent of streets.

E. S. Knight stated that there were $1200 unpaid bills in this department and the appropriation must include this amount.

Mr. Rust moved to amend by inserting $16,200, where $15,000 now appears.

D. T. Beaton said that this matter was brought up and fully discussed in the meeting of the approp. committee. There had been a great deal of talk as to the school and highway departments, and much dissatisfaction with the roads the past year. Poor roads for the money spent. We are paying a whole lot for what we get. He objected to the amendment. The vote was counted, 65 voting in the affirmative, and 93 in the negative.

The original motion ($15,000) was carried.

O. M. Stanley moved that the salary of the Supt. of Streets be $1200. As this is a year of economy I think this is full enough. I am going to put in an application for superintendent of streets and I think I am competent, and think I can give the town as good streets as we are getting now. I hope the town will vote for economy and good roads. If I can't build good roads then I will call myself a fraud.

S. Knight. As a rule people have been only too glad to vote for a raise in salaries. I have always fought it, and now you are doing the opposite thing. You have disenabled your superintendent by cutting him off from doing contract work. You have forced him to put only certain men to work, men who aren't able to do an hour's work without quitting and going off to Gloucester to get drunk. And now you say let's cut this thing down; let's have a new man. It would be well to consider this thing well before we proceed too far.

John Baker offered amendment so that it would read "not more than $1500. The vote to amend was 99 to 16. The motion ($1500) was then carried.

Art. 6. Crushing stone. $2000 was appropriated on motion of F. K. Hooper.

The following recommendation in Supt. Kimball's report was the cause of considerable discussion: that the town require the telephone people when removing an old hard pine pole to replace the same with a sound, straight round pole of chestnut wood, and that so much of said chestnut pole as is placed in the ground, together with four inches above the ground, shall be treated to some chemical process to prevent decay; also that all poles and the setting of the same be to the entire satisfaction and acceptance of some one whom the selectmen may appoint.

W. C. Rust moved the adoption of the recommendation.

M. E. Gorman hoped the town wouldn't depart from the square, good looking poles on the streets at the present time. It is impossible to get any good straight round poles.

Samuel Knight. It isn't only the looks of the thing. Wherever you dig up a pole you have to tear up the street and sidewalk and the road at that point never looks as good again. The day has gone by when hard pine supersedes other wood for flag poles, telephone poles, etc. If you will adopt and take the round chestnut pole you will never regret it.

M. E. Gorman. 95 per cent. of the poles are set in the curbstone and you don't have to tear up the street to remove a pole.

Supt. Kimball didn't care to place his judgment against that of a man who had had so much experience. I recommend this thing because in my judgment it is for the good of the town. We are now getting no other than short leaf pine Before the trees are cut they are sapped, and when a tree is sapped it is dead to the world.

W. C. Rust. Anyone passing along our streets can notice pole after pole that is rotted away. It is a great detriment to the road and concrete sidewalk to take up poles. I believe it is economy for the town to have round poles.

John Baker. This recommendation is a sensible one and the town ought to adopt it.

M. E. Gorman. The telephone company asks for a great deal, but they don't give up much. The difference in cost between a round pole and a square pole is,—what is it, gentlemen?—just about $15; $15 saved on each pole. Give up nothing to the New England Tel. Co.! Stick to what you have! Be men, get what's coming to you, don't give anything to that corporation, not to anybody else that s working for the interest of that corporation!

Supt. Kimball. I'm not a Cicero, nor a Demosthenes. It is true the New Eng. Tel. Co., is here, and they gave nothing for their franchise; but who is to blame? I well remember when the company put in their wires I said the town offices should have telephones in exchange for the franchise.

The vote on the recommendation was 67 to 106 against.

The recommendation of the selectmen for more of the same style signboards as have been placed in certain parts of the town this year, was adopted.

The recommendation of the board to rebuild Bridge st. in the West Manchester section was left with the selectmen on motion of F. K. Hooper. M. E. Gorman inquired the difference in cost between the best grade macadam road and the tar macadam.

Supt. Kimball moved that the selectmen be instructed to sell the old Kelly roller. Carried.

M. E. Gorman. If it is to be sold, it should be sold at auction, after being properly advertised, and sold to the highest bidder.

Organic Heart Trouble

"I was a very sick woman, the best physicians gave me up to die. I had organic heart trouble. I was troubled with shortness of breath, and could not walk any distance at all, those awful fits of coughing were something dreadful. Both young men did well and William Sheehan, who ran from scratch, ran a great race and on the last lap the crowd gave him a great hand. There are a number of other Manchester boys in New York this winter and they meet each other quite often. Among them are Henry Allen, Roy Stanley, Arthur Smothers and George Scott. The boys were much interested in the result of the town election, the news reaching them Tuesday through the BREEZE special.

MARCH IS THE PRUNNING MONTH

For Many Things

Hedges can NOW be trimmed to perfect lines, which can be maintained throughout the summer. Perfect lines are sometimes impossible without making bare spots in the foliage if the first prunning is left until summer. If hedges have been neglected and are out of shape now is the time to make them right.

This is the month to prune apples, pears, peach,plum, cherry, currants, gooseberry, etc. Our method of apple prunning keeps the trees low—easy to pick the fruit.

Real Estate

And Improvements

It is reported that John S. Curtis has purchased from Charles Storrow of Boston a portion of Mr. Storrow's Beverly Farms estate, known as house No. 2 on Storrow's hill, off Hale street, and for the past few seasons occupied by Mrs. Curtis, formerly Mrs. L. A. Shaw. The portion involved in the transfer is a large mansion frame house used for a summer residence, a stable and a large amount of land.

Ground was broken at Wenham this week by Connolly Bros. of Beverly Farms, on the new estate recently purchased by Eben D. Jordan for his daughter, Miss Dorothy Jordan. The first work to be done is the construction of a range of greenhouses, and the laying out and preparation of a portion of the grounds for a large garden. Other improvements will be made with an eye to beautifying the estate.

J. Jefferson Coolidge, jr., is having some improvements and minor alterations made at his new summer residence at Coolidge's Point. The main feature of the work includes the enclosing of the large portico on the west end of the house. Albro & Lindeberg of New York are the architects and Roberts & Hoare of Manchester are the contractors. The work was started the past week.

Connolly Bros. have the contract for considerable landscape changes at the estate of Hon. George H. Lyman, on the Beverly Farms-Manchester road which includes the changing and building over of the avenue and terrace walls.

After 27 years' absence Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Decker have returned to Manchester and are with their son, F. L. Decker, on Norwood avenue.

G. E. B. Strople came to town this morning to adjust a slight loss from a blaze at the residence of H. J. Gay, School street, last night. An oil heater was the cause of the trouble. The department was not called, the trouble being discovered in the nick of time.

Robert Cameron, superintendent of the Harvard Botanical Gardens, read a paper on "Annuals" before the N. S. Horticultural society in Lee's hall last evening.

Mr. Clark, of the Clark & Mills Electric Co., recently made the remarkable statement that, with the use of the new high efficiency tungsten electric bulbs, residences, offices, factories, stores and in fact any and all buildings can be lighted as cheaply with electricity as with gas and in many cases cheaper. The invention of the new tungsten in candescent electric lamp is the greatest advance made in incandescent electric lighting in the past thirty years. If you doubt this remarkable statement call at Clark & Mill's store in the Pulsifer block and see them.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hadley of Somerville (Miss Rachel Crombie) are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a little leap year daughter in their home last Saturday, Feb. 29.

Birthday parties were in order Wednesday. Besides that of H. E. Bradley mentioned elsewhere Bertram Allen celebrated his 20th birthday on that day; Gordon Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. THE BREEZE is printed this week on a new Babcock Standard cylinder press, installed in the BREEZE office this week. We will have more to say about our new equipment when we get better acquainted, and the new press is acclimated.

A NOVEL feature of the town election this year was the appearance Monday evening, a little over half an hour after the vote was announced of the BREEZE Special. It was only a one-page affair, but covered the ground, giving the result of the vote, and a resume of the business of the Monday morning session.

WOULD it not be well for parents who have children attending school in the town to take interest enough in the schools and their children to visit the schools at least one time during the term. We hear parents complaining of the schools, who have no more knowledge of how they are being conducted than a resident of China has. We do know that strangers who have visited our schools have gone away and said that we have the best schools of any town in the state. The State Examiner has visited the Manchester High school twice during the past year and has said the school stands as high as any High school in any town in the state. What should the people of a town feel prouder of than good schools? What will bring a good class of people to any town more rapidly than good schools? Parents go to your schools and see for yourselves, and don't accept idle reports about your schools and the teachers as facts.

THE terrible school house fire at Cleveland this week, in which some 164 children were either burned to death or killed, has shocked the whole country. One of the papers says the authorities were responsible for using school building the doors of which opened toward the inside; providing inadequate fire escapes on building; practicing only one means of exit in daily fire drills; locking back door of building where children were quartered.

Manchester parents need not fear disaster from any of these causes. On interviewing Principal Mead of the G. A. Priest school we find that all the doors of the building open outward and can be opened at any time by even the smallest child. The doors are always unlocked while school is in session. Though there are no fire escapes on the outside of the building there are three principal exits. The rooms are all on the first and second floor, anyway. In practicing the fire drill all exits are used. As another precaution, and to overcome the possibility of a bell being out of order, drummer boys always give the signal for leaving the building by sounding "taps." The first call always means to drop everything and get in line. In fire drill the children usually get outside the building in 50 seconds or a little less. The principal has always been very strict on the children behaving themselves when practicing the fire drill.

Selectmen Organize.

The new board of Selectmen of Manchester met Tuesday evening and organized with the choice of Edward S. Knight as chairman and Walter R. Bell as clerk. The board has decided to hold regular weekly meetings on Thursday evenings at 7 o'clock, and it will also meet the last Saturday in the month from 2 to 4 in the afternoon, instead of one o'clock as in the past. In dividing up the work it was decided Thursday evening that Tuck's Point should be in charge of W. R. Bell, and the poor, both poor-in and poor-out, in charge of Mr. Allen.

The following appointments were made by the board Thursday evening:

Edwin P. Stanley burial agent for indigent soldiers and sailors, sealer of weights and measures and gauger of oil.

Lyman W. Floyd and Geo. L. Knight, weighers of coal.

Frank P. Knight, measurer of grain and weigher of hay.

J. J. Riordan of Beverly Farms, Inspector of cattle.

William Young, local superintendent of gypsy and brown-tail moths.

It was expected also that the board would take action on the appointment of superintendent of streets. Supt. Kimball is a candidate for reappointment. But knowing the attitude of at least one member of the board toward the present superintendent, there was a feeling that possibly some other would be appointed, with the result that a number of applications for the position have been received by the board.

In view of this a petition was presented to the board asking that they withhold action on the appointment of a superintendent until the petitioners be given a hearing. A public hearing will accordingly be given by the board in the Town hall next Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock. Notice of this appears in another column.

WHISPERINGS

People in the West Manchester section who felt considerable air moving around and many mutterings between the teeth yesterday afternoon may feel easy for we can assure them that it was only one of our genial grocery drivers trying to catch his horse. The horse started for home a little in advance of the driver, and every time the former would run to try to catch the horse the latter would trot, and thus kept up the chase until home was almost reached. No damage.

* * * *

The Manchester young men who go to Gloucester to dances, and who go in a wagonette because the 10 o'clock train brings them home too early, should at least "leave the dance" in time to catch the wagonette. We are informed that two young men had to foot it home one morning this week.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen,
Town of Manchester,
Gentlemen:

We, the undersigned, as citizens, feeling deeply interested in the welfare of our town, and especially in that branch thereof known as the Street Department, and feeling that the subject of road construction has grown to be acknowledged as one requiring much scientific knowledge and practical experience, far beyond that possessed by those to whom it has not been a subject of long and careful study, and hearing with much regret that your honorable board are seriously contemplating a change in the management of said department, do hereby petition your honorable board that prior to the appointment of any person to the responsible position of Superintendent of Streets, that you may appoint for the near future a place and hour at which your petitioners and all others interested may appear and be heard in support of our firm conviction, to wit: that the best interests of the Town of Manchester will be subserved by the reappointment of our present Superintendent of Streets, Mr. George Kimball.

MAGNOLIA

Tomorrow is to be the great Foreign Mission Day of the Village church. Giles G. Brown of Ceylon will spend the day in Magnolia and will speak morning and evening and in the Sunday school. He will answer questions at the evening service, among others being the question, "Should money be given to Foreign Missions that is needed at home?"

The most successful entertainment given by the Ladies' Aid society last winter was the Railroad Restaurant. It is to be repeated in response to general demand next Wednesday evening at the Club house. Come in costume if you can. Come at 6.30. Come hungry. Six big bites for a quarter.

The Philippines and the Hawaiian Islands will be visited in the "Tour Round the Word" next Friday evening. Over fifty pictures will be shown fully illustrating life in these United States possessions.

The Ladies' Aid society will meet with Mrs. Edw. Symonds next Tuesday.

Eight from Magnolia attended the service at Freshwater Cove last Sunday afternoon at which five children were christened and consecrated. These children were: Izetta Ray Wolf, Dorothy Wallace Wolf, Mildred Holmes, Ida May Keough, and Ruth Charlotte Currier.

John H. Linehan put in all day Monday and Tuesday evening at the Manchester Town meeting.

Manchester is contemplating running a line of pipes to Gravelly Pond as a source of additional water supply.

Frank Hammond, employed by D. Linehan & Son, and former superintendent of streets of Beverly, put in an application for a similar position in Manchester, but he has since withdrawn the application.

Thursday evening, just after leaving St. John's Episcopal church, Mrs. Thomas Gauld slipped on the ice and fell. In trying to save herself she naturally put out her hand and in consequence she broke her wrist.

Miss Marguerite Mitchell was happily surprised last Wednesday evening to receive a call from a large party of her young friends who wished to be with her on the occasion of the passing of another birthday. Miss Mitchell proved an admirable hostess and royally entertained her callers.

Last Saturday, just before midnight, Officer Ellis prevented what might have been a serious blaze. In going the rounds he noticed a reflection in a window in the second story of the building in Central square owned by the A. O. Marshall heirs, and occupied by James A. Culbert as a harness shop. A closer inspection showed smoke coming through the roof and an alarm was immediately rung in from Box 57. The department made a quick response and after some hard work got the fire under contol. The origin of the fire is not certain, but is thought to have been an overheated stove. The loss will probably be about $500. The fire was in a nest of wooden buildlngs and might have developed into a serious conflagration if not discovered when it was.

James T. Werner of Plainfield, N. J., arrived in town Wednesday and is a guest of relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Glover who have spent the past week visiting relatives at the Farms returned Thursday to their home at Litchfield, Conn.

"Mrs. Brown," the yellow and white tramp cat so well known to the residents around Central square and the vicinity of the depot for her proficiency as a rat catcher as well as to call around for a "hand out" when hungry died of pneumonia on Thursday. She was given a "decent" burial by a lady resident who had the honor of being on the feline's visiting list.

Papers have been passed this week whereby Frank L. Woodbury buys from his sister, Mrs. E. Fred Day, and his brothers, John L. and Marshall Woodbury, their interests in the estate of their late father, John W. Woodbury, situated on West street, Beverly Farms, consisting of 22,158 feet of land, a frame dwelling house and other buildings. The purchaser will later on improve the property.

MANCHESTER

The third institute of the Essex Agricultural society for the year 1908 will be held in the Unitarian Grange hall, North Andover Centre, Friday, March 13, at 10 o'clock, a. m. Subject for forenoon: "A Plain Poultry Talk for Farmers," by Rev. W. H. Davenport, of Colrain, Mass., secretary National American Dominique club; afternoon at 1.30, "How any Essex County Farmer can raise Three Tons of Hay to the Acre," by Rev. Geo. L. Gleason, of Topsfield. Ladies especially invited.

H. E. Bradley gave a very pleasant party at his home on Pine street, Wednesday evening, it being in honor of his 19th birthday. He was very kindly remembered by his young friends, the feature of the evening being a beautiful birthday cake which was placed on the center table, where all enjoyed not only looking at it, but eating thereof. Games of all kinds were indulged in. Refreshments were served.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I beg to announce to the residents of the North Shore that I have purchased from Walker Bros. & Co. the provision business conducted by them at Beverly Farms for the past twenty years, including their good will and trade. Having had twenty-five years experience on the North Shore, eight years as manager of Wyatt's Market, I thoroughly understand the selection of choice meats, fruits, vegetables, etc., carried by first-class markets. The business will be conducted under the name of Brewer's Market, which will be opened on or about April 20, 1908. I solicit your patronage.

WALTER P. BREWER.

Beverly Farms, Mass., Feb. 10, 1908.

We, the undersigned, certify that we have sold the good will and trade of our North Shore business to Walter P. Brewer.

S. J. Connolly was one of the speakers last Tuesday evening to address the members of the John Hale society, in Beverly. Mr. Connolly's subject was "American Citizenship."

Miss Katherine Banks after seeing her sister Mrs. Ward off for her visit to England last Tuesday, took the train for her home in New York city. Miss Banks has spent the past five months visiting at Beverly Farms.

Miss Ruth Hardy has been receiving the congratulations of her Farms friends over the excellent manner in which she carried off the part of "Sylvia" in the recent Beverly High school comedy entitled "Tommy's Wife."

This week official notice was received from the Civil Service Commissioner of the passing all the necessary requirements by Edwin F. Campbell in his examination to become a member of Engine 3 Co., and Benj. Hawkins, jr., to membership of the Hook and Ladder Co.

The ladies who have been members of the well known Friends' Bible class, a society which has just completed its work in securing the pretty little home on High street for the pastor of the Beverly Farms Baptist church, met recently at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Hull, Hart street, and after an imformal discussion decided to reorganize under the name of "The Sarah W. Whitman club," and to take up work with the object of giving aid to the church as the requirements may demand, either in new undertakings or in help toward meeting the necessary current expenses. The following officers were elected: Mrs. William C. Webster, president; Mrs. Lydia Williams, vice president; Mrs. Daniel E. Hardy, secretary; Mrs. George D. Batchelder, treasurer. Executive committee, Mrs. Duncan T. Smith, chairman; Mrs. Mary Bennett, Mrs. John Burchsted, Mrs. Edwin May, Mrs. William P. Day and Mrs. D. W. Hardy. Next Tuesday afternoon the members will be the guests of Mrs. D. W. Hardy at her home on Hale street, on which occasion the future work of the club will be outlined.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli R. Hodgkins are getting considerable comfort and enjoyment out of their camp, situated upon the shore of Gravelly Pond. They go over there and spend a portion of each week.

Mrs. Peter Ward, was listed as one of the passengers on the out-going Saxonia which sailed from Boston Tuesday. Mrs. Ward intends to spend the next few months visiting her former home in England.

Next Tuesday evening at G. A. R. hall, memorial services will be conducted to the memory of the late Andrew Standley. The members of Preston Post, Preston W. R. Corps and the Associates will be present.

Cahill—McGrath.

The marriage of Miss Alice McGrath of Boston to John E. Cahill of Beverly Farms, took place last Sunday evening at the Parochial residence. The happy couple proceeded, after the ceremony, to their residence on Haskell street, where they received the congratulations and best wishes of a score of friends, who had gathered there.

The members of John West Colony, Pilgrim Fathers, after the transacton of there business last evening, turned the balance of the time over to a social. A surprise was given many of those present when they were invited to sit down to a long table loaded with good things. A number of out-of-town guests were present.

Beverly Farms was well represented this week at the Odd Fellows fair held in Beverly City hall, especially on Wednesday evening when "Ye Deestrick Skule" was quite an attraction. The Farms table under the charge of Mrs. Thomas Pierce and Mrs. Fred Williams was well furnished and did a good business.

A party of young people have planned to hold a social and dance in Marshall's hall on the night of March 17.

Mrs. George A. Bennett and daughter of Ashland are visiting Mr. and Mrs. James A. Culbert, Greenwood avenue.

TOWN MEETING, MANCHESTER

tion from Mrs. William Hooper:

MANCHESTER-BY-THE-SEA,
Feb. 26, 1908.

"I see by the BREEZE that the question of a name for the park by-the-sea is to be brought up at the next town meeting and I should like through you to offer a suggestion to our townspeople to call the park 'Masconomo.' My grandfather, Captain R. B. Forbes, commonly called Commodore Forbes, was one of the first summer visitors here. He bought the property now owned by Mr. T. Dennie Boardman, called the place 'Masconomo' in honor of the old Indian Chief, built the house on the hill now standing. Commodore Forbes was a prominent merchant in his time, and one of the few to command his own ships, which he did in his voyages to China, where he was a partner in the great house of Russell & Co. He was well known to those interested in ships and did much as you know, no doubt, to improve their rigging. He was in command of the Jamestown on her voyage to Ireland at the time of the great famine and throughout his life a member of the Humane society and interested in everything to do with the sea. Should our friends and townspeople see fit to adopt my suggeston I would esteem it a privilege to mark in some manner suitable by tablet or otherwise the reason for the name 'Masconomo.'

ALICE FORBES PERKINS HOOPER.

Mr. Merrill then offered the following motion:

That the park on Beach street be named Masconomo Park, that the generous offer of Mrs. Wm. Hooper to place a suitable mark thereon be accepted and a committee of three be appointed by the chair to act with and assist Mrs. Hooper in any manner she may find convenient.

E. P. Stanley hoped this project would go through. The town should accept this generous offer of Mrs. Hooper. Commodore Forbes is well remembered by the older residents of the town and he is certainly worthy of some recognition by the town. He was practically the father of the Mass. Humane society, placing life saving stations along our coast.

F. J. Merrill said Mrs. Hooper was doing this to perpetuate the name of Masconomo, but she was doing it in the name of her late father and not in her own name.

F. K. Hooper, Samuel Knight, John Baker and D. T. Beaton were others speaking favorable on the matter.

The motion was carried unanimously and the following committee was appointed by the moderator to wait upon Mrs. Hooper: D. T. Beaton, F. J. Merrill and William Hooper.

Art. 7. $2000 was appropriated for clearing snow.

Art. 8. $100 was appropriated for clearing snow off Central pond.

Art. 9. $500 for care and improve- of Wenham road, so-called.

Art. 10. Schools. O. T. Roberts moved that $22,800 be appropriated.

E. A. Lane asked that this be made $23,500, as even that was under what had been asked for. But the motion on the amendment did not prevail, 60 to 64.

$22,800 was the amount appropriated.

F. K. Hooper moved that the salary of the Supt. of Schools not exceed $1000.

The Moderator said he was of the opinion that the town could not take any legal action along that line other than to make a suggestion to the committee, as it was in their power to determine the salary of the superintendent. Any suggestion, however, would be in order.

Supt. Fish arose to a point of order. He said that in this commonwealth the school committee act, not as agents of the town, but as officials of the state; the state guards the rights of its children. If the school committee are state officials they must carry out the laws of the state, which say they shall elect a superintendent of schools and fix his salary. You cannot fix the salary, so what do you vote on it for? The committee have gone over the figures on school expense very carefully, and I don't think they would expend one cent more than they need. You aren't going to mortgage the future of your children for $1000. I am speaking as a fellow citizen, not as superintendent. I don't think we want to do illegal things.

F. K. Hooper was very glad the superintendent had expressed himself. His recommendation was not for the purpose of saving a dollar to the detriment of any child.

Austin Morley. This is a serious question. We ought to give our children the best we can find. If we are going to cut down any of the other departments let's cut them down, but for God's sake, let's not cut the children down.

D. T. Beaton. On this basis,—three days a week—we are paying $3000 a year for superintendent of schools.

The motion ($1000) was put and carried.

Art. 11. School playground.

Austin Morley. They call it a playground; why not call it a dump?

A. C. Needham said that out of last year's appropriation of $300, $146 had been paid to Frederick Burnham, for a bill that had not been presented before.

A. Cunningham. Hope if any money is appropriated they will at least cut the grass so that the boys can play ball.

$300 was appropriated on motion of A. C. Needham.

At 9.45 the meeting adjourned to 7.30 Tuesday evening.

Tuesday Evening Session.

The Tuesday evening session was called to order promptly at 7.30. The hall was nearly filled with voters.

Art. 12. Water department appropriations was the first matter of business.

Chairman F. J. Merrill said that inasmuch as the appropriation committee had cut down the amount called for, in an endeavor to economize, the commissioners were willing to try to run the department on the money the committee had recommended. He moved $2000 be appropriated with receipts for service and extensions; $300 for purchase of meters; $350 for official salaries, $150 for clerk and $100 each for the other two members; $7800 for maintenance, including $300 for clerical work.

Art. 13. The water commissioners were authorized to lay a six-inch pipe from Raymond street through land of Caroline Butler, a distance of 950 feet, and $900 was appropriated for the purpose. The cost is under the 6 per cent. guarantee agreement.

Art. 14. $5500 was appropriated for the maintenance of police department.

Art. 15. $125 for the care of police clock and alarm system and care of town ambulance.

Art. 16. $1400 and surplus dog tax was appropriated for maintenance of public library.

Art. 17. The board of health asked for $1200, but F. K. Hooper said a member of the board had told the committee that $1000 was enough, and that amount was appropriated.

Art 18. $5700 was appropriated for maintenance of fire department.

Art. 19. $750 was appropriated for purchase of 1000 feet of best double jacket rubber lined hose.

Art. 20. $1000 was appropriated for care of cemeteries and chapel.

Art. 21. $2000 was appropriated for new receiving tomb.

Art. 22. O. T. Roberts moved that the town accept Sec. 24, Chapter 78, of the Revised Laws, authorizing the town treasurer to receive in trust money from individuals, the income from which shall be used for the perpetual care of their cemetery lots.

Mr. Roberts explained that towns and cities generally are adopting this act. We have about eight applicants already for placing such funds, the last being Mr. Hibbard, administrator of the estate of the late Miss Crowell.

The Moderator read the act. Samuel Knight asked if this covered private lots also. The Moderator thought that it applied only to public cemeteries.

The motion for acceptance was carried unanimously.

Art. 23. Street lights. $7500 was appropriated.

Art. 24. Parks. On motion of D. T. Beaton, who explained that the department would endeavor to get along with a smaller appropriation than usual, $1800 was appropriated for care and maintenance of parks.

Art. 25. New bath house at Singing Beach. Passed over.

Art. 26. $4200 for dredging from the main channel to Beach street park. F. K. Hooper moved indefinite postponement. Not an absolute necessity and can wait a while longer.

E. P. Stanley said a channel would be a great convenience to many, and would be one means of attracting more of the taxable boats to the town.

F. K. Hooper's motion to postpone carried.

Art. 27. On motion of O. T. Roberts $300 was appropriated for water pipe extension and repairs at Singing Beach.

Art. 29. Care of town dump and common left with selectmen.

Art. 30. $1200 was appropriated for support of poor out of house.

Art. 31. $1200 was appropriated for support of poor in house.

Art. 32. $300 was appropriated for erection of open shed at almshouse.

Art. 33. $1500 was appropriated for state and military aid.

Art. 35. $300 was appropriated for care of trees.

Art. 36. $3801.03 for suppression of gypsy and brown-tail moths.

F. K. Hooper would like to hear from the selectmen on this matter. If this appropriation can be reduced he thought it ought to be.

Chairman E. S. Knight read the instructions from the state superintendent bearing on this matter which showed that the amount called for must be appropriated.

Mr. Hooper asked if the condition regarding moths was better or worse.

M. E. Gorman said he knew from personal experience, in his many walks through the woods, that the woods are very badly infested.

C. C. Dodge suggested we take the three cents off the amount called for and make it even change.

J. Baker agreed with Mr. Gorman. The work should not be stopped but energetic work should be carried forward.

R. A. Mitchell asked if the town was really out that amount, to which Chairman E. S. Knight replied that by reference to the treasurer's report it will be seen that some $500 had been received for moth assessment, and that several hundred dollars more was due the town.

Art. 37. $550 and interest of the Tuck's Point fund was appropriated for the care and maintenance of Tuck's Point.

Art. 38. On motion of F. K. Swett $300 was appropriated for the use of assessors.

Art. 39. To see if the town will instruct the board of assessors to publish in detail the estimate and valuation list, to be made by them for the year 1908, and distribute the same among the inhabitants of the Town. Petition of M. E. Gorman, et al.

S. Knight moved to pass over.

M. E. Gorman. I don't think the town could do anything that would be as much appreciated by the citizens as the publication of a valuation list. He offered as an amendment that $500 be appropriated for the publication of a valuation list. Mr. Hooper inquired if the gentleman was right in his estimate of the cost of getting out such a book.

Mr. Gorman then changed the figure to $300.

Mr. Hooper was surprised the work could be done so cheaply. Furthermore, he said, I don't see the need of it this year; we could get along very nicely without it.

Austin Morley. It would be doing justice to everybody to have this work done. You could then know how much everyone is assessed.

F. K. Hooper. That's very easily done. You can find out how much I am assessed, or anybody else, for all you have to do is to go to the assessors and look into the books for yourself.

Mr. Morley. There are lots of people who haven't time to find out if they did go. We haven't time to go to the assessors' office every day.

The names of the signers to the petition were read, on request of M. E. Gorman.

S. Knight amended the amendment by adding, "said appropriation not to exceed $300.

The amendments and question as amended were carried, namely, that $300 be appropriated.

Art. 40. Compensation of town officers. F. K. Hooper said that realizing the town last year seemed to be willing to raise the salaries of town officials the appropriation committee felt they would leave this alone. You will notice we recommend an increase in one case,—that of assessors and selectmen.

W. C. Rust moved that the town adopt the recommendations of the committee.

T. B. Stone. Please read the act relative to payment of assessors, recently passed.

It was brought out that the present law allows $2.50 per day minimum pay and such other compensation as the town may allow. But the law before the state legislature now changes this to $3.50.

O. M. Stanley. I understand the assessors can collect besides this $250, $2.50 per day. The moderator said his construction of the law was that if the town voted $250, that would be the only amount paid.

M. E. Gorman moved to lay this matter on the table to the adjourned town meeting. But he later withdrew this motion of privilege.

The motion to adopt the recommendations of the committee was carried. The chairman of the selectmen and of the assessors will receive $500 each, and the other two members of each board will receive $250 each. It happens that E. S. Knight and W. R. Bell are members of both boards, in which case they receive a total of $500 each.

Art. 41, regarding location of bathhouses at Singing Beach and removal of muck and sand. The usual motion was passed.

Art. 42. $2500 and the unexpended balance of last year, $994.73 was appropriated for the use of the committee on additional water supply.

Art. 43. $150 was appropriated for use of forest fire wards.

Art. 44. Dredging the inner harbor. F. K. Hooper moved an indefinite postponement of this matter, though he said there was need of enlarging the basin at the foot of the town wharf.

Art. 45, regarding option of the town to purchase the plant of the Manchester Electric Co., which expires next September. The moderator said he was a member of that corporation, and he would leave the chair during the discussion of that article.

S. Knight said this was a poor time to enter upon an enterprize of this kind and he moved that a committee of three uninterested parties be appointed to confer with the Manchester Electric Co. and ask for an extension of the option. We don't want this option to go by, said Mr. Knight, and we don't want it to be sold to another company.

F. K. Hooper would like to know who the officers of the company are and elicited the following information: O. T. Roberts, president; Philip Dexter, Gordon Abbott, G. M. Lane, C. E. Cotting and O. T. Roberts, directors; George C. Lee, treasurer; R. C. Allen, clerk.

Mr. Hooper believed the town should own its own plant and manufacture its own electricity. He disliked to see this privilege get away from the townspeople.

Mr. Knight's motion was carried. The following committee was appointed: F. K. Hooper, E. S. Knight and F. K. Swett.

Art. 46, regarding the laying of a drain pipe through land of M. E. Connors on Tappan street, and payment of $1 for deed of right of way. Voted.

Art. 47. $500 was appropriated for the Fourth of July celebration, on motion of E. P. Stanley. The following committee was appointed: F. G. Cheever, J. H. Rivers, E. W. Baker, L. O. Lations, A. Cunningham, L. W. Floyd and R. J. Baker.

Art. 48 on acceptance of act regarding inspector of buildings, was passed over on motion of W. C. Rust.

Art. 49. On motion of E. P. Stanley $150 was appropriated for an additional float at town wharf, the work to be under direction of the selectmen.

Art. 51. Back curtain for stage in town hall. Passed over.

Art. 52. It was voted to place with some reliable trust company for the term of ten years the Tuck's Point Fund, amounting to $6000, the interest or as much as may be neeessary to be used for the maintenance of Tuck's Point.

Art. 60. It was voted to construct a fence and do certain grading along by the brickyard property, so called, on Summer street, and $700 was appropriated for the purpose.

Art. 61. It was voted to make suitable repairs on Elm street, the cost to be taken from the general highway appropriation.

Art. 62. New stone crusher. Passed over.

Art. 63. Pine street layout. Voted to lay on table.

Art. 64. It was voted to instruct the selectmen to petition the Land and Harbor Commissioners or other proper authorities to direct the B. & M. to dredge the channel under the railroad draw to comform with the dredging already done by the state and town.

Art. 65. Improvement of Brook street land. Passed over.

Art 66. $500 was appropriated for a series of band concerts to be spent under the direction of the selectmen. Motion by W. C. Rust.

Art. 67. It was voted that all taxes be paid by Nov. 1, 1908, and after that date, all unpaid taxes be charged at rate of 6 per cent, and the collector was given necessary authority to compel such payment.

Art. 68. Voted to authorize treasurer to borrow in anticpation of taxes.

Art. 69. It was voted to appropriate money to cover deficiencies as they appear in the annual report. (This amount is $5367.41.)

Art. 72. It was voted to resurface Jersey lane in its entire length. Cost to be taken from general highway appropriation.

F. K. Hooper moved the adoption of the recommendation in the report of the approp. committee, as follows: That all town officials and committees intrusted with expenditures of money keep within the appropriations as voted by the town.

Art. 71. Any other business. E. A. Lane moved that the High school scholars be reimbursed the amount paid for the rent of Town hall on the evening of Feb. 26, when they presented the cantata, "The Building of the Ship," and that the graduation class be granted free use of the hall for their exercises next June. Voted.

F. K. Hooper moved the acceptance of the report of the committee on appropriations. Voted.

On motion of G. S. Sinnicks a vote of thanks was extended to the appropriation committee for the able manner in which they prepared their report.

At 9.30 the meeting adjourned to the second Monday evening in April, at 7.30 o'clock.

STREET SUPERINTENDENT APPOINTED

Supt. Kimball succeeded by Benj. M. Crombie. Lively Hearing at Manchester. Issue Settled by Appointment of new Man by Board of Selectmen.

Benjamin M. Crombie is Manchester's new superintendent of streets. He was appointed by the Board of Selectmen at their weekly meeting Thursday evening, despite the pressure that had been brought to bear toward having the board re-appoint George Kimball, who has been superintendent here for the past eleven years.

The appointment of superintendent of streets has been the one issue of the town meeting this year, as far as there has been any issue. It was felt that Mr. Kimball might not be re-appointed and a petition was placed before the board asking for a hearing on the matter. This hearing was given in the Town hall Wednesday evening, and it was one of the most spirited hearings in the history of the town.

The wording of the petition was as follows:

"We, the undersigned, as citizens, feeling deeply interested in the welfare of our town, and especially in that branch thereof known as the Street Department, and feeling that the subject of road construction has grown to be acknowledged as one requiring much scientific knowledge and practical experience, far beyond that possessed by those to whom it has not been a subject of long and careful study, and hearing with much regret that your honorable board are seriously contemplating a change in the management of said department, do hereby petition your honorable board that prior to the appointment of any person to the responsible position of Superintendent of Streets, that you may appoint for the near future a place and hour at which your petitioners and all others interested may appear and be heard in support of our firm conviction, to wit: that the best interests of the Town of Manchester will

THOUGHTS HERE AND THERE

BY D. F. LAMSON.

Things sometimes get curiously mixed; in the tariff, buttons and stoves are classed together, so are bullets and buggies, so are cannon for war and crosses for churches; but it might almost be suspected that a sly sarcasm is intended in this last classification.

But as to tariffs, why cannot a tariff be framed that will be just to all the great interests of the country, with favor to none—that will represent actual business conditions, and not the pet theories of politicians?

Whatever may be the difference of opinion as to some of the President's utterances and methods, no one can question that business is being done on better principles because of the increased sense of responsibility to stockholders, to competitors, and to the public, which these utterances and methods, however unguarded they may sometimes have seemed, have caused; as a matter of fact, the President's course is meeting with approval by many clear-sighted business men who see in it the promise of solid prosperity, even if it be at the cost of some present curtailment of business.

There is a vast difference between the truly comic and that which is mere silliness; Douglas Jerrold, Leech and Nast were masters of the former; any minstrel show is sufficient to the latter.

Considerateness is something that is always at a premium; the absence of it is sometimes due to want of thought rather than want of heart; but whatever the

FIRE AT "HIGHWOOD"

Chicken House and Gardener's Cottage Prey of Flames at West Manchester.

An exploded or over-turned lamp in a brooder house at "Highwood," the William B. Walker estate at West Manchester, Tuesday afternoon, resulted in a fire loss of very nearly $7000. The chicken house, in which were four incubators and six brooders, and some 200 chickens of various ages, and the gardener's cottage, occupied by Thomas Jack and family, were almost totally destroyed. It was considered fortunate that the large stable adjoining was not lost also.

The fire was first discovered about 3.40 by the man in charge of the chicken brooder house, who had been in Mr. Walker's employ only a few days. The fire department was summoned by telephone message to the station, box 52 being "rung in" a little after 4 o'clock.

Though the steamer, hose wagon and hook and ladder got away in good time it was fully half an hour or more before a stream was turned on the fire, which, by this time, had gained good headway. The high altitude of the estate and the distance of the nearest hydrant from the fire, seriously handicapped the firemen in meeting the emergency.

The single line of hose, when finally the water was turned on, from the steamer, measured a little over 1600 feet. A break in a piece of hose caused by the abnormally high pressure under which the hose was put, caused another short delay.

Seeing that the chicken house and the gardener's cottage connected by an L was doomed, the firemen turned their attention for the time being to the stable. This was saved. The furniture was practically all removed from the cottage, with the exception of a piano, and several other pieces of furniture.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker were in Boston when the fire started, but they arrived later. Hot coffee and sandwiches were served to the firemen and the "all-

MANCHESTER

It is now Supt. Crombie—our new Supt. of Streets!

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Allen left yesterday for a short trip to Washington, D. C., to be away about ten days.

Miss Alice Starrett of Mt. Vernon, N. H., has been visiting her uncle, Geo. S. Sinnicks, and family the past week.

The Story High school alumni will meet Monday evening, March 16, at the home of Mrs. Charles Williams, Norwood avenue.

F. J. Kiff of Boston, hair and skin specialist, has taken a lease of the store in the Blaisdell block, Beach street, and will occupy it about June 1.

Besides appointing B. M. Crombie superintendent of streets, at their meeting Thursday evening, the selectmen reappointed Frank H. Crombie caretaker of Tuck's Point.

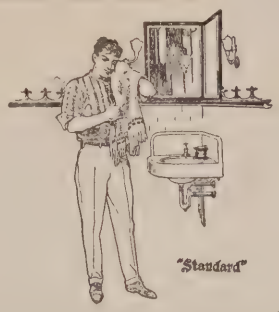

Former Chief of Police and Mrs. T. O. D. Urquhart of Manchester, now of Arlington, were in town Thursday afternoon and evening mingling among their friends, and to attend the W. R. C. anniversary.

The First Degree was worked on one candidate at the meeting of Magnolia lodge, I. O. O. F., Thursday evening. The Second Degree will be exemplified next week, when a delegation is expected from Salem.

Mrs. Duncan T. Beaton is leaving next week for a trip south, including a visit with her aunt at Greencastle, Pa., and also at Hagerstown, Md. She will be away several weeks and will return by way of Washington, where she will visit some cousins. Her little daughter Helen goes with her.

The hearing at the selectmen's room Thursday afternoon on the matter of reissuing license to Fuller A. Andrews of Gloucester to maintain fish weir at Grave's Island was marked by the lack of opposition on the part of Manchesterites, and by the presence of Gloucester's leading politicians. It was evidently expected there would be opposition. Ex-Mayor Tolman, ex-Rept. Hubbard, Rept. C. Homer Barrett and Chairman Ralph Dennen of the Republican city committee were present. Fred K. Swett explained the matter of weir from his knowledge of it when the license was granted three years ago, and Mr. Andrews also spoke and asked that the license be for five years instead of three. The selectmen granted the license for a term of three years.

Deputy Tax Commissioner Fales paid his official visit to Manchester on Monday of this week and looked over the tax and assessors' books. Mr. Fales advised a number of changes including a radical departure in the manner of listing the assessed polls. These he advised to be classified by streets and not in alphabetical order as now. Besides the street name, the name of the owner of house in which assessed poll lives must also be given, all of which means additional work for the assessors.

Notice.

TO THE PUBLIC:—I would inform you that I have sold my business to Mr. Thomas Derosier who takes over my entire business, including machinery, tools, stock, fixtures and "good will."

I decided upon this change after finding that the climate on our coast does not agree with Mrs. Dyer, so I am arranging to go South. It is with regret that I contemplate leaving Manchester and all the friendly ties that have been formed in the six years I have met you as a business man, and I desire to thank all those who assisted me in establishing "Dyer's Auto Depot" so successfully, and I trust my successor will receive the same generous patronage and loyal support which has always been extended to me.

Very truly yours,
GEORGE F. DYER.

R. C. Allen and James Hoare attended the Brown Alumni banquet tendered Gov. Hughes at the American House in Boston Tuesday evening, and Frank G. Cheever and Wm. W. Hoare attended the banquet of the New England Dry Goods Merchants in Tremont Temple, where Gov. Hughes was a guest of honor.

The County commissioners are to give a hearing at the selectmen's office next Thursday morning, March 19, at 11, to parties interested in the relocation of the lines of School street.

About Senator Shaw.

Practical Politics has the following to say about Senator James F. Shaw, in connection with the reverses recently met by the street railroad company of which Mr. Shaw was the head:

"The many expressions of regret which were heard on the hill during the week because of the announcement of the financial troubles of Senator Shaw emphasized the fact that legislators are not always controlled in their friendships and preferences by the mere evidences of prosperity which appear on the surface. Senator Shaw was one of the most generous spenders who ever came to the hill. He was popular with all those with whom he came in contact, and he is just as popular today as he was when he first put his foot in the senate chamber. No man ever received more sincere and genuine sympathy and the influence of the Essex county senator has been increased rather than diminished by the unkind turn which the wheel of fortune has taken with him."

MARCH IS THE PRUNNING MONTH

For Many Things

Hedges can NOW be trimmed to perfect lines, which can be maintained throughout the summer. Perfect lines are sometimes impossible without making bare spots in the foliage if the first prunning is left until summer. If hedges have been neglected and are out of shape now is the time to make them right.

This is the month to prune apples, pears, peach, plum, cherry, currants, gooseberry, etc. Our method of apple prunning keeps the trees low—easy to pick the fruit.

Delightful Entertainment at Magnolia.

On Wednesday evening a repetition of the "Railroad Restaurant," which was given with such success last year, took place in the hall of the Women's club house, Magnolia. The entertainment was held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society, the committee in charge being Mrs. Willard Boyd, Mrs. Lafayette Hunt, and Mrs. Edgar Story.

A stranger wandering in would wonder where he had arrived and whether he was "coming" or "going;" for such a conglomerate aggregation of characters and costumes was never gathered into the same building at any one time.

The invitation to "come in costume" was accepted and the casual visitor would be conversing with and probably admiring an elegantly gowned lady when his feelings would be considerably jarred by a glimpse of—for a lady—an enormous foot or pair of feet as the case might have been. On the other hand a lady might be taking mental notes of an immaculate "dandy" when a stray lock of hair escaping from under the shining tile would betray the wearer as being of the fairer sex. From the arrival of the "first train" to the departure of the last the evening was one round of merriment.

Rev. F. J. Libby was a success as the policeman, and fully met the usual requirements of the guardian of the peace by being absent when most needed. Only the prompt action of the citizens present prevented the Masher from being lynched; as it was, he was made to stand on his head and execute a step dance to the tune of the cowboys' revolvers.

Honors were about even for first place the choice being between Dennis Ballou as a Lady of Quality, and Mrs. Henry Brown, dressed as a Spanish grandee. Mrs. Arthur Lycett and Miss Alice Story made charming Japanese ladies, dispensing the cup that cheers of their native land. Miss Clara Butler as Hiram Green and Miss Georgia Dunbar as Hiram's wife looked and acted their respective parts true to life. Mrs. Wm. Symonds, straight from Cork was a corker. Mrs. Frank Story as a Spanish lady was the wife of Mrs. Henry Brown. Lafayette Hunt and Colby Staples were typical cowboys. John May was a crazy autoist exceeding the speed limit, Oscar Story was a Masher and Frank Abbott—well he was a lady. Miss Libby as Miss Jinks and Miss Stanley as Miss Squeers were principals of the Cram seminary,—accompanied by their students. Miss Alice Sanborn represented a lady of the revolutionary period, Mrs. Knowles, s Red Cross nurse and Mrs. Fred Dunbaa was a very graceful aged lady. Otherr taking prominent parts were Mrs. Dennis Ballou, Lady of 1860; Helen Lycett, school girl; Grace Story, candy girl; Mrs. Crispen, nun; Nona Hight, Little Boy Blue; Eddie Hight, Dutch girl; Mrs. John May, jr., golf costume; Abbie May, caddie boy; Willie Knowles, sunbonnett baby; Willie Hunt, Pickaninny. Mrs. McKay, Mrs. Malonson, Susan Lycett, Jennie Brown, Lizzie Brown, Gertrude West, Ruth Scott and Edna Symonds, students at the Cram seminary.

The entertainment brought out the fact that there are many old and beautiful costumes in Magnolia families, of which the owners are justly proud.

The colored waitresses were Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Edgar Story and Mrs. Frank Abbott. Music was furnished by the Chane orchestra.

Evelyn F. Allen.

Mrs. Evelyn Foster Allen, passed away at her home on Washington street, Manchester, Tuesday night, from heart trouble at the age of 60 years, 5 months, 10 days.

Mrs. Allen was born in Manchester, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Hooper. She has spent her whole life here, and was the wife of Captain John Allen. She had been ill about six weeks, but not until a week before her death was her condition considered serious. Last Saturday her two sons, Benj. L. and Henry O. Allen came on from New York thinking the end was near, but she seemed to improve and they returned the first of the week, only to be summoned back again by her death Tuesday night.

Mrs. Allen was a kind and loving mother and was a woman highly respected in the community.

Besides her husband she leaves eight children, her eldest son, Benj. L., being 3d vice president of the Knickerbocker Trust Co. of New York city; John I., who is in San Francisco, and was unable to reach home before the funeral, Henry O., also of New York, Everett and Bertram of this town, and three daughters, Grace, Evelyn and Bessie, who are at home. She also leaves four brothers, Edward P., Franklin K., George W. and Charles Hooper, all of Manchester, the latter three in business here.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at her late residence on Washington street, at 2 o'clock, the Rev. L. Ruge, of the Congregational church officiating. Interment was in Rosedale cemetery.

WHISPERINGS

Friday, the Thirteen! Yesterday was not an altogether lucky day for the Manchester school-marms, and others who have been in the habit of attending the teachers' lecture course at Gloucester. They went as usual yesterday, going on the 1.30 train, which meant that there was no afternoon session of school. Rabbi Fleischer was to have been the speaker, but that gentleman started for the wrong Cape yesterday,—he went to the South station in Boston and started for Cape Cod, got as far as Plymouth and telegraphed back to Gloucester that he was on the wrong track. The message came just a few minutes too late for the Manchester delegation to catch the next train back, and they waited patiently another hour.

Mrs. T. W. Long has been quite seriously ill the past week.

A private dancing party of fourteen couples was held in the Town hall last evening.

MANCHESTER

George Northup returned yesterday from a fortnight's visit to the Provinces.

Supt. Kimball has leased the house which he has been occupying, on Union street, for a year.

Mrs. Theo. Fiske of New Boston, N. H., is visiting Mrs. William Till, Coolidge Point.

The Republican Town committee will hold a meeting in the small caucus room, Town hall, Monday evening at 7.30.

The G. A. Priest school is being equipped with a system of fire bells that are to be used only in case of fire, or in practice of the fire drill.

Spring is coming—robins and blue birds being seen at Coolidge's Point, March 12. M. E. Gorman saw a robin in West Manchester, Thursday.

The Republican caucus to elect delegates to the convention to be held next summer to nominate a president will be be held on Tuesday evening, March 31.

Prof. Nathan B. Sargent of Haverhill, a former teacher here, gave a delightful evening's entertainment at the Chapel Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Social circle his subject being original songs and sketches. Ice cream and cake were served free.

The percentage of attendance at the schools this week was: Primary—Grade I, 98.8; I and II, 98.59; II, 96.13; III, 94.2; IV, 97.22; Advanced IV, 90.63; V, 98.07; VI, 94.74; VII, 93.46; VIII, 98.05; IX, 97.68.

A pleasant feature of the Rebekahs' meeting last week was the presentation of gold jewels to the following twelve past noble grands: Mrs. Abbie Allen, Mrs. Nellie Dunn, Mrs. Nellie Page, Mrs. Flora Hersey, Miss Annabel Haraden, Miss Jennie Sargent, Mrs. Minnie Hoare, Mrs. Jessie Rust, Mrs. Susan Andrews, Mrs. Annie Sinnicks, and Mrs. H. Mabel Johnson.

Observes its 19th Anniversary.

Allen Relief corps of Manchesser observed its nineteenth anniversary Thursday evening, on which occasion a very pleasant evening's entertainment was carried out. Members of the post, camp and associates were invited guests on this occasion. Following was the program carried out:

VOCAL SOLO, "Just for Tonight"
Miss Emma Pre.t
READING, "Papa and the Boy"
Mrs. R. A. Mitchell
VOCAL SOLO, Mrs J. W. Lee
READING, Mrs Charles J. Lucas
VOCAL SOLO, "Honey all the Time"
Mrs. F. G. Cheever
READING, Mrs. Martin
SINGING, "Marching Through Georgia" All

Among those who spoke after the conclusion of the above program were E. P. Stanley, Enoch Crombie, T. O. D. Urquhart and L. W. Floyd. All spoke of the grand work the corps is doing and of the necessity that the work be continued now in the declining years of the post and its fast fading membership.

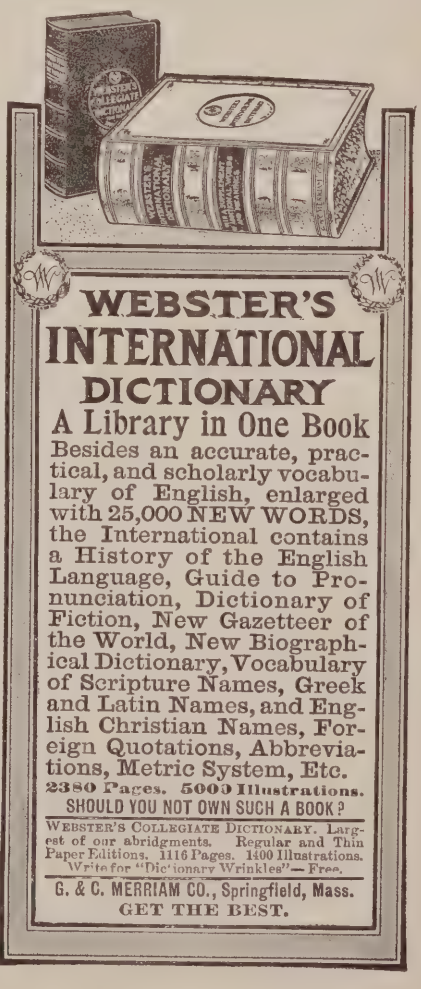

A generous collation was served, consisting of ice cream, cake, coffee, etc.

The Men's class of the Baptist church will attend a meeting at the First Baptist church, Beverly, Monday evening, on invitation of the Foss Bible class of that church.

Next Friday afternoon a special meeting of the Woman's Foreign Mission circle will be held at the Baptist church, on which occasion Mrs. N. M. Bishop of Boston, editor of the "Echoes," will speak. The meeting will be at 3 o'clock. Tea will be served the members of the circle after the afternoon meeting, and a public meeting will be held in the evening, at which Mrs. Bishop will again speak, and to which the public is invited.

The 18th annual convention of the Essex County Christian Endeavor union will be held at the Market street Baptist church, Amesbury, on Monday, April 20. There will be sessions, 10 a. m. to 12, 2 p. m. to 5 p. m., 6.45 p. m. to 8.45 p. m.

"The Wise Use of Money" will be the subject of the Young People's meeting tomorrow evening. Samuel Knight, 2d, will lead the Y. P. S. C. E., and Dea. T. B. Stone the B. Y. P. U.

"John's Testimony for Jesus" will be the subject of the Tuesday evening service in the chapel in the Life of Christ series.

A "pink tea" was the occasion of a very pleasant gathering of young people at the Chapel last evening, the affair being held under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E. Ice tea, pink lemonade, cocoa, sandwiches, cake, etc., were served, the tables being presided over by Misses Marion Kitfield, Mabel Lodge, Mary Rust and Agnes Sjorlund. The decorations were pink. Games and music were enjoyed the latter part of the evening. The committee in charge was composed of Willard Rust, chairman; Jos. Floyd, Frank Sinnicks, Misses Mabel Lodge, Marion Kitfield and Agnes Sjorlund.

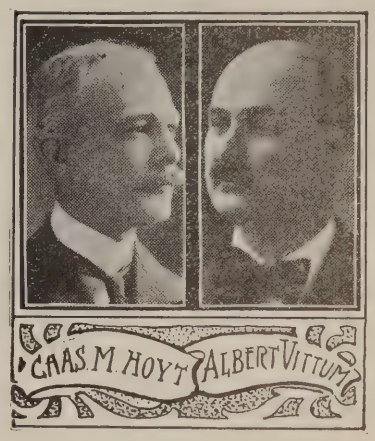

The social held in the Vestry of the Baptist church Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Church Aid society proved a very pleasant affair. Despite the other attractions of the evening a large gathering was out, and the silver collection, taken at the door, amounted to $8. The program feature of the evening consisted of piano duet by Horace and Gladys Temple; solos by Misses Olive Cook and Emma Prest; readings by Mrs. Charlotte Brown, Mrs. Charles Lucas and May Rogers, and singing, "The Glory Song," by all.

At the Congregational church, tomorrow both services will be devoted to the subject of music. The morning subject will be devoted to showing how essential music and singing is in the worship of God, and all lovers of music are invited to be present.

The evening subject will be "A Sermon in Song" composed of narratives and incidents in the making of some of our finest hymns and songs, in which a special feature will be congregational singing, and solos. Everyone cordially invited to these services.

Candidates for Delegates to the Republican National Convention.

Much interest is already being manifested in the coming election of delegates to the conventions to be held this spring to nominate candidates for the presidential election next fall.

Charles M. Hoyt of Haverhill and Albert Vittum of Beverly, are the two most promising candidates in this district. Both men are declared to support Secretary Taft. They are endorsed by Cong. Gardner and by Senator "Jim" Shaw of Manchester. They are favorable to Mr. Taft because they believe he will carry out President Roosevelt's policies.

Mr. Hoyt is a business man of large interests, conducting the largest box manufacturing business in Essex County. Mr. Vittum is editor of the Beverly Evening Times, and has just completed two years in the House. He has many friends in this section.

They believe that the only chance the people have to express their preferences is at the caucuses and they should know for whom the delegates will vote, and whether they represent only themselves, or the people who send them.

Want Better Conditions at the Beverly Station.

At a meeting of the Beverly Board of Aldermen this week a petition was presented by W. B. Publicover and 123 others that the board should take some action in regard to better and more adequate accommodations at the Boston & Maine railroad station, where now there is no waiting room on the easterly side, and no provisions for safety and convenience for crossing the tracks to reach the waiting room on the western side. On motion of Alderman Hodgkins a hearing was ordered at 7.15 p. m., March 17.

This is a matter of much interest to Gloucester branch folk who have occasion to board trains at the Beverly station.

G. F. Dyer Sells Business in Manchester.

The many Manchester friends of George F. Dyer will regret to learn that Mr. Dyer has sold his business in Manchester, known as Dyer's Auto Depot, and that he contemplates leaving soon to settle in the south. This decision was reached by Mr. Dyer only after it had been decided that the climate on this coast does not agree with Mrs. Dyer's health, and she must seek other climes.

GEORGE F. DYER

Mr. Dyer has sold his business to Thomas Derosier of Lawrence, who will take possession at once. Dyer's Auto Depot has come to be recognized as one of the leading places of the kind along the North Shore, and it is with much regret that Mr. Dyer's patrons learn that he is leaving, though they will no doubt give the new owner the same liberal patronage they have given Mr. Dyer.

What he will do in the future, or just where he will settle, is as yet undecided by Mr. Dyer. He will leave Manchester very soon, however.

Baseball Starting Up.

The real "dementia Americana" is attacking New England, and every "fan" will be on the anxious seat until the clicking of the turnstile ushers in the opening of the baseball season.

If you can't be on the spot, the next best thing is to hear from some one who is there, and, realizing this, The Boston Journal has sent Arthur McPherson, its baseball expert, to Little Rock with the American League team. His daily letters are intimate accounts of the daily work and life led by the players during the preliminary trying-out for positions on the big team, and he will watch carefully the work of the new recruits who are expected to infuse new life into the team this spring. *

Society Notes

Despite the apparent business depression, the North Shore, we feel, is to enjoy a prosperous season this year. The BREEZE editor has called on most of the leading real estate men handling North Shore estates and cottages for rent, during the past week and from what he learned it would appear that the coming season is to be a busy one. In Gloucester, Beverly, Manchester and Magnolia the cottages are renting as well as they ever do at this season of the year. In fact, the number of inquiries, real estate men say, are far in excess of what they have ever been before. This is due, no doubt, to the fact that two of the largest hotels on the shore,—the New Magnolia at Magnolia, and the Colonial Arms at Gloucester, have been destroyed by fire since the last season. Many families who have spent the entire season at these hotels heretofore will try to find cottages for this year.

Many improvements and repairs of a minor nature are in progress at cottages all along the shore, which would seem to indicate that many of the cottagers will come to the shore earlier than usual this year.

The Winch cottage at Manchester has been leased for the season to the Frank P. Luptons of New York city.

Mrs. George Fabyan of Boston will have the Mrs. Gordon Prince house at West Manchester again the coming summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Head are at their Manchester estate again after a few weeks' trip to Cuba. They returned Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Grew sailed Tuesday week on the Kaiser Wilhelm II from New York for England and Bremen. They have gone over for a visit to their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clark Grew (Miss Perry), in St. Petersburg, where Mr. Grew is a member of the American Embassy.

Edward L. Davis and family of Worcester will have the Mrs. John W. Wheelwright cottage at Pride's Crossing the coming summer.

Among the new cottagers to come to Magnolia the coming season will be the A. Chester Beetys of New York city. They will occupy the Chas. A. Brinley cottage on the Norman's Woe road.

North Shore motorists who enjoy the beautiful drive through the woods to the popular Fern-Croft Inn will be interested to learn that Mr. Mansfield is planning to open the inn the latter part of April.

Mrs. Daniel Ahl and son Leonard Ahl of Boston who have been in Florida part of the winter, planned to sail from New York last Saturday on the Republic for the Mediterranean, but delayed the trip because of the illness of Mr. Ahl.

Miss Julia Meyer, daughter of Postmaster-General and Mrs. Meyer, is recovering from her recent illness and will soon be able to move in society again. To celebrate her recovery Mrs. Meyer is to give a dinner for her daughter on the 21st of this month at her Washington home.

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Austen Gray of New York city over the birth last week of a son. Mrs. Gray is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Burnham of Beacon street, Boston, and Pride's Crossing. Two years ago a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Gray.

In Yachting Circles.

Work has not been very brisk thus fa at the Manchester boat yards. The old Kolutoo, which raced for the Seawanhaka cup in 1903, is being put in commission again at the Fenton Boat Co.'s yard and is to be shipped soon to Port Huron. J. J. Lynn is the purchaser.

C. H. W. Foster's sonder boat, being built by this same company, to race for the Manchester Yacht club in an endeavor to win back the Quincy Cup from the Boston Yacht club, is very nearly completed.

Popular Favorites Still.

The ideal daily newspaper for the home is the Boston Daily Globe. It has something of interest to very member of the family. In addition to all the news, promptly, attractively and accurately presented, it has a serial story of unquestioned merit, carefully selected, to suit the requirements of home reading. The Daily Globe, by the way, was a pioneer in daily serial stories.

A unique departure in daily newspaper features is the Boston Daily Globe's "Boys' and Girls'" department, exclusively devoted to the interests of the young folks.

As for the Boston Sunday Globe, no better testimonial to its peerless place in the esteem of the people could be asked than its splendid circulation, which during the month of February averaged 333,585 copies, something unparalleled in New England Sunday journalism. Such an enormous circulation can be accounted for only by the fact that it is an unusually excellent newspaper.

Departments for mothers, housekeepers, cooking, fancy work, art embroidery, health instruction, discipline of children and care of infants and confidential chats between women are some of the other attractions which help to make the Boston Sunday Globe the incomparable favorite of New England newspaper readers. Have the Boston Daily and Sunday Globe regularly at your home. *

THE Town of Manchester appropriated almost $23,000 for schools at the annual town meeting last week. Just think of it,—$23,000 for a small town like Manchester. Our neighboring town of Wenham appropriated $5,385,— less than one-quarter as much. Very natural there should be considerable discussion on the subject of schools in town meeting, though the appropriation usually goes through without a word. In addition to what we said last week on this matter we would like to add a little more.

How many heads of families, parents, business men, ever cross the threshold of a school room? How many ever offer a word of encouragement to teacher or scholar and let them know by your presence, at least occasionally, in the school room that you are an interested party, really desirous that they should prosper, and that you have their best welfare at heart? How many have kindly counseled and advised with the head of the school, showing you are with him in the great work? How few can answer in the affirmative! The superintendent has office hours in the town hall building and may be found in his office for consultation every Thursday. Yet, how many call on him? We think we are placing the average too high when we say one a week.

Does it help matters any to find fault, denounce our schools, and pompously parade our opinions before the public, especially when we don't know what we are talking about? Things are not often just as we would like to have them, and surrounding circumstances not always as we imagine or hear they are, and very often if we knew the exact condition and state of affairs our minds and opinions would be the reverse of what they were without a knowledge of facts.

Now this is merely offered as a hint, and while we presume many will read it, it is hoped some will think about it, and at least a few will be induced to act upon it and visit our schools at least occasionally.

We might add, further, that we find after a little investigation that the Manchester schools rank second in the list among the towns of the state, the Brookline schools being the first on the list as regards standard.

MUCH is being said as the time for caucuses for the election of delegates to the presidential conventions draws near, about "pledged" and "unpledged" delegates. We are of the belief that delegates should go to the convention pledged, for the caucus is really the only chance the people have to express their preferences and they should know for whom the delegates they elect will vote, and whether they represent only themselves, or the people who send them.

"Pledged" and "unpledged" are, perhaps, strong terms. Congressman Gardner says "declared" is the proper word, and he defines the word thus: A "declared" delegate is one who is elected on the strength of his declaration of a preference for a candidate.

Is there something significant in the declaration by ex-Senator Schofield of Ipswich that he is about to renounce allegiance to the democratic party and hereafter will probably train with the republicans? He declares that the policy of the party in state and nation for the past two or three years has been suicidal, and that unless things change this spring he will surely desert the party and become a republican. It has been said that Mr. Schofield is after "something bigger" in this district. Is this a move toward that end?

APPROPRIATIONS a little short of $170,000 were made at the annual town meeting in Manchester last week. Manchester people, we fear, don't half appreciate the many benefits derived from living in the town. We have gone over our exchanges very carefully and we have been unable thus far to find a town, anywhere near the size of Manchester, that appropriated for town expenses and improvements an equal sum. The total appropriations in Wenham, for instance, were only $15,363.

The Boston Transcript observes that Hamilton, which went no-license Tuesday, completes the paradox of a dry coast line from Chelsea to Newburyport. We might add "with the exception of Gloucester."

To the many inquiries as to why we did not publish a picture of our new selectman, Mr. Allen, last week, we would say: Mr. Allen refuses to have his picture appear in the BREEZE.

This is a year of "dis-appointments" instead of "re-appointments" in Manchester.

Advertising Suggestions

The newspaper is a fertile field for advertisers to cultivate, sow and to harvest. Every merchant should be eager to sow good seed therein. Many are already doing so. Others are, apparently, indifferent about it. The newspaper is the modern seed-sower. The copy is the seed. The display of the copy is the fertilizer. Frequent changes of copy, embodying new thoughts and ideas, is the rain and sunshine.

"Couldn't Do Without It."

Mrs. B. F. Williams of Los Gatos, Cal., formerly of Beverly Farms, in renewing her subsciption for the BREEZE says:

"* * I would miss it very much, as it has so much news from the Farms, my home, and other places of interest. I think I could not do without it. We always get it on Friday. * *"

Mrs. Williams is but one of the small army of ever increasing BREEZE readers, who have moved from this locality, but who look forward to the weekly visit of the BREEZE.

GYPSY MOTHS THREATEN DESTRUCTION OF NORTH SHORE WOODS

Immediate Restrictive Measures are Necessary, says Col. Sohier. Infestation already covers One Thousand Acres.

Serious apprehension is felt for the beautiful North Shore woods. Scouting operations which have been in progress, under State supervision since last fall, have revealed the alarming situation that about one-fifth of the five to six thousand acres of woodland in Manchester, Beverly, Hamilton, Wenham, and South Essex, are infested with gypsy moths and at least 125 acres are so badly infested as to call for immediate measures for relief, lest the woods be assailed by the pest beyond redemption.

Col. Wm. D. Sohier, at whose request the woods were scouted by Supt. Kirkland's force of experts, has been appraised of the actual situation as far as it is disclosed up to date, and with the facts before him he sounds the note of warning.

Col. Sohier has already started to raise a fund of $30,000 or over, and it is purposed to have this amount expended under the direction of the state superintendent. Summer residents—property holders—are taking an active interest in the work, and are subscribing liberally to the fund. Col. Sohier expects the several towns to subscribe to the fund also. Beverly has already guaranteed $5000. It is likely that Manchester will be called upon to take action either at the adjourned town meeting in April, or at a special meeting.

These are the conditions as stated by Col. Sohier:

"For several years the sides of the roads on fourteen miles of private wood roads, built by subscription, have been cleared of gypsy moths for 100 feet in width, by me. Having found a number of badly infested but scattered areas of gypsy moths, I applied to Mr. Kirkland, State superintendent, last fall, and asked him if he would not take hold of the woods on the North Shore—in Beverly, Manchester, Wenham, Essex, Hamilton and Gloucester— and ascertain the situation and report what needed to be done. The State since last fall has had three squads of seven men each scouting these woodlands, treating the scattering nests and wherever there was not a thickly infected area. They have been going around and mapping out all of the badly infested places.

"In this way they have gone through the woods in Beverly Common and Montserrat woods, Beverly Farms at Chebacco, and between Essex and Manchester, but they have not been able to go into the Gloucester woods as yet.

"The large area, badly infested, was 125 acres at Montserrat. There were also 120 acres on Beverly Common and another in the woods back of Beverly Farms. Then there were some 20 spots varying from one-half to twelve acres which were dotted here and there in the woods: one near Brookwood road, one near the old Manchester road, one on Chebacco Pond and one on Becks Pond.

"Superintendent Kirkland, after this thorough scouting, has written to me and told me, and told the Beverly city government that the only thing at a reasonable price that will save the North Shore woods from destruction is to have some comprehensive and systematic treatment of all the wooded area under one plan and one head; that it cannot be left to the separate municipalities as the work would stop on town and city lines, and that, if anything is to be done to save the woods, it must be done systematically and thoroughly and must include the whole area. He says a large force should be employed and the work started at once. The infested area should be treated by painting the nests, clearing out the underbush, cleaning the trees and getting ready to spray in the summer; the trees should then be covered with burlap and treated with tanglefoot.

"He estimates the cost at between $30,000 and $40,000, for the scattering area that is badly infested is about one thousand acres of the five thousand to six thousand acres that were scouted. If this work is done now, he thinks, there is no doubt the gypsy moth can be controlled to such an extent that the problem next year will be easier than this year and the woods will be preserved until the parasites are multiplied sufficiently to control the gypsies.

"If this is not done at once, the situation next year will be so serious and the sum of money required so large that it will be practically impossible to save the beautiful woods on the North Shore. It is impossible to estimate the damage this disaster would cause to our North Shore. A single stripping of the pine absolutely kills that tree, which is the most beautiful feature of the landscape. Where $30,000 to $40,000 will control the situation today $150,000 to $200,000 would be required next year, as has been so vividly shown in Medford, Arlington and in Metropolitian districts where so many beautiful woods have been absolutely destroyed.

"We have some serious examples of this fact. The colony back of Montserrat was noticed two years ago and at that time seemed to be only about one acre in extent. It was slightly treated. Last year there were some fifteen acres belonging to Henry W. Peabody which were treated and it was supposed that this covered the colony. The area was not thoroughly scouted, however. In consequence, another small colony in the woods near Beaver Pond was overlooked for two years, running. This small colony has there increased and now comprises 125 acres in one tract very badly infested, with several other small areas scattered about where the trees are entirely stripped.

"Thus a neglected colony of two years ago, of one to two acres, has brought about a badly infested district of 125 acres. There are many large sections of the woods, probably one-half of the total area, which as yet are substantially free from gypsy moths; three-fourths of the balance have only a few nests scattered about and these have already been thoroughly treated. If the balance, 1000 acres, the badly infested district, is thoroughly cleaned and the moths controlled this year the woods will be preserved; otherwise they will be destroyed.

"Dr. L. O. Howard, chief entomologist for the United States, was in Boston recently. Speaking at the Rural Club, he said that the parasite experiment is most enouraging. Over forty varieties are known abroad, and eighteen of these have been established here and have wintered successfully and are doing good work. A very large number of them must be propagated before they can successfully control the gypsy or brown-tail moths in this country as they are now doing in the various European countries. This requires time, and four to seven years may be necessary for the parasites to really establish the necessary control. Dr. Howard and Mr. Kirkland are both satisfied that the parasites will within a reasonable number of years control the situation.

"Upon the North Shore it would be necessary not only to get appropriations from the rich municipalities, like Beverly, but to raise a considerable amount of money to treat the colonies in the woods of the poorer towns. You realize that the cost of this work is more than the assessed value of the land. In Manchester, for instance, where the land is assessed at $25 per acre, the cost of clearing it of gypsy moths is at least $30 per acre. This is the most economical time in which to take decisive action."

X-Rays Subject of Sermon

At the Congregational church, Manchester, last Sunday morning Rev. L. H. Ruge preached a strong and helpful sermon on "X-Rays," taking his text from Gen. 16:13, "Thou, God, seest me."

Mr. Ruge pointed out that the real man is never seen, neither in the social world, nor in business or domestic life; but no man can escape the penetrating eye of the Almighty. Following are a few excerpts from his sermon:

"There may be many hardships in your life and mine; there may be many duties for us to perform, but we cannot escape these without the presence of Almighty God."

"Social refinement and culture is a beautiful thing, but you and I do not see the real man underneath."

"The mean little microbe of malicious judgment of reform is in the air today. Lots of penny-a-line scribblers in the magazines today are writing on reform and every man, good, bad, or indifferent, comes under the venom of his pen. I am tired of it."

"It is a vandal stroke, indeed, that shatters the home ideals."

"We are forever adjusting the lens of the camera of self-esteem."

"Could we see ourselves, not as others see us, for they never see us, but as God sees us. He knows us and sees us through and through."

"As the physician turns the X-Rays machine on your body that he may reveal the cause of the disorder, so He turns his eyes on us and sees into our very soul. The X-Rays reveals what is hidden in an opaque object; so God's eye penetrates these coverings which hide our social, business and domestic life, and these coverings are transparent to the eye of Almighty God."

"Life may be a round of severe duty; others may misjudge, but He reads aright. He that placed you in this field,—He knows it all. Live innocently, God is here. Knowing all, he forgives all."

The attendance at both the morning and evening services was larger than usual, many accepting the special invitation given by the pastor to attend the services. In the evening Mr. Ruge preached on "In the Myrtle Groves of Venus."

SUPERINTENDENT APPOINTED

be subserved by the re-appointment of our present Superintendent of Streets, Mr. George Kimball."

After the petitioners had presented their side of the matter, those opposed to Mr. Kimball's appointment took the floor and there was no mincing of matters as to their respective positions. When the names of other applicants were read there was no doubt left in the minds of those present as to which way the "crowd" went.

The fact that letters and postals were presented to the board (though no names were mentioned to the meeting) showing that some 40 summer residents favored the re-appointment of Mr. Kimball, seemed to have had little effect with the board. Yet these residents represented taxable property to the amount of about four and a half million dollars, —over a third of the total valuation of the town.

Mr. Crombie, the new superintendent, is a native of Manchester. He is a man 52 years old, and has always lived here. He has had more or less experience in road building, and was for some years a road surveyor, prior to the time the town voted to have a superintendent of streets. One of the streets built by Mr. Crombie was School street which lasted many years; in fact, the street was only rebuilt last summer, after ten or eleven years of wear.

The general opinion seems to be that Mr. Crombie is the most capable man in town for the position. In his appointment Thursday evening he was appointed with a salary of $1200.

What Was Said and Done at the Hearing Wednesday Evening.

The hearing was called to order at 7.35 by Chairman E. S. Knight of the board. Clerk Bell of the board kept the minutes of the hearing, and G. L. Allen was also on the stage. Mr. Knight said in calling the meeting to order that the hearing was granted by the board and everybody present that had anything to say would have that opportunity. The petitioners would be heard first.

F. K. Hooper said he felt it his duty to be present, as his was the first name on the list. This matter of petition, he said, is one of the greatest privileges a citizen of the United States has. If there is anything you don't like you have the right to petition and you will be heard.

"If you do not agree with what the President of the U. S. does, or what the Governor of the state does, or your selectmen, you have a right to petition and be heard. And so in this case, we presented a petition. We didn't anticipate so large a hearing, and I think the selectmen did right to give this hearing in the hall and hear both sides of the question. At a hearing like this your petitioners expect what is right. They ask no expression in favor or against; all those things are for your board of selectmen.

"The petition was made with the belief that our former superintendent was not to be reappointed. We came here to hear what are some of the best reasons why our present superintendent should be reappointed and keep on with his work. He has been here almost 12 years and is acquainted with the work required and I think it would be for the best interests of the town to reappoint him. His experience is worth a great deal. I think his work is recognized when he is elected president of an association such as the Mass. Highway association."

Mr. Hooper said the petitioners were ready and willing to show a representation of the taxable property of the town, —people, who though not all voters, paid a large part of the tax levy,—and that they wanted Mr. Kimball retained. The twelve names which he had, represented taxable property amounting to $1,054,675, and he felt these were worthy of some consideration.

F. J. Merrill was the next speaker. He said he realized this was a delicate matter and that some thought this matter of a petition was somewhat out of place. "We were informed," said Mr. Merrill, "that there was a sentiment in the board against retaining Mr. Kimball. We feel that this a critical day in the construction of roads. The automobiles are tearing up our roads as fast as we can build them and road builders are looking for some lasting construction that can stand the amount of travel and wear and tear of automobiles. Up to the present time no one has discovered construction that would stand the test until Mr. Kimball through experiments and otherwise has found a suitable construction,—a road that will stand the test. Whoever we get must go through the necessary experiments that he has I believe it is very much in the interests of the town to have him reappointed. Among the names we have heard mentioned we certainly know some of them are not experienced enough. The mere keeping of the accounts calls for a man of experience and ability."

Mr. Merrill also presented to the board the names of eight taxpayers whose property is assessed for $400,000 and all expressed themselves very heartily in favor of Mr. Kimball being retained.

Raymond C. Allen said that as one of the petitioners he did not feel it presumptuous to petition and he did not have any apology to make. "We simply ask to be heard," he said; "so can anybody else. I don't believe any of us wish ought but to forward the best interests of the town. No one wants to go backward. How then might we go forward? It is my candid opinion that with our present supt. of streets we can go forward. The present condition of the town and of the streets requires that we should have Mr. Kimball. It is going to take a new man nearly a year, at least, to get accustomed to the work and get in line for the work. Our streets need the best of attention and in my opinion Mr. Kimball can do the best work."

Mr. Allen had the names of people representing $300,000 worth of taxable property, who favored retaining Mr. Kimball.

Samuel Knight said he had heard that the appointment of superintendent of streets had figured in the election of last week, but he had put little credence in it. Now, however, he knows differently. He knows this was a matter of issue in our election. He felt, however, that the selectmen would be true to the oath they had taken and after hearing the petitioners on this matter they would use their best judgment and act for the best interests of the town.

"The selectmen must expect to submit to criticism," said Mr. Knight. "I used to occupy the position that Mr. Kimball now has, and I had to stand the criticism. And we spent hundreds now where he spends thousands. Look into all this criticism and talk and you will find much of it like a punctured baloon, —a bundle of wind. Mr. Kimball has been extravagant, we'll admit. But who is the cause of it? We determine how much he shall pay his help; the hours of labor; that he must employ in-town help without regard to their efficiency. This thing is wrong. But this is your will and your superintendent is not responsible. You determine the cost and you are responsible for the extravagance.

"He is forced to hire men that no contractor would hire for a minute, and how could a man help but be extravagant working on these lines?

"Shall we advance or go the downward road? I say we want to go ahead, and we can do it with Mr. Kimball. He is a man of ability, a man of experience. He is widely known. Why it wasn't 24 hours after the ballot had been counted here before he had an offer to go somewhere else. The supt. of streets of Wellesley died last week, and he hadn't been buried, hardly, before they were after Mr. Kimball.

"If we hire someone else we must begin all over again. The best thing we can do is to retain Mr. Kimball."

Mr. Knight said he had heard from tax-payers representing $722,500 taxable property, and they ought to be considered.

Oliver T. Roberts said he had no interest in any way in coercing the board of selectmen. He supposed the selectmen had in a way purposed to decide on the matter of a superintendent of streets and to appoint some other man, a native of the village. My purpose in signing the petition was to hold back that appointment for a little time, so that they might act with little better judgment than if they took action at once.

"If you act with the deep purpose to serve the best interests of the town, and you appoint your man I shall submit to it, and very gracefully, too. I submit, Mr. Kimball is a very good man. Considering the matter in its best light it appears to me the appointment of Mr. Kimball would be serving the best interests of the town. Our streets are among our best assets. Our summer visitors pay big taxes; they help support the schools, our fire department, police, and all other expenses, and the chief thing they ask of us is that we give them good streets. And it seems to me that their wishes in this matter should be gratified. I have received through the week from people who have settled along our shore and pay heavy taxes, letters and postals in which they favor the re-appointment of Mr. Kimball. These people represent property taxed on a valuation of $1,661,000."

O. M. Stanley. "The speaker next to the last (Mr. Knight) said we wanted a man of intelligence, and I agree with him. But I want to ask him if it was good judgment last spring to tear up School street, which was a good stretch of street, and cart it over to Norwood avenue, to use for filling, and let Bridge street go,—the worst street in town. It seems to me if that money was spent on Bridge street it would have showed intelligence. I consider that money was just about squandered."

F. K. Hooper. "Was that job on School street done under the order of the selectmen of against their order? Seems to me lots of this criticism is not chargeable to the man who does the work, but to the one who is in authority."

O. M. Stanley. "The worse streets should receive first attention. If that money had been spent on Bridge street instead of School street it would have been far better."

W. C. Rust said he didn't suppose there was anybody more interested in the roads than he; nor had anybody been in closer touch with Mr. Kimball's work the past few years than he. He thought Mr. Kimball had been conscientious and had done whatever he thought was for the best interests of the town. "Mr. Kimball can get more out of a man than anybody I know of. Everybody knows how the streets were when he came here. Look at them now! I think the selectmen ought to be responsible for all the work done. As for scientific roads, Mr. Kimball has had all these years of experience and if he is any good at all, he ought to be better than a man who hasn't had any experience at all."

Mr. Rust said further that he thought much of this trouble over Mr. Kimball came from disgruntled people that don't like his ways, people that have some spite and think he has been here long enough. He thought the best interests of the town call for retaining Mr. Kimball.

Mr. Morley arose to speak, but the petitioners had not all been heard.

A. S. Jewett said that he was a member of the board of selectmen that hired Mr. Kimball originally. "We went to Boston," said Mr. Jewett, "and called on the Highway Commissioners, and they recommended Mr. Kimball to us. We went to Watertown and engaged him. He came to Manchester and immediately set to work and you know the result. They come from as far away as Washington, D. C., to see our roads. What would you think of a corporation, the directors of which were trying to place it on a paying basis, and they turned away the man who stand highest in the eyes of his peers, and get someone whom you don't know. Your selectmen have a right to appoint, and remove, but 'subject to the best interests of the town.' The idea of judicial responsibility is attached to the duty of the selectmen in this matter."

John Baker said he thought it was for the best interests of the town to reappoint Mr. Kimball.

Austin Morley said that when people say it is a science to build streets, it is evident they haven't read much of street building in Europe and of the old Roman architecture. "Why boys can build streets with the machinery you have today in Manchester. I have no personal feeling against any man. I lived before I came Manchester, and I think I could live if I left here.

"Competition is the life of trade, but when there is competition in the highway department, there is no competion at all. They go to Danvers or somewhere else. Last summer the shore residents were almost smothered in dust all summer. Then he (Mr. Kimball) went to work and put oil on the road, down there toward Magnolia, and the people had to leave the hotels by hundreds. I want this town to have justice; we're not dead; we're alive. Hope you don't think we're asleep the way we have been the last 12 years.

"We do not need to go outside the town for stone, when we have plenty of it here. You had a lawsuit last year that cost the town $1600 and one of our citizens $700. Your superintendent said the street (Arbella street) ought to be protected, but it is not protected yet. Over here on another street (Proctor street) a man was paid $1000 for damages and that street has not been fixed yet and another man can fall over there and break his neck."

A. Cunningham wished that the question of responsibility between selectmen and superintendent might be settled in some way. He hoped the question would be thrashed out. "If I were a gentleman and had my salary cut down, and also had an invitation within 24 hours after town election to go to another town, it appears to me it would be capital and business for me to accept the proposition."

M. E. Gorman. "I think I can hear the rustle of the eagle's wings. First of all, gentlemen, I'm not a Cicero, nor a Demosthenes; they raise those fellows up in Danvers where the onions grow and thrive." Mr. Gorman further said that when we elected the board of selectmen we thought they were fit to fill the office. "But this petition says we must stay their hands. If you will let me turn back to my friend, Mr. Jewett's remarks, he says if you read of Carnegie and Frick, you will read that they took men from the ranks and advanced them up till they got to the top notch. And I am going to ask that we may take one of the citizens in our own town. I have spoken my piece and I am done. I have spoken my mind just as freely as God put it into my mouth."

T. B. Stone. "I understand the selectmen have received several applications and if it is in order I would call for the reading of those names."

Chairman Knight read the names of Benj. M. Crombie, Frederick Burnham, Otis M. Stanley and Lorenzo Baker.

Horace Standley said he thought it for the best interests of the town to retain Mr. Kimball.

M. E. Gorman said this discussion had gone far enough and the board ought to dissolve the meeting.

F. K. Hooper said that the criticism adversely had received support and noise enough, but he felt the board would judge whether that was of more effect than the sentiment expressed through the large amount of taxable property shown here tonight.

M. E. Gorman moved that the hearing dissolve.

Chairman Knight rapped him out of order.

Mr. Gorman said his motion had been seconded.

Mr. Knight said the selectmen were granting a hearing and no motion of any kind was in order.

F. J. Merrill said he never heard of but one perfect man, and he lived many centuries ago. He believed Mr. Kimball was the man to fill the bill.

Lewis Killam said that the poll taxpayers had a right to demand as much as "your millionaires." He had known the boards of selectmen for the past 45 years and he thought this was the most intelligent board the town had ever had. He said further that he knew what he was voting for and so did everyone else. Next year it would be another "2-8-4." (Mr. Killam has since explained to the BREEZE editor that this last allusion "2-8-4" was intended for one certain person, and no one else.)

At 9.15 the hearing was dissolved.

THOUGHTS HERE AND THERE

cause its absence often occasions much unnecessary pain.

The unfortunate, whether in body or mind or estate, have a special claim upon our thoughtfullness; the good book declares, "Blessed is he that considereth the poor;" considerateness is often more needed than alms-giving, and it will prompt to alms-giving when that is required and is possible.

Indiscriminate and unintelligent giving often causes more evils than it cures; hence the wisdom at times of employing almoners in the bestowal of gifts.

But there is danger if the giving is through others that it will lack the personal, human element that is often the best part of it; the giver should as far as possible give himself with his gifts; that often far more than doubles the real value of the gift, and it is such giving especially that is "twice blest."

There are many problems connected with the administration of help to the poor and unfortunate which call for wisdom as well as pity, for the cool head as well as the warm heart; and yet it is better to give sometimes unwisely and from mere impulse than not to give at all.

One of the worst things for us is to allows the flow of kindly beneficence to dry up; to make giving a matter of cold calculation, or to base it altogether upon worthiness; this is not the manner of him who maketh his sun to shine upon the evil and the good and sendeth rain upon the just and the unjust.

No doubt that on the whole less harm is done in the world by the warm-hearted, blundering man than by the frigid and always correct man.

The tendency in our day is to carry on charitable and even religious work by machinery, or in a merely mechanical and perfunctory way; essays to do good should always have in them the feeling, pulsing heart, under the guidance, it is true, of a sound intelligence, a level judgment.

ψ ψ ψ

To avoid the extremes of a too dominant intellectualism on the one hand, and an overpowering emotionalism on the other, is to steer clear of both Scylla and Charybdis in the conduct of life.

ψ ψ ψ

It is wonderful sometimes to see how matters that seem at first very much muddled often clear themselves in discussion, as in town-meeting, for example; as turbid waters deposit their detritus in flowing a few rods or miles. If the public mind is not to hold its errors and ignorance in solution, it must not be left to stagnate; the Middle Ages are an object lesson in that for all time.

UNITED STATES COURT OF CLAIMS

The Publishers of Webster's International Dictionary allege that it "is, in fact, the popular Unabridged thoroughly re-edited in every detail, and vastly enriched in every part, with the purpose of adapting it to meet the larger and severer requirements of another generation."

We are of the opinion that this allegation most clearly and accurately describes the work that has been accomplished and the result that has been reached. The Dictionary, as it now stands, has been thoroughly re-edited in every detail, has been corrected in every part, and is admirably adapted to meet the larger and severer requirements of a generation which demands more of popular philological knowledge than any generation that the world has ever contained.

It is perhaps needless to add that we refer to the dictionary in our judicial work as of the highest authority in accuracy of definition; and that in the future as in the past it will be the source of constant reference.

Miss Butman of Beverly is the new teacher of the 4th grade at the Farms school, which position has recently been filled by Mrs. Wm. R. Brooks, as substitute.

Mr. and Mrs. Mattis Hanson of Vine street have recently entertained Mr. Hanson's brother and family who came down from Exeter, N. H., for a few days' stay.

Rept. W. R. Brooks attended the testimonial banquet of the New England Dry Goods association in Boston Tuesday evening, when Gov. Hughes of New York was the guest of honor.

Mrs. George F. Wood, was one of those who at the recent Odd Fellows fair held in Beverly secured souvenirs of the affair. She won a sofa pillow and a pin cushion. Miss Almira Willams held the number that won a water set.

Ira B. Case of West Medford, who was associated with John A. Trowt at the Pride's Crossing drug store in 1906, will have charge of this store the coming season and expects to open early in April. Mr. Case is a registered pharmacist and when here before made a host of friends. Mr. Case and family will occupy a suite of rooms at Joseph B. Harlows about April 1.

The Sarah W. Whitman club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Daniel W. Hardy on Hale street, there being a goodly number of the members present. The motto that "Its better to work than to talk" is very applicable in this case for the members started work planning their future course. While no definite object is in view at present the club proposes to accumulate some funds that may be used later as the necessity may appear. The next meeting is to be held next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. L. Chapman of Haskell street.

Percy Noyes, who has for some time past resided elsewhere, has spent the week at the Farms, and seemed to have enjoyed himself very much renewing acquaintances.

The mild days of this week have had the effect of starting the base ball fever, and it has not been altogether among the "youngsters" for a number of the "has beens" were seen with their coats and other surplus clothing off "warming up."

Preston Post, 188, have secured the services of Dept. Chaplain Henry E. Barnes of Brookline to deliver the Memorial Day address at Beverly Farms. The services will be held as usual in the evening at the Beverly Farms Baptist church.

Winthrop F. Low, the Vine street livery stable proprietor, is the proud prossessor of seven little "Teddy bears," or rather Irish terrior pups, which have been objects of much interest to the children. Mother dog and her children are doing well.

We note in one of the newspaper letters from Washington that among the Essex County people at the capital the past week were Winthrop Low and M. T. Murphy of Beverly Farms, who were presented to President Roosevelt by Cong. Gardner on Wednesday morning. Mr. Low and Mr. Murphy are now back to their accustomed duties at the Farms.

Mrs. Patrick Barry of High street is convalescing at the Beverly Hospital after undergoing an operation.

Mrs. William C. Long and two daughters of Northampton have spent a portion of this week visiting relatives here.

F. P. Gaudreau, proprietor of the Central square barber shop, left Wednesday for a short vacation trip to visit relatives in Canada.

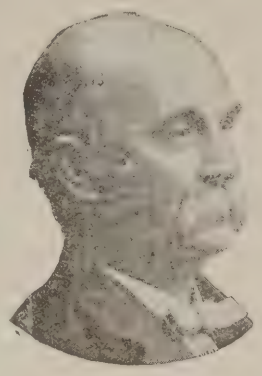

Mrs. Charles Ford, who has been at the Beverly hospital for some time, returned to her home on Tuesday very much improved in health.

Special services for the Lenten season is being held at St. Margaret's church Tuesday and Friday evenings and at St. John's Espicopal church on Thursday evenings.

Mrs. Victor Borden and child of Boston have been spending a portion of this week visiting Mrs. Borden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Preston at East Wenham.

James B. Dow, Michael Connolly, William Watts and George Wyness were among the Beverly Farms' men who on last Tuesday attended the "Gardener's Congress" at Framingham, which trip also included a visit to Natick.

"Music hath charms" 'tis said, but it is a question as to whether that kind which was rendered by the large party of friends who gathered in front of the residence of the newly married couple, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Cahill, on Haskell street, last Tuesday evening about 9 o'clock, to serenade them, could be classified as "charming." Nevertheless, that, together with the red fire, and fireworks, made a sort of miniature Fourth of July for a while, and came to an end only when the crowd was called into the house, thanked for their expressions of good will and invited to partake of refreshments. Upon taking their departure the happy couple were heartily congratulated and given three cheers.

A Mr. Carr of Beverly is the new clerk at Daniels' market and is also in charge of the bakers cart route.

Preston W. R. Corps will hold a "Snipping party" next Tuesday evening after their business meeting.

The Preston Associates will entertain the Post and the W. R. C. on Monday evening, March 23, in G. A. R. hall. The committee in charge have arranged an especially good program.

Miss Clara Hanson has resigned her position as bookkeeper for Howard A. Doane, the carpenter, to accept that of assistant at the Pride's Crossing post office. Miss Hanson has already commenced her new duties.

Services in memory of the late Andrew Standley were conducted at G. A. R. hall last Tuesday evening by the members of Preston Post, Preston Relief Corps and the Associates. The ritual form, to the memory of a comrade of Grand Army of the Republic, covering about an hour's time, was used, and the pastor of the Beverly Farms Baptist church delivered an eulogy, forming his remarks from the unusual words written upon the parchment discharged papers received by the deceased at the time of his retirement from the army in September, 1865, as follows: "This man has always borne an excellent character in his company, intelligent in the knowledge and performance of his duties, perfectly trustworthy and honest." Commander Charles H. Day also spoke in reference to his work as a post member, whose place could not be filled.

Charles Martin of Gloucester expects to open his automobile and bicycle shop in Central square very soon, possibly next week.

The Ladies' Sewing circle were entertained Thursday evening by Mrs. Samuel F. Collamore, at her home on Greenwood avenue.

Rev. C. S. Pond will preach at the Baptist church tomorrow morning on "The Plodders," and in the evening at 7 o'clock on "The Word of Filial Devotion."

Kenneth Lewis of Boston will occupy the gardener's cottage on the Arthur Little estate, Haskell street, the coming summer, formerly occupied by Station Agent Allen.

Mrs. Peter Trainor, a well known and highly respected woman, passed away at her late residence, 44 Hale street, Beverly, Wednesday evening. Mrs. Trainor was well known and had a large circle of friends at the Farms. She leaves a husband and three daughters. Funeral services were held this morning.

Capt. Duncan T. Smith has put the finishing touches on his 20-foot pattern power boat, which he has been building at the shop of Hardy & Day, and the craft is, indeed, a credit to its builder. Capt. Smith, while not particular about disposing of his new creation, would sell if anyone desires such a boat.

Bake beans, cold meats, salads, jellies, pie, cake, tea and coffee and other good things, all of which go to make up a first-class supper, and all for the small sum of 15 cents, is what the members of Preston Relief corps, proposes to give those who patronize their supper to be given in G. A. R. hall next Tuesday evening, March 17, from 5 to 7. Those who take advantage of this liberal offer will not only lend their aid toward encouraging these ladies, but they will get a supper three times the amount paid.

Tickets have sold well for the lecture to be given in the basement of St. Margaret's church, next Monday evening, by Rev. Michael Earls, S. J., of Boston College, whose subject will be "Soggarth Aroon in Poetry." There will also be songs and readings by talent from Boston College High school. Concert at 7.45 o'clock.

Following is the program:

PIANO SOLO — Frank Keville
READING, A "German's Views on America" — William C. Schaefer
SONG, "The Meeting of the Waters" — Edward J. Brandon
READINGS, a. "The Virginia Judge" b. "Mr. Dooley on Music" — Daniel H. Sullivan
SONG, "The Angel's Whisper" — Ray McInnis
SONG, "Shannon Bells" — Thomas Kerr
SONG, "When Bob White is Whistling in the Meadow" — Henry Moynihan

ANNOUNCEMENT

I beg to announce to the residents of the North Shore that I have purchased from Walker Bros. & Co. the provision business conducted by them at Beverly Farms for the past twenty years, including their good will and trade. Having had twenty-five years experience on the North Shore, eight years as manager of Wyatt's Market, I thoroughly understand the selection of choice meats, fruits, vegetables, etc., carried by first-class markets. The business will be conducted under the name of Brewer's Market, which will be opened on or about April 20, 1908. I solicit your patronage.

WALTER P. BREWER.

Beverly Farms, Mass., Feb. 10, 1908.

We, the undersigned, certify that we have sold the good will and trade of our North Shore business to Walker P. Brewer.

NORTH SHORE BREEZE

A WEEKLY JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE NORTH SHORE

Vol. VI. No. 12 MANCHESTER, MASS., SATURDAY, MARCH 21, 1908. 20 Pages Three Cents.

BIG TASK

Gypsy and Browntail Moth Campaign in North Shore Woods to be started at once.

In connection with the gypsy and brown tail moth work along the North Shore, outlined in our last issue, in a statement by Col. Wm. D. Sohier, who is raising a fund to carry out the plans, the Beverly Times of Thursday had the following to say:

Commissioner Archie H. Kirkland of the gypsy moth commission, had an interview with former Representative Albert Vittum, Wednesday, in relation to the proposed extermination of the gypsy and brown tail moths in Beverly and vicinity for which some $30,000 or $40,000 will be spent, and at Mr. Vittum's suggestion the unemployed of Beverly and vicinity will be given plenty of work for the next two months.

The state will furnish the foremen and Beverly laborers will be employed in cutting down trees, cleaning up underbrush as well as work in the trees.

The commission will start with 50 men and immediately increase to 150 and more as needed. The woods of Beverly, Wenham, Hamilton, Manchester, Essex and Magnolia will be cleaned systematically and thoroughly in order to save these beauty spots to the North Shore.

The aldermen started the appropriation with an order for $5000 as Beverly's share and the common council will no doubt concur. $10,000 will be appropriated by the state and through the effort of former Representative W. D. Sohier $15,000 will be raised by the summer residents. Manchester and Hamilton will also contribute liberally.

The work will be done thoroughly and the woods along the North Shore will be closely scrutinized and the pests will be thoroughly exterminated.

Beverly men will be employed on the job, and headquarters will be opened at the city stables and application can be made any time.

MANCHESTER AND OTHER NORTH SHORE TOWNS WOULD BE HEAVY LOSERS

Should Corporation Tax be Retained by the State as Recommended by Recess Commission on Taxation. Higher Tax Rates Would Result.

In its recent special report to the Legislature, the recess commission on taxation said, under the head of "distribution of the franchise taxes paid by domestic business corporations:" "The opinion is now quite generally held that no part of the franchise tax paid by the railroad, telephone and telegraph companies should be distributed to the cities and towns where stockholders happen to reside; and this commission recommends, as other commissions and committees have before recommended, that all of this tax be retained by the Commonwealth. The retention of this tax by the Commonwealth is, in effect, a distribution among all cities and towns in proportion to valuation. Such distribution is justified, because such corporations are of no one city or town."

An important document, showing how this retention scheme would work, has just been compiled by State Treasurer Chapin. It shows the division of the State tax and the distribution of the corporation tax of 1907, exclusive of the street railway tax, to the cities and towns; also the gain and loss to each city and town if there had been no State tax for 1907 and the corporation tax had been retained by the Commonwealth.

It is shown that the result of retention would mean a gain of $979,081 to 256 cities and towns, and a loss of $703,607 to 98 cities and towns. The total State tax of $4,000,000 would have been almost wiped out since the total corporation tax distributed to the cities and towns where shareholders lived amounted to $3,724,526.

Some of the figures showing how the retention scheme would work in gain and loss to cities and towns are striking. Of course the places were the shareholders live would be most seriously affected, such as Brookline, Manchester, Milton, Beverly, Newton, Southboro, Webster, Weston and Dalton.

Boston would make the largest gain, $375,609. Gloucester would gain $13,-214.

The greatest loss would be sustained by Brookline, $ 24,675. Beverly would lose $13,426; Hamilton, $8305; Manchester, $37,598. Manchester received through corporation taxes last year over $52,000, and the tax paid to the state was $15,000.

DRIFTED OUT TO SEA.

Two Manchester Men had Terrible Experience in Small Disabled Motor Boat.

That Manuel S. Miguel and Antonie Silva, two Manchester men, are alive to tell the tale of their being carried out to sea, thirty miles off shore, in an open boat, and of being rescued by a passing schooner just as they had lost all hope and were ready to give up in despair, after rowing and drifting back toward shore again, after more than thirty hours torture, is nothing less than miraculous.

It is one of those thrilling tales of the sea such as Manchester at one period in its history furnished more often, and such as few men live to relate.

Silva is a fisherman, who goes out lobstering from Manchester. He has a small dory launch. Monday morning he invited Miguel, who owns a harness shop in Central square, Manchester, to go with him. They expected to be gone only a couple of hours. They pulled

Restore Strength

Dr. Miles' Nervine cures diseases brought on by mental and physical exhaustion. So many ailments are nervous affections that you can hardly miss it if you try it. In any event its strengthening influence upon the nerves will be of great value to you.

"I was very nervous, could not sleep, was tormented with nervous headaches, and it seemed that every malady was mine. My druggist told me that Dr. Miles' Nervine was good for nervous affections, so I purchased a bottle and a box of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. I took the pills for headache and the Nervine regularly. In a week I felt much better. It seemed that I was living a new life. I do not feel that I can again relapse into the physical wreck that I was before taking them."

MANCHESTER

Lyman W. Floyd has been appointed assistant town clerk, by Town Clerk Jewett.

The Relief Corps' minstrel show will be given some time in May, the exact date not being decided upon.

Principal and Mrs. Albert W. Mead spent the week-end in Concord, N. H., visiting Mrs. Mead's sister, Mrs. W. W. Hill.

Mrs. Donald Mitchell entertained a party of friends Thursday evening, with a graphophone party. Refreshments were served.

Fred K. Swett has been appointed by Superintendent of Streets Crombie to attend to the clerical work of that department for the present year.

Frederick Burnham, who sold out his teaming business last fall, is starting in business again, though on a smaller scale. He bought a pair of horses this week.

Supt. of Schools Winslow of Revere paid a visit to the Manchester schools this week. Mr. Winslow is father of L. A. Winslow the Commercial course teacher at the High school.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Wheaton moved over from Salem this week and are with Mrs. Wheaton's parents, Supt. and Mrs. Fish on Lincoln street for the present. They expect to settle in their cottage on School street the coming week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Baker are receiving congratulations on the arrival of another son in their home, "Fairview," early yesterday morning. The little chap weighed eleven pounds, and is the fifth boy to grace Mr. and Mrs. Baker's home.

Supt. of Streets Crombie, appointed by the selectmen last week, took up his work last Saturday afternoon, when the keys of the office, books, etc., were turned over to him by Supt. Kimball, at a special meeting of the board, W. R. Bell and G. L. Allen being present. Monday morning the stone crusher was started, with eight men, and Supt. Crombie will confine his attention to this branch of the work for the present, it being too early to start work on the streets.

Several Gloucester teachers have visited the grades of the local schools this past week. This item may be of interest to those who would decry the Manchester schools, and give as an instance the fact that many Manchester boys are attending the Gloucester High school. It is a fact that the Manchester grammar school and elementary grades are held up as being of first class and of high standard, and this is demonstrated by the fact that teachers from other schools in various parts of the county and state are continually visiting the schools.

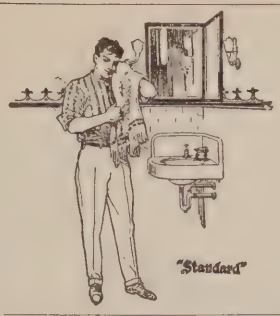

A daughter was born Monday, March 16, to Mr. and Mrs. William F. Roberts.

Mrs. D. T. Beaton and little daughter started Wednesday for a visit of several weeks in the south.

Miss Agnes Doherty and Miss Josephine Hogan of Roxbury were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bohaker over Sunday.

George Dean, the popular messenger with Smith's Express Co., is taking a fortnight's vacation before the spring and summer rush starts. Wednesday he went to Portland with Manager Fardy of the American Exp. Co., Boston, and yesterday he left for a trip to Washington.

Harold Bater of Blount, Bater & Co., is sailing from England next week, after a month's visit at his former home. Blount, Bater & Co.'s new concrete repair shop and garage, in the Fenway, Boston, is well along toward completion and will be ready for occupancy, about May 1.

MOTH WORK STARTED

Men who are capable of performing out of door work will be selected, but all the unemployed who want work will be considered by the authorities in charge of the business.

It is expected that the mayor will sign the order as soon as it is passed by the common council and that the $5000 will be available for immediate use, as it is important that the work should be commenced at once.

DRIFTED OUT TO SEA

their traps off shore, among the islands, and at Silva's suggestion they went to Gloucester for bait. They were on their journey homeward and when off Magnolia Point the engine began to balk. It was found the gasoline was out and the predicament at once presented itself.

A strong northwest wind was blowing and this immediately began to blow them off shore. Farther and farther they went. They threw over the anchor, but it seems to be of little avail. It was an open boat and they had no sail,—nothing but a pair of oars and rowing was useless against the heavy wind.

The land soon receded from view and as night came on they could make out Thatcher's Island lights,—a mere speck on the horizon.

They continued to drift, and to add to their discomforts a violent squall came up and rain fell heavily. The seas dashed over the small boat continually, and being without hats, overcoats, or mittens even, their sufferings were intense. The boat rapidly filled with water and they bailed desperately to keep her afloat.

It was a terrible night, said the men in relating their story to the BREEZE man, and they suffered, it seemed, almost beyond endurance. They must have drifted thirty miles or more.

As morning dawned the wind changed and they began to drift toward shore. They rigged a piece of canvass to one of the oars, which was raised as a mast, and with this as a sail, and with Miguel rowing with the other oar, and Silva at the wheel, they worked their way slowly toward shore.

It was bitter cold. They had no food or water since leaving home, and their sufferings were approaching the limit. Several times a sail was seen but their signals of distress were not observed by the passed schooner, apparently. As the day wore on, they came in sight of land again and though they were both almost overcome they worked desperately. Discouragement again came over them when in the afternoon the skies became heavy and a snow storm set in. Then it was that the much-talked of fog horn on Baker's Island came to their relief. Its shrill sound put new life into them, and they felt they were near home.

Soon a sail loomed up through the snow, fully half a mile away, and the man at the wheel saw their signals and put his boat about and about 5 o'clock they were helped on board the Valentina, an empty schooner, bound from Boston to Gloucester. Everything possible was done for the two men. They were given a good meal, after dry clothing was given them, and the boat arrived in Gloucester in time for the two men to catch the 6.42 train home Tuesday evening.

Though they suffered from frost bite and their rough experienee, they will suffer no serious effects. Silva has followed the sea for twenty years, and he says he never passed through such a thrilling experience, and was never before so close to death. Mr. Miguel says he will content himself hereafter within the confines of his little harness shop in Central square, and keep away from the sea.

The fire drill was practiced at the G. A. Priest school Monday, when the new fire alarm gong was used instead of the drummer boys as usual, and the building was emptied in 47 seconds,—record time. The alarm was sounded in the midst of recitations and not all the teachers, much less the children, knew the drill was to be practiced. The drill has been practiced every day this week, indoors, and the new gong installed last week has proved to be of great assistance. It removes all danger of confusing the fire signal with the regular signals. Principal Mead lays much stress on the fire drill and the decorum of the children in practicing the drill, and one has only to visit the school at any time to see the success he has achieved in this very important feature of the work.

MARCH IS THE PRUNNING MONTH

For Many Things

Hedges can NOW be trimmed to perfect lines, which can be maintained throughout the summer. Perfect lines are sometimes impossible without making bare spots in the foliage if the first prunning is left until summer. If hedges have been neglected and are out of shape now is the time to make them right.

This is the month to prune apples, pears, peach,plum, cherry, currants, gooseberry, etc. Our method of apple prunning keeps the trees low—easy to pick the fruit.

A. C. Needham has sold the Mahdeen III to Boston parties

Charles Hill of Springfield paid a flying visit to his grandmother, Mrs. Mary E. Hill, last Sunday.

Have your shoes shined by the bootblack at Keenan's hair dressing parlors, Postoffice block. *

Miss Melissa Morgan of Beverly was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Dole last Sunday and Monday.

Henry Mitchell is having a fire escape built on the building where his pattern making plant is located, Bennett street.

Walter Marfleet, formerly chauffeur for E. D. Jordan, arrived in New York this week after a visit to his home in England.

John Crowley of Salem, who has been in New Castle, N. H., since leaving here last fall, is back to his former position at Miguel's harness shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vasconcellos have moved from the Marshall cottage of School street, recently purchased by P. A. Wheaton, and is occupying a suite of rooms in the Rowe block, over Mr. Vasconcellos' hair-dressing parlors.

The first grade in the Primary school, under Miss Taylor, visited the fire station Thursday, in connection with their school work, and Driver Chadwich had the horses hitched and leave the station as they would in case of a fire, an act which was watched with intense interest by the little tots.

A delegation from Cabot lodge, A. O. U. W., of Beverly, were guests of North Shore lodge, of Manchester, Tuesday evening, coming over the road in a barge. North Shore lodge is arranging for a class initiation on the evening of April 7 by the degree team of Fernwood lodge of Gloucester. It is expected that there will be a visitation of the officers of the grand lodge on that evening and an invitation to attend has been extended to Cabot lodge.

The Second Degree was worked on one candidate at the meeting of Magnolia lodge, I. O. O. F., Thursday evening, Degree Master Lipman and staff doing the work in a most exemplary manner. A delegation of seven were present from Salem. An interesting feature of the degree work of the lodge is the warden's staff, which had been used in this capacity since the lodge was instituted nearly 39 years ago. The staff has recently been mounted with silver ferules, on one of which is inscribed the following: "This staff was cut from a Magnolia tree in the Gloucester woods by Brother Allen Lee and by him presented to Magnolia lodge, 149, I. O. O. F., on the day the lodge was installed, Aug. 2, 1869."

Wednesday Evening Club Meets in Chapel Next Week.

The March meeting of the Wednesday Evening club, Manchester, will be held in the Chapel next Wednesday evening, at which time the members will be given a rare treat.

Miss Ellen Van Volkenburg of Detroit, who is attracting such wide attention in her imitative interpretations of modern plays, and who has appeared in all the large cities in New England prior to making her debut on the public stage next season, will be the attraction. It was only by rarest chance that Miss Volkenburg was procured yesterday, when it was found that part of the talent the committee had arranged for could not appear next week.

Last Monday Miss Volkenburg appeared in Boston, and the Tuesday morning Journal devoted much space to her performance. Among other things the Journal said:

"In one of the halls in the Pierce Building a young woman of 23 went through a performance yesterday upon which the eyes of psychologists the world over are turned. For Miss Ellen Van Volkenburg possesses the almost weird ability of being able, having heard a play just once, to produce it all in detail. Yesterday in this fashion she gave 'Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire,' word for word from beginning to end.

"If Miss Van Volkenburg were tohave learned by long hours of labor and nights devoid of ease the performance which she gave, her performance would be remarkable enough, for without having had any elocutionary training, she is able to reproduce the nine characters of the play with every tone and mannerism and characteristic of the artists.

"She came out on an absolutely bare stage and immediately, by the force of her explanations, produced the scenery. As she stood there in her modish white net gown with a bunch of violets tucked at her waist, looking just like an ordinary college girl, it was difficult to realize that she was a phenomenon which the psychologists of two worlds are studying. The only outwardly peculiar thing about her was the inward turn of her eyes, which is often seen in persons who are recalling some experience in difficult detail"

The committee announce that the gallery in the Chapel will not be open next Wednesday evening, owing to the trouble at the last meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Marshall and daughter Dora spent last Sunday with friends in Ipswich.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stanley of Woburn were in town Tuesday, visiting Mr. Stanley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stanley.

The Publisher's Claims Sustained

UNITED STATES COURT OF CLAIMS

The Publishers of Webster's International Dictionary allege that it "is, in fact, the popular Unabridged thoroughly re-edited in every detail, and vastly enriched in every part, with the purpose of adapting it to meet the larger and severer requirements of another generation."

We are of the opinion that this allegation most clearly and accurately describes the work that has been accomplished and the result that has been reached. The Dictionary, as it now stands, has been thoroughly re-edited in every detail, has been corrected in every part, and is admirably adapted to meet the larger and severer requirements of a generation which demands more of popular philological knowledge than any generation that the world has ever contained.

It is perhaps needless to add that we refer to the dictionary in our judicial work as of the highest authority in accuracy of definition; and that in the future as in the past it will be the source of constant reference.

Advertising is an Art

Why not let us help you

to improve your business by inserting a well-arranged, well-worded advertisement in the NORTH SHORE BREEZE? It is part of our business to help you

Do it successfully.

Why not make a trial with these conditions? Cost of space is a less important matter than what to say in the space, yet we give you advice free of charge.

Your success is ours. Try us.

We want to cultivate the small advertiser. We will meet you more than half way. What do you say to that?

THE BREEZE

is the leading paper of the North Shore. One of its strongest points is that its clientele is a purchasing class; therefore it's not so much the quantity of the circulation as the quality. It goes to the summer visitors in summer and follows them to their permanent residence in winter because it is wanted and paid for. That's why it's recognized as the best for advertising.

Then, too, there is hardly a family in Manchester, Beverly Farms, Prides or Magnolia that does not take the BREEZE regularly every Saturday.

Ring 137 Manchester and our representative will call and talk it over with you.

Society Notes

Mrs. Thomas McKee has been over from New York for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seabury at Beverly Farms.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus P. Loring were of those sailing on the Romanic yesterday week from Boston for the Mediterranean.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryce J. Allen are at the Princess Hotel at Bermuda. As Mrs. Allan is in mourning for her cousin, Mrs. Herbert M. Sears, she is not entering into any of the gayeties there.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. McGinley of Pittsburg, Pa., are to come to Manchester again this summer and will occupy the Mink cottage on Cobb avenue, which they had last season.

Prescott Bigelow has sold his house on Bay State road, Boston, and leased the house 16 Marlborough street, into which the family will move in the spring that they may be settled before coming to their Manchester place for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Small Moore of St. Louis will occupy the Cobb cottage on Masconomo street, Manchester, the coming summer, and will, accordingly, be near Mrs. Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. McGinley, who are on Cobb avenue.

And Improvements

Hon. T. J. Coolidge is to have some improvements made at his estate on Coolidge's Point, the contract for which has been awarded to Connolly Bros. The work will include, in part, the changing and building over in macadam of the various avenues on the estate.

Work was started this week in building a twenty-two room addition to the Charles H. Tweed house at Beverly Farms, commonly called the Hooper cottage. It is not expected that the house will be completed until well along in July. Publicover Bros. of Beverly Farms are the contractors.

This same firm started work this week on building a large cow barn on the W. C. Loring estate, Pride's Crossing.

The cottage which they are building for Mrs. A. O. Marshall, on Vine street, Beverly Farms, is now framed and boarded. This work is being pushed along so as to have the cottage ready for occupancy the coming summer, if possible.

Eben D. Jordan is to have an automobile house built at his estate in West Manchester, and also an addition to the stable. Ground was broken for the work Wednesday morning, the contract for the entire work being awarded to Connolly Bros. of Beverly Farms.

TODAY is the first day of Spring, according to the Old Farmer's Almanac.

WE call attention to the "Guide to Representative and Reliable North Shore firms," which we will make a feature of this paper from now on. The list is printed for the first time this week, and we call attention to its value as a medium for attracting the attention of new comers to the North Shore, as well as regular residents here.

A FULL grown thunder and lightening shower was a feature of the past week's North Shore weather. The shower began about 6.30 last Sunday evening and lasted for an hour. The lightening was very sharp and vivid at times, while the thunder was deep and incessant during the height of the shower. A snow storm added to the mixture of weather Tuesday. Meanwhile spring is trying hard to get started and some real spring weather has helped make us think of what is to be.

THE advent of these warm summer like days takes the mind of the ordinary man to the things he is going to do out around the house and the yard. It sort of wakes him up to the idea of spring renovating and makes him feel like digging in and getting things done before the real warm summer weather sets in. Looking at the matter in a wider range it brings to mind the making of road repairs and road improvements, and we express the hope that this sort of work, on all parts of the North Shore, will be started the earliest possible moment so that by the time the summer visitors get among us we will not have any of these objectional things to interfere with their pleasure.

THE need of a higher pressure water system in Manchester was well emphasized last week at the fire at the W. B. Walker estate. The normal pressure was hardly sufficient to thrown any water from the hose, and not until the engine was connected was their sufficient force to throw any water on the fire. This estate is probably at the highest attitude of any in the town, but there are many sites which would be placed on the market for prospective summer homes as soon as a higher service was provided. The special town meeting on this matter of additional water supply comes sometime next month, probably.

Another thing emphasized by last week's fire is the necessity of a supply wagon,—a wagon of some sort to carry additional coal for the steamer, or additional hose. This was brought out by the fire the first of the winter, too, when the Philip Stockton cottage was destroyed.

"MR. Blank has sold to Mr. Blank of Essex a large portion of his pine woodland situated on Walker street and Messrs. Blank & Blank have the contract of cutting the logs. They have already felled over an acre of the large pine trees, and at the present time the place looks like a Maine lumber camp, as the large logs lie as they fell. The growth was very heavy at this point and the place presents a spectacle worth seeing."

The above news item is taken from a Gloucester paper. We reprint all except the names for we want to take this brief means of expressing ourselves against cutting down our forests and woodlands here on the North Shore for lumber purposes, or anything of the kind. Beautiful woodlands are among our best assets here on the shore and we cannot afford to have them cut down. Our summer residents have always been against this sort of thing and to that end they have bought much woodland for no other purpose than to preserve it. This "lumber camp" business in the heart of the North Shore may prove a succussful business for the individual who owns the property, but it is eating into the heart of our North Shore attractions just as surely as anything of which we know.

WE cannot but speak in a most commendable way of the movement started by Col. Sohier of our North Shore summer colony toward raising a fund for the purpose of clearing our woods of the browntail and gypsy moths. It is very evident that the condition is more serious than thought by the average person. Col. Sohier has started to raise a fund of $30,000, or more, to be spent under the direction of the state superintendent of moth work in treating the woods in Beverly, Hamilton, Wenham, Manchester and Essex. This has nothing to do with the money spent by the towns now in moth work, for this latter has to do only with the immediate town property, along the street lines. The thousands of acres of wooded land in back of us are badly infested and it is toward this that the new move is made. But the question arises will this thing have to be kept up year after year? Where is the end? No, it will not have to be kept up. Just as soon as the parasite, which has been introduced as a feature in this work, multiplies in sufficient quantity it is hoped the pest will be practically obliterated. Our trees must be cared for in the meanwhile, however. Beverly is giving $5000 toward the fund of $30,000, and the other towns will no doubt give something. Manchester will probably be called upon to support the move a little later.

Advertising Suggestions

A horse chestnut carried in the pocket is thought by some to ward off hard luck. Judicious advertising is far more effective. It teaches you how to be lucky by being logical. Throw away the chestnut and rabbit's foot, put a well-written "ad" in the local paper, then back up your statement, and the advance agent of success which is better than mere luck, will knock at your door.

Favorable to Secy. Taft.

Charles M. Hoyt of Haverhill, and Albert Vittum of Beverly, the candidates for delegates from the Sixth Congressional District to the Republican National convention at Chicago, favorable to the nomination of Secretary William H. Taft for president, define their position in the contest now being waged in that district, as follows:

"Charles M. Hoyt and Albert Vittum are strongly in favor of Secretary Taft as Presidential nominee, for we believe he is the safest and best fitted to carry out the policies of President Roosevelt.

"If, however, it developes that he can not be nominated we shall consider ourselves free to use our own judgment and to work for what it may seem to us to be for the best interests of the country.

"Today we believe that if Wm. H. Taft cannot be nominated that Governor Hughes of New York would be the next best man for second choice.

"It is all nonsense to talk about a cast iron pledge which would compel a delegate to the National Convention to vote for a man when there was no chance for his nomination; that a declared delegate could not have a second or even a third choice.

"The position of Mr. Hoyt and Mr. Vittum is just this: When the voter goes to the caucus he will see on the ballot the names of delegates for 'Hoyt and Vittum, favorable to W. H. Taft.' If he favors Mr. Taft he will vote for these delegates. It is the only opportunity the voter will have to express his preference.

"When you hear anyone say that Mr. Hoyt and Mr. Vittum are wearing a collar, just remember that we are only wearing the collar the voter puts around our neck, and we are proud to wear it."

Automobile License Revoked.

The highway commission has revoked the license to operate motor vehicles which was issued to Frank R. Neal of Boston, under date of April 30, 1904. The commission took this action immediately on receipt of an attested abstract of a record of the Essex superior court, filed in the office of the commission March 5, to the effect that on February 29 Neal was convicted of recklessly operating an automobile on Crafts hill, Manchester. The accident in which Neal figured, it will be recalled, happened last September.

Manchester's Oldest Resident.

Mrs. Mary E. Hill, Manchester's oldest resident, celebrated her 94th birthday yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Dole, Norwood avenue, where she makes her home. Though in poor health, and growing more feeble all the time, Mrs. Hill was able to receive the few callers who came to extend congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. Sullivan Promoted.

E. Mark Sullivan of Beverly and Ipswich has just received official notification that he has been promoted from third assistant U. S. district attorney to second assistant. Mr. Sullivan has many friends in this community who are very much pleased over the young lawyer's success.

HIPPODROME OPENS MARCH 30.

Great Program of Circus, Ballet and Arenic Features.

On Monday, March 30th, the first Boston Hippodrome will be opened at Mechanics' building. No matinee will be given on the opening day but during the balance of the four weeks that the Hippodrome will be open, two performances will be given every day except Sundays, when no show will be running.

It is not only the first hippodrome that has been created in this city but it is also the first professional show in which thousands of New Englanders will have an actual financial interest, for the Hippodrome will be run upon the co-operative plan.

Every performance of the Boston Hippodrome (except such as fall on a Saturday) will be under the auspices of some society, association or organization, which will receive a liberal percentage of all the tickets they sell. It is very obvious that it is to the advantage of the organization to sell as many tickets as possible and it is equally clear that the success of the Hippodrome is assured with such material support.

Of course the public is not barred from buying tickets any time nor in any way. The box offices of the Hippodrome company which, until March 30, will be at 74 Boylston street, is at all times open for public sale. The best seats go to those who get to the box office first.

And now in regard to the show. Like its prototype in Berlin, the Boston Hippodrome is a combination of circus, ballet and hippodromic races. The major part of the program is occupied by the greatest circus act that money can buy.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Hearing on Relocation of Lines of School Street, Manchester.

County Commissioners Moody Kimball, Poor and Grosvenor were at Manchester, Thursday, and gave a hearing at the office of the selectmen on the relocation of the lines of School street, from Pleasant to Mill streets. A hearing has been held on the matter before, and this was held in an endeavor to ascertain to what extent would be the damages in case the new lines were allowed.

Most of the abuttors were represented at the hearing and all but one party was favorable to the relocation. G. L. Allen, speaking for Ezra Stanley, was the only voice offering an objection to the new lines. All but two of the rest of the abuttors, who were heard from, were willing to waive their right to damages, in case the county would move back walls, fences, etc., and in one or two cases build retaining walls.

Chester L. Crafts and Lewis Killam, the latter representing the Martin estate, said they would expect something for land damage.

The plan is to straighten the lines of the street and to widen it in several places. The amount varies from one or two inches to eight feet in one case and twelve in another. One of the particular points where it will be widened is along by the Essex County club grounds and also at the bend near Mill street.

Samuel Knight, speaking for the Essex County club, said that he thought the club would waive its right to damage for land taken, if the county would pay substantially toward building a new wall along by the grounds. At the present time, he said, whenever the club has anything to attract the townspeople, the present balance wall is damaged more or less by having people sit upon and lean against it,—the stones being pushed off, etc.

The commissioners visited the street and left on the 12.43 train. The hearing was at 11 o'clock.

A meeting of the Story High school Alumni will be held Tuesday evening, March 24, at 7.30, at the home of Mrs. Charles Williams, Norwood avenue. All persons eligible will have an opportunity to join the association at that time.

In reference to the new Supt. of Streets last week we said that School street was built by Mr. Crombie and was not rebuilt until last summer. We are informed that the street was resurfaced by Supt. Kimball the second year he was here, and again last year.

The senior class at the High school organized Thursday for graduation as follows: Edith Northrup, historian; Joseph Floyd, prophet; Alice Tappan, odist; and Samuel Knight will write the music for the ode. The committee to have charge of the graduation reception will be Willard Rust, Joseph Floyd, Edward Wheaton, Edith Northrup and Princie Dodge.

Grape pruning was the subject of a lively informal discussion at the meeting of the North Shore Horticultural society at Lee's hall, last evening. The matter of incorporating the society is being urged and it is likely that a speaker upon the subject will address the society in the near future. A little pamphlet containing a list of the members, officers and past officers has been published and was distributed at the meeting. Winslow H. Wyman proprietor of the Bay State Nurseries of North Abington is announced as the speaker for the meeting April 3. The subject will be announced later.

Loomis is agent for Peat's paper. *

Frank Allen is very ill at his home on Summer street and is not expected to live.

"Music" the Subject of Both Services at Congergational Church Last Sunday.

Both services at the Congregational church, Manchester, last Sunday, were devoted to the subject of music. In the morning the pastor, L. H. Ruge, preached with music as the central theme, showing how essential music and singing is in the worship of God. In the evening "A Sermon in Song" was his subject. Despite the heavy thunder shower the attendance was good, and the service none the less interesting. Mr. Ruge's talk was composed of narratives and incidents in the making of some of our finest hymns and songs, in which a special feature was congregational singing, and solos by Mrs. F. G. Cheever and Miss Ethel McDiarmid.

In closing his sermon Sunday morning Mr. Ruge said:

"The world is full of need, but one of its greatest needs is Christian joy and gladness. The sanctuary should be a shrine of sacred song. Sing to the sin-burdened hearts of men, sing to the sorrowing, sing to the suffering. It is your mission from God to sing the glad news of the gospel.

"Here in your choir loft, in this day, lies the secret of your success or failure to win souls, not in the pulpit. The ear of the world is closed to the platitudes of the pulpit and it is getting tired of its panegyrics, but it is forever open to the glad and glorious gospel in song."

Edward and Warran Heath had a short touch of Robinson Crusoe life Tuesday by being left imprisoned on Kettle Island. They were at the island fixing their trap, when all of a sudden they noticed their dory drifting away. By taking off their rubber coats and waving them, and shouting, they attracted the attention of a man on Magnolia Point. The man proved to be Mr. Phalen, and he hastened to their rescure.

An attempt was made Tuesday to wreck the 1.30 train to Gloucester, by placing large stones on the track in the vicinity of the lily pond. Fortunately no damage was done, though one of the stones just missed the fireman's head as it went flying through the air, after the fender had struck the stones.

Miss Jennie Heath is visiting relatives here.

Miss Ethel Griggs returned to her home in Roxbury Tuesday after a few days' visit.

Henry Locke spent Sunday in Bridgewater a guest of his mother.

Miss Clara Butler spent Sunday in Lawrence guest of Miss Gertrude Dick.

Kehoe Bros. have been awarded the contract to build W. B. Smith's cottage on Raymond sreet.

We are pleased to report that Miss Maud Butler is able to be out-of-doors again after being confined to the house for the past two weeks with dog-wood poisioning.

Harry Wood and John Chane, jr., of Brookline were guests of the latters parents Sunday. Mr. Wood will be a blacksmith with Mr. Daniel Casey the coming summer.

Augustus Macone, who has been spending the past month with his parents in Concord, returned the first of the week. Mr. Macone, we are pleased to report, is about well.

Work was started this week in preparation to move the Goodwin cottage which has been purchased by G. A. Upton. It will be moved to the shore road near Cobble Stone beach.

Tomorrow morning at the Village church, the topic in the "Problem Sermons" will be "John Smith, jr, lives, as he will tell you, to have a good time. Why must his life end in failure?"

The Ladies' Aid society met with Mrs. W. R. Boyd, Thursday and by invitation of the hostess remained to supper. The men of the parish were invited for the evening and an old fashioned whist party was enjoyed.

Miss Gertrude Smith of Boston was a guest of Mrs. D. C. Ballou the first of the week.

Mrs. Thomas Abbott of Dorchester is a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Crispin.

The fifth free organ recital on the Catherine McManes Memorial organ will be given next Tuesday evening with Joseph K. Dustin of Gloucester as organist, assisted by Dr. Gilbert N. Pettingill, baritone. The program offered is an excellent one.

In the People's Forum, Sunday evening the speaker is to be Sidney Perley, a Salem lawyer. His subject will be "The Obligations of American Citizenship." Mr. Perley spoke recently on this subject in the Men's club at Peabody and was so well liked that he has been asked to repeat his address here

A leap year party is to be given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society in the Women's club house next Wednesday evening. The committee in charge will be the same committee that directed the successful Railroad Restaurant last week, consisting of Mrs. W. R. Boyd, Mrs. Edgar L. Story and Mrs. Lafayette Hunt. Everybody is welcome.

OCEANSIDE HOTEL SOLD.

George A. Upton Sells His Property at Magnolia to Boston Man.

The Oceanside hotel at Magnolia, owned by George A. Upton, the largest hotel on the North Shore, and certainly one of the most valuable pieces of summer hotel property in the country, has been sold, Charles H. Bond of the firm of Waitt & Bond, cigar manufacturers, of Boston, being the purchaser.

The news of the sale will not be met with much surprise by Magnolia residents, as it was known that Mr. Upton was ready to sell the property as soon as he found a purchaser.

Although the property is said to have cost upwards of $700,000, it is understood that the price paid by the new purchasers was in the neighborhood of $500,000.

The hotel has about 600 rooms, every one of which, it has been said, has been engaged for the coming season from the opening to the close of the hotel. It is said also that the new proprietors will extend the season some weeks in the fall.

The older residents of the North Shore well remember how Mr. Upton started in business about 25 years ago, with a small house, in which he at first had a few summer boarders, and how he has developed the hotel, by adding on year after year, always working very conservatively, until he built up one of the largest, and by far the best patronized hotel along the whole North Shore. Besides the hotel proper he also has ten summer cottages in close proximity to the hotel, two of which are double houses.

It is understood that there will be no change in the policy or management of the hotel, except that Charles E. Phenix of the firm of Waitt & Bond will be in charge.

Lectured on "Soggarth Aroon in Poetry."

The assembly hall of St. Margaret's church, Beverly Farms, was well filled last Monday evening when Rev. Michael Earls, S. J., of Boston College, delivered a most interesting lecture on "Soggarth Aroon in Poetry" Fr. Earls is a musician of note and has organized and dirercted the Boston college orchestra and the sanctuary choir of the Immaculate Conception church.

Beside his lecture there were other numbers on the program by talent from the Boston College High school. Daniel Sullivan, a sophomore at Boston college, who has won a reputation the past year in dialect readings, gave the "Virginia Judge," and "Mr. Dooley on Music." Following was the program rendered:

PIANO SOLO, Frank Kevillle
"Come Back to Erine," John Collins
READING, "A German's Views on America," Wm. E. Schaefer
SONG, "Meeting of the Waters," Edward J. Brandon
READINGS, "The Virginia Judge" and "Mr. Dooley on Music." Daniel H. Sullivan
SONG, "The Angel's Whisper." Ray McInnis

ANNOUNCEMENT

I beg to announce to the residents of the North Shore that I have purchased from Walker Bros. & Co. the provision business conducted by them at Beverly Farms for the past twenty years, including their good will and trade. Having had twenty-five years experience on the North Shore, eight years as manager of Wyatt's Market, I thoroughly understand the selection of choice meats, fruits, vegetables, etc., carried by first-class markets. The business will be conducted under the name of Brewer's Market, which will be opened on or about April 20, 1908. I solicit your patronage.

WALTER P. BREWER.

Beverly Farms, Mass., Feb. 10, 1908.

We, the undersigned, certify that we have sold the good will and trade of our North Shore business to Walter P. Brewer.

Clarence Buxton and Leonard Emery were in New York city the first of the week on a business trip.

The Ladies' Sewing circle were entertained last Thursday evening by Mrs. Lydia Williams at her home on Hart street.

F. L. Woodbury has under serious consideration the early construction of an 18-room house to be built upon his property on West street.

Arthur Woodbury has sold his farm at North Reading and entered the employ of Eli R. Hodgkins, as painter, which position he formerly occupied.

Horace Kizer, proprietor of a nursery at North Reading, was in town this week renewing acquaintances. Mr. Kizer has done work on many of the North Shore estates in the past.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Preston Thissell, who have spent the winter at Winchester, N. H., returned home this week and will spend the coming season here. Mr. Thissell will resume his work at the Preble-Thissell market.

The Preston Associates will entertain the members of the Post and the W. R. C., next Monday evening in G. A. R. hall. An entertainment has been arranged by the committee who have secured some excellent talent, including Walter Winn of Boston the well known impersonator.

The Sarah Wyman Whitman club met with Mrs. J. L. Chapman, on Haskell street, Wednesday afternoon. The meeting opened with prayer, after which Miss Florance Chapman sang. During the business portion of the meeting Mrs. George S. Hadley was elected treasurer to take the position occupied by Mrs. G. D. Batchelder, who had resigned. The next meeting will be held next Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Calvin L. Williams, Vine street.

Miss Ethel Butman of Lowell is the new teacher of the Fourth grade at the Beverly Farms school.

Mrs. Willliam A. Dodge and two children of Chicopee have spent the week at Beverly Farms guests of relatives.

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Watson over the advent of a son at their Everett street home the early part of this week.

John Daniels has been making some changes to the interior of his store in Central square, including the moving of the large refrigerator to a new location. The office has also been enlarged.

Chester Standley returned the early part of the week from a winter spent in a logging camp in the Maine woods. Mr. Standley advises those who want a taste of cold weather and hard work to try it.

Lewis Hardy came on from Rutland the first of the week and was with his family for a few days. He returned Wednesday. Mr. Hardy finds that he has been greatly benefited in the short time he has been at Rutland for his health.

Rept. W. R. Brooks has accepted the invitation of Col. S. O. Bigney, candidate for delegate-at-large to the Republican National convention, to dine with him at Young's hotel, Boston, this evening. Rept. Brooks is one of the Republican City committee to partake of the pleasant occasion.

Rev. C. S. Pond will preach at the Baptist church tomorrow morning on "Jusus Christ and Secular Life." In the evening he will preach on "Fourth Word on the Cross," in the series of Lenten sermons.

Among the talent who is to appear at the entertainment given in G. A. R. hall by the Associates next Monday evening, will be John Bresnahan, a well known local singer; Miss Mary Connolly of Prides, who has already established a reputation for her readings and dramatic work, and who will soon make her debut upon the public stage; Master Richard Craver, a Beverly Farms boy, will render some recitations; Warrie Winn of Boston, an impersonator and humorist; and some local Italians will perform upon the mandolin and guitar.

The reputation acquired by the members of Preston Relief Corps for giving the public their money's worth at all their public affairs was emphasized Tuesday evening at their supper given in the banquet hall of G. A. R. building. From shortly after 5 to 7 o'clock they were kept busy looking after the wants of the large number who could not resist the temptation of the good things offered. The menu consisted of bake beans, salads, cold meats, hot rolls, coffee, pies, cake, etc., and was surely sufficient and plenty for about every one. And incidentally the ladies were repaid for their hard work by being able to add materially to their funds, which are always devoted to some good cause.

Engineer Eli R. Hodgkins, the Beverly Farms representative on the Board of Fire Engineers, has given the Farms people quite a surprise this week by tendering his resignation from that position to Mayor Dow. He has asked to be relieved from his duties as soon as convenient. Much regret is expressed over Engineer Hodgkins' step as he is efficient and has the confidence of not only the members of the department but of the entire community. Mr. Hodgkins has been identified with the department for years and was a member at the time of the death of Rufus A. Standley who was then engineer. He was appointed to fill the vacancy and has received the appointment each year since. It is intimated that Mr. Hodgkins finds the duties somewhat confining and that it interferes with his business. His successor has not yet been appointed. There are several names mentioned, all Farms men, from which part of the city it is very likely the new man will come.

Inadequate Conditions at Beverly Station.

On the petition for better protection of passengers going east from the Beverly station the Board of Aldermen granted a hearing last Tuesday evening, J. M. Publicover being the only petitioner to appear. Mr. Publicover said in part: "I have seen some very close calls and it seems to me that there should be some safer way. I think, too, that the Beverly merchants loose trade, as many ladies from the Farms who would like to trade in Beverly now go through to Salem as they do not like to risk crossing the tracks." He said that he considered the crossing over of the tracks to and from the waiting room very dangerous.

Rept. Wm. R. Brooks stated that while he was not a signer to the petition he was in favor of it and said that a waiting room on the easterly side or a subway was needed. The Mayor, Alderman Hodgkins and others spoke upon the matter as to the advisability of proceeding in the matter and the hearing was ordered closed.

Car Number Two

This one heads a lot of others that soon now will be here. We're going to have more goods come in this spring than we ever had before, we just couldn't help it, the way opportunities were presented to us we couldn't resist the temptation and the way we've bought the goods to sell will just make buying fun for you.

Think! In this car that just came in there are

Bird's Eye Maple Dressers for only $15.00

And Toona Mahogany ones to cost the same. Ever hear of such prices? Won't they make business hum?

And these are the good quality that we like to boast about, not disappointing, dissatisfying as one might mistrust, but well finished, well constructed, and gracefully designed. They are really made to sell for very much more when dealers' demands excel the manufacturer's supply, but now, 'cause things are different, they are yours at this low price.

There are many more that came in this car that are correspondingly as cheap, so don't have a thought of Bureau Buying without at once thinking of us.

Vol. VI. No. 13 MANCHESTER, MASS., SATURDAY, MARCH 28, 1908. 24 Pages Three Cents.

HOURS WITH LESS KNOWN WRITERS.

BY D. F. LAMSON.

One of the most original as well as learned men of the reign of Charles II, was Sir Thomas Browne. He was born in London, studied at Oxford, and obtained great reputation as a physician; he was knighted in 1671 and died in 1682. His travels and studies on the Continent made him one of the most cultured men of his time. In addition to the cares of his profession, he gave much time to literature, and has left works of enduring value. Browne has this in common with Bunyan and Cowley, that he has a fervent style, a meditative cast of thought, with a quiet vein of humor and a poetic soul. His style is often as didactic as that of South, while like Jeremy Taylor he lifts us on the wings of fancy and charms us with his quaint turns of thought. He could write the most serious things in the most serious manner, but with an imagination that tinged with poetic hues everything that it touched, and with a vivid humor that is always striking light from the most unpromising materials. Every page bears marks of study and reflection; almost every sentence bristles with surprises and odd conceits; his work is a mosaic of facts, fancies, solid reasoning and airy speculation. He combines an inquisitive mind that pries into everything knowable and unknowable, with a most humble and reverential spirit. Without a particle of bigotry, he is a sound churchman; and without cant, he is profoundly religious.

Sir Thomas is a writer who is often not to be understood too literally; he writes dramatically; he is a humorist to the core; as he himself says in one of his books, "there are many things delivered rhetorically, many expressions therein merely tropical . . . and therefore many things to be taken in a soft and flexible sense, and not to be called unto the rigid test of reason." Fairyland was still in his time a province of the empire of science, and strange beings—griffins, phenixes, dragons, basilisks and salamanders—still moved through the pages of natural history A curiosity hunter, such as Browne certainly was, was sure of finding plenty of game. Any freak of nature had for the good physician of Norwich an irresistible attraction, and it is no wonder if we do not find in him an inexorably severe guide to truth, that he sometimes seems to believe the most absurd fables. But with all his fancy and taste for the marvellous, there is everywhere such a substratum of good sense that we are compelled to admire the quality of the thought while we smile at the whimsical oddity of the expression.

Like many other writers of his time, and beyond most of them, Browne's style is disfigured by Latinisms. Coleridge, while admitting that his "style is often truly great and magnificent," adds that it is "too often stiff and hyperlatinistic." It abounds in such words as, assuefaction, propense, elucitation, morosity, supinity, cunctation, iniquinated, etc. But the use of Latinisms was the vogue in the 16th century, and even later. It is remarkable that our common version of the Bible is so free from them. The Douay version, printed only a few years earlier, contains such words as longanimity, contristate, zealatours, suasible, domesticals, and many others, which failed to secure a permanent place in our language. It was an

MOTH CAMPAIGN MUST BE STARTED IN MANCHESTER WOODS AT ONCE

To check Future Ravages of Gypsy and Browntail Moths. The State and Summer Residents will Help if Town will do its share.

The necessity for prompt action on the part of Manchester in the big campaign already started in fighting the gypsy and browntail moths in the woods back of the immediate shore line, is urged by those who know of the actual situation. The condition is serious,—more serious than most people realize.

The movement started by Col. Wm. D. Sohier and a committee of the summer residents to carry on this big campaign, has met with good results and the work has already been started in the Beverly section. The work is being done under the direction of Supt. Kirkland, of the state. Beverly has appropriated $5000, the state is giving $5000 and $5000 has been raised by subscription.

In order to carry on the work in the Manchester woods, around Chebacco and South Essex a like amount must be available. The state is willing to give $5000, Col. Sohier guarantees $5000 from his committee, but both the state and the committee of summer residents are unwilling to give the amounts stated unless the town gives an equal sum. This means that Manchester is able to have about $15,000 worth of work done if the town itself gives one-third of the amount.

Col. Sohier explains the situation in the following communication, addressed to J. A. Lodge, Editor of the NORTH SHORE BREEZE:

"Boston, March 25, 1908.

"Dear Sir: I am glad to see that you are doing good work for us in the moth campaign. I think, however, that there is a slight misunderstanding among some of the situation at the present time so far as the work to be done is concerned and the money that is forthcoming to do it with. I am trying my best to have all that tract of woodland in Beverly, Wenham, Hamilton, Essex and Manchester, treated under one comprehensive plan and scheme, under the charge of the

Short Breath

Palpitation, feeble pulse, indicate weak heart action. You can make it strong with Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. Chronic heart troubles, with attending suffering may also be greatly relieved by its use. It is invaluable in all cases where the heart is involved.

"I was suffering with heart trouble and had been for two years. I had pain in my heart, back and left side, and had not been able to draw a deep breath for two years. Any little exertion would cause palpitation, and I could not lie on my left side, without suffering. I took Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine with the result that I am in better health than I ever was before, having gained 14 pounds since I commenced taking it." MRS. MOTH CAMPAIGN state, and without regard to town lines. For this purpose I am trying to raise $30,000, so that we have money enough in sight to insure a comprehensive campaign. Half measures are of no value, and I believe the estimate of the cost is under, rather than over, the amount that will be needed.

"The position today is this,—The City of Beverly has appropriated $5000, and Mr. Kirkland for the state has agreed to appropriate one-third of the cost of the Beverly work as estimated, to wit, $5000, and I have guaranteed him from my committee the other $5,000, and the work has been started in Beverly.

"The state is, as I understand, ready to put in another $5000 in the back Chebacco woods, and in Wenham, Essex, Hamilton and Manchester, provided there is $10,000, at least, more contributed in these sections either by individuals or by the towns.

"There is no doubt that my committee, Messrs. Oliver Ames, C. H. Tyler and myself, will secure enough money by contribution from the Beverly shore residents to take care of the Beverly woods, $15,000 or more, and also the woods immediately back of Beverly in Wenham, and possibly a small part of Hamilton down to the Manchester line. We shall also be able, I think, to do a good deal towards providing the money necessary to take care of the Chebacco woods in Hamilton, and possibly help on the Essex.

"It seems to me, as the town of Manchester has many acres of woods which are badly infested, that that town and its shore residents should be willing and eager to provide the $10,000 or $12,000 that must be spent if those woods are to be saved. Certainly if they are not saved, an irreparable damage will be done to the North Shore, and valuations will have to go down. My suggestion has been, and I have made it to the selectmen, that the town itself should come into the general scheme upon the same terms as Beverly, to wit,—should appropriate $5000 to be spent by the State Superintendent, provided at least $10,000 more is either given by the state or raised by subscription to be spent in fighting moths in the woods in Manchester and directly back of Manchester in Essex.

"Of course, something ought also to be done if enough money can be raised in Gloucester; but so far, I do not know what has been done or proposed there. We hope that Manchester will come in upon the above terms in the general scheme, and I feel reasonably sure that I could raise the necessary money there, provided the town makes the above appropriation, as I have already some $2800 promised by seven shore residents of Manchester. Unless the money is forthcoming, however, I do not see how my committee or Mr. Kirkland can take up the Manchester woods in the general campaign, but we shall have to confine ourselves to saving the woods in Beverly and in the back towns where they cannot afford to take care of their own woods, and where it is necessary to control the moths in order to save our woods.

"Yours very truly,

"WM. D. SOHIER."

Miss Van Volkenburg Gives Novel Entertainment in Wednesday Evening Club Series at Manchester.

The sort of entertainment given in the Chapel, Manchester, Wednesday evening, by Miss Van Volkenburg, in connection with the March meeting of the Wednesday Evening club, was something entirely new for this community, but it proved decidedly popular, for everybody declared the entertainment to be the best given this season under the auspices of the club. The Chapel was crowded, and more than a score had to stand during the whole evening, every seat being taken.

Miss Van Volkenburg has been attracting much attention in the West in her imitative interpretations of modern plays, and she was induced to come east for a few weeks to appear under the direction of the Redpath Lyceum bureau. It was only by rarest chance that the committee was able to procure her for this entertainment.

Wednesday evening Miss Van Volkenburg gave the entire play of "Merely Mary Ann," as presented by Miss Eleanor Robson and her company. And as an encore she gave Marjorie Benton Cook's monolog, "The Matinee Girl."

Miss Van Volkenburg cannot be classed as a reader. In fact, as she said in her introductory remarks, she has never studied elocution beyond the elementary stages, nor has she studied dramatic art. She has never seen the manuscripts of any of the plays she gives, and has seen the plays only once. And this makes her work all the more phenomenal. She possesses a remarkable rententive memory, and this coupled with her wonderful imitative talent has made her work a success, and a wonder to all who have ever seen her.

Miss Van Volkenburg gave the entire cast of "Merely Mary Ann,"—some eleven characters. In quick succession she was the raw-boned, hollow-eyed French maid, the opera writer, boarding house mistress and Rosie her daughter, lawyer and wealthy suitor. She impersonates these characters true to life, and the audience carried away almost as complete an idea of the play as if it had been acted by the original cast.

One can almost see the stage and the scenery, and the different characters as they come upon and leave the stage.

In both "Merely Mary Ann" and as "The Matinee Girl," Miss Van Volkenburg impresses her hearers by her easy, girlish, yet strong personality. She does not appear to assume, but she becomes the character she portrays. Her interpretations bear all the smooth finish of an artist.

SPRING WASH GOODS

Early in the season as it is, practically all of our summer white goods are already on display, and prices are just as reasonable as they will be in May, when the rush for them is at its height.

The cream of foreign looms, as well as the choicest products of American skill are represented in lavish display—large and small plaids, dots, small figures; cross-bars; corded piques, dimities, dotted Swiss, embroidered Swiss, barred lawns, etc.

Now is the time to make up your summer wardrobe when you have plenty of leisure moments to add many little "bits" of embroidery that you will not have time later on—also you can secure many exclusive patterns—the assortments are as wide as the prices.

MARCH IS THE PRUNNING MONTH

For Many Things

Hedges can NOW be trimmed to perfect lines, which can be maintained throughout the summer. Perfect lines are sometimes impossible without making bare spots in the foliage if the first prunning is left until summer. If hedges have been neglected and are out of shape now is the time to make them right.

This is the month to prune apples, pears, peach, plum, cherry, currants, gooseberry, etc. Our method of apple prunning keeps the trees low—easy to pick the fruit.

Mrs. Thomas W. Pierce who has been a guest the past week of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Moulton at Beverly Farms, will become a resident of this section of the North Shore, having leased for three years the Larson cottage, on Hart street. Mrs. Pierce will have as near neighbors the Gerard Bemnets and John Caswells. Mechanics are at work at the cottage preparing it for early occupancy.

Real Estate

And Improvements

Some changes are being made at the Harcourt Amory cottage, Pride's Crossing. The third story of the house is to be changed over and dormer windows put in. Publicover Bros. of Beverly Farms have the contract.

The improvements and alterations which have been in progress at the Saltonstall cottage at Mingo beach, formerly the Mrs. Cabot cottage, are about completed. The interior of the house has been entirely changed over, the changes including the addition of two bath rooms, a front hall, china closet, servants' rooms, dressing rooms, etc. The plumbing has been changed over in part. Publicover Bros. were the contractors.

Chester L. Crafts has an advertisement in this issue in which he offers for sale two house lots on Lincoln street, three house lots on Norwood avenue, one lot corner Sea and Summer streets a twelve room house corner Norwood avenue and Washington street with all modern improvements, and several other houses, all with modern improvements. Mr. Crafts is also offering for sale a heavily-wooded hill at West Manchester, off Highland avenue, overlooking the harbor, and a choice location for a summer home.

Horace Standley of Manchester conveys to Thomas H. Sheehan of Manchester, land on Tappan street, Manchester, 15.53 by 108.75 feet.

County Tax.

The county tax for Essex County will be $451,500 this year, the committee on counties having yesterday reported to the legislature a resolve carrying that amount. The county commissioners are authorized to levy the same.

Church Notes, Manchester.

Mrs. N. N. Bishop spoke at the Baptist church last Friday, March 20, under the auspices of the Woman's Home Mission society, on Home Mission work. Her text was, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every living creature." She spoke of the three great race problems in this country today. First, the colored problem; second, the Indians in the West; third, the whites of the South. She spoke of one branch of work carrried on by the society,—that of reaching the immigrants as soon as they reach this country, her address on a whole being very interesting. During the evening Miss Emma Prest sang "Gather 'Till None Shall Remain." Mrs. J. K. Tappan sang "Winning Its Way."

A feature of the Easter concert at the Congregational church this year will be a short Easter cantata, with eighteen adult voices.

After the Moths.

Hunting for moths this week in Newton has been common, and it was noticed that some private estates were infested. Less moths and more green leaves is the thing for Newton.—Town Crier, Newton.

The percentage of attendance at the schools for the past week follows: G. A. Priest school—Grade IX, 97.20; VIII, 89.50; VII, 90.00; VI, 90.00; V, 89.10; Adv. IV, 83.75; IV, 86.20; III, 90.63.

Society Notes

A Harvard club is Boston's newest social organization, the club being organized a few weeks ago, with Henry L. Higginson as president.

Miss Adele G. Thayer is to occupy her cottage at West Manchester this season. She is planning to move down from Boston the latter part of April.

Among the June weddings of interest to North Shore folk will be that of Miss Alice Nichols and Clarence Burrage. Mr. Burrage is a brother of Mrs. S. Parker Bremer.

Mrs. George S. Mandell and family are planning to spend the summer abroad, though Mr. Mandell will be here a greater part of the time, and will be at his cottage in Beverly Cove.

Patrons of The Dolphin, Magnolia, which has been conducted the past two seasons by Mrs. J. Russell Selfridge, who started it, in fact, will be interested to learn that Mrs. Ed. Rolfe of Brookline will conduct The Dolphin the coming summer. Mrs. Rolfe has the reputation of being an excellent caterer and she will no doubt maintain the high standard of The Dolphin as a resort for the most select of the North Shore colony on their morning and afternoon drives to Magnolia, and at luncheons and dinner parties.

WYATT'S MARKET
WEST STREET
BEVERLY FARMS, :: :: MASS.

ANNOUNCEMENT

MRS. L. T. B. WYATT

Announces to the public and the former patrons of the old-established "Wyatt's Market" that this season the market will be under the personal management of Mr. C. E. Buxton, and, as in the past, High Quality Goods and First Class Service will characterize the establishment. ¶ In addition to Meats and Provisions, a full and complete stock of Strictly High Grade Staple and Fancy Groceries and Fresh Fruits will be carried this season, all at Boston market prices. ¶ At this time she would respectfully thank all patrons for past favors and solicit a continuance of their valued patronage.

Orders will be collected every morning and given Prompt Attention.

Thornton K. Lothrop and family will not occupy their cottage at West Manchester the coming summer, but will rent it and will spend the summer themselves at Dublin, N. H. Mr. Lothrop's advancing years and health, which is not of the best, is responsible in part for the change.

Mrs. Oliver Ames, 2d, Mrs. Henry S. Grew, 2d, Mrs. George S. Mandell, Mrs. J. Murray Forbes, Mrs. Philip Dexter, Mrs. Gardiner M. Lane, Mrs. Charles Head, Mrs. F. L. Higginson and Mrs. John L. Thorndike are among the patronesses for the Vincent club performances at Jordan hall on April 29, 30 and May 1.

Quincy A. Shaw, jr., earned his second championship title of the season last Saturday, by defeating E. Ray Speare of the Newton Squash club in the finals of the Mass. Squash racquet championships played on the B. A. A. courts. Mr. Shaw is a member of the Tennis and Racquet club, and won by 10-15, 17-16, 17-16.

Society Notes

The summer colony—or spring colony, perhaps,—is beginning to arrive.

The first of April, next Wednesday, will see preparations being made to open a number of cottages.

Henry P. King and family are expected at their Pride's cottage the first week in April, or the week following.

Mrs. M. D. Spaulding and sons are to remain abroad this season until well along in the summer, though their house will be open in April.

R. H. Stevenson has hired the George Lee cottage at Beverly Farms, formerly the Boardman place, and occupied last season by the J. Fred Browns.

Mrs. Lucius Manlius Sargent is again enjoying grandmother honors, and the Hon. T. J. Coolidge is again a great-grandfather, for a daughter has been born in London to Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. Higginson, jr. Their little son is 2 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Quincy A. Shaw, 2d, arrived at Beverly Farms this week. Mrs. Shaw has been in Florida for some weeks with her mother, Mrs. Walter Mitchell. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw are at the Bryce Allan cottage on the Wenham road again for this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mitchell will not return to Manchester until about Easter. They have been with Mrs. Mitchell's sister, Mrs. A. Carnegie, 2d, at Fernandina, Fla., since the holidays. Master John Mitchell of the Fay school, Southboro, is spending his spring vacation with his parents in Florida.

Eben D. Jordan, of the West Manchester colony, has generously offered to build an opera house on Huntington avenue, Boston, near Gainsboro street. Not only has he offered the house itself, thoroughly equipped and modern in every respect, but he has also given a guaranty of the expenses of the performances of opera for three years. The cost of this opera house, including the land, will be about $700,000.

Retinosporas, Cedar, Spruce, Pine, Hemlock, Arbor Vitae Box Trees and everything in Hardy Stock for Lawn and Landscape Planting.

The Pierce Nursery — Beverly Farms, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Long Bremer, who have spent part of the winter in Boston, are now settled in Cohasset, where they will spend the summer.

It is reported that the Higginson cottage on Paine place, Pride's Crossing, occupied last season by Amory G. Hodge, will be occupied the coming season by a family named Wood of New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Grew and Charles H. Twerd of the North Shore colony were recently in Paris. Mr. and Mrs. Grew are to visit their son who is connected with the diplomatic corps in St. Petersburg. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore are also in Paris, and will remain there until April.

An engagement announced in New York Thursday week comes as a great surprise to North Shore society. It is that of Alpheus Sumner Hardy and Miss Elizabeth Gracie King. Miss King is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward King of University place, New York, and who have spent the past few seasons on the North Shore. They had the Dodge cottage, Old Neck, Manchester, last season. The wedding is set for Easter Monday, April 20, in Grace church, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Spaulding have leased their house at West Manchester for the summer to Mrs. William A. Russell, jr., who will probably come down to the shore in early June. Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding and their two sons, who have been at West Manchester all winter, will spend the summer in Europe. Mrs. Spaulding expects a visit shortly from her mother, Mrs. Evans. The Spaulding cottage is quite near that of the S. V. R. Crosbys, which will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Russell.

Charles Stedman Hanks.

Charles Stedman Hanks, a well known member of the North Shore summer colony, passed away at his apartments at the Brunswick Hotel, Boston, Monday.

Mr. Hanks has gained much prominence of late in his investigations into the conduct of railroads of the country at the suggestion of President Roosevelt. He was abroad the past year in this connection, with his wife and two children, but returned in January because of his illness at Venice. Since his return he has been failing rapidly.

Mr. Hanks was the only son of the late Rev. Stedman W. Hanks. He was born in Lowell and was graduated from Harvard in 1879, being in college at the same time President Roosevelt was there, and the two were great chums. After completing a course of study at Boston University he began the practice of law in Boston.

For a number of years Mr. Hanks had been a resident of Manchester, though he had let his estate at West Manchester for several summers. He was one of the organizers of the Essex County club, and also one of the promoters of the Misery Island club.

Frank H. Dennis was the victim of a surprise party Thursday evening, when a dozen friends called at his home on Lincoln street to spend the evening. It was a complete surprise, and was in honor of Mr. Dennis' 40th birthday.

The selectmen have made the following appointments: James Widger, janitor Memorial Library building; Wilbur R. Paige, master of almshouse, and Mrs. Paige, matron; George D. Haskell, janitor Town hall building. The Board of Health organized with Edward S. Knight as chairman and secretary. George L. Allen will serve as a committee on streets, representing the board.

Manchester has a contagious disease scare at present, there being 35 or 40 cases of measles in town. The condition is not considered alarming, however, as all the cases are of a very mild form. Feeling the necessity of such action the School committee decided Tuesday evening, after consultation with the medical inspectors, that the Primary school ought to be closed, and thus stop a general spread of the disease in that direction. It is thought that by the time the spring vacation is over,—April 6, the disease will be practically over its run.

CONGRESSMAN Gardner said in concluding his speech at Gloucester Monday evening: "This is the age of publicity in business and in politics. Men are sent to conventions for just one purpose; namely, to represent the men who send them. Whether you favor Hughes or Cannon or Taft, see to it that you are sending to the national convention men who will represent your views."

THE series of articles by Rev. D. F. Lamson on "Hours with less known Writers," which we have been printing in the BREEZE is concluded with the current issue. Those who have followed the articles as they have appeared will be interested to know, perhaps, that we are to be favored with another series, "English Writers of the Eighteenth Century," which will begin soon, and will be extended, perhaps, to ten or twelve numbers.

Advertising Suggestions

The fellow who tries to attract business without advertising is like the fellow who throws his sweetheart a silent kiss in the dark. He knows what he is doing—but nobody else does.

age in which the language had begun to lose something of its stability and simplicity; every writer considered himself at liberty to mould it according to his fancy. And Browne's exuberant imagination and fertile wit made him facile princeps in the art of word-coinage.

As to his acquirements, an intimate friend writes, "The horizon of his understanding was much larger than the hemisphere of the world; all that was visible in the heavens he comprehended so well, that few that are under them knew so much. He could tell the number of the visible stars, and call them all by their names that had any; and of the earth he had such a minute and exact geographical knowledge, as if he had been by Divine Providence ordained surveyor-general of the whole terrestrial orb, and its products, minerals, plants, and animals. In the Latin poets, he remembered everything that was acute and pungent. He had read most of the historians, ancient and modern, wherein his observations were singular, nor taken notice of by common readers." Dr. Johnson affirms that "there is no science in which he does not discover some skill, and scarce any kind of knowledge, profane or sacred, abstruse or elegant, which he does not appear to have cultivated with success."

Amid the cares of a busy life, Sir Thomas found time to write on "Vulgar Errors," a perfect museum of curiosities; on "Urn-Burial," a learned treatise dealing with much recondite and out-of-the-way knowledge; on "The Garden of Cyrus," an ingenious discourse on "quincunxes," or arrangement by fives; and on "Christian Morals," the most formal and didactic of his writings. His great work, however, and that by which he is best known, is the "Religio Medici," which was published after his death. It contains much that is curious, some things that are whimsical, and more that are wise and profound. Much as he loved paradoxes and odd comparisons and equivocal deductions, he always kept his balance and had a good fund of saving humor and common sense. After many quaint speculations and amusing suppositions, he sums up, "there are a bundle of curiosities, not only in philosophy, but in divinity, proposed and discussed by men of most supposed abilities, which indeed are not worthy our vacant hours, much less our serious studies." Even when dealing with the most difficult and controverted subjects he preserves an admirable equipoise: as when he says, "this is also a miracle, not only to produce effects against or above nature, but before nature; and to create nature, as great a miracle as to contradict or transcend her."

Living in a rude and intolerant age, Browne was of a most gentle and tolerant spirit. Travelling in countries where the old faith still prevailed, though himself a pronounced Protestant, he is willing to enter the churches and pray with the worshippers of other persuasions. In an eloquent passage, which might teach a lesson to some modern tourists, he remarks, "At the sight of a cross or a crucifix I can dispense with my hat, but scarce with the thought and memory of my Saviour. . . . I could never hear the Ave Mary Bell without an elevation; or think it a sufficient warrant, because they erred in one circumstance, for me to err in all—that is in silence and dumb contempt. Whilst, therefore, they directed their devotions to her, I offered mine to God, and rectified the errors of their prayers by rightly ordering my own. At a solemn procession I have wept abundantly, while my consorts, blind with opposition and prejudice, have fallen into an excess of laughter and scorn."

As might be expected Sir Thomas' life, as well as his books, was not without its contradictions. After his travels, in which he made himself very much a citizen of the world, he settled down quietly in a provincial town to a life of scarcely interrupted prosperity. Many years before he had indulged in some disparaging remarks about marriage. He had even wished like Montaigne, that we might grow like trees; and then like the humorist that he was, he married a lady of whom it is said that she was so perfect that "they seemed to come together by a kind of natural magnetism," had ten children, and lived happy ever afterwards.

No man ever breathed a more gentle, kindly, and exalted religious sentiment into his writings, and it is impossible to read them without both smiling at him and loving him. He was at once the broad-minded scholar, the inquisitive naturalist, the elegant writer and the beloved physician.

If an editor makes a mistake he has to apologize for it, but if a doctor makes a mistake, he buries it. If an editor makes one, there is a lawsuit, swearing and the smell of sulphur; but if a doctor makes one, there is a funeral, cut flowers and a smell of varnish. A doctor can use a word a yard long without knowing what it means, but if an editor uses it he has to spell it. Any old college can make a doctor. You can't make an editor; he has to be born.—Electric Railway Review.

Town Would go to Ruin if Tax Rates Jumped too High.

At the annual town meeting in Nahant last Saturday Senator Lodge, who always presides at the Town meetings there, took the floor when an important measure came up calling for a large appropriation, and what he had to say about reducing the town debt and keeping down the appropriations, would apply well to Manchester. Senator Lodge is quoted as follows: "This year we have reduced the town's debt to $10,000. If we adopt this proposition, it would put us back to where the debt was a year ago. I hope the debt will be wiped out entirely in a year or so more. Our only hope of prospering is to keep our debt and taxes down. Nahant cannot be compared to other towns hereabouts. We depend entirely on the attractions of Nahant as a summer resort. There is no business to keep the people here. Her only assets is her natural beauty.

"Furthermore, Nahant has a population which could leave this town in 24 hours, if need be, and take away $2,000,000 in personal property. They would leave town in a single night if the tax rate should become high. I do not refer to myself, for you all know that I am a fixture here with all I have got, but I am in a position to know that what I predicted will come to pass, and the town go to ruin if the tax rate should go up to any extent.

"Even as it is, the rate is bound to rise sooner or later, and this year it will be $1 a thousand higher. We are confronted also with the fact that the corporation tax is to be transferred from the town to the state. This may be done gradually, and in the name of justice I hope it will; but when it does come to pass it will increase our tax rate by $4.

"The financial conditions that prevail this year also have an effect on our revenue. The idea that you can go on indefinitely making any appropriation you choose, regardless of the conditions of banks and the market, is absurd. I am no alarmist. I am not an opposer of appropriations. But I know what the situation is."

Contract Awarded.

The Board of Water Commissioners, Manchester, met Wednesday afternoon and opened the bids for the teaming and laying of 950 feet of 6-inch water main, from Raymond street through the land of Caroline Butler, near Magnolia village. Four bids were received as follows:

Morley, Flatley & Co.	$332.50
John Gaffey, Medford	437.50
George Kimball	474.25
S. Albert Sinnicks	603.25

Morley, Flatley & Co. were the lowest bidders and the contract was awarded to them. The figure, of course, does not include the purchase of pipe. $900 was appropriated for this work at the March meeting.

Advertising is an Art

Why not let us help you

to improve your business by inserting a well-arranged, well-worded advertisement in the NORTH SHORE BREEZE? It is part of our business to help you

Do it successfully.

Why not make a trial with these conditions? Cost of space is a less important matter than what to say in the space, yet we give you advice free of charge.

Your success is ours. Try us.

We want to cultivate the small advertiser. We will meet you more than half way. What do you say to that?

THE BREEZE

is the leading paper of the North Shore. One of its strongest points is that its clientele is a purchasing class; therefore it's not so much the quantity of the circulation as the quality. It goes to the summer visitors in summer and follows them to their permanent residence in winter because it is wanted and paid for. That's why it's recognized as the best for advertising.

Then, too, there is hardly a family in Manchester, Beverly Farms, Prides or Magnolia that does not take the BREEZE regularly every Saturday.

MANCHESTER

Miss A. E. Dow has been spending the week with her sister, Mrs. Ida Upton in Marblehead.

Ralph, the 8-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Smith is ill with pneumonia, which has developed from the measles.

Misses Helen and Charlotte Read are home from school for the holidays, and are with their parents, at Read Island, Manchester.

James Austin concluded his engagement with E. S. Bradley Thursday, after three years service. Mr. Austin and family will probably move away from Manchester.

A painter named Howard, working for E. A. Lane, at the Old Corner cottage, owned by O. T. Roberts, West Manchester, fell from a ladder Thursday, injuring his back quite severely.

Nathan A. Carter a former resident of Manchester, passed away at his home in Cambridge last Sunday, at the age of 82 years. Mr. Carter was born in Manchester, his parents being Nathan and Adaline (Cross) Carter.

Miss Alice Blaisdell, the second daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Blaisdell, was taken with a serious attack of appendicitis last Saturday and Sunday she was operated upon at her home on Union street, by Dr. Johnson of Beverly. She is recovering rapidly and will probably be able to get out again the latter part of next week.

The April Century has pictures of Montserrat and West Manchester stations.

Republican Caucuses Tuesday.

The republican caucuses for the election of delegates to the Republican State and Congressional District conventions, will be held next Tuesday. The caucus in Manchester will be in the Town hall at 7.30 in the evening. Papers for this purpose have been filed as follows:

Raymond C. Allen and Wm. W. Hoare, State convention; and Edwin P. Stanley and P. H. Boyle, Congressional District convention, both sets of delegates favorable to Secretary Taft.

An Unusual Real Estate Issue

will be the April 4 edition of the Boston Evening Transcript. Any one having a farm, house, cottage or camp to dispose of or which they desire to rent for the summer should advertise in that edition as it will be widely circulated among hundreds of persons who are searching for such properties. It is a well known fact that the Boston Transcript publishes each season more advestisements of summer places for rent than any other newspaper in America. Hundreds of people rent and sell their places by advertising in it each year.

Telephone Company's Annual Report.

In the annual report of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which has just been issued, President Theodore N. Vail gives some interesting figures and discusses at length several features of the telephone business.

The business has shown constant gain during the year, and at the close there were 3,839,000 stations connected to the system, with a total of 8,610,592 miles of wire. The total number of exchange and toll calls for the year was about 5,997,000,000. During the year $52,921,400 was added to construction, and in the past eight years $351,835,655 has been so added.

At the present time there are outstanding 1,525,280 shares of the stock of the company, 1,312,502 of which are held by 23,453 stockholders, an average of less than 56 shares each, the balance, 212,778 shares, being held by 16 shareholders, each with 5,000 shares or over.

Attention is called to the universality of the Bell system and its occupation of the field, first in the urban districts, keeping pace with the demand, then later in the semi-urban and rural districts. These smaller communities are being developed both directly by the operating companies, and indirectly by local companies connected by toll lines with the Bell system.

The change of policy during the year by which the Western Electric Company now sells standard Bell telephones to all who may desire them has given a fresh impetus to this branch of the business.

North Shore Young Man is Successful Breeder of Fine Dogs.

J. R. Thorndike of West Manchester added very materially to his prestige as a breeder of Irish terriers in the splendid showing made by his kennels at New York recently. It is only five years since he was practically a novice at the game, his proprietorship being invested in Ch. Selwonk Kudos, an imported animal, by Ch. Buttonwood's Mixer. He really did not put much time into the sport until he brought out Ch. Thorncroft Ignito, that won six firsts, winners and nine specials at New York last year, selling him afterwards to the well known fancier, George Thomas of Hamilton. Thorncroft Magnito, another of his constantly increasing string was a winner of first puppy and first novice at Hartford and Philadelphia four specials and first open American bred being awarded her at New York.

Mr. Thorndike owned and successfully exhibited a number of well bred imported dogs at the commencement of his career as a breeder, but after acquiring the proper blood lines made an effort to bring out some himself in which he has had remarkably good results recently.

Undoubtedly one of the best of his entire lot, either American or foreignbred, is Thorncroft Sportsman, by Salute (Ch. Mile End Muddler) out of a bitch by Ch. Colne, sire of Ch. Celtic Badger. This little chap was a winner of the grand challenge cups offered by the Irish Terrier club for dogs, also a leg on the Fr. O'Gorman trophy, offered by the Newry Kennels, and a silver cup put up by George Hopkins for the best Irish terrier dog in the show at New York. At the same event Thorncroft Magnito captured the Howard Willetts' bronze for best dog or bitch.

Among other winnings of the Thorncroft bench were best brace of Irish terriers, best bitch bred by exhibitor and over 10 specials, the entire lot representing a tidy sum of money.

Their 19th Anniversary.

Liberty Rebekah lodge, I. O. O. F., of Manchester, celebrated its 19th anniversary last evening, at which time a delightfully entertaining musical and literary program was carried out at Odd Fellows hall.

The entertainment was furnished by the Putnam orchestra of Lynn and Miss Miss Mildred Murray of Lynn, reader.

Following the entertainment refreshments of ice cream and cake were served and a social hour was enjoyed. The Deputy and her husband of Marblehead were among the invited guests.

Rally at Farms Tonight.

There will be a rally in Marshall's hall, Beverly Farms, this evening for the "unpledged" delegates to the Republican conventions,—Messrs George and Winslow. The speakers will be Sidney W. Winslow and Roland W. Boyden of Beverly, and John E. Dow of Danvers, all of whom are good speakers.

Will Present "Martha."

Patrons of the Salem Oratorio society will be interested to know that the closing concert of the season will be given in the new Empire theatre, Salem, on Tuesday, April 21. There will be an afternoon orchestral concert at 2.30 by the Boston Festival orchestra, 43 performers, Emil Mollenhauer, conductor, and in the evening at 7.45 Flotow's ever popular opera "Martha" will be presented. Besides the full chorus of the society, the chorus will be augmented by men from the Newburyport Choral union.

The price of tickets for the afternoon concert will be 50 cents, and in the evening the prices will range from 50 cents to $1.50. Checks for the concerts may be obtained from members of the society and may be exchanged for seats. Checks may be obtained in Manchester from A. L. Sabin, who will also take orders for tickets.

BEVERLY FARMS

Miss Helen Callahan, who has spent the past month here, returned last Monday to Ipswich.

The aunual social reunion of the Baptist church will be held in the Chapel of the church on Friday evening, April 10.

Miss Nancy Mitchell of Pawtucket, R. I., a young lady well known at the Farms, is the new bookkeeper for Howard A. Doane, the carpenter contractor.

Capt. J. Frank Blaney, who has spent the winter at his former home in Swampscott, arrived in town this week and is busily engaged in preparing to set his fish weir off Chubb's Island, and in other ways preparing for the season's work.

Connolly Bros. have been given the contract for additional work at the Henry W. de Forest estate, at Cold Spring harbor, L. I., where this firm has had a large force of men at work for the past six months. The new work includes the building of a large shelter and Italian gardens.

Four wild geese, off West Beach, have been the object of much envy by many of our local sportsmen the past week. The birds have been feeding, apparently, in the vicinity of "Pride's Pole," and have thus far succeeded in "ducking" all stray shot that has come their way.

John Burns of Boston was in town Thursday superintending the moving of his furniture from Mr. Linehan's house on West street to Boston. Mr. Burns has spent his summers at Beverly Farms for a number of years, but he will not be here the coming season, much to his regret, owing to the fact his employer, Mrs. Weeks, will not spend the season here.

WHISPERINGS.

Four of our local citizens, living at Pride's who were passengers the other night on the theatre train, were so busily engaged in a card game that they did not notice when Pride's was reached, and consequently they were carried through to the Farms. After the party had alighted at the Farms' station one member of the party discovered that he had left something behind,—a rather suspicious looking package. He made a hustle back into the smoking car to get the package. He got it alright, but by this time the train had gained considerable headway toward Manchester. My good friend decided he had better not risk jumping. It is said that in his early morning tramp (midnight) back up the track from West Manchester he "consulted" his package several times just for consolation.

Dennis Shea of Haskell street has entered an engineering school in Boston to perfect himself in the mysteries of engines and machinery.

Mrs. Sarah Crowell of Hart street was quite pleased to receive the news the early part of this week from Washington that she had been granted a pension. The first application was made in May, 1906, and after taking its course through the necessary channels it finally seemed to have been pigeon-holed. Congressman Gardner's attention was called to the delay with the result that this week the good news reached Mrs. Crowell.

The Publisher's Claims Sustained

UNITED STATES COURT OF CLAIMS

The Publishers of Webster's International Dictionary allege that it "is, in fact, the popular Unabridged thoroughly re-edited in every detail, and vastly enriched in every part, with the purpose of adapting it to meet the larger and severer requirements of another generation."

We are of the opinion that this allegation most clearly and accurately describes the work that has been accomplished and the result that has been reached. The Dictionary, as it now stands, has been thoroughly re-edited in every detail, has been corrected in every part, and is admirably adapted to meet the larger and severer requirements of a generation which demands more of popular philological knowledge than any generation that the world has ever contained.

It is perhaps needless to add that we refer to the dictionary in our judicial work as of the highest authority in accuracy of definition; and that in the future as in the past it will be the source of constant reference.

Besides the regular line of meats and provisions the market will this season carry a line of strictly first class staple and fancy groceries, all at Boston market prices.

Baseball started up at the Farms with old-time enthusiasm the first of this week and a lively game between the Red Sox and the Yannigans resulted in a victory for the latter to the tune of 27 to 11. The feature of the game was the remarkable manner in which Capt. Frank Gaudreau missed the ball. He struck out three times out of a total of four times at the bat. Frank Trowt and C. Donnovan were the Yannigans' battery, and John Prescott and Homer Callahan the battery for the Red Sox.

Patrons of the telephone are much pleased over the return of Miss Mabel Sawyer, who has just recovered from a serious attack of pneumonia, at her home in Malden.

It was discovered the first of the week that the Pride's Crossing drug store, which had been closed all winter had been broken into, and although not much of value had been taken, things were very much disarranged. It is thought to be the work of boys.

There is much speculation at the Farms as to who will be the new assistant fire engineer to succeed Eli R. Hodgkins, who recently tendered his resignation. Among those most prominently mentioned for the position are John M. Publicover, Edwin F. Campbell, George H. Burchsted and Capt. Duncan T. Smith, all of whom are members of the local fire department. Mr. Publicover, however, is looked upon as the most probable one for the position, should he care for it.

The Sarah Wyman Whitman club held its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Calvin L. Williams, Vine street. During the session there were several piano selections by Miss Elmira Williams. Owing to the inconvenience of the position Mrs. Daniel W. Hardy resigned as secretary and Mrs. J. L. Chapman was elected her successor. After the business had been transacted refreshments were served. The next meeting, April 1, will be at the home of Mrs. Mark Knowles, Hart street, at which time the special committee consisting of Mrs. Geo. S. Hadley, Mrs. John Burcksted and Mrs. J. L. Chapman will report upon the matter of rules and regulations.

Pleasant Entertainment.

The Preston Post Associates gave an entertainment in G. A. R. hall last Monday evening, to which were invited the members of Preston Post, Preston Relief Corps, and a number of other guests. The affair was of a decidedly pleasant nature and the occasion was one long to be remembered.

The early part of the evening was devoted to an entertainment in which the following artists appeared, each receiving well merited applause, an encore being called for in each case: Miss Annie K. Holmes, piano solos; John Bresnahan and John E. Cahill, vocal solos; Walter Winn of Boston, Hebrew impersonator and humorist; Master Richard Craven, a 10-year old Beverly Farms boy, recitations; and Zampbell and Zampbell, local Italians, who performed upon the mandolin and guitar. There were also graphophone selections under the direction of H. Irving Dyer. The impersonations by Mr. Winn was the hit of the evening.

The latter part of the evening was spent in a social way. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Dow and Mrs. J. M. Publicover leave this afternoon on an excursion trip to Washington.

Neighbor's hall will be opened the last of April, when an entertainment and dance will be given under the direction of local parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Horatio A. Haskell of High street arrived at the Farms, Wednesday after a pleasant visit of three months with Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan, Milford, N. H.

With the coming of spring also "cometh" base ball, for the boys at the Farms are these days the hardest worked of them all. After school hours until dark there is a continuous performance of the national game, the various vacant lots being utilized for this purpose.

The mayor's veto of the move for a new aerial truck for the Central Fire station, Beverly, at a cost of about $5000, meets with general approval here. While there is a feeling that the requests of fire engineers in this matter should be granted, it is generally felt that the matter can wait awhile.

Signs of spring has created an activity among the local owners of boats who are busily engaged in getting their crafts ready for launching. George West Larcom is perhaps the first "on deck," as his trim motor craft, spic and span in a new coat of paint, was put over board this week.

The Republican caucus will be held in G. A. R. hall next Tuesday, from 2 to 8 p. m. The delegates you vote for at this caucus are to go to the State or Congressional conventions and they in turn are to vote for delegates "pledged" or "unpledged" who will have a part in the selection of the next Republican candidate for president.

Already for Boston Hippodrome.

The Boston Hippodrome opens its doors at Mechanics' building, on Monday, March 30.

The arrangement of the Boston Hippodrome will be quite different from its prototype in New York. There everything is shown upon a large stage. At the Boston Hippodrome everything will be shown on the main floor, with seats on all four sides, much as they are in a circus tent. There will be two forty-foot rings and a forty-foot stage, the whole surrounded by a hippodrome track, on the floor of Grand hall. Surrounding this, on the floor will be a double row of boxes and four tiers of seats, one above the other. The seats in the first balcony will be used and new ones put into the second balcony. In the basement will be all the ring stock, the elephants and other animals used in the performance. Then there will be a large curio hall and a number of smaller side shows. Here will be found the real "circus atmosphere."

The flying ballet will be operated from the roof and will work in connection with a regular ballet of 50 girls on the floor of Grand hall.

The races on the hippodrome track which will conclude the performance, will not be the tame affairs that such events sometimes have been. Each contestant will strive for victory and the winning of a valuable prize. Teel's band will furnish the music.

PARISH MEETING.

Annual Meeting of the First Parish, Manchester, Held Wednesday Evening.

The annual meeting of the First Parish, Manchester, was held in the Chapel Wednesday evening. Aside from the reports of the officers and committees, and the election of officers, there was little of importance in connection with the meeting.

Preliminary action was taken, however, toward recognizing in some form the 100th anniversary of the building of the present Congregational church. The church was built in 1809 and was occupied for the first time on Thanksgiving Day of that year. Should the event be recognized next year, it is likely that it will come the early part of the fall, while many of the summer residents are here, rather than in late November.

The matter was brought up by George F. Allen and a committee was appointed to prepare a history of the church building, Deacon J. A. Torrey and Mr. Allen, the veteran clerk of the parish, being appointed on that committee.

The meeting was called for 7.30 and Alfred S. Jewett was elected moderator. George F. Allen, who has served as clerk for 34 consecutive years, asked to be relieved from the duties of that office. He said he was getting old and thought it was time to change, and that some younger man be elected in his place. After several ballots, however, Mr. Allen was persuaded to serve again.

A. S. Jewett was re-elected collector and treasurer; Frank P. Knight, Edward A. Lane and William Hoare were re-elected on the Parish committee, and George W. Jewett was re-elected trustee of the M. C. Martin fund for three years.

George W. Jewett, Charles C. Dodge and Albert Cunningham were elected on the music committee and the committee was authorized to invite the co-operation of the church music committee to work with them in regard to the singing. An Republican Caucuses Favorable To Secretary Taft for President.

The Republican caucus in Manchester Tuesday evening was not marked with the interest which was manifested as the caucuses in other towns and cities in this section. Chairman J. T. Stanley of the Republican Town committee called the caucus to order at 7.40 and L. W. Floyd was elected clerk. Raymond C. Allen was elected moderator.

There were less than a dozen voters present when the polls were opened. Only 32 votes were cast. There was but one ticket in the field and the result of the election was that Raymond C. Allen and William W. Hoare were elected delegates to the Congressional convention, and Edwin P. Stanley and P. H. Boyle were elected delegates to the State convention.

A resolve was passed instructing the two delegates to the Congressional convention to support Hoyt and Vittum (Taft delegates). The polls were open until 8.30 o'clock.

Their 16th Anniversary in Manchester by Entertainment in G. A. R. Hall.

Col. H. P. Woodbury camp, 149, S. of V., celebrated its 16th anniversary Tuesday evening, when an entertainment was given in G. A. R. hall, Manchester, to which were invited friends of the camp members, members of Allen Post, Allen Relief Corps and Associates of the post.

The evening's program was carried out in an informal way and consisted of vocal solos, reading, phonograph selections by Joseph Cawthorne, jr., and informal speech-making. Fred K. Swett, the camp commander, was in charge, and President Mrs. J. S Reed of the corps, and Commander Enoch Crombie of the post sat with him on the platform.

The first number on the program was a phonograph selection, and this was followed by a vocal solo by Miss Emma Prest, "For His Mother's Sake." As Clark, during her husband's absence.

Back from Trip to Egypt and the Holy Land.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Callahan returned to Manchester Monday from their Mediterranean trip to Egypt and Palestine, visiting Alexandria, Cairo, Port Said, Suez Canal, Jaffa, Jerusalem and the Holy Land, from the undisputed spot where our Saviour was born in Bethlehem to Calvary, the tomb, through the memorable valley of Joshaphat, the Garden of Gethsemane to Mt. Olives, the River Jordan and the Dead Sea. From the Holy Land they returned to Jaffa and Alexandria. The excursionists remained in the latter city some few days, when they sailed for Genoa and Naples. After spending some twelve days in Rome they returned to Naples and sailed for New York on March 11, arriving there on the 25th. Mr. and Mrs. Callahan had sailed nearly 12,000 miles since leaving Manchester. The voyage, they say, was remarkably pleasant both going and coming with the exception of three days before reaching New York on the return, when they struck rough weather. Otherwise the passage was perfect. Though their trip was delightfully pleasant in every detail Mr. and Mrs. Callahan declare they are glad to be back again on good old New England soil, and among their good friends in Manchester.

Arthur Smothers who has been in New York the past fall and winter, returned the first of this week.

Mr. Spring, gardener at the F. C. Stevens estate, Smith's Point, arrived Thursday for the season.

"The Men Whom God accepts" will be the subject of the Y. P. S. C. E. meeting tomorrow evening. Consecration meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hadley of Lowell are spending a few days visiting their granddaughter, Mrs. J. A. Lodge, Church street.

Frank Clews and family have moved down from Boston the past week. Mr. Clews is coachman at the J. L. Thorndike estate, West Manchester.

Miss Amy B. Haskell was given a delightful surprise party Wednesday evening, in the nature of a "kitchen shower." She had been invited to the home of her cousin, Miss Gertrude B. Goldsmith, on Lincoln street, to spend the evening. When she arrived, however, she entered a room filled with friends. The surprise was complete, and after the "shower" was over and Miss Haskell had read the "verses" the balance of the evening was spent very pleasantly in a social way.

The "wrecker" was sent down from Boston yesterday morning to pull back upon the spur track, on the east side of the freight house, a car that had been pushed through the bumper and completly off the track by the night freight. Seven cars had been "switched" up the siding, with such momentum that the one brakeman could not apply the brakes fast enough, with the result that the cars crashed into and through the bumper. The brakeman,—J. L. Morrison, was thrown off and was injured. He was taken to a Boston hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hooper are returning to their West Manchester residence today after a few weeks stay at the Hotel Somerset, Boston.

E. C. Fitch and daughter, Miss Helen Fitch, are expected to arrive in Boston today, from their trip abroad. Mrs. Fitch is still in Europe and will visit with her daughter in England.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Curtis sailed from New York Tuesday for a few months' trip to Europe. They will return in early June and will come at once to their Beverly Farms estate.

Mrs. C. A. Munn and family of Washington will occupy the Dodge cottage at Old Neck, Manchester, the coming summer. The Edward Kings of New York had this cottage last year, Mrs. Munn being abroad.

The Herald, Monday, in speaking of the reorganization of the Knickerbocker Trust Company, of New York, had the following to say about one of Manchester's best known summer residents: "A Boston man, William A. Tucker of Tucker, Anthony & Co., has probably done more than any one man to bring about the reopening. He has devoted practically all of his time to this work, yet he has no financial interest other than as a director in the company."

THE Boston Globe says: "'Joe' Howard's brilliant personality was so deeply impressed upon the long series of letters that he published in the Globe that, now that he has gone, thousands of New Englanders feel that they have lost a friend."

The Globe might have concluded by saying that the best feature of the Sunday papers had also departed with "Joe."

THE Salem News has the following "suggestion" to offer on corporation taxes: "It is proposed to increase the annual revenue of the state $1,000,000 by turning into the state treasury the corporate franchise taxes of railroad, telegraph and telephone companies. Inasmuch as these taxes are now distributed among the cities and towns according to the residence of stockholders, it will be seen that what the commonwealth gains, the aforesaid cities and towns will loose. The explanation is familiar that in the event of the transfer, the state will assume some of the obligations that now press upon the cities and towns, and that in the long run the latter will not fare so badly as might at first blush appear. But the commonwealth, through the administrations, has been crying that her revenues are insufficient and the cry is about as insistent at this stage as ever. While one portion of the legislators are casting about for ways and means by which the public revenue may be increased, how would it do for another portion to see if the expenses can not be cut down? A movement of the latter sort, vigorously conducted, would be a sight good for sore eyes."

Advertising Suggestions

Advertising is as much a legitimate part of your business, which should always be reckoned with, and is more vitally essential to its prosperity than any other known operating expense which you incur.

You may not see it in the light that we do, but the forward trend of commercial progress will, sooner or later, convince you of the truth of our assertions.

WHISPERINGS.

The other morning I awoke at about 4 o'clock and while endeavoring to get to sleep again the notes of the whistling buoy and the fog horns broke upon my ears. Here was a dilemma and I tried in vain to get off to sleep again but could not. Finally I got up and on looking out found the fog one of that kind which you could almost cut with a knife, and the fog horn and whistling buoy kept up their sonorous sounds. Then the thought occurred to me, that I had no occasion for uneasiness, as I was safely housed; but out in the bay there were fishing crafts making port, and coasters pursuing their trips, and steamers were making their way along the coast, all enveloped in that density of fog. What sweet music to their listening ears was the fog horn and whistling buoy as the sounds spread over the waters, telling them of their position and giving them warning to keep off shore and thus avoid the treacherous rocks. With this view of the case, I felt that I could surely put up with a little inconvenience for the sake of "they that go down to the sea in ships, that do business in great waters."—LOOKOUT in the Gloucester Daily Times.

* * * *

At the "round up" reception of politicians to be held at the American House, Boston, next Thursday evening, several of our local "always vote right" Republicans have indicated their intention to be present. That this will be a highly enjoyable occasion is not a debatable question.

THE OCEANSIDE HOTEL.

Phenomenal Success Under the Proprietorship of George A. Upton.

The sale of the Oceanside hotel property at Magnolia, recently published in the BREEZE, to C. H. Bond of Boston, and the consequent retirement of G. A. Upton from the summer resort field, removes one of those in the fore-front of this business in the country, for the Oceanside and its proprietor are known from the Atlantic to the Pacific by many people of wealth, who have made it their summer home.

The Oceanside was the creation of Mr. Upton. Something more than 25 years ago he entered the field of entertaining people during the summer at Magnolia in the modest two-story house which is now incorporated as the entrance of the big property which was its outgrowth. Its success was phenomenal, and for the past 10 years its profits during the short summer season were between $50,000 and $60,000. Each year witnessed additions to the main plant, the kitchen of which was considered to be one of the best of any hotel in this country, and its superb dining hall the largest of any resort house in New England. It is estimated that the physical part of the plant, including the cottages, entail an outlay of nearly a half million.

A peculiarlity about Mr. Upton's management was that absolutely no liquor was sold on the premises. At the same time he never allowed his strong temperance principles to interfere with the desires of his guests. Those who desired liquors were permitted to store any such in a cellar under the control of a cellarman, but this privilege was availed of but sparingly.

The reputed price paid, more than a half million, leaves Mr. Upton one of the richest men in this community.

Former Adj. Gen. Bulkeley Wells, who had such a narrow escape from death or serious injury at his home in Telluride, Col., last Saturday from a well planned effort to assassinate him with dynamite,—was a former summer resident of Manchester.

Roger L. Putnam, the 14-year old son of Wm. L. Putnam of Beacon street, Boston, and Manchester, was run over by a furniture wagon Wednesday afternoon on Beacon street, near the Charlesgate hotel. The forward wheels passed over his legs, but it is said no bones were broken. Mr. Putnam and James Means, also of Manchester, were riding on their bicycles when they overtook a coal wagon and furniture wagon. The furniture wagon turned out to pass the coal wagon just as the boys were about to pass. Mr. Putnam bumped into his companion and was thrown under the furniture wagon.

Horticultural Society.

Windsor H. Wyman, proprietor of the Bay State Nurseries of North Abington, was the speaker at Lee's hall, Manchester, last evening at the regular bimonthly meeting of the North Shore Horticultural society. President Till called to order one of the largest gatherings of members that have assembled at any of these meeting this winter, and introduced the speaker whose subject was "Planting and After-culture of Trees and Plants."

Mr. Wyman gave a highly interesting and practical talk upon the subject which received the most profound attention of his audience. The late hour of the meeting before going to press preclude giving our readers the details of his address. However, in our next issue we shall attempt to give a resume of the address. In the course of his remarks he took occasion to invite the society to take a field day next summer aud visit his place in a body and partake of his hospitality and entertainment.

At the next meeting Peter Hylen of Manchester will be the speaker, the subject to be announced later. Mr. Hylen is a member of the firm of Magunson and Hylen, the florists. and his reputation as a florists is assurance that whatever his subject, an interesting talk may be expected.

Two new members were received. The meeting closed with the customary "planting" of doughnuts and cheese properly irrigated with a decoction of Mocha and Java, by all, while not a few "fumigated" with the fragrant Havanas.

John Bishop.

John Bishop, a former well known resident of Manchester, passed away at his home in Whycocomagh, N. S., March 25. Mr. Bishop was employed at the blacksmith shop of Horace Standley, but was taken sick almost two years age. He went to the home of his mother and has been there since. He was a member of Magnolia lodge, 149, I. O. O. F., and of Liberty Rebekah lodge.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I beg to announce to the residents of the North Shore that I have purchased from Walker Bros. & Co. the provision business conducted by them at Beverly Farms for the past twenty years, including their good will and trade. Having had twenty-five years experience on the North Shore, eight years as manager of Wyatt's Market, I thoroughly understand the selection of choice meats, fruits, vegetables, etc., carried by first-class markets. The business will be conducted under the name of Brewer's Market, which will be opened on or about April 20, 1908. I solicit your patronage.

WALTER P. BREWER.

Beverly Farms, Mass., Feb. 10, 1908.

We, the undersigned, certify that we have sold the good will and trade of our North Shore business to Walter P. Brewer.

(Signed) Walker Bros. & Co.

Republican Caucus.

The Republicans of Ward 6 turned out in large numbers for the caucus last Tuesday, especially those who live in the Centerville portion of the ward, 129 ballots being cast, almost as many Republican votes as at an ordinary election.

The caucus was held in G. A. R. hall and was called to order at 2 o'clock by the chairman of the ward committee, Rept. W. R. Brooks. Ralph W. Osborne was elected chairman and he also served as warden. Howard E. Morgan was elected clerk, and he also served as teller. The other tellers were George H. Bennett and Lewis G. Williams. The polls were kept open until 8 p. m., the result of the vote being as follows:

Delegate to State Convention—John M. Publicover 90, blanks 39.

Delegate to Congressional Convention—William R. Brooks (supporting Hoyt and Vittum pledged to Taft) 93, Roland C. Patch (favorable to Winslow and George, unpledged) 33, bianks 3.

an encore Miss Prest sang "Just a Faded Coat of Blue." Byron S. Bullock played a cornet solo, "Land of Bohemia," and as an encore he played "The Vacant Chair." A phonograph selection followed, and Commander Crombie was called upon for a few remarks. Mr. Crombie complimented the camp on its sixteen years of good, honest work. The work of the camp will increase constantly, he said, and he hoped the camp was ready and willing to take up that work.

Mr. Swett called for a repetition of the next phonograph selection, "In My Merry Oldsmobile," and this was followed by a solo (illustrated song without the pictures) by H. S. Tappan, who sang "Those Songs My Mother Used to Sing." As an encore Mr. Tappan sang "Some Day when Dreams come True." Another phonograph selection followed.

P. H. Boyle read one of Henry Ward Beecher's speeches and when called upon for an encore he recited "Keenan's Charge at Chancellorsville."

Miss Olive Cook sang "Farewell, Sweetheart May." She was followed by Mrs. J. S. Reed, who spoke briefly of the work of the camp, and expressed the hope that the camp and relief corps might work more as a unit, as both organizations are working for the one object, in a way.

Alfred S. Jewett was called upon for an impromptu speech on the G. A. R., and responded in his customary interesting manner. He said we sing the same songs and speak the same thoughts and while these thoughts are not always understood and appreciated by all, yet the songs of the nation appeal to even the children at the tenderest age. He spoke also of the caucuses in war days compared to the caucuses to elect delegates to a convention to nominate a president the past week. Those were stirring days, he said, state rights was the vital thing at stake.

After another phonograph selection, J. H. Rivers, who was one of those instrumental in starting the camp, read the original charter list. He was glad to see how the camp had grown and hoped to see it still larger. F. K. Swett sang "Land of Bohemia."

Rev. E. Hersey Brewster, patriotic instructor of the camp, was next called upon. "Patriotism," said Mr. Brewster, "is something we hear a great deal about, but after all it is a very uncommon virture. The American people as a rule are as patriotic as any on the face of the earth: we have so many things to be thankful for. But—'By their fruits ye shall know them.' And yet we expect to get a great crop of patriots. If we bring up our children in the midst of things that are not patriotic we cannot get patriotism. If they see nothing but pessimism, grab, grab, grab, they are going to be a mighty poor lot of patriots. To use the slang expression, we should 'cut out' a great deal that is not very edifying about our country and our people. When a cause that is just is presented we should stand behind it. We shouldn't permit graft if we can help it, but don't let us get so fanatic about it that the atmosphere is full of it. Clear the atmosphere and begin to believe there are some good people in the world and that there are good men in public office.

"Another thing that is unpatriotic is the attitude we take against our immigrants. We forget that we were all immigrants not many generations back. You can't push back very far before you find a language you can't understand. I don't approve of this narrow feeling that America is for Americans. It is not true patriotism.

"Nothing counts but reality, and the real patriot is what we want. We can't define real patriotism, but we can express it. Pure patriotism is told by the measure one sacrifices his own personal interest for the good of the nation."

This concluded the entertainment feature of the evening and the remaining hour was spent socially. Ice cream and cake, and cocoa was served by an efficient committee of camp members.

Sees Advantage in Wheels.

After one season's use of bicycles, the Pawtucket, R. I., police department is an enthusiastic convert to the value of mounted officers. Seven wheels are owned by the city, and an equal number of officers are regularly detailed as a bicycle squad. The result is that the patrolmen have been able to care for larger beats much more efficiently than was formerly the case.

At St. Margaret's church tomorrow—Passion Sunday—at the 8.30 Mass, there will be a general communion for the men of the parish.

Mrs. Mary F. Foley and two children of Philadelphia, who have been visiting in this vicinity, spent part of this week with friends at the Farms.

Ira B. Case and family of Medford arrived at the Farms on Wednesday and have taken up their residence at the Jos. B. Harlow house, Hart street. Mr. Case will open the drug store at Pride's later.

Mrs. John H. Watson, who closed her house on Everett street last fall, and has been spending the winter in Boston, will return here within a few weeks. She was down Thursday looking over her place.

An entertainment and dance for the benefit of St. Margaret's church, to be given in Marshall's hall on Tuesday evening, April 29, is an event toward which Beverly Farms folk will look with much interest. The affair is being arranged by John Daniels, the Central square provision dealer.

Miss Jane Watson's classes in aesthetic dancing had their last lesson for the season, in Marshall's hall, Thursday evening. A number of invited guests were present and the members of the class gave an exhibition. The exercises were greatly enjoyed by the spectators, and were, indeed, a credit to both teacher and scholars.

James Fullerton, chauffeur for Bryce J. Allan met with a rather peculiar accident at Mr. Allan's garage last Monday. In some unaccountable way there was an explosion of gasoline, as a result of which Mr. Fullerton's arm was dislocated, a wrist and one foot were injured, and he was burned. He was taken to the Beverly Hospital.

Harry Howell has recently accepted a position as night watchman at one of the large Pride's Crossing estates.

Charles Feeney of East Boston, the popular meat cutter at Daniel's market, has resumed his former position for the season.

Capt. Duncan T. Smith will again be "skipper" of the "Mickey II," R. C. Hooper's fast motor boat, and is to commence his work about May 1.

The pitch tournament which has been in progress at G. A. R. hall on Thursday evenings, between members of the G. A. R. and Associates, was concluded this week. The prize winners will be announced the coming week.

Master Fred Hicks, a 14-year old Beverly Farms boy, rode a pony in the opening performance of the Hippodrome, at Mechanics' Building, Boston, last Monday, taking the place of a member of the company, who was ill, for a day.

Joshua Younger's presence about the Farms the past few days has been missed, and this is accounted for by the fact that he has accepted the invitation of a relative, who has just launched a new fishing schooner, for a short fishing trip. The boat sailed from Gloucester Thursday. Mr. Younger will leave the vessel at Portland, Me., and before his return by rail he will visit relatives at Orr's Island, Me. Eli R. Hodgkins accompanies Mr. Younger.

MANCHESTER

Dea. T. B. Stone has been spending the past few days in Salem visiting his sister.

The Manchester schools closed yesterday for the spring vacation of one week, to re-open on Monday, April 13.

D. M. Knight is advertising that he is agent for the "Star Wet Wash" of Beverly and that clothes taken in the morning are returned in the evening. *

Benjamin K. Kinsman of Gloucester, who passed away in that city last Friday, was born in Manchester 56 years ago, the son of William H. and Mehitable K. (Miller) Kinsman. He removed from here with his parents at the age of five years and had since lived in Gloucester.

We call attention to the advertisement of Kimball Bros' Monumental Works, located on Lynde street, Salem. Besides being able to furnish memorials of any design this firm also carry in stock candy slabs, imposing stones and slate chimney caps of all sizes. Anyone deserving to purchase anything in this line would do well to call on this concern.

Objected to New Court House.

Some lively hearings have been held at the State House the past two weeks before the Committee on Counties on the petition by Lynn and a few surrounding towns for a new county court house at that city. There are already three county court houses,—Salem, Lawrence and Newburyport,—and there was naturally much opposition to the new move.

Selectman W. R Bell represented the Manchester Board of Selectmen at the hearing Monday, and put the board on record as opposing the move. Mr. Bell said:

"I am one of those who do not believe that it is good sound business judgment to increase our county debt four or five thousand dollars simply for the convenience of the City of Lynn. I represent the little town of Manchester, but we pay the seventh largest tax in the county; $2000 more than Nahant, Saugus and Lynnfield put together, $6000 more than Swampscott, and one-quarter as much as the City of Lynn.

"The county tax is increasing thousands of dollars yearly. Manchester's proportion of the county tax has increased in two years over $4000,—from $12,500 in 1905 to $16,500 in 1907.

"The Selectmen of Manchester," said Mr. Bell in closing, "wish to go on record as being very much opposed to this proposed Court House on the ground that it is an unnecessary expenditure for the county."

A WEEKLY JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE NORTH SHORE

Vol. VI. No. 15 MANCHESTER, MASS., SATURDAY, APRIL 11, 1908. 24 Pages Three Cents.

THOUGHTS HERE AND THERE

BY D. F. LAMSON.

One of the most hopeful signs of the times is that so many of the recent words of publicists, statesmen and political economists, frankly admit the failures and mistakes of the past, face intelligently the perplexities of the present, and refrain from predicting with absolute assurance the future. The sanity of many of our leading men is unquestionable.

Cloudy skies, chilly winds and a backward season do not necessarily mean a cold summer or poor harvests; and a dull childhood may be followed by a fruitful and honorable manhood; impatience with childish development is not any more wise than impatience with the seasons; we may well bear with slowness and mediocrity, where there is an evident attempt to do the best. "Why do you scold me, sir," pathetically pleaded a rather poor scholar; "I am doing the best I can;" and perhaps April is doing the best it can.

It is a high encomium that Roger Ascham, Queen Elizabeth's tutor, gives in the preface to "The Scholemaster," to his friend, good Sir Richard Sackville, "that worthy gentleman, that earnest favorer and furtherer of God's true religion; that faithful serviton to his prince and country; a lover of learning, and all learned men; wise in all doings, courteous to all persons, showing spite to none, doing good to many; and as I well found, to me so fast a friend, as I never lost the like before." One may well grapple such a friend to him with hoops of steel. But to have a friend of such worth, one must himself be worthy.

A writer who claims to be original, and who boasts, Rousseau-like, to have broken with the past, only proclaims his own ignorance and presumption; while imagining himself a century ahead of his $15,000 TO BE SPENT IN MANCHESTER WOODS?

This will be decided at the Adjourned Town Meeting Monday Evening. $10,000 Forth-coming, if Town Appropriates $5,000.

Manchester's adjourned town meeting will be held next Monday evening at 7.30. Besides "winding up" a few odds and ends, so to speak, two very important matters will come before the meeting and each in itself ought to be sufficient to draw out a large gathering of the voters.

It is understood that the special committee appointed at the March meeting to wait upon the Manchester Electric Co. and ask for an extension of the option which the town has of purchasing the plant, said option expiring on Sept. 18 of this year, will make a report. The committee met the company's representatives last Saturday. Everyone interested in the matter—and, it is a very important one—should attend the meeting.

The other matter of interest is—moth suppression. It is understood the selectmen will recommend an appropriation of $5000 to be spent under the direction of the state as outlined previously in this paper,—with the understanding that $5000 more will be forth-coming from the state and $5000 from the summer residents,—$15,000 in all.

Col. Wm. D. Sohier and State Superintendent Kirkland will probably be at the meeting

This is a very important matter and should go through without a hitch. If so the work will start at once. The matter is set forth more in detail in the following self-explanatory communication received yesterday morning from Col. Sohier:

BOSTON, April 9, 1908.

To the Editor of the North Shore Breeze:

As your readers perhaps know, the question of whether Manchester will come into the general scheme to have the State clean up the bad colonies of gypsy moths in her woods will come up at the adjourned town meeting Monday.

An appropriation of $5000, will be asked for to be spent in cleaning the woods under the direction of A. H. Kirkland, the State Commissioner.

If this appropriation is made, $15,000

TREE PLANTING AND AFTER-CULTURE

The address of Windsor H. Wyman before the North Shore Horticultural society, at Manchester, on Friday evening of last week contained many practical suggestions that should interest most everybody and deserves more space than we can give.

In planting trees, he said, in beginning, he would consider all plants as trees except herbaceous plants and his remarks would apply to soil that was adapted to growing corn and any other soil would be an exception to his general rules and require different treatment.

The ideal time to plant, he said in the course of his remarks was when the life of the plant began to assert itself. In the selection such plants as are best adapted to the natural condition of the soil should be first considered. All the best trees and plants should be considered as nothing but wild trees cultivated and do not need the hybrid culture usually given them. He put much emphasis upon the proper preparation and fertilization of the soil for planting. He disagrees with those who disturb the natural condition of the soil and sub-soil by deep digging and pulverizing. After receiving the trees or plants from the nursery he advised care in pruning the Walter R. Bennett was chosen Monday as juror for the April term of the Superior court.

Selectman and Mrs. E. S. Knight returned last Sunday morning from their trip to Washington.

Born Tuesday, April 7, a daughter, Florence Lockhart, to Selectman and Mrs. George Lockhart Allen, Central street.

H. Statland, the tailor, has opened his shop in the Kimball building on Union street, for the season, having returned from Daytona, Fla., last Saturday.

Harry R. Floyd, who is home from Dartmouth for the Easter vacation, has had his room-mate, Edward Ford, '09, of Marshfield, with him for a visit.

John Gray, Raymond Crocker and Waldo Peart are eligible to membership in a Weston Walking club. They walked to Boston Monday, starting at 6 a. m. arriving there at 2 p. m.

Friends of Otto Derrick, the popular prescription clerk at Allen's Drug store, will be pleased to learn that he is rapidly convalescing after an operation for appendicitis last Sunday at the private residence of a Boston doctor.

The senior class at the Story High school are beginning to get ready for graduation in June. There are eight graduates,—four boys and four girls. The valedictorian will be Edward Wheaton, and the salutatorian, Willard Rust, which assignments were made by marking.

Henry Havelock Pierce, the Back Bay photographer, who has a studio at Manchester in the summer season, has recently been paid $250 by the St. Louis Republic under threat of a suit for damages for infringement of copyright in printing cut without the copyright notice and credit line.

The Democratic caucuses will be held on Wednesday, April 22. In Manchester the caucus will be in the Town hall at 7.30 p. m. to choose one delegate each to the Democratic State and Congressional District conventions, which conventions will elect delegates and alternates to the Democratic National Convention.

Librarian D. L. Bingham, accompanied by his assistant, Miss Sargent, went to Boston yesterday to select some new books for the library. No other town in the Union, we venture to say, can boast of having a man in his nineties serving as librarian, much less having a nonagenarian within its borders who so much enjoys an occasional visit to the city, mingling with men in a business way, and taking deep pleasure in the performance of a duty which might be placed on another's shoulders.

Miss Grace Merrill was in Hamilton over Sunday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Robertson.

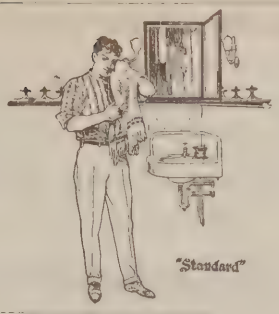

Miss Edith Northup has been spending her school vacation in Ayer, the guest of Judge Atwood and family.

L. W. Howe of New Bedford was a guest of Charles Mason and family Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

An opportunity is open at the BREEZE office for a bright boy, between 14 and 20, who wants to learn a trade. We are ready to start a boy to work Monday morning. *

A delegation of a dozen Red Men picked up the iron trail Thursday night and paid a visit to Winnepurket tribe in Lynn, to witness the exemplification of the Adoption degree.

The local colony of Pilgrim Fathers are to observe their 20th anniversary Monday evening on which occasion a very pleasant concert program will be presented. Prof. Maynard, the blind pianist and singer, will be the leading attraction. Supper at 6.30 sharp.

MOTH WORK

will be immediately available to be spent in the Manchester woods and those immediately back of them.

$5000 of this money can be got from the State fund. When I got the acting Governor Mr. Draper to agree that $10,000, could be spent in preserving the North Shore woods, it was only on condition that enough money was raised to do comprehensive and thorough work and that the State's share should be not over 33⅓ per cent.

The other $5000 I can put in. It has been subscribed by summer residents of Manchester to be called for in case enough is forthcoming to do all the work (to wit, at least $15,000).

In Beverly the work has been going on for fours weeks. 160 men are now at work and are doing good work, creosoting the nests and cleaning up the brush and poor trees ready for spraying this summer. Here the State gives $5000, Beverly $5000 and the summer resident committee $5000.

Manchester will be asked to make the same arrangement.

Already it is almost too late, but every day now counts two. All the Manchester woods are not yet scouted, only those in the western end of the town and just east of the Manchester–Essex road.

I asked the State Superintendent to write me what conditions were found in Manchester. His reply just received was in part as follows:

"There is one bad colony between Brookwood road and Pine street; one between the Old Road and Southern avenue, on the line; one between the Old Road and School street. There is also a very bad infestation in Manchester Cove, extending from Summer street to the railroad track. I was mistaken when I informed you that we were nearly through with Manchester, as we have a large amount of territory to cover yet in Manchester proper.

"The above mentioned colonies are in very bad condition, and if something is not done this year in the way of thining, spraying and treating the worst infestations, they will spread over an enormous area. If money can possibly be raised so that this work can be taken up immediately or within a very few days, it will be a great saving to all parties concerned.

"In order to care for the above colonies in the proper way, it will require an expenditure of not less than $10,000. This leaves a balance of $5000 to care for such colonies as may be located this month."

This last was on the assumption which we have agreed upon, to wit: An expenditure of $15,000 of which the State will contribute $5000, the town $5000, and the summer resident committee $5000.

I sincerely hope that the citizens of Manchester will seize this opportunity to save their woods from destruction, and by appropriating $5000, secure $10,000 more to be spent with it for this worthy object.

Yours truly,
WM. D. SOHIER.

CLASS INITIATION.

Grand Officers and Eighty Guests from Out-of-Town Lodges Visit A. O. U. W. in Manchester.

Tuesday, April 7, was a red letter day in the history of North Shore lodge, A. O. U. W., Manchester, for on that evening there was a class initation of six candidates, the degree work being done by the degree team of Fernwood lodge, of Gloucester. On this occasion also some of the grand officers were present and delegations from Boston, Roxbury, Danvers, Salem, Beverly and Gloucester lodges, some 80 visitors in all, were guests of the lodge.

The initiation and floor work was conducted in a most creditable manner, the floor work in particular being of interest, for it was a new feature for many members here.

The guests were met at the station by a delegation of the local lodge members and were escorted to the hall amid a blaze of red fire. Following the initiation and floor work remarks were made by Grand Master Workman J. J. Ready, Grand Recorder C. C. Fearing, and other visiting brothers.

In the meanwhile a bountiful spread was being prepared in the banquet hall and a little before 10 o'clock the gathering sat down to tables well filled with food, including baked beans, cold meats, indian pudding, rolls and coffee, pastry, cake, etc. Cigars were afterwards passed.

After the supper some of the guests departed on the 10.15 Boston-bound train, while others returned to Gloucester on the 10.20. A few remained until the theatre train, a general good time intervening until midnight.

Much credit is due the Grand Master Workman, and Deputy George Anderson of Gloucester for the interest they manifested in bringing about a class initiation.

Some 43 friends of Miss Nellie Walen gathered at her home, School street, Tuesday evening to give her a "tin shower," and a genuine surprise it was, too, for though it was a delightful moonlight evening when Miss Walen left her duties at Floyd's and arrived at her home about eight o'clock accompanied by her fiance, Mr. Doane, a terrible storm was "brewing" at her home, and it "rained" hard and fast when she opened the door and saw the house full of friends. After the packages had been opened and the verses read a delightful evening was passed playing games, etc. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Prince, who have spent the winter in Southern France as usual, arrived home the latter part of last week, and are spending part of their time at "Princemere," East Wenham.

Mrs. S. Parkman Blake, who went abroad in January and has been travelling in Egypt, and her daughter, Miss Marion Blake, who went abroad in February to meet Mrs. Blake, are to return very soon and will probably spend the summer at their West Manchester estate.

Many North Shore ladies are included in the long list of patronesses for the three subscription concerts to be given at the Tuileries, Boston, in aid of the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children. The first was on Thursday morning of the past week, the program by the Leon Van Vliet concert company. The second will be next Wednesday at 11 a. m., when M. Pol Plancon will be the attraction, and the last on the 22d, when Leo Schutz, the noted 'cellist, will play.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Heaton are back to Beverly Farms after spending several months in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Eben D. Jordan and daughter, Miss Dorothy Jordan, were latest heard from at Cannes, France, on their extensive motoring tour.

Mrs. Gordon Hughes of Long Branch, N. J., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Thos. W. Pierce, who is now settled in the Larson cottage, Hart street, Beverly Farms.

Miss Frances H. Stearns, who has been spending the winter at the Brunswick, in Boston, was registered at the Manhattan hotel, New York city, the first of this week, and she has gone down to Atlantic City to spend the week-end. Miss Stearns plans to open her villa at Magnolia May 1.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Grew, who sailed some weeks ago for Europe, intending to pay a visit to their son and daughter-in-law in St. Petersburg, are still in Paris, where they were detained because of Mr. Grew's illness. They expect to return on the return trip of the Oceanic, which left Boston Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grew made the trip to Paris to see Mr. Grew's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Grew will come to their West Manchester estate the latter part of May.

The interesting feature of the session of the Essex probate court held in Salem Monday was the notice of the resignation of Col. George R. Jewett of Salem as executor of the will of the late Susan B. Cabot of the Beverly Cove summer colony. Col. Jewett was a beneficiary under the will to the amount of nearly a quarter of a million dollars. Mrs. Cabot died a year ago and the estate was well along in process of settlement. In place of Col. Jewett, the court appointed, at the request of the beneficiaries under the will, Neal Rantoul and John L. Saltonstall, and each has given bonds to the amount of $1,000,000. The causes of the resignation of Col. Jewett are not stated.

Reginald Foster of Coolidge's Point sailed Tuesday week for Europe to join Mrs. Foster who has been abroad for some time.

It is reported that a family by the name of Nichols will occupy the Henry W. Cunningham cottage at West Manchester this season.

Col. Franklin Haven Dead.

Col. Franklin Haven, a well known summer resident of Beverly Farms died suddenly at his home, 35 Beacon street, Boston, Tuesday night, of heart failure.

Col. Haven was president of the Merchants' National Bank Boston, and of the Boston Clearing House Association, and was regarded as one of the most industrious and conservative of the city's financiers. He was born in Boston, Oct. 11, 1836, son of the late Franklin and S. A. (Curtis) Haven. He was graduated from Harvard in the class of 1857. In 1859 he was admitted to the bar in Iowa and two years later in Massachusetts.

He served in the civil war as captain and aide-de-camp on the staff of Maj.-Gen. McDowell from 1862 to 1865, when he was made lieutenant-colonel of the 2d California cavalry.

Col. Haven was one of the most loyal North Shore residents. In fact his family was one of the first to be attracted by the charms of the Beverly Farms shore. The Haven estate is one of the largest on the whole shore, comprising some 80 acres, nine acres of which fronts on West Beach. The estate extends from the beach to the railroad station.

Col. Haven was a member of the Somerset, Union and St. Botolph clubs of Boston, the Essex County club at Manchester, the Country club at Brookline, the Harvard club of New York, the Massachusetts Military Historical Society and the Boston Society of Natural History. He leaves a widow, one brother, Edward Haven, and three sisters, Miss Haven, Mrs. Waldo O. Ross and Mrs. John Pierpont.

The Myopia Hunt club will have the services this season of John Jones, the famous golf instructor.

Herbert M. Sears and children are to move down to their cottage at Pride's the latter part of this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore sailed from Europe Wednesday and are to come at once to their Pride's estate.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Long Bremer are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son. Mrs. Bremer was Leslie Morison and for this winter the Bremers were at Mrs. Morison's house on Commonwealth avenue, while the family were abroad. They are now at their country home at Cohasset.

Association team matches is to be a feature in golfing circles the present season. The executive committee of the Massachusetts Golf association has completed its plans for the matches for which the committee will present a trophy. For convenience the committee has divided the association into eight sections. Clubs desiring to enter teams must notify the secretary of the association by May 1, after which date the executive committee will draw by lot the clubs that are to play each other in the different sections, and thereafter these teams shall continue playing off at match play until only one club remains in each section. All such matches must be decided by Aug. 15. After Aug. 15 the executive committee of the association will draw the winners of the eight sections to play off at match play until the contest is decided, which must be done by Oct. 1. All contests shall be for 18 holes match play, six singles and three foursomes, one point to be counted for each match and all matches to be played to a finish. In section 3 are: Essex County club, Myopia Hunt club, Salem Golf club and Tedesco Golf club.

Mrs. Greely Curtis of the Manchester Cove colony has just bought another house on Beacon Hill, Boston, which she will add to her three estates adjoining. The new purchase is the late Miss Florence Lyman's house, corner of Mt. Vernon and Walnut streets.

Mrs. Louis Curtis, Mrs. G. M. Lane, Mrs. George C. Lee, jr., Mrs. T. M. Rotch and Mrs. H. P. King are among committee of managers for the bridge tournament to be given at the Woman's Athletic club, Boston, on the afternoon of Easter Tuesday, the 21st, for the benefit of the Infants' hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward King and family of University Place, New York city, will spend the coming season in Manchester having leased the Edward Robinson place off School street, opposite the Essex County club. Last season the Kings had the Dodge cottage at Old Neck, hiring it for the summer from Mrs. C. A. Munn, who holds it on lease.

At a special meeting of the Eastern professional golfers' association held in New York city Monday, the association placed itself on record as being opposed to the Myopia Hunt club links as the scene of the next national open championship. A communication was drafted which was sent to the Western professional golfers' association, stating that it was the unanimous opinion of those present that a letter be sent to the Myopia Hunt club asking the latter if it intended or not to give the professionals better treatment than they received when the open championship was held there in 1905.

Among those sailing from Boston on the Canopic last Saturday were Alexander Cochrane, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Endicott, and Miss Minna Lyman, daughter of Hon. George H. Lyman of Beverly Farms, who will join Miss Amy Lowell and Miss Barabara Higginson.

ANNOUNCEMENT

MRS. L. T. B. WYATT

Announces to the public and the former patrons of the old-established "Wyatt's Market" that this season the market will be under the personal management of Mr. C. E. Buxton, and, as in the past, High Quality Goods and First Class Service will characterize the establishment. ¶In addition to Meats and Provisions, a full and complete stock of Strictly High Grade Staple and Fancy Groceries and Fresh Fruits will be carried this season, all at Boston market prices. ¶At this time she would respectfully thank all patrons for past favors and solicit a continuance of their valued patronage.

Orders will be collected every morning and given Prompt Attention.

Society Notes.

Mrs. C. S. Hanks and two children are at their West Manchester cottage for a few weeks.

Mrs. C. H. Munn, who sailed from Europe last Sunday, is expected to arrive in Manchester the first of next week.

Mrs. Agnes G. Fuller of Cambridge has renewed her lease of the Rabardy cottage at Manchester Cove for the coming season.

Signor Montagna of the Italian legation will be at Manchester again the coming season, having leased a cottage at Windemere Park.

Mrs. Thomas W. Pierce's stable of eight horses, principally saddle horses, were brought on from Long Island this week, to Beverly Farms.

Mrs. Joseph Proctor and Miss Anna Proctor are at Mrs. Stanley's on Summer street, Manchester, prior to opening their cottage on Sea street.

George E. Cabot's house on Masconomo street, Manchester, is being opened and the family will move down from town the latter part of next week.

Among the families who are planning to move down to Manchester the latter part of this month are the Gordon Abbotts on the 25th, Mrs. C. P. Hemenway on the 23d, and the C. W. Taintors on the 30th.

In Yachting Circles.

T. L. White has recently finished, at his yard in Manchester, an 18-footer designed by Small for John A. McKee. She is different from any of the other 18-footers from this designer's board and is intended for light airs and rough water. She has higher ends and an easier form than the Dorchen. She is a low-powered centreboard type of restricted 18-foot knockabout. She is double planked with Spanish cedar and is a very pretty boat.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I beg to announce to the residents of the North Shore that I have purchased from Walker Bros. & Co. the provision business conducted by them at Beverly Farms for the past twenty years, including their good will and trade. Having had twenty-five years experience on the North Shore, eight years as manager of Wyatt's Market, I thoroughly understand the selection of choice meats, fruits, vegetables, etc., carried by first-class markets. The business will be conducted under the name of Brewer's Market, which will be opened on or about April 20, 1908. I solicit your patronage.

WALTER P. BREWER.

Beverly Farms, Mass., Feb. 10, 1908.

We, the undersigned, certify that we have sold the good will and trade of our North Shore business to Walter P. Brewer.

The April meeting of the Wednesday Evening club will be held in the Chapel next Wednesday evening when Miss Van Volkenburg, who was the attraction at the March meeting, will appear again. The Columbus orchestra has also been engaged. So well was Miss Van Volkenburg liked, and so many expressions were heard in hope that she could be procured again, that the committee made a strong effort to get her again, though she planned to return to Detroit this week. She has had an engagement every night since she appeared here in March.

Samuel Knight, who has been in a very low condition all the past week, rested comfortably last night and is reported as holding his own this morning, though his condition is such as not to give very much encouragement for a speedy recovery. Dr. R. T. Glendenning is the attending physician, and Dr. Johson of Beverly has also been in attendance. Last Sunday a consultation of doctors was held, Dr. J. Munroe, one of Boston's best surgeons, and who is connected with the Carney hospital, being called in also. Peritonitis is the nature of the trouble. Mr. Knight's wonderful vitality, despite his 68 years, is responsible for his maintaining his own during the week. His daughter, Mrs. Ropes, and Mr. Ropes, and Dr. Augustus Knight of New York city, have been here all the week.

THE adjourned town meeting will be held in Manchester next Monday evening.

WHAT'S a boys time worth? There is food for thought on this subject in an article on the opposite page. Read it!

THE Sixth District republican convention to elect two delegates to the national convention, will be held in Now and Then hall, Salem, at 10 o'clock next Thursday.

SUCH delightful Spring days as yesterday are the kind to make people think of the North Shore. Greater activity is evident every day now, and before many weeks the North Shore will be itself once more.

MANCHESTER ought to appropriate $5000 for moth work at the adjourned meeting next Monday evening. If so the state will give $5000, and $5000 has already been offered by a committee of summer residents. $15,000 ought to accomplish a great deal of work. And Manchester workmen will get most of the money.

IT seems evident that deer are multiplying on the North Shore. Every day or two we hear of someone seeing a deer in the woods or grazing in some field. The night freight killed a deer on the track between Magnolia and West Gloucester not many weeks ago. There has been considerable complaint at West Gloucester lately of boys with dogs chasing deer and it would seem that measures should be taken to stop them. On the other hand the deer do no small amount of destruction to vegetation as it starts from the ground, and as the planting season is approaching, it would seem that farmers and others having crops, should have some protection against loss in this direction. Under the law they are powerless to do anything but frighten the creatures away from the fields.

THE great things that were predicted from the adoption of the three mill tax on intangible property, as desired by the recess committee on taxation, and subsequently reported to the legislature, have been summarily dissipated by the finding of the supreme court that the measure is unconstitutional. Manchester and all other North Shore towns would have suffered more than the towns in any other part of the state had such a bill passed. The bill provided for placing a small tax (three mills on a dollar) upon exempted property, on the reasoning that the gains in revenue from the willing uncovering of property heretofore concealed would produce a total in excess of the present collections, and it was on this principle that the question of unconstitutionality arose. The Salem News suggests that "it would have been interesting to note the operation of this sliding scale of honesty, up to a point where the levy became so objectionable as to promote wholesale perjury, but the supreme court finding has of course upset all chances in this quarter."

IN commenting on the appropriation by Congress of $250,000 for the extermination of the gypsy and brown tail moths, the Gloucester Daily Times says:

When one thinks of the denuded trees and wood of some sections when the pest first started and realizes that but for these stringent measures and the expenditure of money, the woodlands and shaded drives of Cape Ann and all along the whole North Shore would have been but a desert of barren, gray limbs, in summer time, he must admit that though costly, the work has been more than justified and that results have shown its value.

And now the National government comes out with financial aid to carry on the work. This, we suppose, means that the battle against the gypsy and brown tail moths will be continued with vigor and that part of the heavy expense under which the state, cities and individuals have been laboring, in this state, at least, for several years, will probably be lightened, and that while the same protection will be afforded and the same vigorous war kept up, the expense locally will be somewhat less.

This is as it should be, for with the continuance of the pest now admitted and regarded as a national evil, it is only proper that the national government should relieve localities of the cost of warding off the extermination, or a part of it at least, and assume the part of the burden itself.

Advertising Suggestions

Newspaper advertising is to business what hands are to a clock. It is a direct and certain means of letting the public know what you are doing. In these days of intense and vigilant commercial contest a dealer who does not advertise is like a clock that has no hands. He has no way of telling folks what he's at. He can no more expect a twentieth century success with nineteenth century methods than he can wear the same sized shoes as a man which fitted him in his boyhood.

Probate Court.

At the Probate Court, Salem, Monday inventories were allowed of the wills of Susan C. Rust of Manchester, $2962.46; Alexander Dow of Beverly Farms, $1800.19; Francis Dunn of Beverly, $6861, and John H. Woodbury, Beverly Farms, $5,824.

Called to Boston Church.

Rev. Dr. A. A. Berle of Salem, who took such a prominent part in the Gardner-Schofield Congressional fight two years ago this coming fall, has received a call to the Shawmut Congregational church, Boston, to succeed Rev. Dr. Wm. T. McElveen, who in turn goes to Evanston, Ill.

We call attention to the advertisement of the Gloucester Dye Works which appears in this issue for the first time. This concern, located at 3 Washington sq., Gloucester, make a specialty of carpet cleaning, and making old carpets into handsome rugs. Try them. *

WHAT IS A BOY'S TIME WORTH?

If Spent in Study It is Worth Ten Dollars a Day. Boys, Can You Afford to Waste Any of Yours?

At this season of year when everybody is busy all along the North Shore, and there is plenty of work for young and old alike, parents are very apt to let their boys leave school. The following article, which recently appeared in an educational publication, ought to make food for thought for all parents. The article was taken originally from a recent report of the State Superintendent of Education in Pennsylvania. He is anxious that the figures he submits be carefully considered by all boys and their parents.

"What is a boy worth? What is an education worth? An Indiana jury awarded $599.99 for the killing of a boy. A friend of mine, who is superintendent in West Virginia, called that award an outrage. I asked him why. He answered: 'To say nothing of the value of the boy's personality and all that a boy is to his father and mother and home, the commercial value of a boy's time at school is more than the award of that Indiana jury.' I asked him how he made the calculation. He said: 'You find the value of a boy's time at school by subtracting the earnings of a life of uneducated labor from the earnings of a life of educated labor.' Then he gave me a calculation that I have used this year before every institute, for I am anxious to get it into the daily papers, to have it carried to every schoolroom and put upon every blackboard, so that the pupils may carry it home and discuss it with their parents.

"He said: 'If an uneducated man earns $1.50 a day for 300 days in a year, he does very well; and if he keeps it up for 40 years, he will earn $1.50x300x40, or $18,000. An educated man is not generally paid by the day, but by the month and by the year. If you will strike an average of the earnings of educated men, beginning with the President of the United States, who earns $50,000 a year, the presidents of the insurance companies and of large railroad companies, and run down the scale until you come to the lower walks in point of earnings among educated men, you will admit that $1000 a year is a low average for the earnings of educated labor. For 40 years you have $40,000 as the earnings of an educated man. Subtract $18,000 from $40,000 and the difference, or $22,000, must represent the value of a boy's time spent at school getting an education.'

"Now, if $22,000 represents the value of time a boy spends at school getting an education, what is the value of a day spent at school?

"The average school life of every boy and girl in Massachusetts is seven years of 200 days each; let us say that it takes four more to get a good education. Reckoning 11 years of 200 days each, you will find that the 2200 days at school are equal to $22,000, and a simple division on the blackboard will bring it home to the comprehension of every boy that each day at school, properly spent, must be worth $10."

MEMORIALS

Discriminating buyers do not always buy at the lowest prices, but they get the most value for their money. A few cents or a few dollars added to the cost of a monument cuts little figure with a person looking for quality rather than cheapness. We always give quality here.

We also carry in stock Candy Slabs, Imposing Stones and Slate Chimney Caps all sizes.

MANCHESTER

The Committee on Water Supply, of the state, reported favorable on Wednesday, on the bill Manchester has before the legislature for using the waters of Round Pond in additional to those of Gravel Pond as a source of additional supply.

It is understood that if the town decides Monday night to spend $5000 in exterminating the gypsy moths in the woods, that Manchester men will be given the preference in doing the work, and that a large gang will be put to work at once. A total of $15,000 will be spent under the direction of the state.

"Aristocracy," by A. C. Needham. is making a great hit, it being used by one of the greatest character actresses on the Keith circuit. Mr. Needham's "Dreaming of Long Ago" is also meeting with much favor. One of the most popular vaudeville singers is using it. Both are published by the Metcalf Music Co. of Boston.

Go to Loomis. He'll fix it. *

Fred Gilson.

Fred Gilson, a native of Manchester, passed away yesterday morning at the Danvers Hospital, at the age of 57 years. He was a son of the late Richard C. and Mary F. (Lynn) Gilson, and was born May 31, 1851.

Funeral services will be held Sunday from the residence of W. H. Allen, Norwood avenue, at 2.15 o'clock.

Frank D. Allen.

Frank D. Allen, a well known resident of Manchester, passed away at his home on Summer street, in the Cove section, last Saturday after a lingering illness. He was 49 years of age.

Mr. Allen was a member of Conomo tribe of Red Men, Manchester, and of the Gloucester Aerie of Eagles.

Funeral services over his remains were held at the Village church, Magnolia, Tuesday afternoon, Rev. J. F. Libby officiating. A delegation from Conomo Tribe, and the Gloucester Aerie of Eagles attended. Many friends of the deceased attended and there was a profusion of floral pieces.

Following the services the Eagles performed their ritual at the church. The Red Men s burial service was held at Oak Grove cemetery in Gloucester.

WANTED--A RIDER AGENT IN EACH TOWN and district to ride and exhibit a sample Latest Model "Ranger" bicycle furnished by us. Our agents everywhere are making money fast. Write for full particulars and special offer at once.

NO MONEY REQUIRED until you receive and approve of your bicycle. We ship to anyone, anywhere in the U. S. without a cent deposit in advance, prepay freight, and allow TEN DAYS' FREE TRIAL during which time you may ride the bicycle and put it to any test you wish. If you are then not perfectly satisfied or do not wish to keep the bicycle ship it back to us at our expense and you will not be out one cent.

FACTORY PRICES We furnish the highest grade bicycles it is possible to make at one small profit above actual factory cost. You save $10 to $25 middlemen's profits by buying direct of us and have the manufacturer's guarantee behind your bicycle. DO NOT BUY a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone at any price until you receive our catalogues and learn our unheard of factory prices and remarkable special offers to rider agents.

YOU WILL BE ASTONISHED when you receive our beautiful catalogue and study our superb models at the wonderfully low prices we can make you this year. We sell the highest grade bicycles for less money than any other factory. We are satisfied with $1.00 profit above factory cost. BICYCLE DEALERS, you can sell our bicycles under your own name plate at double our prices. Orders filled the day received.

SECOND HAND BICYCLES. We do not regularly handle second hand bicycles, but usually have a number on hand taken in trade by our Chicago retail stores. These we clear out promptly at prices ranging from $3 to $8 or $10. Descriptive bargain lists mailed free.

COASTER-BRAKES, single wheels, imported roller chains and pedals, parts, repairs and equipment of all kinds at half the usual retail prices.

$8.50 HEDGETHORN PUNCTURE-PROOF SELF-HEALING TIRES A SAMPLE PAIR TO INTRODUCE, ONLY $4.80

The regular retail price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but to introduce we will sell you a sample pair for $4.80 (cash with order $4.55).

NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES

NAILS, Tacks or Glass will not let the air out. Sixty thousand pairs sold last year. Over two hundred thousand pairs now in use.

DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C. O. D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented.

Notice the thick rubber tread "A" and puncture strips "B" and "D," also rim strip "H" to prevent rim cutting. This tire will outlast any other make—SOFT, ELASTIC and EASY RIDING.

We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.55 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump. Tires to be returned at OUR expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination. We are perfectly reliable and money sent to us is as safe as in a bank. If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, wear better, last longer and look finer than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a bicycle you will give us your order. We want you to send us a trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer.

IF YOU NEED TIRES don't buy any kind at any price until you send for a pair of Hedgethorn Puncture-Proof tires on approval and trial at the special introductory price quoted above; or write for our big Tire and Sundry Catalogue which describes and quotes all makes and kinds of tires at about half the usual prices.

DO NOT WAIT but write us a postal today. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone until you know the new and wonderful offers we are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.

James B. Connolly, the writer, and Mrs. Connolly, spent last Sunday here visiting friends.

John M. Publicover attended the Republican Convention in Boston yesterday being the delegate from Ward 6.

James B. Dow was the principal speaker who addressed the Boys' club of the Baptist church, last Thursday evening.

James Davey, caretaker and gardener at the Bemis estate, has leased a suite of rooms of Mrs. Ann McKeigue on Everett street.

John M. Publicover has been appointed by Mayor Dow, as assistant engineer of the Fire Department to take the place of Eli R. Hodgkins, resigned.

Alfred Williams is home again after spending the greater part of the winter working at his trade as mason for Connolly Bros. at Cold Spring Harbor, L. I.

Frank Eldridge has given up his position with James D. Hooper, the carpenter, in order to resume work upon the estates of which he has charge. Joseph Rogers is working for Mr. Hooper.

Announcement is made of the coming marriage of Miss Margaret Tully, a well kown and popular Beverly Farms young lady, to Dennis Towle of Brookline which is to take place at Easter time.

"Blackie" the valuable spaniel dog belonging to Wilbur J. Pierce is no more. After being a sufferer for some days from a sickness from which recovery seemed impossible his sufferings were ended this week by chloroform.

Peabody field will be the scene of many a base ball battle again the coming season much to the gratification of the Beverly Farms "fans" who are now looking forward to the opening event whichc omes on April 20 (Patriot's Day) when there will be two games with the strong Woonsocket team.

Joshua Younger and Eli R. Hodgkins report that their trip on a fishing vessel from Gloucester to Portland last Saturday was a pleasant one. It will be remembered there was a fresh breeze and the trip was made in a little over six hours. Mr. Hodgkins, who is an enthusiastic ice boatman, declares this last voyage of his is equal to about any that he has had during the winter on the ice at Gravelly Pond.

Annual Gathering.

The annual social reunion of the Beverly Farms Baptist church and auxiliary societies, was held last evening in the church, and a most delightful occasion it proved to be. A pleasing entertainment was given, and a bountiful collation was served, and the affair proved a grand success in every way.

The Municipal club held a well attended meeting in Marshall's hall last evening.

Connolly Bros. have started work at the Groton school, Groton, this week in building a tennis court.

John J. McNeil has returned to the Farms after spending the greater part of the winter at Bar Harbor, Me.

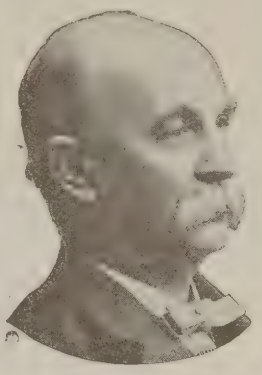

Mrs. Edwin H. Colby and son, of Nashua, N. H., returned home yesterday after spending a week visiting friends at the Farms.

A. F. Whitridge, for the past fifteen years with Walker Bros. at both their Boston and Beverly Farms stores, will be with John Daniels, the Central square dealer, for the summer.

The members of Preston Post and Associates, including invited friends, are looking forward with much anticipation to the entertainment which is being arranged for their enjoyment by the Woman's Relief Corps to take place on Tuesday evening next in Marshall's hall.

John Cannon arrived at the Farms this week and as usual will remain until next fall. Mr. Cannon lives at Jersey Heights, N. Y., where he owns a nice house and where his family live. With the coming of spring each year he comes to Beverly Farms and resumes his position as foreman with Connolly Bros.

The three Edwards brothers, Frank, Justin and Charles, who live in the Centerville part of Ward 6, are among the most skillful hunters in this vicinity, and each spring they send to Boston and New York hundreds of fur skins. Frank is about to sell for the London market a large number of valuable mink and sable skins, the result of his winter's trappings, while his brothers have a fine lot of fox and other native skins. Each spring these brothers send off to the fur markets large numbers of pelts that they have trapped and shot during the winter, and from which they realize handsome sums. It is said that some of the silver fox skins bring fancy prices, while the skunk skins, for which there is a large demand, also bring fancy prices.

The Embroidery class were entertained last Monday evening by Mrs. W. B. Publicover at her home on Hart street.

Miss Marion Bennett is back to her former position in charge of the bakery counter at Daniels', starting yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Cole of Pride's are being congratulated on the advent of a son to there family circle the later part of last week.

Lindsay Emery and family moved from Boston this week to a tenement on West street. Mr. Emery is with Wyatt's market for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Eben E. Morrill of Gloucester spent the past week at Preston Place as guests of Mr. Morrill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Morrill.

John L. Sullivan, of pugilistic fame, now on the stage, attracted a number of the male sex to the Salem theatre last evening, among them Dennis Donovan, who is getting points for the show to be given in Neighbor's hall on the 28th.

Another lively baseball game was played the first of the week between the Yannigans and the Red Sox, when the score was quite reversed, the Yannigans getting 21 runs to their credit to none for the Red Sox, despite the fact the latter imported a pitcher from Manchester for the occasion. Captain "Jerry" of the losing team went down five times at the bat against the "curves" of the Yannigans' pitcher. Capt. Gaudreau of the Yannigans, however, does not show any great improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Longley of Leominister moved to the Farms Wednesday, Mr. Longley having secured a situation upon a Pride's Crossing estate for the summer.

Miss May D. Connolly and Mrs. Chas. H. Trowt will have charge of the Farms' table at the fair for the benefit of the new hospital, which will be held the first week in June. Already plans are under way for making the fair a grand event.

The Sarah Wyman Whitman club were the guests Wednesday afternoon of Mrs. Edmund L. Knowlton on Vine street. After the business of the meeting had been transacted an hour was spent socially during which the members enjoyed several musical selections and refreshments. The club's next meeting will be next Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. L. Chapman on Haskell street.

John Daniels, under whose direction a concert and dance is to be given on Tuesday evening, April 28, for the benefit of St. Margaret's church, has received so much encouragement that he has secured Neighbor's hall for the occasion, so that all who desire may come. Mr. Daniels has had 500 tickets printed—gentlemen's, ladies' and children's—and he expects to sell everyone of them. The tickets are 50, 35 and 25 cents, respectively. The concert being prepared is to be of first class order, and as a leader Mr. Daniels has secured the Mudville Minstrels of Beverly—Jerome Crowley, Carl Larcom and James Shea. There will be other attractions, including a very funny black-faced sketch by Dennis Donovan and Wm. Holt; John Bresnahan will sing; Miss May D. Connolly and Mrs. J. H. Linehan will take part and Miss Mary Connolly of Prides' will give one of her acts. Long's orchestra of Manchester will furnish music for the dance.

Friends of Mrs. Peter Ward have this week received letters and souvenir postals from her stating she had had a pleasant voyage and safe arrival at Chapel Lane, Latham, Lancashire, England, where she is the guest of relatives and friends.

Charles Keefe of Ipswich this week moved his family from that town to the Farms, occupying a tenement in the Davis homestead, Preston Place. Mr. Keefe will be the gardener at the Oliver Ames estate, Pride's Crossing, this season.

The water department has completed the installation of the 6-inch water main through new Vine street and has also put in quite a section, replacing the old pipe on Hale street, commencing opposite the G. A. R. hall and running down the hill.

The winners at the Associates' whist party in G. A. R. hall last Friday evening, April 3, were: Miss Mary Bushee and Mrs. H. E. Morgan, first and second ladies' prizes, respectively, Frank Gaudreau and Charles H. Day, first and second gentlemen's prizes. Mrs. Frank Gaudreau took the booby prize for ladies, and Arthur Harlow, for gentlemen.

TREE PLANTING

roots that had been mutilated by the spade in taking up, suggesting that the roots should be cut upward with a very sharp knife. In digging holes for the trees, he said, make them only a little larger than the actual requirement of the root at the time of planting; avoid too many unnatural conditions. Over-loosening and mellowing of the soil tended to disintegrate it by making evaporation easy and the humus would be soon gone. Of course this did not apply to plants under glass. Plants feed as much from the clouds and atmosphere through the leaves as from the soil through the roots. With the average gardener he would not differ much in the matter of fertilization only that he was an ardent advocate of mulching. Mulch the roots and retain the moisture in the ground by preventing evaporation rather than watering the plant.

In pruning, he said, only do so to keep the tree symmetrical; do not throw away the growth of years for some old whim; keep the tree shapely but don't waste time in pruning. Evergreens should not be pruned at all. Nipping of the buds is the most successful method. Great care should be exercised with evergreens to keep them from drying up, when once taken out of the ground for transplantation. When once they become dry they will never thrive again. Evergreens like other trees are too often killed by the kindness of over fertilization. When the hole is prepared and the tree placed in position the greatest care should be given in packing the earth securely around the roots so as to exclude every particle of air. Air so left in a space around the roots is fatal to the plant. Do not water but mulch, he repeated, and, in summing up his remarks by a series of dont's, he said, don't dig to large holes, don't over prune the tree, don't water, but mulch and occasionally hoe and tickle the soil on top. In a few words on the treatment of lawns he cautioned against the excessive use of the hose and advised the application of a lawn dressing that would retain the natural moisture. For this dressing he gave a formula of two tons land plaster, one ton wood ashes and 500 pounds commercial fertilizer to the acre as the most successful treatment he could advise.

At the close of his talk he answered many questions and was extended a vote of thanks by the society. At the next meeting Peter Hylen will speak upon "Fruit culture,—grafting and budding."

generation, the chances are that he is a century or two behind it; that his discoveries are exploded or worn out theories of the past. Goethe said, if he had known when a young man of the masterpieces of Greek literature, he would never have written a line; this was an excess of modesty, but how much better than the egotism of many present-day writers who seem to think that the pathway to fame is to ignore the great creative minds of the past, and to reverse the judgment of the ages by rehabilitating the Neros, Tiberinses and Robespierres of history. Sainte-Beuve says that "from time to time we should raise our eyes to the hill-tops, to the groups of the immortals, and ask, What would they say of us?"

How remarkably a storm will clear the atmosphere of its vapors, so that we can see twice as far and as clearly as we could before; on the whole, perhaps, storms work more good than calms in the political and religious worlds, as well as in the material.

To sow and not to reap, to plant and not to gather into barns, to toil and see others enjoy the fruit of our labors; this is the lot of many, and often of the best of our race; what then? Shall we sit down and do nothing, and say, let those who come after us look out for themselves? Nay, verily; other men have labored, and we have entered into their labors; so to keep up the succession, and bind the generations into one, we must work on in our day though the night when it comes may find our work scarely begun; we do not live in vain, if we only clear the ground on which others may build.

The love of fair play, for which it has been said that the English are noted, is one of the elements of a strong and manly character; it ought to be regnant in our school-boys, as it was in Tom Brown at Rugby.

The life of Thomas Arnold, the great Head-master, who so reformed the whole public school system of England in his day, shows what a man may do who sets himself to some great task demanding all his powers, and holds himself to it, even though he sometimes seems to fail, and though many for whom he spends himself, body, brain and soul, are ingrates or are unable to appreciate him.

A scientist once said, when dying, "Now, I shall have all eternity to study in;" so with us all; if we do not throw away our opportunities, we may expect a boundless and ever-enlarging future in which to grow and advance under more benign skies and in more congenial environment.

The Best Decoration for a Dining Room is a Well-Cooked Dinner

And how easily this is obtained if you use a little judgment. The author of this verse alludes not to the sumptuousness of the meal, but to the cooking of it and hasn't he hit it about right?

How many times you sit down to a well cooked meal—plain as it may be—and my! how good everything tastes—of course, the lady of the house gets the credit, but is that where the credit belongs? Your wife perhaps is really a better compounder of foods than your hostess, but YOU'VE got the wrong range.

She's got a Crawford

And you ask what's the difference? Why, the very iron itself, the arrangement of the dampers, the construction of the flues, the asbestos lined oven, all these things which are scientifically correct and entirely different from all other stoves—and what, do you think? They cost you no more.

Demand Lamp and Bell Regulation.

Los Angeles papers are making a very reasonable fight on cyclists who evade the lamp and bell ordinance. The time is opportune, as the city recently adopted a traffic ordinance, which is about to be recalled for some amendment tinkering. The Los Angeles Examiner calls attention to the greatly increased number of bicycles now in daily use, and nightly use, and says that regulation has become imperative. The paper says that without lamps and bells, bicycles are the most annoying if not the most dangerous vehicles on the street.

GYPSY MOTH WORK.

Manchester in favor of Plan of Extermination in North Shore Woods. $5,000 appropriated. $15,000 to be spent under direction of the State.

Manchester has decided to go into the general plan of moth extermination in the woods back of the shore line, and to that end appropriated $5000 at the adjourned town meeting Monday evening. The state is advancing $5000 and a committee of summer residents has raised $5000 more by subscription,—making a total of $15,000. This will be spent under the direction of the state commissioner of moth work, A. H. Kirkland.

Aside from this no other business was transacted, as the meeting adjourned to next Wednesday evening out of respect to the memory of the late Samuel Knight.

The meeting was called to order by Moderator R. C. Allen at 7.45 o'clock. About 50 voters were present.

Chairman Edward S. Knight of the selectmen made the following report for the board,—or, at least, for a majority of the board, George L. Allen not being in favor of the plan:

"Citizens of the Town of Manchester,

"Gentlemen:—

"Your Board of Selectmen beg leave to submit a report upon the serious menace to the North Shore woods by the gypsy moth as found by the scouting work done by the State superintendent this winter.

"A comprehensive plan has been developed by which the state contributes one-third, the town one-third and one-third by private subscribers, the whole amount to be paid over to the state treasurer and the bills to be audited by the State superintendent of gypsy moth work.

"A proposition has been made to us that the state would contribute $5000, private subscribers $5500 conditional upon the Town of Manchester making an appropriation of $5000.

"We believe this to be a step in the right direction for the state to take up this work, and also that it is a good business proposition for the Town of Manchester to accept.

"We hereby recommend that the Town of Manchester appropriate the sum of $5000 for this work upon the conditions as out lined in this report.

"Respectfully yours,

"EDWARD S. KNIGHT,
WALTER R. BELL."

On motion of F. K. Hooper the report of the selectmen was accepted and the recommendation adopted. The vote was practically unanimous in favor.

Town Clerk Jewett then offered the following: "The citizens of Manchester duly mindful of the great loss sustained by the town in the decease of our highly esteemed and respected fellow citizen, Mr. Samuel Knight, and being desirous of showing their respect for his memory, do hereby vote that the chair appoint a committee of three to draft suitable resolutions to be presented at the adjournment of this meeting."

The following committee was appointed: A. S. Jewett, H. T. Bingham and O. T. Roberts.

F. K. Hooper said that feeling the town had sustained a great loss he moved that out of respect to the memory of Mr. Knight the meeting adjourn to Wednesday evening, April 22, at 7.30 o'clock.

SAMUEL KNIGHT DEAD.

Manchester's Leading Citizen Passed Away Last Sunday. Large Funeral Wednesday.

Samuel Knight passed away last Sunday afternoon at his late home, Central street, Manchester, at the age of 68 years, after an illness of about three weeks. He was buried Wednesday, funeral services being held at the Congregational church.

No death in recent years has been so generally lamented by the people of Manchester and vicinity as that of Mr. Knight. Besides being one of Manchester's oldest business men, highly honored and respected by all, he was what is justly termed Manchester's leading citizen.

Few men are held in such high esteem by business associates and the people in general, as was Mr. Knight, and the place he occupied in the community was well attested by the manner in which the townspeople, business men from neighboring towns and cities, came out Wednesday to the funeral. Despite the inclement weather the body of the Congregational church was filled. Business was suspended in the town most of the afternoon.

Samuel Knight was born in Manchester, Sept. 2, 1840, son of John and Harriet (Perkins) Knight. The family has long been resident in Manchester, and has been prominently identified with the history of the town. John Knight was a son of John Knight, sr., and was a tanner and currier by trade. For nearly forty years he was in business in Manchester, the tannery being located off School street, rear of the property where E. S. Knight's greenhouse is now located.

Samuel Knight was reared and educated in Manchester, and he began to learn the trade of tanner and currier at Chelsea when fifteen years of age. He worked there two years and then returned to Manchester and took charge of his father's business, managing it until 1872.

Since 1872, or, for the past 36 years,

If You Knew

The very best remedy for headache, would you hesitate to try it? Of course not. But how are you to know. You can't until you try. We know that Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve pain quickly. We know because we have asked those who use them. We have also asked druggists who sell them—and thousands of people recommend them to their friends. This brings it up to you—try them—at all druggists.

"Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills excell anything I ever used for headache."

MRS. J. W. COVINGTON,
Sharptown, Md.

If they fail to help, your druggist will refund the money on first package

25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in oulk.

Caretaker A. U. McCormack commenced his spring work at Singing beach Monday.

Two palefaces were adopted by Conomo tribe, 113, I. O. R. M., Wednesday evening. Three other applications have been received.

J. K. Pulsifer is having one of the stores in his block, Beach street, made into two stores, one of which will be occupied by a tailor, the other by a shoe dealer and cobbler.

Thomas Derosier of Lawrence, successor to Geo. F. Dyer, has an announcement in this issue, that he has opened Dyer's Auto Depot for the season, with a line of supplies on hand, etc.

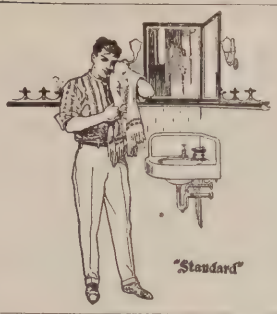

Walter E. Allen moved his household goods back to his former home in Leominister this week, where Mr. Allen will engage in market gardening. Mr. Allen has been caretaker of Mrs. W. Scott Fitz's estate, and in charge of her greenhouse on School street. It is understood Mrs. Fitz will sell her place on School street.

The many Manchester friends of Charles A. Lations of Beverly, son of J. P. Lations of this town, and who has been connected for fourteen years with the Smith-made suspender company of Boston will be interested to learn that he has accepted a position with the American Narrow Fabric company of Worcester and will have charge of the suspender production of this factory.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Rumrill are leaving Manchester the latter part of this month for a visit with relatives in British Columbia. They will leave shortly for a visit with relatives in the western part of this state before starting for the Pacific coast. As they like Manchester very much they plan to return in a year, and in the meanwhile they will keep in touch with their friends here by having the BREEZE, an ever welcome visitor, forwarded to them.

The death of Samuel Knight the past week removes the last but one of the old time tanners, in Manchester. John Desmond is now the only one left. Mr. Desmond took the foremanship of the Knight tannery when the late Samuel Knight gave up the work to engage in the coal and wood business. For more than half a century Mr. Desmond has been in Manchester and though he is now nearing the three-quarter century mark he is still active and retains a remarkable memory of the town as it was when he first came here. He took an active part in arranging the beautiful floral pieces at the cemetery Wednesday, as he did likewise at the time the father, and also grandfather of the late Samuel Knight died.

Mr. Knight had been engaged in the coal and wood business, later adding building materials, hay, grain, etc. He was a self-made man and the success he had met with was well earned by the untiring attention he gave to business and the strictly honorable methods he employed.

For the past generation or more Mr. Knight had been what might be termed "Manchester's leading citizen." He had always been deeply interested in the welfare of the town, ever working for the best interests. He early realized the importance of Manchester as a summer resort, and he ever worked with the view of making the town more attractive as a summer resort. His counsel and advice was sought on all matters of importance and though nearly 70 years of age his interest had not lagged; he took an active part in the last town election and town meeting. He was always very conservative in making recommendations that called for an expenditure of money.

He was for five years a member of the board of selectmen, assessors and overseers of the poor, part of the time as chairman. He had served also as a member of the water board, and he was a member of the committee at the time the original water works was installed in 1891. He was one of the leaders in advocating the introduction of this system, which has been of inestimable benefit to the town. He has served the town at various times on many important committees.

For a number of years he was moderator at town meeting, and he was at one time surveyor of highways.

In politics Mr. Knight was a Democrat, with independent proclivities.

He was a member of Magnolia lodge, 149, I. O. O. F., joining the lodge on the day of its institution, Aug. 2, 1869, though he was not one of the charter members. He was noble grand of the lodge in 1871.

Mr. Knight was one of the incorporators of the Essex County club, and was at the time of his death one of the grounds committee of the club.

He married Mary B. Carter of this town, who survives him, together with three children, Frank P. Knight and George L. Knight, both of Manchester, who were associates with him in business, and Mrs. J. Miller Ropes of Albany, N. Y.; also a sister, Mrs. Mary C. Emerson of Danvers, and three half-brothers, Edward S. Knight of this town, chairman of the board of selectmen; Augustus S. Knight, MD, of New York city and John C. Knight of Summit, N. J.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Congregational church, Rev. L. H. Ruge, pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. Francis A. Fate, a former pastor here.

The Weber Male quartet of Boston sang "Lead Kindly, Light," and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," during the service.

Rev. Mr. Fate paid a very touching tribute to the memory of Mr. Knight. "Mr. Knight was one of your foremost men," he said. "He was that first through his success in his own business. As the result of long years of honesty, integrity and sagacity you trusted him and had confidence in his integrity. We feel that in some way when a man has attained success in business that he has used the talent that God has given him; we have the feeling of divine service of work. I feel that the man who is organizing industry is serving God. I think God put us in this world for that kind of service.

"These men by doing the work of the world are ministering to men; it is divine service. Mr. Knight has been among you in Manchester as one of service; by building up his own private business he has been of service to you in the town.

"And then he was one of your foremost men by reason of his relation to public affairs. You have placed him in positions of responsibility. He has served the town in the best of his ability; his loss will be felt. He has made a gap in the public affairs of the town that will not be filled. Oh, how we miss these leaders when they are taken away from us!

"Mr. Knight was not a man who sought publicity. He acted upon his own convictions; he stood as he believed was for the best interests of the town. He was not a faultless man. Faults and failures mingle with us all. The great fields of eternity will be given to us in which we may attain the ideal. If God is our father, then we can trust Him for all that is beyond. We believe these experiences of life mean something and that our sufferings and toil here will mean something there.".

Rev. Mr. Ruge read two selections from the scriptures which seemed to be in harmony, he said, and carried out the thought of a continuation of life.

"The father of the community has passed away," said Mr. Ruge in his tribute to Mr. Knight. "A leader has fallen; a servant of the Almighty has gone to his reward. Human life is a mystic three-fold realm and it makes progress along these three lines, the home, the church and the state:—the family circle, the religious circle and the civic circle. Into these three circles God calls men as leaders; it is along these three lines that the Almighty is working. If this sort of man is not serving God today I don't know what man is. He will live in my memory as one of the best men I have met. At the end of his life he crowned that practical confession of Jesus Christ with a verbal confession of Jesus Christ."

The church was filled with friends, business associates, and relatives of the deceased, among those present being a number of the summer visitors.

The floral contributions were profuse and beautiful. The arrangement of the flowers was in charge of E. S. Knight. The pall-bearers were Oliver T. Roberts, William Hoare, George S. Sinnicks, Edward A. Lane, Fred J. Merrill and James Hoare.

Members of Magnolia lodge, 149, I. O. O. F., attended in a body and afterwards marched to the cemetery, where their services were conducted.

There are now three challenges lodged with the Corinthian Yacht club for the Quincy Yacht club challenge cup, and all have been accepted. The Manchester Yacht club has challenged with the new Boardman designed sonder boat built for C. H. W. Foster, and the Quincy Yacht club has challenged with a boat to be sailed by Charles Francis Adams, 2d, presumably the Manchester. The latest challenge is from the Boston Yacht club, which has named the Ellen, owned by Charles P. Curtis, jr. The defender will be the Vim, owned by Commodore Henry A. Morss.

T. K. Lothrop, jr., has entered in class D for the Bermuda race, his sloop Little Hope.

T. L. White has three of the five boats he is building for racing on the great lakes about ready to ship. The boats are 15-footers built along the same lines as those of the Boston Yacht club type of last season.

The current issue of Power Boating contains a five page article, with line drawings, on "The Auxiliary Yawl Mahdeena," which A. C. Needham of Manchester is having built at Wiscasset, Me., for this summer. The article is by William Lambert Barnard, an expert on yachting, who describes the auxiliary as "the economical mean between the operating cost of power and the wasted hours caused by head winds." Mr. Needham's new boat, the writer thinks, is about as good an example of this style of craft in a small design, as he has seen.

The boat is 38½ feet over all, 27½ feet water line, 11 feet wide (extreme) and has a draught of 5 feet.

Society Notes

George Lee and family are at their Beverly Farms villa for over Easter.

George E. Cabot and family are now settled in their summer cottage on Smith's Point.

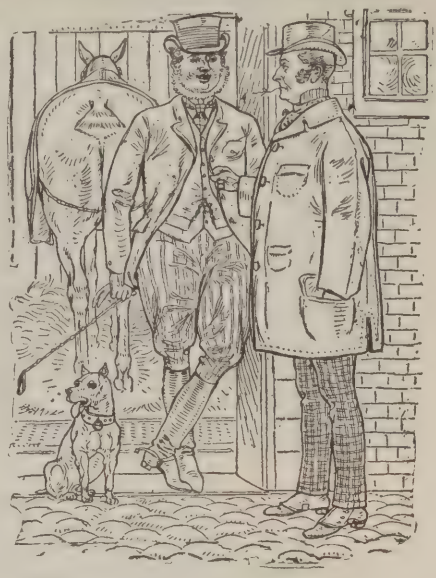

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Luke have returned to Boston from Atlantic City. They will move down to their cottage at Beverly Farms next week.

Mrs. Edward Wigglesworth returned to Boston the first of this week after spending the winter in Southern California. She will not open her house at Manchester until well along in May.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Head are moving up from Manchester next Tuesday to their Boston house, 412 Beacon street, where they will remain until the last of May. Their house here will be made ready for occupancy this season by the L. Z. Leiters of Chicago.

Dates have been set for the two weddings in the Fabyan family,—that of Miss Eleanor McCormack and Dr. Marshall Fabyan for June 3, and that of Miss Isabella Fabyan for Wednesday, one week later, June 10. The former will take place in Baltimore and Miss Fabyan's will be solemnized in Brookline, just prior to the time Mrs. George F. Fabyan moves down to West Manchester for the summer.

Seashore cottages are letting well for the season at Magnolia. Jonathan May, the real estate agent, says business is as good as usual, and the demand if anything is in advance of most years past. Mr. May has let the Foote cottage on Shore Road to Mrs. Clark of Jamaica Plain; J. L. Loose of Kansas City will have the Underwood cottage on the Shore Road; the Furguson cottage will be occupied by the T. C. Ducklows of Brookline; the Joslyn cottage, corner of Fuller street and Hesperus avenue will be occupied by a Mr. Reece and family of Cleveland. T. W. Preston of Boston will have the Appletree cottage on Fuller street.

The Frederick C. Winthrops have opened their summer home at Hamilton the past week.

Miss Katherine P. Silsbee is at her Beverly Cove summer home after an extended tour of the South.

Mrs. Robert deW. Sampson opened her cottage at Manchester Cove the first of this week, though she has not moved down yet.

Col. Harry E. Russell's cottage at Manchester Cove was opened the past week and Col. and Mrs. Russell will move down from town today.

Mrs. Gardiner M. Lane and her daughter, little Miss Catherine Lane, will spend the Easter holidays in Baltimore with Mrs. Lane's parents, Prof. and Mrs. Basil Gildersleeve.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace B. Stanton and family will go to their country home at Millis next week to remain until the last of June, when they will come to Magnolia for the rest of the season.

The funeral of the late Col. Franklin Haven was held last Saturday afternoon at his home, 35 Beacon street, Boston. The Rev. Howard N. Brown of King's chapel officiated. Interment was in the family lot at Mt. Auburn cemetery.

The United States open championship, in golf, is to be played on the links at the Myopia Hunt club, August 27 and 28. A map has recently been made of the course in connection with which one of the Boston papers makes the following comment: "Every feature of the links is brought out, and a study of them is only further confirmation of the view so frequently expressed by experts that at Hamilon the Myopia club has one of the best links in the world. The map is in colors, green for the fair green, yellow for sand, blue for water, and the topography of the country and its nature off the course are indicated by dots for the rough, by special lines for hillocks, by other lines for marshland and still other lines for rough slopes. Taking the features as they appear on the map, an application of the standard theories as to what constitutes a first-class links give Myopia the highest possible mark. In the length and arrangement of holes, in the number, variety and placing of the bunkers, in the nature of the rough and the hillocks, all of which can be determined by the map, the natural advantages of the country for golf and the brains which have been used during the last 12 years to bring the links up to its present standard become apparent."

THE democratic caucuses will be held next Wednesday. In Manchester the caucus is called for 7.30 p. m. in the Town hall.

No definite move has yet been made, as far as we know, toward raising a fund in Manchester for the Chelsea fire victims. While about every city and town in the county, and in this part of the state, have done something already, Manchester citizens have not made a start thus far. True, many of our summer residents have given large donations toward the general fund. It would seem that the citizens as a whole might like to contribute something to the fund, even though the contributions might not be large, and if someone would only take the initiative this privilege might be granted them. The BREEZE man called on Town Treasurer Stanley yesterday and asked him if he would be willing to take care of any contributions that might be left with him and we are pleased to announce that any contributions left with Town Treasurer Stanley, at the Town hall, would be promptly forwarded to the general fund for the Chelsea relief.

A NEW organization which promises to play an important part in the affairs of Essex county was started in Lynn last week. It is known as the Essex County Associated Boards of Trade, and is made up of the boards of trade of Beverly, Haverhill, Ipswich, Lawrence, Lynnfield, Peabody, Salem, Saugus, Swampscott and Lynn. The membership will be nearly 2000. Hereafter the different boards of trade in Essex county propose to work together. The first step will be to have the state establish agricultural schools in the county. A few years ago a law was passed providing for the establishment of 20 agricultural schools as preparatory for the Amherst Agricultural college, the terms being that any city or town asking for such a school could have it on paying half the expense, the state to pay the other half. No schools have yet been established.

Where is Manchester's Board of Trade? Should there not be some move made toward bringing about the organization of a Board of Trade, or the reorganization of the old board? There are many occasions when an organization of this kind would be a great benefit to the interests of the town.

And Improvements

Another valuable addition to the system of wood drives was started this week by a gang of men in charge of Addison Davis. The new road is to start at Preston Place, Beverly Farms, and continue through the woods to Valley street.

Work was started at Magnolia this week on the Hesperus avenue improvement.

Quite a transformation has taken place at the entrance of the avenue to Paine Place, otherwise known as Pride's Crossing avenue, which is directly opposite the crossing at Pride's station,—and all practically within a week or ten days. The avenue leads to the Moore, Swift, Thomas, Paine, and other estates. The change included the removal of the old piers which stood on either side of the driveway, and also the wing walls running in a half circle from them. In their place have been built upon practically the same lines magnificent new piers, and wing walls, built of cut block Rockport granite. Besides the main entrance there is an entrance for foot travellers. The whole affair is a splendid piece of work and makes a most attractive entrance. Little & Browne of Boston were the architects, and the builders were Connolly Bros.

Five cut stone gate posts have recently been set up at the entrance to the Spaulding gardens on Greenwood avenue, Beverly Farms, which gives an attractive appearance to this beautiful estate.

The magnificent estate at Hamilton, formerly owned by C. H. Perkins, has just been sold to the widow of Rear-Admiral Walker, who will soon occupy the same.

Prof. Norton Devises Fireproof Substitute for Wood.

"Prof. Charles L. Norton of the physics heat department at the Institute of Technology, has invented a fireproof wood that may revolutionize modern construction. This wood is made from short-fibre asbestos."

In addition to the above item taken from the BREEZE of April 4, last Sunday's Herald says about Prof. Norton's invention:

"In getting out of the ground and preparing for market the longer fibres there has been hitherto large waste and a great accumulation of short fibre, so that the 'dumps,' as they are called, from the asbestos mines extend over great areas and have become a great nuisance and expense.

"This condition came to the attention of Prof. Norton while attempting to make a fireproof substitute for wood and he succeeded in making from this very short or refuse asbestos a substance which has been called 'asbestos wood.' It possesses the properties of wood to a certain extent, for instance, in that it may be sawed, planed and drilled with the same tools and with the same speed with which hard wood can be worked.

"It is gray in color, weighs from 50 to 75 per cent. more than the softer woods, but not much more than oak and about one-half as much as slate, the weight of an inch board 12x12 inches being about eight pounds. Its fibre strength under transverse loads is about three-fifths that of white pine, but the 'asbestos wood' having no knots or shakes and having also the same strength in both directions, there being no grain, has for many purposes quite as effective a strength as ordinary wood."

Prof. Norton is a resident of Manchester, though he has been living since last fall in Nashua, N. H.

Poultry Association Elects.

At the annual meeting of the Essex County Poultry association held in Beverly Tuesday night Walter R. Bell of Manchester was elected secretary to succeed Arthur Elliott who has served in that position for so many years. E. J. Semons was elected assistant manager of the big show to be held in City hall, Beverly, next fall. Edwin P. Stanley was elected one of the vice presidents, and Wm. F. Roberts, Austin Jones, F. F. Brasch, E. J. Semons were elected on the board of managers composed of members from all over the county.

Business Men's Association.

A meeting of the Business Men's association was held in Beverly Monday evening. Among the matters of business was the appointment of a committee to draft resolutions on the death of Andrew Standley of the Farms, and Samuel Knight of Manchester, members of the association.

Motor Boat Laws.

As only a few weeks remain now before the motor boat season will be on in full force along the North Shore and owners of launches, etc., will have their boats in the water, information regarding the requirements of the federal laws may be of interest. Especially so, as it is generally understood that the government is preparing for stricter enforcement of the law on the subject. The printed laws have the following provisions:

A bell, whistle, lights, horn, and if passengers are carried for hire, life preservers are required on motor vessels as on steam craft.

The bell must be of bronze, brass or other metal equal thereto in tone and volume of sound, but if the craft is under 10 tons gross burden, the bell may be of not less than six inches in diameter. If the vessel is larger, then an eight-inch bell is required.

Every vessel, the law says, must have a whistle, which if not blown by steam must be blown by compressed air or other power, and must be capable of giving a blast of from four to six seconds duration and of being heard half a mile.

The regulation running lights required are a white bow light, starboard side green light and a port side red light, and also a stern light of white, seven feet over the deck. A white anchor light must be carried. On very small power boats, on which it is impracticable to fix the side light, a combination red, green and white light at the bow is permitted to take the place of the bow and side lights. The bow and side lights, if used, must be constructed according to prescribed regulations as to screening and must have lenses 5x6 inches.

The horn must be carried in addition to the whistle, and not as a substitute for it. A fisherman's tin horn, costing from 25 to 50 cents, meets the requirements.

If passengers are carried for hire, motor boats must have one life preserver for every person aboard and the vessel must be in charge of a licensed operator.

Everything Seems So Good

We'd like to crowd it all into the paper at once, but of course, economical management prohibits that, so we have to show a little partiality as we go singling out this thing or that to tell you about. Just wish we could impart in some way our knowledge and enthusiasm over things to you, don't know how we would manage to handle business though, we are now having about all we can do. Things never sold cheaper, or looked half so well. Just run through this list and judge for yourself.

MANCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. George Gardner, jr., of Salem, have been visiting their cousin, Mrs. A. E. Hersey the past week.

A baseball game is scheduled for next Monday afternoon at the Essex County club between the Manchester Crickets and a team from Essex.

At a meeting of the N. S. Horticulturary society last evening a committee was appointed to draft resolutions on the death of the late Samuel Knight.

Axel Magnuson has given up his work as gardener at the Black estate, Smith's Point, so that he may devote the whole of his time to his florist business. Mr. Craven succeeds him.

Yesterday morning's Herald in its account of the congressional convention in Salem had among numerous cartoons and pen drawings one showing E. P. Stanley, who is always one of the chief figures at the county and district conventions.

Very Fortunate for Him.

Lester Morris, so popularly known in Manchester, having been connected with the Cheever Drug Co. until a few weeks ago when he went to Chelsea to take charge of a store he had bought there, we are very pleased to report was one of the very fortunate ones in the recent Chelsea fire disaster.

Mr. Morris just escaped. His store escaped the path of the flames by less than a block. He is located on the corner of Broadway and Second street and the fire extended to the block between Third and Second.

Since the fire Mr. Morris has been doing a "land office" business. His is the only drug store left in that part of the city. Seven doctors who were burned out have been making his store their headquarters, and the six or seven clerk in the store have been kept on the hustle ever since the fire. Many of his Manchester friends have called on Mr. Morris during the week to extend congratulations, and Alfred Walen is at Chelsea for a while working for Mr. Morris. F. G. Cheever was there Thursday night also helping him out.

Last Tuesday six past noble grands of Liberty Rebekah lodge attended the Past Noble Grands' association at Lynn.

Their 20th Anniversary.

William Jeffrey colony, Pilgrim Fathers, observed its 20th anniversary Monday evening, on which occasion a most delightful evening was passed by the members and their guests. At 6 o'clock all sat down to a turkey supper served in the banquet room, and after the supper three candidates were initiated. Following this part of the meeting Prof. Maynard, the blind musician and singer entertained, and speech-making was in order.

Supreme Governor E. O. Foster of Salem was present and gave a very interesting talk. Among other things he said that two of the colonies in Chelsea had been burned out at the big fire Sunday. It was voted that the local colony be represented in the general relief work with a subscription of $25. This was raised on the spot and it is likely $25 more will be sent later.

Automobiles Collide.

The first automobile accident of the season at Manchester occurred last Sunday when the automobiles of Dr. Irving H. Pomeroy and Walter Cressy, both of Gloucester, came in collision on Summer street, on the east side of the overhead railroad bridge. Though both machines were somewhat damaged, fortunately none of the occupants of the cars were injured.

Dr. Pomeroy had in his car his family and a Miss Woodbury, while Mr. Cressy had his wife, two daughters and Frank H. Shute in his car. When near the bridge the lamplighter was proceeding in the direction of Manchester, and it was in the effort to make room for his vehicle that the autos came together.

The tops of both cars and the hubs of both on one side were damaged. The machinery of both cars was not damaged, however, and they proceeded on their way.

Wednesday Evening Club.

The April meeting of the Wednesday Evening club, Manchester, was held in the Chapel Wednesday evening, and despite the rain the room was crowded. Miss Van Volkenburg, who gave such a delightful entertainment at the March meeting, was the principal attraction again this month, while a small orchestra from Boston rendered selections both before and at the conclusion of Miss Van Volkenburg's appearance.

Miss Van Volkenburg's imitative interpretations of modern plays, continues to attract much attention in Boston and vicinity and the demand for her has been so great that she is putting off her return to Detroit until next month.

It will be remembered that she gave "Merely Mary Ann," one of Eleanor Robson's plays when she was here in March; but this time she presented "Sundae," as given by Ethel Barrymore and her company. It is as good as attending a theatre to see and hear Miss Van Volkenburg. She brings the whole play vividly before her audience. She pictures the scenery and you can almost see the doors open as the characters enter and leave the stage. There may be two or three, or perhaps six characters on the stage. Some may be seated in chairs, others sitting on the table, or leaning against the mantle. Miss Van Volkenburg takes the part of one and all the characters at once. She is the pretty, demure "Sundae" in one breath, and in the next the gruff miner, while in the next breath she is a simpleton asking "why didn't you say good-bye."

It is perfectly wonderful how Miss Van Volkenburg can imitate all these characters and continue it throughout a whole play. It is conceivable how she could remember the wording of the play, but the wonder of her work is the manner in which she portrays the characters, and much of the detail of the whole performance such as one would see it in the theatre.

She was heartily applauded when she had completed her presentation.

The orchestra played the following numbers:

Behind the Hounds March.
The Holy City.
The Merry Widow Waltz.
How Could You Love Another.
'Tis Not True.
Dreaming.

Wilfred Newell, who recently came here from California, is one of the new gardeners at Greenwood Farm.

Rev. C. S. Pond will preach an Easter sermon at the Baptist church tomorrow morning. In the evening the usual Easter concert will be given.

Another game in the interesting series was played the first of the week between the Yannigans and the Red Sox. This time the Red Sox were winners by a large score,—16 to 2.

Preston Relief Corps royally entertained the members of Preston post, 188, the Associates, and invited guests in Marshall's hall, Tuesday evening. The affair had been looked forward to with much pleasure and certainly none was disappointed for a delightful evening's entertainment was given. The first of the evening was devoted to an entertainment at which the following talent contributed: Miss Annie K. Holmes, piano; Miss Mabel Sandstrom, Beverly, recitations; Miss May D. Connolly, solos; Miss Gertrude Connolly, exhibition of indian club swinging and piano selections; Miss Mary Connolly of Pride's, readings; Miss Nellie Fay, Boston, violin; Master Thomas Fay, Boston, drum; Master Richard Graver, recitations, and John Bresnahan, songs. The latter part of the evening was passed in a social way, refreshments being served.

WHISPERINGS

"Force of habit" may be attributed as the cause of the exhibiton furnished a short time ago, by one of our Beverly Farms citizens, whisperings of which have just reached the Whisperer's ear. Looking backward to the days of his youth it can be remembered that this gentleman made quite a reputation as a sprinter and especially so upon one occasion, when there was "a greased pig race" on a certain holiday. He, out of the large number of contestants, caught the runaway pig after a hard tussle amid the applause of a crowd of spectators, although is said that the animal was so frightened that it never grew after that day. History repeats itself in part, at least, for his affection for the swine family still exists as he now keeps a few of them in his barn cellar. The other day one of the most active ones succeeded in getting out and the cries of "Jack, Jack, the pig is out" quickly brought him to the scene with all the old time enthusiasm and spirit aroused. And then followed a race that was good to see, for the pig was determined to make its escape and the pursuer was equally determined that it should not. Betting for some time was about even, but in the end the good old sporting blood, combined undoubtedly with his professional knowledge, had the desired effect and the pig was finally captured, but not without its disadvantages, for many were the signs of battle in the shape of bruises, cuts, scratches, and torn clothes. But while congratulations have been in order since the occurrence the serious question now in our friend's mind, which no doubt is causing some worry, is as to the probability of this experience stopping the pig's growth.

D. M. Knight is advertising that he is agent for the "Star Wet Wash" of Beverly and that clothes taken in the morning are returned in the evening. *

ANNOUNCEMENT

I beg to announce to the residents of the North Shore that I have purchased from Walker Bros & Co. the provision business conducted by them at Beverly Farms for the past twenty years, including their good will and trade. Having had twenty-five years experience on the North Shore, eight years as manager of Wyatt's Market, I thoroughly understand the selection of choice meats, fruits, vegetables, etc., carried by first-class markets. The business will be conducted under the name of Brewer's Market, which will be opened on or about April 20, 1908. I solicit your patronage.

WALTER P. BREWER.

Beverly Farms, Mass., Feb. 10, 1908.

We, the undersigned, certify that we have sold the good will and trade of our North Shore business to Walter P. Brewer.

Burglar Scare at Beverly Farms

Thursday morning about two o'clock Officer Ellis went to the back of F. W. Varney's drug store at Beverly Farms and as he went through the yard he saw a man who was acting suspiciously. He called the man, and the fellow started to run. The officer fired a shot in the air, but the fellow kept on over a plowed field and down the railroad track toward Pride's.

A little later Officer Stone found an overcoat near the place in which were two letters, one addressed to Robert Griffith, and the other to Thomas Griffith. A light felt hat was also found which had evidently blown off the fellow's head when he ran away.

A little investigation soon revealed the fact that Robert and Thomas Griffith were employed at the Loring farm, and Chief Furguson being notified paid a visit to the Farms and took both men to the station.

At the drug store it was found that an attempt had been made to enter. Beneath a rear window was found a drill and this drill had a peculiar mark. It was found later to have been taken from the Loring farm. The store had not been entered.

At court Thursday Thomas Griffith, charged with an attempt to break and enter F. W. Varney's store, was held in $500 and the case was held until today.

A PREACHER TO THE TIMES.

BY D. F. LAMSON.

Hugh Latimer, "sometime Bishop of Worcester," who with Ridley suffered martyrdom under Queen Mary in 1556, was emphatically a "preacher to the times." He preached to men's business and bosoms, he hit straight from the shoulder, he did not beat about the bush, he handled both his subject and his hearers without gloves; with him a spade was a spade always; he did not hold that language was invented to conceal thought. He was no courtier or "trimmer," he was not afraid to tell kings and nobles just what he thought of them, and some of his sermons to clowns and yokels at St. Paul's cross must have made the ears of all them that heard them to tingle. His humor was sometimes a little broad, and his language sometimes coarse; but the age of the Plantagenets was not an age of refinement in manners or speech. If he was sometimes blunt, however, he was never finical; if he did not cultivate the amenities, he did not preach to tickle or captivate his hearers. His style would have hardly passed muster with critics of the school of Addison and Pope, but for racy, idiomatic English, for language that could be "understanded of the people," for mother-wit, keen invective, forceful argument and cogent appeal, Latimer is perhaps unsurpassed in the long roll of England's great preachers.

There are many things in his sermons that throw light on the habits and customs of his day, some of which are significant of the great changes in social life of the past three or four hundred years, while others remind us that human nature is a pretty constant quantity, that does not change as habits and customs and fashions in dress change. It seems that there were lawyers in Latimer's time, and that sometimes they were the gentry that profited most by lawsuits. In the first sermon preached before King Edward the Sixth, March

PURCHASE OF ELECTRIC PLANT

Considered by Manchester Voters at Adjourned Meeting. Committee appointed to investigate. Company Refuses to Extend Further Option. Pine Street Layout rejected. Resolutions on the Death of the late Samuel Knight.

At the adjourned town meeting in Manchester, Wednesday evening, the matter of purchasing the Manchester Electric Co. was considered, though definite action in this direction will be withheld until an adjourned or special town meeting later on. The committee appointed at the March meeting reported that the company would not extend the option which the town has of purchasing the plant, expiring on Sept. 18, of this year.

The company agrees, practically, to sell its plant to the town for $150,000, which is nearly $50,000 less than its actual cost. E. S. Knight, F. K. Swett and James Hoare were appointed a committee of three to investigate, and $300 was appropriated for its use.

The matter of Pine street relocation and layout was also brought before the meeting and after some discussion as to awards the layout was rejected. This means that the whole matter will be gone over again, as the necessity of widening the street and relocating some of its lines is very apparent.

Resolutions on the death of the late Samuel Knight were also adopted and Roland C. Lincoln paid a grand tribute to Mr. Knight's memory in moving the adoption of the resolutions.

When the meeting was called to order at 7.40 by Moderator Allen there were less than 50 voters present. This number was swelled a little, however, later on.

Art. 45, option on purchase of electric light plant was the first business taken up. F. K. Hooper, chairman of the committee appointed at the March meeting to wait on the company and see if the option on the plant expiring on Sept. 18, 1908, could be extended, reported briefly as follows:

"The Manchester Electric Co. deem it inexpedient to extend the time on which said option expires, which is more fully explained by a letter from the president of the company herewith submitted."

O. T. Roberts is president of the company and Mr. Hooper read a letter from him in which Mr. Roberts said that the real power to extend the option was in the hands of the stock-holders, although the directors felt morally certain that the stock-holders were not willing to extend the option and the directors felt it useless to call a meeting to take up the matter.

Mr. Hooper also read a lengthy letter from Philip Dexter one of the directors in which Mr. Dexter said that the directors felt the town ought to decide now whether or not it would buy the plant, though there was no necessity of paying for it immediately. The company was started originally out of public spiritedness and the stockholders were now willing and ready to sell, even though they would have to sell at a loss. While the company has not made any money thus far, the plant was now on practically a paying basis. The very best of everything had been used in establishing the plant, wires had been put underground, etc.

Mr. Dexter suggested that if the town agree to buy, payment might be postponed two years and thus overcome the difficulty of payment until the new water supply was settled. The desire of the directors is to know to whom they are going to sell, when and how much. The plant has cost $200,000 in cash and the company would sell for $150,000, payable in two years without interest.

Mr. Hooper said further that the company had one or two interested parties

It's Nerves

That make life worth living—when they are all right. But when weak or exhausted it's different; some of the organs do not get enough nerve energy. Their action becomes weak. The penalty is aches, pains and misery. Dr. Miles' Nervine restores nervous energy. It establishes normal activity, so that nature can correct the irregularities.

"Dr. Miles' Nervine has completely cured me of nervousness and indigestion. I suffered untold misery for months. The first half bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine relieved me. I have used 7 bottles in all, and now I feel as well as ever, eat heartily, digestion good, nerves strong, sleep well." MRS. MOLLIE. FLENOR, Campbell, Texas.

RESOLUTIONS

Town of Manchester

Citizens of the Town of Manchester:—

Your committee appointed to prepare and present Resolutions on the death of the late Samuel Knight respectfully submit the following:

WHEREAS: Occasions arise in the life of a community as in the life of the individual when some solemn event causes a halt in the forward march, in which we take a retrospective view, while at the same time we try to lift the veil of the future, and

WHEREAS: The Divine power that shapes human destinies has called a leader and esteemed fellow townsman from among us, and as it is eminently fitting that we should place upon record our sense of appreciation of his services and our feelings of regret for our loss in his death, therefore be it

RESOLVED: That in the death of Mr. Samuel Knight the town suffers the loss of one of its most loyal, intelligent and public spirited citizens.

That he represented in a marked degree that strong, sturdy New England manhood now fast passing away.

That he was a man of strong convictions and moral courage equal to any occasion.

That while he often raised his voice like a clarion note against what he considered wrong, the unfortunate and those in need found him a friend indeed.

That only occasionly is a man of Mr. Samuel Knight's mental calibre and executive ability born in a community whose time and talents are given so freely as were his to the town he loved and to whose service he was so often called.

That whether he served in the public affairs of the community or in the less conspicuous relations of private business he was a manly man, whose place in the great body politic is not easily filled.

RESOLVED: That his fellow townsmen fully realize and deeply deplore the loss to the public at large.

That the people of this town will ever hold in grateful remembrance the clear sightedness, integrity and sterling business qualities displayed for many years by our late fellow citizen, Mr. Samuel Knight.

RESOLVED: That by our formal action we hereby extend our deepest sympathy to the relatives and friends of the deceased, trusting that in their overshadowing sorrow they may find some consolation in knowing that his personal qualities and the worth of his public services are properly appreciated.

RESOLVED: That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the town and that an engrossed copy of the same be sent to the family of the deceased and that they be also published in each of the local papers.

MANCHESTER

Prof. W. S. C. Russell is to give his illustrated talk on Labrador next Monday evening in a course of lectures at the Salem Y. M. C. A.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. G. Perkins, Sea street, had as guests over Easter Mr. Perkins' sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Whitaker of Everett.

It is understood the School Committee has appointed a successor to Supt. of Schools Fish, and that the new superintendent will take up his work at the close of the present term.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Mitchell are to occupy the John Collins house on School street. Mrs. Collins has sold her household effects and will make her home in Salem with her daughter, Mrs. Smith.

Harry Morgan has moved his household effects to the Isral Andrews estate, South Essex.

J. J. Gorman is foreman in charge of work being done on the Dr. Louis Bremer estate, Cohasset, by Connolly Bros.

The initiative was made yesterday in the organization of a Woman's club in Manchester, when a meeting was held at the home of Mrs. E. S. Knight, School street. Mrs. Harriet Kimball Harris, president of the Salem Woman's club was present and outlined the work. It is understood the club membership will be limited to 50. Another meeting will be held later to perfect organization.

In Yachting Circles.

A new and rather odd float is being built at the W. Starling Burgess company's yard, Marblehead, for Mrs. E. C. Swift of Pride's Crossing. The buoyancy is obtained by four iron floats in the form of inverted truncated cones, on which the usual wooden floor is to be laid. This float is to be used at the Pride's Crossing shore, and is expected to withstand the southeasters of which that shore receives the full force.

EASTER AT THE MANCHESTER CHURCHES.

Easter was recognized at the Manchester churches last Sunday by appropriate services. At the Congregational church in the morning the pastor preached a strong and inspiring sermon on "The Resurrection." In the evening a special Easter song service was given, including congregational singing for the first half hour, followed by a cantata, "The Crucified," as printed last week. The evening concert was arranged by Mrs. R. C. Allen. Potted plants was distributed to the children of the Sunday School, and Easter lilies were sent the sick of the church.

At the Baptist church Rev. E. H. Brewster preached in the morning on "The Witness of the Church to the Resurrection." The children's concert, as announced last week, was given in the evening.

The singing of Furmanik's Mass was a feature of the Easter services at the Sacred Heart church. The choir which had been well drilled by the Rev. Fr. Powers, did splended work. Rev. Edward Corbett of Boston delivered a sermon on the feast. In the evening the choir sang Dethier's "Tantum Ergo," and the Gregorian "Laudate Dominum." Harry S. Tappan sang "O Salutaris Hostia."

THE RESURRECTION.

"I Am the Resurrection and the Life." John XI: 25.

BY L. H. RUGE.

Pastor Orthodox Congregational Church

This was a striking, startling claim that Christ made for himself. But he substantiated this claim by not only raising the dead, but by coming forth from his own sealed tomb.

We sometimes question this marvelous event. We fail to see the grandeur of it. We look at life as the Chinese look at nature. We fail in the principle of divine prospective. The Chinese artist cannot make his eye take in the prospective and so he paints nature as a flat screen. He lacks the faculty of taking in distances. Many souls lack the spiritual faculty of eternal distances and never see beyond the present time. But the soul that sees beyond the plains of earth sees the glorious prospects of eternal life in which the resurrection is simply a common incident. Look up, look beyond!

The difficulties of demonstrating the resurrection are admitted. Science is always a hard reasoner especially for the blind and inexperienced. But the difficulties are no greater for the spiritual scientist than for the materialist. We accept the law of gravitation on less evidences, than we do the resurrection.

Resurrection of body is simply recreation of body. What reason is there for a man being here at all? There is more reason for the body to continue to exist than that it should exist in the first place. Its creation is more marvellous than its re-creation. Its creation is presumptive evidence of its re-creation.

God created the body, gave man intelligence and personality. This identity that God gave us he preserves. The law of the soul shapes this identity and given the same soul in re-creation that law will re-establish that identity, only, however, more perfectly. The idea of resurrection is simple. It is only a copied idea taken from creation of what is already.

The historical record favors the resurrection. The disciples of Jesus recorded the fact that Jesus arose from the dead. They suffered and died asserting this fact. Men have died for an error, but died believing the error to be true, but no man ever died for an error knowing it to be an error. Men make no such sublime sacrifices as the disciples made for a lie. No sane man would thus die defending a lie. To believe this requires greater credulity than to believe the resurrection.

Paul, the sane, cultured scholar, dared to stand before King Agrippa and assert the fact, saying, "The King knoweth of these things for none of these things were done in a corner." It was a well authenticated fact in Paul's day. We hear not a single denial of the historic fact by contemporaries of Paul, therefore his testimony has splendid weight. He is imprisoned and about to be executed, but with assurance and conviction born of knowledge he says, "Jesus hath abolished death and brought life and immortality to light." The prison walls fade away, the chain melts from his wrist, and Caesar's tribunal, its pomp, its soldiers, its decrees, its executioners are but fantastic shadows compared to the greater reality for he has the faculty of the spiritual prospective. So above the shadowy, shifting views of others, above their suspicious speculations, he declares the fact of Christ's resurrection as one of the steadiest axioms of his knowledge.

Science itself has demonstrations of the resurrection. This is the season of nature's resurrection. The decayed grain of wheat demonstrates it. The dew-sprinkled blossoms are swarming with life fresh from the tomb and preach a sermon on the resurrection that staggers science itself. Go ask that little airy creature on gorgeous wing to tell you its history and then go on and deny the story of the resurrection. It was a worm, it crawled on the earth, it fed on the earth. Now in its resurrection it sips the honey of a thousand blooms and lives in a higher realm. If man's body is doomed to the earth then it is lower in the order of creation than the worm. Think of it, a marvelous transformation bestowed upon a worm that is denied to man!

Listen! One of the most remarkable discoveries of science is that there is life on earth that is deathless. We have a scientific demonstration of immortality on earth. This deathless life is in the one-celled organism. It is in the rudimentary principle of life. Weirsmann declares that natural death occurs only in the many-celled organism but is not found in the one-celled organism. Newman Smith says the one-celled organism does not exist for a time, produce another like itself and then die, it lives right on. It divides itself and thus may be said to live in double form, but it does not die. Science here gives evidence that death is not an essential attribute of nature, but rather that life is the essential attribute. Death is then not a primary, but a secondary and incidental event in nature.

If we carry the argument into the spiritual realm it is even stronger in favor of the resurrection. The idea, the hope, the demand for immortality,—call it what you will,—is inherent in the soul. It is the key note in music, it is the Master Chord. No great art portrays death as a finality. The soul of the Master resists the idea of death. Always when genius paints or chissels it expresses immortality, life. The music and art that lacks this is dead music, dead art. It strikes a discord in the still air, it hangs a fall over the mid-day sun.

In the supreme moment of mortal peril the soul feels no fear. We may live in terror of the coming of death but when he comes we fall gently asleep in his arms like a child seeking a sweet period of rest. If the physiologist has a reason for this so has the psychologist.

You could tear the Diety from his throne as easily as you could tear the instinct from the soul that it will awake from that which Jesus rightly named a sleep. This instinct of immortality is the key to every metaphysical mystery.

The materialist tells us there is no freedom or intelligent choice in mere nature; that everything grows out of inexorable law and develops into harmonious completeness, but here, without immortality nature is defeated and the materialists argument is nil.

This truth of the resurrection is fundamental in Christianity. The whole structure of the church and modern civilization stands or falls on the issue of Christ's divinity and resurrection. Analize this assertion and carry it to its logical conclusion and see what you have. France carried the answer along a partial demonstration and shuddered and turned back to its fundamental soul instinct and recovered. Did you read the sermon in the "Wall Street Journal" on the vital relation between christian faith and civilization? It says national disaster will follow the disaster of christian faith. Yes, racial disaster follows every distruction of soul instincts.

God is not a God of the dead but a God of the living. There is life beyond the tomb. The flowers you scatter over the graves are emblems of sweeter nuptials than the garlands at any wedding feast. There is music there, and joy and laughter we know not of.

When Paul was ready to go there he said "my departure is at hand." Another said with striking significance, "let me pass out."

"So when the angel of the bitter drink
At last shall greet you at the river-brink
And offering his cup, invite your soul
Forth to your lips to quaff—you shall not shrink."

Mrs. John Price was called West, Thursday by the death of her brother.

A unique form of entertainment was given in the Chapel Wednesday evening by the Ladies Social circle, it being a Railroad Restaurant. The "gates" were open from 6 to 8 o'clock and many "passengers" availed themselves of the opportunity to get a good supper, for the ladies of the Social circle have the name of always providing good suppers. And it was a conglomerate gathering that alighted from the "trains." Persons of various nationalities in the costume of their country were there. Some could speak English, others could not and had to be escorted around. Mrs. F. M. Johnson sought funds for the Chelsea fire sufferers as a Salvation Army lassie; Misses Fannie Knight and Beth Jewett were Sisters of Charity; Miss Agnes Carter was a gypsy maiden with an accordion; John Carter and Frank Floyd were colored waiters; Willard Rust and Joe Floyd were Chinamen; Mrs. F. M. Andrews and son had just arrived from Hungary. Miss Martha Knight took the cake, though, when she came into the "station" pushing a baby carriage. The baby had the measles and couldn't even cry. Her charge was placed in the baggageroom while she partook of the evening meal.

Odd Fellows Celebrate.

The 89th anniversary of Odd Fellowship in America was observed in Manchester Thursday evening, when Magnolia lodge, 149, held a dance in the Town hall. The hall was crowded by the members of the lodge, visiting members, and friends. An overflow gathering played whist and hearts in the lodge room above.

Many of the old style dances was on the dance order and many of the old time dancers joined in the fun. Among them was one of the charter members of the local lodge; W. C. Rust, who delights each year to get on the floor with the younger people and "shake it out." Mr. Rust wore a pair of slippers which he has used in dancing for the past 25 years.

The evening proved one of much pleasure for all. Long's five piece orchestra furnished the music. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served at intermission. W. W. Hoare, noble grand, was the floor director, assisted by H. M. Stanley, vice grand. The aids included the entertainment committee of the lodge: Frank G. Cheever, D. T. Beaton, G. S. Sinnicks, A. E. Olson, A. E. Hersey, Ellery H. Rogers, F. A. Rowe, Lorenzo Baker, C. L. Hoyt and Chas. E. Williams.

WYATT'S MARKET
WEST STREET
BEVERLY FARMS, :: :: MASS.

ANNOUNCEMENT

MRS. L. T. B. WYATT

Announces to the public and the former patrons of the old-established "Wyatt's Market" that this season the market will be under the personal management of Mr. C. E. Buxton, and, as in the past, High Quality Goods and First Class Service will characterize the establishment. ¶In addition to Meats and Provisions, a full and complete stock of Strictly High Grade Staple and Fancy Groceries and Fresh Fruits will be carried this season, all at Boston market prices. ¶At this time she would respectfully thank all patrons for past favors and solicit a continuance of their valued patronage.

Orders will be collected every morning and given Prompt Attention.

Moth Work Started.

The moth suppression work is now on in full force in the Manchester woods. Lost Monday morning the work was started, a gang of 50 men arriving on one of the morning trains. Mr. Worthley of the state commission is in charge of the work, though Mr. Phillips is in charge of the wood cutting, over 300 men working all along the shore. W. D. Corliss of Gloucester is in immediate charge of operations at Manchester.

Men are wanted to put to work at once and all rumors to the effect that Manchester men cannot get the work are false. Any Manchester man who wants work will get it in preference to all others. There are now 75 men at work and Supt. Kirkland intends to have fully 100 the first of next week.

The underbrush and useless growth is being cleared away to make ready for spraying. The work is being done now in the section of the town off Pine street, but a gang will work at the Cove, near the Magnolia station the coming week.

ARRIVALS

ARE now the order of things.

IT was only a few long—not short—weeks ago that "departures" were a matter of weekly record in our columns.

THE Journal placed the crowd that visited the Chelsea ruins Sunday at 500,000; the Herald, 150,000. That's newspaper license with a vengeance!

IF one thinks business is not on the increase and the North Shore season is not up to standard thus far, just glance through the pages of the BREEZE; see the new advertisements; and the old advertisements; and the number of advertisements.

A MEETING is to be held at the office of the Manchester Board of Selectmen next Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock to take some organized action toward raising money for the Chelsea Relief fund. Manchester has always been very liberal in matters of this kind and there will, no doubt, be a good sized attendance on this occasion.

TODAY, April 25, is Arbor Day. Lieut-Gov. Draper issued the proclamation yesterday week,—the first proclamation ever signed by him and the first Arbor Day proclamation ever signed by a Lieutenant-Governor. One sentence in the proclamation which deserves heed is: "Any person who assists in this good work of planting trees, will deserve and receive the thanks of their children's children."

IT is very evident that Manchester has another problem on its hands in the matter of purchasing the Manchester Electric Co., which will involve the expenditure of $150,000 or more within a year or two. The option which the town has of purchasing the plant expires next September. In view of the fact that the town has the very important problem on its hands at present of an additional water supply it seemed best to have this option extended if possible. The company refuses to extend the option, however, one reason being that there are at least two prospective purchasers and the company would like to known just what the town desires to do. In other words if the town wants the plant the company would like to know it, and they will go so far as to offer to sell the plant for $150,000 and extend the time of payment for two years.

It appears to us that it would be very unwise for the Town of Manchester to let this opportunity go by, and thus have some other company come into the town to run the plant.

WHISPERINGS

Snakes five feet long in Manchester! This will sound fabulous to some; it will send the cold shivers chasing each other up and down the vertebral column of others. However it is true, for the other night one of the Manchester men engaged in the moth work, just off Pine street, brought a black snake into the office. It was dead. It measured 5 feet 1 inch. He had killed it that morning.

* * * *

Those who get to business early mornings were treated to a little excitement Wednesday morning at the hair-dressing parlors under the postoffice. Mr. Keenan, the proprietor, rooms in the block. When he opened his place Wednesday morning he found that someone had put a lock on the iron gate and consequently our good friend was locked in. He was good for the emergency, however, and procuring a step ladder in the building he climbed over. Pretty soon the services of our good blacksmith, Horace Standley, were secured and the lock was cut off.

Democratic Caucuses.

The Manchester Democratic caucus was held in the Selectmen's room, Town hall, Wednesday evening. T. C. Rowe was elected permanent chairman and C. C. Dodge, secretary. Eleven votes were cast, the result of which was that Benjamin H. Corliss was elected delegate to the State convention, and Frank A. Foster to the Congressional convention. It was the sense of the caucus that the delegate to the congressional convention support Charles A. Russel of Gloucester as delegate to the Denver convention. While no instructions were given the delegates it is understood the delegates will favor the nomination of William Jennings Bryan for President.

At Beverly Farms the caucus was held in Marshall's lower hall, there being eight votes cast. John C. McCarthy was chairman and Lawrence J. Watson, secretary. Thomas J. McDonnell was elected delegate to the state convention and John McCarthy to the district convention.

New Sacred Heart Church.

Next Sunday will witness the last celebration of Mass in the old Sacred Heart church. To the good people who have worshipped there during the last thirty-six years, the occasion will bring regret; for the old building, plain and unadorned though it be, has been for them a symbol of self-sacrifice.

At the late Mass (10.30 o'clock) the pastor will give a sketch of Catholicity in this part of the state.

The new church, to be opened without any formal ceremony of dedication, will be made ready for services next week. The pews are in position; and all that remains to be accomplished is the work of transferring the altars and the organ.

It is hoped that financial conditions will allow of the building of permanent altars next year.

A week's mission (or Catholic revival) will begin in the new church, Sunday, May 3.

Marietta P. Brooks.

Miss Marietta P. Brooks passed away in Manchester, Wednesday evening after a few weeks illness at the age of 62 years, 5 months. Miss Brooks has lived in Manchester several years, housekeeper for Deacon F. A. P. Killam, and she took care of Mr. Killam's two little great-grandchildren, who will especially feel her loss. She was a woman highly respected by all who knew her. Funeral arrangements had not been made at the time of our going to press. Death resulted from pneumonia brought on by measles.

Charles M. Littlefield.

Charles M. Littlefield died in Manchester, Thursday at the age of 79 years, 9 months, 29 days. Mr. Littlefield made his home with his son, Charles E. Littlefield, on Pine street. His remains were taken to his former home in Maine for burial.

Congressman Gardner to the Voters of the Sixth District.

WASHINGTON, April 22, '08.

To the voters of the Sixth District.

Gentlemen:—Inasmuch as my health is so poor that I must give up my work for the present, I shall shortly go abroad under the doctor's orders. During my absence the general business of the Sixth District will be conducted by Messrs. W. W. Lufkin and Charles F. Redmond, to whom all letters should be addressed. The interests of the Sixth District on the floor of the House and in committee will be taken care of by the Hon. F. H. Gillett of Springfield, Mass. The Republican whip is authorized and requested to pair my vote in favor of all Republican party measures and in favor of the President's so-called administration programme.

Very truly yours,
A. P. GARDNER.

And Improvements

Ground was broken Wednesday at the R. C. Winthrop estate, West Manchester, for the erection of a very pretty cottage house to be used "between seasons" so to speak, by Miss Clara Winthrop. The cottage is to be of wood, stone and brick and will be built upon practically the same design as the other buildings upon the estate. Wheelwright & Haven, Boston, are the architects. Connolly Bros. are the builders.

Howard A. Doane has the contract for building a house on Lincoln street, Manchester, for John Winne. Morley, Flatley & Co. have already built the foundations.

The concrete dwelling house which Morley, Flatley & Co. have built on the corner of Brook street and Norwood avenue, Manchester, is attracting much attention, for it is something entirely unique in the line of buildings in this vicinity. Builders have been here from many parts of the state to see it.

8, 1549, he illustrates a point he is making in this wise: "This was not much unlike a bargain that I heard of late should be betwixt two friends for a horse; the owner promised the other should have the horse if he would; the other asked the price; he said twenty nobles. The other would give him but four pound. The owner said he should not have him then. The other claimed the horse, because he said he should have him if he would. Thus this bargain became a Westminster matter; the lawyers got twice the value of the horse; and when all came to all, two fools made an end of the matter." One can imagine the winks that passed even among his stolid hearers under the "Shrowds." Latimer knew how to relieve the tedium of standing an hour or more while listening to his outdoor sermons. No preacher in England had so inexhaustible a stock of "merry" tales fresh from his own keen observation or from incidents going on in the daily life of the common people. Thus he tells of the gentlewoman who went to St. Thomas of Acres to hear the sermon, "because she never failed of a good nap there." Frequently he draws an apt illustration from his own personal history, as in the account of his bringing up, and of his examination for heresy when he heard the pen of a concealed reporter scratching behind the arras. He had a famous knack at arousing his hearers' curiosity as to what was coming next, but he never failed to satisfy it. We have an example in the only "Sermon of the Plough" that is preserved: "And now I would ask a strange question; who is the most diligentest bishop and prelate in all England, that passeth all the rest in doing his office? I can tell, for I know him who it is; I know him well. But now I think I see you listening and hearkening that I should name him. There is one that passeth all the other, and is the most diligent prelate and preacher in all England. And will ye know who it is? I will tell you: it is the devil. He is the most diligent preacher of all other; he is never out of his diocess; he is never from his cure; ye shall never find him unoccupied; he is ever in his parish; he keepeth residence at all times; ye shall never find him out of the way, call for him when you will he is ever at home; the diligentest preacher in all the realm; he is ever at his plough; he is ever applying his business, ye shall never find him idle, I warrant you; he walketh around from place to place, and ceaseth not." When we remember that plurality of livings, non-residence and shameful neglect of their duties were notorious among the clergy of Latimer's time, we can appreciate the pungency of such home-thrusts which abound in his sermons.

No wonder that Latimer got a hearing; he was a man with a message; and while his courtly auditors were compelled to listen by his very audacity, his sermons were full of inspiring and consolatory thoughts for the poor and humble, and the common people heard him gladly. His simplicity, his humanity, his quaintness, his homely illustrations, his very garrulousness, helped make him one of the most popular preachers that England has ever had. But his popularity never spoiled him; it was a popularity that brought him not place and ease and king's favors, but the martyr's palm. His last words were prophetic: "Be of good comfort, Master Ridley, and play the man; we shall this day light such a candle by God's grace, in England, as I trust shall never be put out." And so he was wafted heavenward in his chariot of flame. We may smile at many of his conceits, and think some of his expressions too rude for ears polite; but we can only reverence his honesty, his fearlessness, his loyalty to truth and goodness. He was one of earth's heroes who follow the blood-stained track,

"Toiling up new Calvarys ever with the cross that turns not back."

He was the kind of "preacher to the times" that we need at the present day.

PURCHASE OF ELECTRIC PLANT

looking for the plant. As the option expires in September and it is impossible to renew it, and as others are looking for it, it seemed to him that the town was between the devil and the deep sea, so to speak. He should hate to see any other corporation come in here.

W. C. Rust asked if the committee had any recommendations or suggestions.

O. T. Roberts said that he thought that perhaps some special assignment could be made so that this matter could be brought before the voters more fully. He reviewed the whole question of electric lights from the appointment of the original committee to the present time. How the town decided that it would not undertake the building of the plant, and how members of the summer colony desiring to see lights in the town interested themselves to the extent that a company was organized. It was organized with the understanding that at the expiration of a certain period the town might purchase the plant. The stock of the company was taken almost entirely by members of the summer colony. It was intended from the start to put in the very best plant, and it is for this reason that the plant has not been a success thus far financially. If a pole system has been put in instead of underground wiring dividends would have been paid two years ago. These companies who want to buy the plant are not coming here for the health, Mr. Roberts said further. The directors feel that inasmuch as there are some interested in purchasing the plant that they don't want to wait and extend the option still farther.

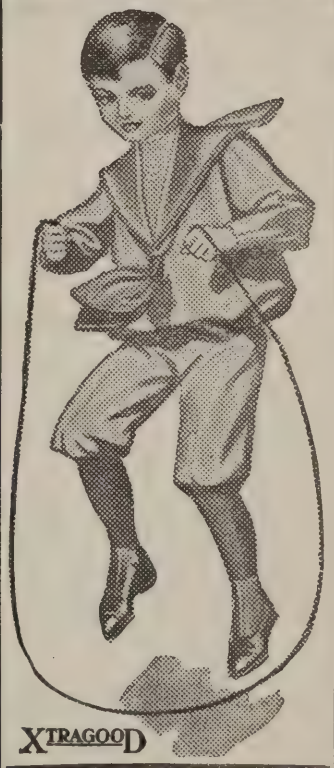

F. K. Hooper said that despite the fact that the contract with the Beverly company to furnish power would not expire for ten years that there was a provision whereby the town might manufacture its own power. He suggested that in enlarging the water plant the electric light plant might be considered in that connection. There might be some way to work the two together.

Mr. Hooper moved the report of the committee be accepted. Voted.

Mr. Hooper moved that a committee of three be appointed by the moderator to take into consideration the purchase of the Manchester Electric Co., all its rights, franchises, privileges and property of all kinds, if the same can be purchased for a sum of money not exceeding $150,000 the committee to report to the town at any adjournment of this meeting or a special meeting called for the purpose, and that $300 be appropriated for the use of the committee. Voted.

Acting moderator Jewett appointed F. K. Hooper, E. S. Knight and F. K. Swett. Mr. Hooper said when he resigned as moderator last year it was his intention not to take up any active work in connection with the town, but he felt himself slipping back into the harness. He now felt that he did not want to take up any new committee work, and he would respectfully decline to serve. H. T. Bingham was appointed, but he declined. F. J. Merrill, E. A. Lane and R. C. Lincoln also declined to serve. James Hoare was finally appointed and he agreed to serve.

Art. 63, relocation and widening of Pine street. The report of the board of selectmen was read, in which certain recommendations were made, which would result in some needed improvements to the street. The most marked change would be near Central street, at the sharp curve along by the Hobbs' estate. It was proposed to cut through the house making it necessary also to move the stable, and taking in all 3000 sq. feet of land from the Hobbs' estate, 37 feet from land of M. J. Callahan and 945 feet from the Harriet Kitfield heirs. The awards were: M. J. Callahan $1, Nancy F. Hobbs $850 and Harriet Kitfield heirs $100. The other change would be at the junction of Pine and Pleasant streets, where the corner would be rounded, taking 210 feet from the Charlotte P. Dodge land, and 63 from the David Tenny heirs. The award in the former case was $1 and in the latter $10.

W. C. Rust moved the town accept and allow the layout as reported by the selectmen. He thought this matter ought to be put through this year as there was great need of improvement at this point.

F. K. Hooper said he favored the layout, but he didn't want the town to get in any trouble over the matter. The award in the case of the Hobbs property was not considered large enough and it would be better to have the thing right before it went through rather than have a lawsuit later on.

H. T. Bingham said that after the town had passed on this matter it would rest wholly with the selectmen. He thought the award was large enough and sufficient in this case.

Mr. Hooper thought the award was not half large enough.

John Baker thought the award was too small. He was in favor of leaving it to some disinterested parties.

W. C. Rust said that a stable would have to be moved and this meant new land would have to be bought. The old house would have to be torn down and fences and walls rebuilt. The award was not large enough.

M. E. Gorman said this was one of the most dangerous points in town. The change ought to be made, but he considered the award too small.

The Superintendent of Streets said $1800 would cover cost of construction exclusive of land damage.

P. H. Boyle thought the town ought to be lenient with the citizens of the town and deal with them fairly and squarely. Far better to start right. Try it over again and have a peaceful solution of the matter.

F. J. Merrill felt that this change would be a public benefit. He favored considering the matter further.

O. T. Roberts hoped the awards would be rejected and that the matter would come up later.

The report was not accepted.

A. S. Jewett presented the report of the committee on resolutions on the death of the late Samuel Knight. These resolutions will be found in another column.

Roland C. Lincoln paid tribute to the memory of Mr. Knight in words printed in another column. Mr. Lincoln moved the report of the committee be accepted and the resolutions adopted.

The meeting adjourned at 9.10 to Monday evening, May 11 at 7.30 o'clock.

R. C. Lincoln's Tribute to Samuel Knight's Memory.

Mr. Moderator and Fellow Citizens of Manchester:

When at the hour of his funeral a week ago, the stores here were closed and all business suspended, the town paid its silent tribute to the memory of Samuel Knight; we are here now to give further expression of the respect and honor in which he was held by this community.

It was my good fortune to know Mr. Knight in his home, in public affairs and in a portion of his official life; and in each of these relations his strong individuality impressed itself upon me and commanded my respect and confidence. I should have been much at fault if it had not, for he was to me at all times the same open, frank and direct, an upright and downright man.

In his home, where it was at times my privilege to see him, surrounded by his family, and to observe the strength of the tie which held them together, he seemed to me always to be the active and sympathetic head towards whom they turned for advice, or guidance, or approval.

In the community he filled a prominent and a useful place. His business activity and sagacity, and his deep interest in all matters pertaining to the conduct and welfare of the town, brought him into contact with most of the residents, and made him in many respects the leading citizen of Manchester. In public life he held many offices and in his administration of their duties he showed the same rectitude, fearlessness and fidelity which guided his private life.

And here I cannot fail to speak of the period of over four years during which I was associated with Mr. Knight in the affairs of the Water Department of this town. For the work brought us closely together and the connection was a very pleasant one to me. I trust it is no intrusion here that I should bear witness to the qualities of mind and character which made him to me a fit leader and a congenial associate.

I never sought his advice that I did not get it, and in a way which was straight out, direct and helpful. He was conscientious in the performance of the duties of his office,—guided by a clear perception of what was for the best interests of the town, and always recognizing and desiring to have the views and opinions of his fellow commissioners. I want to emphasize this admirable trait of his character,—that he was ever careful to observe the courtesies and co-operation which should, it seems to me, always exist in an official board. Whatever matters were brought to his attention, whatever requests were made of him personally, he never transacted any business of the department independently of his associates, although he was the chairman of the board.

And thus in these several relations of life I found him always the same. He never seemed to me to be different at different times, nor did he seek passively or from mere complaisance to conform to the views of the persons with whom he was conversing. His opinions were intelligently and carefully formed; they were very apt to be correct, and they were not apt to be changed.

I do not think he often made hasty judgments, though he was able to reach his conclusions quickly.

Positive in his opinions, fearless in expressing them, and desirous of enforcing them, yet when opposed and defeated he accepted the result with composure, and never allowed his mind to be distracted or his energies to be wasted by useless regrets. It seemed to me that he always had himself well in hand, that he took the pleasures of life tranquilly, and its disappointments with equanimity.

Such were some of the traits which illustrate the strong character of Samuel Knight, and indicate the sincerity of his private life and the high value of his public service. Ability, honesty, courage, both physical and moral, independence, determination and public spirit; and then underneath and within, a sensitiveness revealed only to his family and to those who were his intimate friends—these are attributes which we may always associate with his memory.

It is hard to realize that we shall see him no more; surely he will long be remembered and missed in this community.

Five new members were initiated into Preston Relief corps at their last meeting. Four more applications have been received and these will probably be admitted at the next meeting.

Next Tuesday evening the opening event of the season in Neighbor's hall will be given, when an excellent entertainment will be conducted in aid of St. Margaret's church, under the management of John Daniels.

The annual supper and social of the men of the Baptist church was held Thursday evening at the Chapel, and was the occasion of a most delightful evening's pleasure. Rev. Dr. Rider of Gloucester delivered an address.

The many Farms friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Calnan, who formerly lived here, will be interested to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Calnan are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a ten-pound son in their Brookline home this week.

Thomas Griffith, the young man arrested last week charged with knowing something of the attempt to enter the drug store of F. W. Varney, was given a hearing at the district court in Salem last Saturday and was discharged, there not being sufficient evidence to implicate him. Mr. Griffith by his appearance and straightforward answers created a good impression and it is generally thought that the right man is yet to be found.

The street committee made their annual tour of inspection Wednesday and report that the roads at the Farms were found to be in fairly good condition. There is a strong sentiment here, however, that the sidewalks require considerable attention.

A crowd of jolly people serenaded Mr. and Mrs. Dennis H. Tower last Wednesday evening, calling at the home of the bride on Hale street after the wedding. They were all made happy by being treated to refreshments, after which they took their departure, giving the couple a hearty cheer.

Tower-Tully.

Miss Margaret Tully, a well known Beverly Farms young lady, and Dennis H. Tower of Brookline were united in marriage by Rev. Dr. D. J. Maguire, at St. Margaret's parochial residence Wednesday evening. Following the ceremony the happy couple held a reception at the home of the bride on Hale street where members of the families of the bride and groom, and a number of friends had gathered to extend congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Tower will reside in Brookline.

Do not wait until summer to have your printing done. Have it attended to now,—bill heads, letter heads, envelopes, cards, and all kinds of printing at the BREEZE office. Work done promptly and of the best quality.

Mrs. Harriet Decker.

Mrs. Harriet Decker, widow of the late Col. Jefford Decker passed away at her home in Meriden, N. H., last Sunday, April 19, and her remains were brought to Manchester for burial, Tuesday. Services were held at the Crowell Memorial chapel and interment was in the family lot in Union cemetery. Rev. L. H. Ruge officiated.

Mrs. Decker was a native of Manchester, a daughter of the late Isaac Lee. She was in her 91st year. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Mary L. Williamson, with whom she made her home in Meriden, and another who lives in the west. A sister, Mrs. Rufus Standley of Magnolia, also survives her.

Col. Decker was at one time—before the war—proprietor of the Manchester House.

Hollis Street Theatre.

Robert Edeson, who has come to be regarded as a very great Boston favorite, will play his annual engagement in that city at the Hollis commencing next Monday evening, April 27. He will be seen this year in "Classmates" a play of West Point life by William C. deMille and Margrret Turnbull. Mr. deMille, it will be recalled, wrote "Strongheart" in which Mr. Edeson scored such an unqualified success last season. "Classmates" was produced at the Hudson theatre, New York, last fall and enjoyed a highly prosperous engagement there of over four months. The piece is regarded as Mr. Edeson's greatest triumph. It gives him an opportunity to portray one of those fascinating military characters in which he finds such a prolific field for his fine ability. Mr. Edeson's engagement will be for two weeks only and he will play the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees. Considering his widespread popularity and the excellence of his present play he is assured a most cordial reception when he comes to the Hollis.

"The increase in cycling," remarks a Baltimore paper, "has not been confined to any one class, for the bicycle awaits the pleasure of everyone. The business man finds in it an unequaled means of recreation, the workingman, the cheapest and quickest mode of travel, while the young and strong fill the ranks of the clubs and furnish, in bicycle racing, a sport unrivaled in interest both to the participant and the spectator. Nor is the interest confined to any one portion of the country, as is plainly shown in the construction during the past year of bicycle race tracks in San Francisco, Salt Lake City and Boston, and the revival of cycling clubs all over the country.

Mrs. Samuel Collamer of Greenwood avenue will leave shortly for Alton, Ill., where she will spend several months visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. Levi K. Abbott. Dr. Abbott was formerly a resident of Beverly Farms and is now, and has been for some years, president of Shurtleff College at Alton.

Supt. of Schools Safford in conversation with the BREEZE man a few days ago said he considered the Farms school the best equipped and safest school building in the city as far as fire protection is concerned, without any exception, a fact which Farms parents, ever alert to the interests and safety of their children, ought to be well proud of. One of the best features of the building is the brick walls and partitions.

Wallace—Johnson.

A quiet home wedding took place at Hamilton Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Abbott Johnson, when her daughter, Miss Fannie Agnes Johnson was married to John Sanborn Wallace, a well known Beverly Farms' young man. No cards.

WANTED--A RIDER AGENT IN EACH TOWN and district to ride and exhibit a sample Latest Model "Ranger" bicycle furnished by us. Our agents everywhere are making money fast. Write for full particulars and special offer at once.

NO MONEY REQUIRED until you receive and approve of your bicycle. We ship to anyone, anywhere in the U. S. without a cent deposit in advance, prepay freight, and allow TEN DAYS' FREE TRIAL during which time you may ride the bicycle and put it to any test you wish. If you are then not perfectly satisfied or do not wish to keep the bicycle ship it back to us at our expense and you will not be out one cent.

FACTORY PRICES We furnish the highest grade bicycles it is possible to make at one small profit above actual factory cost. You save $10 to $25 middlemen's profits by buying direct of us and have the manufacturer's guarantee behind your bicycle. DO NOT BUY a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone at any price until you receive our catalogues and learn our unheard of factory prices and remarkable special offers to rider agents.

YOU WILL BE ASTONISHED when you receive our beautiful catalogue and study our superb models at the wonderfully low prices we can make you this year. We sell the highest grade bicycles for less money than any other factory. We are satisfied with $1.00 profit above factory cost.

BICYCLE DEALERS, you can sell our bicycles under your own name plate at double our prices. Orders filled the day received.

SECOND HAND BICYCLES. We do not regularly handle second hand bicycles, but usually have a number on hand taken in trade by our Chicago retail stores. These we clear out promptly at prices ranging from $3 to $8 or $10. Descriptive bargain lists mailed free.

COASTER-BRAKES, single wheels, imported roller chains and pedals, parts, repairs and equipment of all kinds at half the usual retail prices.

$8.50 HEDGETHORN PUNCTURE-PROOF SELF-HEALING TIRES $4.80 A SAMPLE PAIR TO INTRODUCE, ONLY

The regular retail price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but to introduce we will sell you a sample pair for $4.80 (cash with order $4.55).

NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES

NAILS, Tacks or Glass will not let the air out. Sixty thousand pairs sold last year. Over two hundred thousand pairs now in use.

DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C. O. D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented.

Notice the thick rubber tread "A" and puncture strips "B" and "D," also rim strip "H" to prevent rim cutting. This tire will outlast any other make—SOFT, ELASTIC and EASY RIDING.

We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.55 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump. Tires to be returned at OUR expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination. We are perfectly reliable and money sent to us is as safe as in a bank. If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, wear better, last longer and look finer than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a bicycle you will give us your order. We want you to send us a trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer.

IF YOU NEED TIRES don't buy any kind at any price until you send for a pair of Hedgethorn Puncture-Proof tires on approval and trial at the special introductory price quoted above; or write for our big Tire and Sundry Catalogue which describes and quotes all makes and kinds of tires at about half the usual prices.

DO NOT WAIT but write us a postal today. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone until you know the new and wonderful offers we are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.

Miss Selig Peterson of Beverly is the new book-keeper at Wyatt's market.

A large delegation of Preston Relief Corps member attended the G. A. R. fair in City hall Wednesday evening.

Miss Connolly's Beverly Farms class is to give a gymnastic demonstration in Neighbor's hall Saturday evening, May 16, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Lydia Williams, Hart street, will entertain the Sarah W. Whitman club next Wednesday afternoon. The club was a guest of Mrs. John Burchsted, Hale street, the past Wednesday.

The collection taken at the Baptist church Sunday evening for the Chelsea Relief fund amounted to $30. Since then more subscriptions have been received making a total of about $40.

S. John Connolly and Albert E. Potter left the early part of the week for Bedford, N. Y., where they are in charge of work being done by Connolly Bros. on the Hon. Seth Low estate.

Samuel F. Cohoon has accepted a position on the John T. Morse, jr., estate at Needham and commenced his work there Wednesday. It is Mr. Cohoon's intention to move his family there soon.

Among the enthusiastic "farmers" in spring cleaning is noticed Station Agent Allen, who seems to enjoy spending his spare moments "fixing up" about the station. And his efforts are not in vain, for the grounds are kept in a neat and clean condition.

Several car loads of lumber have been shipped from the Farms freight yard the past week, the product of the lumber camp which has been in operation in the vicinity of Chebaco lake, the past winter. Rather strange to think of lumber being shipped from a mill on the North Shore!

Capt. Duncan T. Smith has received the news of the death of Mrs. James Smith, his brother's wife, in Cape Breton.

At the regular meet of Oliver Wendell Holmes council, K. of C., Wednesday evening it was voted to send $25 to the Chelsea Relief fund.

The Girls' club of the Baptist church were guests in Beverly Wednesday evening of the Girls' club there. Rev. Mr. Byington was the speaker.

The social and dance given in Marshall's hall Monday evening by the local order of Foresters was a most enjoyable affair, and was well attended.

Felix Naylor has leased a track of land off Hart street and is making preparations to grow vegetables for the market, in addition to his present business.

Miss Fannie Williams was a guest of Miss Jennie Twitchell at Ipswich over Patriot's Day. In the evening the young ladies attended a private dancing party.

Walter P. Brewer has opened his market, formerly Walker Bros. & Co., in Central square, this week and is ready for the summer business. He is out with an attractive new order wagon.

A drama and entertainment is being prepared under the direction of a committee of Preston Relief Corps, to be presented in Neighbor's hall on Thursday evening, May 7, the receipts to be devoted to the proposed Memorial hall at Beverly Farms.

GOOD PRINTING

Office enlarged and newly equipped with new presses, machinery, electric power, types and materials for the prompt executon of all kinds of printing in the most up-to-date manner

NORTH SHORE BREEZE

JOB DEPARTMENT

Manchester, :: Mass.

Now is the time to have your printing done for the summer season before the rush begins. Time and tide wait for nobody. Do it now!

Its Popularity Has Known No Bounds

Save that of the limited purse. That's been its only draw back, it's had the endorsement of the people of culture who have had the wealth to possess it, but to the person of good taste whose funds at command were perhaps at the time somewhat limited, has heretofore been able just merely to admire and not to enjoy its possession.

Mahogany Furniture

Time back and the wood, was excessively high, the means for procuring it were most primitive, today 'tis not so, 'tis brought to our shores, its cost landed here, much more reasonable.

Our factories, through its gradual increasing use, have learned better the economical way in which to handle it, till today they produce this most admired of all woods at just a trifle advance over the others.

This is most emphatically true in the Dining Room Line

Where its use is becoming most general for in here we have

Buffets

Very graceful and pretty as low, if you'll believe, as is this one. 'Tis a straight lined piece, quite four feet long, its depth in proportion to look balanced. Its school of design dates back into England at the time of Sheraton and Chippendale. 'Tis made of all Mahogany, the front especially grained, old-fashioned wood knobs help make it look old, aided too very much by the dull finish. 'Tis someone's for $30.00

And a wonder for that. Shown on the 4th floor with many many others as high as $100.00. With solid Mahogany tables from

$33.00 to $85.00

Better take a look—there's money in it for you.

EIGHT DAYS OF MISSION WORK IN JAPAN

Former Manchester and Boston Pastor writes interestingly of his work in the Far East.

BY F. C. BRIGGS

[The following account was written by Rev. Frank C. Briggs, former pastor of the Baptist church, Manchester, and also assistant pastor at Tremont Temple, Boston, and was addressed to his Beloved Fellow-Workers at the First Baptist church, Manchester. It was read last Sunday evening at the B. Y. P. U. meeting. —ED.]

TAJIMA PROVENCE, JAPAN,
Dec. 12, 1907.

I STARTED this morning for a few days work with the evangelists on the West Coast, and am going to try to take you with me to see the work as it is followed day by day. My baggage consists of two boxes (Stereopticon and Acetylene gas machine) and a basket of tracts, necessary clothing, etc.

The uncertainties of a trip of this kind bring a great blessing. Having no one who is able to assure a welcome or even a place for meetings, in many places throws one back where he ought always to be, depending very practically on God. Thus this morning I have the blessed experience of starting on errands for the Master not knowing how they are to be done, but certain that they are his errands and that therefore the way will be prepared. So I tell Mrs. Briggs to give thanks that God is going to use me.

The Bantan R. R. running north from Himeji is finished only to Wadayama (50 miles.) Here the Chief of Police is one of our christians so I stop to plan with him for a meeting on my return, then go on, baggage in one jinricksha and self in another. The road from here used to be fine but work on the railway extension has put it in terrible condition, so the usual fare of 60 cents to Toyooka (20 miles) is increased to 80 cents.

The usual time for the run is four hours, today it was a walk of seven hours. Some of the christians of Toyooka came in before I was settled at the Takeya Hotel and gave cordial welcome. Arranged with Akimoto San, the devout evangelist whom God has recently given us for this place, for an early start in the morning for Kumihama, and explain the pictures and the message to him. The subject is "Christmas," the one holiday celebrated by some people in almost every nation on earth—custom of making presents, commemorating a wonderful present which God gave to men. God has given man so many precious gifts—which is it?—pictures of scenery, flowers, rice, trees, animals, children, etc., with special talk about water thirst—desert experiences—oasis—all these precious gifts of God, but all minister simply to bodily wants—God's great gift satisfies soul thirst. (Indian devotee) John 3:16, pictures and brief story of Christ's coming, His teaching and life and lastly the cross. Christ the Great Christmas gift—revealing God to man and redeeming him from sin and its results.

REV. FRANK C. BRIGGS

Friday Dec. 13. Okamoto San our good bible woman and others called this morning so we did not get started till nine-thirty. 'Tis but seven miles so we have plenty of time, only as the christian teacher who has formerly helped us in Kumihama has gone to Osaka, we want to be there before noon.

There is not a christian in this town of about three thousand. Akimoto San has never been here and I only know that the Principal of the school has been cordial, so we call at the school and find that Inoko San is at home sick. Inquire for the head teacher. A bright young man. Met him last spring. Thanks for past favors and will there be any objection to using the school for a meeting tonight? Very sure it will be all right but will consult the principal and let us know. We go to the hotel. Akimoto San on entering a new place always kneels for a brief prayer. I like the habit.

After dinner the head-teacher comes to report, everything being arranged. The school children will advertise. Do some writing, then walk through the town as an advertisement. Put up the curtain, etc., in the big room which they have prepared. With children on the floor in front, it will hold five hundred. At seven-thirty the place is full. Akimoto San gives this his first talk with a lantern splendidly. We aim not to explain the pictures but let the pictures explain the teaching. Ask those who would like to hear more to remain for an after-meeting. Coming to see pictures is easy but asking for further teaching shows an interest which many are not willing to reveal. It is quite a step but about thirty remain and I talk for half an hour trying to make them see their need for the great gift which we have heard. Man by sin separated from God loses knowledge of true Heavenly Father. Blindly worships substitutes for God. Needs light and salvation. Christ comes to lead the lost child back to his heavenly Father. Give out about 200 tracts. Find that a good many came after the house was full. 'Twill make them more eager to come early next time. Have a later talk with three young men; two of them seem very genuine inquirers.

Saturday, Dec. 14. We had planned to walk over the mountains to Kinosaki (9 miles) but it was pouring so we have to use jinrickshas and go round the mountains (15 miles.) Before starting we go to inquire for the School Principal and find him up evidently waiting for us. Is eager to talk about Christianity. Has worshipped Ancestors, the sun and the Emperor but finds no soul satisfaction. Deeply conscious of sin and keenly alive to his responsibility in guiding the 450 children under his care into ways of truth. He is looking to the teaching of Christ for light. Just what is the message? And we let the jinricksha men wait an hour while we make as clear as possible God's wonderful plan of salvation through Christ. He drinks it in like one athirst, and it seems to most blessedly fit his need. When can

The painters' local has a smoke talk at their headquarters Monday evening.

Edmund Lethbridge has resumed his former position at Bullock's bakery.

Miss Catherine Watson is assisting as book-keeper at the Town Treasurer's office this year.

Town Treasurer Stanley's motor boat, the "Antinette," was booked to enter the water yesterday for the season.

William Ray of this town is now located at Bedford, N. Y., as one of the foreman in charge of a large contract which Connolly Bros. has on the estate of Hon. Seth Low.

J. W. Cawthorne's sister Mrs. John Cronin, also Mr. Cronin's father, his daughter and his four orphan grandchildren, were among those who lost all and barely escaped with their lives in the recent Chelsea fire.

The public demonstration of Miss May D. Connolly's Beverly Farms' gymnasium class is to be given in Neighbor's hall, Beverly Farms, on Saturday evening, May 16. Manchester members of the class will furnish tickets to those who apply.

As the date of the W. R. C. Minstrel show is May 21 it is very important that all the circle be present at every rehearsal. The public is looking for a minstrel show equal to that given by the corps six years ago, and we are trying to give a better one. Next rehearsal this Saturday evening. — Chairman Exec. Committee.

The clerk of the Board of Health has been kept busy the past few weeks filling out blank cards, notifying the state board, the superintendent of schools and the principal of the school of the various cases of measles. There have been over 200 cases thus far, all of a mild form, as compared with a total for last year of 12 cases.

Benj. S. Bullock met with a painful accident a few days ago which very nearly resulted in the loss of some fingers, or his hand. He was chopping some ice in the machine used in connection with his ice cream making plant, which is worked by an electric motor. In some way his fingers got caught and while they were considerably lacerated he will probably not loose them.

Henry Sullivan, formerly of New York, will be in charge of J. A. Culbert's harness shop in Manchester this season. Mr. Culbert has taken one of A. S. Dow's stores and will move into it at once. In addition to his regular supply of harness, horse furnishings, etc., Mr. Culbert will carry a line of boots and shoes, trunks, bags, leather novelties, etc., and it is his present intention to keep the store open the year around.

MANCHESTER

The stores are now open evenings beginning May 1.

The Assessors started on their annual spring assessing tour yesterday, May 1.

A new hokey-pokey cart for the use of the street department has been purchased the past week.

Miss Jennie Hannable has resumed her former position as assistant at the local postoffice for the summer months.

Otto L. Derrick is back to his duties at Allen's drug store after being successfully operated upon for appendicitis a few weeks ago in Boston.

Miss Mabel A. Thwing returned to her home in Bath, Me., Monday after a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. F. L. Decker, Norwood avenue.

Miss Mamie E. Morgan of Bennett street has accepted a position as bookkeeper with the Nadeau-Kaolin Putty Co., a new concern starting in business in Salem. Miss Morgan commences her duties there next Monday.

The board of fire engineers organized Wednesday evening with James Hoare, chief; George S. Sinnicks, 1st asst.; Clarence W. Morgan, 2nd assistant. The fire companies will meet next Monday evening for organization.

The town has hired $40,000 this week in anticipation of taxes, giving seven months' notes dated April 29. The loan was made through the banking house of Loring, Tolman and Tupper, Boston, at 3.81 per cent. discount,—a very favorable rate.

A petition has been presented to the selectmen by Wm. C. Rust and others calling for the relocation and widening of certain parts of Pine street, and the board will give a hearing on the matter at their office on Thursday afternoon, May 14, at 3.30 o'clock.

One of the new features which it was planned to inaugurate at the Poor-Farm this year was to have regular meetings each Sunday afternoon at which the three pastors would take turns in officiating. A few weeks ago the new plan was started, but that was the first and last prayer-service, however, to date. The new arrangement was announced to the inmates several days in advance, but when the minister reached the almshouse Sunday afternoon two of the inmates had left for the afternoon, another had concealed himself out behind the barn, a fourth is deaf, and the two remaining composed the "congregation." While the new plan has not been much of a success as a religious service it has been decided that perhaps the ministers might make a friendly call occasionally, which custom, in fact, has always been in vogue. Selectman George Lockhart Allen is in charge of the poor this year.

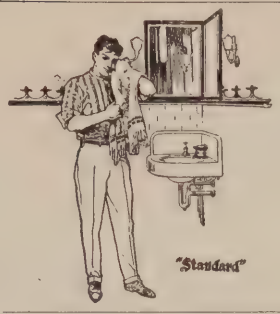

Lester C. Morris moved his household goods to Chelsea Thursday.

The Manchester Crickets are scheduled to play an Ipswish nine at the Brook street grounds this afternoon at 3.

One of the leading events of the summer at Manchester will be the Drug Clerks' dance to be given on Thursday evening, July 16. Plans are already being made to make this a big attraction.

Dr. and Mrs. Parker surprised some of their friends here with a call last Sunday, making the trip from Manchester, N. H., by auto. Mrs. Parker was formerly Miss Hall, a teacher at the High school.

The first meeting of the season of the Manchester Launch club was held Wednesday evening in the Selectmen's room. Two new members were admitted, and the new regulations regarding lights, whistles, etc., were talked over. Roger L. Putman was elected to fill the vacancy on the membership committee caused by the resignation of S. A. Lutz, and F. J. Merrill was elected on the executive committee, S. A. Lutz resigned.

Personal Attention Given to all Work. Estimates cheerfully given.

F. J. Merrill (Smith's Express Co.) was granted a license to transport spirituous liquors, in accordance with the provisions of Sects. 1 and 2 of Chapt. 44, Acts of 1906. The American Express Co. was given leave to withdraw.

At the meeting of the board Thursday evening, S. A. Sinnicks, the lowest bidder, was appointed agent of the Board of Health to have charge of the health cart. There was one other bidder.

The Board of Health have granted garbage licenses to Edwin H. Burnham of Essex, Abraham Lampron and Sidney K. Prince.

John C. Mackin, Manchester's New Superintendent of Schools.

John C. Mackin of Maynard has been appointed superintendent of schools of Manchester to succeed Supt. Fish, whose term expired the middle of April, but who consented to remain in charge of the schools until the close of the present term.

Mr. Mackin has been in Maynard five years, being district superintendent of three towns,—Maynard, Stowe and Boxboro.

Prior to going to Maynard he was principal of the grammar school at Hudson, and before that he was an instructor in the Marlboro High school. He is a graduate of Tufts college. Mr. Mackin is married and has one son, who graduates from the Maynard High school this year. He has been quite successful in Maynard, and is very popular among his townspeople.

Mr. Mackin will take up his duties here at the close of the present term and will probably move here with his family during the summer.

Society Notes

N. S. Bartlett and family will move down to their Smith's Point estate next Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryce J. Allan arrived at their villa at Beverly Cove last Saturday for the season.

Dr. and Mrs. Franklin Dexter moved down to their summer estate at Beverly Farms a few days ago.

Dr. Henry F. Sears was among the week's arrivals at Beverly Cove. His cottage was opened Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Heaton have moved down from Boston to their Beverly Farms residence the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Cartaret Fenno and their four children are to spend May at their country place in Pomfret, Conn., after which they will probably come to their Beverly Farms estate.

In the handicap list of the Mass. Golf association, 2300 names, we note that of the eight players with a handicap of three, three are members of the Essex County club—A. Carnegie, 2d, James H. Childs and Thayer McMillan. Of those with a handicap of four are Geo. H. Crocker, J. F. Curtis, Q. A. Shaw, jr., T. G. Stevenson, G. F. Willett, G. McC. Sargent, G. Owen Winston and D. T. Dana.

The Edward C. Richardsons are closing their Boston house early next week, when they move down to their Magnolia place for the summer.

Mrs. Gordon Prince moved down to her estate at West Manchester a few days ago to remain until late June, when Mrs. George Fabyan will occupy the cottage for the summer.

Mrs. Daniel Ahl and son Leonard Ahl sailed from New York last week on the Adriatic for a few months' stay. Mrs. Ahl and son had passage engaged to sail on their return to Boston from the south in March, but were detained because of Mr. Ahl's illness. He has just recovered from a fever.

One of the new attractions at the Magnolia Tea House this year, which, by the way, is the name Mrs. Rolfe has given in place of The Dolphin,—will be a gift shop. Mrs. Rolfe, who is to conduct the Tea House, is well known among the North Shore cottagers, as the most successful head of the School of Domestic Science, Brookline. Many North Shore matrons and young women are numbered among her pupils there.

A wedding of interest to North Shore society was that of Miss Marion Burdett, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Burdett of Boston, and Prescott Bigelow, jr., of Boston and Manchester. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon by Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann. David Nevins Bigelow, at present in business in the west, came on to be his brother's best man, and Miss Florence Rawn of Chicago, his fiancee, and whose own wedding is to be in June, was a bridesmaid. The other bridesmaids were Misses Marion Sortwell of Cambridge, Leslie Lindsey, Grace Kellen and Elizabeth Bigelow, the young sister of the groom. Miss Mary Redfield of Philadelphia was maid of honor, and the ushers were Paul Burdett, Geo. G. Ball, John Lowell, jr., Lawrence P. Dodge of Newburyport, Francis W. Kemble of Philadelphia, Wheelock Bigelow of Morristown, N. J., Crawford Burton of New York, Hayden Channing of Brookline, Bradlee Van Brunt of Milton and Harold F. McNeil of Brookline, all Harvard '08.

Mrs. William E. Page, so well known in Boston and vicinity as a teacher of bridge and the new game—skat—is to be on the North Shore again this season. Last season, it will be remembered, Mrs. Page was at the North Shore Grill, where she conducted some very successful classes. This season she will be at the Magnolia Tea House, where she will teach in the very attractive dining room in the rear of the Tea House,—an excellent place for afternoon and practice classes.

Society Notes.

Prominent among the newcomers to Manchester this season will be Senator Beveridge of Indiana and family, who have leased the Rockwell house on Smith's Point, and who will come here in June to remain until September. The Rockwell estate is one of the finest on the shore. It is located between "The Cliffs," the estate of Mrs. George D. Howe, and "Cragside," the George N. Black estate, and is, as the above names would imply on the bold and rocky side of Smith's Point,—on the ocean's edge.

The S. B. Danas were among the week's arrivals at Beverly Farms. They have the Knowlton cottage on West street again.

The Oceanside hotel at Magnolia will open for the season on June 13,—a little earlier than usual. Mr. Phenix, the new manager of the hotel, is on hand almost every day, getting things ready for the season. The office is being changed over somewhat, but no great changes will be made in the hotel this season. Mr. Eades, who has been with Mr. Upton as assistant for a number of years, will be at the hotel again this summer. Every room in the house is booked for the season, Mr. Phenix says.

A. P. Loring has sold his 22-rater Orestes, the first of the Q class boats in Massachusetts bay, to P. Pavloss of Russia, who will race the boat abroad. The Orestes, it will be remembered, won a leg for the Lipton cup two years ago, and has cut quite a dash in North Shore races. She will be shipped about the first week in May on the deck of one of the ocean liners, and probably transferred to a railroad and taken overland to St. Petersburg. The sale of the Orestes will take another of the class Q boats out of the racing, and the real fight in that class for the Lipton cup will probably be between the new 22-rater, owned by A. P. Loring, and the Eleanor, owned by F. W. Fabyan.

The North Shore Grill will open for the season about June 20th.

It is a pleasing bit of news to announce that the C. Howard Clark, jrs., of Philadelphia are to return to the North Shore again this summer and that they will occupy the Boardman homestead at West Manchester,—the cottage occupied the past few years by the T. K. Lothrops. The Lothrops will summer in Dublin, N. H.

Boston and Brookline patrons of Miss F. J. Kiff of 93 Massachusetts ave., Boston, hair and skin specialist, will be interested to learn that Miss Kiff is opening a North Shore office about the middle of June in the Blaisdell block, Beach street, Manchester, (next door to Smith's Express) where she announces she will be ready to attend to her regular patients as well as all others who desire to have scalp and facial treatment, shampooing, marcel waving, etc. Miss Kiff has made a special study of the growing of hair and healing of skin diseases, and has practiced in Boston for nine years.

The harness horses of Judge William H. Moore won three blue ribbons at the show of the Riding and Driving Club of Brooklyn, Wednesday night. One of these was four-in-hands, park team, and as the judge had won a leg on the cup before and only two had to be won to secure it, the cup became his property and as the ribbon was pinned on the horse's head the trophy was handed to Judge Moore, who was driving. The second ribbon was won for the best collection of three harness horses not under 14.2. Judge Moore showed Menella, Pride o' Prides and King of Kings, driving Menella himself. In the class for pairs of harness horses 15 hands, Judge Moore won again with Pride o' Prides and King of Kings.

A Growing Concern.

One of Manchester's growing young concerns is that of H. M. Bater & Co., automobile engineers, which was established here last year, and whose business has increased to the extend that a 40x60 foot addition to the building they occupy near the depot, is being built, which doubles the floor space.

The retirement of Mr. Blount from the firm—formerly Blount, Bater & Co. —leaves Mr. Harold M. Bater in control. Mr. Blount has returned to his home in England. Mr. Bater, who, by the way, is an expert on automobile construction, especially of French cars, is in charge of both the Manchester business and of the handsome new concrete garage and machine shop now nearing completion on Lansdown street, Back Bay, Boston. The new structure is fireproof throughout and is located next to the Park Riding school.

The addition to Mr. Bater's shop in Manchester was occasioned by the greatly increased business. The firm will carry a new and complete line of accessories, many of them imported direct from Paris, and also a stock of English Palmer tires for which Mr. Bater has the agency for Boston. The firm will have autos to let also.

The percentage of attendance at the schools for the past week follows: G. A. Priest school—Grade IX, 85.33; VIII, 83.10; VII, 79.86; VI, 76.34; V, 72.61; Adv. IV, 89.84; IV, 75.99; III, 71.21; II, 91.66; Adv. I, 78.26; I, 46.18.

THE County committee met this week and organized for the year with Isaac Day as chairman and Charles Lugan of Salem, secretary, as last year.

THE Narragansett Times suggests the following: "How would it do to license one auto to each five hundred of population as the temperance bill before the (R. I.) legislature proposes to regulate the number of saloons? This ought to pacify somewhat those who object to the machines going over the highways." It adds that "twenty miles an hour as the lawful maximun speed to some autoists will be very much like standing still. Fifty at least is their idea of the speed they should be allowed to travel over the roads notwithstanding the danger of such running to more or less people."

If you have a cottage to rent, or rooms, or want boarders, advertise the fact in the BREEZE. It costs but 15 cents a week after the first week, which costs 25 cents. The paper reaches many of the very people you are trying to reach. *

"FOR THE WELFARE OF MAGNOLIA"

Discussed in the People's Forum last Sunday Evening by the Pastor of the Magnolia Church, Rev. F. J. Libby

(Revised for the BREEZE by the Speaker)

Speaking from the text, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God," Mr. Libby said that this is a summons to activity in the present and not in the future and in one's own community and not in Utopia. For the people of Magnolia it means: Seek the common good in Magnolia and place that before private interest. In the long run the common welfare and private good are not antagonistic. The gain of all is the gain of each. But where the two seem to conflict, the duty of sacrifice for the larger good is clear.

Honest Service for Fair Wages.

Those who have visited certain summer resorts of long standing will recall the disagreeable impression made upon them by the greed manifested on every hand. Every employee in the hotels, every store-keeper, every errand boy seemed to be imbued with the spirit of one squeezing the market to the limit of endurance. Magnolia is young yet. It has its future to make or unmake. A reputation for fair dealing on the part of its citizens, most of whom are employed by the summer residents in one capacity or another, will do more at present than any other one factor to advance its welfare. Honest Service for fair wages, should be the watchword. A greedy spirit is intolerable in rich or poor. Agree on a just compensation with your employer. In return for it give your best service.

Increase Magnolia's Natural Beauty.

Second only to the character of its people in importance to the welfare of Magnolia is its natural beauty. The citizens of Magnolia are in duty bound to increase and by no act of theirs to diminish this beauty. Every man who keeps a smooth-shaven lawn, every man who keeps his home neat and pretty is in so far a public benefactor. The public dump must be out of sight. Streets must be kept free from paper and rubbish. Barns should be painted. Trees should be planted. Two large advertising signs have been set up during the past week by a Gloucester business man on the road between Magnolia and Gloucester. These and the three signs erected last summer on the same road by another party should be removed.

Our Improvement Society should attend to that. We must have a public opinion in favor of maintaining Magnolia in its beauty that will prevent all such encroachments on the public interest.

Enforce the Law.

The third matter which must be mentioned in this connection is law-observance. The common welfare requires that the citizens of a community consent to abide by the laws of the Commonwealth. No other policy can endure. During the past three years we have winked at the violation of the liquor-law in Magnolia. The result has been an increase in the number of places where liquor was sold illegally. If the policy of connivance be persisted in, Magnolia will become speedily a cheap town full of immorality and vice. Signs threatening such degeneration are not wanting. We can have no favored law-breakers whether among those who board the chauffeurs or among those who board their employers. We must ask for impartial enforcement of the law. The only license granted in Magnolia is to one drug store and only in the drug store should liquor be sold. This license permits the sale only for medicinal, mechanical or chemical purposes. We grant such permission for the common welfare. We can withdraw our permission if the common welfare demands such action or if the license is ever used to cover illegal sales.

I believe that the steady pursuit of the policy outlined above will advance the welfare of Magnolia from every point of view, not forgetting its business interests. Vice is never anything else than a parasite upon prosperity. Pandering to vice destroys him who is guilty of it, whether the sinner be an individual or a community. It does not pay. The best people will leave Magnolia as fast as the worst ones come. Even men who use liquor do not want their sons and their servants to obtain it freely. Let us unite in seeking the common good. Let us seek the kingdom of God.

Carnival at Salem.

The annual spring carnival at Salem the past week has attracted crowds of people from all the North Shore towns. The big trades' parade on Tuesday was a big drawing card and the excellent inducements offered all the week by the merchants have attracted many purchasers from this section.

A School that made Manchester Famous.

Few residents of Manchester, outside the older portion, know that Manchester once had a private school which in its day was probably one of the best known schools of its kind in this section of the country. Not only was Manchester young men and women enrolled in its membership, but young people from all parts of the world came to it, owing to the reputation that it had gained among merchants and shipmates of Salem and Boston.

The late Deacon John Price kept the school, which was located on School street, in the building where F. H. Dennis' grocery is now located. In all Master Price numbered among his pupils about 1700. The school was started in 1836 and was kept up until 1872.

A few days ago a former pupil at the school brought into the office a "catalogue of the Teachers and Pupils of Chapel school, Manchester, Mass., for the year ending May 25, 1855," and suggested that it might make interesting reading, especially among our older readers, if we made mention of this once famous school and, perhaps, print a list of the pupils as they appear in the catalog.

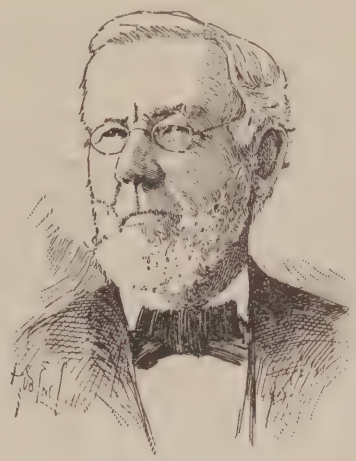

The teachers were: John Price, principal; D. Milton Crafts, assistant; Joan L. Allen and Mary B. Carter (Mrs. Samuel Knight,) assistant pupils, and Abby Parsons, teacher in drawing.

In the following list many names will be familiar. These were listed from Manchester:

Horatio L. Allen, Jacob E. Ayres, Charles L. Bagley, George W. Baker, David F. Bennett, George A. Brown, S. Allen Brown, Benj. S. Bullock, John W. Carter, Obed Carter, John H. Cheever, Samuel Crowell, jr., George A. Dodge, Albert C. Douglass, John E. Douglass, William H. Elwell, John C. Felker, jr., Charles E. Felker, John F. Fisher, David A. Goodridge, George W. Hall, T. Alvah Hardy, George E. Hildreth, William R. Holm, Daniel Kelham, jr., Henry P. Kitfield, Edward B. Kitfield, Samuel Knight, Lewis Leach, Andrew Lee, 2d, Charles H. Lee, George S. Little, Andrew Marsters, jr., James A. Marsters, Frederic W. Martin, Edward H. Morgan, Joseph H. Morse, jr., Hardy P. Murray, Elbert E. Pierce, Charles A. Preston, William H. Preston, Isaac P. Richardson, Frank C. Safford, Samuel A. Severance, Augustus A. Smith, John C. Webb, jr., Isaac S. West, jr., William M. Woodbury.

The young ladies were listed separately and those from Manchester were:

Joan L., Ruthelia L., Elizabeth K., Mary V. and Mary A. Allen, Elizabeth A. Annable, Martha T. and Mary I. Brown, Susan S., Phebe F. and Louisa Burnham, Mary B. Carter, Eliza T. Colby, Hannah Crombie, Lydia F. and Mary E. Dodge, Emma A. Drummond, Mary A. Eaton, Augusta E. Fitz, Mary

Deacon John Price

A. Gentlee, Elizabeth A. Godsoe, Elizabeth M. Haskell, Helen A. and Elsey A. Hill, Jane E. Holm, Ellen and Eliza H. Hooper, Mary C. Knight, Helen E. Knowlton, Helen F., Jane F. and Mary T. Leach, Elvira M. Lee, Lucretia O. Long, Sarah L. Marble, Juliet Martin, Eliza B. Parsons, Harriet A. Richardson, Charlotte B. Rust, Eliza L. Story, Bethiah F. and Elizabeth F. Tappan, Mary H. Taylor, Martha J. Vennard and Nancy S. Wells.

There were 117 pupils in all that year. Besides the above from Manchester, there were pupils from Salem, Gloucester, Essex, Cambridge, Roxbury, North Andover, Methuen, Brooklyn, N. Y., Tamworth, N. H., San Francisco, Para, S. A., and Aux Cayes, St. Domingo.

The year then consisted of 44 weeks of school, divided into four terms. Tuition was $4 per term, and "board including washing and mending $2.50 to $4.00 per week for males, $2.00 to $3.00 for females; fuel and light a separate charge." All the pupils were required to attend public worship. A charge of fifty cents per term was made for a seat in church.

Letters remaining unclaimed at Manchester, Mass., P. O. for week ending April 25: Mr Arnold 1, Arthur Beanlien 1, Miss Dorothy W Branch, Robert J Crozier 1, Mrs Gurdo L Carper 1, Mons Elzear Cote, James N Dennison, Mrs Margaret Doyle 1, Mrs A Lethyou Devens, Mr Frank E Goodnew, Joseph Houghton 3, Mrs J Knight, Rev Arthur C Little, Martin V B Morse, Miss Clever E Messer 1, H D Murphy, H Spector 1, George Smith, Henry Skiffington, Mrs David Thayer, Miss L M Tobin, Miss Helen Terrel 1, Mrs T H Walsh.

The Ministering Circle of King's Daughters will meet Monday evening with Mrs. L. F. Allen.

Sacred Heart Church.

Until further notice, the Sunday Masses will be at eight o'clock and half-past ten o'clock.

A mission, to be conducted by a Redemptionist Father from the Mission church, Boston, will begin next Sunday in the church. Services will be held morning and evening during the week; and the mission will close a week from Sunday night.

A branch of the Holy Name Society was organized last Sunday evening with a membership of sixty-two men. John Desmond was elected president, Dr. William J. Dougherty, secretary, and Edward Walsh, treasurer. The object of this society, which was founded by the Order of St. Dominic in the sixteenth century, is the promotion of reverence for the holy name of God and the discountenancing of blasphemy and profanity.

Travel Talk on Labrador.

At Salem Monday evening Prof. W. S. C. Russell gave an illustrated lecture on Labrador. The News Tuesday speaks of it as follows:

"An illustrated travel talk was given last evening in Ames Memorial hall on Labrador, by Prof. W. S. C. Russell. The speaker was introduced by Charles H. Fleming, and a good sized audience was present. Prof. Russell made a summer's trip to the interesting country of Labrador, and his lecture last evening was a description of his experience while on that journey.

"He started from St. John's, N. F., and the first part of his lecture he devoted to Newfoundland, showing pictures of the harbors and inlets and cities of that country. The next stop was made at Belle Isle, and a picture was shown of the most northern lighthouse, and consequently the last that the mariner sees as he starts on his journey thousands of miles up the Labrador coast and into the Arctic circle.

"Pictures were also shown of the Moravian mission stations along the coast, and the work of the missionaries was explained, showing the great good that they have done. The Hudson Bay company's trading posts were quite interesting, as well as the Esquimaux and their huts, and those of the fishermen. The description of the Esquimaux dogs and the pictures of them and also of the icebergs, also proved entertaining. The lecture closed with a tribute to Peary and Nanson."

A number of Manchester friends of Prof. Russell, have expressed the hope that he might give one his illustrated lectures here.

MANCHESTER

Mrs. T. W. Long went to Exeter, N. H., Thursday for a rest, after an illness of several weeks.

Harry Slade is to have a new motor boat built for use this summer, in which will be installed a 16 h. p. engine.

Mrs. H. M. Eastman of Lawrence has been spending a few days visiting her sister Mrs. Mary F. Allen on Union street.

W. W. Soulis and family moved into the tenement in Mr. Soulis' house on Lincoln street, yesterday, just vacated by Lester C. Morris.

Albert E. Grant and family are back to Manchester for the summer. Mr. Grant is head meat-cutter at Sheldon's Market, where he has been the past two years.

At the meeting of the North Shore Horticultural society last evening two new members were admitted. Bulb culture was the subject of an informal discussion.

N. P. Meldrum is advertising for rent the Hall cottage on Pine street, which is a most desirable cottage for either summer or all the year round use. Modern throughout. *

Look over the page of small advertisements on page 14. If you have anything to sell, to let, etc., make your desire known through this medium. It costs little.

The May Party held in the town hall last evening under the direction of Ernest Howe, Alfred Walen, and Harry White was well attended. A number came from Beverly Farms, Magnolia and Gloucester.

Thomas A. Baker returned last Saturday from St. Augustine, Fla., where he has spent several winters past, in charge of a large fruit stand for Wm. H. Dubois of Magnolia. Mr. Baker is now back to his former position at Bullodk's bakery. Tuesday evening he gave a very interesting account of the sights to be seen in Florida at the meeting of the S. of V.

Manchester's Financial Standing.

State Tax Commissioner Trefry in a report submitted to the legislature this week, giving the financial statement of the cities and towns of Essex County, shows the condition in Manchester as follows:

Manchester—Assets: Schoolhouses, $80,000; public library $30,000; other public buildings, $82,000; public grounds, $138,000; cemeteries, $25,000; other real estate, $46,955; water works, $260,000; fire apparatus, $15,000; trust funds, $2500; other assets, $16,000; total $695,455. Liabilities: Schoolhouses, $20,000; public grounds, $20,000; water works, $60,000; trust funds, $1309; total, $101,309.

The total assets of Beverly are $2,324,876; liabilities, $1,971,357. And of Gloucester—assets, $2,356,442; liabilities, $1,711,700.

On a percentage basis, it will be seen by glancing over the following list of towns in the county, that Manchester's condition is better by far than all but three towns—Nahant, Topsfield and Middleton:

Chelsea Relief Fund.

The meeting called in Manchester, Monday evening at the instigation of F. J. Merrill and others to make some organized effort to raise some money in Manchester for the Chelsea fire sufferers, resulted in the election of Mr. Merrill as chairman of the committee and A. S. Jewett, secretary. The town was divided off in districts as follows, with the name of the member of the committee receiving subscriptions:

1. Cove district, Magnolia to R. R. bridge, Summer street, to Forest street. George Kimball.

2. Smith's Point and Sea street. E. A. Lane.

3. Lincoln street, Jeffrey court, Summer street to School house. Rev. W. F. Powers.

4. Vine street, Norwood ave., Brook st., Desmond ave. and Rosedale ave. A. S. Jewett.

5. School street, Friend's court, Pleasant street. R. C. Allen.

6. Central, Pine and Bennett streets. G. A. Knoerr.

7. Bridge street, Harbor street, Jersey ave., Highland ave. Joseph Clarke.

8. Washington, North, Union and Church sts. F. J. Merrill.

The following headed each subscription paper:

"We, the undersigned citizens of Manchester wishing to extend our aid and sympathy to the stricken citizens of Chelsea, do hereby subscribe the amounts set opposite our names to be used for the purpose of assisting in relieving the distress and suffering now existing there."

It's Nerves

That make life worth living—when they are all right. But when weak or exhausted it's different; some of the organs do not get enough nerve energy. Their action becomes weak. The penalty is aches, pains and misery. Dr. Miles' Nervine restores nervous energy. It establishes normal activity, so that nature can correct the irregularities.

"Dr. Miles' Nervine has completely cured me of nervousness and indigestion. I suffered untold misery for months. The first half bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine relieved me. I have used 7 bottles in all, and now I feel as well as ever, eat heartily, digestion good, nerves strong, sleep well." MRS. MOLLIE, FLENOR, Campbell, Texas.

MISSION WORK IN JAPAN

we come again? We may use his best rooms for meetings and stay with him for the night. He is sure there are others in the town who are seeking soul satisfaction. So we arrange immediately for Akimoto San to come for a meeting on the 18th. and then regularly every other week. Then a blessed season of prayer and we start on our journey rejoicing and thanking God for this errand he has allowed us to do for him. What an inexpressible depth of joy in the consciousness of God's definitely using one to lead into the light a wondering soul.

This heart-glow of the service of the Lord is surely a foretaste of the happiness of heaven. Riding along in the jinricksha I find myself trying to praise God in the various languages that I have a smattering of—and conclude that the language of the soul must be untrammelled by words, and that the praise of heaven will be some direct outgoing of love untouched by discordant imperfection in heart or expression to mar the harmony which is to flood the universe in the day of the triumph of our Lord. Reach Kinosaki at 3.30 p. m. Arrange for evening meeting at the hotel and advertise with posters and a town-crier. Have a delightful bath in the famous hot-springs. At night we have rain and sleet but the rooms are full—about two hundred. After-meeting till eleven with a military officer, a blind massageuer, two school-teachers and several merchants as earnest inquirers.

Sunday, Dec. 15. Start for Toyooka at seven o'clock and arrive at 9.30. Find a bright S. S. of 45 or 50 children thoroughly enjoying the singing and paying good attention to the teaching. Preaching at 10 followed by Communion service. Make calls in the afternoon. Stereopticon again in the evening to a packed house. Principal of the middle school and one of his teachers are special inquirers at the after-meeting.

Monday, Dec. 16. Send goods on by jinricksha, then Akimoto San and I have exercise and good fellowship by walking the eight miles to Izushi. Arrange here for a meeting in the theatre. There is a wild storm at night and it seems colder in the fireless barnlike theatre (rent for one night one dollar) than outside. Out of pity for the shivering audience we shorten the talk and ask interested ones to come to my room at the hotel. Only three come, one a true seeker and two nominal christians who live here. Have a long talk with them about the possibility of regular work here. They think it would be fine if the Missionary Union would put in all the money needed. For their own sakes urge them to do the work themselves and at last (about midnight) they agree that it ought to be done that way, and they will try to secure rooms, Akimoto San will come over once a week, and I will send literature. Of course where there are no christians we must pay all expenses, but to relieve christians of their duty is to stunt their growth. We thank God for a step in advance and get to bed in preparation for a hard trip in the morning.

Tuesday, Dec. 17. Start at 8.30 in a beautiful snowstorm for Wadayama 13 miles over the mountains. Road so bad that do not reach there till nearly four o'clock. This is a growing town. Is the present railway terminus and within a few years another important line is to connect here from the East. Call on my good friend Mizuno San at the police station. Find that Kamada San the evangelist is waiting for me at the hotel. Arrange for the evening meeting, make a careful study of the pictures and talk, then make some calls. Have a good number at service but only two remain for talk and further instruction.

Wednesday, Dec. 18. By train to Takeda a town of about 2500 inhabitants where we held a meeting for the first time last spring, and discovered a prominent man of the place had been a christain when in Kobe but coming to this wholly unchristian place had failed to declare himself as a follower of Christ. We arrange for a meeting at his house, one of the largest in town, and everyone seems to want to get in. About two hundred crowd in while more than that number go away disappointed. After the picture talk Mizuno San who has come up with us from Wadayama gives a splendid talk. He was first attracted to Christianity by the fact that his little girl no longer feared the kitsune and bad spirits that come out after dark, when she learned about God as a loving heavenly Father. He said if the Sunday School taught of a way for even little girls to become brave he wanted to learn about it. He has now become a most devout christian. The after-meeting was in the back room seated round the brazier and God was with us.

Thursday, Dec. 19. On to Ikuno a busy mining town of 10,000 people. No regular meetings here for years. Kamada San is doubtful if we can find a place for the meeting, but first the Chief of Police to whom we are introduced by Mizuno San, offers us his house, then the principal of the largest school offers us a large room there, then the owner of a small theatre or story telling place says we may have free use of the place and we thank God for the so little expected cordial welcome to this town, and accept the theatre. A splendid audience of fully 350 listen with deep attention to the lantern lecture, then to Mizuno San's earnest talk, and all stay to my talk; in all nearly three hours. Five thoughtful inquirers come to the hotel after the meeting for further teaching.

Friday, Dec. 20. This morning we go around saying our thanks to the people who so kindly helped us yesterday. They promise a cordial reception to an evangelist if we can send one to them. We hope to arrange it soon. Start for Himeji and home at 10 o'clock.

There are no real hardships on one of these trips to one who can sit on the floor and use Japanese food. One soon gets used to being in fireless rooms, and expects to be warm only in the bath-tub or in bed. It is true that until one has for a while been without the common things he does not begin to appreciate a chair to sit on beside a table on which is bread and butter and potato and meat properly cooked and a knife and fork to attend to business with. Reach home at 1.30 with the conviction that the time is past when occasional meetings in these places are sufficient.

We must immedately plan for regular established services in these towns to which the Lord has so widely opened the door for us to enter, and in His name and power, possess.

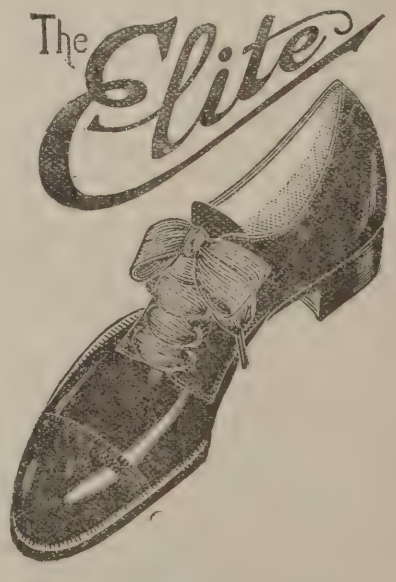

This whole district is not even touched by any other christian workers. Pray that we may be guided to wise and faithful use of these rich opportunities.

Most cordially yours in the Master's service,.

FRANK C. BRIGGS.

Baldwin Refrigerator

If You Want Perfect Satisfaction

Today we tell you about the "Eclipse Cleanable"

One of the most popular of the Baldwin make. It is the perfect refrigerator for the cold air is conducted to and enters the provision chamber at the bottom; thus creating a direct or positive current. ¶Most removable tank refrigerators are deficient in this respect. They have no flues to conduct the cold air. ¶The "Eclipse Cleanable" in addition to all the other cleanable features of other makes—a POSITIVE CIRCULATION by means of removable flues, which they are lacking, and is a veritable Cleanable Dry Air Refrigerator.

Praise for Former Manchester Young Man.

Lester C. Morris, so popularly known in Manchester, where he has been connected with the Cheever Drug store until the latter part of March, comes in for same well merited praise in the following, taken from the Boston American of last Friday afternoon:

"Great catastrophies like the Chelsea fire always develop heroes whose deeds of courage and bravery too often go unnoticed.

"One of these instances came to the notice of the men who were in charge of the Boston American's Bureau of Information in the drug store at the corner of Broadway and Second street. The drug store is right at the edge of the burned district. While the flames were devastating the city, firemen, policemen, and the general public were hastening in crowds to this place to get treatment for burns and injuries.

"Lester C. Morris, the proprietor, and his assistant, Thomas J. Allen, had made up their minds that the place was doomed," "but," said Morris, "we decided to stay as long as we could, and give what help we could to the poor unfortunates. We stayed, and fortunately the fire did not reach us, so here we are."

"About noon Dr. F. B. Gunter, who lost his instruments and everything else when his home on Fifth street burned, dropped into the drug store. Seeing Morris and Allen hard at work and a big line of sufferers waiting, the doctor pulled off his coat and went to work aiding the sufferers. It was long after midnight on that memorable Sunday night before these three men had a chance to get even a breathing spell. All their labor they gave for nothing. On the two days following they did the same although they were not kept quite so busy. All during the week Dr. Gunter treated cases free of charge. He proffered his services to the relief committee, but was kept busy treating individual charity cases that came to him."

Augusta and Methilda Anderson have opened a Swedish hand laundry in the Kimball building, Union street.

MAGNOLIA

The Alacazar opened this week for the season.

Mrs. John S Ford of Chicago has arrived for the season.

Andrew Crispin of Somerville was in town last Sunday, renewing acquaintances.

Herman Staples was taken to the Home for Consumptives at Rutland, Monday.

The next district Christian Endeavor Union will be held with the Magnolia society the latter part of June.

Rev. F. J. Libby's address on "For the Welfare of Magnolia" should be read by every Magnolian. It is printed on page 14 of this issue.

The sum of $125 for the Chelsea Fire sufferers was added to the Gloucester fund by Magnolia last Friday. Mr. Lafayette Hunt was the member of the Relief committee for Ward 8.

The Bible class which meets at the church at 10.15 Sunday mornings is studying the prophet Hosea just at present. The morning service is at 11 o'clock. All are invited to both of these services.

The Ladies' Aid society met with Mrs. John Lycett last Thursday. They will meet at the same place next week.

The Children's Embroidery class met at Mrs. Oscar Story's last Friday afternoon. The class will meet at Mrs. Henry Brown's next week.

A very pleasant "Sheet and Pillowcase" party was held at the Clubhouse last Thursday evening for the benefit of the Chelsea fund. Music was furnished by Fred Long of Manchester and Mr. Symonds of Gloucester. The dancing continued after the removal of the masks until twelve.

The People's Forum is fortunate in securing for its speaker tomorrow evening H. Huestis Newton, Esq., a former mayor of Everett. He has chosen for his subject "Municipal Administration," on which he can speak out of his own experience. Mayor Henry H. Parsons of Gloucester has been invited to be present and participate in the discussion.

The Lord's Supper will be celebrated at the Village church tomorrow morning.

At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen Monday evening in a communication from Inspector of Buildings Crowe on the conditions of the school buildings, the following was given in reference to the Blynman school:

Magnolia School.—One story wooden building, two rooms, 45 pupils. Furnaces, well protected. Doors from class rooms to corridor open inwardly. One exit, door opens outwardly.

"Love" the Subject of Sermon.

"The Old Eternal Question of Love" was the subject of Rev. L. H. Ruge's sermon at the Congregational church, Manchester, last Sunday evening. His text was "Lovest thou me more than these?" John 21: 15. Mr. Ruge said in part:

"Peter forgets denial; maybe he was in a grave mood again, and forgets sin. Simon was an old name of the past by which Jesus first called him. 'Simon, lovest me?' What did Jesus mean by 'these?' Maybe the other disciples. The others may have had more love for him. It was a question whether they loved him more than Simon did. Peter went back to his old life which he had left when Jesus called him. The charm of a seafaring life appealed to Peter after Jesus had gone. When Peter protested he loved him, was it not that he loved these also? Jesus said 'I will make you fishers of men.' He compared the life of the old fishermen with the perils and dangers in the new life. Whatever the meaning, it was a personal question; it was not the church, but the Lord asking the question.

"Sometimes we avoid answering personal questions and try to put on a listless air. He does not ask whether we love him or love him a great deal, but asks 'do we love him more than these.' What thought predominates in our hearts tonight? He will be satisfied with nothing less than supreme love."

Mr. Ruge contrasted family and friends on one side, and a pleading lover on the other with nothing to give but supreme love asking with pleading eyes 'lovest thou me more than these?'

"Peter's love was sentimental and not sacrificial at this time. If there is no love in our hearts for Jesus, ask ourselves why we read his Word, or why we come into this house to worship. Can we be fretful in trouble if we have his love? It is vain to love the church and not the head of the church; vain to love the feast and not the host. Peter's love was no longer to be a profession, but to be tested. Profession would no longer satisfy the Master. The third time Jesus asked the question, Peter answers 'Lord thou knowest that I love thee.' Shall we not gather some hope from this reply of Peter, the coward, the loved one? Peter answers 'Thou knowest that I love thee.' Let us answer the question of the Lord as Peter did. He is worthy of our supreme protection and love. He is the most lovely. Oh that this question might ring in our minds and hearts forever: 'Lovest thou me more than these?'"

"Expansion" was the subject of Rev. Mr. Ruge's sermon Sunday morning. Text, "But we beseech you, brethren, that ye increase more and more."

William T. Goodwin of Lawrence has moved to the Farms for the summer, having secured a position on a summer estate.

Miss Sylvia Bushee returned this week from spending the winter at her former home in Lunenburg, N. S., and she will probably spend the summer here.

Measles seem to be the fad at the Farms at present, though it is quite unnecessary to say that it is a fashion not much appreciated. All cases are of a mild form, however.

A petition has been presented to the Beverly Board of Aldermen signed by some of the Farms residents asking for the construction of a sidewalk on a portion of Haskell street.

Wilbur J. Pierce and Howard E. Morgan received word this week that their summer camp at Briar Neck, Gloucester, had been broken into and part of the furnishings stolen.

The baseball game at Peabody's field Montserrat between the Beverlys and the Philadelphia Giants, a famous colored team, which is being played this afternoon is a strong attraction for the Farms fans.

Lawrence A. Ford, district deputy of this district of the K. of C., delivered an interesting address in Ipswich last Tuesday evening before the Ipswich K. of C., and their auxiliary, the Daughters of Isabel.

John West colony, Pilgrim Fathers, is another of the Beverly Farms societies to take action toward securing relief for the Chelsea sufferers. The committee in charge has already secured a goodly sum among the members of the order.

Lewis Hardy is back from several months' stay in Rutland, greatly improved in health, having added twelve pounds in weight during his stay. He is again in charge of his grocery and provision business at the old stand. We call attention to the firm's advertisement in this issue.

Flags were displayed at half-mast upon the Liberty poles in Central square, the engine house and G. A. R. hall, out of respect to former mayor Freeborn W. Cressey, who died in Beverly the early part of the week. The Farms school on Wednesday afternoon closed for the same reason.

The drivers of the apparatus at the local fire station have taken turns the past week in performing some good work in the shape of hitching their horses into the watering carts and sprinkling the streets, an act much appreciated. It is suggested that it would be an excellent plan to continue this arrangement all summer upon the streets not covered by the regular system.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I beg to announce to the residents of the North Shore that I have purchased from Walker Bros. & Co. the provision business conducted by them at Beverly Farms for the past twenty years, including their good will and trade. Having had twenty-five years experience on the North Shore, eight years as manager of Wyatt's Market, I thoroughly understand the selection of choice meats, fruits, vegetables, etc., carried by first-class markets. The business will be conducted under the name of Brewer's Market, which will be opened on or about April 20, 1908. I solicit your patronage.

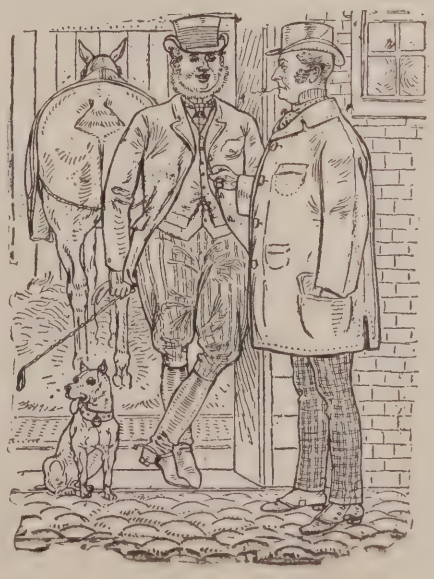

WALTER P. BREWER.

Beverly Farms, Mass., Feb. 10, 1908.

We, the undersigned, certify that we have sold the good will and trade of our North Shore business to Walter P. Brewer.

Real Estate

And Improvements

Work was started this week on the construction of a 60 by 40 ft. addition to Horace Standley's building, Depot sq., Manchester, to be used by H. M. Bater & Co. in connection with their present quarters and in which to handle their steadily increasing automobile repairing business.

Ground was broken Thursday by F. Leslie Woodbury, upon his land on West street, Beverly Farms, formerly belonging to his father, the late John H. Woodbury, for a 16-room dwelling house, designed for two families. This location for a year-round residence is one of the most desirable, and when completed will be a valuable addition to the Farms houses occupied by permanent residents. Mr. Woodbury intends to occupy one tenement himself and rent the other. Daniel Gilmartin has the contract for the foundations.

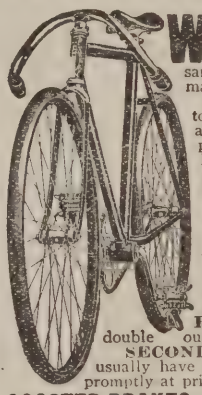

Assessor T. A. Holmes is having a cottage house built on High street for his own occupancy, ground being broken this week. Daniel Gilmartin has practically completed the foundations and cellar, the stonework being of Rockport granite. It is uuderstood that Prince Ober of Beverly will do the carpenter work.

WANTED--A RIDER AGENT IN EACH TOWN and district to ride and exhibit a sample Latest Model "Ranger" bicycle furnished by us. Our agents everywhere are making money fast. Write for full particulars and special offer at once.

NO MONEY REQUIRED until you receive and approve of your bicycle. We ship to anyone, anywhere in the U. S. without a cent deposit in advance, prepay freight, and allow TEN DAYS' FREE TRIAL during which time you may ride the bicycle and put it to any test you wish. If you are then not perfectly satisfied or do not wish to keep the bicycle ship it back to us at our expense and you will not be out one cent.

FACTORY PRICES We furnish the highest grade bicycles it is possible to make at one small profit above actual factory cost. You save $10 to $25 middlemen's profits by buying direct of us and have the manufacturer's guarantee behind your bicycle. DO NOT BUY a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone at any price until you receive our catalogues and learn our unheard of factory prices and remarkable special offers to rider agents.

YOU WILL BE ASTONISHED when you receive our beautiful catalogue and study our superb models at the wonderfully low prices we can make you this year. We sell the highest grade bicycles for less money than any other factory. We are satisfied with $1.00 profit above factory cost.

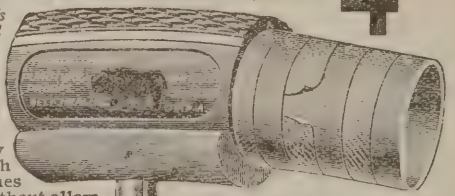

BICYCLE DEALERS, you can sell our bicycles under your own name plate at double our prices. Orders filled the day received.

SECOND HAND BICYCLES. We do not regularly handle second hand bicycles, but usually have a number on hand taken in trade by our Chicago retail stores. These we clear out promptly at prices ranging from $3 to $8 or $10. Descriptive bargain lists mailed free.

COASTER-BRAKES, single wheels, imported roller chains and pedals, parts, repairs and equipment of all kinds at half the usual retail prices.

$8.50 HEDGETHORN PUNCTURE-PROOF SELF-HEALING TIRES A SAMPLE PAIR TO INTRODUCE, ONLY $4.80

The regular retail price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but to introduce we will sell you a sample pair for $4.80 (cash with order $4.55).

NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES

NAILS, Tacks or Glass will not let the air out. Sixty thousand pairs sold last year. Over two hundred thousand pairs now in use.

DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C. O. D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented.

Notice the thick rubber tread "A" and puncture strips "B" and "D," also rim strip "H" to prevent rim cutting. This tire will outlast any other make—SOFT, ELASTIC and EASY RIDING.

We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.55 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump. Tires to be returned at OUR expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination. We are perfectly reliable and money sent to us is as safe as in a bank. If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, wear better, last longer and look finer than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a bicycle you will give us your order. We want you to send us a trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer.

IF YOU NEED TIRES don't buy any kind at any price until you send for a pair of Hedgethorn Puncture-Proof tires on approval and trial at the special introductory price quoted above; or write for our big Tire and Sundry Catalogue which describes and quotes all makes and kinds of tires at about half the usual prices.

DO NOT WAIT but write us a postal today. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone until you know the new and wonderful offers we are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.

The Ladies' Sewing circle met with Mrs. Oscar Hakanson, Everett street, Thursday.

Rev. N. R. Walsh pastor of St. Margaret's church, left the Farms Wednesday for a short absence. His trip is a combined pleasure and business one.

Mrs. Abbie Marshall and Mrs. E. F. Campbell sent a lot of furniture, etc., over the road this week to their camp at Wheeler's Point, on the Squam river. The cottage is fitted up for early occupancy.

The Board of Aldermen at their last meeting granted "pony express" licenses to Smith's Express Co. and to Marshall & Moulton, the two companies doing business in this section of the city. The American Express was given leave to withdraw.

The Directors of the West Beach Corporation met at the beach one day this week and, with Supt. Neville, looked over the property with a view of ascertaining the requirements there for the coming season. The vacancy on the board has not yet been filled.

Thursday evening was certainly a pleasant one for the members of the two fire companies of the West street engine house. The boys tried to forget all thoughts of alarms or fires and gave the evening over to pleasure, their wives and lady friends entering into the occasion with as much joy as did the firemen who had invited them to partake of their hospitality. At 6.30 in the G. A. R. banquet hall the merry party sat down to a supper provided by the Dirigo Catering Co. of Beverly, after which the scene changed to Marshall's hall, where the balance of the evening was spent. An entertainment and dance was provided. The committee in charge were W. B. Publicover, George Wood, Howard P. Williams and E. Fred Day.

The Embroidery class deviated somewhat from their usual form of meeting Wednesday evening, when they went to Salem and dined at the Essex House, after which they saw the "Squaw Man" at the Empire theatre.

The Girl's club was entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. W. R. Brooks, Hart street. Miss Margaret Bakeman, a graduate of the Boston cooking school, was present, and gave a practical chafing dish demonstration.

Robert J. Brown of Holliston was in town Thursday looking over his Farms property and renewing acquaintances. Mr. Brown reports that he has a large track of land under cultivation on his farm in Holliston.

Among the many views of the Chelsea fire now on sale is one showing the remains of the abandoned Lynn fire engine, and in the background, among other spectators, are John Leahy and Homer Callahan.

Successful Entertainment.

The entertainment and dance given in Neighbor's hall last Tuesday evening in aid of St. Margaret's church, under the management of John Daniels, was a splendid success in every way. The hall was crowded when the first number on the program was announced a little past 7.30.

The U. S. Machinery Co. minstrels, —Crowley, Larcom and Shea—presented a funny sketch entitled "The Mudville Minstrels." Other numbers on the program included: A blackfaced sketch representing "Rastus Johnson" and "Jack White," Dennis Donovan and William Holt, which created considerable merriment, some of the jokes and local hits being quite good; "Moderator Brown" and "Chauncy Alcott" in the take off of a Rube and a Sport; solos by Miss May D. Connolly and John Bresnahan; recitations by Master Richard Graver and Miss Mary Connolly. Miss Barbara Daniels contributed to the occasion a rose dance which also found popular favor. The readings by Master Graver were especially good for a young lad of his age. At 10 o'clock the floor was cleared and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. Long's orchestra furnished excellent dance music.

Rev. C. S. Pond has an engagement to preach for Rev. Dr. Robert MacDonald at the Washington Avenue church, Brooklyn, the first Sunday in June. Dr. MacDonald was appointed University preacher at Harvard for three years. He is to be in Canada on the Sunday mentioned above.

The next meeting of Miss May D. Connolly's gymnasium class will be held in Neighbor's hall next Saturday evening, May 9, at 7 o'clock. The public demostration by the class will be given in the same hall the following Saturday evening, May 16, and admittance to same may be had by consulting with any member of the class.

Seven to one tells the story of the last game between the Yannigans and the Red Sox, the score being in favor of the latter team. Crocker pitched a fine game for the Red Sox, striking out 22 men; he was very much the whole thing for that team. Capt. Frank Gaudreau made the one run scored by his team. This ends the series, the Yannigans having won three of the five games. The Red Sox claim only three games were played, however, two of which they won.

Twenty cents in stamps or otherwise sent to the Boston Evening Transcript will secure for anyone interested in the series of articles started Saturday, April 25 in that paper on the "The Cotton Mill South." These will appear regularly each Saturday and Wednesday in five articles. They are by the Rev. P. H. Goldsmith, D. D., minister of the First church of Salem, Mass., (the first church in New England) who is a Southerner by birth, a Northerner by residence. This is an exceptional opportunity to get this series from a man of high standing and character whose viewpoint on this interesting theme is singularly excellent.

Most Conspicuous Thing in the Dining Room

Not absolutely a necessity, more, really, a luxury, hence it should be decorative,—the prettiest thing in the room, and bought from the standpoint of absolute looks.

The Sideboard

To be correct, it should be at least four feet long, its depth no less than 22 inches. The mirror should be large and hug closely the top of the base, it should have side brackets in front of the mirror for display purposes and a long shelf at the top to dress it up by.

It should be made of beautiful quarter-sawed oak and finished so fine that you could see your face in it.

Such a board we sell for

Only $24.50

'Tis one of a family, a handsome family, too, that starts with the smallest ones at only $12.50, and goes along up to a most imposing one

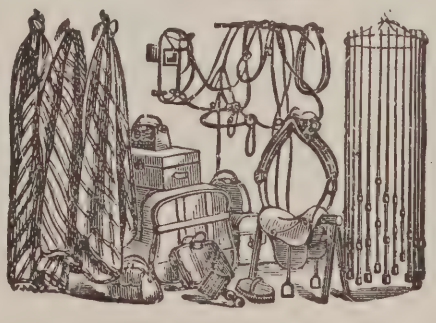

At $33.00

Evidences of dull market conditions are very apparent in these prices. These sideboards were certainly made with the expectation of being more.

Shown with our massive line of Dining Room Fittings, which is really one of the hobbies of this great big store.

RANDOM THOUGHTS.

BY D. F. LAMSON.

If Bacon's dictum is true, that "reading makes a full man, conversation a ready man, and writing an exact man," it would seem that an education that slights or ignores either of these is so far a defective one.

Ancient systems of education had at least this advantage, they trained scholars in oral discussion or disputation, so that they had at command what they learned, and knew how to make effective use of it.

In these days of the boasted power of the press, and of its multitudinous issues, there is danger, possibly, that the influence of the spoken word be underrated; we might take some lessons from the old Greeks and Romans, and the modern French, in this matter, that of the forceful use of oral speech.

If "true hearts are more than coronets," what is to hinder any of us from being something more than mere dukes or counts? What, indeed, unless it be something within us? And here is where the trouble comes. "The fault is not in our stars, but in ourselves, that we are underlings."

Marriage is sometimes said to be a lottery; it may well be so, if it is played as a game, with hearts for trumps, and a fortune for the winner; however glittering may be the prize, it is sure to disappoint, and whoso is deceived thereby is not wise. Or, to change the figure, those who embark on the sea of matrimony in the spirit of mere adventure have only themselves to blame, if they find when too late that they have set sail in a veritable "shipp of fooles."

Some of the best things to read, sometimes, are things with which we do not altogether agree; the rower's skill and muscle are developed more by making his way against the current, than by floating along with it; it is easy enough to drift, but drifting never made one an independent thinker, or scholar, or man.

Years ago, it was an axiom of political economy that demand creates a supply; is it not also true that supply creates a demand? For illustration we may glance at the show-windows along our thorough-fares, or the advertising columns of our newspapers. Query: is there danger that some methods of permanent charitable relief may create

CONCRETE HOTEL TO BE BUILT AT MAGNOLIA?

New York Parties have secured Six Months' Option on the Magnolia Hotel Property.

Ever since the New Magnolia hotel burned to the ground last fall rumors have been rife about interested parties buying the property and putting up a new hotel. The rumors have been unfounded, however, for the most part.

The BREEZE is in a position to state this week, however, that the first real move toward securing the property, looking to the building of a hotel, was made the latter part of last month, and a six months' option on the property has been given by the owners, dating April 20th.

This information was obtained from one of the interested parties, and the man to whom the option was given. This man has offices in the Old South Building, Boston, and is interested as one of the promotors. A couple of New York men will finance the plan, if it goes through. Both are permanent hotel men, one of them connected for the past 35 years with one of the best hotels in the country.

For some years these men have been looking around for a good chance to put up a first class hotel on the North Shore. They considered the Masconomo hotel property at Manchester at one time. They also considered the Oceanside hotel property at Magnolia, but not seriously.

It is their plan, if matters can be properly arranged, to erect a strictly first-class hotel on the site of the New Magnolia. "First-class" means that all of their many years experience will be put into the construction of a hotel that will be the best that could be desired on the North Shore for the class of people that come here.

To begin with it will mean an absolutely fire-proof structure as far as this can be attained; a building of re-inforced concrete. There will be 300 rooms, large, airy, well-studded rooms. There will be a cafe, something not found in the hotels on the North Shore at present. There will be a smoking room; a large assembly room, to be used as a dance hall. The office will be large and roomy. And a feature which ought to take will be hot and cold sea water baths.

The house will not be of many stories; it will be more of an inn. It will cover more ground than the old Magnolia. It will be elegantly furnished throughout and every convenience known will be installed.

There is a demand for just such a house on the North Shore. We urged just such a hotel in these columns for several weeks last winter and suggested the Masconomo hotel property at Manchester as the proper location.

Magnolia is a charming spot, retired, away from the main line of travel, and a most favorable place in every respect for such a hotel. The fact that it is two miles from the railroad station adds rather than detracts from its attractiveness as an ideal resort. The beautiful drive from the station is a charm which the guests and visitors enjoy equally with the beautiful surroundings when the hotels are reached.

There is, we believe, a demand for just such a house as outlined above, and we trust that nothing will happen to prevent the plans of those who now hold an option on the property being carried out.

MANCHESTER FIRE COMPANIES ORGANIZE.

The Manchester fire companies met last Monday evening at the engine house for re-organization for the year. Henceforth the officers of the various companies will be designated by the words "captain," and "lieutenant," for this was one of the things decided upon by the engineers and announced to the companies prior to election Monday evening.

There was a slight "shake-up" in the department, but nothing to cause alarm; a few transfers were made, but the personnel of the department remains identically as last year, not one man leaving the department. Northing can speak better of the condition of the department than this fact.

The plan inaugurated last year of having one of the companies remain in the station on alarms from certain boxes will be continued. The reason for this, of course, is obvious: the company is kept on hand to protect the center of the town in case a fire should break out when the rest of the apparatus is at some distance from the center.

The organization of the companies follows:

MANCHESTER FIREMEN ORGANIZE

Engine Co. No. 1—Charles W. Sawyer, captain; Perley B. Parsons, lieutenant; George E. Hildreth, clerk.

Chemical company—Frank G. Cheever, captain; R. C. Allen, lieutenant; Lyman W. Floyd, clerk.

Hook and Ladder Co.—Granville Crombie, captain; Thomas Baker, lieutenant; Charles Fritz, clerk.

The transfers made were as follows: R. J. Baker and Lewis Leach from Engine Co. to Chemical Co.; Fred Dougherty and Ralph Stanley from the Chemical Co. to Engine Co.; Otis Lane from the Hook and Ladder to the Chemical Co.; George Hobbs from the Chemical to Hook and Ladder Co.

Charles Chadwick was reappointed driver by the engineers and was given a vacation of two weeks, which he will take this month probably. He was also given the additional privilege of one Sunday off each month.

Next Monday evening, at 6 o'clock, weather permitting, the department will have its annual spring cleaning, when the companies will take the apparatus from the engine house for general cleaning up and practice.

Last Monday evening also the firemen received their annual stipends from the town for the year ending May 1, each man receiving $50. There are 20 men in the Engine Co., and fourteen each in the Hook and Ladder and Chemical companies,—a total of 48 men, which means that $2400 was paid out. This does not include the engineers, nor the engineers and fireman of the steamer.

NEW SACRED HEART CHURCH, MANCHESTER
In which services are now being held permanently, beginning last Sunday.

Sacred Heart Church.

The mission, which is being preached by Father Francis Gallagher of the Redemptionist Order, has been attended thus far by large and enthusiastic congregations. Masses, with doctrinal and moral instruction, have been celebrated every morning this week at 5 and 7.30 o'clock. The children's mission was held during the afternoons of the early part of the week. Evening services, with regular mission sermons, have begun at 7.45 o'clock.

This evening, at 7.45 o'clock, a procession of little girls will start from the old church and will march through the aisles of the new church, in honor of the Blessed Virgin.

At 10.30 o'clock tomorrow forenoon, the Easter High Mass will be repeated by a choir of fourteen voices.

The mission will close Sunday evening at 7.45 o'clock. The subject of the sermon will be—"Perseverance."

Monday morning, at 6 o'clock, Father Gallagher will celebrate a requiem Mass for the deceased relatives and friends of those who shall have made the mission, and will preach on "The Departed Souls."

MANCHESTER

One proposal for membership was received at the meeting of Magnolia lodge, I. O. O. F., Thursday evening.

Miss Susie Gould of Boston, who recently returned from a trip abroad, is a week-end guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Forster Allen.

The "lid" is one in Manchester again, and it is said that it is on to stay this year. The selectmen have notified the Chief of Police in no uncertain tones that they intend to have the law enforced, and the Chief in turn has notified other "interested" parties that the law is to be carried out to the letter. No one is to be overlooked.

It is with extreme regret that we make reference this week to the misfortune which has befell one of our townsmen, James K. Pulsifer, owner of the Post-office block. The sympathy of the whole community is extended to Mr. Pulsifer and his family and we express the hope that the multitudinous rumors about Mr. Pulsifer's condition are greatly exaggerated. The Banker and Tradesman of this morning records two attachments,—$5000 by the Asiatic National Bank of Salem and $7000 by Alphonso M. Knowlton of Essex. An attachment of $38,000 has been made by the Beverly National Bank.

The Rebekah Assembly of Massachusetts held its annual meeting Wednesday, May 6, at Odd Fellows' hall, Boston. Five past noble grands of Liberty Rebekah lodge, No. 78, attended. Members of local lodge may be interested to learn that there were 137 candidates initiated at the morning session and a large number in the evening.

Coughlin-O'Hara.

At the parochial residence, Manchester, last Saturday evening, John W. Coughlin of Manchester, and Mrs. Sarah O'Hara of Boston and Manchester, were united in marriage by the Rev. Fr. Wm. F. Powers.

A strawberry festival was held in the Chapel last evening under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E., and was attended by about fifty young people. Refreshments of ice cream, strawberries and cake were served. Strawberries were worn as favors. The committee was composed of Joseph Floyd, Willard Rust, Mabel Lodge and Agnes Sjorlund.

Waldo Peart made the favors. Ghost stories were told by Rev. Mr. Ruge, Frank Sinnicks and Robert Allen, during which the room was dimly lighted.

THE committee on counties reported adversely on the bill calling for a county court house at Lynn.

IF Solomon were alive today with his 300 wives could he face the Merry Widow hat problem with calmness?

THE sixth congressional district convention to elect two delegates and two alternates to the democratic national convention at Denver, Col., July 6, will be held at Odell hall, Salem, next Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Charles A. Russell, Esq., of Gloucester will probably be elected one of the delegates.

THE Beverly City Government at a meeting this week adopted the following ordinance relative to the distribution of handbills and circulars: "No person shall distribute generally in any street or from any building or vehicle to persons on the street, handbills, cards, circulars or papers of any kind except newspapers. This ordinance shall take effect at the expiration of thirty days from its passage."

Printed One Hundred Years Ago

We are indebted to Miss Hattie P. Allen of Manchester for a copy of an Almanac printed in 1808, entitled "An Astronomical Diary; or Almanack, for the year of christian era 1807. Being the third after Bissextile, or Leap Year, and thirty-first of the Independence of the United States of America. Containing all that is usual in an Almanack, and a variety of other matters curious, useful and entertaining." Nathaniel Low was the publisher.

Being 101 years old this is naturally an interesting thing to look over. Despite its age, however, the book (34 pages) is well preserved, and though brown with age the type is perfectly distinct. The almanac feature is very much like that which characterizes the Old Farmers almanac of today.

In the back of the book is a list of "Roads and stages from Boston," giving the stages, distances, etc. We note no reference to Manchester, though it tells there was one stage to Gloucester, leaving "Mrs. Marean's, Elm street, every day at 10 a. m."

One may feel thankful that the rates of postage existing at that time do not hold at present. The rate: "For single letters, composed of one piece of paper, any distance not exceeding 40 miles, 8 cents; over 40 miles and not exceeding 90, 10 cents," and so on up to 500 miles. The rate for over 500 miles was 25 cents. "Double letters, or those composed of two pieces of paper are double the above rates; and triple letters, triple the rates. Ship letters are rated at 6 cents each; and when forwarded by mail, with the addition of 2 cents to the ordinary rates of postage."

"For each newspaper, not over 100 miles, 1 cent per sheet." etc.

THE preliminary meeting of the committee having in charge the great republican barbacue which is to be held at Point of Pines July 16 was held at Boston Wednesday evening, and much enthusiasm was manifested. Acting chairman William O. Faxon announced that the republican candidates for president and vice president, whoever they may be, will be present.

EDITOR NORTH SHORE BREEZE.

Dear Sir: While it goes without saying that some people find marriage a proposition that keeps them in hot water and it is more than certain that the man who has two wives find himself in a decidedly hot situation, I think that Manchester is the first town that has ever undertaken to regulate these matters by placing them in the hands of the Fire Department. I notice in the papers of the last two weeks a card signed by the Fire Engineers calling attention to Chapter 212, Section 11 of the Revised Laws, which provides various pains and penalties for Polygamy. We trust that no further action will be necessary to suppress this crime in Manchester.

"BONFIRE."

Hollis Street Theatre.

"The Lion and the Mouse," the most notable success in comedy-drama that has appeared within a decade, will be the attraction at the Hollis Street Theatre beginning next Monday, May 11th.

When Charles Klein selected the money question and the oppression set in motion by the big financial powers of the day as the basis of his play he chose a theme that had not hitherto been pressed into service by the playwright, and the idea was developed along absolutely original lines. He not only treated this socioiogical problem in a forceful, intelligent and convincing manner, but he also produced a play of compelling human interest, brisk in action, replete in dramatic incident and admirable in character portraiture.

by Edmund Breese as "Ready Money" Ryder and Gertrude Coghlan as Shirley Rossmore. Others of prominence in the cast are Malcolm Duncan, who plays Jefferson Ryder; Frazer Coulter, who is cast for ex-Judge Scott; Julia Hanchett as Mrs. Ryder; Reginald Carrington as Bagley, the English secretary; E. A. Eberle as Senator Roberts, and Marion Pollock Johnson as the Senator's daughter. The minor roles are all in the care of those who created them.

The Boston Food Fair.

The mammoth exposition, the original Boston Food Fair, for 1908, will be held in the Park Square Coliseum for five weeks, from Sept. 29 to Oct. 31. It will include also a Liberal Arts Exposition and the entire affair is conducted by the Boston Retail Grocers' Association which has already conducted six very successful food fairs in Boston.

The work of remodelling the Coliseum for the grand opening as an exposition building will begin at once, and no expense will be spared to make it ideal in every way. In architectural beauty as to interior decoration it will have no rival in this country. Where once the crowds poured forth from the Park Square station to business or pleasure they will now flock to it as a temple of electric splendor to participate in the day and evening's sight-seeing and amusements. The harmony of color and decorations, even to including the exhibition booths will be the result of a very definite architectural plan more elaborate in its scope than ever before attempted.

The Boston Retail Grocers' Association gave its six large successful Boston Food Fairs in 1891, 1894, 1897, 1899, 1901, and 1906. These have all been held in the Mechanics' Building, but this year the management was quick to grasp the opportunity when it was learned that the Park Square Coliseum could be obtained for an exposition building, fully appreciating its advantages of location so near the Public Garden and the Common with its subway entrances and exits, in the very heart of the shopping district.

Sousa's Band is among the many big attractions.

Plans for this exposition were being made last year and the management has completed arrangements for some most novel exhibits, while for the entertainment features there have been secured the best novelties to be found— and although the price of admission will remain the same as in former years, 25 cents, there will be no extra charge of any kind.

Manuel S. Silva.

Manuel S. Silva, one of Manchester's oldest citizens passed away Tuesday evening, at his home, 82 Summer street, at the age of 82 years, 7 months, 13 days. He had been ailing for two years with a heart trouble.

Mr. Silva's native home was Portugal. He came to America 55 years ago, and for ten years he made Gloucester his home. Forty-five years ago he came to Manchester, and for a while he worked for Mr. Gentlee, on a farm. Until he retired some seven years ago he had conducted a farming and milk business on upper Forest street for 31 years.

He sold his large estate, of wood and farming land, seven years ago to Philip Dexter, and he bought John R. Allen's estate, at the junction of Summer and Forest streets, where he had since lived.

Mr. Silva was an honest, upright, law-abiding citizen.

He is survived by a widow, three daughters and four sons: Mrs. W. R. Kelley of Dorchester, Mrs. O. H. Sawyer of Springfield, Mrs. P. A. Sheehan of this rown, Antone F. and Joseph of Manchester, George F. of South Boston, and Manuel S. Silva of Gloucester.

Funeral services were held at 9.30 yesterday morning at the Sacred Heart church, Requiem High Mass being said by the Rev. Fr. Powers, pastor, assisted by two other pastors.

The Manchester Town Meeting of 63 Years Ago.

The following sums of money were voted to be raised at the annual Town Meeting, held March 10th and 11th, 1845:

For the support of schools	$ 900.00
" " " " Poor and other Town charges	1,200.00
For the support of M. M. L. I. Co.	20.00
" reducing the Town Debt	300.00
	$2506.40
County Tax	368.71
State Tax	90.00
	$2,965.11
Overlayings	41.69
	$3006.80

Assessments.

387 polls at $1.28 each	$495.36
Residents estates	2,467.41
Non-Residents estates	44.03
Total	$3,006.80

Valuation of Town.

Real estate	$265,803
Personal estate	206,400
Non-Residents estates	7,968
Total valuation	$480,171

The tax rate on that year (1845) was 54 cents on $100, or, as we would speak of it now $5.40 on $1000.

Here is one instance of a tax levy in 1845:

House, barn and garden	$400
16 acres of tillage land	850
6 acres of meadow land	120
95 acres of pasture land	700
Total value	$2,070
Tax Levy $11.21

Just think of it: house, barn and garden and 117 acres of land and the total tax only $11.21.

N. P. Meldrum is advertising for ren the Hall cottage on Pine street, which is a most desirable cottage for either summer or all the year round use. Modern throughout. *

WANTED--A RIDER AGENT IN EACH TOWN and district to ride and exhibit a sample Latest Model "Ranger" bicycle furnished by us. Our agents everywhere are making money fast. Write for full particulars and special offer at once.

NO MONEY REQUIRED until you receive and approve of your bicycle. We ship to anyone, anywhere in the U. S. without a cent deposit in advance, prepay freight, and allow TEN DAYS' FREE TRIAL during which time you may ride the bicycle and put it to any test you wish. If you are then not perfectly satisfied or do not wish to keep the bicycle ship it back to us at our expense and you will not be out one cent.

FACTORY PRICES We furnish the highest grade bicycles it is possible to make at one small profit above actual factory cost. You save $10 to $25 middlemen's profits by buying direct of us and have the manufacturer's guarantee behind your bicycle. DO NOT BUY a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone at any price until you receive our catalogues and learn our unheard of factory prices and remarkable special offers to rider agents.

YOU WILL BE ASTONISHED when you receive our beautiful catalogue and study our superb models at the wonderfully low prices we can make you this year. We sell the highest grade bicycles for less money than any other factory. We are satisfied with $1.00 profit above factory cost.

BICYCLE DEALERS, you can sell our bicycles under your own name plate at double our prices. Orders filled the day received.

SECOND HAND BICYCLES. We do not regularly handle second hand bicycles, but usually have a number on hand taken in trade by our Chicago retail stores. These we clear out promptly at prices ranging from $3 to $8 or $10. Descriptive bargain lists mailed free.

COASTER-BRAKES, single wheels, imported roller chains and pedals, parts, repairs and equipment of all kinds at half the usual retail prices.

$8.50 HEDGETHORN PUNCTURE-PROOF SELF-HEALING TIRES $4.80 A SAMPLE PAIR TO INTRODUCE, ONLY

The regular retail price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but to introduce we will sell you a sample pair for $4.80 (cash with order $4.55).

NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES

NAILS, Tacks or Glass will not let the air out. Sixty thousand pairs sold last year. Over two hundred thousand pairs now in use.

DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C. O. D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented.

Notice the thick rubber tread "A" and puncture strips "B" and "D," also rim strip "H" to prevent rim cutting. This tire will outlast any other make—SOFT, ELASTIC and EASY RIDING.

We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.55 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump. Tires to be returned at OUR expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination. We are perfectly reliable and money sent to us is as safe as in a bank. If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, wear better, last longer and look finer than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a bicycle you will give us your order. We want you to send us a trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer.

IF YOU NEED TIRES don't buy any kind at any price until you send for a pair of Hedgethorn Puncture-Proof tires on approval and trial at the special introductory price quoted above; or write for our big Tire and Sundry Catalogue which describes and quotes all makes and kinds of tires at about half the usual prices.

DO NOT WAIT but write us a postal today. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone until you know the new and wonderful offers we are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.

Rev. Lucius F. Reed, of Montpelier, Vt., has been the guest of Rev. F. J. Libby this week.

Mrs. J. A. S. Woodrow and daughter Dorothy of Cambridge, are spending a few days in town this week.

Miss Grace Story will accompany Miss Howard of Brockton on a visit to England, Scotland, Switzerland and Italy. They sail for England next Friday, returning in the fall.

Last Sunday evening, the speaker at the Village church was H. H. Newton, ex-mayor of Everett. He spoke of Municipal Administration, in the People's Forum. He characterized the indifferent voter as being more hopeless than a corrupt one. Mayor Parsons was unable to be present.

Last evening, the "Tour Around the World" was concluded with a visit to the Island of Ceylon. Those who heard Rev. Giles G. Brown, the Missionary who spent Sunday in Magnolia a few weeks ago, found themselves visiting him in his field of labor.

A series of three sermons on three recent notable books is to be given in the Village church soon by the pastor. These sermons will discuss in the home, the church and the social order and the books dealing with these subjects are respectively: "Will the Home Survive?" by Chauncey J. Hawkins, "The Church and Modern Life," Washington Gladden, and "Christianity and the Social Order" by R. J. Campbell.

Base Ball.

In an interesting game of baseball at the Brook street play grounds last Saturday afternoon the Manchester Crickets beat a team of Ipswich boys to the tune of 13 to 3. The line-up:

Ipswich—Mansfield c, E. Duprey 2b, Schofield 1b, Tilton 3b, L. Duprey p, Worth ss, Irwin lf, Rand cf, Curtis rf.

Manchesters—Rust 3b, Bell 2b, Crocker p, Betts c, McAdams cf, Walsh 1b, Gray ss, Jones rf, Robbins lf.

A three base hit by Walsh was a feature of the game. Crocker struck out ten men and the Ipswich pitcher struck out four. Wade was umpire.

Seventeen to nine tells the story of the game on the Brook street play grounds Wednesday afternoon between the Manchesters and the Gloucester High school nine, and had it not been for some costly errors by the home team the visitors might not have scored more than one or two runs.

Crocker pitched a good game for Manchester, striking out nine men. Gloucester required three pitchers neither of whom proved effective. The line-ups:

Manchester—Walsh 1b, Rust 3b, Jones rf, Crocker p, Betts c, Standley 2b, Gray ss, McAdams cf, Robbins lf.

Gloucester H. S.—Lane 2b, Gillis ss and p, Foster 2b and p, Woodfall p, Lyle 1b, Paakamen lf, Philbrick rf, Diggins cf, Gibbins c.

The Manchester boys played a splendid game from start to finish. A good-sized crowd took in the game.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

RANDOM THOUGHTS

wants as well as supply them? Cannot the really needy be helped in a less ostentatious manner, and with less of conspicuous display, than is sometimes seen during our holidays?

m m m

We are constantly called to build more stately mansions for our souls; but we have been told that a man must build two or three houses before he knows how to build one; it seems to need at least one life to learn how to live; what an argument is here for a future existence—what a waste if this life were all.

m m m

The swirling tides of immigration bring many very undesirable contributions to our population, and leave them stranded on our shores; and immigration will bear watching and restricting; but it is well to remember that the old world has given us a great deal of good blood, and that the mixing up of the races has always been a condition precedent to advance in civilization to higher levels; the great trouble has been that the crude material for the making of the nation has been poured upon us faster than we could handle it.

m m m

Sometimes the best thing that we can do is, to keep our hands off; passengers cannot do better than to let the captain and crew manage the ship; if they lay hold of the ropes or think to take a trick at the wheel, they are likely to bring themselves to grief, to say nothing of the ship. Why not let the Great Commander have his way? He knows when to put the helm up or down better than any of us do, with all our conceit of world-seamanship. And is it not a comfort, in times of storm and stress, to know who is on the bridge?

m m m

Doubt is sometimes eulogized at the expense of belief, as if it were a more manly and independent thing; but any one can doubt, and doubt has in it no constructive genius, no working power, no inspiration. It is the men of conviction who are doing the real work of the world; not the men who are trying to hold their minds in equipoise, and their beliefs in suspense like Mahomet's coffin in the air; the men who have moulded the thinking of the ages are the men who could say, "I believed, therefore have I spoken." The sooner one can settle down to some firm basis, and arrive at some fixed beliefs as to fundamentals, the better for his own peace, and the better for his influence for good over others.

MANCHESTER

We do not believe that it was following a "spell of weather" like the first week of the current month, during which the Rev. Mr. Lamson wrote these lines: "From season to season it (Manchester) has received the invalid, the toiler of the counting room and mart, * * * the city's fair, pale daughter, the children of wealth and pets of fashion; and sent them again to their homes and the routine of life with new vigor, with ozone in the brain and spring in the step, with the bloom of wild-rose in the cheek, and the freshness of salty sea in the rejuvenated frame." We think this week he would write it something like this: Sent them post haste back to the steam heated city homes with catarrh on the brain, neuralgia in the head, cold cream on their frost bitten cheeks and the smell of Omega oil lingering after frequent rub-down of their rheumaticy frames.

Real Estate

And Improvements

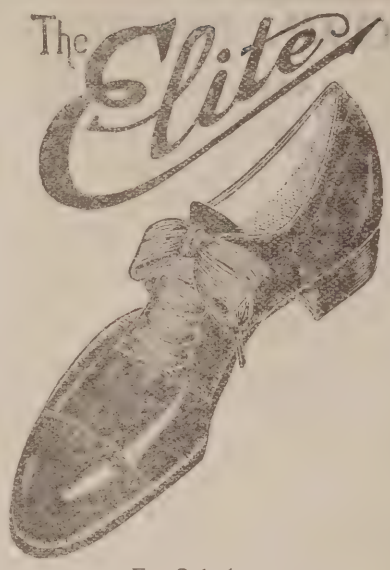

The final papers were passed last week completing the transfer of the late Charles H. Perkins' estate in Hamilton to Mrs. Walker, widow of the late rear-admiral. This estate, considered by many to be the handsomest place on the Boston-Newburyport turnpike, was bought by Mrs. Walker for a residence. The estate comprises about 14 acres, with a handsome colonial house, a stable and a garage. Everything about the place is constructed in the most modern style. It is understood the place sold for a little less then $60,000.

Connolly Bros. are constructing a concrete wall similar in design to the one already built there upon the estate of Henry Clay Pierce, at Pride's, running along Hale street, opposite the depot. The wall is to be on the same lines as marked by the old fence, and is to run between the estates of the heirs of Peter and Elisha Pride, whose property abuts that of Mr. Pierce on both sides.

Stanley A. Lutz of Manchester conveys to Francis P. Ayers of Manchester, land and buildings on Brook street, Manchester, 99 by 90 feet. (Mr. Lutz intends to move away from Manchestrr in the fall.)

Elizabeth B. Dow of Beverly conveys to George H. Lyman of Boston land on Hale street, Beverly, 60.72 by 300.56 feet.

Mrs. Dow is widow of the late John E. Dow, and the land which she conveys to the Hon. George H. Lyman, adjoins the summer home of Mr. Lyman just over the Manchester line in Beverly Farms. Mrs. Dow still retains part of her property, on which is located her small cottage, and the lot which she recently purchased from the late C. S. Hanks.

Rev. L. H. Ruge of the Manchester Congregational church will preach at the Baptist church tomorrow morning. In the evening the pastor will preach on "The Personal Lead of Christ."

John W. Knowles, who has resided at the Farms all winter, has returned to Boston. Mr. Knowles has been here as superintendent in charge of the extensive alterations and the complete change over of the residence of H. M. Sears at Pride's, which work is now completed.

If you have a cottage to rent, or rooms, or want boarders, advertise the fact in the BREEZE. It costs but 15 cents a week after the first week, which costs 25 cents. The paper reaches many of the very people you are trying to reach. *

On Tuesday Samuel F. Cohoon moved his family from the Farms to Needham where Mr. Cohoon has secured a position upon the John T. Morse, jr., estate. In Mr. Cohoon the Farms losses a good citizen, and the community, valued and esteemed neighbors.

Geo. W. O'Dea, the Pride's Crossing painter, has the contract for painting the buildings on the Judge Moore estate,—outside and part of the interior. He put 34 men at work on the job this week. Mr. O'Dea has considerable other work in hand also, including a good-sized contract at the R. S. Bradley estate. He has over 50 men in all at work at the present time.

Miss Connolly's class in physical culture will meet for practice in Neighbor's hall this evening. The public demonstration will be next Saturday evening.

Members of John West Colony, Pilgrim Fathers, have accepted the invitation of Speedwell Colony of Beverly to attend their anniversary celebration, which comes on Friday evening, May 15.

Miss Ella Low took the part of one of the Beverly girls traveling in Japan in the very successful two act operatta presented in the City hall a week ago last night by members of the Beverly High school Girl's Glee club.

A fire in the stable of W. S. Spaulding, in Boston, last Saturday, consumed a quantity of hay, though it did but little other damage. The alarm was rung in by John Shepherd, who is still in Boston. The Spaulding's are still abroad.

The Red Sox were again winners in the game with the Yannigans the first of the week. The score was 17 to 7 in their favor. After playing four games with Crocker as pitcher the Red Sox are well nigh invincible against the Yannigans' batters. The Red Sox won three of the four games. Two games were played before that, however, which were won by the Yannigans.

Some of the members of the local fire department were among those who took possession of Ipswich last Saturday evening on the occasion of a hose coupling contest held in the Town hall at that place. Especial interest was taken in the affair due to the fact that there were three teams entered from Ward 6—the Centerville team, Stanley and Penniman who captured the first prize, doing the trick in 14 3-5 seconds; ladder 2 of the Farms, Burchsted and Day, and Steamert 3 of the Farms, Gauld and Cole. While the latter two teams did not win prizes they put up a fighting hustle.

Pike-Lindgren.

William Sohier Pike, jr., of Beverly Farms, and Miss Alma O. Lindgren of Boston were united in marriage Tuesday evening, at the home of the groom on Hale street. The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by the pastor of the Baptist church. Only a few friends and intimate acquaintances of the couple were present. The ring service was used.

Fred Jackson acted as best man and Miss Laura Bennett was the maid of honor.

The bride wore a very pretty gown of pale blue silk and carried a bride's bouquet.

Following the ceremony a reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Pike left on the evening train for a short wedding trip to New York and Washington. On their return they will make their home for the present with the groom's father. They will start house-keeping a little later.

Both young people are well and popularly known at the Farms. The bride has been connected for sometime with the household of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seabury, the latter being among those who attended the wedding. The wedding gifts were many in number and very pretty.

The vacant store in Neighbor's hall, formerly occupied by T. J. McDonnell, the plumber, has been leased by Miss Georgiana Latourneau, who expects to open for business the latter part of next week. Miss Latourneau will carry a line of dry and fancy goods, notions, etc., and will do millinery work, and will add such other features as the requirements may seem to demand.

John L. Woodbury will leave Monday for Victorville, Cal., where he will try ranch life for a while, having accepted a position on the same ranch where J. A. Trowt of Pride's has been for the past six months. Mr. Woodbury's friends are wishing him all kinds of good luck in his new field of labor and the pleasure that Mr. Trowt will experience when he is joined by an old friend and companion goes without saying.

A new drop curtain and other improvements have recently been installed at Neighbor's hall.

There is one case of scarlet fever at the Farms at present, the young daughter of R. E. Hodgkins, of mild form, however.

T. J. McDonnell was in Portland, Me., the early part of the week on business connected with some property which he owns there.

Since May 1 Assessor Theodore A. Holmes has been a very busy man, having charge of Wards 4 and 6,—practically the whole shore district. The assessors will do their best to keep Beverly's tax rate down to its present rate of $14.40, or even make it lower. It is now the lowest of any city in the state.

The three act drama entitled Miss Fearless & Co., presented by the members of Preston Relief Corps in Neighbor's hall Thursday evening was well attended despite the severe rain storm. Among those who took part and received merited applause were: Mrs. L. T. B. Wyatt, Mrs. Wm. Eddy, Mrs. Thomas Gauld, Misses Susie Bennett, Carrie Davis, Ruth Hardy, Sophia Bennett, Jennie Bolam and Jane Bartlett. The net proceeds are to be devoted to the fund for the proposed Memorial hall.

The local fire companies have elected officers as follows: Ladder 2, Lewis G. Williams, captain; E. Fred Day, lieutenant, and George T. Larcom, clerk. Engine 3, Duncan T. Smith, captain; Thomas G. Gauld, lieutenant, and Edward F. Campbell, clerk.

Among the graduates from the Beverly High school at the completion of this term are the following Farms scholars: Miss Carrie Davis, Roy Wallis and Larcom Ober. Miss Ella Low will also conclude her studies there in order that she might take up another branch of study next fall.

The board of fire engineers met at the Central station last evening and approved the list of officers as named at the annual meetings of the companies held Monday evening. Provision was made for looking after the out-of-town calls and engineers detailed to answer. Engineer Publicover will look after calls from Manchester, Gloucester or cape towns.

By Its Adoption Many's the Home That's Been Made to Look Artistic

That otherwise, there might have been so much sameness about the furnishings of, as to have made it look sort of ordinary, or commonplace, and with this, no extra expense added to the general cost.

'Tis the straight, dignified lines, the massiveness of the frames, the weather beaten color, and the richness that the Spanish leather used for the cushions lends to it that carries it, in the mind's eye, way into the world of extravagance, but a close study into the constructional side of it develops the fact that it's not costly to build.

Mission Furniture

It is suggested by every interior decorator for at least one room in one's house today and there are the most exquisite rugs, wall papers and draperies made to use with it, that go toward the completing of a most artistic room.

Quaint Slatted-Door Book Cases cost but $14.00 in it.

Library Tables, with contrivances, unique, such as revolving book-racks beneath the top or magazine shelves at either end, can be had for $15.00.

Most Comfortable Chairs and Rockers run in price from $4.75.

Morris Chairs, the "haven of rest" for weary man, are but $11.00.

And many more's the piece of furniture that is artistic and not costly, that may be had here to complete a setting for the Hall or Den in this Mission style.

We have one room devoted entirely to its display, arranged especially to give you the true idea of its looks.

Won't you visit it?

NORTH SHORE BREEZE.

MANCHESTER, MASS., SATURDAY, MAY 16, 1908.

THE GOOD ROADS PROBLEM.

Enormous Damage Done by Speeding Automobiles the Object of Study by Director of Public Roads. Tests Made at Washington.

The enormous damage done to public roads by automobiles was clearly demonstrated at a test made recently at Washington, by the director of public roads. On the North Shore roads especially is this damage by automobiles noticed, and the following account of the recent test will be of interest to all:

A two ton racing automobile moving at something in excess of a mile a minute, while an impenetrable cloud of fog-grey rock dust hung to the horizon and marked the speeding course of the big machine, was the sight witnessed by travelers on the famous conduit road a dozen miles from Washington recently.

The seemingly pronounced violation of the speed ordinances was countenanced by two of the Nation's federal departments, agriculture and war; however, the rushing motor-car having been pressed into requisition by L. W. Page, director of the office of public roads, and Dr. Allerton S. Cushman, assistant director, in the effort to determine the effects of automobile traffic upon macadam highways, and the stretch of thoroughfare was placed at their disposal by war department officials.

While the racing car and others of various weights and types made many trips over the selected stretch of a mile and a half at varying rates of speed, from 5 to 65 miles an hour, a corps of skilled photographers, equipped with the most modern devices for photographing vehicles at very high speeds, made accurate records of the various tests.

It has long been known to highway engineers that automobiles were rapidly shortening the lives of the rock surface roads of the world, and many experiments have been made in the past six or seven years to determine the actual cause of the damage done. To understand how the soft broad tires of the modern motor car can work an injury to a surface that not only withstands but improves under the constant passing and repassing of vehicles with iron tires, one must be apprised briefly of the theory on which, first Tresauget of Limoges, and later MacAdam of Ayr, worked when giving such highways to the world. They reasoned that a road surfaced with bits of stone would improve under wagon traffic because the iron tires of the passing vehicles would constantly crush the stones and form rock dust particles; that those rock dust particles would not merely fill in all the interstices between the stones but would also form a surface dust binder: the wettings and rollings tending to cement the dust into a shell-like surface and thus make the entire road one traffic-withstandings, water-shedding mass.

They reasoned well and wisely. The macadam roads lived up to the theories of their inventors and improved with the passing years until the advent of the automobile. It was but a short time after it came into vogne that highway engineers in all civilized lands learned that a new condition was confronting them and that established customs were being menaced. The trouble was quickly traced to the automobile and it was studied. It was soon noted that the soft rubber tire was the highway menace. It crushed no rock itself and therefore contributed no quota of the needful surface dust binder, while the tremendous tractive force of the rear wheels drew up the dust made by the iron tired wagons and sent it whirling away over adjacent lands.

Those who witnessed the experiments recently near the National capital could not doubt for a moment that the various road experts all over the world are correct in the opinion that very rapidly driven automobiles are rapidly tearing up the surface of the macadam road, for not only were huge clouds of dust lifted into the air and blown off the road, but careful examination showed that the material under the wheel tracks of the machine was distinctly loosened and ravelled even during the short period of these tests.

No such effects were noticeable after the passing of iron tired vehicles; the series of tests beginning with the passing of a horse drawn vehicle. This was photographed as it moved along and also as the wagon tires passed a given mark. Then the automobiles were sent over the course. The first was a heavy weight touring car moving at five miles an hour. A series of pictures was made of that car on its many journeys at varying rates of speed until its maximum of 45 miles an hour was attained. Then the work was taken up by the huge racer, which tore the road first at a speed of 50 miles an hour, then at 55, 60, and finally at 65. It fairly lifted the road surfacing material as it sped along, regular ridges of rock dust rising in front of the rear wheels and floating away in blinding clouds. Other tests were made and other pictures taken of various types of heavy Limousine cars and runabouts. It was plainly noticeable and was commented on that the automobiles when moving at the slow rates of speed equal to the speed made by horse-drawn vehicles made very little dust, the theory that fast speeding automobiles are responsible for road surface destruction being pretty thoroughly substantiated by these means.

The results of this interesting bit of road work will be carefully studied and put together in a paper or papers to be presented to the International road congress which will meet at Paris on October 11: for so far-reaching are the ravages of the automobile on the wonderful roads of France that that country has urged highway engineers of all lands to assemble at her gay metropolis in the fall to take up the problem and strive for a solution of it.

Firemen's Relief Association.

The annual meeting of the Firemen's Relief Association, Manchester, was held Wednesday evening at the Engine house at which time James Hoare was re-elected president; Clarence W. Morgan, vice president; Samuel L. Wheaton, secretary, and Raymond C. Allen, treasurer. The directors are Charles W. Sawyer, Granville Crombie, F. C. Cheever and James Hoare.

The report of the treasurer showed the association to be in strong financial condition. It was voted to donate $25 to the Chelsea Firemen's Relief association.

Town Meeting Dissolved.

The annual Town Meeting in Manchester for 1908 came to a close Monday evening, the business called for in the annual warrant being consumed.

It was voted to raise by taxation this year $110,000 which is the same amount as voted to raise last year. $25 was voted the moderator for his services.

Less than a score of voters were present. At 7.45 the meeting dissolved on motion of E. P. Stanley.

MANCHESTER

Semons, Campbell & Co., have taken the agency for Hilcrest Water, a pure spring water from Rowley, Mass.

At a special meeting of the Board of Selectmen last Saturday afternoon John D. Morrison was appointed local superintendent of moth work to succeed William Young. Mr. Young remains tree warden of the town. Mr. Morrison has appointed R. J. Baker as deputy.

Miss May Whiting gave Miss Ina Eldridge a "tin shower" Thursday evening at the former's rooms on Bridge street, at which were some dozen friends, including most of the teachers. Miss Eldridge was well showered, and passed through the "storm" with many useful articles for the kitchen and pantry.

The entire equipment of the fire department was out Monday evening for practice and a general cleaning up. The engine company went to Brook street extension, near the play grounds, while the chemical and hook and ladder companies went to Elm street. A large number of spectators were on hand as usual. For a town of the size Manchester has one of the best departments of any town in the state.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Murray of Norwood avenue, Manchester, are being sympathized with in the loss of their little fifteen months old daughter, Helen Ruth, last Monday evening. Death resulted from pneumonia, brought on by measles. Her remains were laid at rest in Rosedale cemetery Wednesday morning. We print the following list of flowers by request: Pillow, white roses and asters "Our Pet," parents; spray roses, and asters, W. F. Kelley; spray roses and sweet peas, Mrs. Kelley; pinks and ferns, Miss Margaret Ryan; roses, asters and snap-dragons, Mrs. Morley and Mrs. Flatley; spray carnations and ferns, Mrs. A. B. Eldredge; bouquet carnations and ferns, Anna Coughlin; white lilies, Mrs. Hurley and Mrs. Connors; carnations and roses, Miss Catherine Ryan; bouquet carnations, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Porter; spray pink and white roses, Mr. and Mrs. James Gray; white roses, Mr. and Mrs. John Babcock.

The selectmen have received two applications for victualler's license, one from B. J. Manion to conduct a lunch room in the store he formerly occupied as a fish market on Central street, the other from J. Stedman, to conduct a restaurant in the Kimball block, Union street.

All the floats are now in position at the town wharf and at Tuck's Point, and the new float at town wharf in particular is giving universal satisfaction. Six pleasure launches were tied there yesterday morning. It is understood that the selectmen will have some regulations regarding use of the floats at the town wharf a little later.

Tarr—Nickerson.

The many Manchester and Magnolia friends of Sumner R. Tarr of Gloucester, will be pleased to learn of his rather romantic marriage one day last week, to Miss Eva L. Nickerson of Lanesville. They went to Providence, R. I., and the knot was tied by the Rev. Alexander Mitchell, the noted pastor of the Presbyterian church of that city, the ring service being used.

Mr. Tarr is one of the force of young men employed at Bullock's bakery in Manchester, and is at present driving over the in-town route. He is a member of Col. H. P. Woodbury camp, S. of V., and is very popular. His bride is one of the most popular young ladies of Lanesville, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis E. Nickerson. The family moved to Lanesville from Mercer, Me., eight years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Tarr will make their home in Gloucester.

The Alleged Cocktail of Myopia.

There is reason to suppose that the happy band of bards will receive future recruits from the Myopia Hunt club; haunting hunters from Hamilton, where is situate the Myopia Hunt club. This comforting assurance settles upon us as we read a promise and a proof in the poet's corner of the esteemed Boston Traveler. There we find its own poet singing the glories of the "Lone Tree," a cocktail prepared by Myopia's "cocktaileur," which we take to be Boston for barkeep. The beverage which perfumes and pervades the poet's pen can be had, it disappoints to learn, "only on its native heath, when the summer sun is glowing and glorifying the North Shore and the adjacent hinterland, and when the body and soul of man are in their most receptive mood."

Surely the poet's body was in receptive mood when his soul was roused by a Lone Tree or Trees to sing of it, or them, "A beverage whose amber coloring delights the eye, whose essences rejoice the nostrils and whose golden flavor brings ecstasy to the arid palate."

That is glowing some, but he glows as well in prophecy as in poetry. "Doubtless," he says, "in a brighter and a better age a temple will be raised upon whose altar will be set a marble effigy of the author of the Lone Tree; and here will come pilgrims from many lands to drink, to pray, to praise and lay laurels at the marble feet."

As the effects wear off the poet-prophet wanders in thought from his own tree side. We neither hunt at Myopia nor tipple Lone Trees, yet with his final fume the poet calls:

"The Sun owes to Massachusetts a duty it must not, shall not, dare not neglect—to secure the name of the splendid genius who gave the world this cup of liquid gold."

We strive to please; if the splendid genius's name is insecure, what are we expected to do about it?—New York Sun.

TELL me, ye winged winds that around my pathway roar, do ye not know some quiet spot where wives clean house no more; some lone, sequestered dale, some island, ocean-girt, where life is not one ceaseless war with cobwebs and with dirt; where only nature's carpet spreads beneath their tired feet, and wretched men are ne'er compelled its emerald folds to beat? The ocean breeze fanned my heated face and said: "Beat on? There's no such place."

THE Boston daily paper that sent out advertising letters this week to merchants telling how the hard times were over and business was "picking up," citing as one proof of their contention that their circulation was increasing steadily, evidently did not look deep enough into their argument. The increase in circulation of a 1-cent paper would seem to indicate that many readers of 2-cent papers were buying the cheaper paper. You don't hear many 2-cent papers telling about an increase in circulation at the present time.

POSTAL CARRIER SERVICE FOR MANCHESTER?

If Present Growth of Postoffice is Kept up This will be Brought about in One or Two Years.

Postal carrier service sounds big for Manchester, but it is surely coming in the near future if the present growth of the office keeps on. And it will come within one or two years, too. An increase of $900 more business the present year, beginning April 1, and ending April 1, 1909, will entitle the town to free delivery under the law.

This is something of which few towns of the size can boast. In fact there are few towns of 2800 population that enjoy even the privileges of a second class postoffice.

For the year ending April 1, 1906, $7700 worth of business was done at the Manchester postoffice. For the year ending April 1, 1907, this sum had been increased to $8600, an increase of $900. The year ending April 1, 1908, the office had done $9100, an increase of $500. If this figure ($9100) can be increased the present year to $10,000, Manchester will be entitled to carrier service.

This is a matter in which every resident of Manchester should be interested, especially our summer residents who live in the outlying districts, who now have to drive to the postoffice for their mail, or have it brought by special carrier.

In case Manchester does get free delivery there will probably be two carriers the year round and two extra carriers in the summer season.

THE only men of worth to a town or community are those who forget their own selfish ends long enough and are liberal enough in their ideas to encourge every public and private enterprise, who are ready with brain and purse to push every project calculated to build up the town and enhance its importance. The enterprise and push of a town or community is the foundation of its permanent success. A town may as well prepare for its funeral as to become indifferent to the enterprise in its midst.

Moth Work in Manchester.

Under the above caption the following communication, signed by W. D. Corliss, who is in charge of the moth work being done by the state in Manchester, appeared in the Gloucester Daily Times Monday:

Messrs. Editors:—I saw an item in the Gloucester Daily Times the other evening in regard to moth work in Manchester, and as there seems to be some misunderstanding I thought I would give you the facts which you may publish if you wish.

In the first place Manchester and Beverly have each given $5000 for moth work in the woodland, the summer residents of each place have contributed $5000 and the state has given $5000 to each place, therefore Manchester and Beverly each have $15,000 to spend on the woodland.

The money has been turned over to the State to handle, and Mr. L. Howard Worthley has charge of the work. Mr. Worthley is the state assistant superintendent of moth work. Mr. S. Phillips is Mr. Worthley's assistant and he has about 500 men under him working on moths along the North Shore. Mr. Phillips has several local superintendents under him, such as the Beverly section and the Manchester section. I am the superintendent of the Manchester end of it, and our men are divided into gangs of 25. We have three gangs in Manchester and one in Essex. Each gang has a foreman and sub-foreman, the former being Mr. Hotchkiss, Mr. Towle and Mr. Newhall in Manchester and Mr. Donovan in Essex.

In the past three weeks we have cut over about 125 acres, making a vast improvement. There are about ten men from Gloucester working on the Manchester job and Mr. Dier, one of our Cape Ann boys, is sub-foreman of Mr. Hotchkiss' gang.

After we get through cutting the woodland, it will be ready for spraying, and once sprayed there will be a marked improvement in the moth question in that locality.

Very truly yours,
W. D. CORLISS.

Mrs. Atwood, wife of Judge Atwood of Ayer, was a guest the latter part of this week of Mrs. Geo. Northup, Bennett street.

James Kinsella and Dr. Wm. Dougherty attended the K. of C. convention in Boston, Tuesday as delegates from the local council.

Tickets have been selling well for the W. R. C. minstrels next Thursday evening and indications point to a crowded house. A fine show will be given.

The private assembly given in the Town hall last evening by the Manchester Crickets was largely attended. Long's orchestra furnished the music.

A number of Manchester people are planning to attend the exhibition by Miss Connolly's class in gymnastics at Neighbor's hall, Beverly Farms, this evening.

C. W. Stetson, the new boys' athletic director for Essex Co., was in town last evening and gave a performance on his mu-sical glasses and a talk before the Phi Alpha Pi.

On the Sunday before Memorial Day, May 24, Allen Post and Associates, Allen Relief Corps and Col. H. P. Woodbury camp, 149, S. of V., will attend divine worship at the Congregational church on invitation of Rev. L. H. Ruge, the pastor.

The Manchester Crickets played a strong team from Gloucester at the Brook street play grounds yesterday afternoon, and lost 4 to 0. Crocker pitched for Manchester and struck out 14 men. Three of Gloucester's runs were made in the first inning and the other in the fifth on a steal. W. Cook was umpire. A two-bagger by Chester Standley the first time up was a feature of the game. "Stuffy" McInnis, who has played on one of the semi-professional teams, pitched for Gloucester and struck out 8 men.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Rumrill, who left here a few weeks ago for British Columbia, will regret to learn of Mr. Rumrill's illness with pneumonia in Calgary, Alberta, Ca. The change in climate and water is given by the doctors as the cause of Mr. Rumrill's illness. He has been placed in the Odd Fellows ward in the hospital there and is being given the best of care. The Odd Fellows were very active in looking after Mr. Rumrill. He is a member of the lodge at Clinton, Mass. Calgary is about 40 miles from the Rocky Mountains, and the scenery at that point is beautiful. As soon as Mr. Rumrill is able he will go to Banff, a health resort, so that he may get his strength back in order to return East, as they fear the climate will not be suitable for them and they will have to give up their plans.

Manchester Woman's Club.

A number of women met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mary E. Blaisdell, Union street, and organized the Manchester Woman's club with the following named women as its officers and directors: President, Mrs. Elizabeth Frances Johnson; 1st vice president, Mrs. Josephine May Ruge; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Hattie Carter Kitfield; recording secretary, Mrs. Mary Ellen Blaisdell; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Carrie Leonard Knight; treasurer, Miss Bertha Allen Stone; auditor, Mrs. Alace Hathaway Wing. Directors: one year, Mrs. Marianna Woodbury Cheever, Mrs. Catherine Baker Campbell, Mrs. Emily Pickett Sabin; two years, Miss Lila Giles Goldsmith, Mrs. Anna Hayden Knight, Mrs. Grace Kitfield Beaton; three years, Mrs. Helen S. Johnson Mead, Mrs. Hattie Lee Harris, Mrs. Annie Marion Sinnicks.

Favor Bryan for President.

Charles A. Russell of Gloucester and Lott McNamara of Haverhill were elected delegates by the sixth district democratic convention at Salem, Thursday, to the national convention at Denver in July.

Resolutions were adopted favoring William Jennings Bryan, and the delegates were instructed to stand by Mr. Bryan as long as he remained in the field as a candidate for the presidential nomination.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

WHISPERINGS

We found the following unsigned item tucked under the office door this morning and while we do not publish unsigned items as a rule, this is too good to pass on to the waste basket:

Two well known Manchester gentlemen whose names we will call for short Mr. Inquisitive and Mr. Newlywed met a few days ago as the latter was hurrying home to wife and the former was hoeing in his garden. After the casual "how-do-you-do," Mr. Inquisitive asked:

"How are the folks at your house," to which Mr. Newlywed replied, "Very well, I thank you."

In the meanwhile Mr. Newlywed was striding rapidly toward his home, when he is again hailed by Mr. Inquisitive, who cries:

"What is that, a boy or a girl at your house?"

Mr. Newlywed replies, "It's a daughter," and continues on his way. When quite a distance away Mr. Inquisitive shouts:

"Is your wife going to nurse the baby?" to which Mr. N. replies in disgust, "I don't know."

When Mr. N. gets home he fears that Mr. Inquisitive may have thought his last remark a trifle impetuous and in the largeness of his heart, in appreciation of the interest shown, he penned the following epistle and mailed it "special delivery" to Mr. Inquisitive:

"Dear Sir:

"Referring to our conversation of yesterday afternoon, my wife has decided to nurse the baby. If I can give you any other items of interest I shall be very happy to do so.

"Yours very truly
"MR. NEWLYWED."

* * * *

The old biblical story of the five wise and the five foolish virgins was brought to mind a few days ago when the two town committees—on additional water supply and on purchase of electric plant—went to Boston to confer with different engineers, etc., on their respective work. It happens that some of the members serve on both committees. One committee was to meet at 9.30 and the other at 11, and some of those who were to meet at eleven aceepted the invitation to ride over the road to Boston by auto. Everything went well until they reached the Revere Boulevard, which they found barred against them, and as a result they had to make a wide detour from their path out through Malden. Despite this they would have reached Boston in time for the meeting, by speeding up a little, but when they reached Harvard Bridge, between Cambridge and Boston, something gave way on the auto and it was a case of "hoof it" the rest of the journey. They finally reached their destination, but somewhat behind hand.

The percentage of attendance at the schools for the past week follows: G. A. Priest school—Grade IX, 87.92; VIII, 97.63; VII, 92.57; VI, 88.30; V, 82.66; Adv. IV, 89.38; IV, 88.09; III, 93.93; II, 95.32; Adv. I, 88; I, 73.42.

GENERAL MANAGER

Gloucester or Mancherter

James Danforth.

James Danforth, one of Manchester's old time fishermen, and the oldest male citizen but one in the town, passed away last Friday evening at the age of 93 years, 9 months. His remains were laid at rest last Sunday afternoon at Rosedale cemetery, services being conducted at the Almshouse, by Rev. L. H. Ruge.

Mr. Danforth was a native of Manchester, being a son of Stephen and Lydia Danforth. He was born in the old Danforth homestead, still standing on Church street, rear of F. P. Knight's residence.

Like most of the young men of his day Mr. Danforth followed the sea, sailing from Gloucester for many years. He was one of those brawny men, such as made up the navy in what we now term its "palmy days." He was one of the old type now fast passing away.

He was a brother of Aaron Danforth who passed away some years ago, but still well remembered here, and of Stephen Danforth.

Cottage Gardens.

We call attention to the following on the cottage garden contest from the 1908 schedule of the North Shore Horticultural society.

"To encourage and promote a deeper interest in beautifying the grounds around the homes of Manchester, the Show Committee offer the following prizes:—

"For the best kept Cottage Garden and Grounds. First $7, second $5, third $3.

"Competitors are required to notify the Society by June 1. so that the entries can be judged at frequent intervals during the season.

"Variety of flowers, small fruits and vegetables, together with neatness and general thrif, will have the preference in awarding these prizes."

MAGNOLIA

Miss Annie Silva of Gloucester has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. D. C. Ballou the past week.

Mrs. Annie Ryan of Jamaica Plain was in town on Monday.

The city of Gloucester has appropriated $2000 for the laying of a water pipe to Magnolia. The work was begun the first of the week.

Mrs. Henry W. Brown was in Manchester on Wednesday the guest of her mother, Mrs. Ellen McCormack.

Rev. F. J. Libby attended the meeting of the Congregational Home Missionary society at Pittsfield this week. Many topics of general interest and great importance were discussed there by specialists. Tomorrow the sermons both morning and evening will take up some of these topics.

All of the rooms in the Women's Clubhouse are let for the season. The clubhouse is being made ready for the opening June 1st. Mrs. Harry C. Foster will be matron and Miss Georgia Dunbar, assistant, as last year.

Theodore D. Martin of Hamilton College, will be manager of the Men's Summer club this season. Mr. Martin is very highly recommended for this position. His predecessor, I. F. McCormick is to be married in June to Miss Vivian Putnam of Portland and will spend the summer in Maine.

The Sunday morning service at the Village church will begin at 10.30 during the summer, beginning May 24.

A. M. Lycett started for Nova Scotia yesterday for a few days' trout-fishing.

Michael Hannan has left the employ of Morley, Flatley & Co. Mr. Hannan intends to return to his home in Ireland.

Mrs. Hildreth of Boston, is the guest of her neice, Miss Frances Libby.

The infant son of Mrs. Frank Edmonds passed away Saturday, May 9. The funeral services were held at the home on Monday afternoon.

The Brinley cottage is occupied for the season.

E. Haring Dickinson was in town this week.

If you have a cottage to rent, or rooms, or want boarders, advertise the fact in the Breeze. It costs but 15 cents a week after the first week, which costs 25 cents. The paper reaches many of the very people you are trying to reach. *

MANCHESTER

A hearing was held at the office of the selectmen Thursday afternoon on the petition of Wm. C. Rust and others for the widening and relocation of the lines of Pine street. As this matter had come up before and the report as presented by the board had not been accepted, because of a few details which it was necessary to have changed, nothing new was brought out at the hearing. About a dozen were present. W. C. Rust represented the Hobbs estate and he placed the damage to that property at between $2000 and $2200. The selectmen placed it at $850 in their previous report. Mrs. Daniel Allen spoke for the Harriet Kitfield heirs, and she placed the damage at $200, as against $100 before. There were no objectors to the layout.

Benjamin H. Corliss was Manchester's delegate to the Democratic convention, Thursday.

Real Estate.

Amory Eliot is to have considerable landscape work done at his estate on Sea street, Manchester, from plans by the well known landscape architects, Aspinwall & Lincoln. The contract was awarded to Morley, Flatley & Co., yesterday.

The new woods drive which has been in the course of construction the past two months, in charge of Addison Davis, at Beverly Farms, is now practically completed and is about ready for use. This driveway adds another to the net work of delightful drives which have been opened up the past few years through private subscriptions by members of the summer colony. The road starts off Hale street, and ends at Preston Place.

Dr. James Marsh Jackson is having an addition built to his estate on Hale street, Beverly Farms, and work was started on the foundations this week by Connolly Bros. This firm also have under construction at the E. W. Merrill estate, West Gloucester, a tennis court and considerable landscape work.

Go to Loomis. He'll fix it. *

N. P. Meldrum is advertising for rent the Hall cottage on Pine street, which is a most desirable cottage for either summer or all the year round use. Modern throughout. *

WANTED--A RIDER AGENT IN EACH TOWN and district to ride and exhibit a sample Latest Model "Ranger" bicycle furnished by us. Our agents everywhere are making money fast. Write for full particulars and special offer at once.

NO MONEY REQUIRED until you receive and approve of your bicycle. We ship to anyone, anywhere in the U. S. without a cent deposit in advance, prepay freight, and allow TEN DAYS' FREE TRIAL during which time you may ride the bicycle and put it to any test you wish. If you are then not perfectly satisfied or do not wish to keep the bicycle ship it back to us at our expense and you will not be out one cent.

FACTORY PRICES We furnish the highest grade bicycles it is possible to make at one small profit above actual factory cost. You save $10 to $25 middlemen's profits by buying direct of us and have the manufacturer's guarantee behind your bicycle. DO NOT BUY a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone at any price until you receive our catalogues and learn our unheard of factory prices and remarkable special offers to rider agents.

YOU WILL BE ASTONISHED when you receive our beautiful catalogue and study our superb models at the wonderfully low prices we can make you this year. We sell the highest grade bicycles for less money than any other factory. We are satisfied with $1.00 profit above factory cost.

BICYCLE DEALERS, you can sell our bicycles under your own name plate at double our prices. Orders filled the day received.

SECOND HAND BICYCLES. We do not regularly handle second hand bicycles, but usually have a number on hand taken in trade by our Chicago retail stores. These we clear out promptly at prices ranging from $3 to $8 or $10. Descriptive bargain lists mailed free.

COASTER-BRAKES, single wheels, imported roller chains and pedals, parts, repairs and equipment of all kinds at half the usual retail prices.

$8.50 HEDGETHORN PUNCTURE-PROOF SELF-HEALING TIRES A SAMPLE PAIR TO INTRODUCE, ONLY $4.80

The regular retail price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but to introduce we will sell you a sample pair for $4.80 (cash with order $4.55).

NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES

NAILS, Tacks or Glass will not let the air out. Sixty thousand pairs sold last year. Over two hundred thousand pairs now in use.

DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C. O. D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented.

Notice the thick rubber tread "A" and puncture strips "B" and "D," also rim strip "H" to prevent rim cutting. This tire will outlast any other make—SOFT, ELASTIC and EASY RIDING.

We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.55 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump. Tires to be returned at OUR expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination. We are perfectly reliable and money sent to us is as safe as in a bank. If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, wear better, last longer and look finer than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a bicycle you will give us your order. We want you to send us a trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer.

IF YOU NEED TIRES don't buy any kind at any price until you send for a pair of Hedgethorn Puncture-Proof tires on approval and trial at the special introductory price quoted above; or write for our big Tire and Sundry Catalogue which describes and quotes all makes and kinds of tires at about half the usual prices.

DO NOT WAIT but write us a postal today. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone until you know the new and wonderful offers we are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.

J. L. MEAD CYCLE COMPANY, CHICAGO, ILL.

Annual Report of N. E. T. & T. Co's. President.

The annual report of President Sherwin of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company, shows that in the 25 years since the company was formed, the use of telephones has increased from 15,000 to 300,000, and that to supply this service upwards of 600 exchanges are in operation, connecting more than 600,000 miles of wire, over which pass 400,000,000 messages in the course of a single year. The gross revenue of this company for the year 1907 was $10,679,625.76. Expenses amounted to $8,513,422.64. There was an increase in the net revenue of $342,552.72.

General Sherwin points out very clearly the threefold responsibility of the directors—"to provide for subscribers and the public a service of the highest attainable excellence and value, at equitable rates; to care for the well-being and reasonable compensation of the thousands of employees who serve with efficiency and fidelity the interests of the company and the community; and to secure to stockholders, who have paid many millions of dollars into the treasury for the building up and extension of the system of such enormous utility and value to the people of these states, a fair return upon their investment."

"Eastern Yard."

"Eastern Yard, United States Navy, Rockport, Mass.," is the title by which the national harbor or refuge at Rockport will be known, according to the schedule 1092 of the navy department received by Postmaster Will Parsons of that place. The schedule calls for bids for various supplies for the navy, to be opened May 18, and to be supplied to ships in the outer anchorage at Rockport harbor during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1909.

This wording of the schedule is taken to mean that Rockport is to figure as a naval depot. Admiral Evans' fleet was there in 1906. The Sandy bay breakwater, with a depth of water varying from 40 to 80 fathoms, affords one of the finest basins in the world for a large fleet of vessels.

Busy With Orders.

With plant equipped with modern machinery, and up-to-date equipment in every detail, Kimball Bros., of Lynde street, Salem, are in a position to furnish anything that could be desired in the line of memorials and monumental works.

At the present time this firm is in its busiest season and some of the largest pieces that have been put out for some months are being put in readiness for Memorial Day. Visitors are always welcome.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I beg to announce to the residents of the North Shore that I have purchased from Walker Bros. & Co. the provision business conducted by them at Beverly Farms for the past twenty years, including their good will and trade. Having had twenty-five years experience on the North Shore, eight years as manager of Wyatt's Market, I thoroughly understand the selection of choice meats, fruits, vegetables, etc., carried by first-class markets. The business will be conducted under the name of Brewer's Market, which will be opened on or about April 20, 1908. I solicit your patronage.

WALTER P. BREWER.

Beverly Farms, Mass., Feb. 10, 1908.

We, the undersigned, certify that we have sold the good will and trade of our North Shore business to Walter P. Brewer.

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Dow has spent the past month visiting relatives in Somerville, Mass.

John E. McKeigue left last Monday for Cold Spring Harbor, N. Y., where he is doing some work at painting for Connolly Bros.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Pike, jr. have returned from their honeymoon trip and are located for a time with Mr. Pike's parents on Hale street.

Postmaster Elisha Pride of Pride's Crossing who has been on a combined pleasure and health trip to the Bermudas, is expected home today.

Misses Irene M. and Nellie Fay of Roxbury are spending the week-end at the Farms, guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Morgan, West street.

The ball game at Montserrat this afternoon between the Beverlys and Dorchesters is attracting quite a number of the lovers of the game from the Farms.

John L. Eaton has leased for the summer, his tenement on Oak street, opposite the Farms depot, to Boston parties. Mr. Eaton is now living in Salem.

John L. Woodbury left Boston on the midnight train last Monday for California, where he is to try ranch life. A large party of his Farms friends went up to see him off.

Capt. Duncan T. Smith has about ready for launching a 20-foot motor boat, dory pattern, about 20 feet long, which he has just built, making the fourth boat of this kind he has constructed since last fall.

The entrance to the Paine Place, or Pride's Crossing avenue so-called, opposite the Pride's depot, which has had new walls and pier built is further improved the past few days by the planting of some spruce trees and shrubbery.

Dancing on the float at West Beach has again become a pleasant pastime for quite a party of Farms young people who gather there on pleasant nights. On some of these occasions the music is furnished by Italians, and it is not only enjoyed by the dancers, but also by a number of on-lookers.

Mrs. Frederic Haynes of Roxbury, a former resident, was in town this week, renewing acquaintances.

Mrs. Henry P. Horton and daughter of Winsted, Conn., have spent the past week visiting relatives at the Farms. They returned home yesterday.

Herbert Brackett and family of Westfield, Mass., moved to the Farms this week for the summer. Mr. Brackett is employed upon a summer estate.

Supt. Wm. Neville at West Beach is quite a busy man these days devoting his time in cleaning up the property and getting things ready for the summer season.

Patrick Barry of High street this week purchased a complete outfit from James J. Nugent, the Oak street livery stable man, consisting of horse, carriage, etc.

Rev. C. S. Pond will preach at the Baptist church tomorrow morning on "The New Emmanuel Movement." At the evening service his subject will be "The Growing in Grace."

After a winter spent at his old home in Ireland, Timothy Driscoll was a passenger on the Ivernia, which arrived Thursday, and is now settled down to work again at the Farms. Tim says this country is good enough for him, and now that he has seen his old home once more he is willing to spend the rest of his days here. John Driscoll, a nephew, accompanied him to this country.

Mrs. James B. Dow returned Wednesday from a pleasant visit at Atlantic City, N. J.

Mrs. A. M. Marshall attended the whist party and dance given in A. O. H. hall, Beverly, last Wednesday night.

Marshall Woodbury has given up his interest in the fish business to which he has lately devoted some of his spare time.

Edwin F. Campbell is the latest Farms young man to get the auto fever. He has placed his order for a Stanley steamer.

George West Larcom has decided to sell his trim motor launch, without engine. The boat is 16-foot long and in good condition.

Postmaster Standley will increase the mail facilities, commencing next week, there being a new mail from Boston arriving at 9.15 a. m. and closing at 6.30 p. m.

Master Georgie Medcalf, is spending this week at the Farms with his family on Pickett court. He has been for sometime at Dorchester taking treatment for his health, which is somewhat improved.

Preble Thissell Co., the Neighbor's hall provision dealers, have secured for the summer the services of Harry Sinclair who has for a number of years been connected with some of Boston's best markets, and during the past winter was manager of the principal market in Pinehurst, N. C.

Mrs. Samuel F. Collamore of Greenwood avenue left Wednesday for a visit of several months among relatives at Alton and Bloomington, Ill. On Tuesday evening she was visiting her brother John H. Preston at Beverly and was surprised by eighteen of her nieces and nephews who called, presenting her with a suit case.

It is reported that William Hennessey has purchased the Watson estate on Hale street, where he has lived the past year.

The Ladies' Sewing circle were entertained Thursday evening by Mrs. Marshall T. Larcom at her home on West street.

John Leahy has entered the employ of the American Express Co., at Manchester, until the Pride's office opens for the summer.

A large delegation of members of John West colony, Pilgrim Fathers, attended the anniversary of Speedwell colony in Beverly last evening.

A number of John L. Woodbury's friends here have received souvenir postals from him during the week posted at various points on his trip across the country.

Frank I. Lamasney has recently made a marked improvement to the grounds about his residence on Greenwood ave., consisting in part of considerable grading and the planting of trees and shrubs.

An epidemic of measles has struck Beverly Farms among the young people and has certainly played havoc with the schools. As there are so many sufferers it has been a question during the past week as to whether it would not be advisable to close as in some of the rooms there are so few scholars in attendance that it seems hardly worth while to continue. About ninety children at present are missing from the school room.

During the past month, Preston Relief Corps, No. 93, have initiated eight new members. At the last meeting, Tuesday, May 5, after the initiation, a collation was served and a most enjoyable social evening was spent. In the near future a Memorial hall is to be erected at Beverly Farms and the members are all earnestly working with that end in view.

Real Estate

And Improvements

Another good-sized real estate sale has just been made whereby the beautiful large summer home of the late Hugh Whitney at Beverly and Wenham, is transferred to a southern lady, who buys for occupancy. The property comprises about 15 acres and has one of the most beautiful and commodious houses along the North Shore. Its high elevation adds much to its worth, while the spacious grounds, with good stables, also add to its value. The name of the purchaser is withheld for a few days, until the deeds are put on record and the final papers are passed.

Harry S. Grew, 2d, is having some alterations made at his stable, at West Manchester, the former F. W. Fabyan estate. The stalls are being torn out and more space is to be provided for automobiles.

Morley, Flatley & Co. have the contract for building a large stone garage at East Gloucester for Miss Jennie E. Hassett, which will be in keeping with the other buildings on her well appointed estate, all the stone work on which was done by this Manchester concern.

LOOK THEM OVER

With a Friend

OUR new Spring Suits are so unusually attractive that you can hardly get a fair idea of them by "trying on" in front of a mirror.

BEST way is to bring a friend along. Someone about your size and proportions. Then you can slip the coat you like right on him—while you stand off and see how it really looks.

Try this plan. We'll help you. Be sure you see the new things that have just come in—No objection to your bringing two friends; the more, the merrier.

Wonderland.

Next Saturday afternoon, the 23rd., at one o'clock the band will play, the hundreds of flags and streamers will be flung to the breeze and famous and popular Wonderland will be declared open to the people of New England for its third triumphant season. Wonderland has been improved in every possible way, and the management promises to surprise the recreation-seeking people of New England with the magnitude and variety of the entertainment. As usual the very best of order will always be maintained. A specialty will be made of the free outdoor circus numbers, of the music, and the shore dinners and genuine clambakes at popular prices. The "bakes" served only at stated hours, will be in charge of Charles E. Davidson, formerly of the Pemberton, Virginia Beach and Cushing's Island. The same efficient staff of executive officials will be in charge. The great free garage will be greatly appreciated by parties who visit Wonderland in autos. Particular attention will be paid this year to excursionists and already many of the large fraternities and clubs of New England have chosen dates upon which to see and enjoy the wonders of Wonderland by the sea at Revere Beach.

SOMEONE HAS SAID....

"It appears to require about a century for the wheel of fashion to make one complete revolution." What our great grandfathers bought and valued; our grandfathers despised and neglected; what our fathers utterly forgot, we value, restore and copy! This is literally true of furniture.

That Pure Colonial Type

Of furniture made from the time of the early settlement at Jamestown up to the days of '76, never was more in evidence the country over than it is at the present time. 'Tis easily designated by its generous proportions, its graceful lines, the feather carving and usually for an ending, the lion's paw. Above all else it has that wholesome look that almost says as one observes it, I am good as the man that made me was equally good. Good examples of it may be seen in one of our windows now, which are made especially attractive by the unusual low prices that we put upon them.

Our entire store bears strong evidences of its popularity; 'tis seen in furnishings for every room in great abundance.

Beautiful new cutting in cut glass just opened, not expensive either, prices from only $1.00.

NORTH SHORE BREEZE

MANCHESTER, MASS., SATURDAY, MAY 23, 1908.

RANDOM THOUGHTS.

BY D. F. LAMSON.

No. XXIV.

History, it is said, has a tendency to repeat itself; but it is with variations. If it is true, in general, that "the thing that hath been is that which shall be," it must be admitted that there are many exceptions to the rule. Principles do not change, but methods do. The Great Original is not restricted to one way of doing things; he has great store of resources. No doubt things would stagnate without perpetual change and renewal. Tennyson spoke a great truth when he wrote,

"The old order changeth, giving place to the new,
Lest one good custom should corrupt the world."

In one sense, all things continue as they were, there is a permanence and continuity in what we call nature, its processes are without fickleness and caprice; but stability is not monotony or stagnation; and so, "the great world spins forever down the ringing grooves of change."

When the desire to attract is too obvious, it may defeat its own purpose; "in vain the net is spread in the sight of any bird;" so far as mere success is concerned, indirection is sometimes the surest way to reach the end.

But when insincerity is involved, when actual deception is needed, then there must be no concealment; all must be open and above-board; any suspicion of art or artifice will arouse opposition, if not resentment, at once.

"And there was playes and interplayes of musick, divers instruments acting on each other in curious fashion," is a quaint entry in an old diary; the part that interplays have had in the forming of customs, manners, opinions, legislation, and even public morals, not to speak of the more private and sacred intimacies and realities of life, is beyond computation. The subject might furnish ample material for the novelist, philosopher, publicist and moralist; in fact, what is life but a constant interplay of forces that, simple often in themselves and sometimes discordant, act on each other in curious fashion and produce in some mysterious way a wonderful harmony?

The tone of excessive adulation in referring to some present-day preachers is discreditable to both the secular and religious press, and to the preachers themselves. There have been great preachers in the past, but it was not thought necessary to swing the censer of incense continually before them; they were not supposed to need popular applause and patronage.

♛ ♛ ♛

One need not be an obscurantist, even if he does sometimes question the wisdom of barring out the sunlight, and substituting for it electricity; the substitute is good in the lack of sunshine, but it was never made to take its place.

♛ ♛ ♛

To get a good impression in the camera, the plate must be properly sensitized; one reason why the mind often does not receive a better impression of the truth is the lack of moral sensitiveness; the trouble is not in the camera, or in the object within its field, but in the plate that is exposed to the light.

As our schools and colleges are about closing the academic year, it seems a good time for teachers and students to make a review and take account of stock. How far have the past months proved fruitful in the work of education? Certainly, there is no more paying investment that a young man or woman can make than a good, solid, practical mental discipline and training for life's duties; not the mere acquisition of knowledge—that is a small part of an education—but a gaining in some way of the command of one's powers, the habit of correct thinking and clear expression; in a word, the ability to make the best use of our faculties whether large or small, and of our opportunities whether extensive or limited. Taking this broad view of education, there are probably few, either of teachers or students, but must feel that

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING IN MANCHESTER

Next Monday Evening to take Action Relative to Additional Water Supply for the Town.

The warrant for the special town meeting on the matter of additional water supply for Manchester, was posted Monday and the meeting is called for next Monday evening. Being of such great importance, and involving the expenditure of so much money, in case the town decides to carry the work through, it is to be hoped that every voter in town will be out.

The two articles in the warrant, aside from Art. 1, to choose a moderator, and Art. 4, any other business, etc., are as follows;

"Art. 2. To see if the town will exercise the rights conferred upon it by chapter 95 of the Acts of the year 1891 and chapter 478 of the acts of 1907 as amended by chapter 451 of the acts of 1908, and provide itself with an additional supply of water and establish a high service system of distribution; and for that purpose acquire the water of Gravel Pond and Round Pond, and the waters that flow into and from the same, and any rights connected therewith, in the town of Hamilton and Manchester, and any lands, right of way and easements, construct and maintain any dams, reservoirs, standpipe, pumping station, buildings or fixtures, acquire, erect and operate any machinery and appliances, and procure and lay conduits, pipes, or other work, or to take any actions relating thereto.

Art. 3. To see if the town will appropriate any money, and if so what amount, for acquiring an additional water supply and establishing a high service system of distribution, and to pay the expenses of acquiring or taking any waters, water rights, lands, rights of way and easements, constructing and maintaining any dams, reservoirs, standpipe and pumping station, building or fixtures, acquiring and erecting any machinery of appliances in connection therewith, and of procuring and laying any conduits, pipes, or other works, or for defraying any expenses incurred under Article 2, and to see if the town will vote to issue any bonds, notes, or script in payment therefor, and if so, for what amount, payable at what time or times, at what rate of interest and in what form and under what terms and conditions under the provisions of Section 3 of Chapter 478 of the Acts of 1907 as amended by Section 2 of Chapter 451 of the Acts of 1908. And to see if the town will vote to raise annually by taxation such an amount as shall be sufficient to meet the interest and such proportion of the principal of said bonds, notes, or script issue, as may fall due annually, or take any action relating thereto."

The warrant was signed by Chairman Knight and Walter R. Bell of the Board of Selectmen. Selectman Allen did not sign the warrant.

they might have done better. But one of the first steps to any improvement is to realize our deficiencies, and as Thomas Arnold put it, "alway to expect to succeed, and never to think that we have succeeded."

And, speaking of Arnold, what a great thing it is for a man to gather a store of wisdom and experience, which he is able to express in such clear, attractive and forcible phrase, that his thoughts will transmit themselves to coming generations, and be quoted as having authority. How much better this than to leave a name, "at which the world grows pale, to point a moral or adorn a tale."

It seems just now that there are many who think it a smart thing to decry theology and creeds as something antiquated, if not barbarous; as if they were not an attempt, confessedly imperfect at best, to co-ordinate our thoughts about God and religious truth, and to set forth the results of such thinking in a somewhat definite and orderly manner. But nebulosity seems now to be at a premium, and the more that some pride themselves upon having no theology, and upon having emancipated themselves from the bondage of creeds, the more are they bepraised in some quarters as men of "light and leading;" but what if the light that is in them be darkness, and what if they prove blind leaders of the blind? What then?

New Department in Salem Normal School.

At the beginning of the next school year, a new department will be opened at the Salem Normal school, the object of which will be the professional training of teachers in commercial subjects. The tendency of recent years in the direction of vocational education has created a demand greatly in excess of the supply for teachers who bring to this work the culture, the general education, and the professional skill that have long been required in other departments of High school work, yet up to the present time no Normal school in the country has made a serious attempt to offer pedagogical training to students preparing to teach the commercial branches. It is in response to a very real need, therefore, that the state board of education has established at the Salem Normal school a department, the aim of which will be to give students a thorough knowledge of the subjects usually taught in commercial High schools, together with pedagogical training and practice in teaching. A course of two years is open to graduates of High schools, and a special condensed course of one year is open to graduates of colleges, normal schools, private commercial schools, and to teachers of experience.

NOW IN ITS FIFTH YEAR

The Breeze is now an "All Home" Production. New Equipment places the Printing Office in a Position to do First-class Work.

LAST Thursday, May 21, marked the passing of another milestone in the history of this paper. The BREEZE is now in its fifth year.

The past year has marked the most important change in the paper of any in its four brief years of existence, the principal change being the building up of an office large enough to allow of the paper being printed in Manchester.

On May 21, 1904, when the first 16-page issue of the BREEZE appeared, the editor, least of all, probably, little expected that the paper would be printed in Manchester in an office of its own, in less than four years, and that it would have grown to double the size—32 pages—with a circulation of almost 2000 copies per week.

The paper was then printed in Beverly. It continued to the be printed there until the 14th of last December. Prior to that for about a year part of the paper was "made up" in Manchester and the pages taken to Beverly to be printed. On that date, however, the paper was first printed in Manchester, two pages at a time on a 13x19 Golding job press. The task of printing a 20-page paper two pages at a time can well be imagined.

In the meanwhile the small printing office which the editor of this paper bought in August of 1906 from Joseph Leman was being added to little by little. New type was purchased, new fixtures and new machinery were installed, the two old job presses gave way to two of more modern make. The office was equipped with electric power, a stitching machine was installed, and finally last March a new No. 4 Standard Babcock cylinder press was put in, which allowed of eight pages of the paper being printed at one time instead of two as previously.

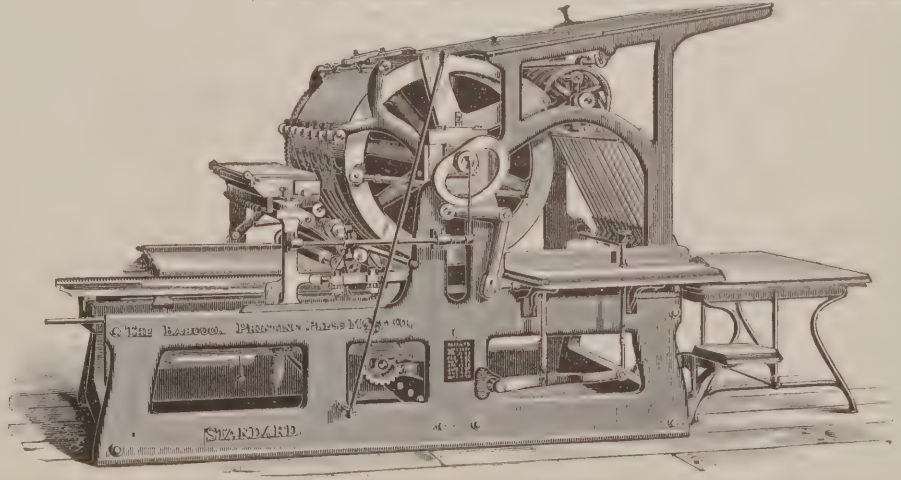

In connection with this change all of the type and machinery except the three presses were moved to the second floor of the building, on which floor also is located the stock room.

The BREEZE is now an "all home" production. The paper is "set up," printed, bound, addressed and mailed in Manchester. A feature which should not be overlooked in this connection is the fact that the readers are able to get the late local news Saturdays up to within an hour before they get their paper at the postoffice. The last page is "made up" usually about 11 o'clock, and in little more than half on hour afterward the first bundle of papers is carried to the postoffice. The Manchester papers are all in the postoffice as a rule before 12.30; the Beverly Farms, Pride's, Beverly and Salem bundles leave on the 1.30 mail train, and the newstand papers for these places leave on the same train; while the Magnolia and Gloucester papers are mailed on the 3.07 train. The miscellaneous papers in individual wrappers leave on the 5.21 mail train.

THE HOME OF THE NORTH SHORE BREEZE, BEACH ST., MANCHESTER.

The Job Printing Department of the BREEZE is fully equipped with new and modern type faces, and up-to-date machinery to do first-class job and commercial printing. The fact that over fifty per cent. of the work done at the office is brought from outside,—Boston, Salem, Beverly and Gloucester,—ought to be sufficient guarantee that the workmanship is of such character as to satisfy the most particular.

William Dillon was in town Tuesday visiting his parents, on Brook street.

Frank Hunt of Lynn, a baker, started work at Bullock's bakery this week for the season.

Clifford Brown of Gloucester, formerly with Frank Parsons, the well known grocer, has taken a position for the season with Frank H. Dennis, the School street grocer.

A grand holiday dance will be given in the Town hall, Tuesday evening, June 17, under the management of John Dillon and Harold Stanley. Long's orchestra.

The two tenements in the Wilkinson house at the Cove have been let for the summer to Michael Lydon, coachman for Mrs. J. H. Sturgis, and to the chauffeur for Prescott Bigelow. Mr. Lydon was married a short time ago.

Another automobile accident at Manchester Cove came near resulting in serious complications Sunday. Oscar Stromberg was riding his bicycle toward Gloucester, and when near the estate of the late Frank Allen, he collided with an automobile coming in the opposite direction. Mr. Stromberg was badly injured, cut and bruised.

Plants for Memorial Day at E. S. Knight's, School street. *

The overhanging arch formed by the willow trees on Raymond street, which always forms an attractive setting to one driving into Magnolia, has been trimmed by Tree Warden Young and helpers the past week, a very commendable piece of work.

Frank Robbins has recently returned from Canada, where he went to purchase a pair of driving horses for Mrs. W. Scott Fitz and a splendid purchase he made, too, for he bought one of the handsomest pair of Morgan horses, bays, that will be seen on North Shore roads this season. They are great roadsters, and have been seen in harness the past week.

The summer arrangement of police service went into effect last Saturday evening. Patrolman Stoops is on day duty again, with Chief Peabody, and the specials will take turns at night patrol, being on duty until 1 a. m.

Some 30 friends of Miss Nellie Walen participated in a "crystal shower" tendered Miss Walen by Miss Mary Rust, at the latter's home on School street, Tuesday evening. After the various verses were read games and music were enjoyed, and refreshments were served.

The selectmen are calling for proposals for painting the pier and pavilion at Tuck's Point, the bids to be in by next Thursday, May 28, at 7 p. m.

The Memorial exercises at the Story High school will be held Friday, May 29, at 11 o'clock. All friends of the school are cordially invited to attend.

Beginning last Saturday Horace Standley is now closing his blacksmith shop, Depot square, Saturdays at noon. D. O'Sullivan is also closing his shop at noon Saturdays.

Mrs. Thomas E. Boise of Middlebury, Vt., formerly Miss Laura Norton of the Primary school teaching staff, arrived last evening for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Crowell, Lincoln street.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Stanley and little child are coming on from New York to spend the holiday next week, and Mrs. Stanlay will remain for a visit with Mr. Stanley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Stanley, School street.

George Younger is at Bullock Bros., grocers, as order clerk to succeed Theodore Coombs, who was compelled to take a rest from his work on account of poor health. Mr. Coombs and family planned to leave for Belfast, Me., today, for a few months' stay.

Former Supt. of Streets Kimball is in charge of the construction of the new road which is being built at Salem from Appleton street to the new Kernwood bridge, between Salem and Beverly. The work will require over three months to finish it, as there are three ledges to be blasted and a long, deep fill to be made.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Forster Allen planned to leave today for a visit of ten days among friends in the vicinity of Boston, principally to attend the wedding at Newton, Tuesday evening, of Miss Florence Harding and Carlton Lincoln Ellison. The ceremony will be performed at the Eliot church, where Miss Harding was soloist for several years. Tomorrow Mr. and Mrs. Allen will spend with Mrs. Kimball in Auburndale.

The initiatory degree will be worked on one candidate at the next meeting of Magnolia lodge, I. O. O. F.

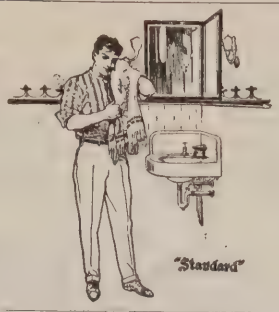

Robert Curran and family moved down to Manchester from their Allston home, Tuesday, for the summer.

Two Manchester residents were before the Gloucester court the first of this week, at different times, charged with drunkenness.

W. A. Fairbanks, general secretary of the Gloucester Y. M. C. A., gave a general talk on Phi Alpha Pi work before the local chapter last evening.

Tree Warden Young will give a hearing Monday, June 1, at 10 a. m., on the property, on petition of G. O. Moulton to remove a willow tree from in front of his new cottage on Raymond street.

The Adoption degree was worked on one candidate at the meeting of Conomo tribe, Wednesday evening, and the Hunters' and Warriors' degree on six candidates. Chicataubut tribe of Beverly has been invited to be presant at the meeting of June 3 to witness the Chief's degree.

Personal Attention Given to all Work. Estimates cheerfully given.

The Clement S. Houghtons expect to occupy their cottage on Coolidge's Point about June 1.

F. M. Stanwood and family arrived at their Manchester cottage Wednesday, for the season.

The open air horse show at the Country club, Brookline, has been attracting North Shore cottagers already settled here the past two days.

James S. Lee has let his cottage at Magnolia for the season to the J. Harrington Walkers of Detroit, who had a cottage at Coolidge's Point last season.

Neal Rantoul and family arrived at Beverly Farms, Thursday, and are now nicely settled in their handsome new house off West Beach, on the site of the old Wheelwright house. The cottage and new auto house are of brick.

Mrs. James McMillan will not open her summer residence at Eaglehead, Manchester, this season until well along June. She will keep her house at Washington open until the last week in May, when she and her grand-daughter, Miss Grace Jarvis, will go to Detroit for a visit with relatives. They will then come to Manchester and remain here until late summer. Miss Jarvis will then go abroad, and Mrs. McMillan's daughter, Lady Harrington, wife of the British minister to Abyssinia, will come over for a visit to her mother. Mrs. McMillan and her grand-daughter are staying late in Washington because of the wedding of Miss Edith Sanger, daughter of General Sanger, to Mandeville Carlisle, at which Miss Jarvis will be a bridesmaid.

The C. L. Piersons arrived at Pride's Thursday for the season.

Mrs. John H. Sturgis arrived at her estate, Manchester Cove, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Warren Mason are to occupy the Dr. Rotch cottage at Manchester this season.

Mrs. John Cordner and the Misses Cordner have closed their 50 Chestnut street, Boston, residence, and are at the Perry cottage, Pride's Crossing, for the season.

Nelson S. Bartlett and friend, Mr. Weston, left Manchester, Thursday for an automobile trip to New York, by way of Lenox. From New York they will tour up the Hudson, and return to Manchester in about ten days.

The A. Chester Beetys of Denver, Col., have arrived at the Brinley cottage, Magnolia, for the season. Mr. Beety is a friend of John Hays Hammond of Fresh Water Cove; this is his first season as a cottager on the North Shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Robinson have been on from New York the past week, and have been guests during their stay of Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Whitehouse at Manchester. Their cottage at Manchester will be occupied shortly by the Edward Kings of New York.

Dr. Tenney and family will open their cottage at Manchester Cove, next Wednesday.

Among the arrivals at Manchester this week were the G. M. Morgans and the W. A. Tuckers.

Mrs. J. S. Ford of Highland Park, Ill., arrived at her cottage on University Lane, Manchester Cove, Wednesday for the season.

The John W. Belches of Brookline have arrived for the summer and are occupying the Foster cottage, on Summer street, Magnolia.

At East Gloucester the first secretary of the Siamese legation and Mrs. Edward Loftus will spend the summer, instead of in England as they usually do.

Two engagemenrs of interest to North Shore folk were announced last week,—that of Miss Helen Prince and J. Amory Lowell Blake, and that of Miss Isabel Morison and Frank Washburn Grinnell. Miss Prince is a neice of Dr. Morton and Frederick H. Prince, and also of the late Gordon Prince of Manchester. Miss Prince's home is now in France. The wedding will be in England. Miss Morison is the younger daughter of Mrs. Frank Morison of Boston, who owns a cottage at Beverly Farms. Her older sister is Mrs. Clifton Long Bremer of Cohasset.

Mrs. E. A. Whipple and her son George N. Whipple, have arrived at their West Manchester cottage this week.

The headquarters of the German embassy will be at Beverly Farms this season, and the representatives of the legation will be on next Thursday, though the embassy will not be located here for the summer for some weeks yet. Baron von Sternberg is to spend the summer in Europe, but Count Herman von Hatzfeldt, the first secretary and counsellor of the embassy, and other attaches, will be here. Later in the season the Ambassador will return from Germany, and after a visit to the old home of Baroness von Sternburg in California, they will come to the shore for a brief stay, probably. The embassy was located here two seasons ago.

Sousa Coming as a Leading Boston Food Fair Attraction.

One of the best features of the new exposition building for the Boston Food Fair, the Park Square Coliseum, is the fact that all the exhibitions, entertainments and amusements will be on the same vast floor area, on a level with the street.

The work of transforming the building for this Fair has already begun and will continue until next fall when the exposition opens September 28, to run for five weeks.

Probably there is not a band in the world that has the popularity and prestige of the renowned Sousa's Band, both here and abroad. The Boston Retail Grocers' Association has shown its wisdom in selecting this far famed organization to entertain their patrons from the beginning of the Fair.

Plans for this exposition were being made last year and the management has completed arrangements for some most novel exhibits. For the entertainment features there has been secured the best novelties to be found—and although the price of admission will remain the same as in former years, 25 cents, there will be no extra charge of any kind. There is no more influential local business organization in New England than the Boston Retail Grocers' Association. It includes in its membership over 500 of the leading grocers of Boston and suburbs and has every reason to be proud of its six successful Boston Food Fairs already held here.

Society Notes

At least two foreign embassies will be located at Manchester the coming season,—the Italian and the Russian. The Italian Ambassador and Baroness des Planches will not return to Italy for the summer as they have for the past few years, but will come to Manchester at the close of the Washington season. The embassy headquarters have been located here for several years. The ambassador will attend the National convention in Chicago.

The Russian Embassy headquarters will be at Coolidge's Point again. Though Baron Rosen has already returned to Russia, where he will remain until October with the baroness and daughter, the secretaries will come to the shore in late June to remain until September.

Postmaster General Meyer will stay late at his departmental duties this year. Mrs. Meyer and their two daughters will spend the greater part of the summer in Germany, where Miss Alice Meyer will take the waters. She has never entirely recovered from her serious illness of last summer. They will come back in the late summer and come to Hamilton.

The store in the Colonnade, Magnolia, which Huyler's is to occupy this summer is being made ready for opening on Thursday, June 11, and from present appearances it will be the most attractive of the summer stores on the North Shore, and in keeping with the many Huyler's stores that now adorn Boston and other cities. The two stores to be used are those formerly used by Houghton & Clark, florists. These have been made into one, and an attractive circular bay window has been built on in the rear, thus making the two stores somewhat larger. On one side will be candies and on the other sodas and ices. The room will be filled with eighteen tables, of dark green Westfield marble. The wooden floor has been taken out and a tile floor replaces it. The room will be finished in dark wood, and red and green will be the color scheme. It will be lighted by sixty or more incandescents. A feature which will be much appreciated, no doubt, will be the outdoor service. The lawn outside has been replaced by pebble floor, on which will be two large tables, and this will be attractively lighted in the evening.

Miss McNamara announces that she is at Manchester-by-the-Sea for the season, and that she has removed from the cottage at 39 School street to Friend's court (off School street.) Treatment of the scalp, shampooing, marcel waving, manicure. Telephone 164 Manchester. *

ANNOUNCEMENT

MRS. L. T. B. WYATT

Announces to the public and the former patrons of the old-established "Wyatt's Market" that this season the market will be under the personal management of Mr. C. E. Buxton, and, as in the past, High Quality Goods and First Class Service will characterize the establishment. ¶In addition to Meats and Provisions, a full and complete stock of Strictly High Grade Staple and Fancy Groceries and Fresh Fruits will be carried this season, all at Boston market prices. ¶At this time she would respectfully thank all patrons for past favors and solicit a continuance of their valued patronage.

Orders will be collected every morning and given Prompt Attention.

Mortimer B. Mason and family moved down to their estate on Smith's Point, Wednesday.

Mrs. W. Scott Fitz is among the cottage arrivals of the past few days. She will have with her at her Smith's Point residence for the summer, her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Holmes. Mr. Holmes, by the way, will be one of the Harvard '95 men who will serve as ushers at the marriage on Monday, June 8, in Trinity Chapel, New York, of Stoughton Bell of Cambridge, and Miss Mabel Lewis.

At the Hotels.

The Aborn cottage is now open at Magnolia. The Aborn hotel proper is booked to open June 1. Mrs. Carney has been on hand for several weeks getting things in readiness and Manager Remick is also on hand. The hotel and cottages have an excellent booking for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ernst of Cincinnati, who have spent their summers at the Aborn for the past three years, are expected next week for the season.

Manager Phenix is now spending all his time at the Oceanside getting the hotel ready to open on Saturday, June 13. Practically the only change made in the interior of the house this year is in the arrangement of the office. This has been moved from its old position on the eastern side of the house to the opposite side, and several small rooms lead from this side of the house which are to be used as private offices for the manager, assistant manager, etc.

This change leaves an unobstructed passage from the main entrance of the hotel through the main lobby, to the parlor on the opposite side of the building. Formerly the office projected into this passage. The office will be much larger, too, and will be exposed on three sides.

Leading off the office is a private room for the bookkeeper, 21 by 16 feet, away from the noise of the lobby, and between this office and the lobby are two large closets for stationery and supplies. There is a small office for Mr. Eades, the assistant manager, and one also for the public stenographer, who heretofore has had a desk in the open lobby. Mr. Phenix' office leads off this.

Another improvement made since last season which will be greatly appreciated this year, is a new freight elevator, which runs in a tower built on the outside of the building, running to all floors. Previously the freight and passenger elevators were combined.

The work is being hustled along, twelve mechanics being employed in the office improvements Wednesday, in charge of J. H. Wilkins.

Mr. Phenix says he has an excellent booking for the summer.

In Yachting Circles.

Friday of last week was the last day on which challenges could be received by the Corinthian Yacht club for this season's races for the Quincy cup, challenges having been received from the Manchester, Eastern, Boston and Quincy yacht clubs. This is the largest number of clubs to challenge for this trophy since it came into existence more than 10 years ago. With the fastest sonder class boat of each club entered in the match for the cup the races at Marblehead the week of August 17 should be very interesting. None of the clubs has named the boat that it will enter for the trophy; the boats do not have to be named until the day before the first race.

Harold J. Coolidge has purchased the old Centerville Chapel at Montserrat from the city of Beverly and will remove the building from the premises.

The BREEZE is in a position to state that there is absolutely no truth in the report that Mrs. H. M. Curry has bought the Dr. Morrill estate at Magnolia, adjoining her estate there.

The percentage of attendance at the schools for the past week follows: G. A. Priest school—Grade IX, 95.00; VIII, 96.84; VII, 88.39; VI, 88.10; V, 94.77; Adv. IV, 93.84; IV, 88.75; III, 95.00; II, 90.60; Adv. I, 95.60; I, 92.49.

MANCHESTER

The Edward S. Grews will open their cottage at West Manchester next week.

A daughter was born Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Cook, Pleasant st.

A daughter was born Sunday, May 16, to Mr. Mrs. Leonard Capello, Forest st.

Mrs. Frederick Burnham is leaving today for a visit of two weeks with her brother in Oyster Bay, L. I.

Miss Fenderson, the teacher, gave the girls of the 9th grade a "cob web" party at the school yesterday afternoon.

Miss Nannie Sjolund was home from Newburyport for the Minstrel show and Miss Sarah Sjolund was home from Salem.

Miss Helen Boyle has been entertaining the past week her classmate, Miss Josephine Lovell of Spencer, and her cousin, Miss Mabel Boyle of Portsmouth. Thursday, with several other young ladies, the young people had an outing at Rafe's Chasm.

Mrs. George A. Kitfield gave a luncheon at her home on Ashland avenue, Thursday afternoon at one o'clock for Mrs. T. Jefferson Glover of Dorchester, who is her guest. Covers were laid for twelve. Mrs. William H. Puffer of Milton, grand chaplain of the Grand Lodge, Order of the Eastern Star of Massachusetts, is also a guest of Mrs. Kitfield over the week-end.

The grand jury for the May term of the superior criminal court, which sat at Newburyport last week, found a bill against Joseph McDonald, who it will be remembered pleaded guilty in the lower court to the charge of breaking and entering the W. J. Mitchell residence at Manchester Cove last winter. The case came up Tuesday at which time MacDonald admitted that his name was George H. Kline, and that his home was on Byron street, East Boston, instead of Baltimore.

The street department has been doing a commendable piece of work the past few days in removing the granite wall in the space between the two buildings owned by the heirs of the late David Kimball, on Union street. A one foot granite retaining wall is to be placed at this point set back some three to four feet from the former line. The line along the Kimball block, is to be moved back also, thus straightening the line at this point. The estate is giving the land to the town thus gained in consideration of the town making the change. This is one of the most dangerous points in town, the street being only 19 feet wide at this point. Later on it is likely the town will vote to widen the street, move back the sidewalk, etc.

THE BREEZE was four years old Thursday,—May 21.

No complaint is made about short measure when we have a peck of trouble.

ITEMS and notices for next week's paper should be sent in one day early as the BREEZE will go to press Friday instead of Saturday, owing to Memorial Day coming on Saturday. The paper will be in the postoffice at the various places for the first Saturday morning delivery.

AN act has passed the Legislature which gives cities and towns authority to establish pension funds for teachers, on acceptance of its provisions by cities and towns voting to avail themselves of its privileges. It seems to us that the town of Brookline ought to accept this act, which is very conservative in its provisions. It would enable Brookline to pension only teachers who had served twenty-five years in our public schools, and consequently could never impose a serious financial burden. Regarded simply as a measure of expediency, its adoption should be advocated for business reasons, for by it the town could keep its teaching force in a condition of better efficiency than otherwise. From every point of view, it is desirable that we accept this act, and once it is put before the voters there can be scarcely any doubt as to the outcome.—Brookline Chronicle.

COULD Paradise be fairer? Perhaps the long and tedious winter through which we have just passed, has brightened our appreciation of this season of bud and blossom, for we enjoy all things by constrast, and, perhaps this passing from the snow and cold of winter to the warmth and verdure of summer produces an unwonted thrill of pleasure. At any rate you may talk of the purple haze of Italy, the vine-clad hills of France, the sea green tints of the Emerald Isle, the quiet lanes of England fragrant with their blossoming hedgerows; but whoever will rise with the sun these mornings can enjoy the essence of them all, and not leave their own door yards .

No sea girt isle can boast a fresher green than our grass and foliage. The air is vocal with the songs of birds and odorous from the blossoming trees. Flowers of every hue are springing from their retreats and bearing to our hearts bright promises for the morrow.

The beautiful North Shore is now inviting those that harbor within her borders in the summer season, to hasten from their city homes and come to the sea shore to enjoy her beauties.

All Nature seems instinct with life and hope. Come then, ye sick and sorrowful to this feast of good things. Don't spend these precious mornings tossing wearily on your couch, hoping the doctor will find a panacea for your ills, or that something will turn up to dissipate your gloom.

Go out to meet these healing, inspiring influences which Nature is providing for your relief, open your lungs and hearts to her sweet breath and words of cheer, and a balm more potent than any ever patented by men. A God given panacea for the ills of humanity, shall be given you. You will be glad you are alive and that you live on the North Shore amid these beautiful surroundings.

Fourth of July Plans.

The Manchester Fourth of July committee met Tuesday evening and organized with Frank G. Cheever as chairman and Lyman W. Floyd as secretary, and the program for the day was outlined. Teel's band of Boston will furnish the two concerts on that day. In brief the program as outlined will be as follows:

5.30, general salute, ringing of all bells at churches and school house, and general salute with guns, bombs, fire crackers, etc.

7 o'clock or thereabouts tennis tournament to start and continue until finished.

8.30, sports at the playgrounds, including jumps, throwing baseball, pitching quoits, etc., etc.

10, baseball game at playgrounds.

2 to 3 p. m., sports, races, etc., on School street, from Square to North street being roped off for the purpose.

3 to 5, band concert on the common.

3 to 5, water sports, races, etc., at town wharf.

8 to 10 p. m., concert on common, electrical illumination.

7.45 to 11.45 free dancing in Town hall.

From the above outline it will be seen that the committee are to provide a good day's program and one which everyone should enjoy.

The town has appropriated $500 for the day and it would seem that the committee are to spend it in the right way. One feature which will meet with approbation, no doubt, will be the omission this year of the usual fireworks, for with the amount of money on hand it is difficult to have any sort of a display.

The early morning salute is postponed until 5.30, a good feature. The morning sports will be at the playgrounds, and the afternoon sports will be in the center. Band concerts will be given in the afternoon and evening.

Good work, thus far!

Probate Court.

At the session of probate court Monday in Salem the wills of Charles S. Hanks and Samuel Knight were proved, Clarinda B. Hanks being administratrix of the former, and Frank P. and George L. Knight being executors of the latter.

At an adjourned session of the court Tuesday, administration was granted on the estate of Frederick W. Gilson, Raymond C. Allen, administrator.

An inventory was also filed on the estate of Abbie S. Abbott, $170.

WHISPERINGS

Night Officer Jones at the Cove had an experience with a man one night recently which was amusing. The fellow got off the 10.10 train from Gloucester at the Magnolia station and inquired of the officer how to get to Magnolia. He was directed to take the road opposite the station and follow his nose, as the saying goes. About 2.30, Officer Jones met the fellow on Summer street near the West estate, not much nearer Magnolia than when he left the train at 10 o'clock. He said he had been travelling all the time, and had followed the instructions given, but unfortunately his nose was pointing toward Ocean street, every time he came to the junction of Summer and Ocean streets, and instead of keeping on toward Magnolia he followed the little heater around Ocean street, which landed him in the same spot every time. A few more drinks would have put the fellow out of commission entirely!

Additional Mail Service.

Beginning Sunday, May 31, the additional mail service at the Manchester postoffice will go into effect, and on that day the office will be open from 9 to 10.30 a. m. Beginning Monday, June 1, there will be an additional mail, week days from Boston, New York, etc., at 9.15, and a mail will close for these points at 6.12 p. m., leaving on the 6.42 train.

Senator Shaw Candidate for Third Term as Senator.

Senator James F. Shaw of Manchester has formally announced that he will be a candidate for a third term this fall from the third Essex district. He has the presidency bee very strongly in his bonnett, if elected for a third term, and has been assured of considerable support, by prospective members in the event of his re-election.

Senator Shaw said last night in an interview that he had no wish to return to the senate except as president of the chamber.

"I have served two years," he declared, "and aside from my own wishes, which would be to retire with what honors I have earned, there would, ordinarily, be political considerations in my district which would prevent my returning. I am convinced, however, that I can be more useful to the residents of third district as president of the senate than could any new man, while at the same time I would be serving the people of the entire state. For that reason I have decided to announce my candidacy for a third term."—Gloucester Daily Times.

Deacon T. B. Stone was called to Clinton this week on a nursing case.

Mrs. Harriet F. Perkins was in Gloucester, Wednesday to attend the funeral of the mother of her later husband.

Dr. Cook of Gloucester was in town Sunday and operated on the tonsils of Annie and George Diamond, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Diamond, Forest st.

Bernard Reilly is occupying the apartments in Austin Morley's house on Brook street, recently vacated by Mr. Morley, who is now comfortably settled in his new concrete cottage, corner Brook street and Norwood avenue.

The death of Rev. Fr. Wm. Rossiter in Malone, N. Y., this week was keenly felt by Mrs. D. O'Sullivan of this town, as Fr. Rossiter was a dear friend of hers. Fr. Rossiter was a man highly esteemed by the people of all denominations.

Mrs. C. P. McCoubrey was quite badly bitten in the face by a dog she tried to befriend in Salem yesterday. Some boys were plaguing the animal and Mrs. McCoubrey went to its assistance only to be turned on by the dog. Her wounds were dressed at the Salem hospital.

Librarian D. L. Bingham was present and gave a delightfully interesting and instructive talk along the line of the peace movement, in which he gave a remarkably brilliant display of the retentative powers of his memory, in his illusions to historical facts. The pupils at the High school always look forward with much interest to Mr. Bingham's visits, and the talks which he gives them. For a man in his nineties Mr. Bingham retains a remarkable memory.

FEMALE MINSTRELS.

In Manchaster a Big Success. Good Singing and Acting. Children's Cake Walk a Feature.

The Female Minstrels in the Manchester Town hall, Thursday evening under the direction of the Allen Relief Corps was a success in every way. The hall was crowded, thus assuring a good financial success, and the show was good.

The singing was good, and some of the soloists in particular were given a good hand, while the ends had plenty jokes, most of which made hits.

Mrs. Hannah Tappan made an excellent interlocutor, and on either side of her sat Miss Pauline Semons and Edwin Cook, who later acted as drummer boy in the closing chorus. In the circle were Mrs. Alice Lee, Mrs. Arthur Hey, Mrs. Lucinda Baker, Mrs. Lydia Dennis, Mrs. E. E. Allen, Mrs. G. A. Jones, Miss Agnes Sjolund, Miss Saddie Noyes, Mrs. Mary Lane, Mrs. Wm. Walen, Mrs. G. E. Hildreth, Mrs. E. J. Semons, Mrs. C. O. Howe; Miss Dillon Sjojund, Miss Olive Cook and Mrs. Cook, tambos; and Mrs. Mary Allen, Mrs. Austin and Mrs. J. S. Reed, bones.

All numbers on the program were good, but the solos by little Miss Pauline Semons, Misses Dillon and Agnes Sjolund and by Mrs. Austin, call for special mention. The fancy step of Mrs. Reed also was especially good. The parts were all well rendered and two and three encores were given in almost every case. The program follows:

Overture
Opening Chorus
Song, The Lady with the Ragtime Walk, Mrs. Mary Allen
Song, Two Blue Eyes, . . Pauline Semons
Song, Dat's Music to me, . Dillon Sjolund
Song, My Starlight Maid, Mrs. Arthur Hey
Song, Monkey Land, ... Mrs. Austin
Song, I'm Tying the Leaves, Miss Sadie Noyes
Song, Gratitude, . . . Miss Olive Cook
Song, As Long as the World Rolls On, Miss Agnes Sjolund
Song, The Warmest Gal in Town, Mrs. Reed
Song, The Brightest Star of all my Dreams, Mrs. J. W. Lee
Song, Let it Alone, ... Miss Cook
Closing Chorus

The feature of the olio was the cake walk by six little misses, in white. They were excellent little performers, and after they had gone through their "walk" they were called back. They were trained by Miss Beatrice Long, who is to be congratulated on her success. The girls were Pauline Semons, Marion Lations, Brenda Cook, Frances Norie, Gladys Hildreth and Elsie McCormack.

The stump speech by Mrs. J. S. Reed was delivered with all the pomp and power, gesticulations, etc., of a trained stump speaker, and Mrs. Reed received much applause. The hits were well pointed.

The topical song was by Miss Malinda Bully Johnson, underneath whose disguise was Harry S. Tappan, and it contained a bunch of good hits, a few of which follow:

Some things look very queer to us,
They mystify us fully,
How does this town keep on the map,
Without the aid of Bully?

Town meeting days are over now,
No one will fuss and fret,
But still we can't help asking why
You gave the hook to Smith.

The windows in the Postoffice,
Were washed by Ed. Wilcox.
And now the doctors in the town
Are rushed attending shocks.

In years to come, in this old town,
About 2003,
They'll say: Who built the streets for you?
Ben Crombie did, by gee!

Our fire department takes the cake
As you are all aware,
It even takes your wife away
If you have one to spare.
(ART. 212, SECT. 11)

Harry S. Tappan directed the show and is to be complimented on his success. Lagory Wade wrote the orchestratations. Long's orchestra furnished the music, and their work was well performed, also.

The electrical effects were by Edward Killam, all the apparatus, fixtures, etc., being loaned through the courtesy of Clark & Mills Electric Co.

BEVERLY FARMS

Mrs. Duncan T. Smith met with an accident Wednesday afternoon which very fortunately did not result more seriously. She was returning from a visit on Hart street and accepted the invitation of a friend who happened along to ride to her home, and when alighting her coat caught in the lamp on the carriage just as the spirited horse started. The result was that she was thrown to the ground and the wheel passed over one leg.

There is to be a three days bazaar at Beverly City hall, first week in June in aid of the Beverly hospital, at which as usual, Beverly Farms, is to lend its aid, and everybody is invited to do what they can to help the good cause. Some of the committee in charge of the Farms department are Mrs. Chas. H. Trowt. Mrs. F. I. Lomasney and Miss May D. Connolly who would gladly receive any aid that may be offered.

Resignation of A. W. Mead as Principal of G. A. Priest School a Big Surprise.

It is with deep regret the citizens of Manchester learn of the action of the School Committee which resulted in the resignation of Principal A. W. Mead of the G. A. Priest school, and the consequent acceptance of his resignation by the committee.

Mr. Mead has been in charge of the Grammar school for the past nine years and he has been eminently successful in his work, building up the school to its present high degree of efficiency, so that it is recognized by outside authorities as one of the leading schools, outside the cities and a few of the larger towns, in the whole state.

Mr. Mead's resignation is met with all the more surprise from the fact that it was known by the citizens generully that his work was highly satisfactory, not only to the townspeople, but to the committee.

His resignation was brought about by the action on the part of the committee in requesting Mr. Mead to act as submaster of the school under the new superintendent of schools, who is to be principal.

In view of the fact that Mr. Mead's work was universally satisfactory, and it was recognized that he had built up the school and everything was going along smoothly, his appointment to the position of sub-master in a school where for nine years he had been principal, naturally led him to resign rather than accept a subordinate position.

This occurred a week ago last Tuesday. The committee at first refused to accept the resignation, but they have since done so. While the committee have no statement to make it is generally understood that Mr. Mackin was appointed superintendent at a salary of $1650. Inasmuch as the town voted to recommend to the committee that the salary of superintendent of schools this year be $1000, the committee planned to have the new superintendent teach so as to earn the salary of $1650.

It is generally regretted that the committee felt called upon to make a change under the existing circumstances.

Has Unitarianism Failed?

A leading Unitarian minister of New England, Rev. Charles W. Wendte, writes in the Boston Evening Transcript of Saturday, May 23, an answer to the pertinent and prevalent assertion that Unitarianism is on the decline, that its numbers are decreasing and its influence diminishing. He furnishes sane, definite and specific proofs of his church's vitality and strength, and presents an argument that will be read with interest by people of all sects in New England.

WAR ON THE MOTHS

Parasites Let Loose and Result now being Carefully Watched.

In asking the Massachusetts legislature for a total appropriation of $300,000 to cover the expense of the warfare this year against the gypsy and browntail moths, Archie H. Kirkland, state superintendent for the suppression of insect pests, said that over 80,000 parasites of the moths have been let loose from the experiment station at Melrose Highlands during the past week, and that 20,000 more will be ready for liberation within a few days.

This action is regarded as a most important step in the campaign of the United States, department of agriculture and the state authorities against the destructive moths, and the result will be watched wtih keen interest in every locality where these insects have appeared. It represents the latest and most scientific methods of dealing with a problem which has caused an expenditure of many hundreds of thousands of dollars in Massachusetts and other New England states during the past decade.

For the past two years experts have been engaged in propagating the parasites. The headquarters of this work has been located in specially constructed buildings in Melrose, where scores of different varieties of moth-eating insects have been received from collectors sent to Europe for that purpose. Each variety has been the subject of careful experiments, and if it has proven to be a natural enemy of the gypsy moth, immense colonies of the variety have been raised in the breeding cases.

The parasites so far selected work against the moths in four distinct ways. The large calosoma beetles, as well as two other species closely allied to them, climb the trees, seize the caterpillars and never let go until they have devoured the wriggling insect. The tachinid flies lay their eggs upon the outer skin of the caterpillars, usually close up to the head. The larvae that hatch penetrate the skin of the caterpillar and feed upon its intestines.

Another group of the parasitic flies deposit eggs inside the skin of the caterpillar and the maggots act as in the case just given. Then there is another parasite, a minute midge, that drills into the eggs of the caterpillar and lays its eggs inside. The larvae of the parasite feeds upon the contents of the caterpillar's eggs until ready to emerge. Some of these flies also enter the nests or winter webs of the brown tail species and there operate upon the hibernating caterpillars during the winter months.

The scientists say that there is every reason to believe that in time these parasites will accomplish the practical suppression of the gypsy moth. In Europe the parasites have always acted as a natural check on the spread of the moths, but in this country, after these insect pests had been accidentally introduced, they were free from this check and increased accordingly.

The present experiment is the most important that has been tried in the war against the gypsy moth. Long ago the authorities realized that the costly method of hunting out and destroying nests each year, and spraying trees, was only a makeshift at best, though fairly successful in preventing the wholesale destruction of trees and other vegetation.

The parasite plan, while costly in the experimental state, is expected to afford a permanent solution of the whole problem. For this reason the results of the introduction of the parasites in the neighborhood where the pest made its first appearance in this country will be awaited with interest in every locality where the gypsy and browntail moths have been found.

Preston Post 188, G. A. R., has secured the services of Comrade Geo. W. Mead, chaplain of Post 167, Norwood, to deliver the Memorial address at the Beverly Farms Baptist church in the evening. The Post had engaged for this occasion Dept. Chaplain Henry E. Barnes of Brookline who delivers the address that afternoon at Chat an intending to make train connections so that he might be in Beverly Farms for the evening, but owing to a recent change in the time table found that he could not make train connections and therefore was obliged to cancel his Farms engagement. Comrade Mead delivers the Memorial address at Dedham in the afternoon and is reputed to be an excellent speaker. Commander Chas. H. Day, owing to the lateness of receiving the cancelled engagement, has had to do some hustling to bring about the new arrangements.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I beg to announce to the residents of the North Shore that I have purchased from Walker Bros. & Co. the provision business conducted by them at Beverly Farms for the past twenty years, including their good will and trade. Having had twenty-five years experience on the North Shore, eight years as manager of Wyatt's Market, I thoroughly understand the selection of choice meats, fruits, vegetables, etc., carried by first-class markets. The business will be conducted under the name of Brewer's Market, which will be opened on or about April 20, 1908. I solicit your patronage.

WALTER P. BREWER.

Beverly Farms, Mass., Feb. 10, 1908.

We, the undersigned, certify that we have sold the good will and trade of our North Shore business to Walter P. Brewer.

The Sarah W. Whitman class met on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George D. Batchelder, Hart st. Beside nearly every member being present, there were several new members admitted to membership. The usual duties of the club were performed and a short time spent socially. Congratulations to Mrs. Webster, the president, were in order, the day marking the passing of another milestone in her life's journey. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George H. Bennett, High street, and the club will spend the afternoon in work for the benefit of the Beverly hospital.

Owing to the backward season it is very likely that there will be a scarcity of flowers of the Post to use for the decoration of graves on Memorial Day. Preston Post, 188, would be very thankful to receive any contributions that may be sent in and will have a committee at G. A. R. hall next Saturday morning to receive them. Any one who has raised flowers under glass might be able to help comemmorate the day in this way.

The chemical was called to the Osborne estate, adjoining the C. H. Tweed estate Wednesday for a smart brush fire, but their services were hardly necessary as the fire was about extinguished before the apparatus arrived. The fire was discovered by Matthew Smith, and were it not for his prompt action and his stable help with pails of water and brooms it might have caused serious damage. The most excitement was caused by Patrick O'Hearn, when his clothing caught fire, and the flames singed most of his curly locks. As a result of it Paddy has had to invest in a wig.

FOR THE AUTO TOURIST.

When a cylinder begins to overheat, either from lack of sufficient lubricating oil or from any other cause, it generally makes its trouble known by a scraping, grating noise as the dry metals rub against each other at each stroke of the piston. A car will begin to show a loss of power under such circumstances, and no time should be lost in making an investigation of the cause of the trouble. If the engine is kept running it will surely result in scoring the cylinder wall and the piston is practically certain to seize.

Repaired tires should be placed on front wheels. Having less strain to bear, the cover will last longer; it will be less exposed to punctures and, consequently, will be less liable to burst. Being placed in front, it can also be watched more easily. Repaired inner tubes can be used in the same way; those that have been repaired should be kept for the front wheels, where the strain is not so great, and, consequently, the heat is less, and they will be able to resist some time longer, whereas they might be unfit for use after the first mile if they are placed on the rear wheels.

A particularly useful article for every tourist is a folding water bucket. This can be used for carrying water to splash on to brakes when they become hot from a long coast, for carrying water for the radiator and other purposes.

Whenever, through a minor accident any of the connections leading to the brakes become bent, they should be returned to their original alignment at once. Any such kinks not only tends to shorten the adjustment thus altering the ratio of application to pedal or lever movement, but may be the seat of an incipient fracture.

The work of extracting a broken stud is bad enough when a bit is left above the surface to afford a hold, but as studs have a persistent habit of breaking off in their holes, the work is a hard one for an amateur to perform by the aid of such tools as are generally carried upon a car. Presuming the possession of a cold chisel of suitable breadth, a slot may be formed across the end of the stud which will permit of its being withdrawn with a screw-driver, but if it is set in its position too firmly to yield to this form of persuasion, it can sometimes be driven round by means of careful blows on a small square-ended punch. Before starting this job, or the attempt at withdrawal first mentioned, the part should, if possible, be heated up well and plentifully lubricated with kerosene. The other alternative is to drill a hole right down the centre of the stud, when the shell left will presently turn with the drill and can be twisted out, but this is no sort of job for the road.

America Leads in Floriculture.

"Europe is far behind the United States is floriculture," said Thomas F. Galvin, the well-known Boston florist, when questioned about his observations on the trip from which he returned last week. "The European florists are not so enterprising as are their rivals on this side. Many Americans imagine that the floral displays in Paris and Brussels are unequalled, whereas they cannot compete in beauty, splendor and profusion with those seen in New York and Boston several times each year. The Americans are more daring in their ventures, and while they score some failures, they also achieve a much larger number of successes.

"From time to time prizes are produced over there, and one of these I have just succeeded in capturing. I have made four voyages with this end in view, and consider the victory worthy of the extended campaign. This prize is a new variety of carnation which I expect will make as great a sensation as did the famous Lawson pink a few years ago. The new one is pea green or Easter lavendar in color, very delicate and beautiful. I have an option on 500 of the plants and shall grow them for three or four months longer near London and then go over to complete arrangements for transplanting them in this country. They will thrive here, for transplanting does not affect the plant. It is a matter of the right kind of soil. But a carnation will only last six or seven years at best. They die out from propagation.

"The Lawson pink of a few years ago, which I managed for the owner, cost him $30,000, and yet he netted $20,000 on his speculation in that little flower. We sold 650,000 of the cuttings in all parts of the world; at one time the Khedive of Egypt ordered 10,000 of them. My new variety is bound to eclipse it and the expense of securing the right to grow it is very little less than the earlier wonder cost Mr. Lawson.

"I have also procured a new primrose which will jump into popularity next fall. Its color approximates cerise most nearly. The brilliant color and the simplicity of the flower are sure to make it a favorite."

Questioned about the special excellences of European flower culture, Mr. Galvin continued:

"They are doing well in rose culture, and especially in orchids, and they send immense quantities to parts of the world the markets of which America unwisely ignores, as Buenos Ayres and Venezuela. But Rotchford & Son, the orchid specialists of London, could show me nothing, nor could Patrick of Ghent. The Holland tulips were many and beautiful as ever, but there were no new varieties. The women who exploit floriculture in Paris were making great displays, but showing nothing novel."

There is to be a mission at St. Margaret's church which is being looked forward to by the members with much interest. It will be held the week of June 15.

Mlle. Georgiana L'Etourneau has completed the stocking of her store in Neighbor's hall block, and is now ready to serve those who may call. See her advertisement on page 25.

William H. Gerrish, who is taking his customary vacation from his duties as agent at the Pride's station, his many friends here will regret to learn, is ill with an attack of measles. He is at Kittery, Me.

Alderman Hodgkins has made arrangements to have a "back stop" fence built at the Beverly Farms play grounds, and also to have the grounds improved, so that the boys will find things there a little pleasanter during their ball games.

That measles usually comes but once is a fact that is some what consoling to John Gentlee, the driver of the Prince butcher cart about the Farms, who has just recovered from quite a severe attack. John says once is quite enough for him.

A large and appreciative audience was present at Neighbor's hall last Saturday evening to witness the public demonstrative of the Farms junior class of Miss May D. Connolly, which was carried out as per program printed in last week's BREEZE, together with several extras. All the numbers given were a credit to both teacher and pupils alike, and at the conclusion received merited applause. The vaulting features done by several young ladies was particularly fine and proved very interesting to the audience. A large number from Manchester witnessed the performance.

Mrs. Charles F. Preston of Hale street, entertained the Ladies' Sewing circle Thursday evening.

The street department under Foreman Wm. E. Elliott is doing good work in making repairs on several of the side streets.

The North Shore Fish Co. has had on exhibition at their store this week, a nine pound salmon which was caught off Beverly Farms, a very unusual occurence.

The case of Pierce and Pierce against J. T. Wilson & Son for final settlement of the plumbing contract at the Frick estate is scheduled to come up before a master at Salem, June 3.

Several car loads of trees and shrubs arrived at the local freight yard this week and have been carted to the Spauldings gardens on Greenwood avenue to be used in fufther improving this beautiful spot.

On Thursday afternoon a horse belonging to Al. Potter wandered into the swamp laying between the playground and Connolly Bros.' property, and was not noticed for some time. The attention of a passerby was called to the unusual sight of seeing a horse's head and part of his neck only visible, the rest of him being completely out of sight, sunk in the mud. Some of Connolly Bros.' men were summoned and with ropes, planks and shovels set to work to get the animal out. Once they had the horse out and was leading him towards safety when he got into another soft spot and commenced again to vanish downward, after some quick and hard work the animal was finally landed on terra firma.

It Is Getting to be More and More the Room You Do Your Entertaining In.

The Dining Room

More money is expended in its furnishings today in many instances than in any other room in the house. The thought given to its furniture has made wonderful changes in the line. It has taken the popular "Buffet" out of the realm of impossibles and given us examples that are truly wonderful to see. The great demand for the sociable round top table has brought that within the reach of the most modest purse. And the new furnished dining room that is without the massive box-seat chair is surely lacking in completeness.

BUFFETS

They bear the very idea of smartness. Well designed, made of the finest of stock, finished in the best of manner, convenient and roomy. One before me is all quartered oak, has a full swell front, French legs, claw feet, a good big mirror, a handsome arch to the top and unusually well finished. Four feet long.

For $26.00

'Tis one of the big family of buffets we show, ranging from Massive Mahogany Colonial and Chippendale examples selling as high as $98.00 down to pretty quartered oak pieces as low as $21.00. Wonderfully pretty line, from which lots are now being pleased. You better join them, style and low price go hand and hand in these.

Some little difficulty between the proprietor of the Beverly Farms hotel and the owner of the property over business affairs has this week resulted in practically closing up the house, the boarders, some 25 in number, seeking new quarters.

NORTH SHORE IMPROVEMENTS

CHARLES E. ALEXANDER IN BOSTON TRANSCRIPT

Some changes just made at the residence of T. Jefferson Coolidge, jr., at Coolidge's Point in Manchester, will make that large mansion more complete in its plan. It may be recalled that this imposing house, which is so finely situated on the water front, was erected three or four years ago, and is one of the largest and most expensively built houses anywhere at the North Shore. Built of Harvard brick, in what is termed "Flemish bond" effect, showing black headers, as builders and architects understand this treatment, and with white marble trimmings, the house is a notable example of the Georgian style of architecture, and embodies many ideas which have come down from the time of Inigo Jones (1572-1652), the English architect. It is an example rare in this part of the country.

At one end of this great house, which is about two hundred feet in length, there has been a spacious covered portico, its high vaulted ceiling supported by many large marble columns with carved capitals. The floor also is of marble. This portico, walled in originally with brick on two sides, has now been enclosed to make a sun room. Its ceiling has been latticed and pilasters of lattice work also mark the interior finish.

A new outside chimney provides a big fireplace. This room decorated in light green as a color scheme, is to be used by Mr. Coolidge's children for general recreation purposes and for a lounging-room. The plans for the changes were prepared by Albro & Lindeberg of New York, and were carried out by Roberts & Hoare of Manchester.

H. M. Sears' at Pride's.

Notable among changes on the shore are those which the summer residence of Herbert M. Sears off Hale street, Pride's Crossing, has undergone. English in type, this house, placed high and well back from the public highway, with intervening attractive gardens, has been much enlarged, from plans prepared for Mr. Sears by Wheelwright & Haven of Boston. Two extensive wings have been thrown out from the main portion, one at the easterly and the other at the westerly end of the house.

One wing gives a fine entrance and living hall from which a beautiful Colonial stairway with elaborate balusters leads. From this hall several smaller rooms open and the wing affords new chambers in the second story. In the other new wing there is a dining-room of unusually large dimensions, finished in black cypress. Panelled effectively and having pillars to mark off a recess at the end opposite the entrance from the hall, this dining-room with its massive fireplace and mantel is of most dignified appearance. The drawing-room, library and some chambers have been included in the improvements, and on the exterior the removal of clapboards and substitution of plaster and half-timber, to correspond with the finish of the front gable, in that style, has been among the changes effected. The outside chimneys which have been builit are a feature, so big are they. The whole house, with its new additions, now spreads out over considerable ground. The avenues have been changed and considerable work has been done by Connolly Bros. in grading and in landscape improvements.

The Neal Rantoul Cottage.

Typically English in its look and with landscape surroundings which it fits perfectly, the new house at Beverly Farms just completed for Neal Rantoul, from plans by his brother, William G. Rantoul, is a notable addition to the summer residences in this part of the North Shore. The fine avenue of former years leading straight from Hale street to the house, makes an approach to it that is most attractive. The former old time house was removed, to make a site for the new house. This property, it may be recalled, acquired a year or so ago by Mr. Rantoul, is next to that of his father, Hon. Robert S. Rantoul of Salem. It originally formed a part of the estate of the present owner's grandfather on the maternal side, D. A. Neal.

The new house is constructed of English or "Harvard" brick which takes on an appearance of age. It is of three stories, with gabled roof broken by dormer windows. The front entrance shows a spandrel arched doorway, the trims of stone. English bay windows are a feature which add to the character of the house. These are found in the drawing-room and also the dining-room, both facing the waterfront. These rooms, each with a fireplace, are finished in white and a library is of dark quartered oak, panelled to the ceiling. It has a big fireplace. The main hall is of good size and its staircase is of Georgian type, showing a long graceful curve. The service department on this first floor is well planned and is most complete. It opens upon a large kitchen yard enclosed with a high brick wall. The second floor of the house provides Mr. Rantoul with several master's chambers with tiled bathrooms for each, also rooms intended for guests' use. There are fireplaces in all chambers as there are also in several rooms for guests, placed in the third story. An ornamental iron balcony from the second story overlooks the sea.

An open covered piazza at one end of the house shows trellised pillars and has a brick tiled floor. Terraces have been made on the water side as has a little bathhouse, built of brick. The gardens with little old-fashioned arched trellises at the gateways and the outlook make this place exceptionally attractive. Away from the house and close to the main highway, West street, a stable also has been built, in combination with a garage. The building is of brick and in style corresponds to the type of the house. It has accommodations for three automobiles and for stabling two horses. The second floor has a housekeeping apartment for occupancy by the man employed on the place. The work of building was done by Mack Bros., of Salem.

THE DANDELION.

(Nouveaux Richesse.)

Thou flaunting flower, new-rich and overbold,
Thinks't thou to win my favor with thy gold?
Thou saucy interloper on my lawn,
Unto thy native woods and fields begone,
Thy gold to silver turned,
Thy fire to ashes burned!

J. A. Torry.

At the Hotels.

A new feature of the culinary department at the Oceanside hotel, Magnolia, this summer, instituted by Manager Phenix, will be in having the meats, vegetables, etc., shipped from Boston by boat to Gloucester fresh every day. Heretofore these were shipped from Boston by night freight, which meant, of course, that the goods laid in the cars over night, and were delivered at the hotel very early mornings. By the new arrangement the goods will be bought each morning, shipped to the boat and leave Boston at 2 o'clock daily. Teams will be waiting at the wharf in Gloucester and the goods will be brought over the road direct to the hotel, sometimes in time for dinner that same night. Mr. Phenix has arranged for a special ice compartment on the boat for his own use.

Wm. H. Perry is resuming his position of two years ago with John Keenan, the postoffice block hairdresser, June 1.

In announcing the birth last week of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Chester D. Cook, Pleasant street, the honor was given Mr. Cook's brother, Nelson, through an oversight.

Two young women, in Manchester this summer for the first time, found themselves in a rather precarious situation one day recently while they were at Singing Beach enjoying the pure ozone from the briny deep. They were on the rocks at the southern end of the beach when they suddenly discovered that the rising tide had left them imprisoned on the rock and the water was approaching their vantage point about as fast as they cared to have it. They finally attracted the attention of some men on the Hemenway estate and Otis Bohaker, J. C. Connolly and Mr. Rooney, with the assistance of planks, ropes, etc., and incidentally a little wading, took the two young ladies onto dry land.

John T. Langford died last Friday, May 22, at his home in Newton. Mr. Langford was well known throughout New England as a contractor on water works installations. He installed the Manchester water works, and incidentally was the plaintiff in the long drawn-out suit which has agitated Manchester citizens under the title Langford vs. Town of Manchester,—a suit for $10,000, in which Mr. Langford last year recovered in the sum of $1100. Mr. Langford represented the Town of Newton in the General Court for several years.

Letters remaining unclaimed at Manchester, Mass., P. O., for week ending May 23: Mrs T P Beal, Carnil Cote, Miss M E English, Mrs Morris Gray, Mrs J J Harrigan, Western Kurl, Manchester Tanning Co., J B Mackay, H E Penney, John Pronslay, Mrs Vincent Ravi, Mrs Franklin E Russell, F K Smith, Charles H Tyler, Mrs George Merrill, Mrs Annie D. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Winchester and son Marshall left Manchester, Sunday, Mr. Winchester on a business trip to the northern towns and cities, and Mrs. Winchester and son to spend the week at Norway, Me., with the former's mother. Mr. Winchester also planned to be there over the holiday.

In response to the many calls made for a repetition of the Female Minstrels given in the Town hall last week the show will be repeated in the Town hall next Thursday evening, June 4. There will be new jokes, a new stump speech, and other new features. Dancing will follow the show. Tickets for the show will be 35 and 25 cents, and admission to the dance will be 25 cents for all.

The new auto for use of the Manchester police department arrived this week and is a beauty. It is of the 2-wheel variety, commonly designated "bicycle," of strong and staunch construction intended for use by such heavyweights as the chief's upward of 300 pounds. "Emblem" is its make, and it was furnished for the department through the agency of George Woodbury. There are many occasions, especially at night, where the services of a bicycle will come in handy, as Sergeant Andrews, Chief Peabody, or other members of the department are often called to distant parts of the town on emergency or special cases.

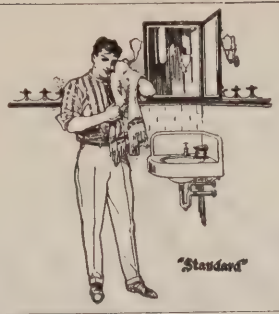

Bell's Combination store will be open late this evening and from 7 to 9 Memorial Day morning. *

Daniel Sheehan arrived home from New York last Sunday for the summer, and is at Sheldon's Market as one of the corps of order clerks.

Has Right Under the Law.

That he has the right to transport liquor into Salem without any permit from the local authorities is the claim of Harry K. Mansfield, proprietor of Ferncroft Inn at Middleton, to whom wholesale, retail and inn-holder's licenses were granted by the selectmen of Middleton for one year beginning May 1.

He has consulted eminent legal authorities, and that he fully believes that he can bring liquor into Salem, Danvers, Beverly or any other place legally is best evidenced by the fact that he is already doing so. The special point at issue in this case is that Mr. Mansfield is not a common carrier. He is engaged in a legitimate business, and has the right to make all the sales of liquor he wants to in Middleton. So long as he makes no charge for transportation, he does not come under the head of the clause in the law which forbids the transportation of liquor into a no-license community for hire or reward.

Under the law, Mr. Mansfield claims that so long as the sale takes place in Middleton, and he does not receive any reward or compensation for delivering, he has the right to deliver all the liquor he wants to in any no-license community. Further than that, even an order received over the telephone from a customer with whom he has an account may be legally filled and delivered, as it is held that the actual sale even in that case takes place at his end of the line.—Salem Sunday News.

THE man who edits the average weekly newspaper cannot well avoid treading on somebody's toes continually; must expect to be censured often for unintentional failures; must expect hard work and little thanks; must expect to be called a coward because he does not "pitch into" everything that somebody thinks is wrong, and a fool if he speaks out too plainly on public evils; he must expect to grind other people's axes—and turn the grindstone himself. Still we think the profession a noble one; and while we try to do what is right we do not pretend to be infallible. We try to have broad enough mind to respect the man who centures us and not feel we must go out of business when someone threatens to discontinue the paper or take out their advertisement for some wrong they think has been done them.

AND now comes an invention which it is said will scatter the thickest fog. Surely this will prove of great value to all who follow the sea and the only hope is that the invention will do all the inventor claims for it. Here is the story as it comes from Washington.

A constituent of Senator Perkins of California has written a letter to the navy department asking that permission be granted for him to erect on Goat island in San Francisco Bay a newly invented apparatus for dispelling fogs. No matter how thick and dangerous the fog may be, by his new fog dispeller Senator Perkins' constituent claims that he can drive it away and make life easy for the navigators of vessels.

His apparatus takes up only about fifty feet of space and requires for its operation the services of four men. It will dispel a fog, he says, for a radius of six miles from the apparatus. It drives away the fog by a muffled blast without a jar. The Department has been taking the matter under advisement.

Senator, we think you could make many friends if you could advise your friend to bring his fog dispeller down here on the North Shore! We have plenty of money down here waiting to be spent if we can find anything under creation to put that siren whistle out of the way.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING NOT HELD.

Because one Member of the Board Had not Signed the Warrant it was Thought Best to Dissolve the Meeting. New Meeting Called for next Wednesday.

The special town meeting called for last Monday evening to take action relative to additional water supply for Manchester dissolved without taking any action whatsoever other than the reading of the warrant, the motion to dissolve being made by Chairman Edward S. Knight of the board of selectmen, and seconded by R. C. Allen of the committee on additional water supply.

The fact that only two members of the board had signed the warrant was the cause of the meeting being dissolved. The other member of the board George Lockhart Allen, had refused to sign the warrant for reasons (or lack of reasons) best known to himself.

It was set forth in a statement made to the meeting by Chairman Knight, which is printed on this page, that the members of the board were notified that the warrant would be ready to sign Monday afternoon, that Mr. Knight waited at the selectmen's office for Mr. Allen until four o'clock, and then about five o'clock the warrant was turned over to the constable to make copies of same and post before seven o'clock, that Mr. Allen refused to go to the constable's to sign the warrant about six o'clock, and the warrant was consequently posted with only two signatures.

While it was the general opinion that the meeting could be held and that its action would be legal without the third signature, inasmuch as so much money was involved it was thought best to leave no possible loop-hole for any future trouble, and thus the meeting was dissolved.

Mr. Allen's action greatly incensed the voters, many of whom attended the meeting, as this matter of additional water supply has been before the voters now for some time. The special committee had worked zealously in having bills pass through the legislature, and finally, last Monday, they were able to place before the selectmen the articles to appear in the warrant.

The chairman of the board, as by custom immemorial, prepared the warrant, and had it ready to receive the consideration of the other two members of the board, and their signatures before turning it over to the constable for copying and posting. The new member of the board, however, cared not for the two or three hundred years of precedent before him, and wanted the thing done differently.

Mr. Knight's statement follows:

"MANCHESTER, Mass.,
May 25, 1908.

"Owing to the fact that the warrant calling this meeting has but two signatures of the Selectmen and that one Selectman, at a special meeting held last Tuesday evening, stated that he should protest the legality of this meeting, I feel it a duty which I owe to myself to make a personal explanation in regard to the issuing of this warrant.

"The public statutes not defining the duties of Selectmen I followed the custom of the officials of this town from time immemorial and as a matter of courtesy and at the urgent request of the committee on additional water supply, I performed the clerical work of preparing this warrant, inserting the articles as prepared by the committee. Before doing this work I attempted to see both of my colleagues, but found only one, and after consulting with him I told him I would have it ready at noon, and he replied that whenever I had it ready he would come to the office.

"Regarding the other member I told him personally at 12 o'clock noon in the presence of the chairman of the Board of Assessors and the Auditor, that I would have it ready for him at 2 o'clock. He replied that he would come to the office. While I did not use the exact words to him of calling a special meeting of the Selectmen my intent was the same, and the warrant as prepared by me was ready at that time for their consideration. I waited in the office for him until nearly 4 o'clock, and he, not appearing, I went to the other member and gave him the warrant for his consideration, after which he signed the same and delivered it about an hour later to the constable.

"After this I made several attempts to reach the other member of the board by telephone but did not succeed until 5.50 o'clock, when he refused to go to the constable to sign the same. The constable having it and being obliged to make two written copies and post them before 7 o'clock I felt I had done all that was possible for me to do and that I had been perfectly fair and courteous to my colleagues. If there was any haste on my part it was caused by the request of your committee on additional water supply to have the meeting called on that day, in order to protect the best interests of the Town of Manchester."

Mr. Knight read an opinion from Council W. O. Underwood, for the committee, in which Mr. Underwood gave as his judgement that, while the meeting was perfectly legal with only two signatures, it might be better to call another meeting, so that there could be no question as to its legality in case a doubt was raised later.

"Personally I have a very strong opinion on this matter, but as an official of the town I am willing to drop my own feelings on this question and do what is wisest and for the best interests of the town, and in order to bring this question before the meeting I would move you, Mr. Clerk, that this meeting be dissolved."

In seconding Mr. Knight's motion R. C. Allen said he had acted by the vote of the committee on additional water supply, as secretary of the committee, and had requested the selectmen to call the meeting. He did not consider it necessary to get a request from ten voters. He had presented the petition, and the voters had heard the statement of the chairman of the board of selectmen.

"This matter has been before the town for several years," said Mr. Allen, continuing, "and it is thoroughly understood that the town is ready to act. As soon as we were ready we called for a meeting; your committee acted as quickly as possible.

"Materials are now lower than they have been for years: pipes are now $25 where they were formerly $32 we (use 1000 tons); and the bond market is in better condition.

"I talked with Mr. Allen shortly after I was informed that he had not signed the warrant and he assured me he should protest the action of the town in case any action was taken here tonight. I felt it my duty to consult council in the matter.

"It seems to me this is not a question of legality. This meeting was called in the same way meetings have been called since the days of the Proprietors, nearly 300 years ago; and that is a pretty good precedent. But this does effect the bond issue. There is a doubt,—a danger it might have an effect in depreciating premiums."

O. T. Roberts. "I don't know whether Mr. Allen is here or not. If he has not been used courteously we should have some statement from him. It is due the town that he make some statement, if he is here."

Mr. Allen. "Mr. Clerk, I am here; I am happy to be present, but I have no statement I care to make."

The question to dissolve was put and carried.

Will Hold Meeting Next Wednesday Evening.

A meeting of the committee on additional water supply was held in the office of the Water Board immediately after the meeting was dissolved Monday evening and it was decided to petition for another meeting. The selectmen met Wednesday morning, after 24 hours' notice, had been given its members by Chairman Knight, at which time the board voted to call a meeting for Wednesday evening, June 3, at 8 o'clock. The warrant has been posted and contains the names of all members of the board.

Died as Result of Accident in Manchester.

Patrick Markham, a laborer in the employ of D. Linehan & Son of Pride's Crossing, died at the Beverly hospital early Tuesday evening, the result of injuries received when he fell from the cart which he was driving in Manchester that afternoon.

Markham was at work hauling loam from the cars and in some manner the horses he was driving became frightened. They ran on the gallop up Beach street toward the Masconomo. When near the Masconomo stables Markham fell from the seat and in falling he was either kicked in the head by one of the horses, was struck by the wheel, or hit a stone in the road. At any event when picked up it was found he was seriously injured and that he had received a fracture of the skull. The ambulance was called and the injured man was taken to the Beverly hospital, but not until the last rites of the church had been administered by Rev. Fr. Powers.

Little is known of the man, as he is practically a stranger at the Farms. The team he was driving belonged to J. J. Nugent.

MANCHESTER

D. M. Knight, the expressman, is out with a new team this week.

Miss Alice G. Knight is spending a week at Smith college, a guest of Miss Annie Lane.

The initiatory degree was worked at the meeting of Magnolia lodge, I. O. O. F., Thursday afternoon.

Chester Nye and sister, Miss Laila Campbell Nye of Somerville, and two friends, Miss Edith Loring and Harry Hall are guests over the holiday of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Campbell, School street.

The selectmen at their meeting Thursday night awarded the contract for painting the pier at Tuck's Point to Edward Crowell, whose bid was $85. The only other bidder was C. D. Temple, whose figure was $149.

Cards have been sent out the past week for the wedding and marriage reception on Wednesday, June 10, of Miss Amy Boyden Haskell and Clifford Barrows Goodwin, at the home of Miss Sarah T. Brown, School street. The reception will be from 8 to 9.

Memorial Day will be observed in Manchester today as outlined in last week's paper, with exercises in the afternoon in the Town hall, followed by the decorating of the graves at all the cemeteries, and a short band concert on the Common. In the evening patriotic exercises will be held in the Town hall.

WHISPERINGS

One of our local business men, Lewis Killam, claims the honor of catching the largest cunner ever taken off the Manchester shore. One day recently Mr. Killam was out fishing for the day and caught a cunner 18 inches long, and weighing 2½ pounds. This is a fish story of the true variety. The editor saw the fish and can vouch for the above figures.

* * * *

Some out of town workmen who come to Manchester daily have been a source of annoyance to some people who live not far from the postoffice by the manner in which one or two at least have left old working clothes and other articles in this man's yard, rather than finding a better place to throw them away. One morning recently our good neighbor saw one of these men leave some old wearing apparel around the corner and he watched for the fellow next time he happened along and made known the fact that he had caught him, with the result that the fellow reluctantly picked up his "cast-aways" and carried them elsewhere to dispose of them.

North Shore ladies or gentlemen desiring first class tailoring done without going to the city should know that there is a place in Beverly where such work can be done. Already many North Shore ladies have availed themselves of the opportunity of having work done at D. H. Mampre's establishment, on the second floor of the Endicott building, on Cabot street, near the bank.

"PATRIOTISM: THE OLD AND THE NEW."

Subject of Memorial Sermon at Manchester Last Sunday. Union Service at Congregational Church.

(BY REV. L. H. RUGE)

Text: "Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any nation."—Prov. 14:34.

"For Zion's sake will I not hold my peace and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, until the righteousness thereof go forth, as brightness, and the salvation thereof as a lamp that burneth."—Isaiah 62:1.

Mr. Ruge delivered a prelude to his sermon to the Allen Post and their kindred organizations by saying in part:

It is said that "all the world loves a lover." It is equally true that all the world loves a hero.

The Grand Army of the Republic has now been honored and applauded for over forty years. Its deeds of daring have been retold in dramas, stories and poetic stanzas innumerable. Its generals have been toasted around the world. Wherever that little bronze button is seen the wearer is honored for his courage and selfsacrifice. Your courage was equalled by your loyalty and your selfsacrifice was limited only by the length of the conflict.

In all the history of war there is no finer record than the record of the Army of the Patomac. It was insensible to hunger and fatigue, insensible to abuse, insensible to suffering, danger and death. With but few words of encouragement from the nation it was struggling to preserve, it struck blow on blow upon an apparently inflexible foe, until it finally forever settled the question of the integrity of the Union in the surrender at Appomattox.

For this, every loyal American of our country is glad to again laud your bravery and repeat your deeds of valor, but what more can I say than has already been said a thousand times in the annual day of your crowning? And there are few that can add anything to the mute eloquence of the historic record now known the world over as one of the greatest of all military achievements.

Let me say to you in all sincerity that my love for the old flag and for the Grand Army of the Republic is second to none. But I am the preacher of righteousness and I want to tell you a few things that are true and vital to you and the nation.

The breath of popular applause and eulogy that has fanned your faces since the war is far more dangerous than was the hot breath of the cannon's mouth. All the songs and speeches and sermons of Memorial Day are set to the idea of an eternal crowning as an equivalent for having bled and died to defend the Union. But martial valor is no religion. The gods of war have no power to grant immortal fame and life. Even now the names that were once on the lips of men only a few generations ago are heard no more. Already your day declines and each coming year now the more rapidly thins out your ranks and soon the Grand Army of the Republic will have passed into the eternal silences. A new veteran corps has come to receive praise and applause and the incense once offered to you burns on new altars.

There is only one way to immortal fame and glory and it is the way of righteousness. "The righteous shine forth as the sun in the Kingdom of their Father," says Jesus. And the Nation and Kingdom that is unrighteous shall perish, says the Word.

Listen to the words of the greatest sage and the greatest prophet of the Bible.

Mr. Ruge then repeated the texts of his sermon and continued:

These were not bursts of philosophy and prophecy but bursts of patriotism, for the patriotism that is founded on a mere sentimental reverence for the nation's territory, its wealth, its institutions and its flag is only a half patriotism. It must be founded in righteousness to be a true patriotism.

This was what made the patriotism of the Union army so true, because although it was political it was also righteous. It was for the cause of state and humanity, for country and God. Indeed the church and christianity built the fires of that union zeal, and slavery would still afflict civilization if it was not for the church of Jesus Christ.

The peril of our times is the result of a waning faith and righteousness in the nation and this our patriot prophet leader, President Roosevelt, realizes; and when you read his utterances you read inspired writing like of old. There can be no ultimate victory or integrity of the nation unless it is founded on right and righteous men.

You thought it was enough to simply save the ship of state, but since then a piratical crew has come on board and they have run up the black flag where you left Old Glory waving. Was it worth while to save the Union only to be pillaged and plundered by the few? Was it worth while to strike the chains from the slave only to lay shackles upon the free born?

The old patriotism is admiration for population, territory, commerce, scientific miracles and industrial wonders, great cities and state buildings, material resources, brute strength,—yes, brute conquest and plunder. A glorification of might rather than right.

What is it makes the Grand Army of the Republic so noble and renowned? Is it because your swords flashed so valiently in the sun? Is it because multitudes fell before your terrible fire? Is it because you soaked the soil of the southern states in human blood? God forbid! It is because you believed in the righteousness of your cause and fought from the highest sense of a holy duty.

The old patriotism says, ironclads and gunboats exalteth a nation, territory exalteth a nation, diplomatic prestige exalteth a nation, commercial supremacy exalteth a nation, wealth and resources and material display to compel the world's attention exalteth a nation, but God's word says "righteousness exalteth a nation." This is the shibboleth, the war cry of the new patriotism, righteousness!

For centuries a few in every nation have been inspired by this patriotism and have suffered and died to establish a higher social and political ideal. The new patriotism is beginning to burn in more breasts than ever before in the world's history, and its influence and power grows. The old flag shall yet lead the hosts of the new patriotism, its sacred folds cleansed in the vicarious blood of the noble men and women who have fought for this, who never marched to the beat of the drum.

And women are leading in this conflict inspired by the new patriotism. They outnumber the men seven to one. They are fighting for nation, for home, for humanity in the ranks of the church. For forty years you men have thought you were saving the country over there in the Town hall and all the time the country was going to the devil. But women, a handful with a few faithful men, were saving the country in the work of the church, and if the integrity and glory of the nation is ever established and endures it will be through the church and through nothing else.

But where were you men? I am not preaching to the Allen Post now, but to all the men here this morning. Where were you men on Sunday morning when women were fighting for righteousness?

Several have come to me during the past week asking: "Well, are you all ready for Sunday? Have you got it all fixed up nice? There will be men to church next Sunday morning who go to church only once a year, men who never heard you preach." I want to say in all sincerity, I don't care whether you ever hear me preach, but I do care that you should "come up to the help of the Lord against the mighty" and ally yourselves to the cause of righteousness.

Do you men think you can send your old grey haired mothers, your devoted wives, and your daughters out against the black flag of hell and then at last go into eternal glory under the folds of her mighty triumph? I tell you, no! Wake up, men! If you don't there will be seven women crowned in Heaven to one man!

I have read of wars to the death in which the flower of the nation perished first. Then the professional class, the artists and students continued to fight and they too perished. Then the old men and the boys jumped into the bloody breech only to share the same fate. At last the women tore the weapons from the stiffening fingers of the men and fought the final battles. And there is a moral conflict going on today in valient and boasted America, for the moral integrity of the nation in which women must bear the brunt of the battle not because the men are slain but because the men are the stragglers in the rear. And as she in her weakness, with white face and praying lips towards heaven, stands bravely before the entrenched evils and corruptions of every community we sometimes mock her pathetic struggle; and God alone knows how deep is the thrust she carries in the white shield of her sacred breast.

Men, buckle on the armor of righteousness for God and nation! Some of the "Grand Army of the Republic" are enlisted in the Grander Army of Righteousness and they were never so honorable or heroic as they are now.

We are not afraid. Victories are being won for God and humanity, but the real fighting has only just begun. You fought bravely to preserve your country; fight as bravely to preserve its manhood. It has long been thought that a nation's hope was in her men of martial strength, but we are beginning to find out that a nation's hope is her men of moral strength. We have thought her destiny was with those whose feet keep time to the beat of the drum, but we are beginning to find out that a nation's destiny is with those whose hearts keep time to the beat of the heart of the Eternal.

Our last conflict struck this note of the New Patriotism again, louder, grander than before for the Old Flag this time had but one name "Humanity."

Henceforth let us rally only in defense of the weak, the fallen in body and soul, whether to fling the folds of the flag over a suffering sister nation or people or to rally in defense of character debased and manhood defaced.

The wreath that you lay on the graves of the soldiers of the Spanish-American war on Memorial Day is a floral link in the growing chain that shall at last unite the righteous throughout the earth, the Lord's hosts terrible in battle. It is a link made up of fragile flowers twined in the love of a united people, north and south, east and west, for they fought as one man and they were baptised with the spirit of the new patriotism and inspired by the wrath of righteousness. A child's fingers could tear the fragile link apart, but something, God knows, is twined in with the flowers, so true, so strong, so divine, that no power on earth or in hell can pull it apart. And when this new patriotism for right and righteousness at last shall burn in the hearts of all Americans it will be like the bleak fields of winter waking up until our national life shall be as full of divine benediction as the fields this morning.

Memorial Sunday at Manchester.

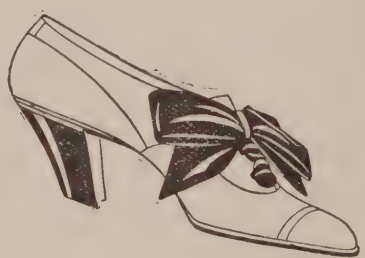

Union memorial services were held at the Congregational church, Manchester, last Sunday morning. Members of Post 67, G. A. R., were present, marching from their headquarters under escort of Col. H. P. Woodbury camp, 149, S. of V. Allen Relief Corps also attended in a body.

The sermon was by Rev. L. H. Ruge, pastor, whose subject was "Patriotism: The Old and the New." His sermon will be found on another page. Rev. E. Hersey Brewster assisted at the services. The church was tastily decorated for the occasion with flowers, and the American flag was draped over the pulpit.

Public Landing at Magnolia.

The committee on harbors and public lands, to whom was referred the petition of Joseph Sargent, jr., and others for legislation for authority to construct and maintain a wharf or pier at the public landing at Magnolia, have reported the bill, of which the following is an extract of the principal portions: "Said Magnolia Wharf Corporation shall have the right to construct and maintain on the public landing in that part of Gloucester known as Magnolia, a wharf or pier, not more than eight feet wide, and extending from above high-water mark to a point not exceeding sixty feet below and outside of mean low water mark, and may maintain a floating landing stage at the end thereof. The center line of said wharf or pier shall be a line drawn in a westerly direction in extension of the present division line between land of W. R. Nelson and land of H. F. MacDonald.

"Said corporation shall, subject to the provisions of this act, construct said wharf or pier in such manner as the harbor and land commissioners shall approve.

"Said corporation may establish such rules and regulations for the use of said wharf or pier as shall not interfere with the use of the public for pleasure and as the harbor and land commissioners shall from time to time approve. The public shall be entitled to use said wharf or pier without charge, for the purpose of landing from or going to boats used for pleasure; provided that said corporation may exclude from said wharf or pier, and forbid the use thereof, by any person or persons refusing to comply with the rules and regulations established as herein provided, when requested to do so; and provided, that no boat exceeding 30 feet in extreme length shall land at said wharf or pier.

"All rights hereunder shall cease at the expiration of ten years from the passage thereof.

"This act shall take effect upon its passage, but shall be void unless the said wharf is constructed within two years after the passage of this act."

Isaac J. Chaulk.

The death in Manchester, Wednesday of Isaac J. Chaulk was a very sad affair. The young man was only 22 years of age, and he had been ill with measles only a little over a week. Pneumonia was the cause of death.

Mr. Chaulk is a native of Newfoundland, but he came here some months ago and was living with his brother, Adam Chaulk, at the Richard Lethbridge house on Allen's court. He was a quiet appearing young man, honest and faithful, and worked at the greenhouses of Selectmen E. S. Knight. He leaves a wife, two brothers and two sisters, besides a father and mother, all of Bunyan's Cove, Nfld., except Adam Chaulk, who lives here.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock, Saturday morning, at his brother's home and the body will be sent to his native home for burial, accompanied by Albert Martin, a brother-in-law, who works in Manchester.

Paid Fine of $50.

Chief Peabody of Manchester had Erick Schmelz, chauffeur for Tyler Morse of Beverly Cove, in court at Salem last Friday, charged with recklessly driving an automobile in Manchester on Saturday night, May 16. Schmelz pleaded nolo contendere, and the minimum fine of $50 was imposed and paid by Mr. Morse.

This was the case in which it was stated at the time that Schmelz took without permission Mrs. Morse's car and went off to Gloucester with three of his friends. The party were on their way home about 10.30, when just over the line from Magnolia, near the old Blynman hotel they run into one of A. J. Rowe's wagons, returning to Magnolia from the 10.20 train, and in which there were seven persons. The auto was going at a fair rate of speed, and crashed into the lighter vehicle, throwing the passengers out and more or less injuring them all. The horse was struck, breaking the poor creature's forward legs, so that he had to be killed. The auto was also badly smashed.

Mr. Morse stated in court that previous to this accident the chauffeur had always been a careful driver and had been in his employ two years. The loss of the horse had been settled and everything possible had been done for the injured passengers.

Attorney Sullivan represented the government and the plea of nolo contendere was satisfactory to him.

BEVERLY FARMS

Mr. and Mrs. James E. McDonnell are to spend Memorial Day and Sunday at Clinton, Mr. McDonnell's former home.

The Hamilton Driving club will open its racing season on Memorial Day at the Myopia speedway and will have some interesting events. Among the trotters that will be out for the ribbons will be "Earl of Chatham," a black stallion owned by Dr. J. J. Riordan of the Farms.

A little later in the season the Farms will probably have the privilege of witnessing the minstrel show given by members of the Manchester W. R. C. who are considering the presentation of it in Neighbor's hall. Recently it was given in Manchester Town hall to a crowded house and as a result of many requests they are again to present it there next week, June 4.

S. F. Currier, the popular baggage master at the local station, passed through a very successful operation Tuesday, the exceedingly warm weather probably having a great deal to do in bringing about the occurrence. Frank has been proudly sporting a luxurious growth of "spinach," which, no doubt, with the thermometer at 90 degrees must have been a little too warm for him to carry around any longer; hence the "operation."

"Bonney," the pet bull dog belonging to Duncan T. Smith while out one day recently with Mrs. Smith had a rather tough experience which he probably does not care to repeat. While on Hart street they made a call on an aged lady, but no sooner had they entered the door when various kinds of noises filled the air, which soon could be recognized as those of the feline family mingled with cries of pain from Bonney, who had three cats light on him the moment he was inside the door, and seven or eight more in various parts of the room waited their turn. A broom and other implements of war were finally instrumental in driving off the cats,—no small job at that, as there were no windows which could readily be opened; besides the cats would much prefer to stay. Bonney, however, battle scarred and panting, was finally rescued, and he probably will never go there again.

Real Estate

And Improvements

An important transfer of real estate was that of recent date whereby Charles E. Hubbard transferred to J. Sumner Draper of Milton his property situated on Grove street, Beverly Farms, consisting of about 3½ acres of land, two fine frame houses used as summer residences, together with two stables, and other buildings, and all the furnishings. Mr. Draper buys for investment. In the deal Mr. Hubbard acquires property on Bay State Road, Boston.

M. E. Gorman is advertising for sale four house lots, 70x200 feet, on Tenney avenue, near the greenhouses of Magnuson & Hylen. The lots are about the most choice sites for building purposes on the market in Manchester at the present time.

W. B. Walker has purchased a track of woodland, adjoining his estate at West Manchester, from the Richardson heirs, comprising 3½ acres. The sale was made by M. E. Gorman.

Secretary.

Notice

For the convenience of any person having business with the School Committee or Supt. of Schools, Mr. Charles E. Fish, the Superintendent, will be at the office of the School Committee, in the Town Hall Building, Thursday afternoon of each week, from 3.30 to 4.30 o'clock.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

No Express Train for Gloucester.

Gloucester will not get a special express train service this season, as the petition of the Boston & Maine for a temporary suspension of the order relative to an express train between Gloucester and Boston has been granted by the Board of Railroad Commissioners.

It is unlikely that any addition will be made to the service on this branch this year, though there will be a few slight changes in the running time of a few trains, especially the second train from Boston mornings. If any addition is made it will be in putting on the special Saturday afternoon train leaving Boston about 1 o'clock.

Detective Agency.

Readers will be glad to know of a thoroughly responsible and reliable detective agency. This is a special line of business that requires competent men and women who are experts, as exact facts are what people want. The Ray Detective agency of 100 Boylston street, Boston, is credited with having been very successful, ever since they entered business years ago. They are prepared to do any legitimate detective work and are government licensed and bonded for the faithful discharge of their duties. All their correspondence is strictly confidential and should be addressed, James Ray, 100 Boylston street, Boston, or P. O. Box 766, Boston.

Food Exhibit and Liberal Arts Exposition will be the Biggest Yet.

The Boston Retail Grocers' Association, which gives its seventh original Boston Food Fair next fall, running five weeks, from Sept. 28 to Oct. 31, has just had on its hands the National Convention of grocers from all parts of the country, and the general verdict of visiting members was that never had so successful and altogether thoroughly enjoyable a national convention been held. But the busy men down at the Grocers' Exchange on Broad street, Boston, which is both the headquarters of the Boston Retail Grocers' Association and the Executive offices of their Food Fair, have not allowed the ponderous details of this convention to interfere with the progress of their elaborate preparations for the great fall event.

Friday's Transcript.

Memorial Day happening next Saturday, the large week-end issue of the Boston Evening Transcript will appear on Friday, May 29th. The feature of the day will be the article on the Norfolk County Colony, describing the growth of this youthful rival of the North Shore summering places. It will be a strong paper for advertisers, particularly in real estate.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I beg to announce to the residents of the North Shore that I have purchased from Walker Bros. & Co. the provision business conducted by them at Beverly Farms for the past twenty years, including their good will and trade. Having had twenty-five years experience on the North Shore, eight years as manager of Wyatt's Market, I thoroughly understand the selection of choice meats, fruits, vegetables, etc., carried by first-class markets. The business will be conducted under the name of Brewer's Market, which will be opened on or about April 20, 1908. I solicit your patronage.

WALTER P. BREWER.

Beverly Farms, Mass., Feb. 10, 1908.

We, the undersigned, certify that we have sold the good will and trade of our North Shore business to Walter P. Brewer.

Memorial Sunday at Beverly Farms.

Memorial Sunday at Beverly Farms was recognized in much the same manner as usual. Services were held at the Second Baptist church in the morning, with sermon by the pastor, Rev. Clarence Strong Pond.

As announced in last issue, Post 188, G. A. R., under the escort of the local companies of the fire department, and the W. R. C. marched to the church. The church was tastily decorated for the occasion and the American flag was draped over the altar. The choir sang a patriotic anthem under the leadership of I. Erwin Davis. Miss Holmes was at the organ.

The roll call of departed soldiers and sailors, former members of the post, constituted a solemn feature of the services. This was followed by the army call "Taps."

The sermon by the pastor was interesting. The text was: "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

After referring to the appropriateness of calling the roll the pastor said in part:

"While we remember in honor the soldier of war let us not forget the soldiers of peace. Within a daisy chain's reach are the two monuments. The one for our soldiers and sailors and the other, silent granite shaft to the good minister of Jesus Christ, 'Father' Reding. As you place the laurel wreath upon the one let some kind hand lay, if it be but a palm branch upon the other. We live and love the dear old past. Customs bind. He preached freedom and you fought for freedom.

"It will be the task of your speaker to deliver the Memorial address on Saturday. It is my pleasure and privilege to break the bread of life. (Know the truth and the truth shall make you free.) These words are from the best of the four Gospels, John's. John loved contrasts. He might be called a dualist. He delighted in balancing ideas. He called this world darkness, Jesus the light. Jesus was the Life in contrast to death. Here the contrasts are truth and ignorance and bondage and the truth will give life and freedom. Bondage is due to ignorance. Ignorance if removed by truth brings freedom."

Mr. Pond then spoke of the two aspects of truth in human experience—first, its acquirement through bitter experience; second, the execution in life of the acquired knowledge of the truth. The theme was presented under four topics:

First, liberty or freedom wrought by truth in religion. Freedom to worship. Second, liberty or freedom wrought by truth in political relations. Freedom to vote. Third, freedom to work. Fourth, liberty or freedom wrought by the truth in the individual life. Freedom to be in life.

The Colonial Stock Co. of Boston are to present an entertainment in Neighbor's hall, on Wednesday evening, June 10, under the personal direction of H. Fa Relle. "Coddles Troubles," and "Cape Mail" are the titles of the two sketches, and the affair will be given in aid of St. Margaret's church.

Burchstead and Day of Farms engine house and Standley and Plummer of hose Four, Centerville, were entered for the hose laying contest at Danvers Friday night.

The Beverly Farms Athletic club dance and social is scheduled to take place in Neighbor's hall, Friday evening, June 12.

Miss Winifred Hinds of Roxbury who has been for the past few weeks a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stanwood, on Oak street, has returned to her home.

Mrs. George H. Bennett entertained the Sarah W. Whitman club Wednesday afternoon. Next week's meeting will be with Mrs. Mary Bennett, Hale street.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bartlett of Amesbury have taken rooms for the summer at the residence of Mrs. Mary Bennett, Hale street. Mr. Bartlett is engineer at R. C. Hooper's.

It is reported that Mrs. Elizabeth B. Dow, who has spent the past few weeks visiting at Winter Hill, Somerville, has purchased a house there and may hereafter make that place her permanent home.

Commencing the first of this week the watering carts under the management of Lawrence J. Watson were put on regularly, and are doing duty on the main thoroughfares. The Calcium Cloride process preparation is being used.

The latest to absorb the "hen fever" is James E. McDonnell, who has recently had built on a lot off Greenwood avenue quite a henery. He already has it stocked with a large number of hens and chickens of the Plymouth Rock variety. Mr. McDonnell is also interested in ducks, having 4 or 5 at the Mill Pond brook, and this week they hatched out a brood of little ones.

Advices from Victorville, Cal., announce the safe arrival there of John L. Woodbury, who, though having a hard time getting accustomed to his new surroundings, is quite contented in his new field of labor, and wanted to start in at once to try the saddle. John Trowt writes home that this is the season when most of the horses are in pasture, but nevertheless it will be only a short time before his friend will get all the riding he wants.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence B. Terry who have spent the past week at the Farms visiting friends returned to their home at Laconia, N. H., Thursday.

Wilbur J. Peirce and Howard E. Morgan, have opened their camp, "Home-crest." at Briar Neck, Gloucester, for the summer, where they expect to spend their spare moments.

The Beverly Farms' house, on Vine street, after being closed for about a week reopened the middle of this week under the management of Edward McGann of Boston, the owner of the property. The house has about 25 boarders.

The school committee has reappointed the following teachers for the Farms school—Principal, Winnie M. Williams; Honora F O'Brien, Rebekah L. Bruorton, Ethel S. Swett, Bertha L. Carpenter, Elsie L. Preston, Adelaide L. Day.

About thirty-five or forty children received the sacrament of confirmation Tuesday morning at St. Margaret's church. The officiating prelate was the Right Rev. Bishop Brady, auxiliary Bishop of Boston. This is the first time that this sacrament was conferred at the Farms.

Preparations are being made for the Beverly Hospital bazaar to be held in City hall next Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The Beverly Farms table will be in charge of Mrs. Charles H. Trowt, Mrs. F. I. Lamasney and Miss May D. Connolly, who invite all who so desire to aid. Contributions of any sort will be gratefully received.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Murray on Haskell street is reported to be quite ill.

Edward H. Robinson and family of South Framingham moved to the Farms Tuesday. Mr. Robinson has a position here for the summer.

A number of Farms ladies witnessed the final gymnastic exhibition of the Sargent school at the Hemenway Gymnasium, Cambridge, Friday evening.

Victor Borden and family came down from Boston this week and are comfortably settled at the Robert J. Brown cottage on Hart street. Mr. Borden is chauffeur for Philip Dexter.

Mrs. John H. Watson and Miss Jane Watson who have spent the past six months at Roxbury will open their cottage on Everett street, next week, and will accommodate, a few persons who may desire board for the summer.

A large delegation of Preston Relief Corps, 93, on Wednesday, attended the exemplification of the order which was worked at Newburyport. The Farms representatives added to their pleasure of the day by a trolley trip to and from Beverly.

Decoration Day will be observed at the Farms in the usual manner, especially in the afternoon when the general public will join in with the Post, W. R. Corps, Associates, school children, and firemen in commemorating the duties and objects of the day. In the evening there will, no doubt, be a large audience to listen to Comrade Nead of Norwood, who will deliver the Memorial address at the Baptist church.

It is with sincere regret, not only among the parishioners of St. Margaret's church, but the whole community, to learn that Rev. Dennis J. Maguire ends his duties in the parish today. Fr. Maguire has not been in the best of health for some time and it is thought that a stay inland, away from the coast would be beneficial, hence his transfer to Canton, Mass., in the parish under the charge of Rev. Fr. Farrell, where he commences his duties at once.

The Farms gymnastic class will present a three act play entitled "Brass Buttons, or the Merry Widow" at Neighbor's hall, Wednesday evening, June 24. The cast is composed of Farms young ladies who have had the piece under rehearsal for some time. The play will be followed by dancing until 1 o'clock for which the U. S. Machinery Co. Orchestra has been engaged. The net proceeds will be used by the class to purchase apparatus for use in the gymnasium, when the members meet next fall to continue their work. The tickets are 35 cents.

It Is Getting to be More and More the Room You Do Your Entertaining In.

The Dining Room

More money is expended in its furnishings today in many instances than in any other room in the house. The thought given to its furniture has made wonderful changes in the line. It has taken the popular "Buffet" out of the realm of impossibles and given us examples that are truly wonderful to see. The great demand for the sociable round top table has brought that within the reach of the most modest purse. And the new furnished dining room that is without the massive box-seat chair is surely lacking in completeness.

BUFFETS

They bear the very idea of smartness. Well designed, made of the finest of stock, finished in the best of manner, convenient and roomy. One before me is all quartered oak, has a full swell front, French legs, claw feet, a good big mirror, a handsome arch to the top and unusually well finished. Four feet long.

ADDITIONAL WATER SUPPLY FOR MANCHESTER

$160,000 to be Raised by Bond Issue for this Purpose. High Pressure Service to be Installed. Resolutions Adopted by Informal Vote against use of Masconomo Property as Sanitarium.

The question of additional water supply for Manchester, and a higher water pressure, has at last been settled, for it was voted at a special town meeting Wednesday evening to raise by bond issue $160,000 for this purpose. The Gravel Pond plan will be carried out. A new standpipe will be erected on Moses Hill in the western section of the town with a capacity of a million gallons.

The details of the meeting, and the motions passed are printed below. There was no objection offered and the business of the meeting was carried out promptly and with very little discussion.

As an additional feature of the meeting, but with no legal bearing, however, was the resolution presented by W. C. Rust, and adopted unanimously, as a matter of obtaining the public sentiment, in objection to the move being made to turn the Masconomo Hotel property into a sanitarium.

In case this scheme is carried forward, it is evident from the expression of the citizens Wednesday evening, that it will be met with bitter resentment by the town and summer colonists.

The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock by Town Clerk Jewett and after the reading of the warrant Raymond C. Allen was elected moderator on motion of W. C. Rust. William W. Hoare, Walter R. Bell and M. E. Gorman were appointed tellers.

Art. 2. R. C. Allen reported for the committee that they had secured the passage of an act granting the use of Round Pond to the Town of Manchester as an additional source of water supply reinforcing the grant already made for the use of Gravel Pond, also that the act also allows the town to issue bonds to the amount of $200,000 for additional water supply.

The appropriation committee presented "majority" and "minority" reports. The "majority" report follow:

"We recommend the expenditure of a sum of money not exceeding $160,000 for the purpose of carrying out the provisions contained in Art. No. 3 of the warrant." This was signed by George W. Blaisdell, John Baker, Chester L. Crafts, Francis P. Ayers and Duncan T. Beaton.

The "minority" report was as follows: "Should the town accept and adopt the provisions of articles 2 and 3 of the warrant, we recommend the expenditure of a sum of money not exceeding $160,000 for the purpose of carrying out the provisions contained in these articles." This was signed by F. K. Hooper, A. C. Needham, F. J. Merrill and B. S. Bullock.

F. K. Hooper moved the substitution of the minority report for that of the majority. He said in explanation that this matter of additional water supply came before the committee on appropriation, a part of which committee is also part of the committee on water supply. He was of the opinion that a majority of the appropriation committee went outside their duty in recommending the appropriation. As for himself he did not care to commit himself and he preferred the town to act on the matter first. The majority of the committee had considered the merits of the question as well as the ability or the disability of the town to carry the thing through. He considered it his duty to say whether the town can or cannot do this financially at the present time. The minority say if you do decide to do this thing the town is in a position to do it financially.

D. T. Beaton said it was purely up to the town to decide whether to do this

MEMORIAL DAY.

Passed off Very Successfully in Manchester.

Memorial Day passed off in Manchester last Saturday in accordance with the program previously announced, and but for the dull weather and shower of the late afternoon and evening the day's observance would not have been marred in the least.

Shortly before two o'clock in the afternoon the members of Post 67, and a few visiting comrades, marched to the Town hall under escort of Col. H. P. Woodbury camp, 149, S. of V., where the following program was carried out:

Selection by the Band.
Quartet, Onward to Victory, Geibel
Prayer, Rev. L. H. Ruge.
Response, Heavenly Father, Graciously Hear Us, Beethoven
Reading of the General Orders,
ADJUTANT RIVERS.
Lincoln's Address at Gettysburg,
SAMUEL KNIGHT.
Quartet, Golden Bell.
Address by Rev. H. W. Stebbins.
Quartet, Kentucky Home,
Arranged by Dr. Clark

Following the exercises, a line was formed and Post and Camp marched to the various cemeteries, decorating the graves of 84 departed comrades. Services were held at the vacant lot in Rosedale cemetery. The closing part of these exercises was at the Town Wharf, where impressive services were held by the W. R. C. and the school children, flowers being strewn on the waters in memory of those heroes who gave their lives on the sea in the war.

The Manchester ball team added another victory to their list on Memorial Day morning by again defeating the Ipswich team at the playgrounds. R. Crocker pitched a good game for the local team shutting out the Ipswich boys after the first inning when they scored their only run. He struck out eight men and didn't give one man a base on balls. Riley did excellent work in the box for Ipswich, but had poor support. He fanned out seven men and gave five base on balls. The game was called in the 8th inning, because of rain, when the score was 11 to 1 in favor of the Manchester team. The line-up:

Manchester—Bell cf, Standley 2b, Walen 3b, Rust c, Crocker p, McAdams (Jones) rf, Gray ss, Robbins lf, Walsh (Betts) 1b.

Ipswich— Herlihey ss, E. Duprey 2b, White c, Danders lf, Grady 3b, Schofield 1b, Tilton rf, L. Duprey cf, Riley p.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mead and Edward Mead of Wellesley Farms spent Memorial Day in town with Mrs. Mead's mother, Mrs. Anna Woodbury.

Another tailoring concern has opened up for business in Manchester the past week, the new firm being Johnson & Bergqvist. They are located in the store owned by A. S. Dow, recently occupied by the Chinese laundry.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Rumrill, who have been detained at Calgary, Alberta, Can., on their way to British Columbia, owing to Mr. Rumrill's illness, planned to start on the return trip to Manchester today, if Mr. Rumrill is able to start at that time.

The Manchester Electric Co. has recently improved its service by doubling its voltage tension from 3300 to 6600 volts, over its whole system, or in other words, has doubled the amount of "juice" pressure. An all-day service is now given throughout the system.

Mrs. Thos. E. Boise returned to her home in Middlebury, Vt., Monday, after a very pleasant visit among her friends here, during which she was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Crowell, Lincoln st. Her brother, Gideon Norton, of Brockton, was in town over the holiday.

Miss Edna Kitfield is the first of the Manchester young ladies to be numbered among the graduates this year. She was one of the large class of young ladies to receive a diploma yesterday from Miss Wheelock's Kindergarten Training school at Boston, after a two years' course. Dr. Van Allen, the well known Boston clergyman, delivered the lecture on this occasion. Miss Kitfield's mother, Mrs. George A. Kitfield, attended the exercises. Commencement continues through today, Sunday and Monday.

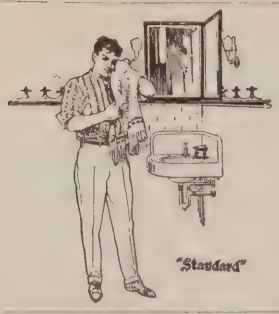

Next Friday afternoon and evening there will be held at the Price School hall a Horace K. Turner art exhibit for the benefit of the schools. There will be tables for the sale of manual training work by the boys, such as brass, copper, leather and wood articles, while the girls will have tables of useful sewing articles and homemade candies. The funds are to be used for the purchase of art pictures for the school rooms. The regular exhibition of school work will not be held this year. Tickets for the exhibit will be 15 cents for adults and 10 cents for pupils. The afternoon session will be 3 to 5, and evening 7 to 9.

Bryce Hayden of Haverhill spent the holiday and Sunday in town a guest of Samuel Knight.

Miss Marion Putnam and brother spent the holiday and Sunday with their grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Meldrum, School st.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Lee had with them over the holiday Mrs. Lee's brother, Benjamin Stone of Boston, and her cousin, Mrs. R. T. Jarauld and Donald Weeks of Somerville. The latter two have been spending the week here.

Enoch Crombie, caretaker at Mrs. Eliot Sumner's estate on Smith's Point, started Monday morning with Mrs. Sumner's pet driving horse and dog, for Baltimore and arrived there Thursday. Mr. Crombie will improve the opportunity during his trip to Baltimore to visit Washington, Richmond and Petersburg, and some of the battlefields where he spent many days of service. He will also spend a few days at Ruxton, Md., where Mrs. Sumner is now located at her country place.

MYOPIA HOUNDS DESTROYED

Outbreak of Rabies in the Kennels Necessitated Blotting Out of Whole Pack.

Because of an outbreak of rabies in the kennels of the Myopia Hunt club at Hamilton last week it was deemed necessary to destroy the whole pack of foxhounds, and Thursday week fifty-two hounds and twenty-six puppies were shot. The cause of the outbreak is unknown, and how the first hound became infected with the disease cannot be determined.

Such a calamity is rare, although all kennels here and abroad are often swept with violent outbreaks of distemper and less dangerous diseases. Once in a great while, however, the great English hunts are visited with the disease, and it is always met promptly by the destruction of the whole pack.

Recently two or three of the New York hounds became sick and the symptoms alarmed the kennel men. When one of the animals died the body was sent to Dr. Langdon Frothingham, instructor in bacteriology at the Harvard medical school, and he pronounced it a case of rabies. At a meeting of the executive committee it was decided, upon advice of the club's veterinarian, Dr. J. J. Riordan of Beverly Farms, to have the whole pack destroyed. This was done and steps have been taken to have a complete disinfection of the kennels.

The Myopia pack was originally imported from England and came of famous stock. For years the runs of Myopia hunt club on the trail of the anise seed or perchance the real fox have been famous and the hounds have lead the hunters over hill and dale all over Essex county. George S. Mandell of the Beverly Cove summer colony is the M. F. H. of the Myopia club and plans will be made at once to import another pack so that the plans for fall hunting will not be disarranged.

" Rabies and its Increasing Prevalence "

Subject of Article by George H. Hart.

A pamphlet issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture on "Rabies and its Increasing Prevalence" is so full of interest that we venture to quote from it. The article is by George H. Hart, V. M. D., and on page 8, under "Popular Fallacies Concerning the Disease" he says:

"In the category of infectious diseases rabies stands at the head of those about which the ideas of the general public are most at variance with the actual facts. It is commonly believed that a person bitten by a dog in perfect health is liable to become affected with hydrophobia should the dog develop rabies at any subsequent period, however long afterwards. Consequently believers in this theory are particularly anxious to have the dog killed at once before he has had an opportunity to go mad. Nothing could be more fallacious and at variance with our knowledge of all infectious diseases, and the killing of the dog should always be discouraged.

"Until recently it was considered that the dog's saliva became virulent only three days before the appearance of symptoms of rabies. According to some recent experiments by Nicolas it has been found that the saliva may become virulent six or even eight days before the symptons develop. Therefore in case the animal remains healthy for ten days after it has bitten the person or animal, no danger need be apprehended from that bite even though the dog develop rabies within the next few weeks.

"On page 15 under "Proper Disposal of Dogs after Biting Persons," he says:

"In many cases in which a person is bitten by a dog there is immediately a great popular clamor to have the animal at once destroyed. This should always be discouraged. The mere fact that a dog inflicts a bite on a human being does not by any means prove that he has rabies. This is the dog's only means of defense and he bites instinctively when harmed. When the dog has been killed at once and sent to the laboratory, an examination is made for the microscopic evidence of rabies, which often is not found, as in many such cases the dog is not affected with rabies. In order to be on the absolutely safe side, however, the laboratory is then required to inoculate rabbits with the brain tissue. The incubation in rabbits requires at least two weeks, during all of which time the person bitten is kept in suspense. On the other hand, if the animal were left to live it could be examined by a competent veterinarian for evidence of rabies, and if it remained normal for ten days the bite would be harmless.

"Therefore, after a person has been bitten, do not kill the dog unless a competent veterinarian has pronounced the disease rabies or the dog is showing well-marked symptoms. Instead, when practicable, the animal should be tied up securely and watched carefully for a week or ten days. In case suspicious symptons do develop the dog should be examined by a veterinarian familiar with the disease, and if he pronounces the case rabies the animal may then be killed and the laboratory will be able to find the pathognomic microscopic evidences. At the end of ten days the dog may be killed, if so desired, but if the animal is valuable and shows no symptoms of rabies there is no reason for destroying it. In this way valuable dogs can often be saved to their owners."

What Dr. Hart has to say concerning the Symptoms of Rabies in the Dog is too long to quote, but in a "Summary of Symptoms" on page 14, he says:

"The important symptoms, any one of which when well marked should render the dog suspicious and lead to its being confined, are: (1) Change in disposition; (2) alteration of voice; (3) inability to swallow; (4) leaving home and returning in an exhausted and emaciated condition; (5) paralysis of the jaw; (6) swallowing abnormal substances, as wood, stones, etc."

Society Notes.

Manchester is to be honored this summer by the presence of another embassy,—the British Embassy having hired the cottage on the Hemenway estate, Smith's Point, commonly known as the Stone house. The headquarters of the embassy will not be transferred here for a week or ten days yet. Ambassador and Mrs. Bryce will spend the summer in England.

The Eliot Hubbards arrived at their Magnolia cottage Monday for the season.

A. L. Devens and family will occupy the Daniels cottage at Beverly Farms again this summer.

Mrs. J. Theodore Heard has closed her 20 Louisburg Square, Boston, residence, and is at her Magnolia cottage for the season.

Mrs. John C. Howe of Boston will occupy the L. L. Hopkins cottage at West Manchester this season, and will move down next week, probably.

Mrs. S. Fisher Corlies of Philadelphia was planning to arrive at Magnolia today for the season, where she will occupy apartments with her daughter in the Flume cottage, one of the cottages connected with the Oceanside.

Major George F. Gratwicke of Exeter, England, together with his wife and daughter are the guests of A. Shuman at "Hetmere," Mr. Shuman's summer home at Beverly Cove. Major Gratwicke is here in connection with the 270th field day of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston, at which he was the guest of honor. On Friday of last week, Mr. Shuman gave a delightful informal luncheon at the Boston Athletic association to the owners and managers of the press in Boston, for the purpose of meeting Major Gratwicke, who is a journalist of no little renown, and the president of the British International association of journalists.

In Yachting Circles.

Three 15-footers were shipped from Manchester last Friday by White, assigned to Hon. Wallace T. Foote, jr., president of the Wetherbee-Sherman Iron Ore Co., at Fort Henry, N. Y. Last week also White shipped an 18-footer to John A. McKee at East Boston, and Joshua Crane's 21-footer, Aminta IV. Mr. Crane sailed the yacht from Manchester himself and made the remarkable trip around the cape to Buzzards Bay, from mooring to mooring, in 24 hours, 30 minutes.

White has under construction at the present time two fifteen footers for William B. Rogers of Boston, who will have them shipped by rail to Fort Henry.

Society Notes

The Henry C. Frick summer home at Pride's Crossing was opened the past week for the season.

H. S. Grew, 2d, and family will move down to their house at West Manchester next Monday.

Mrs. Russell Tyson and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lincoln, are among the arrivals of the past few days at Manchester.

North Shore residents will be interested to learn that the Cliff club at Marblehead has opened for the season under the management of A. L. Rowell, formerly of the North Shore Grill, Magnolia, and the Hotel Lenox, Boston. Mr. Rowell will give this club his personal attention, which insures his former patrons and friends a cordial reception and careful consideration for their comfort and entertainment.

The first polo match of the season at the Myopia Hunt club was played on Memorial Day when two scrub teams, the Reds and the Blues, representing members of the Myopia team, lined up. The Reds: Adelbert Ames, Dudley Rogers, Quincy Shaw, Max Norman and R. G. Fitz. Blues: Childs C. Frick, J. H. Proctor, Roger Rumsey, J. A. L. Blake and F. von Stade. The Blues won, 8 to 3.

Mrs. Samuel T. Morse opened her cottage at Beverly Farms a few days ago.

Mrs. H. C. Weston has opened her cottage at Beverly Farms the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Sears, jr., and Miss Eleanora Sears, R. S. Rantoul, Col. R. H. Stevenson and Mrs. Littleton are among the week's arrivals at Beverly Farms.

The D. Herbert Hostetters of Pittsburg, have opened their summer place on Grover street, North Beverly, for the season. The Hostetters purchased the Webster estate known as Wyvernwood two years ago.

The second marriage in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Bigelow of Manchester and Boston, within a month, was solemnized Monday, June 1, when their second son, David Nevins Bigelow, was wedded to Miss Florence Rawn, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Rawn. The Rawns, it will be remembered, had the Monks cottage at Manchester Cove last season. The wedding was at the Rawns' home in Chicago. Prescott Bigelow, jr., was best man. There were no bridesmaids nor ushers. The young people will go abroad for a honeymoon trip of two months, but they will probably spend a week or two with Mr. Bigelow's parents at Manchester before sailing. Their home will be in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wood have opened their cottage near Singing Beach, Manchester, this week.

Mrs. J. B. Silsbee has closed her 115 Marlboro street, Boston, residence and is at Pride's Crossing for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Smith of Germantown, Pa., have opened their cottage at Magnolia the past week.

Dr. Percy Musgrave of Boston, who had the Hoyle cottage at Magnolia last season, is to arrive at Magnolia today for the season.

Ambassador Nabuco of Brazil and Mme. Nabuco have taken a cottage at Hamilton for the season and will arrive there within a fortnight.

The Hon. A. Shuman, has just presented to the Boston City Hospital, of which institution he serves as president of the board of trustees, a handsome Steinway piano for use in the Vose House. This memorial gift is an affectionate tribute to the memory of his departed wife and bears the inscription: "Presented to the Boston City Hospital by A. SHUMAN in memory of his wife HETTIE LAND SHUMAN. May Thirty-First, 1908."

Mr. and Mrs. Clement Studebaker, jr., of South Bend, Ind., who have spent the past two seasons on the North Shore, probably will not be here this year. They are now preparing to build a new residence in their western home and Monday in company with Mr. Green, of the architectural firm Green & Weeks of Buffalo, Mr. and Mrs. Studebaker took an auto trip along the North Shore from Beverly to Magnolia, looking at some of the better class of residences, especially those along the Manchester shore, preparatory to having plans made for their new house.

Among the subscribing box-holders of Boston's prospective new opera house are many prominent North Shore residents, including: Herbert M. Sears, Mrs. F. Gordon Dexter, Charles Hayden, Bryce J. Allan, Robert G. Shaw, Francis Peabody, jr., R. D. Evans, Mrs. Andrew Wheelwright, Henry D. Burnham, Lester Leland, Winthrop Sargent, William C. Endicott, Miss Fanny P. Mason, Mrs. Samuel Cabot, L. Cartaret Fenno, Frederick Ayer, Charles F. Ayer, William H. Wood, Eben D. Jordan.

Miss McNamara announces that she is at Manchester-by-the-Sea for the season, and that she has removed from the cottage at 39 School street to Friend's court (off School street.) Treatment of the scalp, shampooing, marcel waving, manicure. Telephone 164 Manchester. *

Society Notes

Mrs. James T. Fields has opened her cottage at Thunderbolt Hill, Manchester.

Miss Caroline King and the R. T. Paines are among the week's arrivals at Pride's.

It has been given out that John Hays Hammond, one of Gloucester's summer residents, has been mentioned as Republican candidate for vice-president.

Abraham C. Ratshesky, who summers at "The Birches," in Beverly, was named this week one of the members of the Chelsea board of control, by Acting-Governor Eben S. Draper. Mr. Ratshesky, considering the fact that he cannot devote his entire time to the work, will not accept the $3000 salary, accompanying the office.

Gambolling about on the beautifully laid out corridor garden and lawns surrounding the North Shore Grill at Magnolia, where later in the season the fashionable gowns of the society ladies are wont to trail, were two beautiful little doe one morning this week. Running hither and thither and playing in the early morning air, they added the only touch needed to make one imagine, that they were in the secluded park of some villa in Southern Italy.

Col. William D. Sohier, of the Beverly Cove summer colony has been appointed by Acting-Governor Draper, as a member of the Massachusetts Highway commission, to fill the vacancy made by the appointment of Commissioner Harold Parker to the chairmanship. Col. Sohier has, for years, been an ardent advocate of good roads, and has built many miles of private roads in Beverly and elsewhere.

Wm. A. Tucker returned this morning from spending the week in New York. North Shore folk are pleased to see Miss Marion Tucker is so far improved in health that she is able to be out driving her phaeton again this summer. Mrs. Tucker has had as guest the past week Mrs. Newall of Brookline.

The Tea House and North Shore Grill, which opens on June 20, will have no suites this season as sleeping apartments, as nearly all have been rented as business studios. Walter Kimball & Co., the well known art dealers, of 31 Beacon street, Boston, will have two large rooms on the left leading out of the office. Mr. Kimball is in Europe at the present time, but will open on July 1 with a rare assortment of art goods, antique and modern. Miss A. M. Swift of West 33rd street, New York, will have a fine exhibit of interior decorations and furnishings, including lamp shades, and a large assortment of fancy articles, mirrors, etc. Miss Swift has furnished several of the large houses on the North Shore. On the second floor will be found Mrs. M. J. MacHale, Berkeley Bldg., Boston, who will have facilities for doing facial massage, vibratory electrical shampooing, manicuring and marcel wave. Mrs. MacHale is establishing herself in Magnolia at the earnest solicitation of her Boston and New York clientele. Her rooms will be open for business July 1. Frank Bros. of New York, the Fifth avenue shoe dealers are expected in July. On the third floor Mrs. H. M. Horne a portrait painter of Boston, who has already made herself well known by her charming, as well as serious work. She is especially clever in her flesh coloring of children and will have on exhibition portraits of some famous people in New York and Boston which she has finished the past winter.

North Shore Grill.

The original Magnolia Tea House and North Shore Grill, Lexington avenue, Magnolia, opens for the season on Saturday, June 20, prepared to increase its service of last season, many new features having been added. The same chefs who have won a reputation for the kitchen the past two years will bring a third as assistant from the Plaza Hotel, New York.

Miss Helen Norton, daughter of the late Senator Norton of Albany, a graduate of Miss Farmington's school, Connecticut, and also of the Bureau of Domestic Science, New York, will manage the ladies' luncheons, afternoon teas and pastry department. She will be assisted by Elizabeth Pingree, recently in charge of the Salem High school luncheons.

The Grill luncheons and dinners will be in charge of Eugene Du Charme, for many years head waiter at Parker's and later at the Somerset, Boston. The name of Eugene has long been known to patrons of these hostelries, delighting the guests with his unfailing courtesy and thorough knowledge of good service.

A feature of the Grill this season will be an arrangement entirely for the convenience of its patrons and guests, whereby liquors can be stored and cared for, and may be served with luncheons and dinners when desired, but no liquors will be sold on the premises.

Elsewhere will be found a list of the business studios established in the Grill this season.

Society Notes

As announced in this paper three weeks ago the German embassy will be located at Beverly Farms again this season, the Owl cottage, owned by O. H. Luke, being hired for A. Kinne and other secretaries of the legation. Count Hadzfeldt, who is acting as charge d'affaires in the absence of Baron von Sternburg, is expected soon and will occupy one of the Arthur Little cottages, off Hale street, which is usually occupied by the George Warrens.

Mrs. Franklin Haven arrived at her summer residence in Beverly Farms Tuesday.

Julian Codman has closed his Marlboro street residence in Boston, and has opened his cottage at Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Brooks of Fairfield street, Boston, are new-comers to Manchester this season. They are occupying one of the Dodge cottages, corner Beach and Masconomo streets, Manchester. Mr. Brooks is a cotton broker and is at the present time on his second trip this year to the cotton fields of Texas. Mrs. Brooks' mother, Mrs. E. R. Oakley, is with her for an extended visit.

The Magnolia Tea House.

The Magnolia Tea House, on Norman avenue, Magnolia, after being entirely renovated, will be opened for the season, Monday, June 15. The tea house was formerly known as the Dolphin. Mrs. Ella A. Rolfe, the new proprietress, is indeed capable of making her establishment a popular resort as she is well known as the head of the School of Domestic Science, Brookline. She has arranged for many attractive little dishes, among which will be a number of southern specialties.

Dinner will be served from 1 to 2.30 daily, and a very pleasing menu will be offered. (Special arrangements have been made for dinner on the 17th of June.) From four to six, tea will be served after the English fashion, together with ices and cold drinks. On Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays a musical program will be rendered.

Mrs. Rolfe plans to make a specialty of catering to automobile parties, private afternoon teas, and whist and bridge parties.

One of the most attractive features of the house is the beautiful open piazza with its numerous electric lights. Very pretty little tea rooms have also been fitted up and present a comfortable and cosey appearance. On the second floor are several delightfully appointed and airy chambers. Taken altogether the Tea House presents a charming picture of rural simplicity.

Society Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison K. Caner and family are among the recent arrivals at Manchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Grew and Mrs. Henry Pickering are among the arrivals of the past few days at Manchester.

W. D. Denegre was one of the judges at the Chestnut Hill horse show on Memorial Day. Mr. Denegre has just added another handsome car to his string of autos, his new purchase being a Packard "thirty."

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, who have been spending a few days with their children at Pride's Crossing, left Thursday, and sailed yesterday for London where they go in time to attend the horse show on the 15th. They will then return to America.

"Eaglehead," the Mrs. James McMillan estate at Manchester, is being opened, though Mrs. McMillan will not come on from Detroit for a week or ten days. Mrs. McMillan is with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. William C. McMillan, at Grosse Point, the latter's country place just outside Detroit, for a short visit.

Among recent arrivals at Beverly Cove are the Norman F. Greeleys, who are at their estate, Elmtop, on Ober st.; Miss Elizabeth Sohier, Burgess Pt.; Mrs. John B. Silsbee, Prince st.; Charles H. Tyler, Neptune st.; Miss Belle D. Hunt, Burgess Pt., and George R. Wales, at Bullrush Farm.

There were 108 starters in the open tournament on the links at Myopia on Memorial Day, but the weather was bad, raining part of the day, and only 42 cards were turned in. John G. Anderson, Albermarle, and T. M. Claflin, Weston, tied for the gold medal, each doing the 36 holes in 169. In class B, handicap, R. E. Sproule, Wollaston, won, netting 83 for the 18 holes.

Druggists' Convention.

The Druggists' Convention which has convened at Magnolia the past two seasons, and which had marked the opening of the New Magnolia hotel, will be held at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, this year. Chas. H. Mowry, who was largely responsible for bringing the druggists to Magnolia, is assistant manager of the Ocean House this season and this accounts for the convention being held at Swampscott. The dates are Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 23, 24 and 25.

MEMORIAL Day note—The Siren whistle celebrated by keeping up unabated tootings throughout the day.

"THE BREEZE is one of the many meritorious weekly papers around Boston and its success allays to a degree the ofttimes heard prediction that the 'Country Weekly is doomed,'" is the comment made by Editor Temperly in the Newton Town Crier in reference to the BREEZE entering upon its fifth year two weeks ago.

SOMEONE has requested Tree Warden Young to cut off one of the large branches from the beautiful large chestnut tree on Union street in front of the Manchester Public Library. While we do not understand that this has yet assumed the form of a petition we do hope if it ever does there will be protest against any such action, as the chestnut tree in question is one of the handsomest trees on the Manchester highways today. Many people have been heard to comment on its beauty.

"FOR the Betterment of Natick" is the motto of the newly organized Commercial club in Natick. The club's list of committees is a long one, and with persistent and harmonious endeavor much ought to be accomplished for Natick's commercial life.

Of course the suggestion is trady, but not too late, what's the matter with the Newton merchants, from all the dozen or more villages getting together and having a commercial club, board of trade, or some similar organization? Neighboring towns—much smaller in population and varied activities—have such bodies, why is Newton behind?

Wouldn't a little less complaint about "business being dull," "people won't trade at home," "get trusted here and pay cash elsewhere," etc., and more talk about keeping and developing home trade on the part of local merchants be more conducive to commercial progress in Newton?

It's up to the Newton business houses to get together.—Newton Town Crier.

And we might add: Its up to Manchester business men to "get together," and organize a board of trade, or some similar organization.

JUNE DAYS.

Now the country's spread all over
With the sunshine, and the breeze
Plays among the big red clover
With the clumsy bumblebees;
Songsters hide in leafy covers
From the brightness of the noon,
Then, like serenading lovers,
Sing their lovesongs unto June.
—June Farm Journal.

For the Beautiful June Bride

How we have been studying to please her, started in way back last January picking up pretty things for her and it has been just the best sort of a season to have our own way. Manufacturers were not busy, all of them ready to make "special" things for us and as for tiny prices—well, you know what pleasant surprises we always have in store for you; this season we really have more than ever, goods are considerably prettier and prices much more tiny. Of course even though YOU aren't a bride, now that these pretty things are all here we won't ask any impertinent questions and YOU may have whatever you see just the same as though you were.

Chamber Fittings

There are neat little Solid Oak Dressers made up with the French bevel mirror, stamped with that peculiar tone of TITUS, that sell for as low as $7.50.

We have remarkably pretty Dressers in mahogany, maple and toona that would grace any home in your town that are made all over with goodness. For as low as only $19.00.

Then beauties we have at $25.00.

Then there's a new wood that's being kindly considered.

'Tis Circassian Walnut

The graining in it is remarkably pretty, its color is soft and 'tis finished in wax. We predict for it a wonderful success. There are Dressers in this wood from $34.50.

Yes, then we've others that cost up to $90.00.

Dining Room Fixings

Buffets

How swell they are! How practical as well! Just as much room in them as the sideboards contain, and built way down low where you can readily dust them. Especial great care given over to designing them, for truly 'tis in outline that they get all their beauty. Made perfectly plain, of beautiful wood, in the most careful manner, so as to please the most exacting. Pretty one, with full swell front, shapely spoon foot, neat arrangement of drawers, a good big mirror, and wonderful marked wood, some one's lasting pleasure. For $22.00.

You should just come right in and see this great long one, made in Queen Anne style, without even a curve, finished in dull finish with staid old brass handles

And, Oh For the Parlor

What pretty things those thoughtful designers out at Grand Rapids have made for this room. The room above all others that's just gotten up for style, the room that you have to welcome Miss Busybody in when you know that she has come just to "see."

My! What a satisfaction when you know to a certainty that you opened her eyes when you ushered her in. One great big floor of this mammoth store just bubbling over with pretty parlor pieces. Selected with taste that's been educated by experience. Three well conducted stores to select this line for.

A Pure Colonial Suit of Solid Mahogany, with the arms quite as high as the Princess Dressers

That have certainly made a great hit. Combining beautifully the uses of dressing table and cheval glass and adding beauty to both of these pieces. All woods from $15.00.

Brass Beds

Don't they make your mouth water? Why, see one in a room and you think the whole house elaborately furnished. Not very expensive. We have them in here that we are glad to call ours, just as good as the best, at only $15.00. With dozens of pretty patterns as high as $50.00. Baked on Enamel Beds from as low, would you believe it, as only $2.00.

Join the happy throng, the great big number, the people of taste that we are supplying this season.

MAGNOLIA

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoyle are at their studio for the season.

Miss Bradford has opened her Studio of Arts and Crafts at Magnolia for the season.

Miss Clara Butler spent the holiday in Townsend the guest of her grandfather, S. B. Allen.

Misses Lottie Hannon and Alice Bushee were the guests of Miss Maud E. Butler the first of the week.

The last of the series of talks by the pastor at the Village church will be pertaining to the church. "The Church and Modern Life," by Washington Gladden, is the basis. Dr. Gladden has written this book in the firm belief that the Christian church has its great work still before it. Something of what it needs to do to make ready for this great future "the grand old man" of the Congregational church tries to show.

Work was started this week on a laundry for Mrs. Annie M. Ryan of Jamaica Plains, on the corner of Magnolia and Butler avenues.

The young women who come to Magnolia in summer are cordially invited to visit the Women's club on Lobster Lane. A reading room will be found, supplied with all kinds of reading matter. Comfortable corners for writing, with club stationery supplied free to members. An entertainment room with free use of piano; a sewing room with a machine for use of members; a library.

During the summer there will be entertainments, whist parties, illustrated lectures and socials in the evening and classes in sewing, embroidery, crocheting, knitting and basketry on different afternoons. The dues for the season are 75 cents. Come and join!

The services in the summer chapel will begin Sunday, June 21. This service will be in charge of Rev. F. J. Libby, being union service with the Village church.

The transit car running between Magnolia Point and Gloucester was put on this week.

Mr. Chapman began his work as night policeman the first of the month, for the summer months.

Lyman Butler has accepted a position with the American Express Co.

Bartlett Smith is in town this week.

Walter Donahue who was employed last summer at D. M. Casey's blacksmith shop has accepted a position for the season with D. M. Stearns.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest V. Howe are the guests of Mrs. Howe's parents Mr. and Mrs. John L. Abbott.

Mrs. Willard Boyd and daughter Mary spent the holiday at Lynn.

MANCHESTER

Everett Allen left last Friday for Watertown, northern New York state, where he has a position with the New York Air Brake Co.

Miss Beatrice Long left yesterday morning to spend a few days at Exeter, N. H., with her mother, who is reported greatly improved in health.

Sixteen school mates and friends of Miss Effie Stidstone gave her a surprise party at her home on Pine street, Thursday evening. The young people had a delightful time, playing games, singing, etc. Refreshments were served.

Tree Warden Young and Peter Sheehan have formed a partnership to do gypsy and browntail moth work of any kind,---burlaping, spraying, burning, etc. They already have a number of contracts in hand and they are prepared to do any work along this line that may come their way.

The W. R. C. repeated their minstrel show in the Town hall Thursday evening before a good-sized audience,---the hall being about two-thirds full, and the same success which crowned the original performance also attended this. The show was different in many respects, however, the jokes being new and much of the acting being new. All who attended were highly pleased with the performance, the little children coming in for a generous share of applause for their cake walk. Following the show dancing was enjoyed.

French clocks repaired. Loomis. *

Conomo tribe of Red Men had a "pow-wow" at their hunting grounds Wednesday evening, on which occasion the Chiefs' degree was worked on five candidates besides one candidate from the tribe in Beverly. The hall was crowded by members of the tribe and practically the whole of the Beverly tribe were down, besides visitors from Lynn and Swampscott. The degree team, of which H. S. Tappan is chief, did particularly fine work. Following the work many "short talks" were enjoyed, and a bounteous collation of corn and venison was served. The Beverly visitors returned by barge. The local tribe is making big plans for their picnic at Tuck's Point on the 17th. Red Men from all around will be present.

"The Wonder of the Age."

When the Boston Retail Grocers' Association decided to give their seventh Boston Food Fair and Liberal Arts Exposition in the Park Square Coliseum from Sept. 28 to Oct. 31, they laid down one very important principle which would cover all their operations in the most general sort of way. That was to have the very best of everything. And now the management announces that after protracted negotiations and at an expense which would stagger a world's fair management they have secured a sensational attraction as one of their big amusement features, which the most captious critic must acknowledge to be the "wonder of the age." The management will disclose the nature of this attraction in due time. It is sufficient now to know that it will make its first appearance in New England at the Boston Food Fair next fall at the Park Square Coliseum.

MEMORIAL DAY

Roundy's band of Boston, A. B. Roundy, leader, furnished the music for the day.

The address in the afternoon was by Rev. Herbert W. Stebbins, of Boston, and following are a few excerpts from his speech:

"You have been told in the General Orders read by your adjutant that this is the 40th year in which the G. A. R. has celebrated this day. This order came not as an order from the War Department, or from the state, or from the President of U. S. Indeed, while this is a state holiday it is not an national holiday, for we have still the people of the Southland, in which they celebrate their own Memorial Day.

"You are not called to commemorate the death orservices of the leaders of that great army; you are called to commemorate the memories of this great army who offered their lives to the nation. Out on yon hillside, in yon valley are the graves of dead comrades. Stay not in your halls, but find the mounds; skip not one in the remotest corner where the body of a patriot lies. Not a patriot who gave his life on the southern field only, but the patriot who died at home, or in the prison pen.

"When one by one the patriots shall be laid aside one more grave shall be added until those living shall be numbered with those now dead. It is the service of the great grand people commemorative of the great grand patriots of the U. S. There is no service like this the wide world over.

"What makes this service unique is because the army was unique. This patriotic army of 1861-65 had the smallest percentage of men trained of any army we ever had. The men of 1776 and 1812 had been trained to war and through war; but the men of 1861-65 had the smallest number of trained men. It was also unique in that it had the smallest percentage of want and vice. Illiteracy was represented in this army the smallest of any army we have ever had. The volunteer was called into service and he was trained with service. In England, Germany, Russia, and other foreign countries social rank governs position in the army. But here it was the people's army and the best man could rise to the highest position."

The speaker alluded to the unique patriotism and the unique cause for patriotism, and he went on to say what there was in the country to make the patriot love his country, such as freedom of soil, freedom of home, free public schools, town meetings, freedom in religion, freedom of suffrage,—a grouping of liberties which was unique in all the history of the world.

He pointed out how this patriotism was readily changed over into patriotic activity. He spoke, too, of the respect for authority and obedience to authority in that day, and lamented the fact that these characteristics of the old home are fast disappearing.

"Your schools were taught by women in summer and by men in winter. You obeyed in winter if you didn't in summer. Constantly you have been cutting the man out of the home, and out of the schools and as a result today the boys are not being trained to respect authority as you were in the days of '61, either in the home or in the school."

He spoke of the lyceums and the great good accomplished through them in training boys in debate and in gaining knowledge of affairs of the day. The speaker laid emphasis on the "school of labor" of that day.

"You had a distinctly high conception of manual labor. You were trained to work hard; hard work that was honorable, and when the word came to fight for your country you were well trained to work. There was nothing but patriotic sentiment in your heart.

"You are war patriots. We are not training now in view of a war. But aren't we going to train patriotism any more? The patriotic sentiment—love of country—rests entirely on the knowledge of things of value in your country. If you are not intelligently patriotic they can't count on you for much.

"How are we going to train patriotic sentiment today and thus carry on the work you did for us? We must educate the sixteen millions of people who have come to us in the last 40 years from foreign countries. They have come here. They do not understand us. To a very large percentage of the sixteen millions, coming to the U. S. means coming to a place where they can earn more money than they can get at home.

"What we need is to train these men who come here. There is a great work for you sons of veterans. Let us gather them in tents and in halls, let views be shown them describing in their mother tongues so that every man shall be taught what we value and why we value it. Faith in men is the source of American success. Teach them what our great institutions mean, and show them a connection between them all.

"Teach them respect for our flag. Make it impossible for any flag but the American to be at the right of your soul. Will you not teach these foreigners so that they will 'stand attention' every tmea flag passes by them. We need to pay more respect to the flag and for the law."

The pansy bouquets worn by the Post and Camp members were furnished through the courtesy of S. N. Bliss, of the Beverly Post, who spent the day in Manchester and participated in the exercises with Post 67.

Patriotic Exercises in the Evening.

The Town hall was crowded in the evening when public patriotic exercises were held under the direction of the Post, assisted by a committee of ladies from the W. R. C. The program was of two hours' duration and consisted for the most part of singing of patriotic selections and recitations by school boys and girls.

The feature of the evening was the appearance of the chorus composed of Post members, in which Adjutant Rivers was soloist on all but one occasion, when A. J. Orr carried the solo part. Mr. Rivers has a way of leading the chorus which is original and purely his own. More than once was he "given the hand." In the chorus were: J. H. Rivers, John Meader, Wm. Pert, Enoch Crombie, James Widger, H. T. Bingham, John Goldsmith, E. P. Stanley, G. A. Jones, A. J. Orr, Charles Stone.

The program follows:

LETTER OF RESIGNATION.

Rev. E. Hersey Brewster's Resignation as Pastor of Manchester Church to Take Effect June 23.

Rev. E. Hersey Brewster, pastor of the Baptist church, Manchester, read his letter of resignation at the close of his sermon last Sunday morning as announced in last week's BREEZE. He will take up his pastorate in his new field of labor at Norwood on July 1, and will conclude his duties with the Manchester church on June 23.

On June 24, Mr. Brewster is to marry Miss Libby Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi A. Dunn, and the young people after a very brief honeymoon will go to their new home in Norwood.

Mr. Brewster's resignation is met with genuine regret on the part not only of his parishioners, but of the community in general, as his work here in the past four years has been very successful. His letter of resignation follows:

Manchester, Mass.,
May 30, 1908.

Dearly Beloved:

On May 22nd last your pastor received a call to the pastorate of the First Baptist church of Norwood, Mass. After prayerful consideration the call has been formally accepted. This will necessitate an early conclusion of the present pastorate. If perfectly agreeable I would request that our relations be dissolved not later than June 23rd.

It is not without a large measure of regret that this step is taken. Such changes are more keenly felt than many who have had no experience of the relations existing between pastor and people imagine. The ministries of the sanctuary; the burdens and joys of spiritual leadership; the sacred intimacies of the sick room; the daily intercession at the throne of grace for the saints over whom the Holy Ghost has made one overseer; the memories of the dead who have died in the Lord; all these things are bonds which are not easily severed.

It has been my privilege during the four years I have labored among you to welcome forty into the fellowship of this company of believers. Some of these have come to us from sister churches; others have made a profession of faith in Jesus Christ for the first time.

Changes in our membership have been both many and important. Some of the most noble among you have fallen asleep in Jesus. Within my comparatively short term of service, I have been called upon to officiate at no less than fifty funerals in this town.

It has been a privilege to meet with you in your homes from time to time. The value of preaching the gospel from house to house is very great. It is a field which could be more carefully cultivated if other and no less important duties were not so pressing.

It has likewise been a privilege to advise with the brethren of the Prudential Committee, than which there is no more hard working committee in the church. Their methods have been business-like, their spirit courteous, and the zeal and consecration of some, a special and constant refreshment. The obligations of the church are not as large as formerly. The parsonage mortgage has been reduced some seven hundred dollars. Doubtless the day is not far distant when the church will not only be free from all encumbrance, but will feel itself able as well as called to make provision for certain needed improvements. In meeting the problems of the future, as you have found in meeting the problems of the past, the Holy Spirit will unfailingly endue you with wisdom and strengthen you for every good word and work.

The Master's work is manifold. As He Himself said, "The field is the world, and the good seed are the children of the Kingdom." In whatever part of the world we labor, we are at work in the same field, and however the conditions under which we labor may differ there is no separation in Christian service.

I assure you of my unflagging interest in your work for Christ in this community. It has been a joy to share with you in the toil and fruitage of the past four years. I shall continue to pray God for you and trust to His grace that I may not have run in vain, neither labored in vain.

Exhorting you to yet greater loyalty to the cause of our common Redeemer, and praying for the blessing of His grace upon all your divinely-appointed ministries in His name,

I remain,
Faithfully your brother in Christ,

S. John Connolly, who is with the firm of Connolly Bros. on their work at the Hon. Seth Low estate at Bedford, N. Y., made a flying trip home to spend Memorial Day and Sunday.

Considerable work has recently been done on the play grounds, including the levelling off of the rough places and rolling—which puts it in good condition for the boys to use.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ross of Halifax, N. S., arrived at the Farms Wednesday and will spend the summer here, Mr. Ross having secured a situation upon a summer estate.

A large delegation of the local Relief Corps will attend the Essex County association next Wednesday, June 10, and will meet with the Phil H. Sheridan corps, of Salem, in O. U. A. M. hall. The gathering will be at 10.30 a. m., when the business will be transacted, after which dinner will be served and the afternoon spent socially.

Business Change.

A change in a well known business concern of Beverly Farms occurred this week, when John Daniels, proprietor of the Daniels' market in Central square, transferred an interest to Boston and Brookline parties, and at the same time acquiring a partnership in a well known and prosperous business house located in Brookline, The Brookline Provision Co. The name of the new concern is Daniels, Gleason & Co.

Their Golden Anniversary.

On Wednesday evening, June 3, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Webster celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage at their home on Hale street, Beverly Farms. Standing before the large fire-place banked with white flowers, Mr. and Mrs. Webster received their many friends and relatives. Frank Preston and Harry Cole acted as ushers, while Mrs. Webster was assisted later in the evening, in serving the refreshments by Misses Alice Witham, Alice Bolam, Elsie Preston, Carrie Davis, Ruth Hardy, Ella Low, Barbara Daniels and Mrs. Edwin Pride.

Mr. Webster is seventy-six years old and is still as active as a good many men much younger. He came to Beverly Farms in 1882 when he took up the trade of carpentry. Twenty-four years before this he had married Miss Georgiana Greene at Rockport where Mr. Webster was born, Feb. 12, 1832.

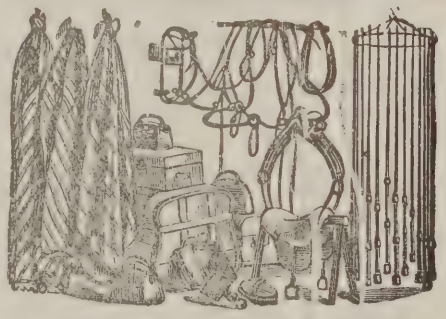

Mr. and Mrs. Webster received many gifts of flowers, china, bric-a-brac, etc., from their many friends, not the least of which was the presentation of a large sum of gold from the Preston W. R. Corps, of which Mrs. Webster has been a member since its foundation.

C. J. Plante, a Boston tailor, has leased for the summer the lower hall in the Marshall block, Central Square.

Gerald Rowbottom and family have taken the Reardon cottage on Haskell st., for the summer. Mr. Rowbottom is chauffeur for George Lee.

Mrs. Everett B. Nichols and two children returned to their homes yesterday at Richfort, Vt., after a week's visit spent among Beverly Farms relatives.

The Beverly—Marlboro game at Montserrat, the 3d of the series, is being played this afternoon, and is being witnessed by a large number of lovers of the game.

Miss Addie F. Day, Oak street, has had charge of the interior arrangement and preparations for presenting in complete order for this season's occupancy the large "Jumbo Cottage," on Hale street.

Two fawn were seen Thursday forenoon on Valley st., also in parts of the swamp area off Oak st., in the rear Nugent's stable. They were not disturbed and some time during the day, disappeared of their own accord.

The stork has recently visited the Farms, selecting Hart street as the portion of the town for his favors, making calls at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Blanchard, where he left at each place a bouncing baby boy, and at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Williams, a nice baby girl.

During the week Hart street to the Wenham line has been repaired and resurfaced, as well as has Thissell street, Greenwood ave., and Common Lane. That portion of the Wenham and Hamilton roads, which last year were repaired and oiled, is again receiving the same kind of attention. All of the above work is being performed by Connolly Bros.

Mrs. Edward W. Pierce is reported to be quite ill at her home in Pride's Crossing.

Lawrence Walsh has commenced his usual summer duty, that of night watchman at the Spaulding estate.

Capt. J. Frank Blaney is enjoying the novelty of "living afloat," having taken up his residence for a time at least aboard his new schooner the Governor Russel, which this week anchored off West Beach.

The John Griffin family, who have resided in the "Haskell" house on Vine st., owned by James J. Nugent, on Wednesday moved out, going to Essex, where Mr. Griffin has secured employment.

Dr. J. J. Riordon's trotter, Earl of Chatham, made an excellent showing at the Myopia speedway races on Memorial Day. Dr. Riordan had his horse entered in Class A, trot, and she finished second in first heat and first in the other three.

A committee from the Preston W. R. Corps has been selected to look up a suitable piece of land, that may be secured, upon which the proposed Memorial Hall may be erected. While the corps has been for a long time very diligent in their work toward this end, they are a long ways from having sufficient funds to carry out the project, yet they have secured some little money and the securing of the land is an important step in their direction.

ADDITIONAL WATER SUPPLY

thing or not. The committee thinks the town is in a position to do it and accordingly have recommended it.

The vote to substitute was counted 39 voting in the affirmative and 43 in the negative.

On motion of F. P. Knight the report of the finance committee was accepted. Mr. Knight then offered the following motion:

"VOTED: That the town acquire as an additional water supply all the waters of Gravel pond and Round pond, and the waters which flow into and from the same in the towns of Hamilton and Manchester, and the board of water commissioners are hereby instructed to acquire or take the same, subject to such limitations and restrictions, with such rights connected therewith, as they deem necessary or expedient; and that the said board of water commissioners also purchase or take such lands, rights of way, and easements as they deem necessary or expedient for holding, storing, purifying, preserving and regulating the height of such waters and for conveying the same through the towns of Hamilton and Manchester to one or more connections with the water distributing system of the town of Manchester; and erect upon the lands so acquired such dam or dams, pumping station, buildings, fixtures, or other structures; and procure, install and operate such machinery and appliances as they deem necessary or expedient for sush purposes. That the town also establish a high service system of distribution of such waters and waters derived from any other source and for that purpose the board of water commissioners are hereby instructed to purchase or take a suitable lot of land on Moses Hill together with such easements and rights of way in connection therewith as they deem necessary or expedient and erect thereon a suitable standpipe. Said board of water commissioners are further instructed to procure and lay such conduits, pipes and other works as they deem necessary or expedient for receiving and conveying said waters and procure, install and operate in the present Manchester pumping station new pumps and machinery of sufficient power and capacity for pumping said waters to the said standpipe on Moses Hill and for properly distributing the same."

Moderator Allen requested the Clerk to take the chair.

Mr. Allen made a thorough and comprehensive statement of the conditions leading up to the appointment of the special committee on additional supply, and the work of that committee, treating of the whole situation in a most impartial manner, reading from 13 typewritten pages. He summarized his statement as follows:

1. For 13 years we have been seeking additional water from time to time and when temporary relief has been had we have in a very short time been called on for further relief and another temporary source sought.

2. We are now seeking for further relief from just these conditions.

3. We wish and we ought to provide for the immediate need of 200,000 to 300,000 gallons per day and at the same time have a sure source of further increase up to 1,000,000 gallons economically and quickly.

4. We have two sources to consider, one temporary and effected by undesirable qualities, the other certain and permanent and of the best quality, having the recommendation of one of the most eminent waterworks' engineers in the country and the complete approval of the State Board of Health.

5. There is a real need for high service and it can be most cheaply done when the other construction is made. In any case the plant must be designed for it.

6. It will cost about $160,000 and entail a yearly fixed charge of $13,700 in addition to our present water charges. We have cleared ourselves of an annual fixed charge of over $10,000 on Park bonds so that our net increase in fixed charges will be very small.

7. The present market rates on money and material are most favorable.

In concluding Mr. Allen said that: "In consideration of these statements which I believe thoroughly to be facts I am of the firm conviction that the only wise course for the town to pursue is to adopt the plan as outlined by your committee and their engineer giving to the water board all the discretion desirable in carrying out the details of the work.

"The future development of the town depends fully as much upon our own efforts and endeavors as it does upon that of prospective purchasers and builders and in the installation of an additional water supply of this character and of high service the best interests of the town will, I believe, be most fully and wisely conserved."

Mr. Allen also explained in his statement that the proposed new standpipe on Moses Hill would be 56 feet higher than the present standpipe and that it would be built strong enough to admit of building an additional 25 feet at any future time. The capacity would be double that of the present standpipe. While the pressure would necessarilly be increased, the pressure in the center of the town would not be over 109 pounds to the square inch, and there would be no danger of the mains and very little of good house plumbing suffering very much as a result of the change.

A letter was read from Major H. L. Higginson, who, though not a voter in Manchester, is one of its heaviest tax payers. Mr. Higginson urged action toward additional water supply and the adoption of the plans made by the committee toward using Gravel Pond.

F. K. Hooper said that he had always been in favor of every additional water supply and he was in favor of this one. He was in favor of high service, too. He was strongly in favor of the plan of the committee having this in charge prior to the present committee (Beaver Dam project) and he felt that this was as good a supply as any and much cheaper. The town had in mind the purchase of the electric light plant and he hoped when the new engines were installed in the pumping station they would be large enough and of sufficient power to use in generating our own electricity. He believed this could be done and should be done.

The motion as offered by Mr. Knight was put and carried, 95 voting in favor to one against.

F. P. Knight offered a motion that "the sum of $160,000 is hereby appropriated for paying the necessary expenses and liabilities incurred or to be incurred under the foregoing vote," etc. "And for the purpose of raising said sum to issue bonds of the town * * * to the aggregate sum of $160,000, said bonds to be each of the denomination of $1000, with interest coupon attached thereto, payable semi-annually, said interest to be at the rate of 4 percent. per annum," the bonds to be numbered 1 to 160 and to be payable five each year from the date of issue, the last five being payable 27 years hence.

The motion was carried, 100 voting in favor to none against.

The meeting was about to dissolve when W. C. Rust offered the following resolution:

"That it is the sense of this meeting that the establishing of a sanitarium in the Town of Manchester would not be for the best interest and prosperity of the town."

Mr. Rust said that it would be a great detriment to the town to have a sanitarium within its borders, especially near Singing Beach, in the midst of the summer cottages. It would certainly injure the town and he thought the town ought to be protected. "An ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." This thing should be stamped as a nuisance.

F. K. Hooper said such a move would certainly injure the town. He hoped to see a first-class hotel here some day,—something fully up-to-date in every particular. He believed that a high-class hotel would be well patronized. People cannot now find such accommodations here and it is detrimental to the town not to have it. I have contended all along that a hotel at any cost would pay. The Masconomo House was sufficient for the day when it was first built. The town would be further developed by a first class hotel.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

The meeting dissolved at 9.30.

"Red Book" Automobile Guide.

Automobile tourists will welcome the appearance of the 1908 edition of the "Red Book" Automobile Guide, which has just been issued. No better illustration of the growth of the industry is afforded than a comparison of the guide books of a few years ago and those of the present season. The "Red Book" is a volumne of about 600 pages, contains 574 separate routes in New England and the Hudson River district and has detailed descriptions of no less than 26,000 miles of roads, giving distances, condition of roads, grades, railroad crossings, danger points, and in fact complete running details for touring between the leading centers and all the popular seaside and mountain resorts. The directions are models of conciseness, and the avoidance of reference to points of the compass—always confusing to the stranger in a strange place—is one of the improvements noticed. The systematic arrangement of the "Red Book" routes in numerical order, grouped in division centers, together with a complete index of towns and villages, giving the number of the routes on which located, make this an ideal guide for tourists and not a "Chinese puzzle," as is sometimes the criticism made of publications of this nature. Lists of the best hotels and garages are published in connection with each route. A summary of the laws of the several States is given. Street maps of all the cities and larger towns show plainly how to get in and out of congested districts. A large diagrammatic map of New England and eastern New York, showing all the popular routes and their exact relation to each other, accompanies the book. Printed in large type on pink paper, with flexible waterproof binding and a ribbon bookmark make the outfit complete. At bookstores and garages. Published by F. S. Blanchard & Co., Worcester, Mass. Price $2.50. *

Conditions at West Beach now present a more summer-like appearance. A number of the floats belonging to private parties, kept at the beach for storage, have been removed and placed in position at the various estates, and the two floats belonging to the association have been placed in position off the pier. A goodly number of the bath-houses have been rented for the season also.

Two events are scheduled for the next week at Neighbor's hall in the entertaining line, which no doubt will be well patronized. On Wednesday evening, June 10th, the Colonial Stock Co. of Boston, of which Miss Connolly of Pride's Crossing is a member, will present two dramas entitled "Coddle's Troubles" and "Cape Mail." These are given for the benefit of St. Margaret's church. They are the class of entertainment not often seen at the Farms and should not be missed. On Friday evening the Beverly Farms Athletic club gives their social and dance, and have planned to make it an event of much pleasure.

NORTH SHORE BREEZE

MANCHESTER, MASS., SATURDAY, JUNE 13, 1908.

ENGLISH LITERATURE IN THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY.

BY D. F. LAMSON.

[It is proposed under this general title to present a series of articles on the principal writers of the period, beginning with Dryden and ending with Cowper.]

The 18th century was an age of invention and material advancement. In 1762, the Bridgewater canal, the first link in inland waterways, was opened; in 1763, the famous Wedgwood potteries went into operation; in 1767, the spinning-jenny was introduced, and the steam-engine brought into shape by Watt; the power loom came into use in 1784; meanwhile great improvements were being made in agriculture and the breeding of stock. But the century was not one of material activity merely; its outward enterprise had its counterpart in the world of letters.

In a rationalistic age, like the 18th century, men trouble themselves little about new ideas, but reason and debate upon ideas already possessed. The principal literary achievement of the time was naturally in prose, the medium best fitted for ratiocination and argument. Its chief prose writers are Swift, Steele, Addison, Locke, Defoe, Sterne, Johnson, Gibbon, and Adam Smith, the author of the "Wealth of Nations" and the founder of the science of Political Economy. Its great poets, not to speak of lesser lights, were Dryden, Pope, Gray and Goldsmith. Some of these, notably Dryden and Goldsmith, also excelled in prose. These names represent, as will be seen at a glance, a wide variety of taste, culture and literary power.

The century may be characterized as in general an age of coarse utilitarianism, of religious indifference and of political corruption; it was the age of rationalism and deism, an age of the religion of nature, a system too vague and colorless to have any vitality; it was, however, the age that gave birth to the masterly "Analogy" of Butler, the mysticism of William Low, and the evangelical and evangelistic fervor of Wesleyanism. In literature it is noted for no stars of the first magnitude; it was an age of the commonplace; it was to the spacious times of the great Elizabeth an age of penny-a-liners and poetasters.

The spirit of the age was one of art rather than nature; it was marked by finish rather than originality; robustness of Bacon and Milton, and the out-door freshness of Shakespeare, had given place to the drawing-room manners of an Addison and a Pope. The sturdy virility of the Ecclesiastical Polity had degenerated into the prim elegance of the Spectator and the Essay on Man. The luxuriance of nature disappeared under the pruning shears of art. Genius was measured by the foot-rule; thoughts were marshalled by a drill-sergeant, emotion was repressed, comedy and tragedy reduced to mere stage-acting, and life became a puppet show with Belinda for its heroine and a lock of hair for its reward of valor. This is not saying, of course, that the times of Queen Ann and the Georges could not boast of famous writers. It is only saying that the standard of greatness had changed; style had come to be the main thing; the attention of those who held the ear of the public was given less to what they had to say, and more to how they said it; writers employed their time in laboriously polishing a period or pointing an epigram or balancing a sentence, until English literature well nigh lost its freedom and force. Letters were cultivated with great assiduity, and poetry became a fine art. Sermons, histories, essays were finished to a faultless degree of nicety, but they lacked color and life. There was a studied conformity to classic ideals, but there was no great passion, no Hamlet, or Samson Agonistes, or Great-Heart; women who were unmoved by Desdemona's tragic fate could weep over Clarissa Harlowe through six prosy tomes. There was literary workmanship, sometimes of a high order; but it was without inspiration or spontaneity. The best writers were not creators, they were mere artists.

It is true, however, and this must be said, after all criticisms are made, these men were in many instances artists of consummate taste and skill; if they wanted intensity and breadth, they were masters of detail; they wrought the language to a high degree of literary perfection; they were without rivals in verbal criticism, and were adepts in syntax and prosody. Men like Addison, Swift and Johnson in prose, and Dryden, Pope and Goldsmith in poetry, were potentates who ruled the world of letters with a regal hand, and their deftness in shaping language to thought has hardly been surpassed from their day to this. One is unapproached as a master of satire, another was a prince of critics, a third still overawes us with his ponderous dicta, and a fourth touched nothing he did not adorn. Lacking as the 18th century was in imagination and invention, it excelled in the art of expression. It was the Silver Age of English literature and taste; an age in which writers studied not only men but manners, and in which the literary world was the vogue. It was essentially (1) an age of light literature, as became a polite society; (2) an age of satirical literature, as became a society which lived upon discussion of fashions and follies; and (3) an age of artificial literature, as reflecting a time in which conviction had given place to sentiment and thought to words and phrases. In short, despite the robust influence of Reynolds and Johnson, it was an age of dilettanteism in literature and art.

The Manchester Yacht club opened for the season on May 20, and is in charge of Charlie Olsen of Cambridge, brother of Severance Olsen, who was in charge the two years previous. The latter returned to his home in Sweden last winter and has not yet returned.

The regetta committee is arranging the season's schedule and it will probably be announced next week. The tender class races will be held as usual beginning next week or the week after.

MANCHESTER

The bathing season at Singing Beach seems to be fully under way. During the month of May 48 bathers were recorded as using the public bathhouse. This is an increase of 46 over last year, when but two were listed for the month. The season really began on May 11, but the first bather entered the water, April 27. Last week, A. U. McCormick, the caretaker, reported 58 using the public bathhouse. The warm weather of Sunday drove large numbers to the beach, many of whom enjoyed the privileges of the bathhouse. The pier, at Masconomo park is very popular amongst the boys, where they dive off from the float into the water. The water this season shows a decided rise in temperature over that of last, for this time of year. The lowest temperature recorded during May was 50 degrees, while the highest reached the 60 mark. The minimum for June is 54 degrees, and the maximum 62 degrees, thus far. At Masconomo park the water is usually from 2 to 4 degrees warmer than outsids. All owners of bathhouses wishing to let them should notify Mr. McCormack, who has many inquiries of that nature.

J. W. Cawthorne, jr., is running one of D. M. Knight's Express teams between Manchester and Salem.

A grand holiday dance is announced for next Tuesday evening in the Town hall under the direction of John Dillon and Harold Stanley. Long's orchestra.

A delegation from the Manchester Historical society are planning to accept the invitation of the Essex Institute to join with the Historical societies of Essex County next Saturday, June 20 at 10 o'clock, to inspect its Museum of Colonial and Historial objects recently installed in its newly acquired building, and after a picnic lunch at the Salem Willows to visit the Peabody Museum and examine its ethrological, marine and scientific collections.

The Tuck's Point picnic grounds will be officially declared open for the season next Wednesday, June 17, when the Red Men have an all-day outing. If the day is a good one there will probably be 100 or more on hand, especially for the big feast of corn and venison to be spread a little before 1 o'clock. Games will be participated in both morning and afternoon. There will be several motor boats on hand, and those who wish may enjoy a trip down the harbor.

Clocks cared for by season. Loomis.*

In spite the threatening weather Thursday evening Manchester was out in large numbers to hear the first of the series of six concerts to be given on the common this summer by the Salem Cadet band. From all along the shore came crowds to hear the music, and it is estimated there was fully 700 people in the square. Just as the last number was being played it began to sprinkle, but the shower was not heavy by any means, and few people got wet. Everybody knows of the merits of the Salem Cadet band, and there is little we could add, other than to say that the band was at its best. Every number was encored and the cornet solo by Mr. Bernier and the trombone solo by Mr. Proctor brought forth big applause, necessitating the rendition of two encores on the part of each. Jean Missud, the conductor, was highly pleased with the ovation given him at the opening concert of the series. The next concert will be on Wednesday evening, June 24.

Allen Relief Corps will observe Flag Day next Monday evening by appropriate exercises in G. A. R. hall, at 8 o'clock. Members of the Post and Associates, S. of V. and teachers are invited to attend. A program will be presented under the direction of the Patriotic Instructor, Mrs. Wm. Follett.

At the probate court in Lawrence Monday an inventory was filed on the estate of the late Frank D. Allen, $1200.

Mrs. Charles T. Holt and her daughter, Mrs. Putney, of Springfield have been recent guests of Mrs. Anna Phillips on School street.

Miss Emma A. Hotz, who has been boarding in Boston since last fall, is at Manchester for the summer, but goes back and forth to town on the train daily to her duties in Boston.

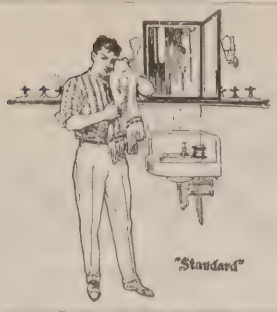

Mr. and Mrs. Levi A. Dunn have sent out cards for the marriage of their daughter, Libbie Alberta, to Rev. Edward Hersey Brewster on Wednesday, June 24, at noon, at the First Baptist church. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. A. E. Harriman of Lynn, former pastor here, and a reception will follow at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dunn on Central street from 1 to 3.

Friends of Leon W. Carter will be interested to learn that Mr. Carter is now in Tours, France, and is starting the last of this week on a two weeks' tour of Southern France. After that he goes to the Pyrenees Mountains and will leave for home about the middle of August. Mr. Carter is chauffeur for Mr. and Mrs. Crosby, and he says the roads in France are splendid for automobiling, and that he is having a delightful time.

Miss Eleanor Andrews arrived home from the west the first of this week to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Andrews, Lincoln street. Miss Andrews has been instructor in gymnastics in the state hospital at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, the past year. She brought home with her from Indianapolis, her little neice, Ruth Hodges. Mrs. Dr. Hodges (Rebecca Andrews) is expected in a fortnight to spend most of the summer with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Forster Allen left Wednesday for New Boston, N. H., Mrs. Allen's native home, so as to attend the Old Folks' Day exercises on Thursday, an event which they have attended for a number of years and which is something entirely separate from Old Home Week which comes in August. Old Folks' Day "eligibles" must have passed the 70th milestone. A big dinner in the Town hall is one of the features of the day. Mr. and Mrs. Allen planned to return today or Monday.

Electric lights have recently been installed in Charles Hooper's shoe store, Central square, a great improvement over the kind of lights used for the 24 years in which Mr. Hooper has been located at this store. Mr. Hooper as usual has a large and attractive line of newest summer styles of shoes for men, women and children.

At noon, Wednesday, June 10, Joseph Leiter was married, at Washington, to Miss Juliette Williams, daughter of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. John B. Williams, in the apartments of the bride's parents at the Connecticut. After the ceremony the bridal party, which consisted only of the members of the immediate families, proceeded to Rauscher's, where the wedding luncheon was served. Late in the afternoon Mr. Leiter and his bride started in their big gray touring car for Manchester, where they are expected today or tomorrow. The ceremony was very imposing and beautiful. The Colonel appeared in full dress uniform of his rank and gave the bride in marrirge. Amongst the most prized remembrances presented the bridal couple, was a large basket of old fashioned flowers from President and Mrs. Roosevelt. Mrs. Levi Z. Leiter who left early in the week to attend the ceremony, returned to Manchester Thursday. The newly wedded couple plan to spend a large part of the summer in Manchester with Mr. Leiter's mother. Later they will sail for Europe. They go to Chicago next week.

The First Unitarian church, Masconomo street, Manchester, will open for the season on Sunday, June 21, when Rev. Paul R. Frothingham of the Arlington Street church, Boston, will preach. Two very beautiful bronze tablets have been raised in the Unitarian church this spring, one to Mr. Henry Pickering and one to Mr. George Pierce as memorials of their faithful and devoted services to the church for many years. John Evans did the work on the tablets under the supervision of Robert S. Peaboby and George E. Cabot.

A number of North Shore people attended the reception and lawn party given by Mr. and Mrs. Larz Anderson on the grounds of "Weld," their estate in Brookline, Wednesday afternoon, the occasion being their 11th wedding anniversary. Among the few who remained to dinner in the evening were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Denegre of West Manchester. This evening Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are starting on an extended western trip,— to Vancouver and many places of interest in the Canadian Rockies. They will be in Chicago at the time of the republican national convention. Mr. Denegre will go as far as Chicago with Mr. and Mrs. Anderson in their private car. Mr. and Mrs. Denegre entertained a small dinner party at their Beverly Farms cottage last evening.

Society Notes

J. B. Hartwell and family, who have Mrs. Morison's cottage on Juniper hill, Beverly Farms, arrived Tuesday.

Miss Mary Colgate Colby arrived at Beverly Farms the first of this week, and is at the Cabot Lane house again.

Justice and Mrs. Oliver Wendell Holmes arrived at their summer home at Beverly Farms a few days ago. They came on from Washington the first of the week and stopped over at the Lenox, in Boston, a few days.

Esme Howard, counsellor of the British Embassy, left Washington, Thursday, for their summer quarters at Manchester. The other members of the embassy left for here yesterday. Mr. Howard expects to attend the Republican convention at Chicago.

The rhododendrons bordering the entrance to "Glendyne" the beautiful estate of the Walter J. Mitchell's at Manchester Cove, are in full bloom, and the pink and white of their petals form a very pleasant contrast to the green background of the trees.

B. Kroupensky, counsellor of the Russian legation, will be located at Manchester this summer, as well as other members of the embassy, and will be at Cottage No. 6 in Windemere park, off School street. He is at present at the convention in Chicago, but will come to Manchester the latter part of next week.

Preston Moore, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, arrived home from school at Southboro, Wednesday. Miss Frances Moore arrived home from school, at Washington a week ago. Mr. and Mrs. Moore, who sailed for London last week, are expected back to Pride's the first of August. Mrs. Swift, Mrs. Moore's mother, is expected home from Europe the first of July.

At the tennis tournament in Haverford, Penn., last week, Miss Marion Fenno and Miss Eleanora Sears, both North Shore young ladies, defeated the Misses Green of Philadelphia in the challenge round of the championship doubles. In the final round of the mixed double, Miss Fenno and her partner defeated their opponents. Miss Sears is now champion of the women's singles, doubles and mixed doubles in the eastern states.

Samuel M. Kennard and family of St. Louis, arrived at Magnolia Thursday.

C. H. Bull of Quincy, Ill., arrived at his summer cottage on Lexington avenue, corner Hesperus, yesterday.

C. T. Harbeck and family, of New York arrived at Magnolia yesterday. They have the Adam's cottage.

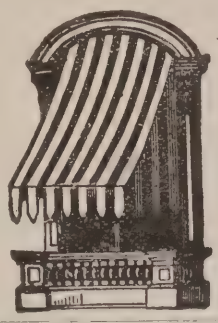

Charles T. Dukelow of Brookline, has taken the Ferguson cottage on Lexington avenue, Magnolia, for the season.

Mrs. George H. Nettleton of Kansas City, has taken apartments at the Hesperus for the summer. Amongst other guests are: Mr. and Mrs. Smith also of Kansas City, and Miss Greenleaf of Boston. The Hesperus opens officially on Monday, June 15.

Among arrivals for the season at the Aborn this week are: Mrs. H. W. Wellington and her daughter from Boston, and Mrs. C. R. Edwards of Washington, D. C., together with Miss Bessie Edwards. Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Russegue were down for the week-end. Mr. Russegue is editor of the Boston Times.

Capt. and Mrs. Clarence Edwards have been staying at the Aborn, Magnolia, while the lower MacDonald cottage, which they are to occupy this summer, is being placed in readiness. Mrs. Edwards, mother of the captain arrived Wednesday afternoon. Capt. Edwards conducted the famous Secretary Taft tour around the world two years ago.

With the opening of Huyler's new store in the Colonnade, Magnolia has reached the acme of perfection. Fitted with mission tables and chairs of natural green, blending with the green of the woodwork and rafters, and contrasting with the "Huyler red" of the window shades and signs, the general appearance is one that is very pleasing to the eye. Entering, one finds on the left the soda fountain of polished silver, surrounded by its gleaming soda glasses and ice cream dishes. Here will be served the sodas and ices for which Huyler's establishments have long been noted. On the right are the show cases, with their bright silver trays filled with the many colored sweets so dear to the feminine palate. In the rear is the large bay window with its wide window seat, where one may sit and look out upon the beautiful corridor garden of the North Shore Grill. On the Lexington avenue side, between the two entrances, are several large tables shaded by the overhanging branches of trees which border the walk. Taken all in all, the establishment is one that is sure to attract not only the residents of Magnolia, but those of the surrounding region, and is certain to become very popular.

The Sarcophagus is the most popular form of cemetery memorial at this time. The name comes from the Greeks, but the style of the modern Sarcophagii is quite different from their coffin-shaped stone boxes in which they place their dead. No other style of monument gives more assurance of permanance than this. They are low and massive and may be ornate in design or severely plain. The most beautiful designs may be executed in either marble or granite. We also have the most modern machinery in which to execute this work. We have made the granite business our life study. "WHAT is the matter with Manchester? Is she losing her prestige? Why I ask, is because I noted in one of last Sunday's Boston papers a write-up of the beautiful resorts of the North Shore all the way from Swampscott to Rockport, but Beverly Farms and Manchester were not on the map as far as that writer was concerned, and I wonder way?"—Manchester Cricket.

We noticed the same thing, and wondered as did our worthy contemporary. Our conclusion was that Manchester and Beverly Farms were given the "go by," so to speak, because there isn't a hotel at either of these places. The article referred to was a sort of "write-up" of the North Shore places in which are located hotels. The BREEZE has been persistantly preaching the need of an up-to-date hotel at Manchester for the past four years, and the above referred-to contemporary had been preaching the same kind of diction years before that. Some day we would like to see our hopes and aspirations realized, in this one particular at least. The BREEZE is working for a bigger and better North Shore, and we think this is one of the essentials in Manchester, a first-class hotel.

Chelsea needs a commission all right. It would never do to leave the reconstruction of the city to a board of aldermen that would loot the treasury of a stricken city by putting through an order for $75 to have their pictures taken. Shame!—Beverly Evening Times.

State Treas. Arthur B. Chapin has made public the comparative cash statement for the first six months of the current year. Compared with the corresponding period last year there is an increase of $1,157,397. Of this sum $416,000 is due to the fact that the state has taken over the armories. The net increase in the charitable expenditures is $216,000 and nearly every state department shows an increase. These figures probably indicate that the state tax this year will be slightly larger than last, which is a matter of great importance to Manchester and Beverly residents.

GREAT plans are being made for the New England Republican Barbecue to be held at Point of Pines on Thursday, July 16, under the auspices of the Middlesex, Essex, Norfolk and Plymouth clubs. The gathering is expeeted to be one of the largest in New England in any capacity in recent years, and aside from its magnitude it will be notable because of the presence of so many men prominent in national and state affairs. Governors, U. S. Senators and Congressmen all over New England have given assurances that they will be present. The festivities will close in the early evening with one of the grandest displays of fireworks seen in recent years, one of the features of which will be an immense set piece of the republican candidates for president and vice president.

On the various committees are, from this seetion: W. W. Lufkin of Essex, Congressman Gardner's secretary, and L. P. Stanton of Beverly, executive committee; Hon. Samuel Cole, Hon. Harvey S. Dow and Albert Vittum of Beverly, Postmaster Brown of Gloucester, reception committee; Senator Shaw of Manchester, Hon. Samuel Cole of Beverly, Arthur D. Story of Essex, Ralph Dennen of Gloucester, tickets; Albert Vittum of Beverly, badges; Senator Shaw of Manchester, music; J. A. Lodge of Manchester, decorations; Senator Shaw of Manchester, excursion.

The prime object of the barbecue, of course, is to introduce to a New England audience our coming presidential candidate, and assurances have been received that the national campaign will be opened here in New England.

WHISPERINGS

"In going over our books we find that we have near you a barrel of So-and So's elastic roof paint which we do not wish to ship back here on account of transportation charges." Every once in a while we get some advertising matter worded exactly like the above, and from the same company. Farther on down the letter it says: "This paint will keep in the barrel in first-class condition for years." And this makes us wonder if it really is the same barrel of paint this firm would have us buy each time, or some other barrel. And what would happen if two or three of the people who get this same letter should accept the offer!

"When a man axes me foh advice," said Uncle Eben, "I doesn't throw out my chest an' feel flattered. De chances is dat de man who axes foh advice is simply goin' around to everybody he knows tryin' to celebrate hisse'f as a topic of conversation."—Washington Star.

Flower Show This Month.

The annual rose and strawberry show of the North Shore Horticultural society will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 23 and 24, on the Essex County club grounds, as for the past two years. The date was scheduled to come off the first two days of July, but it was found that the roses are about two weeks in advance of last year, and it was thought best to hold the show at least a week earlier.

Attention of gardeners is called to the special prize offered for this show by Mrs. James McMillan. The condition for this cup, to be known as the Eagle Head Cup, have been changed to read "best collection of garden grown roses not less than ten varieties, four blooms of each, to be won three times before becoming the absolute property of the exhibitor."

The summer school will open on July 13 and will continue for five weeks, until August 14, and will be in charge of Misses Lila Goldsmith and Myrtle Fenderson.

All those wishing tickets for the play, "Brass Buttons" to be presented in Neighbor's hall, Beverly Farms, Wednesday evening, July 1, by the Beverly Farms gymnasium class, may secure them at Allen's Drug store, or from Miss Grace Mcgregor. After the entertainment there will be dancing until 1 o'clock.

Our worthy contemporary, "The Casco Bay Breeze," published by Crowley and Lunt of Beverly, came to us this morning. The Breeze is a summer paper, resembling in many respects our own, and printed its first issue of the season, on Thursday. Its cuts are particularly worthy of mention, being sharp and clear. We extend our best wishes for the continued success of our contemporary.

MANCHESTER

Those who were on hand at the early morning train last Saturday saw the "gypsy band" from the local Phi Alpha Pi chapter, Y. M. C. A., dressed in all their glory starting for Stile s Pond, Boxford. Here several other groups of boys were also encamped in tents and for two days the time was spent in out-door recreation, which was g eatly enjoyed by those participating. The following members comprised the band: Roland Knight, Fred Jackson, Allen McKinnon, John Carter, Elmer Smith, Cheever Hersey, Archie Cool, Bernard Tyler, Winthrop Younger, Lieutenants George Rust and Frank Floyd, and Captain Albert Cunningham. The party returned Monday.

The Central Square lunch room, which opened Monday, is a decided addition to the recourses of the town for feeding its guests and transients. The room has been very tastily fitted up with Japanese fans, shades and banners, and looks very attractive. Along the right is the long counter, at which a "quick lunch" may be snatched, and to the left are several round tables, where one may sit and enjoy their meal leisurely. The lunch room is under very competent management and should prove a decided success.

MAGNOLIA

It may not be generally known by Magnolia residents that it is the plan of Asst. Postmaster Lycett to move the postoffice in the fall to larger quarters in the store in the same block where it is now located, which is at present occupied by P. S. Lycett's grocery. Mr. Lycett is having a building erected on Magnolia avenue at the present time which he will use as a store and residence. While nothing official can be said at the present time as to new quarters for the postoffice it is generally known that the present quarters are too small for the requirements and that by the first of the coming year it will be changed to the above mentioned location.

Children's Sunday tomorrow will not be forgotten at the Village church. A story will be told the children by the pastor at the morning service in place of a sermon. The service is at 10.30. The evening service will begin at 8.15 and a sermon will be preached. "The Influence of the Mind upon Health and Disease" is being discussed in the Friday evening meetings. Next Friday and through the summer months the hour for this service will be 8.15.

A collection for the Fresh Air Fund will be taken in Sunday school at the Village church tomorrow as is the annual custom. All who want to give a little money for this worthy and delightful charity are invited to do so through the pastor or the members of the Sunday school.

Miss Alice M. Libby, teacher of lituature in Western College, arrived in Magnolia yesterday and will spend the summer with her brother Rev. F. J. Libby.

We are glad to report that Herman Staples is much improved in health.

H. G. Hall of Salem, arrived at Magnolia yesterday. He has the Story cottage.

Ex-Senator Harry K. Foster of Magnolia has been appointed by the county commissioners to the position of engineer for the board. Mr. Foster's many friends will be pleased to hear of his appointment as it is a recognition of his ability to fulfill the important duties of this position.—Gloucester Times.

Edward Durant, who has long had a similar establishment in Gloucester, has opened a shoe shop on Fuller street, near the engine house, where he will do first-class repairing on boots and shoes, and good service is warranted.

Mrs. Sylvester Height returned Monday from a two week's visit in Revere, with Mrs. Sharpe.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Butler returned Saturday from a month's visit in Townsend, where they have been the guests of Stephen B. Allen.

A small brush fire started in the woods near John Allyn's cottage Sunday afternoon. The fire department responded to a call and the fire was soon extinguished. Little damage was done.

Mrs. W. Richardson, Mrs. H. W. Butler and Miss Maud E. Butler spent Wednesday in Lowell.

Mr. Bray of the Salem Commercial School, Salem, was in town on Tuesday, registering students for the fall term.

Lafayette Hunt and D. C. Ballou spent Wednesday in Boston. Mr. Hunt purchased a new horse which he expects to enter in the races at Crescent beach this summer.

On Tuesday afternoon, June 23, the children of the Blynman school will hold a candy sale in that building.

Miss Mary Walsh of Roxbury, is staying with her sister, Miss M. G. Walsh, at the latter's establishment, Willow cottage, for the summer. Miss Helma Olsen, and Mrs. Margaret Wallis of Gloucester, are also guests at the cottage.

Running Car Without License.

Eric Smelz, chauffeur for Tyler Morse, of Beverly, was fined at the Salem district court, Friday morning, $15 for running his auto in Beverly without a license. On May 22, Smelz was fined $50 for recklessly driving his auto in Magnolia, where he ran into a depot wagon injuring several people and smashing the machine. At that time the New York license, under which he had been running, was suspended, and although application for renewal has been made to the Massachusetts highway commission the application will not be considered before July 24.

$8.50 HEDGETHORN PUNCTURE-PROOF SELF-HEALING TIRES $4.80 A SAMPLE PAIR TO INTRODUCE, ONLY

The regular retail price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but to introduce we will sell you a sample pair for $4.80 (cash with order $4.55).

NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES

NAILS, Tacks or Glass will not let the air out. Sixty thousand pairs sold last year. Over two hundred thousand pairs now in use.

DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C. O. D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented.

Notice the thick rubber tread "A" and puncture strips "B" and "D," also rim strip "H" to prevent rim cutting. This tire will outlast any other make—SOFT, ELASTIC and EASY RIDING.

We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.55 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump. Tires to be returned at OUR expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination. We are perfectly reliable and money sent to us is as safe as in a bank. If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, wear better, last longer and look finer than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a bicycle you will give us your order. We want you to send us a trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer.

IF YOU NEED TIRES don't buy any kind at any price until you send for a pair of Hedgethorn Puncture-Proof tires on approval and trial at the special introductory price quoted above; or write for our big Tire and Sundry Catalogue which describes and quotes all makes and kinds of tires at about half the usual prices.

DO NOT WAIT but write us a postal today. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone until you know the new and wonderful offers we are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.

MANCHESTER

The hall at the Price Primary school was crowded yesterday afternoon and evening when a Horace K. Turner art exhibit was held for the benefit of the schools. Aside from the display of about 100 beautiful art pictures, which were artistically displayed, there were tables for the sale of manual training work by the boys, such as brass, copper, leather and wood articles, while the girls of the ninth grade had for sale home-made candies and a table of useful sewing articles. While we are unable to give the result, financially, of the fair, we can state the exhibit was a big success, and next week we will give the figuers. The funds are to be used for the purchase of art pictures for the school rooms.

The percentage of attendance at the schools for the past week follows: G. A. Priest school—Grade IX, 89.50; VIII, 95.91; VII, 91.43; VI, 95.87; V, 92.24; Adv. IV, 90.97; IV, 94.91; III, 94.68; II, 96.58; Adv. I, 94.5 I, 99.1.

Pianoforte Recital.

Many of Joseph K. Dustin's pupils and friends in Manchester and Magnolia are planning to attend the pianoforte recital to be given in Bradford hall, Y. M. C. A. building, Gloucester, next Monday evening, June 15, by his pupils.

Many Beautiful Trips.

For the past three years the Boston & Northern and Old Colony Street Railway companies have had a public office of the passenger department at 309 Washington street, Boston, and in conjunction with this office has been conducted a general free trolley information bureau. Not only has the literature, maps, time tables and other matters concerning these two systems been kept there for free distribution, but also all of those which could be obtained from other companies throughout New England, while arrangements have been made for special cars and excursions conducted.

With the idea based on past experience, that the public would be better served with less confusion and with greater facility by a concentration of effort, during the summer months this year the free trolley information bureaus of both will be combined in the office of the passenger department of the Boston & Northern and Old Colony Street Railway companies at 309 Washington street.

Boston Retail Grocers.

In view of the fact that the Boston Retail Grocers' Association is to open in September at the Park Square Coliseum, now being specially converted into an exposition building for this purpose, its Seventh Boston Food Fair and Liberal Arts Exposition, it is interesting to note the strength of this organization. Its membership embraces the leading retail grocers of Boston and suburbs, numbering over 500. No other grocers' organization in New England, it is understood, can show a membership of over 100 members. In fact, it was brought out at the recent national convention of the grocers, held in Boston under the auspices of the Boston Retail Grocers' Association that this organization is in the very front rank, both in strength of numbers and financial standing among the hundreds of grocers' organizations throughout the country.

Special attention is called to the fact that a Liberal Arts Exposition is this year combined with the Boston Food Fair, and some most novel and interesting exhibits, outside those more closely allied with food products, are promised.

Let the "Blue Bell" Sign Remind You

OF THE ERRAND YOU FORGOT TO EXECUTE, and a ready way out of the difficulty.

OF THE ORDER YOU WERE ASKED TO DELIVER for your firm or for your home.

OF THE ENGAGEMENT FOR WHICH YOU HAVE BEEN DELAYED and of the quickest way of explaining your inability to meet it.

OF THE CALL YOU PROMISED TO MAKE, but failed to make, through forgetfullness.

Of a hundred ways in which, to use a quaint phrase, you may "LET YOUR HEAD SAVE YOUR HEELS."

Remember:

The sign indicates the presence of a Pay Station.

FROM ANY PAY STATION you may talk, at a reasonable charge, TO ANY OF 290,000 TELEPHONES connected with the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company's system in the four northern New England states.

ALSO WITH TELEPHONES IN 30,000 CITIES and TOWNS connected with the Long Distance lines of the great Bell system.

With such a convenience at hand is it fair to your friends to "borrow" their telephone? You are liable to impede their channels of communication by making their lines "busy" when others are trying to call them.

DAISY WEDDING.

Goodwin—Haskell Nuptials at Manchester a Brilliant Affair.

The wedding in Manchester Wednesday evening of Miss Amy Boyden Haskell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Haskell, and Clifford B. Goodwin of Peabody, was a brilliant affair. The beautiful large residence of Miss Sarah T. Brown, an aunt of the bride, on School street, was thrown open and while the guests were restricted for the most part to the family connections, there were over 125 present from Manchester, Peabody, Boston, West Roxbury, Beverly and Gloucester.

The ceremony was performed at 7.30 by Rev. L. H. Ruge, pastor of the Congregational church, the double ring service being used. The bride marched down the broad stairs to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Grace Gilman, and was met by the groom and attendant in the hall. The ceremony was pronounced in the large sitting room in front of a bank of ferns, smilax and daises.

The bride wore a handsome gown of white embroidered batiste, en train. Her veil was caught up with a spray of lilies of the valley, and she carried a bouquet of the same flower.

Mrs. Alfred C. Needham, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a very pretty gown of pink jusi silk, which her brother brought with him from the Philippines. The best man was Roger A. Goodwin of Peabody, brother of the groom.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

It was a daisy wedding, wild daisies forming the principal decoration effect. The decorations were simple, but pretty, smilax and ferns being used, and serving as an effecting setting for the white of the daisies.

The wedding was attended by the family connections only. From eight to nine a reception was held, the bride and groom being assisted in receiving by their two attendants. The ushers were Maynard B. Gilman and Carleton Knight of Manchester, cousins of the bride, Chester A. Page of Peabody, cousin of the groom, and Fred E. Strout of Beverly.

Those who served were Misses Gertrude B. Goldsmith and Miss Alice G. Knight of Manchester, and Misses Grace and Edith Gilman of West Roxbury, all cousins of the bride. Mrs. Isabel Turpin of Gloucester, an aunt of the bride, served punch.

Among those who attended the wedding and reception were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Goodwin of Peabody, parents of the groom, and a number of Mr. Goodwin's associates in Boston, where Mr. Goodwin is cashier at the Boston branch of the American Radiator Company of Chicago.

Long's orchestra, five pieces, played during the reception.

The young people were the recipients of many beautiful gifts,—silver, glass, china, etc., which was displayed in a room on the second floor.

A little after nine Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin left amid a shower of confetti, being driven away in a carriage, toward Beverly. They are spending their honeymoon at the Mt. Kineo House, Moosehead Lake, Me. After September 1 they will be at home, at 39 School street, Manchester.

DOANE—WALEN.

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized in Manchester Wednesday evening, when Miss Nellie May Walen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Walen, and Clifford F. Doane of Manchester and Marblehead, were united in marriage by Rev. E. Hersey Brewster, pastor of the Baptist church.

The ceremony was performed at 7.30, at the attractive apartments to be occupied by the young people in the former Friend house on Friend's court. The single ring service was used. Only the family connections of the two young people and immediate friends were present.

The bride wore a pretty gown of white silk landsdown, and she carried a bouquet of roses.

Miss Alice Maude Doane of Marblehead, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. She wore a yellow silk dress and carried a bouquet of pinks.

Alfred Walen, brother of the bride, was best man.

Dainty refreshments, consisting of punch, ices, wedding cake, etc., were served at the short informal reception which followed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Doane will be at home, on Friend's Court, Wednesdays after June 20th.

BEVERLY FARMS

William Morrill returned at the Farms yesterday after four weeks' confinement in the Beverly hospital.

Preston Post, 188, after next Wednesday evening will hold but one meeting a month until the first of September.

Miss Honora O'Brien, on Saturday last was an interested spectator at the Exeter-Andover ball game at Andover.

Lawrence Diggins, former proprietor of the Beverly Farms house, is on a two or three weeks' fishing trip, sailing from Gloucester.

Patrick Mitchell has leased the upper tenement in the Haskell house, owned by James J. Nugent, on Vine street, and will move in next week.

Capt. Duncan T. Smith and Engineer Howard Bartlett leave today in Mr. Hooper's power boat the "Micky II," for a four weeks' cruise.

Owing to the recent increase in business, James J. Nugent, who runs the Oak street livery stable, has added several new horses to his equipment.

The friends of James Pemberton are congratulating him on his coming marriage to Miss Bessie McDonough of Salem. The young couple will probably settle in Beverly.

Joseph O'Neil of China, N. Y., is again manager of the American Express Co. at Pride's this season. Thomas Larson has also entered the company's employ at Pride's.

Miss Linehan of Salem, who has for several years been employed as bookkeeper in Daniels' market in Central square, this week concluded her services with the company, much to the sincere regret of her many friends won by her kindly and courteous treatment of the patrons of the market. Miss Margaret Sullivan of Salem is succeeding her.

The plumbing on the houses of F. L. Woodbury, Theodore A. Holmes and Dr. James M. Jackson, is being done by Wilbur J. Pierce, the Central square plumber. He is also installing additional heating apparatus at Frank Seabury's and the new Winn home at Manchester, which is being built by Howard A. Doane.

BEVERLY FARMS, June 12.

At the meeting of the Preston Post 188, G. A. R., it was voted that the Post extend a vote of thanks to the Rev. C. S. Pond and the choir of the Second Baptist church for services, Mrs. Otis H. Luke, Mrs. J. B. Dow and many others, whose names we did not get, for beautiful flowers. Also to the W. R. C., 93, Associates, Firemen, school children and all others, that assisted the Post on Memorial Day.

BEVERLY FARMS

Gordon Smith has apprenticed himself to Howard A. Doane, contractor and builder, for the purpose of learning the carpenter trade.

The two-horse spraying outfit has been spraying the trees about the Farms most effectively and has been of considerable interest to the passers-by.

Between fifty and sixty of the Beverly Farms people went to Manchester, Thursday evening to enjoy the concert, given by the Salem Cadet band, on the common.

The Beverly Farms house is under the personal management of the proprietor, Edward McGann, and has undergone considerable renovation, besides being newly painted.

Tomorrow morning Rev. Clarence Strong Pond, will preach at the Baptist church on "The Religion of a Little Child." In the evening will be held the Children's concert.

The pony advertised by James J. Nugent in last week's issue of the BREEZE, was sold by him the first of the week. In another column, Mr. Nugent is advertising the sale of another horse.

A new industry has been added at the Farms, whereby one may have one's shoes polished for five cents, a nickle. The shoe dealer and repairer, who conducts the little shop on West street, has added this feature to his business.

The many Farms friends of Miss Mildred Caldwell of Lexington, sympathizes with her in the loss of her mother who passed away the first of the week. George Obear, Mrs. John Daniels and Miss Barbara Daniels attended the funeral.

Thursday afternoon the Beverly Farms depot "Fire Brigade" were again called into service, when a spark from the 3 o'clock train started a lively little fire on the shed-roof. It is only a matter of time when one of these fires will be started during the night, and at such time when no one is around to discover it. Certainly something should be done to prevent a danger of this kind.

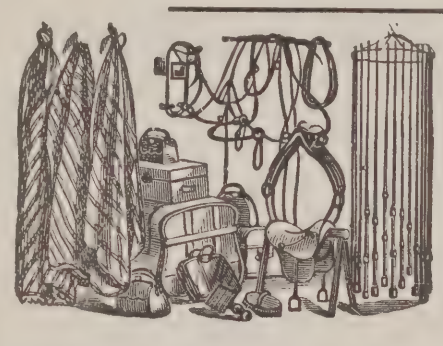

From all sides comes the query, "Is Beverly Farms going to have its usual Fourth of July celebration? We hope so." The committee, who, in the past, have given the Farms a celebration each year that has been pleasing to all and has given everyone a good time, is composed of representative business men and citizens. While it has conferred a vast amount of work on them, the affair has annually been a decided success, and has now become something to be looked forward to with much pleasure and interest. Should, for any reason, this celebration be omitted, there is no doubt, but that it would cause general disappointment.

F. W. Varney and Miss M. E. White have been granted licenses to sell fireworks on July 1, 2, 3 and 4 in this section of the city.

The querry is heard: Where are the settees that are usually out on the railroad station platform this time of year?

The Girls' club will give an entertainment in the Baptist church next Thursday evening, June 18. A very attractive program has been arranged, after which cake, candy and ice cream will be for sale. Tickets 15 cents.

The fire department was called out Monday afternoon for a brush fire at the dump beside the railroad at the Beach street crossing. The flames spread quite rapidly and the firemen found they had quite a stubborn fire to fight for over half an hour in the baking sun.

Richard Mellin, coachman at Mrs. Thomas Pierce's, was thrown from his horse Tuesday afternoon and had his leg broken, as the result of the horse being frightened by an automobile. Mr. Mellin was taken to the Beverly hospital in the ambulance. The horse, too, was badly cut up and was tended by Dr. J. J. Riordan.

Pilgrim Fathers' Notes.

Edwin O. Foster, supreme governor of the U. O. P. F., has made the following deputy appointments of interest in this vicinity:

John West colony, Beverly Farms, Roswell C. Richardson of Salem.

William Jeffery colony of Manchester, Mrs. Lestella McLaughlin of Lynn.

Willard B. Publicover of Beverly Farms has been appointed deputy of the Swampscott colony, and Patrick H. Boyle of Manchester, deputy of John Endicott colony of Salem.

Telephone Changes.

An important change in telephone circles in this vicinity goes into operation next week, when all the so-called "long-haul toll traffic" of Beverly, Peabody, Danvers, Marblehead, Hamilton, Essex, Beverly Farms, Manchester and Magnolia will be done at the Salam exchange. In other words the Salem exchange will be the operating centre of all long-distance tolls from the above named places.

In perfecting the above plan, 16 new lines have been "cut over" between Magnolia and Salem, and four new trunks "cut over" for Manchester. Heretofore Manchester has handled Magnolia toll calls.

W. W. Lufkin, private secretary to Congressman A. P. Gardner, has been appointed as one of the four Massachusetts men named as assistant sergeants-at-arms at the Republican convention to be held in Chicago next week.

On Thursday Patrick Nason, a former resident of Beverly Farms, passed away at Bar Harbor, Maine. Mr. Nason was 35 years old and for a number of years plied his trade of harness maker here. He leaves two brothers, John and Henry Nason, besides relatives in Ireland.

The warm weather of the past week has made the temperature of the water at West Beach, decidedly tempting to the lovers of sea bathing, and all through the week there has been quite a party of young people enjoying this pleasant pastime. The moonlight evenings have also proved an incentive for quite a number of motor boat parties.

Councilman A. P. Loring, jr., will entertain at the Hasty Pudding club, Cambridge, on Harvard Class day.

Mrs. Charles Freeman (May Batchelder) of Boston is the guest of her sister, Mrs. George H. Wyatt, at East Wenham.

The object of the Beverly Farms Atheletic club—a large party and a good time---was fully realized at their social and dance in Neighbor's hall, last evening.

A large delegation of the members from the Farms fire department, joined last Sunday with the other city firemen in attending their annual memorial service, held in Beverly.

That portion of Hale street running through the business section of the Farms, has been macadamized during the past two weeks by the street department, and is greatly appreciated by the traveling public in general. The various catch basins of the drainage system have also received attention.

The Rowley Brothers' band, which for the past five years, has played at the Fourth of July celebrations, have made application for the contract again this year. The players are now at their best, having been under the personal tuition, during the winter of Prof. Eben H. Bailey, a Boston musician of considerable note. Clark's Military band of Gloucester has also put in application for the contract.

Miss Annie McCafferty of Philadelphia is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Thomas Neville, on Hale street.

Miss Dolly Wyatt, who has been living in Boston with her aunt during the winter, returned to her home this week.

One may now receive his mail at the Beverly Farms postoffice on Sunday, the mails arriving at 9 in the morning and at 3 in the afternoon, at which hours, the office is open to the public.

Mrs. William Gerrish and her daughter Mildred, who have been enjoying a vacation at Kittery, Me., returned home this week. As Mr. Gerrish has not yet fully recovered from his recent illness, he will remain over for another week.

The Sarah W. Whitman club were entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mary Bennett, Hale street. Nearly all the members of the club were present and the usual afternoon work was performed. Owing to next Wednesday coming on June 17th, the meeting will be omitted, but on June 24th, the club will meet with the president, Mrs. William Choate Webster, on Hale street.

Successful Entertainment.

The entertainment given by the Colonial Stock Co., in Neighbor's hall, Wednesday evening, for the benefit of St. Margaret's church, was a decided success. A large number were present and the acting was very well executed, reflecting great credit on all concerned.

The work of Miss Connolly, in particular, is worthy of mention, and her efforts were crowned by the hearty congratulations of her friends. The following is the cast of characters:

Mrs. Caroline Lovering.

Mrs. Caroline Lovering, widow of the late Daniel Lovering, passed away at her home on Hale street, Beverly Farms, last Saturday at the age of 80 years. She was the daughter of the late Timothy Marshall and was the last among the natives of her generation. Mrs. Lovering was very well known and left many friends. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, at her late residence and the body interred in the Beverly Farms cemetery. Among the many floral tributes, was a large bouquet of Jack roses presented by the pupils of the Winchester High school, of which her son, Edward Lovering, is principal.

NORTH SHORE BREEZE

MANCHESTER, MASS., SATURDAY, JUNE 20, 1908.

GYPSY MOTH WORK ON THE NORTH SHORE.

[The following statement on the gypsy moth work on the North Shore, and calling attention to the seriousness of the situation, is made by Col. Wm. D. Sohier.]

We started on the work in March with 25 men, and increased up to a force of 420 men. We have treated by clearing and burning the underbrush and ground, over 1000 acres, having 420 men at work at the end of that time. Good forestry work was done, the brush cleared and burned and all nests creosoted by the tree-climbers.

We have found about 900 more acres which are more or less thickly infested, although some of them have not very many moth nests, but we have been unable to treat them as yet.

The first $30,000 were provided by agreement between Acting Governor Draper, A. H. Kirkland, Supt. Gypsy Moth Commission, the City of Beverly, the Town of Manchester and the Summer Residents Committee consisting of Oliver Ames, Charles A. Tyler, and Col. W. D. Sohier, as follows: The State contributed $10,000, the City of Beverly $5,000, the Town of Manchester $5,000, and the Summer Residents Committee $10,000. This substantially paid for the work up to the time when spraying was necessary.

Four large spraying machines were bought from the fund, and have been constantly in use since. Where the woods have been cleared up and treated, they are each capable of spraying about 10 to 15 acres a day. In the worst colonies, of course, many nests were not treated, and there has been some defoliation, very noticably near Montserrat and the Beaver Pond colonies and Beverly, and some stripping in Manchester. Here we have endeavored to spread a protective belt around the colonies so that the caterpillars will be killed when they move outside and begin to eat. Mr. Kirkland estimates that this work will save a great many trees, and will lessen the cost for next year.

A subsequent agreement was made whereby the State provided $5,000. and the Summer Residents Committee $5000, to pay for the spraying, and this sum has enabled us to continue the work up to the present time. More money will be needed shortly, or it is inevitable that the North Shore woods, which form the chief beauty of Beverly and Manchester, will be destroyed, as one stripping of the pine or hemlock trees absolutely kills them. The Summer Residents Committee raised something over $20,000 by subscription, and it hopes that many residents who have not yet subscribed will do so when they realize the actual conditions.

The colonies extending as they do—a good many colonies over 100 acres each—from Montserrat in Beverly along through Witch Woods to Pride's Crossing, back to West Beach and Beverly Farms by West Beach Hill in Brookwood Road and elsewhere, back to West Manchester, one large one in the middle of Manchester, and two on the Manchester road, as well as other areas down by Manchester Cove near Magnolia station and up on the Gloucester line—would have entirely defoliated all the trees on the shore this summer if the work had not been begun when it was, and vigorously pushed.

It must be remembered that any infested area, when the nests hatch out, only provides enough food for the caterpillars which hatch upon that area, to last them for two or three weeks. The trees are then all defoliated and the caterpillars have to migrate in every direction in order to find food. They then spread as an army, covering the ground like a carpet, and defoliate all the trees in the neighborhood. By this time they are larger and require more food each day, and the number of acres that a colony will defoliate in a year, as the caterpillars grow up, is from 6 to 10 times the area upon which they were hatched. As there were 1000 acres that were badly infested, it can be readily seen that there were more than enough caterpillars that would have been hatched out if this work had not been done, to have defoliated and destroyed substantially all the woods in Beverly and Manchester at least.

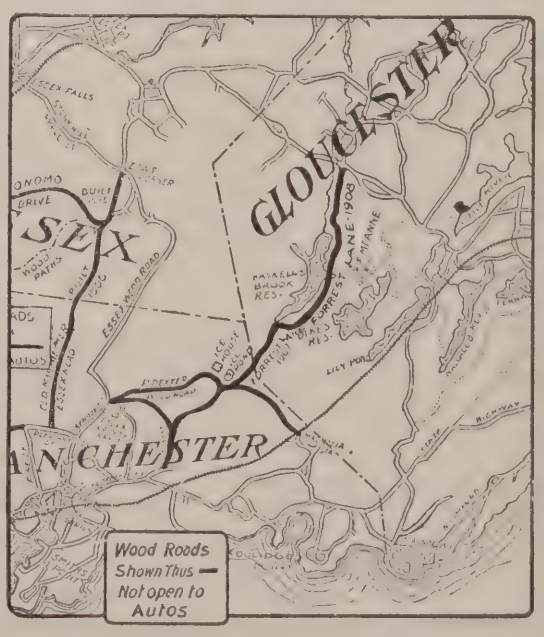

(A map of the infested area was to have been printed but did not arrive from the engraver in time. It will be printed next week.—ED.)

New Train Schedule.

The summer arrangement of trains goes into effect next Monday. We regret that we are unable to print a corrected schedule in this issue, the necessary changes not being at hand up to Friday morning. As a matter of fact the schedule is practically the same as last year, and differs but very little from the present arrangement. No new trains are added, with the exception of a Saturday afternoon train leaving Boston at 1.15 and returning leaves Rockport at 2.50. While there are slight changes in one or two cases of a minute or two, there is no material change in any of the trains except that which usually goes up the branch between six and seven at night. This train will go about 20 minutes earlier, and will leave Manchester for Boston at 6.23, and Beverly Farms at 6.27.

Col. William D. Sohier, head of the movement for opening up old wood roads all along the North Shore announces that Forrest Lane, (Road No. 2) is now passable for carriages and riding. The new road leads from Forest street, Manchester, and Mr. Dexter's road, along by Haskell's Pond, West Gloucester, about three miles, to the electric car line running between Gloucester and Essex. The hill at the dam and the whole road will be improved later. This is the first of the woods roads to be opened up in the Gloucester section. The general plan includes the opening up of several more in connection with the one already opened.

The accompanying cut, showing Forrest Lane and connecting woods roads, was loaned through courtesy of Col. Sohier.

The report of A. U. McCormick, caretaker at Singing Beach, for the week ending Sunday, June 14, shows that during the week 278 persons used the public bath house. The warm weather of Saturday and Sunday brought out great numbers to the beach, where they laid around on the sand or splashed about in the water. On Sunday Mr. McCormick reports 67 using the bath house, while on Satarday, the number reached 73. The average temperature of the water during the week was 63 degrees, the lowest being 60 and the highest (Sunday) 65.

An exciting incident at Singing Beach Sunday, in which a score or more bathers participated, was the running aground of Arthur W. Stevens yacht at high tide. Mr. Stevens and his companions worked hard to get the yacht off, but to no avail. At last a fisherman's launch put in toward the beach, but even then the yacht could not be moved. Finally the bathers all along the beach came to the rescue, and augmented by Town Treasurer Stanley's speedy launch, all tried to push the boat off into deeper water, but the efforts of them all were to no avail as the ebbing tide left the yacht more firmly imbedded. The yacht's draught was 5 foot 10 inches. On the Sunday night tide (9.30 o'clock) the boat was put off. An auto party came down to the beach to see the boat being pulled off and added to the excitement by getting the auto stuck in the sand so that it took about an hour to get it out.

Conomo tribe of Red Men at their regular meeting Wednesday evening elected officers as follows: Levi Harvie, prophet; Frederick C. Dougherty, sachem; Henry A. Moulton, senior sagamore; Harry S. Tappan, junior sagamore; representatives to the Great Council, Leonard Andrews and George Gould. The tribe voted to hold a field day, or basket picnic, at Tuck's Point some day about the middle of July to which the wives and lady friends of members will be invited.

Miss Ethel Stanley has been spending the week in Chelsea with her sister, Mrs. Roderick Macdonald.

Mrs. T. W. Long returned Sunday from a stay of several weeks in Exeter, N. H., much improved in health.

Mrs. George Gould and little child left Monday for a visit of two or three weeks among relatives in Lewiston, Me.

Edward Bradley is running one of L. A. Dunn's express wagons to Salem. Mr. Dunn is taking a short vacation beginning with the coming week.

Miss Devina Campbell of Boston and Miss Katherine Brady of Salem were guests over the 17th of Miss Jessie Macgregor, at West Manchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford B. Goodwin have returned from their honeymoon trip to Moosehead Lake, Me., and are now cozily settled in their cottage, 39 School street, where they will be at home to callers after September 1.

The marriage of Rev. E. Hersey Brewster and Miss Libbie A. Dunn will be solemnized in the Baptist church next Wednesday at 12 o'clock. A reception will follow at the church, and not at the home of the bride as we stated last week.

T. C. Rowe put his new motor boat in the water last Saturday night, at the Town wharf. The "Mardy" is a trim looking boat, 21 feet long, of cedar, with mahogany trimmings, and with canopied top. Mr. Rowe built her himself, in the small building rear of his residence in Central square.

The graduation exercises of the Story High School will be held in the Town hall next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The graduates are: Flossie P. Allen, Mary P. Dodge, Joseph E. Floyd, Samuel Knight, Edith E. Northrup, Willard L. Rust, Alice L. Tappan, Edward L. Wheaton. The parts will be taken as follows: Willard Rust, salutatory; Edward Wheaton, valedictoty; Edith Northrup, history; Joseph Floyd, prophecy; ode—words by Alice Tappan, music by Samuel Knight.

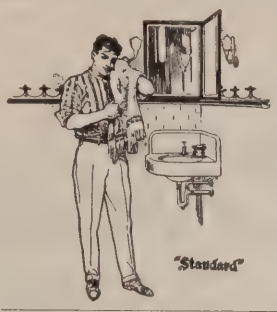

The next in the series of Band concerts being given at intervals of two weeks on the Common in Manchester by the Salem Cadet Band will be given next Wednesday evening. It is to be hoped that the Manchester people appreciate these concerts enough to use their influence in making the young men and boys realize that the common, on band concert nights in particular, is not an open air playground, but a place, on this occasion, where the general public come to hear a concert by one of the finest bands in the country, the privilege being granted through the beneficence of the voters in making an appropriation of $500 each year for this purpose.

A party of High school boys and girls spent the 17th at one of the islands in the harbor.

Mr. and Mrs. George Goldsmith and two little children spent the 17th in town visiting Mr. Goldsmith's mother and sister.

James Macgregor is leaving Manchester next Friday and sails from New York Saturday on the Carmania for Liverpool, and thence to the north of Scotland, where he will spend several weeks visiting at his old home and in revisiting the scenes of his younger days. It is 37 years since Mr. Macgregor paid a visit to his old home. He will be away six weeks or more.

The handsome St. Bernard dog which was advertised for sale by W. W. Harding, and which has often attracted much attention as it came down from West Manchester in the winter drawing Mr. Harding's little son on his sled, has been sold to local parties who are interested in a mine in California, and was shipped to the mine as a "guardian of the peace" Monday.

Mrs. John Caswell has leased her estate at Pride's Crossing to Frank P. Frazier and family of Chicago.

Oliver W. Mink of Boston was the guest over the week-end, of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wood at Manchester. Mr. Mink is now at the Essex County club for the summer.

Among newcomers to Manchester this summer are the Dr. E. R. Campbells of Flint, Mich. They have leased the Hood cottage at Norton's Point, occupied last season by the Vice-President Fairbanks' family.

We understand that the E. V. R. Thayers are to have the Gardiner M. Lane cottage at Dana's Beach, Manchester, this summer, in the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Lane, who sailed from Boston Tuesday. Last year the Thayers had a cottage on Steven's Hill.

At high noon, Tuesday, Miss Isabel Morison, daughter of Mrs. Frank Morison, wedded Frank Washburn Grinnell in the Arlington Street church, Boston. After the ceremony had been performed by the Rev. Paul Revere Frothingham, a small reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, at 150 Commonwealth avenue. Mrs. Clifton Long Bremer, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, George Morison.

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Tucker closed their residence at Chestnut Hill, the first of the week and came to Manchester, Tuesday, with their little daughter. They will spend the summer at "The Moorings," with Mr. Tucker's parents Mr. and Mrs. William A. Tucker. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. House of Austin, Texas, Mrs. Tucker's parents, also arrived Tuesday, and are at the Oceanside hotel at Magnolia, together with Miss House, Mrs. Tucker's sister. About the middle of July, the Houses will sail for Europe, where they will spend the balance of the summer as last season.

The H. P. McKeans arrived at their summer estate in Pride's Crossing, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Fabyan of Boston will move to their summer home on Harbor street, West Manchester, on July 1.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wood have closed their country place in Andover and moved down to Pride's permanently, last Saturday.

Mrs. Franklin Remington and daughter, Miss Willet, of New York have been guests the past week of Mrs. L. Z. Leiter at Manchester.

It is reported that William A. Burnham and family will occupy the Gardner cottage at Mingo Beach, Pride's, this summer, and that they will arrive shortly.

Sidney Booth was in Manchester Monday and Tuesday, collecting his belongings at the Masconomo house, preparatory to its being taken over by its new lessees. Mrs. Schofield, Mr. Booth's mother, who has been very ill, is now feeling much better, although still weak.

Dr. Morton Prince is to have Miss Fannie Powell Mason's summer cottage at Beverly Cove again this year, despite former plans to spend the summer at Beverly Farms. Miss Mason has decided not to spend the summer at her North Shore estate and will go to her country place in Vermont for part of the summer.

Mrs. Chickering of Fifth Ave., New York, is visiting her neice, Mrs. Gordon Prince at her home in West Manchester prior to her going to Bar Harbor, Maine, for the summer. Mrs. Prince will move to Beverly Farms next week where she will remain for the rest of the summer. Mrs. George Fabyan will occupy the Prince estate as usual this season. Gordon Prince has completed his year's work at Harvard, and on Wednesday was whip in a coaching party that went to the races at the Brookline Country Club.

Society Notes

Mrs. E. L. Davis has arrived at the Wheelwright cottage at Pride's for the season.

Joseph Leiter and his bride arrived at Manchester Wednesday and after a fortnight's stay here they go to Chicago. They are planning to sail for Europe on August 20th.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Gardner and two little children of New York are among new cottagers in Manchester this summer. They are occupying the Proctor Hill cottage, and are among the recent arrivals.

The Hon. A. Shuman of Beverly Cove has been spending the week with a party of friends at the Curtis hotel in Lenox. Mr. Shuman left "Hetmere" early in the week, with two autos, and toured to the Berkshire's, where they crossed Jacob's Ladder from Becket into the Housatonic Valley.

Mrs. Thomas W. Pierce and her young son had a close call from serious accident Monday afternoon. They were out driving in a runabout with the grey mule of which Mrs. Pierce is fond for driving, and when coming along the stretch in the West Manchester road, just before reaching the fountain, the bit broke and the mule started on a gallop. Mrs. Pierce called loudly for someone to stop the runaway. The depot wagon man at the West Manchester station, Mr. Foster, happened along at the instant, and jumping from his wagon made an effort to stop the mule. As he did so the animal lunged toward the sidewalk, struck a tree and cleared himself, with harness and shafts, from the wagon. This was near Jersey Lane. Mrs. Pierce and her little boy were thrown into the street and those who saw the accident expected she would be picked up terribly hurt, but fortunately nothing more than a few bruises and a small cut on the head, and a bruised ankle resulted from the fall. The little lad, who by the way had recently been operated upon for a slight trouble in the neck, and is still under the care of a trained nurse, was not hurt in the least, and though Mrs. Pierce seemed more concerned about him than herself when she was picked up, the little chap only cunningly inquired, whimpering, "Where's my shovel?" He had carried his little sand pail and shovel on the drive with him. Mrs. Pierce walked into Mrs. Wm. A. Russell's alongside and Dr. Porter, who happened along, attended her. She was taken home to Beverly Farms in Mrs. Moulton's auto which was one of the dozen or more that came along about the time of the accident.

A MOST

Interesting Spot

Just off the famous Newburyport Turnpike, on a quiet shady lane, in a region rich in historic interest, is FERN-CROFT INN, a charming resting place for the tired traveler in auto or carriage, a most comfortable dining resort patronized by the best sort of people. The new Fern-Croft Inn is in every way the counterpart of the old, which was destroyed by fire last year. The specialty of Fern-Croft Inn, that has made its fame almost world-wide, is its chicken dinners, consisting of a whole broiled chicken to each person, served at $1.50 per plate. Society Notes.

Mrs. George D. Howe arrived at her estate, on Smith's Point, the first of the week.

Mrs. John Caswell and children arrived at the Oceanside in Magnolia this week to remain most of the summer. The Caswell estate at Pride's has been leased for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Lupton of New York are among the new-comers to Manchester this summer. They are occupying the Winch cottage, and have with them for the summer their married daughter, Mrs. Charles Courtnay Hoge, and Mr. Hoge of Hartford, Conn. Mr. and Mrs. Lupton will remain until late September.

Mr. and Mrs. Eliot Sumner were at their cottage on Smith's Point a few days the first of the week. They have since returned to their country estate at Ruxton, Md. Senator and Mrs. Beveridge are expected tomorrow or Monday. The Senator's private secretary arrived Thursday. Mrs. Beveridge has been in Boston all the week, while the Senator has been attending the convention in Chicago.

Quincy A. Shaw.

A death that has thrown a number of North Shore people into morning is that of Quincy Adams Shaw, who passed away at his home on Perkins street, Jamaica Plain, Friday morning, June 12. Mr. Shaw had been accustomed for a number of years past to spend his summers at the "Commons," his beautiful estate a Pride's Crossing. He was a graduate of Harvard, class of '45, and shortly after leaving college, entered his father's office. Later he went abroad and on his return, was married November 30, 1860, to Miss Pauline Agassiz, daughter of Professor Agassiz, the famous naturalist.

Mr. Shaw was promotor and first president of the Calumet and Hecla Mining company of Boston. In the will which was filed Tuesday, Mr. Shaw left in addition to a specified sum, all real estate, both at Pride's Crossing, Jamaica Plain, and elsewhere, to Mrs. Shaw. The residue of the estate was divided among the four children, Mrs. L. Cartaret Fenno, Mrs. Harry Pratt McKean, Quincy A. Shaw, jr., and Robert Gould Shaw, 2nd. Francis C. Welch, Quincy A. Shaw, jr., and Robert F. Herrick have been named as executors and trustees.

The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at four, at his late residence. Rev. William H. Lyon, D. D., of the First Parish church, Brookline, officiated. Interment was made in the Forest Hills cemetery.

Society Notes

F. A. Morse of Boston has taken the Newton cottage at Magnolia for the season.

Rev. Charles Wadsworth and family of Philadelphia arrived at their cottage on Oakes avenue Thursday.

Miss Georgina Lowell of Boston, arrived at her summer home on Lexington avenue, Magnolia, Wednesday.

Mrs. F. Gordon Morrill of Boston, is expected at "Pine Knoll," her summer residence on Hesperus avenue, Magnolia, next Monday.

Miss Helen O. Bigelow who has been abroad all winter and is now in London, is expected to return the last of this month and open the Bigelow cottage on Hesperus avenue.

Miss N. L. Greenleaf of Boston is at the Butler cottage, Magnolia, for the summer. Miss Greenleaf has been accustomed, in previous years, to pass the summer at the Hesperus.

Although the air proved cool, Wednesday, still with a good sailing breeze, many pleasure craft were seen off Magnolia scudding before the wind, their gunwales awash and the foam flying over their bows. Launches and motor boats chugged hither and thither, without regard to wind or tide, while the stately steam yachts plowed steadily on, making an everchanging panorama, delightful to look upon.

Miss Virginia Selfridge has opened her laundry, for first class work, situated on the premises of the Magnolia Tea house, between Norman avenue and Flume street. Miss Selfridge, who was very successful last year, and was obliged to refuse orders has now enlarged her facilities and will be able to give complete satisfaction to all who entrust their work to her care. A specialty will be made of "hurry orders" and of gentlemen's linen, which will also be mended when occasion demands. Arrangements have been made for receiving and delivering orders at any point between Gloucester and Beverly Farms.

The Magnolia Tea house opened officially on Monday. The tables, with their snowy linen and polished silver, attractively arrayed about the broad veranda, looked very pleasing and inviting. Within doors, the cosey little private dining rooms, appeared very tempting to those who enjoy seclusion. Amongst the many guests who have partaken of the hospitality of the Tea House, are: Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Olcott, Dr. Wm. A. Rolfe of Boylston street with an automobile party and Dr. Shrigely also of Brookline. Music had been arranged for Wednesday afternoon, but unfortunately the players disappointed them.

Society Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Treat Paine, 2nd, of Brookline, arrived yesterday at their summer home on Coolidge's Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Willet of Norwood, have arrived at their pleasant summer home, "Crown Cliff," Coolidge's Point.

Mrs. Frank Chick entertained a luncheon party at her Magnolia cottage Thursday afternoon. Covers were spread for ten.

Miss Cora H. Clark and Miss Caroline B. Clark, daughters of the late Rev. James Freeman Clark, of Jamaica Plain, have arrved at their cottage on Coolidge's Point, for the season.

Theodore Roosevelt, jr., son of the President, has been spending the week in Manchester, a guest of his class mate at Harvard, Charles A. Munn. The young men came down from Cambridge in time to spend the week-end and have been having a good time all the week automobiling, enjoying the bathing at Singing Beach, tennis playing at the Essex County club, etc. The Munns come from Washington. Mr. Roosevelt returned to Cambridge yesterday. He is a three year man at Harvard and receives his degree this year.

Miss Clara Curtis and Miss Curtis, returned to their summer home at Crow Island, Manchester Cove, Monday after spending the winter and spring in travel. They reached Boston Monday morning from Liverpool. In their travels the past winter the Misses Curtis have been in South America and also in various parts of Europe, being in the Portugal capital two days before the assassination of the King and the Crown Prince last winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lee Higginsón, jr., with their two children, have just arrived from London and came down to Coolidge's Point today. They will occupy what is commonly designated the "White cottage," which was presented to Mrs. Higginson (Hettie Sargent) by her grandfather T. Jefferson Coolidge, at the time of her marriage to Mr. Higginson. Mr. Coolidge is at present touring Europe in his auto and will not return until the last of August. Mrs. Lucius Manlius Sargent, Mrs. Higginson's mother, will spend the summer at her father's estate. Toward the end of the season, there will be a very pretty christening of Mr. and Mrs. Higginson's younger child by Bishop Lawrence on his return from Europe.

Col. Cranmore Wallace is having built at his estate in Beverly Cove a concrete and stone garage.

The North Shore Grill and original Tea house opened this morning at 12 o'clock. The usual large number of guests were served on the beautifully laid out Corridor garden, and on the broad veranda encircling the grill. Many had tables reserved in advance for them and everything opened up in its customary shipshape manner. Table d'hote fish or chicken dinners are served from 12 to 3. From four to six, tea is served on the tables artistically arranged about on the lawn of the charming Italian garden. The management anticipates a very successful summer and has done everything conceivable for the comfort and convenience of her guests.

The "Indian Store" on Lexington avenue, opposite the Colonnade, Magnolia, opened for the summer on Monday. One entering finds it conveniently divided in two sections, one occidental and the other oriental. On the right is a many colored display of indian articles of all descriptions, together with souvenir post cards, burnt wood work and many other novelties. On the left are the Japanese vases and pottery work, Japanese gongs and other unique specimens of oriental work. In the rear are mechanical toys of every discription, and looming above all the famous and popular "Teddy" bear.

Society Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wyman arrived at their West Manchester cottage Thursday.

Mrs. James McMillan arrived at Eagle-head, Manchester, Wednesday from Detroit. Miss Grace Jarvis, her granddaughter, accompanied her and will spend the summer here. Mrs. McMillan's daughter, Lady Harrington, has changed her plans, and will not come to America this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Cotting and son Charles, went over to New York yesterday morning to attend a wedding, but will return to West Manchester again tonight. They moved down to their cottage last week. Mrs. Cotting's sister, Mrs. H. G. O. Colby, and Admiral Colby, are coming on to West Manchester next week, where they will occupy the Sheldon cottage on Harbor st.

C. E. Hodges and family moved down to West Manchester Wednesday. They are occupying the Chase cottage.

The Masconomo to be Reopened.

The Masconomo house, Manchester, will be opened again this season. The lease was signed Monday night and New York parties will assume control. When the hotel will be opened has not yet been given out, but it will probably be in the near future.

Nine-o'-Hearts, owned by Reginarld Fitz won the special polo pony race at the Country club races in Brookline, Monday. He was entered in the three-eighths mile and had a field of five against him, but the pony was in excellent condition, as a result of the careful training at the beach in Manchester by Mr. Schilliday, Mr. Fitz's coachman.

MANCHESTER has come in for a small bit of notoriety in the dispatches from Chicago the past week and the Republican convention, in connection with the mention on several occasions of Senator Shaw's name. The Record of Wednesday said that: "Essex county is working even here to make the republican barbecue at Point of Pines July 16 a tremendous success. Thursday night Senator James F. Shaw of Manchester will give a dinner at the Auditorium to all Essex county republicans now in Chicago. The dinner is intended to boom the barbecue, which was originally suggested in that section of the state."

IT looks very much as though Manchester's tax rate would be considerably higher this year than last, and for a number of years, in fact. County expenses are considerably higher, and the County tax will be higher as a consequence. And now comes the report from the committee on ways and means in the House that the state tax this year will be $5,500,000, an increase of nearly a million and a half dollars. Manchester last year paid a state tax of $15,360, and the assessment this year will be $21,120,—nearly $6000 increase. Beverly last year paid $28,800, and this year the assessment will be $39,600. In Gloucester the figures are $25,480 and $35,035.

Annual Rose Show.

The annual Rose Show of the North Shore Horticultural society is to be held next week on Tuesday and Wednesday. The same as last year the show is to be held on the lawn at the Essex County club, in a large tent. The exhibition will be open to the public at two o'clock on Tuesday and will be open on Wednesday all day. The price of admission will be 25 cents, but in the evening it will be 10 cents.

The show this year has promise of being one of the best in the history of the society. One reason for this is because of the splendid weather for flower culture all the month of June thus far.

The committee request that those who desire to enter for the exhibit should notify the secretary, James Salter, Manchester, as soon as possible.

Insurance Men Have Outing at Manchester.

The members of the Massachusetts Mutual Fire Insurance Union will hold their customary summer meeting at Wyndhurst, the summer residence of Mrs. Hattie Lee Harris, Saturday, June 20, taking the 11.45 train from Boston for Salem where autos will be in waiting to take them along that charming North Shore ride to this most fashionable seaside resort.

Weather permitting, it is a foregone conclusion that this trip will linger long and pleasantly in their memories.

MANCHESTER

The wedding of Miss Barbara Smith and Nelson Cook is to take place on Tuesday evening, June 30th.

A. C. Needham is expected back today from Wiscasset, Me., where he went Tuesday night to bring home his new auxiliary yawl, the Mahdeena.

Mrs. Sinnicks entertained the officers of the Salem Chapter of the Eastern Star at Tuck's point, Thursday, and all united in saying that they had a royally good time.

Editor Albert Vittum of the Beverly Times, delegate to the convention in Chicago the past week, remembered many of his friends in this vicinity with souvenir postals during his trip.

William Johnson, one of Manchester's venerable old gentlemen, is today celebrating his 91st birthday anniversary. Mr. Johnson is still hale and hearty and remarkably active for one of his age. He makes no formal observance of the event today, but will, no doubt, informally receive a number of his friends.

The Sarcophagus is the most popular form of cemetery memorial at this time. The name comes from the Greeks, but the style of the modern Sarcophagii is quite different from their coffin-shaped stone boxes in which they place their dead. No other style of monument gives more assurance of permanance than this. They are low and massive and may be ornate in design or severely plain. The most beautiful designs may be executed in either marble or granite. We also have the most modern machinery in which to execute this work. We have made the granite business our life study. Two Popular New Books

"The Husbands of Edith"

By George Barr McCutcheon

A delightful little story for summer reading attractively illustrated in color by Harrison Fisher.

While he is taking the place of one woman's husband, the hero, who is really a bachelor, falls desperately in love with another woman---a situation as amusing for the reader as it is desperate for the hero.

Price 95c

"The Grey Knight"

By Mrs. Henry de la Pasture—author of Peter's Mother

The heroine is a beautiful widow and the hero a fiery Welshman whose home is a Norman Castle among his native hills. His sudden illness and her installation as nurse marks the beginning of their friendship which quickly ripens into love. His unreasonable temper causes their separation but in the end loves conquers. It is a charming love story delicately told and all the characters are strongly drawn.

Over your different forms of printed matter for those nearly out. Let us have your order for those you must have. Don't wait until the last one is used. We do work in a hurry, of course, when necessary, and deliver the job when promised, but would rather have you give us a few days; then work can be done more economically.

Any new work you may have in view—a booklet, mailing card, circular, etc., we should like to do for you, or give estimates.

WANTED--A RIDER AGENT IN EACH TOWN and district to ride and exhibit a sample Latest Model "Ranger" bicycle furnished by us. Our agents everywhere are making money fast. Write for full particulars and special offer at once.

NO MONEY REQUIRED until you receive and approve of your bicycle. We ship to anyone, anywhere in the U. S. without a cent deposit in advance, prepay freight, and allow TEN DAYS' FREE TRIAL during which time you may ride the bicycle and put it to any test you wish. If you are then not perfectly satisfied or do not wish to keep the bicycle ship it back to us at our expense and you will not be out one cent.

FACTORY PRICES We furnish the highest grade bicycles it is possible to make at one small profit above actual factory cost. You save $10 to $25 middlemen's profits by buying direct of us and have the manufacturer's guarantee behind your bicycle. DO NOT BUY a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone at any price until you receive our catalogues and learn our unheard of factory prices and remarkable special offers to rider agents.

YOU WILL BE ASTONISHED when you receive our beautiful catalogue and study our superb models at the wonderfully low prices we can make you this year. We sell the highest grade bicycles for less money than any other factory. We are satisfied with $1.00 profit above factory cost. BICYCLE DEALERS, you can sell our bicycles under your own name plate at double our prices. Orders filled the day received.

SECOND HAND BICYCLES. We do not regularly handle second hand bicycles, but usually have a number on hand taken in trade by our Chicago retail stores. These we clear out promptly at prices ranging from $3 to $8 or $10. Descriptive bargain lists mailed free.

COASTER-BRAKES, single wheels, imported roller chains and pedals, parts, repairs and equipment of all kinds at half the usual retail prices.

$8.50 HEDGETHORN PUNCTURE-PROOF SELF-HEALING TIRES A SAMPLE PAIR TO INTRODUCE, ONLY $4.80

The regular retail price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but to introduce we will sell you a sample pair for $4.80 (cash with order $4.55).

NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES

NAILS, Tacks or Glass will not let the air out. Sixty thousand pairs sold last year. Over two hundred thousand pairs now in use.

DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C. O. D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented.

Notice the thick rubber tread "A" and puncture strips "B" and "D," also rim strip "H" to prevent rim cutting. This tire will outlast any other make—SOFT, ELASTIC and EASY RIDING.

We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.55 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump. Tires to be returned at OUR expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination. We are perfectly reliable and money sent to us is as safe as in a bank. If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, wear better, last longer and look finer than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a bicycle you will give us your order. We want you to send us a trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer.

IF YOU NEED TIRES don't buy any kind at any price until you send for a pair of Hedgethorn Puncture-Proof tires on approval and trial at the special introductory price quoted above; or write for our big Tire and Sundry Catalogue which describes and quotes all makes and kinds of tires at about half the usual prices.

DO NOT WAIT but write us a postal today. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone until you know the new and wonderful offers we are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.

Annual Reunion.

The annual reunion of the parishioners of the Sacred Heart church was held in the Town hall, Manchester, last evening. One of the largest crowds ever seen on the floor was present. Prior to the dance addresses were made by Rev. Fr. Wm. F. Powers, and the Hon. A. W. Nolan, register of probate of Boston, both of whom were enthusiastically received. Fr. Powers spoke of the work of building the new church edifice, and for the benefit of those who were not acquainted with the condition he stated the exact financial condition, how much had been received for the new church, through what sources, how spent, and how much was still needed.

Hon. Mr. Nolan's remarks were along a patriotic vein. He spoke of Charlestown, his home, of its early history and of the celebration of Bunker Hill day, what it meant, and urged more real patriotic sentiment on the part of every citizen of the country of whatever nationality or creed.

The hall was beautifully decorared with flowers and greenery, the stage being turned into a bower of greenery, cut flowers, beautifully colored and fragrant smelling being in profusion. The chandeliers and lights around the hall were decorated with greenery and gave a pretty setting for the occasion. The decorations were in charge of John Desmond, Joseph Clarke, James Kinsella and Mr. Reilly. Refreshments were served free during the evening by young ladies of the Sunday School, and consisted of ice cream, cake and punch. Long's orchestra furnished excellent music during the evening.

MANCHESTER

Charles L. Bedell, well known in Manchester, as he formerly worked here for some time engaged at his trade as a painter, has opened a shop in the Wonson building, on Cental street, to do all kinds of boot and shoe repairing, sell cigars and tobacco, and also a line of strictly handmade house and stable brooms. He will also sell the "Wundermop," both wet and dry, patented and made by blind men. It will be remembered that Mr. Bedell lost the use of his eye-sight some two and a half years ago from the fumes of wood alcohol used in connection with painting. Through it he was indirectly responsible for the federal legislation and the removal of the tax on wood alcohol. Since then Mr. Bedell has attended an institution for the blind and has learned the shoe repairing business, and those who have seen his work remark on its quality, and we feel safe in assuring Manchester people that Mr. Bedell's workmanship will be of the best. He will also have with him a first class shoe repairer and will be ready for business the coming week.

Manchester is to have still another business established here this summer,--or rather, two more businesses, for the store in the Kimball building, opposite the postoffice, recently vacated by Louis Collier, is to be opened the coming week as a barber shop and shoe shining establishment. A partition divides the store into two parts. James Nazarro, who conducted a shop under the post office prior to the fire two years ago, and who is now in Salem is to be in charge of the barber shop for Lucius Zollo, who has conducted a first-class shop in Danvers for the past eighteen years. Mr. Zollo says the shop will be first-class in every particular, two chairs, electrical massage, etc. Julius Ruta of Boston will take care of the shoe shining branch of the business. The shops will be ready for business the coming week. *

James B. Dow's "Sunny Side" greenhouses supplied a fine lot of hydrangeas and box-wood for the decorating of the Corinthian Yacht club, Marblehead. Mr. Dow has also furnished plants for many private grounds on Marblehead Neck.

Daniels--Gleason Co., formerly John Daniels, are adding another feature to their business in Central square,--and in the future they will be prepared to furnish fish of all kinds. A portion of their store has been set aside for this purpose and marble fittings are being installed. They expect to be ready to serve their customers next week.

This season, the deer about Magnolia have been unusually tame. Singly and in couples they have been seen in the streets, and swamps adjoining the roads, and in private yards. Only a few days ago, one party met two deer close to the entrance of the Walter J. Mitchell estate and approached within a few feet before they bounded off into the woods.

J. A. Culbert has opened his harness store here for the summer.

Beginning tomorrow, early morning mass will be held at Library hall. Members of the Catholic priesthood from Gloucester will conduct the services.

Worth's lunch opened this morning under new management. James Tarr, the new proprietor will personally superintend affairs.

Warren Knowlton was in town on Tuesday.

Gabriel Paul, of Oldtown, Maine, has arrived for the summer and is opening the indian camp on Raymond street.

Mrs. Annie M. Ryan of Jamaica Plains has opened a laundry, corner of Magnolia and Butler avenues.

Chas. Brown arrived home Thursday after a most enjoyable visit to New York city.

Miss Cahill, dressmaker, is located with Mrs. Hunt on Fuller street for the season.

Next Sunday morning a union service will be held at the summer Chapel, being led by Rev. F. J. Libby. The evening service will be held in the Village church as usual, at 8.15.

The Men's Summer club will open the middle of next week, with Mr. Theo. D. Martin of Hamilton college in charge.

The season has opened very pleasantly at the Women's club with a membership of over sixty. Whist parties and informal dances are held almost every evening.

The Village church Sunday school devoted all of last Sunday's collection to the Fresh Air Fund. Thanks to some of the older ones, the collection amounted to about $14 which will give four people a weeks' vacation at Rosemary cottage, Eliot, Maine.

Rev. W. W. Campbell, formerly of Concord, Mass., was installed as pastor of the First Congregational church in Rockport, last Tuesday evening. Geo. A. Upton, and Rev. F. J. Libby represented the Magnolia church.

Among those who attended the dancing party at Hawthorne Inn casino on Tuesday evening were Misses Clara and Maud Butler and Gilbert Crispin.

A Pain Remedy

If you would stop pain—headache, neuralgia, sciatica, stomach ache, backache, or any miserable feeling—you must over-come the nerve irritation which causes it. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills do this. They do it without nausea or disagreeable after-effects. They soothe the nerves and drive out the pain. Ask your druggist about them.

"I have never found anything as good for headache as Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They are just what they are called—a pain remedy." MRS. ROST, 1121 St. Clair St., Cleveland, Ohio.

If they fail to help, your druggist will refund the money on first package. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk.

Gardner Family Reunion.

The second annual reunion of the Gardner family will be held at Salem, next Wednesday, June 24. Dr. Frank A. Gardner of Salem is president of the association, Congressman Gardner is vice president, and Joseph A. Torrey of Manchester is one of the councillors.

The program for the day includes the following:

Starting from the Boston and Maine station at 10 o'clock, a pilgrimage will be made to leading historic buildings and sites about the city, including the Pickering Mansion, Witch House, Court Houses (where Gardner wills and other original documents will be shown), Town House Square and site of First Church, Grimshaw House, Charter Street Burying-ground (containing many Gardner tombstones), Essex Institute, Hawthorne's Birthplace, House of Seven Gables (so called) and many Gardner houses. Electric cars will then be taken to the Salem Willows where a basket lunch will be eaten in the open pavilion overlooking the harbor. Following this, the meeting of the association will be held.

All descendants, whether members of the association or not, are cordially invited to attend the reunion.

The school teachers at the Farms school celebrated the 17th by a trolly trip, starting from Montserrat.

Mrs John H. Watson opened her cottage on Everett street, Thursday for the accommodation of summer boarders.

Capt. Duncan T. Smith has sent word that the "Mickey II" arrived safely at New London, but that they run into foul weather part of their trip.

Eugene Connolly was a member of the graduation class of Phillips Exeter Academy, and received his diploma this week. A number of his friends from this vicinity attended the exercises.

Mrs. Robert Smith and her two children were passengers on the Cymric which arrived from Liverpool, Monday. Mrs. Smith has been visiting her old home in England for several months.

William Watts of Pride's Crossing has been entertaining a party of guests from western New Jersey, during the past week. One of the pleasant features of their stay, was a motor boat trip along the North Shore.

A dance and social is scheduled to take place at Neighbor's hall, Wednesday evening, July 8. The dance will be given by the North Shore club of which John Quirk and a number of Beverly Farms young men are at the head.

The mission at St. Margaret's church for women this week, has been well attended and considerable interest taken. Next week a mission for men will be held. Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons have been set aside for the children of the parish.

A Scottish dance will be held Friday evening, July 17th, under the auspices of Clan Wallace 127. This dance has, in past years proved a great attraction, the novelty of the Highland costumes and music of the bagpipes being a strong drawing card.

John West colony of Pilgrim Fathers held an open meeting last night to which were invited their friends. Supreme Governor Foster and Deputy Supreme Governor Richardson, and other high officials of the order were present, as well as representatives from the neighboring colonies. After a short business meeting the evening was given over to the entertainment committee and later refreshments were served.

The Sewing Circle connected with Preston W. R. C. met in G. A. R. hall, Tuesday afternoon. At six the party was served with supper in the banquet hall. In the evening the regular meeting of the corps was held. The corps is planning to hold a lawn party some time in July, also a fair late in August or early in September the proceeds of which will be devoted to the proposed new Memorial hall fund.

"Never Say Die"

Is an old motto, but our advice is "if you have anything worth dyeing, have it dyed." And there are so many supposedly worthless things in the way of clothing, curtains, feathers, etc., that are worth dyeing and cleaning that we would ask you to think it over seriously before throwing or giving them away, and see how nice and new-looking we can make garments that now appear to be old and shabby. And the cost is but trifling.

Miss Alice Witham, assistant at the postoffice, attended the High school dance and reception given in her home town, Rockport, Thursday.

Mrs. Margaret Lee has leased her camp at West Gloucester to out-of-town parties who were married Thursday and who are going to spend their honeymoon there.

John Pier, the popular chauffeur for Thomas M. McKee, is carrying his arm in a sling, due to an accident met with on Tuesday last while cranking an automobile. The crank "kicked" back, breaking his arm.

A quiet wedding occurred Thursday when Miss Elizabeth Donough of Salem was married to James P. H. Fullerton of this town. After a short honeymoon the young couple will reside at 25½ Atlantic avenue, Beverly, where they will be at home after September 15.

Bathing suits for ladies at Miss White's. *

There is only one mail arrival at the Farms on Sundays, and not two as we announced last week. Sunday mail arrives at 9 a. m. and the office is open from 9 to 10 o'clock. In the afternoon a mail closes for Boston at 4.30 and the office is open in this connection from 4 to 4.30.

B. I. Edwards of the Centerville section of Ward 6 has leased the small building at Pride's Crossing owned by Mrs. L. W. King and formerly occupied by Geo. W. O'Dea as an office, and will use it in connection with the sale of the products of his farm,---cut flowers, fruit and vegetables.

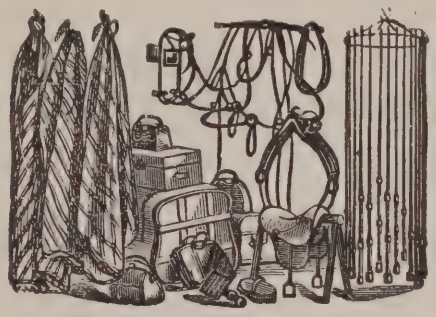

At the meetings of the Fourth of July celebration committee held Tuesday and Thursday of this week, it was voted to celebrate Independence Day as has been the custom in previous years. In order to do this it is necessary that the citizens and residents of Beverly Farms take an active interest in the matter, and aid the committee by making donations toward the necessary fund. Subscripton papers are in the hands of members of the committee, and those wishing to make contributions may do so by seeing some one of the members, or by addressing Elmer Standley, treasurer of the committee at the Beverly Farms postoffice. The members of the committee are as follows:---Edwin Cambell, chairman, Gregory P. Connolly, secretary, Elmer Standley, treasurer, F. H. Peirce, J. M. Publicover, George N. Burchsted, H. E. Morgan, F. P. Gaudreau, W. J. Peirce, E. L. Pride, J. E. McDonald, B. J. Woods, H. P. Williams, J. Frank Blaney, J. H. Linehan, Alex Carr, J. J. Toomey, F. W. Varney, and W. B. Publicover.

Rev. C. S. Pond was at Seabrook, N. H., last week and delivered a lecture before a grangers' organization.

The committee on the Beverly fire department visited the Farms, Monday, with the idea of procuring a mate to the horse driven by driver Woodbury, of the West street house, which is out of condition.

The Salem Sunday News made the following comment on one of our Beverly Farms promising young lads: "Master Richard Graver of Pride's Crossing, a pupil of Mrs. T. Eugene Goudey, is one of the youngest boy readers in the county. His success is remarkable and he has had numerous engagements at the churches and clubs in and about Salem and adjacent towns." Master Graver took part in the program presented under the auspices of the Girls' club at the Baptist church Thursday evening and delighted his audience with a remarkable representation of the "Colored Lochinvar."

BENEDICTION.

A trip that is well worth one's time, is that to the "Rosery" of Mrs. H. L. Foote at Devereux. Mrs. Foote has made a study of the culture of roses, and has now got it down to a fine point. The "Rosery" at this season of the year is at its best, although one may find roses in bloom there until November. In her gardens are over 2000 plants of 700 distinct varieties, of which 250 are the latest novelties in roses. Mrs. Foote makes a business of laying out rose beds and gardens, and has superintended the laying out of those on the estates of J. T. and W. S. Spaulding, Mrs. E. C. Swift and many others along the North Shore, not to mention those along the Swampscott shore. Mrs. Foote extends a cordial invitation to North Shore colonists to visit the "Rosery."

NORTH SHORE BREEZE

MANCHESTER, MASS., SATURDAY, JUNE 27, 1908.

ROSE AND STRAWBERRY SHOW

The annual rose and strawberry show of the North Shore Horticultural society was held on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week in a large tent on the lawn near the Essex County club house. The show was open to the public at noon on Tuesday and was open until Wednesday night.

Though held two weeks earlier than that of last year, and though lacking in number of exhibits and quantity, the show easily made up in the quality of the exhibits. The colorings were vivid and varied and the mingled fragrance of the roses, sweet peas, and other flowers, filled the air.

One of the most attractive exhibits was that of Miss Helen Fitch who won both prizes in the class for best vase of roses, any variety, arranged for effect. Miss Fitch had a strikingly tall vase filled with a most charming collection of Druschki roses, the finest white rose cultivated, with red and pink roses intermingling. Her vase of Ulrich Brunners, some of which were of the most beautiful cherry red, won her second prize in this class.

Miss Mary Bartlett (Bernard Reilly, gardener) won in the class for best basket of roses, any variety, arranged for effect. The roses were of the tea, and hybrid perpetual varieties.

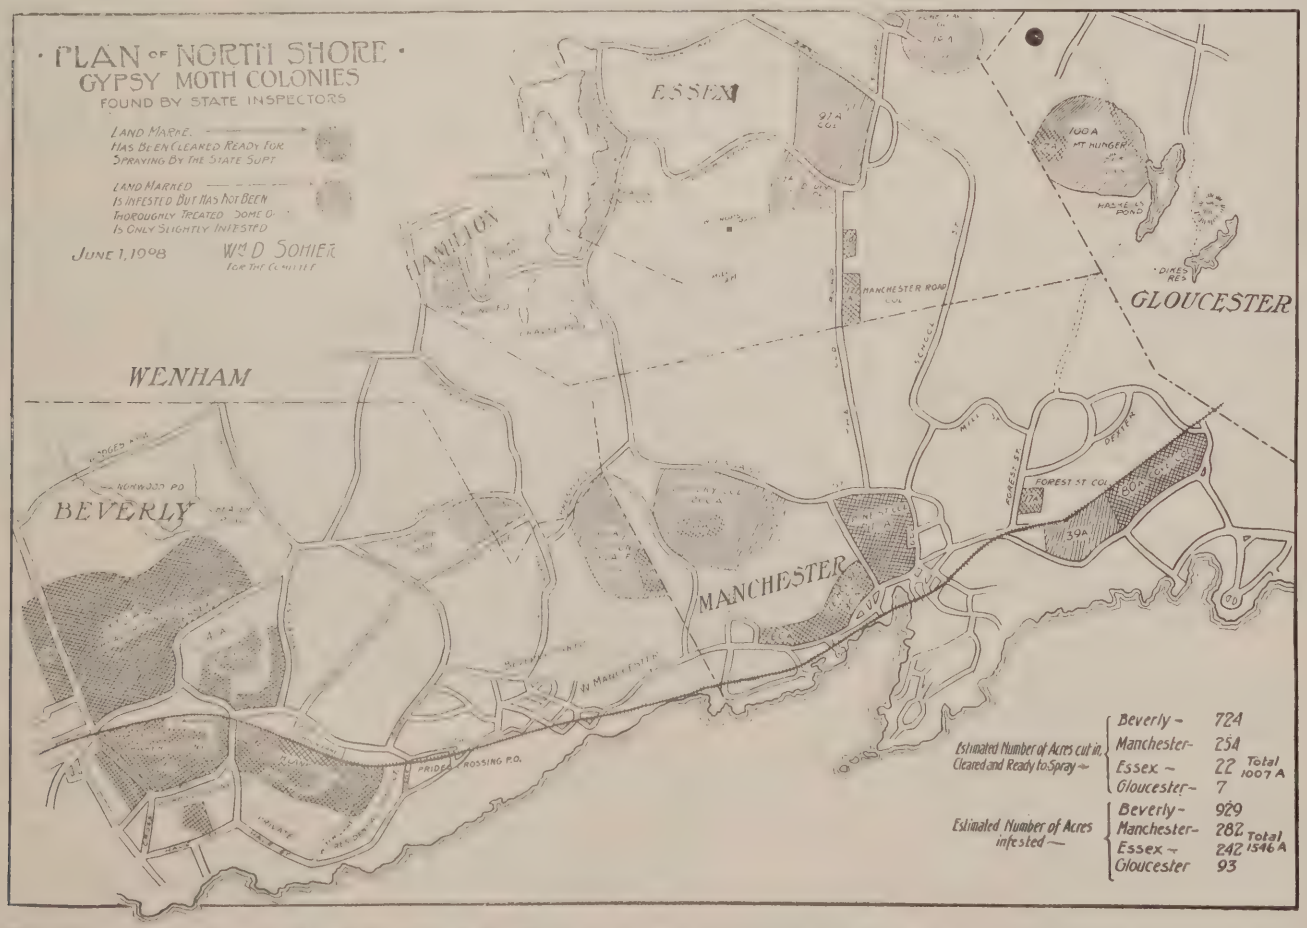

In the special class for roses, best table arranged for effect, by ladies only, Mrs. George E. Cabot (Patrick Corrigan, gardener) won the gold medal offered by W. E. Doyle of Boston. The collection was a very fine one and was very artistically arranged.

Mrs. James McMillan (F. F. Brasch, gardener) won the silver cup offered by R. & J. Farquhar & Co., for the best fifty blooms of tea or hybrid tea roses, five varieties, ten blooms of each, from plants growing in the open ground. Mrs. McMillan also won the gold medal offered by Samuel Knight & Sons for the best table of roses arranged for effect. Another exhibit by Mrs. McMillan which attracted much attention was the table of sweet peas. She had practically the only sweet peas shown, outside one of the commercial growers.

The most striking exhibits of the show were the groups of foliage and flowering plants displayed by Mrs. Lester Leland (Eric Wetterlow, gardener), and William Swan. This was in the special class for two silver cups offered by Connolly Bros. Mrs. Leland won first place, as last year, and Wm. Swan, second. The groups occupied positions in the center of the tent, opposite the entrance.

William Swan had one of the best general exhibits of anybody. He won the silver cup offered by Mrs. W. B. Walker, known as the Highwood Cup, to be won twice before becoming the absolute property of the exhibitor, for the best collection of delphiniums. His collection of herbaceous perennials also won him the silver cup offered by Morley,

The accompanying map of the North shore was to have been published last week in connection with the article from Col. William D. Sohier on Moth Work along the North Shore.

MANCHESTER

The BREEZE next week goes to press a day early,—Friday Get notices and advertisements in early.

Mrs. Fred J. Merrill and daughter Grace are at East Wolfboro, N. H., to remain a number of weeks.

The Drug Clerk's dance, scheduled for Thursday evening, July 16, will be an event well worth attending. Plans are being made to make it the event of the summer.

Walter N. Thwing of Woolwich, Me., has been spending the week in town with his sister, Mrs. F. L. Decker, on his way home from Syracuse University Law school.

Supt. Andrews of the Manchester Water Works has been clearing up the pipes, etc., at Beaver Dam used there in connection with experiments made for additional water supply.

C. D. Temple has rented a camp cottage on the shores of a lake at Westboro, Mass., for the summer and his wife and children have already gone there. Mr. Temple will join them later for several weeks. He has sub-rented the house he has been occupying off Brook street.

Last Saturday afternoon as Harry Slade was starting out for a spin in his motor boat from Masconomo Park pier, the engine backed fire, and the spark set fire to the gasoline, a small quantity of which was on the floor. The blaze set fire to the interior of the boat and burned it considerably. Mr. Slade is having the launch repaired, and she will soon be in commission again.

Some 23 friends of James Macgregor gave him a pleasant surprise party Thursday evening at his home at West Manchester, to wish him bon voyage, as Mr. Macgregor left home yesterday morning and sails from New York today for a visit to his boyhood home in Scotland. His friends presented him with a suit case, the presentation being made by James B. Dow, with timely remarks. The evening was passed very pleasantly and the many expressions of good will were such that Mr. Macgregor starts on his ocean journey with the feeling that he leaves many friends behind him. He will be away about six weeks.

Letters remaining unclaimed at Manchester Mass. P. O. for week ending June 26: Miss Katherine Burrett 1, Miss Margaret Bradley, Stephen Black, Miss S L Cauldwell, F Briggs 1, Mrs Margaret Bogus, Louis Agassiz Cogswell 1, Mrs John Schuyler Crosby, Miss Dorothy Cooke, Miss Marie Corrwean, Stephen J. Miss Louisa Amirault of Boston spent last week with Miss Louisa White at the latter's home on Beach street.

Among those who graduated from the Salem Normal school this week after a two years' course. was Miss Marie Theresa Walsh of Manchester.

Inventories were filed, Monday, in the probate court at Salem on the estates of Fred W. Gilson of this town $2,793.94; and Charles S. Hanks, $1178.

Lewis Hooper returned from Worcester Polytechnical school last Saturday, after completing his second years' work, and three weeks' practical work. Mr. Hooper is studying civil engineering.

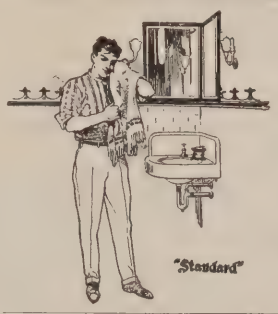

Mrs. C. Fletcher Hodges arrived from Indianapolis Sunday to spend the summer with Mrs. Hodges' parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Andrews, on Lincoln street. Mrs. Hodges brought her two youngest children with her, the other little girl coming some weeks ago when Miss Eleanor Andrews returned East.

Harry L. Friend of Boston and a member of the Boston Yacht club at Marblehead put into Manchester harbor late Tuesday afternoon with his 55 foot power cruiser, Friendship VI. The Friendship is of Mr. Friend's own designing as is also A. C. Needham's new yawl, Mahdeena. Mr. Friend in the evening took a party of friends from Manchester, among whom was Mr. Needham, for a cruise along the shore.

While on the beach Sunday, Charles E. Felton, secretary to Senator Beveridge, had one of the small bones in his hand broken by having it stepped upon. Although rather painful at first Mr. Felton expects to regain the use of his hand before long. He was attended by Dr. Blaisdell. Mr. Felton has since returned to his home in Indiana and has been succeeded by one of Senator Beveridge's other assistants for the present.

Talbot Hoare was one of the graduates at the Gloucester High school this week. Mr. Hoare has taken his final exams. for Dartmouth. Frank Sinnicks and Henry Merrill have taken their preliminary exams for Technology, and Harry Hooper has taken his preliminaries for Cornell. Among the 22 boys in the Gloucester High school who have taken examinations preparatory to entering college either this year or next, are the above named four Manchester boys. Frank Sinnicks, we note, is one of the "honor roll" students for the year, which means that he has averaged over 90 percent for the year's work. Samuel Knight of the local high school has taken his preliminary examinations for Technology.

Society Notes.

Mrs. C. J. Glidden, whose automobile tours abroad with her husband have received so much attention, was at Magnolia this week for a short visit with Mrs. C. R. Edwards of Washington, wife of the General. Mrs. Edwards is a guest at the Aborn.

Jesse W. Potts, Miss Potts and companion of Albany, N. Y., who usually make the Colonial Arms at East Gloucester their headquarters, are recent arrivals at the Hesperus, Magnolia. Mrs. Henry Atkinson and Edward C. Atkinson of Philadelphia are other recent arrivals at the Hesperus.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Bailey of Commonwealth avenue, Boston, have taken apartments at the Magnolia Tea House, where they will remain for the balance of the summer. Mrs. E. A. Butler of Newbury street, Boston, and Mrs. G. A. Jones of Brookline are also guests at the Tea House this season.

A large number of automobile parties have stopped at the Magnolia Tea house the past week. Not only have the tourists made it a point to stop there, but a number of the summer residents of the North Shore have enjoyed dinner and tea on the cool and shady verandas. Among them were Mrs. Lucius Manlius Sargent and a guest.

Mrs. F. Gordon Morrill of Boston, is at her cottage, "Pine Knoll," on Hesperus avenue, Magnolia, where she will spend the summer as usual. Mrs. Morrill spent part of the winter up to the time of the doctor's death, travelling. Dr. Morrill passed away while they were in Egypt and Mrs. Morrill immediately returned to the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Bigelow and family have closed their Boston residence on Bay State Road, and moved down to their cottage at Manchester Cove the first of this week.

The steamer Anglian from Glasgow brought as part of her cargo this week 18 couples of hounds for the Myopia Hunt club to replace those killed because of rabies. The pack is a scratch one, rather lighter than the ordinary English hounds, but as they are to be used for "drag," they were picked with this idea in view.

Mrs. William C. Paine has closed her town residence at 46 Mt. Vernon street, Boston, and moved down to Coolidge's Point the first of this week.

Among the North Shore people who went down to New London for the races Thursday were Mr. and and Mrs. C. Howard Clark, jr., Miss Clark, and party of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Clark and family reached West Manchester for the summer last Saturday, but Mr. Clark's yacht, the Savarona, stopped at New London until after the races. Mr. and Mrs. Clark left West Manchester Wednesday and were expected to return yesterday. In the party were Mrs. J. P. Donaldson of Philadelphia who was Mrs. Clark's house guest the first of the week, Norman F. Mackie of Princeton and Percy Maderra of Harvard who were also guests of the Clarks at West Manchester the first of the week.

Miss Margaret Kearney of Boston, dressmaker, has returned to Beverly Farms for the season and is prepared to do work for former patrons at 746 Hale street. New patronage solicited. *

The British Embassy have taken up their summer quarters in the stone cottage, on the Hemenway estate, Smith's Point. Ambassador Bryce will not be here this season, but, together with Mrs. Bryce, will spend the warm weather in England. Esme Howard, first secretary, and charge d'affaires, in his absence, is expected early next week. The other secretaries, however, have arrived, and are as follows: Hon. Mr. Chartirs, and the Messrs. Young and Beresforde--Hope. Mr. Kennard another member of the legation sailed Tuesday for home.

M. Kroupensky, charge d'affaires and legal advisor of the Russian Embassy, arrived in Manchester, Saturday, where he is occupying one of the Windemere park cottages, for the summer. M. Kroupensky enjoyed the warm weather at Magnolia, last season. The secretaries arrived here, Friday.

A marriage of great surprise to even their most intimate friends was that on Monday of John Babson Thomas of Boston and Mrs. Henrietta Reece of Commonwealth avenue and West Manchester. They were married at the New Old South church, Boston, Rev. Allen E. Cross performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas returned Thursday and will spend the summer at Manchester.

Mrs. S. Parkman Blake and daughter, Miss Marion Blake, arrived in Boston last week from spending the winter in Europe. They arrived in time for the marriage in New Bedford, last Tuesday, of Mrs. Blake's son, Robert Parkman Blake, and Miss Smoot. The bride is a neice of Charles Head and her home was in Lowell.

Among the many Americans at the international horse show in London last week were Mr. and Mrs. Eben D. Jordan and Miss Dorothy Jordan, who have either sailed or are sailing at once for home. Their house at West Manchester has been opened several weeks. Edward T. Stotesbury and Miss Frances Stotesbury of Philadelphia, who have been identified with the Manchester colony for a number of years, were also there, being in Mr. Vanderbilt's box on the opening night.

We regret exceedingly to announce that there is no truth in the persistent reports that Secretary William H. Taft is to occupy one of the cottages on Coolidge's Point this season. Pleasing as such news would be to us, we have received definite information that Secretary Taft will spend most of the summer in his home city, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Signor E. Mayor Des Planches, Ambassador from Italy, has taken the J. Randolph Coolidge, jr., cottage on Smith's Point, and arrived at Manchester, Monday. Signor Cora, second secretary of the legation has also arrived with his colleagues. Signor Montaigna, the first secretary, has returned to Italy, where he will spend the summer at Rome.

Austin B. Mason, third son of Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer B. Mason of Manchester and Boston, was a member of the large class of graduates at Harvard this week. Mr. Mason received a cum Laude with an A. B. degree. Edward Wigglesworth, also of Manchester, son of Mrs. Edward Wigglesworth, was another graduate.

AT THE HOTELS

Among the many automobile parties that stopped at the Hesperus for luncheon Sunday were,—John Shepard, and Mr. Marr of Shepard-Norwell Co.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Mordant of New York, were guests of A. Raymond Brown at the Aborn, Magnolia, over the week-end.

Miss Emily Gray of Cambridge, sister-in-law of Professor Jackson of Harvard, has taken apartments at the Aborn for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Cook of Commonwealth avenue, Boston, are to spend July and August at the Oceanside, as they did last year.

The warm weather of Sunday brought out many automobile parties along the North Shore. Among those who dined at the Oceanside were: Leonard C. Lingley of Providence, N. T. Haskell of Boston, Edwin P. Gibbs of Newtonville, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. King of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Clark of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Z. E. Bartels and family of Chelsea, Miss Edith Browne of London, Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Porter of Worcester, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Johnson of Cambridge, Mrs. F. W. Preston of Worcester, N. S. Campbell of Providence, and F. A. Otis also of Providence.

A merry little picnic party left the Hesperus Monday morning at 9.30 and spent the day very pleasantly near Norman's Woe, returning to the hotel at 4.30. Miss Elizabeth Wood planned and organized the party and was accompanied by Misses Gladys Winner, Beatrice Smith and Bernice Wellington. Miss Wood left Thursday for her summer camp at Heath, Mass.

Ralph Smally of the Boston Symphony orchestra will conduct the Sunday evening concerts, given at the Hesperus this summer. He will be assisted by prominent singers from Boston and plans to make the concerts a feature of the summer.

Society Notes

John Hays Hammond arrived at his summer home, Lookout Hill, Fresh Water Cove, Gloucester, Thursday.

Mrs. George W. Goethals of Central America, has been visiting Mrs. H. W. Cammam of Lakewood, N. J., at the Aborn, Magnolia, the past week.

Owing to the exceeding dryness of the weather many of the beautiful lawns along the shore have a decidedly dried up appearance, and unless aid comes very shortly in the shape of rain, the shore will lose a large part of its beauty. Even the constant application of the hose does not seem to afford material assistance.

It will be of interest to many North Shore people to know that some of the products of the boys and girls of the Industrial school for Crippled and Deformed Children, of Boston, have been placed on sale at Cheever's Drug store in Manchester and at Varney's in Beverly Farms. Francis J. Cotting of Pride's Crossing is president of the corporation and many other North Shore people are directly interested in the welfare of the school either as officers, members of various committees, or as members of the auxiliary board of managers.

Brewster---Dunn.

At the First Baptist churcn, Manchester, at high noon on Wednesday, June 24th, Rev. E. Hersey Brewster, for the past four years pastor of the church, and Miss Libbie Alberta Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi A. Dunn were united in marriage. Rev. A. E. Harriman of Lynn, formerly pastor of the Baptist church, was the officiating clergyman.

The church was well filled with relatives and friends of the young people when a minute after twelve the groom and his attendants marched into the church. Mrs. Alice Magnuson played the Lohengrin wedding march. Following the groom came the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, and attendants.

The double ring service was used.

The bride wore a gown of white silk eoleanne over white taffeta, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Her veil was caught up with lilies-of-the-valley.

The bridesmaids were Miss Alice L. Tappan, a cousin of the bride, Miss Harriet P. Brewster, a sister of the groom, Miss Ethel C. Stanley and Miss Emma F. Prest. All were dressed in pink and white and carried bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Alexander Ray was best man. The ushers were Harry S. Tappan, a cousin of the bride, Herman C. Swett, W. Henry Menken and Wallace Stanley.

Little Miss Elizabeth A. Tappan, cousin of the bride, dressed in blue silk eoleanne, was the flower girl, and Master Robert Brewster Nathan, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

The bride's gifts to her bridesmaids were coil brooches, with pearl in center, and the groom's gifts to best man and ushers were gold scarf pins with pearl. The groom's gift to the bride was a brooch of pearls.

The church rostrum was attractively decorated with flowers and greenery, and an arch of green encircled the front of the restrum, the wedding party standing a little in front of the arch.

Following the ceremony a reception was held, those assisting the bride and groom in receiving being Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Dunn, parents of the bride, Mrs. Ellen M. Brewster, mother of the groom, and Miss Harriet Brewster, his sister.

In the vestry below refreshments of ice cream, bride's cake and fancy crackers were served by the members of the church aid society, Mrs. Edward Crowell, chairman. Bullock was the caterer.

The decorations at the church were in charge of the flower committee of the B. Y. P. U., Mrs. Joseph McNeil, chairman.

After the reception there was a family gathering at the home of bride's parents on Central street and a little after three o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Brewster drove away. They went to Boothbay Harbor, Me., that night leaving Boston on the night boat. After a week they will go to Norwood, where Mr. Brewster takes up his work as pastor of the Baptist church on the first Sunday in July.

The popularity in which the bride and groom were held was well attested by the large number of beautiful presents, including silver, glass, china ware, linen, pictures and many other articles. Among the gifts which the young people will prize highly was a silver service,--knives, folks and spoons, from members of the church. The Men's Bible class presented the couple with a purse of gold. A family Bible from Mrs. H. S. Tappan, the bride's aged grandmother, is another prized gift, as is also a beautiful lamp, of chinese ware, painted, from Paul Gen, and half a dozen plates, of costly chinese ware, painted, from Ernest Gen, both of which young men have united with the church during Mr. Brewster's pastorate.

ROSE AND STRAWBERRY SHOW

Flatley & Co. Among his other exhibits were achimenes, tomatoes, hybrid perpetuals, foxgloves, stocks, and basket of roses.

The Highwood Cup was won last year by Geo. R. White (Mr. Garvin, gardener), but this year Mr. White did not compete, as his delphiniums were not far enough advanced to exhibit.

Mrs. E. S. Grew (A. E. Parsons, gardener) won in the special class for Frau Karl Druschki roses.

Miss A. G. Thayer (James Macgregor, gardener) won a number of prizes in the hybrid perpetual classes and George R. White, Mrs. C. E. Cotting, Mrs. Gordon Abbott, Mrs. Richard Russell, Mrs. Philip Dexter, were among others winning prizes.

Mrs. Gordon Abbott (Wm. Irwin, gardener) besides winning in the vegetable class, received the following firsts: for bunch of yellow onions, bunch of carrots, bunch of turnips, bunch of water cress, delphiniums six spikes; and seconds—for peas, onions (white) and delphiniums three spikes.

The display of vegetables was very good. The silver cup offered for best and largest collection, by D. Linehan & Son, was won by Mrs. Philip Dexter (James Salter, gardener), and Mrs. Leland won the silver medal in this class. Mrs. Gordon Abbott won in the class for best collection of distinct varieties of vegetables, and Mrs. Dexter won the barometer offered by Joseph Breck & Sons for the best collection of peas. W. Swan and Mrs. Dexter had good displays of tomatoes.

Other winners in the vegetable classes were Mrs. S. P. Blake, Mrs. G. S. Curtis, Miss Bartlett, G. R. White and Mrs. Cotting.

A vase of Killarney roses displayed by W. S. Hannibal attracted much attention. The children's prize for the best collection of native flowers was won by H. D. Baker.

A display of water lilies and Japanese Iris by H. A. Dreer of Philadelphia attracted general attention. W. W. Rawson, another commercial grower, showed over 100 distinct varieties of sweet peas.

The judges were Professor Adams of Wellesley college, and James B. Dow of the Sunnyside Nurseries, Beverly Farms.

Following is a summary of the winners the names of the winners being given in the order of winning first, second or third:

HYBRID PERPETUAL. One bloom of six distinct varieties (named), $2, $1. Miss A. G. Thayer, Wm. Swan.

MANCHESTER

Miss Avis Antil arrived yesterday for a visit with Mrs. John W. Campbell.

Miss Lois Brewster, formerly teacher at the High school, is in town for a visit with friends.

Mrs. Abbie S. Gray left this morning for a visit of several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gray, her son and daughter-in-law.

It is with deep regret that the many friends of R. A. Woodbury of Beverly learn of his death the early part of this week. Mr. Woodbury was a well known member of the Red Men, and he was as faithful an attendant at the meetings of the local order, almost, as he was of his tribe in Beverly. Funeral services were held Thursday in the lodge room of the Beverly tribe. A number of the Manchester Red Men attended.

The ninth grade of the George A. Priest school held a picnic at Tuck's point yesterday, and although the weather was rather cool they all enjoyed the outing exceedingly. This marked the close of the school year. Thirty-nine pupils of the 8th and 9th grades received advancement to the High school this year. The 9th grade is abolished with the present year.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Murphy and two daughters have arrived at Manchester for the summer and are again occupying Mrs. Woodbury's apartments on Central st. Mr. Murphy has been forced to give up his work for the summer because of poor health and his brother is occuping his former position as coachman for Mrs. Everett at West Manchester.

Miss Alice J. Haraden has resigned as chief operator at the local telephone office to take effect today. Miss Haraden or her sister have been in charge of the local exchange since it was first installed here, during which the exchange has grown from 25 or 30 subscribers to 274 at the present time.

Leon A. Winslow has resigned as teacher in the commercial department at the Story High school to accept a position in Malden. He left this morning and will spend part of the vacation in Rochester, N. Y.

We have a few barometers left, which are selling at $5.00 each. Call and get one before they are all gone. D. T. Beaton. *

If you have a cottage to rent, or rooms, or want boarders, advertise the fact in the BREEZE. It costs but 15 cents a week after the first week, which costs 25 cents. The paper reaches many of the very people you are trying to reach. *

NOTICE.

As the Fourth of July falls on next Saturday the BREEZE will be published on Friday—one day early. Persons having notices to appear in the next week's BREEZE will please send in such before 8 o'clock Friday morning to insure insertion. All advertising copy must be in by Thursday at noon.

A. H. KIRKLAND, state superintendent of the gypsy moth work, conferred with Gov. Guild, Tuesday morning, regarding the state allotments to the various cities and towns in the gypsy moth belt and the same will be announced next week. This question of expense for gypsy moth work is getting to be a pretty serious one. Over $40,000 has been spent in Manchester and vicinity the past few months. While the work has done worlds of good, it is even now very evident something different must be done if our trees are to be preserved. Either more money must be spent or some other method must be employed—something must be done. One has but to notice trees all over Manchester, in certain spots, to see the ravageous work of the moths. One tree on Union street, near the entrance to Chapel lane, is almost entirely defoliated. It would seem that the state should stand a big proportion of the money spent in carrying on the work and not leave it to the individual towns. Manchester and the North Shore has been fortunate, it is true, in having our summer residents help so liberally.

SUNDAY was the longest day in the year and the sun certainly took advantage of its unusual freedom and easily made it the hotest day of the year thus far. Wednesday, however, was St. John's, or Midsummer's Day.

"THE roads in Manchester are kept in ideal condition."—Gloucester Times.

The Fourth in Manchester.

The Fourth of July committee have perfected their plans and the program to be carried out, will be after the following order:

5.30 a. m. General alarm, ringing of bells, salutes, etc.

8.30 at Brook street play grounds. Broad jump, high jump, pole vault, shot put (silver and bronze medals for each), quoits, throwing baseball (value prizes), and baseball game ($10 cash prize).

2 p. m. School street, between Union and North streets. 100 yd. dash, 220 yd. dash (medals), potato race for men, potato race for boys under 12 (value prizes).

On Town Common, doughnut race for boys under 12.

3 p. m. On Common, Band Concert by Teel's Military Band, 21 pieces.

Town wharf, swimming races (medals), water sports (selected).

7.30 p. m. Band Concert on the Common. Dancing in Town hall, 8-11.45, Long's orchestra. Free.

Grand Electrical Illumination arranged by Clark & Mills Electric Co.

[Entries for all events may be made with F. G. Cheever, and will positively close 11 p. m. July 3.]

It is anticipated that there will be some lively competition in some of the events as the Manchester boys, it will be remembered, captured the meet at Andover two weeks ago, hands down.

Salem Commercial School.

The commencement exercises of the Salem Commercial school, held in the Empire Theatre, Salem, last night, reflected great credit upon the principal, George P. Lord, and on the 105 members of the class, among whom were a number of young people from this vicinity. The Hon. William D. Chapple of Salem, presided, and Brig. Gen. George H. Harries, of Washington, D. C., delivered the address.

The young people from Manchester were Minnie Olsen, Samuel C. Rowe and Ethel P. Jones.

MANCHESTER

Work was started this week by Roberts & Hoare on the new residence to be built for W. R. Bell on Vine street.

The Selectmen at their meeting Thursday evening granted permission to L. W. Floyd to sell fire works on July 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Wm. Ray returned Thursday from Kennebunkport, Me., where he has been employed the past year and a half by Connolly Bros.

Harry Atherton of Beverly has made application to the Selectmen for a victualler's license to be conducted at the late Frank D. Allen's property at the Cove. The board gave leave to withdraw.

The Selectmen have appointed Thomas Sheehan as a regular patrolman, in addition to the regular force. Mr. Sheehan has been a special officer for a number of years and he goes on duty tomorrow evening. This will do away with the arrangement whereby specials have taken turns at being on duty until 1 a. m.

It has been decided that the tennis tournament, at first planned to be run in connection with the Fourth of July sports, will not he run in that connection, though it is possible the finals will be played upon the courts on that morning. The drawings for tournaments, in doubles and singles, have been made and the tournaments will start next Thursday. The pairs are made up as follows in the doubles: W. Fleming and C. Hersey, H. Floyd and W. R. Bell, S. Marshall and H. Slade, C. Fish and F. W. Underhill, F. G. Cheever, and S. Merrill, W. Rust and B. Sinnicks, Robert Allen and F. Sinnicks, B. Floyd, and A. McKinnon, C. Florence and J. Gray, The singles, S. Marshall, Florence, Cheever, Rust, W. Fleming, W. R. Bell, B. Floyd, A. C. Cool, R. Allen, S. Merrill, Underhill, H. Slade and Fish. The expense of the tournaments is being met by the players themselves.

On petition of the New Eng. T. & T. Co. a hearing was held at the Selectmen's office Thursday afternoon, for location of poles on Norwood avenue. A petition signed by property owners and residents on this street was presented and several spoke in opposition to poles. The board gave the company leave to withdraw.

Wm. Wall is sailing from Boston next Tuesday for a month's visit at his native home in Ireland.

Miss Emma Prest has been spending a few days in Winthrop the past week with Mrs. E. S. Mylin and Miss Florence Mylin.

B. L. Allen was the holder of the lucy number in the recent doll contest held by the local court of Foresters, and won the handsome doll.

Mrs. Deglan Walsh and Mrs. Thomas Meylan attended the graduation exercises at the Salem Normal school Tuesday morning, Miss Theresa Walsh being one of the graduates. Miss Katherine Walsh, Edward Walsh and Charles Patterson attended the brilliant senior reception in the evening.

The partnership between Wm. Young and Peter A. Sheehan, has been dissolved and Mr. Sheehan continues the business in his own name, and as his advertisement announces, he is prepared to take contracts of any size for gypsy and browntrail moth work. He is also prepared to furnish estimates on doing fall and winter work on estates and will have work inspected by local or state inspector.

His 80th Anniversary.

The home of William Choate Rust on Central street, Manchester, was the scene of a pleasant gathering Monday afternoon and evening, for on this occasion Mr. Rust had with him his children, grandchildren and greatgrandchildren to the number of seventeen, besides his children and grandchildren by marriage. It was Mr. Rust's 80th birthday, but though he has reached the four score mark, he was in many respects the youngest of them all.

In the afternoon he had his daughters with him and these were joined in the late afternoon by his grandchildren and greatgrandchildren. In the number were Mrs. Frank Proctor and daughters Edna and Nada of Gloucester, Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Hoyt and two daughters, Mrs. F. C. Rand and Mrs. Wilcox and the latter's two little daughters, Mrs. W. W. Soulis and son, and Mr. Rust's son.

At five o'clock all sat down to a good supper, a feature of which was a handsome birthday cake sent Mr. Rust by one of the summer colony. The whole party posed for a picture during the late afternoon. The occasion proved a very pleasant one for all. Music and games were enjoyed after the supper hour.

WANTED--A RIDER AGENT IN EACH TOWN and district to ride and exhibit a sample Latest Model "Ranger" bicycle furnished by us. Our agents everywhere are making money fast. Write for full particulars and special offer at once.

NO MONEY REQUIRED until you receive and approve of your bicycle. We ship to anyone, anywhere in the U. S. without a cent deposit in advance, prepay freight, and allow TEN DAYS' FREE TRIAL during which time you may ride the bicycle and put it to any test you wish. If you are then not perfectly satisfied or do not wish to keep the bicycle ship it back to us at our expense and you will not be out one cent.

FACTORY PRICES We furnish the highest grade bicycles it is possible to make at one small profit above actual factory cost. You save $10 to $25 middlemen's profits by buying direct of us and have the manufacturer's guarantee behind your bicycle. DO NOT BUY a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone at any price until you receive our catalogues and learn our unheard of factory prices and remarkable special offers to rider agents.

YOU WILL BE ASTONISHED when you receive our beautiful catalogue and study our superb models at the wonderfully low prices we can make you this year. We sell the highest grade bicycles for less money than any other factory. We are satisfied with $1.00 profit above factory cost. BICYCLE DEALERS, you can sell our bicycles under your own name plate at double our prices. Orders filled the day received.

$8.50 HEDGETHORN PUNCTURE-PROOF SELF-HEALING TIRES $4.80 A SAMPLE PAIR TO INTRODUCE, ONLY

The regular retail price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but to introduce we will sell you a sample pair for $4.80 (cash with order $4.55).

NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES

NAILS, Tacks or Glass will not let the air out. Sixty thousand pairs sold last year. Over two hundred thousand pairs now in use.

DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C. O. D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented.

Notice the thick rubber tread "A" and puncture strips "B" and "D," also rim strip "H" to prevent rim cutting. This tire will outlast any other make—SOFT, ELASTIC and EASY RIDING.

We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.55 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump. Tires to be returned at OUR expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination. We are perfectly reliable and money sent to us is as safe as in a bank. If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, wear better, last longer and look finer than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a bicycle you will give us your order. We want you to send us a trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer.

IF YOU NEED TIRES don't buy any kind at any price until you send for a pair of Hedgethorn Puncture-Proof tires on approval and trial at the special introductory price quoted above; or write for our big Tire and Sundry Catalogue which describes and quotes all makes and kinds of tires at about half the usual prices.

DO NOT WAIT but write us a postal today. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone until you know the new and wonderful offers we are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.

MAGNOLIA

Father MacDonald of Gloucester conducted the seven o'clock mass at Library Hall, Snnday. Father MacDonald will hold mass at Magnolia during the season.

The first grand ball to be held under the auspices of the Magnolia Social club is announced to take place at Magnolia hall next Wednesday evening, July 1. Music by Chane's orchestra.

Next week at the Woman's club, the program will be as follows:---Tuesday evening, A Dutch Treat, Thursday evening, the regular progressive whist, and on Saturday evening the dance.

Miss Virginia Selfridge has had a kitchen built onto the rear of her little bungalow, off Norman avenue. Miss Selfridge has opened up the Magnolia Laundry, which will be under her personal supervision.

Miss Christine J. Murdock was married early in the week to Ernest Manahan at Malden. Mr. Manahan is vice president of the E. T. Slattery company, Boston, and Miss Murdock had charge of the branch store in the Colonnade, Magnolia, last season. The young couple are spending their honeymoon in Europe.

Miss Gusten C. Anderson, medical gymnast and masseuse, is at the Woman's club, Magnolia, where she will give massage treatment and Swedish movement. Miss Anderson was formerly at Allen's Gymnasium, Boston, and is a graduate of Unman's Institute, Stockholm, Sweden. Woman's club, Room 4. Tel. 99-5 Magnolia. *

Magnolia came in for a generous share of the business at the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen. Building permits were granted on application of Kehoe Bros. to erect two story building 28 by 42 feet on land of Philip S. Lycett on Magnolia avenue, The application was endorsed by City Engineer Webber that the building was partially erected and the street should be widened at that point, but the permit was granted on motion of Alderman Holmes. Also on application of Kehoe Bros., to erect one story building 20 by 40 feet on land of Mrs. Ryan, corner Magnolia and Butler avenue.

Petitions were received as follows: Petition of John J. McGreenery and others, for compensation for injuries received in consequence of defect on Magnolia avenue, referred to committee on claims; petition of New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, for pole locations on Hesperus avenue, referred to committee on street railways, telegraph and telephone poles; petition of Fred L. Davis, $188.09 compensation for damage to automobile caused by defect on Magnolia avenue, referred to committee on claims.

CLASS OF 1908.
Presentation of Diplomas and Medal
SUPT. CHARLES E. FISH.
Benediction
REV. FR. WM. F. POWERS.

It would be unfair to give special credit to any one, for all did well and the parts were all well prepared. The essay by Edward L. Wheaten, valedictorian, on Manchester's Part in the War of 1812 was of especial interest to all. This will be printed in our next issue.

The class motto, "The End Crowns the Work," was displayed over the stage in the class colors blue and gold. The decorations were simple, a bank of daisies skirting the front of the stage.

Principal A. L. Saben directed the music. The whole school had seats upon the stage, the eight members of the class sitting in front. The graduates were: Flossie Prescott Allen, Mary Prince Dodge, Joseph Ellenwood Floyd, Samuel Knight, Edith Eugenia Northup, Willard Lendell Rust, Alice Letitia Tappan, Edward Lyndon Wheaton.

The diplomas were presented by Supt. Fish, who supplemented the presentation with a few words of kindly advice. Alluding to the motto, "The End Crowns the Work," he impressed upon them that there is something more than work, and to try to remember that after all "love crown the life."

The Appleton medal awarded the graduate having the highest percentage for industry, fidelity and decorum, was awarded to Miss Mary Prince Dodge.

The graduation reception was held in the Town hall last evening and was a very pretty affair.

Rowe—Eldridge.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized Monday evening at Manchester when Frank Abram Rowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Rowe, was united in marriage to Miss Ina Alberta Eldridge. The ceremony was performed at 8.15 by Rev. L. H. Ruge, pastor of the Congregational church, and was attended by only the immediate family connections and a few intimate friends---some twenty-five persons in all.

The wedding was at the newly furnished home which the young people are occupying on Lincoln street, in the cottage owned by W. S. Patterson.

The room in which the ceremony was performed had been attractively decorated for the occasion by Arthur Toppon, brother-in-law of the groom, and unattended the bride and groom marched into the room to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march played by Samuel C. Rowe, brother of the groom. The Episcopal double ring service was used. The bride wore a white gown and carried a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley.

Following the ceremony, and after those present had bestowed their congratulations upon the young couple, refreshments were served.

Both young people are well and popularly known in Manchester, where Mr. Rowe is a member of the Board of Park Commissioners. Mrs. Rowe was for several years a teacher in the G. A. Priest school. They were the recipients of a number of beautiful gifts, including cut glass, silver, linen, and several pieces of useful household articles.

No cards.

Miss McNamara announces that she is at Manchester-by-the-Sea for the season, and that she has removed from the cottage at 39 School street to Friend's Court (off School street.) Treatment of the scalp, shampooing, marcel waving, manicure. Telephone 164 Manchester. *

Trolley To Fall River.

Commencing July 1 the Old Colony Street Ry. Co., will run a special through car from Post Office Square, Boston, to Providence and Fall River, daily with the exception of Sunday. Tickets for the trip may be obtained at the office of the Passenger Department of the company at 309 Washington St., Boston, for 75 cents each way. *

New Trolley Folders.

The new trolley trip folders issued by the Passenger Department of the Boston & Northern and Old Colony Street Railway Co.'s are out and are very attractive as well as containing a wonderfully large amount of information. This year the two folders formerly issued by the two companies are combined in one. Routes are given which show very plainly the distances, fares and running time on various trips, just where to take cars to start and where to change cars. On the part devoted to the Boston & Northern Company 162 points are given, not only on this company's lines but on connecting lines as well. Upon the inside of these folders appears a four-color map showing all trolley lines east of Worcester.

Copies of these new folders, or any other information of help to trolley riders will be sent entirely free upon application at the office of the Passenger Department at 309 Washington St., Boston. *

Biggist Exposition In the Country.

M. A. Singer of New York who has been identified as an architect with all the recent big world's fairs in this country, is the architect whose plans are followed in remodelling the interior of the Park Square Coliseum for the installation of the seventh original Boston Food Fair. Some idea of the immensity of unbroken floor area in the Coliseum may be realized when it is stated that a fully equipped up-to-date modern theatre is being constructed at one end of the hall, to seat nearly 3000 people, and the floor space still left is larger in square feet than that of any Exposition building in the country. With such advantages it looks as though the management would make this seventh original Boston Food Fair the biggest and best Exposition New England has ever known.

The Sarcophagus is the most popular form of cemetery memorial at this time. The name comes from the Greeks, but the style of the modern Sarcophagii is quite different from their coffin-shaped stone boxes in which they place their dead. No other style of monument gives more assurance of permanance than this. They are low and massive and may be ornate in design or severely plain. The most beautiful designs may be executed in either marble or granite. We also have the most modern machinery in which to execute this work. We have made the granite business our life study. Neuralgia

Do you know how to cure it? Constitutional treatment will of course. But that takes time, and in the meantime you continue to suffer. This is where Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are invaluable. They stop the pain. The pain is in the nerves—in the large ones, that is why it is so severe. Anti-Pain Pills soothe these nerves and bring relief. Get them at any drug store.

Auto Accident.

John Ware, driver for Roberts & Hoare, had a close call from serious accident Monday about noon, as he was driving up Summer street toward Manchester center, after a trip to the Caner estate. When near the entrance to the Daniel Allen estate an automobile owned by E. D. Parsons, proprietor of the Moorland hotel, Gloucester, and driven by William Delaney, came along and the first thing Mr. Ware knew he was thrown unceremoniously into the road and the wagon was smashed all to pieces. The horse was cut up considerably, but no bones were broken, fortunately. Mr. Ware was severely shaken up. He was taken to Dr. Blaisdell's and later he went to Gloucester where he was examined under an X-rays machine. It was found that one of his ribs was broken, and another was fractured. There were two ladies in the auto at the time, beside the chauffeur. The accident is said to have been due in no manner to carelessness on the part of chauffeur.

"FINALLY BRETHREN, FAREWELL."

Rev. E. H. Brewster Preaches Farewell Sermon at Manchester.

Rev. E. Hersey Brewster, who has resigned his pastorate at Manchester, after four years of very successful work, to accept a pastorate at Norwood, preached what might properly be called his farewell sermon at the Baptist church last Sunday evening. The church was well filled. Mr. Brewster preached from the text: "Finally, Brethren, Farewell," 2 Corin. 13:11. He said in part:

"I do not feel like preaching upon a given text. My mind becomes reminiscent. The strain of prophesy is running through my mind. I have enjoyed my work here, my friends, the spirit has moved among the people. I believe that God has given the Baptists of this community a faithful ministry. My own spiritual life has been developed.

"A few considerations to the church. In the first place, try to be perfect. Do things that have not been accomplished, so that the future may be more glorious than the past. The Christian life has no limits. There is no such thing as a boundry line in a Christian life, and so I wish that you be diligent, especially the older members of the church.

"And then be confident. I do not know whether you feel badly or not, but there are probably some that do. A man cannot labor in a field for four years without making a few friends. I feel myself a little heavy-hearted. Be comforted by the word of God, and the constant presence and leadership of the Lord Jesus. Be comforted by the children of the Sunday School, as the young lives wherein are the resources of the church. The preaching of the Word has been listened to with interest every Sunday by those longing for the Word of God. Be comforted, be encouraged with the great field of labor that God has given you to work in. Therefore, I say be comforted.

"Be of the same mind. It is absolutely necessary that you be of the same mind, of the same disposition, praying for the same interests, and working together. Do not be critical in your ambitions, but be humble. Be of the same mind in everything.

"I counsel you also to live in peace. I do not believe that you can storm a man into heaven. I believe that the best work any Christian ever does, he does in peace. Do not let anxiety ruffle the calmness of a Christian life. Do nothing in vain glory, but live in peace. There have been times when I have yearned for a peaceful prayer-meeting, where the atmosphere has been so calm and peaceful, scarcely without a testimony. God works in peace, so let us live in peace and the God of peace shall be with us. Our religion is supernatural; prayer is actually a factor God works through in us. God is with us today as he was in the Pentecostal Days, and you will never doubt his word if you are already conscious of his presence.

"Next, confidence. You will have no peace without confidence. That feeling of confidence that shall make the blood warm in our veins. Remember John's confidence when he preached of the Resurrection of God.

"And lastly, satisfaction. I pray very earnestly that you may become a satisfied people. I mean it in the very best sense. I do not believe that you will ever become satisfied with yourselves, but I want you to be filled to overflowing with the spirit of Jesus Christ, that those who are in doubt will follow you in your Christian service.

"Be perfect, be comforted, be of the same mind, live in peace, and the God of peace shall be with you."

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan T. Smith celebrated the 23rd anniversary of their marriage, Tuesday.

J. Edward Quinn of Milwaukee, Wis., spent the early part of the week here, visiting friends.

John A. Morrison has invented a tide valve, which works admirably and on which he has secured a patent.

Miss Annie Sheerin of Roxbury arrived at the Farms early this week, where she will be the guest of relatives for the summer

A number from the Farms attended the reception and dance, Thursday evening, given by the graduating class of the Beverly high school, in City hall.

Alfred H. Towne of Halifax, N. S., has secured employment on one of the summer estates here this season and arrived Wednesday with Mrs. Towne.

Fred Williams, who has long been caretaker of one of the estates at Pride's and has been accustomed to live on the estate, has moved with his family, into his own house on Hart street.

The Sarah Wyman Whitman club met Wednesday at the home of its president, Mrs. William C. Webster on Hale street. It was voted, at the business meeting to hold their annual fair on Thursday, August 27. Next week Mrs. C. L. Williams will entertain the members of the club with an outing on West Beach.

The engagement of Miss Elsie F. Symonds of Southbridge, to Henry M. Smith, also of Southbridge, has been announced. Miss Symonds was at one time bookkeeper for Forester H. Peirce, the plumber and has many friends in town.

By the collapse of an automobile tire, a Lynnfield automobilist and his daughter, were thrown from their car on the Hamilton road near the residence of Charles F. Ayer Thursday, and both were severely injured. Dr. John J. Riordan of Beverly Farms, was driving towards home when he found the automobilist lying by the side of the road, the accident having occurred but a few minutes before he arrived on the scene. Some distance farther along he found the daughter of the driver of the machine. Both were stunned by the fall and the daughter was found to have sustained a fracture of the arm. The machine, which was toppled over on its side by the collapse of the tire was burned and was a total wreck. The man and his daughter were taken to the residence of Dr. M. H. Eaton of Wenham, where they were treated and later went to their homes.

"Never Say Die"

Is an old motto, but our advice is "if you have anything worth dyeing, have it dyed." And there are so many supposedly worthless things in the way of clothing, curtains, feathers, etc., that are worth dyeing and cleaning that we would ask you to think it over seriously before throwing or giving them away, and see how nice and new-looking we can make garments that now appear to be old and shabby. And the cost is but trifling.

John Roach, the well known horse man, has been revisiting his friends here the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dodge left today for Cape Breton, where they will spend part of the summer visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Powers of Springfield spent the latter part of the week in town visiting relatives, returning home today.

Fireworks for the Fourth at Miss White's. *

The mission for men at St. Margaret's church, which has been held the past week, and which has been very well attended, ends tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Azor Howard (Mabel Cutler) of Beverly and former residents of the Farms, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a baby boy.

All the week West Beach has been the mecca for pleasure parties and large numbers may be seen every day splashing about in the water or diving from the raft.

Driver Fred Woodbury of the West street engine house is enjoying his annual vacation, and with Mrs. Woodbury and his daughter, is spending a portion of the time at Poor Farm Point, Essex.

Thomas Sheehan, who has been employed by Connolly Bros. for a number of years as foreman-carpenter, has left their employ in order to accept an appointment as police officer in Manchester.

The members of the Fourth of July celebration committee have been very busy during the week preparing for that event. Particularly have those who have been doing the soliciting been active, and thus far have been very successful. The prospect of a good time seems fully assured.

The departure of Miss Rebecca Bruerton, at the closing of school, Wednesday, caused universal regret, as Miss Breurton has decided to accept a more lucrative position at Somerville in the fall. Miss Bruerton was very well liked both in school and about town, and she will be greatly missed.

The summer time table went into effect Monday and but one material change is to be noted, that in the train which formerly left for Boston at 6.45 and now leaves 17 minutes earlier. The general feeling at the Farms is that this train, which is a very important one to the people at large, goes much too early.

The municipal dump on Beach street is getting to be somewhat of a joke in as much as the query is constantly being made as to when the next fire will break out there.

A. M. Marshall won a fine riding saddle recently the lucky number having fallen his way.

New Vine street has been macadamized this week and the sidewalks repaired and new curbing put in.

Wednesday a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan broke his arm as the result of a severe fall. He was taken to the Beverly hospital for treatment.

Harold Standley, who is employed at the Preble--Thissel Market, strained his back with heavy lifting, while about his duties and was obliged to remain at home several days this week.

The supper served by the members of the Preston W. R. Corps, 93, in the banquet hall of the G. A. R. building, was a decided success and was very well patronized. The proceeds netted a very tidy little sum.

The program for the Fourth of July celebration, while it has not as yet been fully arranged, will in the main be similar to that of former years, and consists in part, of a band concert in the afternoon, ball game in the morning, horse and pony events, and many other sports. Prizes will be given to the winners of the contests. A liberal contribution will be greatly appreciated and will secure the success of the celebration.

John A. Morrison is in charge of the work being done about the Harrison estate at Woods Hole, by Connolly Bros.

Many representatives from here are attending the ball game at Peabody field between Beverly and Wakefield this afternoon.

The pupils of the Farms school are happy with the prospect of a long vacation ahead of them, the school having closed Wednesday.

Rep. William R. Brooks and Herman McDonald, with members of the Massachusetts legislature were the guests of Lieut. Governor Eben S. Draper, at Hopedale, Thursday.

Lawrence J. Watson, 2nd, and family arrived early in the week from Roxbury, where they have been spending the past few months, and have taken up their residence on Everett street, where they will live the rest of the summer.

The Rowley Bros. band has been given the contract to furnish the music for the Fourth of July celebration. Their ability to render appropriate music for an occasion of this kind and their willingness to furnish plenty of it, has met with popular favor in their past engagements here.

It is the desire of many that the sports of the Fourth be held at Trowt's field, so-called, on Vine street. The argument in favor of this location is that the field is more centrally located and furnishes considerably more room. The latter feature is one that gives it decided preference over West Beach, as the latter is much too small for the races, and is in other respests not so suitable.

It is with considerable pleasure that we correct our error in a recent issue of the BREEZE, in which we announced the death, at Bar Harbor of Patrick Nason. Mr. Nason has indeed been exceedingly ill, and at the point of death, but is now greatly improved and a strong hope is felt for his speedy recovery.

Hit by Auto.

John Garvey of Beverly Farms was returning from his work in West Manchester Thursday evening about five o'clock and when near the George Lee estate two automobiles came thundering along behind him. He turned out to let them pass, but they were apparently racing and in their hurry to get by one of them struck the bicycle and hurled the rider to the street. Mr. Garvey was later found lying in the road by Eugene Murphy, who picked him up and took him home. It was found that Garvey had suffered a dislocated shoulder, and a broken collar bone, besides numerous other bruises. He was unconscious for some time. The automobiles hustled away, and nobody seems to know who they were.

Continually Looking for Something Different

Forever yearning for something new, isn't that the spirit that dominates the day? Makes things lively for the man that creates, adds wonderful interest for the man that collects, one of the reasons we find pleasure in work. Always something "just created" to bring to your notice. Today 'tis a new wood being made up into furniture, and with this age of simplicity and dignity 'tis destined to become popular.

'Tis Circassian Walnut

Imported from Asia. Its hue is a brown, very soft in its tone, its graining very similar to that of Mahogany with its clouds and its waves and verticle lines.

Its comparative cost is about that of Mahogany and answers as a change most perfectly well.

A showing in our window is very suggestive of its beauty and a line in our bed-room floor is proving an attraction. Look at it.

John Andrew of Gloucester, well known along this section, as the head of the North Shore Electric Co., pleaded guilty on 15 counts of forgery and uttering of notes, at court in Salem Tuesday, and was sentenced to not less than five nor more that seven years in states prison. Andrew was formerly connected with the Manchester Electric Co., and was also in business for himself here and in Gloucester.

Found Her Dog.

Mrs. Cook of Gloucester considers the BREEZE a good medium for advertising. Two weeks ago she lost her dog and she advertised it in last week's BREEZE. Wednesday Mrs. Cook wrote that the dog had been returned, a gentleman having read the description of the dog in the BREEZE and returned it to her.

Try your luck! If you have lost anything, or found anything, have anything to sell, tell about it in the BREEZE. Just look over the almost two pages of such advertising in this issue. The cost is slight.
